

Barry Price Library.

VINCENT N. TURVET.

Aight:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

LIGHT! MORE LIGHT! "Goods. "WHATEVER INTH NAKE MANIPLY IS LIGHT,"-Paul,

Vol. D .- January to December, 1885.

LONDON:

ECLECTIC PUBLISHING COMPANY, LIMITED,
4, Ave Maria Lane, E.C.

INDEX.

PRINTED BY THE NATIONAL PRIESS AND SON, LIMITED, WHITEPELLEN STREET, S.C. A Address by Mr. Honey Kuldle, of Address by Miss Rammond Dale Gwen, 139 Address by Mr. T. P. Barkas, P.G.S., 251 Address by Mr. Stainton Mosos, M.A., 321, 571 American Camp Meetings, 433 American Indian Belief, 415 Anciest Writing through a Medium, 183 Animal Magnetism, 213 Antiquated Tyraculcal Laws, 508, 500, 562 Apparitions, 25, 126, 171, 596 Apparitions, Address by Mr. T. Ollison, 531 Apparitions Formed in Pull View, 163, 349, 137 "Apparition Medical mique," 553 Appeal for Psychical Esperience, 53st Autrology, 305, 327, 355, 361 Antennatic Writing, 233, 493

Beneficet Work, A., 507 Biological Researches, 506 Boolee Spiritual Temple, Tice, 507 " Buddidet Oriochim, A." Sociew, 500

Catalogue of the Library of the Londo Cazotte, Famous Prophecy of, 493 Challenge by Steart Camberland, 5 Challenge by Signor Dambaul, and Corresponding, 10, 31, 41, 43, 52, 63, 64, 70 Classics Cassal, In Memoriam, by "M.A. (Oxon.)," 150 Christmas Work with the Spirits, 22 Calraudience, 565 Chairregnam, 200, 330, 313, 325, 567, 325, 610 Coloridences, 421 Conditions of Secons in Spiritual Investigation, 185 Consolidation and Confederation, 561 Contradictions of Spiritualism, Correspondence concerning, 4, 29, 41 Crubalens Dolts of Spiritual Investigation, 45 Credulity of Scepticion, The, 97 Cross Manmerism, A Case of, 631 Cui Bono 1 290 Comulative Evidence, 512

Deleuce of Opinital Investigation, by Professor Conco., 34

Demanderialisation of Spirit Form, Instantancons., 349

Demander of Derwin, The, "by Professor Couce, Review, 379

Development of a Sixth Sense, 383, 919

Difficulties of Spiritual Investigation, 182, 193, 386, 257, 381, 695

Direct Spirit Pointing, 434

Direct Spirit Writing, 11

Disordedy Manifestation, 62, 81

Divining Red., 3, 23

Double of the Living, 621

Care by Spirit Fewer, 317, 512

Piciottic Inhildring Company, Annual Municip, 190

"Egypt." By William Onley, Review, the Majordin de in The de Univer, "Review, 561

Reviewie and Environ Baddiniam, 37

Riyanalogy of the Word." 04," 50, 313

Britaniam and Belief, 217

Brotation and Spiritualism, 398

Reviewican such Recentul Section of the Loudon Spiritualist Alliance, Rules, 600

Experimental Recentul Section, 600

Experimental Relation, 600

Experimental Research Section, 600

Experimental Research Section of the Loudon Spiritualistic Revelations in Machiners, 2

"Facts are Chiefs that wines diez," 341
Facts or Faccion, 638
Fads and Fancies, 537, 401, 412, 412, 412, 457
Fallares v. Saccessos in Psychography, 1 a5
"Fire Lighting" Photometa, 23
"Five Years of Thesephy," Review, 480
"Plat Land," by A. Square, Raview, 14
Pools, Dotts, and Knaves, 62
Fallingen; of Prophecy, 415

"Gabert and But," by Mellesbuch, Ravier, 154, Glauper Association of Spiritanilate, Spirits of the. 129 Graduated Circles, 595 Great Truth of Spiritanilam, The, 557

Haunted Car, A, 631

Haunted House at W., Proceedings at, 341

Haunted House, 610, 611

"Haring by Faith," by W. F. Krans, Review, 421

"Haring Voices" and our Judges, 382, 649

Hermatus Society, Meatings and Correspondence concerning The, 225, 231, 263, 238, 287, 308, 311, 216, 330, 341, 353

Higher Forces in Nature, 138

"Higher Aspects of Thomsophical Bindies," by M. M. Chatterji, Review, 62

Ristario Joun of Kazareth, Thu, RE, 231, 341, 315, 233, 369

Minister John St. Management, July 20, 305
Ministerian Development of the Psychic Force Theory, The, 305
"Minister and the Work in the Feines Life," by F. J., Theoladal, Review, 313

Thousan Characteristics of Communicating Spirits, 527, 529, 529

Evacorathesia, 135

Eyperesthesia, 158 Eypnoscope, Experiments with the, 352

Increditly, 191
Independent Volce, The, 414
Imprempts Rapics by a Lanly Payschin, 6th, 189, 184, 189, 289
Indian Magie, 414, 500
Inderstore and Personal Observation, 230
Inderstor of Psychian Examents on the Dominant Culture, by C. G. M., 510
Imprison and Impririmal by "M.A. (Occa.)," 248, 350, 273, 261
Investigation and Investigation, 51
In Man Radeveloping a Intent Samer 519

Jacques Intudi): & Calculating Sup. 66
"Journal of Science" on Psychography, 256
"Journal of Science" on Spiritualities, 257, 450

K neckings and Muppings, 560.
"Encoratedge," "Train," and Male Writing, 46

"Laws of Nature, The, 303
Loods, Opening of Spiritual Science Hall, 613
Logal Membelities Attended to Scientific Investigation, 80
Limitation of the Power of Spirits, The, 350 Limitation Makdougall Gregory, In Memorian. By
"M. A. (Oton.)," 274
London Spiritualist Afficance, 78, 129, 311, 238, 331, 371, 604

Magnetic Finid, On the, 391 Magnetic Healing, Oct, 655, 445 Magnetics of Evil, 423 Magnetication in Nervous Disorders, 320 Matter and Power, 423 Matter through Matter, 4, 15, 20, 24, 56, 61, 73

Matter through Matter, Correspondence concurning, 25, 20, 25, 61, 127, 160, 181, 193, 231, 247
Materialization Medium, of the Oblan Time, A, 321 Materialisation Estraordinary, through the Mediamship of Mr. Erlinton, with the Bridgeria of the several Witnesses, 102 Materialism Rationally Viewed, 22) Materialisations and Transfigurations, 10 ** Manchester Evening News," The, on Spiritualism, 55 "Manual of Psychometry," by J. R. Duchanau, M.D., Review, 442 Metaphysical Society, Tho, 300 Mellumship, Orthodoxy, and Law, ilis Medianship among the Macrice, 530 Molchior," by W. G. Wills, Raview, 17.1 Mental Healing in Boston, U.S.A., 267 Musmorlem as a Carative Agent, 177, 479, 483, 372, 428, 552, 551 Masmorio Institution, A, 621 Motaphysical Society, The, 198 Mathed, The Empirical, 510 Missons of Six, 291 Mind and Motles, by G. J. Rousses, M.A., F.R.S., 202 Hirmston, Concorning, 81, 74, 101, 113, 125 "Mindeg Link in Modern Spirituation, Tea," by A. L. Underhill, Review, 523 " Men Jagan Viter," by " M.A. (O con.)," 411 "Mother, Titl. The Woman sixthed with the Sun," Berlow, 502 Moreovent without Contact. A Wandering Clutz, Natural and the Spiritual Bodies, The, 200 Natural Sensitives and our Launtin Asylmus, by Samuel Enden, M.D., M.A., Ph. D., 270 Non-Corebral Intelligence, 410 Numbers, Divination by, 354, 363, 304, 669, 418

O Orthodexy is Bursts, $1

Mysterious Adsir, A. 315

509, 590, 502, 903, 903, 903, 903, 903

Phenousca called Spiritani. Ilinatrated by Chromo-Lithography by J. G. Keulenama, 114, 137, 139, 151, 162, 163, 187, 189, 113, 210, 332, 913, 252, 390, 259, Phenousean of Materialisation. From "Facts," 258

Phenouscaulity of the Subject, 350, 583, 503, 602, 612

Passonmensity of the Sabject, 550, 555, 555, 555, Physical Intimation of Devitin t a Distance, 575 Plus for Undella Impetry, A, 572, 463 Plus for Undellavors, A, 152, 22j Tourist

"Early Death," 30
"I would not sirtul," 77

"A Vision by 'Lily' on a Great Mystery," loll "Augols," 412

" What Hight be Done," 423

"The Music of the Spheres," 426
"The World is fall of Boanty," 52)

"On Various," 544
Pelylochulo and Spiritualism, The, 488
Praise of Our Lady of May, The, 388

Prejudice, How is it to be Overcome? 2013 Prescious Dronnes, 873, 802, 866, 387 Presciousian to Mr. J. J. Morso, 221 Preblem for Conjustics, A., by Oarl du Pred, 463, 207, 633, 535

aut, 633, 305
Problem of the Age, The, 429
Protection of Public Mediumakip, The, 608
Pando Schills, 536

Psychical Esperiment, A, 628 Psychical Research, The Society for, Die Theories and Mothods, 471, 472, 485, 485, 510 Psychient Research, The Society for, and Mr. Barkas, sychical Research, The Sculpty for, and Markino sharataky, 400 Perchical Reservoir, The Society for, and Mr. Eclim-ton, 31, 31, 76, 83, 112, 125, 137, 247, 271, 283

Payeliged Research, The Society for and Spiritualism 121, 137, 147, 459

Psychometry, 217, 227 Psychopathic Work and the Offer of Mr. Rogan, 561 Public Discussion of Spiritualism, The, 31, 11, 35

Pazzio for Motaphysichus, 377 Reading Room and Mock Dapid for Spiritualists, Real and the Imitation, The, 124 Recovery of Lost Property by Spirit Agency, 783 Relations of Religion and Spiritualism, The, 8) Hemarkable Private Scanco, A, 231 Romarkable Materialisation Scance, A, 621 Besurrection Body, Tue, 1st, 173, 271, 218, 355 Horonneo and Fret, 328

Sception on Scancer, 305 Scientific Attitude, A Parable, 199 Scientific Authorities on Spiritual Phonomena, 198 Sciences with Mr. Egilaton, 25, 28, 103, 116, 111, 154, 207, 215, 285, 284, 835, 465, 805, 180, 180, 362, 165, 585, 595, 919

Sanco with Mrs. Everitt, 381 Sciences with Mr. Huck, 6, 62, 1st, 237, 385 Schutce with Mrs. Clam L. Heid, 33-Season for Materialization with Melase Mahija, 221 Sousce for Materialization with Mrs. Biliss, 212 Scame for Materialisation with Mrs. Pay, 150 Someo for Materialization with Mrs. Member Hall, 170

Scance for Materialisation with Mrs. Mellon, 301 Stings for Materialisation with Mrs. C. W. Susper,

Scance for Materialization with Mr. Stade, $13 Some for Materialization with Mrs. Beloom Wright, 198

Secularism and Spiritualism, 3 " Simlows," by John Watherbor, Roylow, 345 Short Sermon for Spiritualists, 8 Mbetch of Mr. T. P. Barkon, from the " Newcontle Ennuiner," 214

Slate Writing, 150, 543, 451, 491 Slate Writing by Conjuring, 165, 217 Something for Couridorstion, 549. "Sough of the Maights and Bount," by the Mon. Hodge Noch, Maylow, 500

Speaking with Tongnes, 474, 513 Spirit Identity, 223, 238, 473, 548, 616 Spirit Intervention, 210 Spirit Photographs, 210

"Spirit Teachings." A Review from "Mind in Nature," 507 Spirit Voice Audible, 529, 611

Spirits and Tricks. A Popular Error Espound, W. Spiritium. By Dr. M. von Hartmann, 405, 417, 427, 411, 435, 466, 479, 401, 503

Spirition and Other Theories, by Bon. Erslen Nosl, 514, 810, 343, 583, 588, 587, 500 spiritima v. Other Theories, 617 Opletoni Indornes, On, 301

phritical Outlinek, The, 7, 33, 43, 53, 68, 78, 93, 32, 124, 142, 143, 143, 153, 175, 204, 206, 251, 257, 269, 260, 270, 271, 278, 389, 319, 338, 347, 339, 363, 362, 361, 327, 327

Spiritualities and Agnosticion, Li Spiritualium and Schume, 255, 230, 252, 438, 438, Spiritualism and Roy. Henry Ward Beecher, 90

Spiritualism at Home and continued sistwhere, 579 Spiritualism at Home," Correspondence sourcera-ing, 73, 84, 122, 135

Spiritualism Forty Years Ago, 218 Spiritualism is a Court of Law, 282 Spiritualion to its Higher Aspects, 582

Spiritualism at House and Abrond: Its Present Penilion and Vuture Work. An Address by the President of the Lossian Spiritualist Aliance, 571 Spirituations in America, 476

Spiritualism from a Russan Catholic Point of View, 4, 154

Spiritualism, Spiritualists, and the Society of Psychical Resonant, 547, 544 Spiritualizar What is, by T. W. Thurston, M.A., 224

Statuvolesco, by W. B. Palamenck, M.D., 381, 383 Byuppagamata." Ediand by Lawrence Oliphane, Raview and Corruspandmen unfolge therefolm, 171, 183, 184, 588, 577, 888, 524, 888, 588, 588, 588, Tulepathic Theory, The, 121, 130, 140, 137, 134

Tulepathy, Production of St. Books Talepathy, Explanation of, by Posts

Tustimour of Samuel Bellochiel, 67, 256 Testimony of Resmann, 17 Testimony of Raburt Hoodin, 17 Totimony of Professor Jacobs, 60 Testimony of Marry Keliur, 60 Teddinger of Muskelyne, 230

Throughy and its Floris, 305 Thought Transference, 70, 205 Theorem of Spiritualism in Rooms Works, by "M.A. (Onon.)," 162, 175

Mr. H. G. Affeitten, 100 Mrs. Mario Frederica Bodosce, 225 General Campbell, R.E., 275 Professor Cassal, 122, 150 Mrs. Crowther, 133 Mr. A. L. Elder, 150 Mr. Richard Gales, 623 Mr. Charles Edwin Gilliorpy, 379 Mrs. Lisette Matolougall Gregory, Mr. Frederick Hacking, 553 Lord Houghton, 336 M. Victor Hugo, 261 Mrs. Nosworthy, 110 Mrs. Loftus-Olway, 201 Mr. Charles Partridge, 77, 131

Colonel Primress, 150 Mrs. Mary E. Rich, 51 Mr. Walter Weblen, F.B.S., F.C.S., 177

Miss K. E. Wood, 77 Trick Serkers and Truth Finders, 564 "Triumph of Life, The," by Ella Diete, Review

"Triangh of Time, Ties," by Kiln Dietz Berlew 123 Truth Stranger than Piction, 17t

U measurious Secondary Self, The, 378, 381, 43 " Pulty is Strongth," 430 Uncientific Attitude of Scientists, The, in Urgancy for Investigation, On The, of Use of Spiritealism? What is the, 300, 225 Pilliating of Private Otrolo, The, 420

Williams of Mallions, 161

Virgin of the World, Ton." Translated by Dr. Anna Kingstord and E. Muithand, Review, 300 Vision of the Two Wives, 1

W-Scance, Correspondence opacousing the "Whisperlage," by A. E. Turthens, Harrow, 478 Witelayraft and the Water Ordeal, by Carl du Pr Work for the Lumber Spirituralist Allianos, 361

Night:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

"Lauret Mont Later ! "-Owele.

"WHATEVER DOTH MARK MAXIFEST IN LIGHT -PORT.

No. 209 .- Vol V.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 3, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS.

Papers of the late Mrs. Howill Watts.

Secularism and Spiritualism.....
On Facts of the Divining Rod ..... An American Scientist on the Physing Rod and Planchette ...  [The Editor of "Light" derives it to be distinctly had just had. understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the applying expressed by Contributors and Correspondents, and in a short time he appeared to have lost his reason, Free and courteous discussion is invited, but writers are and also, it seemed, his affection for his wife's memory, for alone responsible for the articles to which their manes are he immediately set off travelling, in search, he declared, of Attnobest.]

" M.A. (OXON.)"

We regret to have to state that the expressed intention of our extremed contributor to resume " Notes by the Way " in the present issue must be deforred. Rheumatic pains, flying about the body ever since his fall, have developed into a severe attack of rhoumatic gout, which finds his enfeebled system an easy prey. He is confined to his bed, Oliphant recognised his nephrous, stopped the carriage, suffering great pain, and quite unable to attend to anything.

PAPERS OF THE LATE MRS. HOWITT WATTS.

(Continued from p. 530.)

Among the papers of the late Mrs. Howitt Watts was a little MB, volume, which she need to call "The Brown where everything was found in perfect atyle and order. Manuscript." This she believed to have belonged to the late Robert Chambers. It contains stories of somman bullans, drawing-room with the bride, one of the nephews learned second-right, clairvoyance, trance, vision, and ghostly from her that she had met Mr. Oliphant at the English visitation. They were probably collected by Mr. Robert Chapel in York-place, as also wasleaving, after the marriage Chambers, and, on Mrs. Watta' lamented departure, I of one of her relations. To the surprise of the wedreceived them for publication in "Lioure." This was ding party, Mr. Oliphant accosted her, saying, "Madaun, I her intention had she been able to carry out her desires. have been seeking you over since my dear wife introduced -" M.A. (Oxon.)"]

VIII.

VISION OF THE TWO WIVES.

Mr. Oliphant, formerly one of the arbitrators in Llayd's in London, was a gentleman of great respectability and of good fortune. He was a Highlander by birth, distantly related to Lord Oliphant. At times he used to arruse his friends by recounting histories connected with mediate marriage. the superstition in the Highlands. By the grave manner in which he recounted them it was evident that he himself had faith in the strange gift of the Highlanders.

Mr. Oliphant was married to a lady of most attractive manners and amiable disposition, and who possessed many accomplishments. She, having a strong mind, was consolted by her husband upon all his private affairs. He had the misfortune to lose this lady after a very short illness. here written by me. This misfortune so much affected him that for some time he was quite unfitted for business.

Some months of his widowhood having elapsed be was one night lying awake in his bed, when he saw-according he had seen with the figure of his first wife, but that she to his own declaration—the figure of his wife enter the room. She was attired in black; with her came another which he had beheld her that night. He regarded this as lady attired in white, like a bride. To this lady the phantom an instance of the second night of the Highkurders. of his wife directed his attention by pointing toward her.

The two figures glided towards a door opposite to the one by which they had entered, and left the apartment.

Mr. Oliphant sprang up, and, running to the door by The spiritual control of spiritualists. So which the ladies had vanished, called his wife by name, a short Sermon for spiritualists here betteen at Blackbern betteen the ladies and one there. A nephew of Mr. Oliphant's blackbern writing in the house, hearing his uncle call the spiritualism in the Provisces. It makes of his wife, and open the door, ran into the passage, makes of his wife, and open the door, ran into the passage. where his uncle related to him the strange vision which he

> This circumstance revived the grief of Mr. Oliphant the new wife whom he that night had men in vision.

> He visited Scotland where the connections of his family resided. When his relatives onw him they determined to follow him to Edinburgh, in order there to place him in confinement.

> Two nephews followed him to Edinburgh, and for two days sought him in vain. They then met accidentally their uncle in a carriago with a lady souted beside him, -both being dressed in light-soloured apparel, Mr. alighted with alsority, warmly greated his nephows, and with the ceremony of a finished goatleman presented them to his wife, to whom he had been married the previous

> His conversation was perfectly appro. He took his nephews to a furnished house which he had bired, and

> During the course of the evening, when in the me to you," after which he barst into tears.

> Mr. Oliphant's comportment had been so frank and genuine that he had interested the gentlemen present, and he had been invited to return home with the bridal guests. That evening he told the history of his vision to the lady whom he had thus arrested, and implored for an immediate marriage. Mr. Oliphant being known to persons of high respectability in Edinburgh, all inquiries were answered in a very satisfactory manner and the result was their im-

> At the time of the marriage, and also when his nephews thus visited him in Edinburgh, he appeared perfectly in his right mind, and they sincerely hoped that all would be well. Within a few weeks, however, both his nephewand his wife felt that it was not safe for him to be at liberty, and he was placed in the establishment of Mr. Hugher. There I have spent many an evening with him. In his apparently same moments I have repeatedly heard him relate the history as

His second wife never saw him again. He died at an advanced age. He asserted repeatedly to me that the lady whom he married as his second wife was not only the same person whom were, when he met her at York-place, the same dress in

(To be continued.)

SECULARISM AND SPIRITUALISM.

Reverent criticism, no matter from what source it comes, can, we believe, only result in benefit to Spiritualism. Moreover, it is well, at times, to be able to see ourselves as others see us. "Sidney Short" is, of course, only a now de plane, assumed for reasons explained to us, which are perfectly entisfactory,-En. of "Liurn."]

It is most interesting to trace the growth of religious, and institutions, and to see how they illustrate and combran the opinion that the principles of evolution which have been discovered in the worlds of animal and vegetable life are of universal application. The laws of development (which are often sommed up in the our word, evolution) are as binding upon the individual as upon the mee, and it only needs the exercise of authorent care and patience to discover in any particular case that the changes which occur are in conformity with such laws.

Issae Taylor wrote on the "Natural History of the Natural History of Conversion.

This field also will be worked in due time, but, meanwhile, we should try to keep the ground clear from Unnocessary weeds, which will, if loft unchecked, become a pass of unpacestary entanglement.

Conversion mususulways a turning from and turning to. It does not mean an increase of knowledge, but the adopting an opinion which is incompatible with that proviously huld, and therefore the abandonment of such previously held

A few examples will at once make this clear.

If increased study produces the conviction that monarchical institutions are better than republicus, the man so convinced is converted to monarchical views, and if his have been converted into a Republican.

If he had held protective tariffic to be beneficial and therefore necessary, he would, if convinced that Fron Trade was preferable, become a Free trailer. He would have been converted from a Protectionist to a Free trader.

If the Protectionist had from study become a Republican, it would not be correct to describe him as converted from Protection to Republicanism, for Republicanism does not necessitate the abandonment of Protection.

Conversion only takes place when a man changes his way of action in the prosecution of the same pursuit, or alters his views respecting one and the same group of mental

If a physician is converted to Homespathy he adopts a different method of attacking disease, and if a politician is convected to the doctrine of Free Trade, he changes his view respecting one problem of political economy.

Now we would suk-Can anyone be converted from Socularism to Spiritualism! I consider it impossible. Can anyone be converted from vegetarianian to Pre-Raphaelism ?

Every one will see it would be impossible. Both are impossible cases, and for the same repson—they do not refer to changes of action in the same pursuit nor change of view respecting the same group of mental ideas.

The recently reported conversion of Mr. G. Chainey to Spiritualism leads me to attempt to put clearly before Spiritualists the principles of Secularism, and to shew that both views may be right and that they are not incompatible with one another. If a Secularist becomes convinced British mary. It was in the time of the war with France, and of the gaunineness of the phenomena of modern Spiritualism, he was away on service. She lived in London. While sitting and accepts some of the most important conclusions, he with her infant and nurse, she had a vision of her husband's need not therefore abandon any of the principles of Secularism nor cease to lecture from its platforms.

stand its lessons, they are chiefly two. The first relates to an extension of the views of matter, or to a different way [This article is written by one of the ablest expounders and defenders of Secularism in this country, to whom we give a hearty welcome as a contributor to "Lioux." contradicted by, any principle of Secularism. The encond esson relates to the extension of personal individual existence evond that entastropke which we call death, Spiritualism, then, relates to speculative views about another life; while Secularism relates to conduct in this present life.

A man's speculative visus of a possible future life may be changed without necessarily altering his views us to the conduct of the present life.

He may, on the other hand, change his views respecting morality or conduct in this life without changing his views about any future existence.

Of course he note change his views regarding the present and the future, but in that case a double conversion

It may be suggested that in those matters we are only quibbling with words—but not us, for we have only to put a clear image before us of some physical changes to see the Enthusians," but I do not recall any attempt yet made on exactness of our reasoning. Perhaps the simplest image rould be when red discs and white discs and red squares and white squares are used as signals.

The red disc may be exchanged for a white one, or a red arears may be substituted for the red disc. In the first ase there is a change of colour, and in the latter a change

It would be meaningless to say the red sign was changed for a muare sign, and if such words were used they indicate that in the speaker's mind the roundness of the sign was present though only the redness was expressed.

We may let white colour stand as a sign for Spiritualism, and red colour for Materialism, round surface for Secularism, and square surface for religious authority—we then see that we may have Secularium with either a spiritualistic or a mateviews had been altered in the opposite direction he would vialistic colouring and religious authority with either a spiritunlistic or materialistic colouring. We at the mme time see why Secularism can be exchanged for religious authority and Materialism for Spiritualism-and why it is impossible to be converted from Secularism to either Materialism or Spirit-

> The interest of this subject to my mind comes from my belief that Spiritualism may be true, and my strong conviction of the necessity for the spread of Secularism, and my dread of the mischief which results from the teaching of religious authority.

> If, having achieved freedom of thought, we add to our knowledge some truths of Spiritualism, we shall have one loy which fuller knowledge brings ; but if we allow our minds to be enalayed by new chains forged by Spiritualium out of the links of the so recently shaken-off superstitions, our last state will be worse than our first.

"The door, not the dreamer, becake the haleful spell Which binds with from bands the earth on which we dwell. The brow of wrong is laurel-growned, not girt with shune. And love, and truth, and right, so yet are but a name. Oh dreamer, wake ! your brother man in still a slave; And thousands go heart-crushed each day into the grave. From out time's arm your golden hours flow fast away ; Than dreamer, up ! and do life's work while yet 'tie day." SIDNEY SHORT.

PROPERTY VISUON.—The Religio-Philosophical Journal gives this from a correspondent :- " The following is a family tradition, as having happened to my amountries, Mrs. Fell, about the end of the last century. Her husband was an officer in the ed not therefore abandon any of the principles of course the news came of his having been killed in action; a camen ball had taken off his head. The event coincided with the time of her vision, of which she had taken a note."

ON FACTS OF THE DIVINING ROD. TIT.

January 3, 1885.]

Dr. Ashbarner, in further exemplification of the relation between the odic officence from human hands, demonstrated by the experiments of Reichenbach, and that from branches of trees, demonstrated as we have already seen, relates the following instructive cases:-

My patient Mrs. G. has a smid, Harriet P., who is highly sensitive, easily succambing to the meaneric force. I found her a good subject for experiments with the hazel and whitethora. On a stick of either being presented to her, she took hold of it with avidity, and in less than a minute passed into the messeric sleep, denoting that the effluence from the stick had induced a tenic state of the pervous system. and even a spasasodic state of the muscles, rendering it difficult to loosen the stick from her grasp.

The hazel and whitethorn induced the same phenomena in other patients; in two of thom, a stick of either being held towards them, with the end upwards which is upwards in growing, it exerted suck a force upon them that they seized it with both hands; one of them would ran after it, and getting hold of it would appear supremely satisfied, soon passing into the tonic state of sleep; but if it were turned before she resolved it, tapering and downwards, it exerted a repelient force, and she made gestures of геридижнее.

If while one of those sticks was being held by any of these patients, the approving end apwards, a piece of gold, or the pointed end of a rock crystal, were applied to it, the stick would be hastily dropped, with the exclamation that it was hot. A male patient, who had been several times put into the messneric sleep by passes, on holding successively pieces of these sticks, felt with each a tendency to sleep, and a sensation of heat.

Another patient, Sumn L, highly sensitive, while in the sleep-waking state, exclaimed that she saw "a shower of fine little sparks" come from a piece of hazel which happened to be in my hand. When I quietly changed the stick for another of $2 or ash, she may nothing, but again the "little sparks" when I resumed my hold of the luzel or whitethorn. Her perceptions in this experiment were always the supe, and they were tested in various ways. Eight other sentitives were separately tosted as to their susceptibility to the efficence from different kinds of wood, and each gave corroborative results. Numerous others, with lower degrees of sensitiveness, gave different results; with some, indeed, they were inappreciable.

The sensitiveness of Mrs. G.'s maid, Harriet P., was put to very practical use. In a letter to a friend now lying before me, Mrs. G. writes from her place in the country :-"July 9th, 1845 .- We have made a carious experiment here with Harriet P. My husband, the water here being very indifferent, has had wells dug time after time, in the hope of finding better; but some being productive, he finally proved futile, and well-sinking had been abandoned in said he would make no further trials. I suggested one with the divining rod, as they do in Devonshire; by this means in discovering several springs. be did not object, and Harriet was willing to hold the rod. So we provided ogracious with one of hazel, and accompanied by two friends staying here, we went to what seemed to telegraph wire is. me a likely field. Upon my putting the red into Harriet's hand she went into the sleep, and then held it with both hands so tightly that I, in order to release her grasp, applied my gold chain to it, as I mw Dr. A. do ; then sho held it depth and quantity, estimated by her by the force exerted with one hand, and, taking her own way, walked about slowly until she stopped suddenly as if shot. The rod then turned slowly round, twisting her hand backwards, and she exclaimed, 'Here's water! Dou't speak; let me look!' She mak upon the grass as if giddy, egain grasping the stick with both hands. Having marked the spot, after a little I woke her."

Mrs. G. goes on to write that in the evening she mesmerised Harriet into the sleep. On referring to the morning's work, Harriet remembered everything, and said that the water second about a yard beneath the surface. On subsequently digging to that depth, water rose; and Mr. G. had a well sunk there which farnishes a good supply of excellent water.

AN AMERICAN SCIENTIST ON THE DIVINING ROD AND PLANCHETTE.

At the Electrical Exhibition of Philadelphia, Professor Raymond delivered a lecture, reported in the Progressive dge, on the Divining Rod. He said that in remote times, it was employed for various purposes, among others to aid even in detecting criminals ; that in the sixteenth and seventeenth conturies it was in common use throughout Europe in the hands of soarchers for springs and metals. Numerous reatises were written about it; the theory in them most separally adopted being in accordance with the Cartesian bilosophy, which taught that from all things in Nature ass communious of infinitesimal invisible corpusales, each of its kind, and each kind influencing sansitive individuals in special mode approximate to thomselves; the operators with the divining red being sensitive to those from springs, motals, &c.

The lecturer described the red most commonly used in America as a small forked branch of hazel, roughly trimmed to the form of the letter Y, the forked ends being held in the operator's closed hands, palms upwards; the stem, pointed outwards, was expected to dip downwards when the operator, walking around, came over a subtorranean apring

The lecturer said that if he adopted any hypothesis in the matter, it would be Chovreul's, in which, as he stated it, the words temperature, heat-conductivity, monsitive, unconscious valition, and minute muscular motions, figure in a lawilderingly "mixed" manner; but that, after all, he was more inclined to regard the divining red as a lingering remainder of a once strong superstition, entitled perhaps to the same consideration as the Planchette-an object of study, it may be, from a psychological point of view, but not worthy of the attention of adentific geologists or prospectors."

To this lecture, the Religio-Philosophical Journal mys. one of our correspondents has drawn our attention. After entirically suggesting that, if it were possible to use the wand upon the heads of some of our scientists, water might be found, and that at no great depth," he goes on : " The only way of meeting assumptions hased upon ignorance and scientific prejudices, is by the statement of facts-and here is one. My own highly-esteemed mother could, with the wand, as described by this lecturer, find water, and even approximately state the depth at which it would be met with. At Sigel, Illinois, where all trials to get water had consequence, my mother, when visiting there, was successful

"The discoverer in these cases is only a passive participater in the operation, a medium, just as the electrical

"Last spring she discovered water for a well at my own place, quite contrary to my own and the calculations of some practical men. She was also right in her anticipation as to through the red in turning over in her group.

"An experiment was once made by a 'doubting Thomas' of an investigating turn of mind; he coated the ends of a hazal-rod with sealing-wax; upon my mother holding it by the waxed ends there was no result, while by the bare wood, over the same spot, its movements gave the indication of the presence of water. - J. C. Hofmann, M.D., Jefferson, Illinois.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[It is preferable that correspondents should append their manes and addresses to communications. In any case, however, these must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good Lidthil

Contradictions of Spiritualism. To the Editor of " Liony."

Sitt,-I have to tak you to allow one to thank your correspondents who have noticed my latter, and have strivet to give me information on the voxed subject under consideration.

I wrote at a time when much verbings was used on a topic which I considered beyond the doubt of the public mind, viz., Theosophy or Occulting; and the despair produced by such conflicting opinion dictated my words. In roply to "E.H.W.," I consider that "reason" cannot help us in the matter of Spiritualism. We can only reason according to our knowledge of things, and as we can have no knowledge of the other world except by hearsay, reason cannot be brought into play. The real state of affairs in the " future" may be contrary to all our reason and expectations; we have to receive our information without body able to my" Yea" or "Nay," and our only question can be " Is the authority reliable ?"

We certainly be want to know what is in the spirit world, and my difficulty is that I cannot got to know in such a manner as to make the information satisfactory. For instance, why should not two or throughrits, controlling the same medium in immediate succession, he able to give a description of the topography of their sphere, in the same way as a tourist would : and yet I invariably count get this, although there certainly is a spiritual landscape ! Whosever I try this with an illiterate modium I am disappointed, and the affair looks suspicious

To "A. E. Major," I think there is a minprint in my letter, I wrote (( believe) sourcebilly motive of the occultist, not " no worthy," $ believe the motive which animates an occultist to be entirely unworldly, as we understand the word.

I do not seek to grasp the whole subject while here; I only complain that in the simple matter of reliability we are at sea, tossed to and fro, our rudder helpless, our compass demagne tised. The spirits do not vary in their morality-that is perfect; but it is only the morality common to all men, free from secturiar bian ; and, as such, is no speciality of Spiritualism. I do not even sock for a higher spirituality in Spiritualism than I can find out of it, because my observation has dispossesses me of that idea. I find that Spiritualists are no more spiritual or moral than their neighbours, and that they are as earthy and as jealous. I will, however, give them this credit; they will spend their talents and time to benefit the public to their own detriment. The advice of "A. E. Major" is applicable to all men, "humility emptying out of self," but it does not give any light upon the subject of spirit control,

To "Lily." I know that some spirite are disembedied men, with like passions as ourselves, but there is this difference. We can percept our men, when receiving information from them, but our "spirits" are behind a surtain, beyond our group, and we are totally at their morey, as regards any penul and where you can test them once by month of two different clairvoyante you are a hundred times anable to being such muthods to best. The " contradictions" are some of the things which are the great standling blocks, and if these controlletions can apring from lying, tricky, misinformed spirits, or are presinced by the bias of the sitters, how can we decide what to believe when " Reason is belyless in the matter," as I have said before? I don't think a mind requires any calibre to comprehend a simple fact or statement. It is not in the hidden mystories of God's doup works that the trouble lies, but in the statement of simple facts, which may spirit must know if it has any knowledge at all.

The advice "Lify" gives is such as should certainly insure good results, but is it not in the experience of every untere Spiritualist that these results do not follow? Witness the affair which was related some fow years ago, of the family which commoned their private mances with carnest prayer, and were for months the slupes of lying spirits. I also know of a medium friend who is in the most susceptible and exitable condition for control when he has had a few glasses of beer, and at that time the tone of his discourse is most elevating no one could take exception to its quality, if the source were undoubted. But the quary arises, How much is due to the medium and how much to the spirits? With regard to the MIND of the sitters, I remember that a few months ago a score of sincero investigators were nitting with a physical medium for materialisation. I feel certain that guilo and descrit were absent from our minds; but what did we get? Three yends of colins, I question to this day whether the medium was a trickster or not, but yet evil rosults followed good intentions. In other words, while we were waiting for a form which dimly appeared between the opened curtains, a aitter, a thorough Spiritualist, seized the white something and found in his hands "calico." The medium protested that he did not know anything about the affair. If the spirits brought that called from a distance to chest us it was most certainly not caused by the state of our winds. Whether the medium cheated us or the spirits did so, I cannot decide. In any case " sincerity was rewarded with deceit." In none of the lutters which have appeared in answer to mine has there been given any light on the subject. These letters are full of advice and warning to Spiritualists like me, but they don't touck me how to "discorn spirits."

January 3, 1885.

The opinion of "C.C.C.'s" Jewest father, and indeed of many others, that the controls are mostly evil spirits, is not close mough to the facts of the case. I connot believe that such prayers and morality, and the forbearance exhibited by spirits a their intercourse with us are the offspring of evil.

There is a depth of feeling and reverence in the prayers of the most illiterate medium which I have never witnessed in any normal speaker; an absonce of rant and of familiarity, which is so painfully munifest by its prosence in many good preachers. If ovil can assume in such a nanner the garb of light, how shall we tell which is which ! It is a fletion about "the devil appearing as an angul of light." Vice and ovil carry their trade marks bout them. They may concent afterior and wicked metives. but we are not deceived when the cloven foot appears. I have never perceived anything insnoral in any control, even when the medium has been no mint. I don't think " ord spirits" solven the question. "C.C.C." is a happy man; he has the truth. And so says the Protestant, the Mornton, the Hinds, and the Materialist. And someone over sales " What is truth ?" Happy man to build such a religious structure on such a basis, with such lofty rosolts, as is orbiouced by his religion.

To F. W. Thurstan, M.A. Although six persons might be mable to agree as to the apparent size of the sam, they would have no doubt as to whether or not there was one skining. The facts or phonomena point to a very probable solution, which yet does not cover all the facts, and it is this: That the cabalied spirit has power to read the history of individuals while the body, or mentality, belonging to the said spirit is unconscious of its power. There is no much of the individuality of the medium in the communications that this is a plausible explanation; and yet I am conscious that the explanation does not cover all the ground, but only a part. If Occultion had not reared its head against Spiritualism I should have been satisfied with the latter ; and if my personal experience of Spiritualism had not been long and critical I should have been sutisfied with Occultism. As it is the one clashes with the other, and I can exclaim " How happy should I be with either, were t'other dear charmer away." The spiritual theory is certainly the simplest to me ; but that does not nucke it true. With all my brubts and disappointments in Spiritualism, I love statill, but I want to know it in reality, and not in doubt.-Yours

63, Manchester-read, Bradford, December 5th, 1884.

Indrituations from a Rossan Catholic Point of View. To the Editor of " Leony."

Stu.-World you kindly allow me to remark that Signor Damiani's letter in no wise touches my objections ; or proves that there is anything sees to be learned from Modern Spiritualism, although of course to the gentleman in question some things may appear new, while to others the same doctrines are quite ancient? In the first place Signor Danisti has learned from Spiritualism that " eternal punishment is a myth." In that case he has learned a consoling, and to our human com-pruhension, a reasonable doctrine; but at the same time spirits have certainly taught that the punishment for evil doing may be so prolonged through endless cycles and phases of oxistance as almost to morit the name "oternal," seeing that this is a word of which our earthly conceptions can form no idea. The Infinite and the Eternal are those things which " cannot by searching be found out," as an old, old book declares. But even in Heaven were sent down into their bodies as into prisons," doctrines; for instance, that souls were of a corporeal substance, and increased and decreased with the size of the body. True, both but many learned Catholics have been in doubtas to whether certain of their doctrines were really false, or whether they were excommunicated for arrogating to themselves a right of speaking with that "authority" which only belonged to the chief Bishop, and before the proper time had come for properly expounding such doctrines. "I have many things to say, but ye cannot bear them now."

Then Spiritualism has further taught Signer Damiani that neither "priestly absolution nor purgatorial fire, fasting and abatinence, rosation, scapularios, reliqueries, and the like, have anything to do with the grand religion of Christ, much less with sulvation." Now the fact is that if Spiritualism teaches those things, if teaches sothery new, scoing that he could have learned great grandfather! Really, this information cannot be called Some spirits have testified to the benefit derived from all these things. The value of relies, &c., &c., has even been explained to some extent by meamerism, and that by spirits at scances!

Perhaps Signor Damiani may may that these are spirits still labouring under dolusions. I cortainly would not be propored to argue that question, nor outer upon their defence on that head, but I will only say that they were quite as likely to be correct as those who gave information of a contrary nature.

That Signer Damisas has also learned from Spiritualism that "the greatest sinner, after atoming by remorae and repentance, is sure to enter the course of eternal progression, and that there is some infallible but our Father God," Most certainly this is a Christian doctrino, and how on earth does it happen that Signer Damiani did not learn it long ago at school from his Catechine ! The only difficulty in the grace of acquirity a free resserse and regardance-a grace, also! which does not descend on all for the De'il! Nobody prays for the pair De'il "-Yours truly,

If Signor Dumiand is, or rather has been, a Catholic, he knows fall well that we believe in the infallibility of the Pope only because we believe the Infallible One speaks through him in matters coolesiastical; and we also believe that we have sound Gestrel authority for this boliof ; but controversy of this kind is out of place here, and I only allude to it became Signer Duniani, while nouting sundry Catholic beliefs and practices, yet appears to believe in the infallibility of those spirits who have improved his views of religion !

For the rest, I quite agree with Signer Damiani, that if these "millions who have passed from belief to Atheism" our bu brought to believe in immortality by Spiritualism, or anything class, they have much to be thankful for. But I four that comparatively few have their eyes thus opened, for it is pretty much now as in the days when Jesus said; "If they believe not Mones and the prophots, seither would they believe if one rose from the dend." Still, if even a few such Sadducoes have been brought to believe-as I remarked in my former letter-to such, Spiritualism has certainly been of uso.

Signor Daminul asks how I can possibly confound Modern Spiritualism with witchcraft? But I would ask in what particulars it differs from ancient nonmoney, of which witchcraft is only another form ! Whon once you have your spirit called from the "vasty deep,"-if you had only sufficient power and requisite knowledge, you sould compel him to bring you some of the treasures of the deep ; and you could also get him to torment your neighbours ! and aid and abot you in doing likewise if you were so disposed! This, I believe, constituted "witchcraft," and I must again say that there is positively nothing see in the fact of communing with spirits. On the contrary, it is as cld as history itself, and perhaps dives far into pro-historic timen ! Who knows whether the pre-historic skull at the South Kessington Museum was not that of a powerful medium, printe pamister to a pre-Adamite king! one of the Genii kings, for instance ! ! Doubtless, Signor Danismi considers and a barbarian because I would not repeal the laws on witchersit! But certainly I would not if a "witch" be a disagreeable fact; because the pomessors of such power sould be more deadly enomies to life and property than if they were armed with Martini rifles, or carried an unlimited supply of dynamite | 26, Penton-street, December 30th, 1884

this is not near. Origen in the third century taught that " devils Can such things be ! people will ask. But the readers of and reprobates should be saved after one thousand years," and "Lagur" can easily conceive the possibility of their existing, that " souls were created long before this world, and for sinning and it is highly probable that the knowledge of certain truths was the cause of the continuance on the Statute Books of these Tertullian about the same time taught somewhat similar laws. For instance, the law of Scotland makes it penal to invoke or rees or deal with a "familiar" spirit in any way. The spirits who boil kettles and light fires, were well known in Scotland Origen and Tertullian were excommunicated by the early Church, in former days under the name of "Brownies," and the goodwives were wont to make them offerings of milk and cream, &c., &c., hence the prohibition of "feeding" an avil spirit. At the same time the poor "Brownies" scarcely soom to have merited the name of " evil spirits." I have often sighed over their departure when a child, and dropped a tenr to the memory of fairies no longer interfering in human affairs, by making things pleasant for good beyn and girls !

I will not trespass further on your valuable space except to reitorate, and that without four of contradiction, that Modern Spiritualism is not, as some of its disciples fondly imagine, a now and glorious revelation," but, on the contrary, only an ald and (if carried much beyond its present development) a diagerous practice, which would doubtless lead to the same gool the same from Protestantism in general, and so could his great to which it has always led from the days of Moses, down to those of Queen Anne of gracious momory; or, I believe, oven new, and the only question remaining is whether it is true, to those of George L. High and pure Spiritualism is simply religiou, and in that respect it beam more or less relation to all revealed religious, and its true value consists in carrying salt, as it were, into those already existing, instead of trying to lound a new sect, which, mingled with low Spiritualism or necromancy, could only ond in diameter. It is well known that some Spiritualists welcome even the sentral of evil, or materchaped spirits-as they call them-in the light of improving their (the spirits') morals. However, much I may differ from Madame Blavetaky, I am bound to my that she acted most charitably in ondercouring to warm those foolish people of the uncless danger

However, oron this ultra charity is not ness! It was aticipated by an old Scotch elergymen of the last century, who, after praying for every man, woman, child, and herd of cattle in his parish, said at last, with a sigh, " My brethren, let us pray C. C. C.

Mr. Stuart Cumberland's Challenge. To the Editor of " Laure,"

Sin .- The Moraing Post tells us of a challonge by Mr. Stuart Comberland and Mr. Labouchere, M.P., to Mr. W. Eglinton, viz.: that they will do by "cuturd meant" what he professes to do by "miritual mothuls."

If the lecturer and the legislator do that, I will undertake to cut their great conts and pay liberally for my diamer.

I met (by invitation) Mr. Stuart Camberland, when, at the Charing Cross Hotel, some four years ago, he made his first appearance on any stage. I witnessed there his instations of spiritual phonomena, and I then, in a brief address to his audience, told him they were as like the "real thing" as a lump of chalk is to a piece of charge, He may have improved his sleight of hand since this ; but if the challenge be accepted it will be simply that; no more, no less; that is to my, if a fair, just, and homographo jury be appointed to try the case.

You will, no doubt, show cause why the sum of £2,000—a large sum which I do not think Mr. Eginton could "doposit"—should be placed in lands other than those of a gentleman for—should be placed in lands of excellent and exhaults London whose one thousand pounds an excellent and valuable London charity is yet patiently and "hopefully" waiting.

But I fancy the sum named (£2,000), which is inquite cortain never out be raised to "deposit," is something like challenging a man who is paralyzed in both lands to a dual of transact with swords or pistols—giving him a choice of weapons. In a word, it is known aforeigned that such a challenge cannot be accepted. -Your obedient parvant,

8. C. Hall, F.S.A.

Testimonial to Mr. Morse. To the Editor of " Linux."

San, -Will you kindly permit me to acknowledge the follow-ing mans, on behalf of Mr. J. J. Morse:-

					4	B.	ti.
R. A			1444	222	3	0	0
A Friend			444	444	9	0	0
T. Everitt, E.	8/12	800		414	.0	10	16
T. Amos, Esq.		6.81	204	264	1	1	0
			Yours	truly.

FRANK EVERITT.

All Communications to be addressed to -THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT,"

4 AVE MARIA LANE. LONDON, E.C.

LIGHT.

TO CONTRIBUTORS.

Reports of the proceedings of Spiritualist Societies in as succinet a orm as possible, and authenticated by the signature of a responsible offices, are solicited for feartion in "Later." Members of private circles will also oblige by contributing brief records of noteworthy occurrences at their sources.

The Editor cannot undertake the return of manuscripts unless the writers expressly request it at the time of forwarding and enclose stanges for the return Postage.

STIBSORIPTION HATES

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Annual Subscription for "Lishty," post free to any address within the United Kingdom, or to places comprised within the Postal Union, including all parts of Europe, the United States, and British North America, is 10s, 10d, per annual, Subsarded to our office in

ADVERTISEMENT CHARGES.

Five lines and under, St. One inch, 4s. 6d. Column, 12 3s. Page 24.

Five lines and under, St. One inter, so the Country, the Country, the Argon and Advertisements may be addressed to the Editor of "Linex," I, Ave Maria lane, E.C. Cheques and Pest Office Orders may be made payable to Hexey Barnsia, at the Chief Office, London. Halfpenny Postage Stamps received for amounts under 10s.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

"LIGHT" may also be obtained from F. W. ALLES, 6, Ave Marin-lane, London, and all Booknellers.

NOTICE TO NUBSCRIBERS.

Anhaeriptions for 1883 are now due. Subscribers will ablige narrigitions for these are now one, Suscenders out a subje-by forwarding these at once in "The Manager of 'LiGht'," 4, Ave Maria-Zane, E.C. Foot Office Orders may be made payable to Beary Marbes. All Editorial Correspondence to be addressed to "The Editor."

Dight:

SATURDAY, JANUARY 3no, 1885.

A DEMONSTRATION OF "THE PASSAGE OF MATTER THROUGH MATTER."

In 1854 I not with Home on his first arrival in this country, and you at once forced to believe in spiritualistic phonomeus, because, among other evidence, I was permitted, in the light, to touch detached "materialised hunds" -in form, size, temperature, and semuation the exact counterpart of human hands. Subsequently I obtained still more palpable evidence in the presence of the Davenport Brothers, and in experiments with Lotty Fowler and Slade. But although I have for thirty years from personal experimee known that each hands can be produced by occult means, it has only been during the last three weeks, in which I have sat with three well-known mediums, that I have had my many years belief in the possibility of the materialisation of the outire human form converted into a through matter." positive knowledge that such forms are produced.

It is not, however, my intention in this letter to enter into the question of the materialised human form, but to confine my remarks to the question of what is called " The passage of matter through matter," a subject which has always had for my psycho-physical turn of mind a fascination stronger than any I have yet experienced regarding any other form of spiritual phenomena.

The two seaners I am about to describe were held in the house of my friend, Mr. Stuart-Menteath, and the medium was Mr. Husk, and all the sitters present were well known FitzGerald, the Ray, Mr. Newbold, Mr. and Miss Stuart-Menteath, myself, and others.

At the conclusion of the first scance " freesistible," Newbold to hold Mr. Husk's right hand, and Captain James the chair Captain James had risen from, and threaded it on the arm of Mr. Newbold, who had retained his firm grasp of the medium's hand throughout.

An experiment of this kind may be regarded as complete; and the evidence so exactly given in Zöllner's book as translated by Mr. Massey under the title of "Transcendental Physics" may logically be considered as a settlement of the question; but facts so astounding as these can scarcely be realised by the scientific mind, without a proof personal to oneself, and this proof I got during my second scance with Mr. Husk.

I may here mention that for four years I have been experimenting with my iron rings, and in the Spiritualist for 1880, and in "Liour" for 1881, I described how I got my iron ring many times, under test conditions, passed on the wrists of those present, but never until the 18th Documber, just passed, has the iron ring been placed on the medium's crist white I held his hand, and thus shown from presonal experience that such feats were to me absolute facts.

The experiment I had with Mr. Huck was in this wise : The senner was held, as I have said, at the house of Mr. Stuart-Menteath, and at the end of our season the spirit who calls himself "Irrenistible," said to me, "Dr. Wyld, I am now going to try to pass your ring on to the wrist of the medium; and I wish you to hold his hand in order that you may be perfectly satisfied." To that I replied, " It is very kind of you, 'Irresistible,' but you know you have never, during the last four years, been able to pass my ring when I have held the hand of your medium, because, as you have always said, my 'magnetism' was too positive for you to penetrate, outling your 'magnetism,' as it were, at right angles." To which he replied, "Yes, but I think I can do it now, and I will try, if you will hold the medium's hand, as I wish you to get positive evidence."

Accordingly, in the dark, I took my place at the medium's left hand, and with my right hand held the fingers of the medium's left hand in a first and determined grasp. I then passed my left hand over the medium's arm and wrist to satisfy myself that no ring was thereon. " Irresistible " thou gave me my own oval ring to hold in order that it might be ready. I was actisfied it was my own ring from its oval form, its size, and its thickness. He then took the ring out of my hand and rung it three times on the table, and then said, " Now, here goes," or words to that effect, whereupon the medium, who appeared to be in deep trance, gave a cry as of pais, and struggled convaluively to oscape, while I redoubled my energetic grasp of his hand, and, light being called for, to my astonishment and delight, I found my own privately-marked ring on the medium's wrist; and I am now absolutely certain that my ring was placed there by an occult process called the " passage of matter

The evidence is as follows :-

1. The ring I had specially made of an ovoid form in order that from its fixtness it could the less easily pass over the rounded for,a of the compressed hand and yet have the shape of the flat wrist.

2. The ring contained my own three private marks.

3. The ring was made according to measurement, of a size to resuler its passage over Mr. Husk's hand, according to the assertion of all present, by normal means impossible. The long diameter of the oval ring was 2.75 inches, the short diameter was two inches, the mean diameter was 2:375 inches. friends, viz., Captam James, General Maclean, Mrs. The internal circumference measured almost exactly 7-8 inches, and the thickness of the iron was 5-16ths of an inch, while the circumference of Mr. Husk's compressed hand, as measured by a cord tightly pulled by myself and having promised to give us, if possible, a demonstration of General Maclean, so as to indent the flesh, was found to be the "passage of matter through matter," requested Mr. 9:15 inches. The ring was thus by measurement, as we had all found by experiment, of a size impossible to pass to hold his left hand. He then requested Captain James to over Mr. Husk's hand, and when it was on his wrist we rise from his seat, when "Irresistible" immediately took found it equally impossible to remove it. But in a few minutes, as we all walked about in the light, the ring fell of the medium's wrist as if it had been a large ring.

January 3, 1885.]

4. But oven if it were possible to pass an object whose dimension was 9-15 through an aperture measuring 7-8, only, this impossible possibility was rendered manifestly impossible by the passage being debarred by my own hand.

5. I satisfied myself that the ring on Mr. Husk's wrist was my own ring by its private marks.

6. I satisfied myself that the ring had not been tautpered with, but was intact, by anspending it while on the medium's wrist by a string, and ringing it.

7. I satisfied myself by examination that there was no ring on Mr. Heak's wrist or arm previous to the experi- denial of all the facts which assure us of the reality of a spirit ment.

8. I therefore again amort that we have in this experiment a demonstration that spirit power can suspend the cohesive force, and by an occalt process perform a physical feat which transcends the greatest known wonders of chemical or electrical science.

Having been for four years inbouring to get this test, I need scarcely add that my long-suffering patience was completely rewarded, and I had always been told by "Irresistible " and others that I should at last succeed if I persevered.

9. With the exception of the medium, the sitters were all in a normal state of mind, and neither saleep, intoxicated, mad, biologised, nor handed together to lie.

My sensations on receiving this demonstration were intense, because I then knew that the impossible to science as at present taught, was possible to spirit, which was thus abown to be an intelligent force before whose will, chemical, and mechanical, and magnetic forces are as servants. It showed me that the teaching of Materialian was untrue. It showed how the Lord of the spirit was Lord over matter, and it suggested how we, whom we have shuffled off this mortal coil, shall be able to surround ourselves with, or senarate correlves from objective material forms according to the will of our imaginations, or affections, as has been so profoundly said by Swedenborg.

GRONGE WYLD, M.D.

December 21st, 1884.

"LIGHT" SUSTENTATION PUND.

-				£	26.	de
Amount already an	hommond		995	270	3	6
P. H. Nind		444	444	-	10	0
J. B. Gledstanes	494		400	- 3	11	6
C. C. Pourson	245	Make 1	444	- 1	0	U.

Remittances may be sent either to Mr. E. Dawson Rogers, Rose Villa, Church End, Finchley, N.; or to Mr. Morall Theobald, 02, Granville Park, Lowishum, S.E.

A BARRISTER S PLAN FOR THE DISSEMINATION OF SPIRITUAL LITERATURE.

SUBSCRIPTIONS ALREADY PROBLERS.

Those marked are annual subscriptions if required:

"A Barrister"					497	£25	0	0
"Lieutenant-Colo	mal W	umnle	0.4	144	-	10	0	0
*The Countess of	Califor	Dens.	-			10	0	0
-1 He Colluteron	Warm	Isamo	M P			10	0	0
"The Hen. Percy	24 7,000	Inches,	200.0	044	100	30	0	0
*General Campbe	213		-	100	44.4	10	0	0
"4" Lily "		mer i	with	1000	0-	10	0	0
Morell Theoliaki	24. ·	244	344	951	+11	20	0	0
" " A Profession	al Aled	RAIDS	Age:	1444	94.4	100	20
Mrs. Hennings			100	46.5	100	- 0	0	0
R. Stuart	494	9441	100	Ser.	444	33	0	0
Mrs. Proctor	-		444	944	+++	- 3	- 3	0
"" M. B."					1000	2	2	0
W. P. Morgan					Selection of the last	2	0	0
J. H. Gledstanes			No.	200	166	1	11	G
A. K. and E. M.		dest.	100		1999	1	0.	0
P. BRU L. Per	444

Total amount required £250. Promises may be sent to Editor of "Lucar," 4, Ave Maria-lane, E.C.

Mr. W. EGLINTON.-We are asked to call the special attention of Spiritualists to the fact that Mr. Eglinton has changed his address. It is now 11, Langham-street, Portland-

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK.

XI.

The conversion of one of the two most obsqueet advocates of Secularity in America, and the featernal correspondence of these two-Colonal Ingersoll and Mr. Chainey-on the subject, are matters of deep interest to all Spiritualists. Every reader of the two leading organs of Scoularian in this country, the National Reference and the Secular Review, can see that they are conducted with oxtmordinary ability, and a devotion to what the writers hold to be the truth which is above all praise. If I do not always admire the methods and style of their protests against the popular theologies, I can recognise the martyr spirit even in those who spend their lives in the sturdy

A socialist like Goorge Chainey, once convinced of the reality of Spiritualium, cannot fail to give his knowledge to themsands of those who most need it. I do not forget that it was a necessaries becomes converted to Spiritualism, who was the means of giving us such a medium as Mr. Eglinton, who, from the Gauges to the Minimippe, has given to thousands visible, audible, tangible evidences of lamortality.

The proction of a Spiritual Temple in Beston, the ment cultured of American cities, by a wealthy and devoted Spiritualist, at a control a quarter of a million of dellars, is an example which we may hope will not be lost. But before arnels our be expected in this way there must be some order and organization. People do not make such offerings to any came until they have some reasonable assurance that they will be winely used for its promotion. For a truth like Spiritualism men will give freely the moment they can see that their gifts will extend its constorts and blessings to those who need

But one thing is socieful. There must be a broad, libered platform. The creed of Spiritualium must be very simple and very comprehensive. The two words which end the Apostles Creed-"Life Everlasting"-may be enough. True, it has been the faith of the whole human race from time homemorial-but it is a faith now dying out among the most cultured peoples in the world. Paith is not enough, and therefore it is being replaced by knowledge. We, who are Spiritualists, have that knowledge, and we are trying to give it to others, because all knowledge is good, and all ignorance and falinhood is uncomfortable and dangerous.

It is true that this knowledge will come to all in time, but that is not a good excuse for withholding it or he not seeking it now. All men nood it for confort or for guidance. The highest motive any one can have for all right and noble action is the fact of immortality. Men and women are herede in the hope of being remembered after douth. How much stronger is the metive to all good deeds when we know that we shall live on and on to onjoy thom. To have an honourable epitaph-be save one's body moulder in Westminster Abbey, is somethingbut to live with these for whom we have laboured seems to us much bottor.

Yet people ask :—" What is the good of Spiritualism  $t^{\alpha}$  The good ! Consider for a moment what it has done for every one who has examined its phenomens-or, to use a better word, its forts. It has removed the great of donth. It has banished the horrors of Calvinistic theology. With the sesurence of a continued existence it has brought also the prospect of eternal program in windom and lave, and all that constitutes the joy of life. We have a reasonable hell-if we deserve one. We have no less a ressonable heaven within our reach. In peace, in hope, in securance of knowledge, we do our work cheerfully, ready for the change that awaits us. 4 4 4

Really! what can we do better for the world about us than to give to others the knowledge that we find so good and so pleasant for onzalves? What can we do better than to clear the minds of mea of the horrors that are preached to them every Sunday from thousands of pulpits, in which men labour to make God a Send, and fill a flory bell with nine-tenths of all humanity, destined by the Eternal fore-knowledge to be tortured to all eternity! This horror, taught to millions.

Spiritualism has destroyed; and people ask, "What is the good

One of the best newspapers in England, if not the very best in some ways, is the Weekly Chronicle of Joseph Cowen, M.P., Newcastle-on-Tyne, a man so truly liberal that he came from the House of Commons one night to provide at a spiritualist meeting addressed by a distinguished scientist, also a resident of Numeratle. Needless to say that the Chroniele has been open to the facts of Spiritualism.

In a recent member, the Weekly Chronicle gives Lord Lindany's - the present Earl of Balcarres -description of the famous levitation of Mr. Home, when he was carried out of one window, seventy feet from the ground, and brought in at another-s stupendous miracle, witnessed also by Lord Adare, the present Earl of Dunraven.

In the same paper is published an interesting account of "The Willington Chest," "A Night in the Haunted Mill," and "What Mr. Hudson Heard." This haunted mill was some years ago visited by the Into William Howitt. Forty years ago a Dr. Deary spent a night in the haunted house with a friend, Mr. Thomas Hadson, Humay the ghost, which he described at the time as " a female, attired in greyish garments, with one band pressed upon her beenst as in pain, and the other extended towards the door," and as the ghost approached his friend he gave a most awful yell, fell, and remained anconacious for three

Now, for the first time after forty-five yours, Mr. Hadson, the friend, gives his account of the strange mises they heard, and of Drucy's "hideous yell," when "he sprang up with his hair standing on and, the picture of horror. He fainted and fell into my arms like a lifeless piece of bumarity."

This is another of the ghost reviews pareading contemporary literature-revivaless well of the Supermaturalism of Shakespears and Goothe. But the officet of Modern Spiritualiza-the care fully observed and scientifically investigated facts of to-dayupon our literature is only in its crude beginnings. The time is not distant when it will be all-perculing,

REVIEWS

Participenda ; or the Earth's New Birth. Classes: Ray. Nighat and Co.

This book purports to be the joint production of "Throsopho, a Minister of the Holies, and Ellors, a Secress of the Sanctuary," and to describe future events as seen in a series of visions. It is one of that class so numerous new-adays which are no less the perplexity of the Spiritualist, than the scoff of the sceptie. Well meaning, and up to a certain point rational and practical, it nevertheless deals in aspirations and predictions the most extravagant and contrary to the nature of things; and yot is written with so much oursestness as to auggest, on the part of its author or authoress,-for their plurality is not invariably maintained, -complete unconsciousness of the incongruity of the parts and incoherence of the whole. Animated by a strong sound of justice and piety, it pro-pounds schemes for the reformation of Church and State, even to providing a new doctrine and ritual for the former, with an indifference to orthodoxy worthy of a Grossic, and a minute-ness of exclosination detail worthy of a Levite. Not content with this, "Pulingenessia" anticipates the time when the planet itself, as well so its inhabitants, will be regonerated, and not only rearranges the disposition of sea and land on the surface, placing them in alternating stripes like the bars of the Zebra, but, borrowing the idea of Lord Lytton's "Coming Race," peoples the earth's interior, and traverses it in all directions with mil-ways. To the volume which contains all this is added one of plates and diagrams, two dozen in number, elaborate, large, and coloured. Whether the book is intended to be taken literally or allogorically, is not stated, and we are unable to decide. That it has been a labour of love and one involving no ordin-The parameter of time, labour, ingenuity, and money, is beyond doubt. But an also, we four, is the prespect of its limiting but little appreciation by the public, for the judgment, which ought to have presided ever its composition, is sailly conspicuous by its absence. We say this with regret, for we recognise and respect its feeling and intention. But our duties to Spiritualism are parameter; and it is Spiritudism which has to hear the responsibility of the shortcomings of its professors. When will Spiritualists understand that things are not necessarily Divine because spiritual, and that abnormal mentality is not necessarily

A SHORT SERMON FOR SPIRITUALISTS.

[January 3, 1685,

An amusing American story relates how a member of the National Congress offered a wager to a fellow member that he could not recite correctly "the Lord's Prayer." The but was promptly accepted by the second, who immediately repeated the following :-

" Now I lay me down to sleep, I near the Land my and to keep : If I should die before I wake I peay the Lord my soul to take."

'I -- " mid the first one with a big outh or two, but drawing out his parse and handing over the ten dollars, "I didn't think von centlil ha' done it."

Supposed citations from the Bible, not quite so bad as this, even by intelligent people, are not rare. How many have attributed to that book Franklin's well-known Parable, or Storne's pretty as wall as pious sentence, " He tempereth the wind to the shorn lamb," or the popular saw "A merciful man is merciful to his beast," or the statement that " Eve ate the apple," or that Sas! consulted "the witch of Endor." But some of these probably is to generally and undoubtingly held to be genuine " scripture " at this-

"As the tree falls so it lies."

Or, as annotines phrased-

" As the tree falls, so shall it lie."

Who has not heard this many a time adduced in proof of the great ductries of the continuity of character after death, even to ofernity? Often may it be board from the pulpit in support of the frightful dogma of overlasting punishment. I have even found it in the published discourses of ominest divines, who oridently thought it to be strictly biblical, and equivalent to another piece of "minister's arristma" (as I was early taught to call scientsood texts), "As douth leaves us, so will judgment find us."

One need not then be surprised to find it is a recent number of "Loure" (No. 204), in an article by a very intelligent correspondent, who cites it as setting forth the great truth that souls take with them into the spirit world their ignorance, wonkness, falsity, and soldshoom, and remain in a purgatorial condition until they abandon their besetting weakness." This very important truth, which I fervently with night be believed and profoundly felt by every human being, I am certainly not about to impage. But I wish to my very distinctly that it cannot be rested on any such text in the Bible, for there is no such. And not only so, but the words of which it is a distortion will bear no construction that even appreaches this in significance.

The proverb, for such, insleed, it has come to be, has plainly been manufactured out of part of a verse in one of the books attributed to King Solomon, called " Ecclements, or the Prencher" (chats, xl. v. 3). And so palpably in it an utter misenneuntion of the meaning of the author as to force the inquiry, " However cause it into no twisted a charm?" To this I could renture an explanation, if accessary; but the acceptive of equal of my randers will, no doubt, he equal

But it is more important-at least, for those who incline to regard the Bible as a great theseuras of proof texts-to show the real meaning of the verse. And to this end I must beg indulgence for a brief expository homily, which perhaps the renders of " Liour " may the more readily great as constituting for them a little variety.

The first six verses of this chapter discuss but one subjoct, and have a connection which, though not obvious at first to a careless reader, is plain enough when shown. They are a discourse on the duty of a generous betteficence, one of the little sermons of which the book consists, and one by no means wanting in richness and boauty. But its pearle to be fairly seen must be strong on their thread. And so the thome cannot fail to be at welcome a one to the truly "liberal" thinker as to the so-called "orthodox," and its consideration just now may be appealte to the session, and particularly to the wants, or rather the just claims, of our invaluable periodical itself through which I speak, may I not be purdoued for a few sentences of exposition?

The discourse reads in our version thus :-

- 1. Cost thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after
- 2. Give a portion to seven, and also to eight; for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth.

- earth: and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be.
- 4. He that observeth the wind shall not upw; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not resp.
- S. As they knowed not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the hours degrees in the worsh of her that is with child: even se then knowest not the works of God who maketh all.
- 4. In the morning now thy sood, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whother shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good.

CONNENTABY.

The preacher was a man of experience, and know well with whom he had to deal in this matter; that in it wont mon were slow to be persuaded. Accordingly he occupies himself largely with their common objections. Most man prefer to pat their money where they think it will pay best; where they can see a good return coming in from it and speedily. So he begins by an appeal directly to their selfishness, as the only spring that could at first be touched, and bids them

(Verso L.) That though seed grain, broadcast over immdated land, may seem to those who have never made the experiment like more unstefulness, or, at host, to offer but an extremely operation promise of a largest, yet it was after all the street way to secure an ample roturn, and well known to be so. The very circumstance, indeed, that made it seem unpremising was the one that generateed a full roward. It might be alower in rossing..." after many days"-than from a drier soil; but it would be all the sever and larger.

(Verse 2.) "Sevon," one of the so-called "ascred numbers," stands obviously here, as elsowhere, for indefinitely, a great many, as when it was said of larged's openitor, "They shall flee before thee erven ways," i.e., in all directions, "Eight" seems added for emplants, as if to my, "You need not fear my excess in this line. The calls are many, no doubt, and keep coming continually. But he not weary of them; 'Give to him that saketh thee, though like the penitent offender he turn to thee for the seventh or seventy times the seventh time." And the reason urged for this generosity is, " You know not what calamitim may yet overtake you, wheat either your ability to give may no longer be continued to you, or, wome still, you may become in your turn the needy sufferer, dependant on the charity of others." "Thou knowest not what ovil shall be upon the earth."

(Verse 3.) Nor say that though you give little, you have as generous a heart as any. "If the clouds be full of water they emply themselves upon the earth," giving not meagrely, but to their exhaustion. Nor again say that you are not sure but that you might do more good in some other way. Quite possibly; but don't be over particular about this. If the tree falls in any direction, south or morth, there if is, to be made useful. Your benefactions might possibly be better ordered in their fall; but let not this prevent their falling. They will be found, wherover they are, and put to uso. Can anything clao be mount?

(Verse 4.) Nor he tau koen-oyed for every discouraging circumstance, looking in all directions for hindreness and research for delay. Thus spent only in watching the wind and clouds will bring no learnest.

(Verse 6.) "But lose is the reward of my honelicence over to get to me ?" says the objector. " They whom I halp will probably nover be able to help me; and, alas? as the world goes, too often would not if they could. The ways of Providence must be very mysterious that aball over bring the widesproad charities that you sale of me back in the blennings you promise." You, faltering acceptio, they are so; but "theu knowest not the works of God." The intrieste web of His acrungements is too tangled a puzzle for you. Bron the way in which your own body came into being you do not understand. Everywhere being can come "all things to work together for good" to you, along lines every one of which is out of your eight.

(Verse U.) Therefore excuse not yourself on any grounds

3. If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the nent into the field, not for the morning only, nor yet for the evening only, but for the day. Lot the wrift-approaching night but quicken your diligence, for the Master mith, "Beliekl, I come quickly; and My reward is with Me, to give to every man according as his work shall bo,"

Have I, in offering a critical correction, taken advantage of my opportunity to preach too long a sersion! And, moreover, to discuss a topic not belonging distinctively to Spiritualism? The truly large-hearted will readily forgive me. And Spiritualists who have learned to any purpose the great leasure of their faith will feel that, though the duty I have neged belongs, indeed, to all mankind, under every variety of creed, they of all men are the last who can consistently ignore it. Justin D. Hull.

S. Copeland-place, Boston, Massachusetta.

EXTRAORDINARY SPIRITUALISTIC REVELATIONS IN BLACKBURN.

Under this heading the Blackburn Standard, of the 27th ult., gives the following story without note or comment of any kind :-

O Abentaix months ago a young woman, some fifteen or sixon years of ago, then living in Lanadorne-street, Witton, daughter of a Mrs. Roomey, a widow, began to attend the Spiritadist meetings hold in the Science and Art School, Paradisolane. Blackburn. She had attended several mostings before law mother found out the fact, but when she did she reprinteded har very severely for having missed her own solved to attend such a place, and forbade her over going again. Bowaver, the Sunday following found the girl at the forbidden accetings, and when she went home to tea Mrs. Rooney asked her daughter had she been to school, but her reply was, 'No, I have been to hear the Spiritualists.' Mrs. Roomey insmediately made the girl pet sway her Sunday clothes in the drawer, and would not allow her to go out of the house again that day for having disobeyed her commands. The Sunday following the girl pleaded so much with her mother to allow her to go to the meeting in the afternoon that Mrs. Rooney wondered to herself 'Whatover our there be that attends the girl so much that she has second to kee all interest in her own school? After a long pleading Mrs. Rooney said, 'Well now, I will let you go this time, but you must never sak me again. When the girl went home to tex abo told her mother what a good lecture also had listened to, and added, "I am sure you would have liked it had you been there.' She then began to ask her mother to let her so at night, and arged, 'You might go with me and hear and see for yourself what port of meetings they are." Mrs. Rooney said, I will go and see for myself, and if I disapprove of the meetinga you dull never go again.' Se the prepared horself and they went together. After the address, several of her neighbours who attended the spiritualist meetings went to her and asked her last ske liked the beture. She replied, 'Better than I expected when I many here.' They than herited her to so with them, and told her they were going to hold a private needing in the house of one of the friends. When they arrived at the house of the party they formed a circle and sat with their hunds placed that on the top of the kitchen table. In a little while the table began to move, and questions were asked which the table asserted by spelling messages in a way that to the uninitiated would soon singular and strange. One of the party repeated the alphabet, and when the various letters were reached that furned the words the leg of the table lifted and knowled on the floor. Thus one mestage after another was given. After this an alphabet-ours was laid on the table and two persons lightly hold a thin stick between their lingues. Its a little time the tip of the stick began to point to various letters and the messages spelled out, but much quicker than with the table. Mrs. Receive mt and watched, but when the people told appear methods of His work which you cannot trace. The hur that the messages were being given by spirits she shock her wisdom that framed and animated your complex and wonderful | head ecoptically, and when she wont home she said to harself I will nover believe the messages were given by spirits unless they will do the same for me when I san alone. The following morning she determined to ky if she could from a generous beneficence in your youth, nor yet in your old got a message, and as alse got her living by washing age. Parhaps oven the analier sums which the ferner season clothes she at her boiler fire going and filled the boiler enables you to bestow "shall prosper" as much to their end as with water. While the water was heating also locked the the half-promised gifts of the ketter; if not more widely in the door, pulled down the blind, so that no one could see through world, at least in your own heart, saving you from a shrivelled the window what she was doing, got her little table, and tried avail that so often uta starving amid great abundance. Ton are her first experiment in Spiritualian. Before giving the result of the experiment it would be as well to go back some twentyfive years in the history of Mrs. Rossey. At that time she was a young woman living with her parents when she made the acquaintance of a young man of whom her parents very much disapproved. The acquaintance ripened into courtship, and rather than give up her sweetheart she left home and got a citastion as a servant in a guntleman's family. From the day she left home to the day she tried the experiment with the spirits she had nover heard from any member of her family, and did not know whether they were living or dead ; or if living, where they were. On sitting down at her table on the Monday morning mentioned, she beard a bell ringing, and thought there must be some one dead, and that the ball she heard must be the bell of St. Blark's Church. In a few minutes after her hands had been placed upon the table it began to move, and spelled in the same manner she had seen the night before, "The joyhells are ringing.' The next message was for her to procure an alphabet-card and stick, and monages would be given to her by those means. These she procured and proceeded as she had soon her friends the province night. Shortly the stick began to more over the letters of the alphabet, and then begun to point to the letters and figures composing the following words ;- Your brother John is alive, and lives at 28, East-atreet, Weymouth, write to bin. When her daughter came home from the mill she told her what she had been doing, and directed her to write to the above address and sak if John Hoskins lived there, so the writer was very tench interested in knowing whether h did or not, She signed the lotter ' A friend of the family,' Is a few days she received a letter saying that John Heakins did live at that seldress, and he wished to know who there was in Blackburn know him and felt interested in his welfare. A second letter was then sent saying the writer of the letters was his sister Mary. On receipt of this, John immediately propared to go to Blackburn and see his sister, and the result of the journey was that, ulthough twenty-five years had chapsed since they separated, the moment he set eyes on Mrs. Roomey he recognised her as his long-lost sister. To make a long story short. Mr. Hoskins explained to her his electrostatices, and how his affairs were financially, and said he would gladly take her and har daughter home with him, and provide for them, as kis siroumstances would allow him to do so. This offer Mrs. Roomey pay the travelling expenses of hemalf and daughter, as well as the carriage of her homehold furniture from Blackborn to Weymouth. Mrs. Raonay left Blackburn for her new home on the 5th December, 1884. The messages given to Mrs. Roomey purported to have been given by the spirits of her mother, who passed away about twelve yours ago, and Tom Dunn, a young man she know before also left home. Of course, whose Mr. greatly lack. Hoskins was over in Blackburn he inquired from his sister how also got his address, and when she let him see the mothed by which she received it he was amazed, mover having soon or heard anything of Spiritualism before."

THE Christian Register, an organ of the Unitarians of the United States, mys, in a recent number: - "When tables, without contact with any persons, move ; when music comes from ; locked pingo; when writings come without human agency, facts are presented which ought to be investigated. They have been too long left to the explanations of those who are incompetent to investigate. Namy acknowledge the facts without accepting the explanation of them put forward by Spiritualists. therefore welcome the proposition for antablishing a society for investigating them upon purely scientific principles." This is pretty well for our Unitarian contemporary. A quarter of a century sooms rather long for coming to a rational conclusion.

Let Chaine Magaelique reports an exhibition of Stuart Cumberland's faculty of finding, blindfolded, small concealed objects, and of pointing out the seat of pain felt by any person with whom he is in contact. Cumberland says that he has had the faculty from his childhood, but has cultivated it. One conthe successful use of it is, that the person who has concealed the object shall continuously and distinctly think of it, and where he has placed it, while Cumberland holds his hands. He says that the exercise of it is followed by fatigue of the brain and oxhaustion of nerve-force. "Tous," says the Chaine Magnetique "Cumberland passes, unconsciously, into a state of temporary spontaneous sleep-waking, when the mind cognizes without the use of the external senses, as in the ordinary waking

MATERIALISATIONS AND TRANS-FIGURATIONS.

LIGHT.

In a colchrated letter of Mr. A. Russel Wallace to the Banner of Light on Materialisations-which was translated for the Rezus Spirite of December, 1883, and from which I retranslate it now, not having the original-that "Prince of Science as universally known and respected," as the Reces so truly calls him, makes the following remarks :-

"With all these phenomena, two conditions determine the nature and the character of the manifestations. First, when the conditions are exceedingly favourable, forms may he produced apart from the medium. Secondly, when the conditions are less invourable, they can alone be produced by loosing the medium from his bonds. In this case the medium is transfigured; which it, in many instances, only one degree less marvellous than the other. Of this latter class I have seen a good number of examples with different

Now, if this be true, which few if any in the flesh now doubt, I would ask a simple question depending on it. Does unybody know of any one single control (who must know whether Professor Wallace's dicte are true or not), that has acknowledged this second proposition, or is likely to do so !- one, for instance (for there is almost, if not always, a talking control in the cabinath who will beldly and honestly enunciate from his recess: "That, ladies and gentlemen, is the real thing, for you will shortly see the medium and myself together, which will prove it; yet it takes a good deal out of the medium, and we wish to spare him all we can. But this other condition, ladies and gentlemen, which has the advantage of not fatiguing the medium, and gives ourselves less trouble, is of the second class, but is, at the Professor acknowledges, only one degree less marvellons than the other, therefore we give it you to show our powers, for we can transform our medium, making him short or tall, according to our devices; young or old, dark or fair, transmogrifying every feature; and, wonder of accepted, and Mr. Hoakins provided her with sufficient money all, giving the appearance even of a change of sex." Had the controls said this, since they can do it, they would have often mved the mediums much contamely, often quite undeserved on the medium's part, as well as warded off general dishonour to their cause, and by so doing would only have given evidence of that common-sense which they

> As this candour in controls in most rare, if not unpreedented, I am brought to my point; and the fact remains that the control who has only once been proved to have brought out his medium in the second condition referred to by Mr. Wallace, under presence that it some the first condition referred to by the Professor, has plainly forfei ted his claim to be implicitly relied upon in any other respect. We hear a good deal from writers on materializations of the medium being heard coughing or grouning in the cabinet while the forms are outside; but what proof have we that this coughing and groaning is not imitated by the talking spirit in the enbinet! I mean of course, if over he has but once been proved to have perpetrated deception. This is a proof, I fear, that souls may cometimes rather lose moral sense on leaving earth than gain it; as well, indeed, as lose that craft and common-sense which we generally find among men here, even when the moral sense seems departed. But are we on this account to jump to the conclusion of one of your correspondents in your number of December 13th, who mays: "I believe it is rare that departed male conmunicate through mediums." I think not. Your correspondent imputes such communications to "irresponsible beings of a sub-human order." But, I would ask, where did these "irresponsible beings" got our alphabet, and how do these "sub-humans" learn to spell ! Almost all we know about these beings is through their being able to spell just like ourselves. Now we all know that the three R.'s cannot spoll, write, and calculate, exactly like curselves, but their his new life. modes of expression are the same, shewing plainly that they have been, at some time or other, in the same sort of schools and the same sort of society as we have ourselves; that in message being written in a few seconds, which would take a England they speak English, as a rule, and in France they speak French, and, for the matter of that, in China they speak Chinese. And where, too, do these " spb-humana, " as sob-humana, gain knowledge, often so far above their superiors and questioners, if they be "sub-human"! How is it that many of those "sub-humans" who communicate habitually in English, write also well and grammatically in foreign languages, ancient and modern1 Where did these go to school! Where do they learn their human accomplishments if they are not human themselves, or, if young when they die, learning them from fellow human beings in the other life? How is it that these our alleged "subs" understand so well our liabits and customs? Will it be said that, as invisible sub-human beings, they learn to talk with us, learn to read with us, constantly keep our society, and know as much and generally more than we do, they knowing everything of us, and we knowing nothing of them ? If so, then, how can they be our "subs"! But have invisible "subs" all these privileges? I doubt it. I had thought that the knowing of our down-sitting and uprising, the understanding of our thoughts afar off, the compassing our path and our lying down, and being acquainted with all our ways, were the attributes of a very high nature and not those of our "sale." And rather, is not the theory of subhuman communication with mon as an explanation of Spirit-

DIRECT SPIRIT-WRITING

W. R. P.

Le Spiritiane (Paris) publishes the following letter:-

unlists, an anomaly, a paradox, and a shate !

"Yesterday, being in London, a lady proposed that I should accompany her to 12, Old Quebec-street, the residence of a psychographic medium, named Eglinton. On our arrival we found that he was absent, but expected to return shortly. We waited. We found a lady there with the same object. She spoke French, and in obnversation I found that, although a believer, she had been a little shaken in the thought that it was altogether right to inquire of spirite, by some conversation also had had recently with some one who had cited some parage of Scripture. I argued in favour of inquiry, and while doing so the medium came in. This terminated our discussion, and the lady out down at the table with us. The table was a plain uncovered one and the room was well lighted. The medium juvited the lady to take in her hand a pair of slates in a folding frame, shutting together like a book, with lock and key. Between the slates he asked her to place a mostl piece of pencil, and then lock them together. We then all joined hands. The lady expressed a strong desire that she might have a comsounication from her mother, and immediately there came sounds of rapid writing; then three taps announced the cessation of the communication. On the slates being opened immerine our autonishment at seeing the whole interior of the slates filled with a long message, which, on reading, we found to be a commentary upon the conversation between the lady and myself before the medium came in, concluding with an exhortation to maintain an irreproachable life, and promising her happiness on her entering the world of spirits.

"When it came to say turn, I wrote, quite apart, upon one of the slates, that it would give me happiness if I could receive some message from my brother Jules. Glosing the slates I placed them on my chair and sat upon them. I then joined hands with the rest, and immediately I heard scientific investigation of them, which has lately been proposed, sounds of writing. These cessing I opened the slates, and strable truth renders it probable that means for establishing a found a long communication from my brother, recommend- school for psychical investigation will soon be forthcoming.

be learnt in a day, and we find that these beings not only ing patience to me, and assuring me that he was happy in

"I could enlarge much upon the incidents of this sonnce, but limit myself to expressing my astonishment at a nuarter of an hoar for a mortal to write.

"No scaptic of a caudid mind could resist conviction in the presence of such marvels.

" A. GRICOURT,

"Southampton, November 26th, 1884."

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

GLASCOW .- In view of the unfortunate circumstances in which me of the worthiest veterans in the spiritual cause, Mr. J. J. Morse, is at present placed, the appeal of Mrs. Malthy, as published in "LIGHT," was last Sunday brought forward for consideration at the forenoon scance of the Glasgow Association of Spiritualists. It was then and there unanimously resolved that something be done. Accordingly a subscription list on behalf of Mr. Morse has been opened by Mr. James Robertson (president), and it is confidently anticipated a substantial sum will soon be collected. It was also agreed that the proceeds of the Society's scance on the following Tuesday should be applied to the same object. The feelings of Glasgow Spiritualists towards Mr. Morse are those of admiration and respect; it was therefore an easy task for Mr. Robertson, as chairman of the evening meeting, to quicken the sympathics of the Spiritualist portion of the audience for the worker, who has spent his energies in the cause "not wisely, but too well," so far so his own health is concerned. Last Sunday overlag (28th ult.), the platform was occupied by Mrs. Wallis, the subject of her guides' discourse being: "The Gespel of Gloom r. The Gespel of Gladness." The deliverance was forcible, and, on the whole, well-sustained. It was argued that every form of teaching, or preaching, which exercised a fettering influence upon individual thought, judgment, and opinion, and which curtailed the outlook of struggling humanity into the future—limiting its horizon to the narrow radius of the physical life—eras a gospol of gloom. In the same category were chased doguntic Theology and Materialism, insumuch as the influence which they respectively exerted upon luman life, hope, and effort was paralysing and depressing. On the other hand it was claimed for Spiritualius that its special feature was the monage of gladness and bright promite it convoyed, observing the most these who moded most diver, whilst it sostained all by the unlimited prospect of future growth, happiness, and blessed achievement it opened up for the toilure of the earth. Mrs. Wallis will also speak next Sunday, while her husband ministers to the Spiritualists of Newcastle and Shields, -ST. MUNGO, Newcastle.—Dr. Andrieu, of Amieus, delivered an address, in the French language, upon "Animal Magnetism," in the Central Hall, Hossi-street, on Thursday, December 18th, before the members and friends of the Cercle Littéraire Français, He illustrated his lecture with experiments upon the well-known measuric semilive, It. Nesdit, commandy called "Dick, the Pit Lad." These experiments were very successful, especially in view of the fact that the sensitive did not know a word of French, and that he and Dr. Audrica had only not for the first time an hour or two provious to the locture. Some of the experiments were performed without the uttorace of a word or sound of any nort, and with the sonsitive turned with his back to the operator, the proceedings eliciting applause from the very select audience amountied. Al. Grand, president of the Carole, presided.

Broxenousz.-The following course of lectures will be delivered through the mediumship of Mr. W. Burt, delivered through the mediumship of Air. W. Burk, at the Sailors' Welcome Lecture Hall (opposite Siloam Chapel), Union-place, Stonehouse, on Similar evenings at 7:—January 4th, subject: "The Death of Satan;" 11th, "The Cleansing of the Sanctuary;" 18th, "The First Resurrection;" 25th, "The Sanctuary; "18th, "The First Resurrection;" 25th, "The Second Death," Services are also held in the above hall every Sunday morning at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

A Lady Professon.—Mrs. Pierce, of Sharpsville, some years ago gave 10,000dol. to the Buchtel College, Akron, Ohio, to institute a chair of English Literature, to be filled by a Onio, to institute a chair of English Laborator, to be interest woman. It recently became vacant, and the trustees began to inquire for a unit professor. This brought a protest from Mrs. Pierce. She said if there was no woman fitted for the post in America, one should be imported. It is now filled by a woman. -Religio-Philosophical Journal.

The Services Eagle of November 22nd, says :-- 'If what are called spiritual phenomena are real, they afford corroboration of the Scriptural dectrine of a life beyond the grave. The

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS.

The Conduct of Circles .- By M.A. (Gxon.)

If you wish to see whether Spiritualism is really only jugglery and imposture, try it by personal experiment.

If you can get an introduction to some experienced Spiritualist, on whose good faith you can roly, ask him for advice; and, if he is holding private circles, sonk permission to attend one to see how to conduct scances, and what to expect.

There is, however, difficulty in obtaining access to private circles, and, in any case, you must rely chiefly on experiences in your own family circle, or amongst your own friends, all strangers being excluded. The bulk of Spiritualists have gained emvietion thus.

Form a circle of from four to eight persons, half, or at least two, of negative, prosive temperatures, and preferably of the female sex;

the rest of a more positive type, Sit, positive and negative alternately, scoure against distortiance, lo subducil light, and in comfortable and unconstrained positions, round on uncovered table of convenient size. Place the palms of the hands that upon its upper surface. The hands of each sitter need not touck those of his neighbour, though the practice is frequently admired.

Do not concentrate attention too fixedly on the expected manifestations. Kagage in elseerful but not frivolence conversation, Avoid dispute or argument. Scopticism has no deterrent effect, but a latter spirit of opposition is a person of determined will may totally stop or decidedly impede manifestations. If conversation llage, music is a great halp, if it be agreeable to all, and not of a kind to pritate the sensitive ear. Patience is essential; and it may be necessary to must fun or twelve times, at short intervals, before anything occurs. If after such trial yes still fail, form a fresh circle. Liness at the reason of your failure, eliminate the Inharmations elements, and introduce others. An hone should be the limit of an unsuccessful stance.

The list indications of success usually are a cold breeze passing over the hands, with involuntary twitching of the house and arms of some of the sittens, and a sensation of throbbing in the table. Those indications, at first see slight as to cause doubt as to their reality, will manally develop with more or less rapidity.

If the table moves, let your pressure be so gentle on its surface that you are sure you are not aiding its motions. After some time you will probably dud that the movement will continue if year hands are hold over, but not in contact with it. Do not, however, try this until the movement is assured, and be in no hurry to get

When you think that the thus lass come, lot some one take command of the circle and not so spokesment. Explain to the unseen Intelligence that an agreed code of signals is desirable, and ask that a tilt may be given as the alphabet is slowly repeated at the several letters which form the word that the Intelligence wishes to spell. It is convenient to use a single till for No, three for Yes, and two to express doubt or uncertainty.

When a satisfactory communication has been established, ask If you are rightly placed, and if not, what order you should take. After this, ask who the Intelligence purports to be, which of the company is the medium, and such relevant questions. If confusion occurs, ascribe it to the difficulty that exists in directing the movements at first with exactitude. Patience will remedy this, if there he a rent desire on the part of the Intelligence to speak with you. If you only satisfy yourself at first that it is possible to speak with an Intelligence separate from that of any person pre-spock will an Mediguice separate from that or any person pre-sent, you will have gained intach.

The signals may take the form of mps. If so, use the same rode of signals, and ask as the raps become clear that they may be made on the table, or in a part of the room where they are demonstrably not produced by any natural means, but avoid any vexations imposition of restrictions on free communication. Let the intelligence med its own means ; if the attempt to communicate the Intelligence and the own means ; it the attempt to combinate at elegence was the own means; it the attempt to any to you, and will resent being hampered by assess interference. It rests greatly with the sitters to make the manifestations elevating or frivious, and even tricky.

Should an attempt be made to entrance the medium, or to manifest by any violent methods, or by means of form manifestations, ask that the attempt may be deferred till you can secure the tions, ask that the attempt may be deterred fill you can secure the presence of some experienced Spiritualist. If this request is not beeded, discontinue the sitting. The process of developing a transcomedium is one that might disconcert an inexperienced inquirer. Increased light will check noisy manifestations.

Inquirer. Increased light will check noisy manifestations.

Lastly. Try the results you get by the light of Reason.

Maintain a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe everything you are told, for though the great museen world contains many a wise and discerning spirit, it also has in it the accumulation of human folly, vanity, and error; and this lies nearer to the surface than that which is wise and good. Distrust the free use of great names. Never for a moment abundon the use of your reason. Do not enter into a very solemn investigation in a spirit of idle curiosity or frivolity. Cultivate a reverent desire for what is pure, good, and true. You will be repaid if you gain only a well-grounded conviction that there is a life after death, for which a pure and good life before death is the best and wisest preparation.

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

The following is a list of eminent persons who, after personal investigation, have satisfied themselves of the reality of some of the phenomena generally known as Psychical or Spiritualistic.

N.B.-An asteriak is profixed to those who have exchanged belief for knowledge.

SCIENCE.-The Earl of Crawford and Ralearon, F.R.S., President R.A.S.; W. Crookes, Fellow and Gold Medallist of the Royal Society; C. Varley, F.R.S., C.E.; A. R. Wallace, the eminent Naturalist; W. F. Barrett, F.R.S.E., Professor of Physics in the Royal College of Science, Dublin ; Dr. Lockhart Robertson ; "Dr. J. Elliotson, F.R.S., sometime President of the Royal Medicul and Chicargical Society of London; "Professor de Morgan, sametime President of the Mathematical Society of London; "Dr. Was Gregory, P.R.S.E., sometime Professor of Chemistry in the University of Edinburgh; "Dr. Ashburner, "Mr. Ruttev, "Dr. Herbert Mayo, F.ILS., &c., &c.

*Professor F. Zöllner, of Leipzig, author of "Transcendental Physics," &c. ; Professors G. T. Fechner, Schribner, and J. H. Pichte, of Leigzig; Professor W. E. Weber, of Göttingen; Professor Holfman, of Warzburg; Professor Perty, at Berne; Professors Wagner and Butleroff, of Petersburg; Professors Hare and Mapon, of U.S.A.; Dr. Robert Friese, of Breslan | Mons. Camilla Flamparion, Astronomer, &c., &c.

LITERATURE.-The Earl of Dunraven | T. A. Trollope : S. C. Hall; Gerald Massey; Captain E. Burton; Professor Cassal, L.L.D.; "Land Brougham; "Lord Lyston; "Lord Lyndhurst; "Archhishop Whately; "Dr. R. Chambers, P. H.S.E.; "W. M. Thuckorny; "Nassau Senior; "George Thompson; "W. Howlit; "Serjeant Cox; "Mrs. Strowning; Hon. Moden Noel, Bishop Clarke, Rhode Island, U.S.A.; Darius Lyman, U.S.A.; Professor W. Denten; Professor Alex. Wilder; Professor Hiram Corson; Professor George Bush; and twenty-four Judges and ex-Judges of the U.S. Courts; Victor Hago; Baron and Baroness von Vay; "W. Lloyd Garrison, U.S.A.; "Hon. R. Dule Owen, U.S.A.; "Hon. J. W. Edmonds, U.S.A.; "Epes Sargent; "Baron du Potet; "Count A. do Gasparin; "Baron L. de Guldenstübbe, &c., &c.

Social, Position.-H. I. H. Nicholas, Duke of Leuchienberg; II. S. II, the Prince of Soluse; II, S. II. Prince Albrecht of Soluse; "H. S. H. Prince Emile of Payn Wittgenstein; Hon. Alexander Aksakof, Imperial Counciller of Russia; the Hon. J. L. O'Sullivan, menetime Minister of U.S.A. at the Court of Liebon ; M. Payre-Clavairoz, late Consul-General of France at Trieste; the late Emperors of "Russia and "France; Presidents "Thiers and "Lincoln, &c., &c.

IS IT CONJURING?

It is sometimes confidently alleged that medicans are only clever adjures, who easily deceive the simple-minded and unwary. But or, then, about the conjures themselves, some of the most accomished of whom have declared that the "manifestations" are utterly conjurers, who easily deceive the simple-minded and unwary. But how, then, about the conjurers themselves, some of the most accomplished of whom have declared that the "manifestations" are utterly always the resources of their art?

Romer Hocher, the great French conjurer, investigated the subject of clairvoyance with the sensitive, Alexis Didier. In the result he unreservedly admitted that what he had observed was wholly beyond the resources of his art to explain. See Psychiche Studien for January, 1878, p. 43.

Preproces Jacobs, writing to the officer of Link, Mole Lickt, April 10h. 1881, in reference to phenomenous which occurred in Parin through the Brothern Daversport, said:—"As a Frestidigitator of repute, and a sincere Spiritualised, I agine that the tentionsimole field elementaried by the two trothers were absolutely trace, and belonged to the Spiritualistic order of things in every respect. Messen, Robin and Robert Houdin, when attempting to imitate these said facts, never presented to the public anything beyond on infantine and almost grobesque paredy of the said phenomena, and it would be only ignorant and eletinate persons who could regard the questions seriously as set forth by these gentlemen. . . Following the data of the learnest februical and natural philosopher, Mr. W. Graskes, of London, I am now in a position to prove planty, and by purely selectific methods, the existence of a "psychic force" in mesmeriem, and also the individuality of the spirit "in spiritual manifestation."

SANCE. BELLACHING, Court Courteness at Berlin.—I hereby declare it to be a rash action to give decisive judgment upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Shabe, after only one sitting and the observations so made. After I had, at the wish of several highly extremed gentlemen of rank and position, and also for my own interest, tested the physical mediumship of Mr. Slade, in a series of sittings by full daylight, as well as in the ervoing in his bedroom, I must, for the sake of truth, here

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

" WHATEVER DOTH MAKE MANIFEST IS LIGHT,-- Fund.

No. 210 .- Vol. V.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 10, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS.

Reletination and Agreement and the The Swedenhargen Clurch and the Faris From "Matter through Matter"......

Min Corpor's Mindon II
Min Corpor's Mindon II
The Unscientific AUS: side of McInitiate
Mr. Eglington and Mr. Comberland II
Two Phases of Spiritual Phenomena Schristmas Week with the digirits Spiritualism in the Provinces .... 22

The Editor of "Leont" desires it to be distinctly understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the apinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents, Free and constones discussion is invited, but writers are alone responsible for the articles to which their names are attached.]

" M.A. (OXON)."

We are extremely sorry to be unable to report any favourable change in the condition of "M.A. (Oxon)." He is still confined to his bod, and suffers severely. We have received a few lines (through an amanuousis), in which he informs us that the shock to his system has been even greater than was imagined by the physicians, and that work of any kind will be impossible till Easter at any rate. The following article was forwarded to us with the intention that it should be used as the first instalment of a new series of "Notes by the Way." This plan, the writer, by his renewed ill-health, has been forced to abandon; and we can only, in the circumstances, announce the fact with the profoundest regret and sympathy, at the same time hoping that a speedy change will occur with the result of a compicte and permanent restoration to health and strength.

SPIRITUALISM AND AGNOSTICISM. Br "M.A. (Oxox.)"

Mr. Chainey's apology for his new faith, elicited by a lotter from Colonel Ingersoll, is diffuse and somewhat emotional. Perhaps it is to be expected that a man who less passed from the rigid pictism of the Methodist to the comparative liberty of Unitarianism, and thence to the condition of the Secularist who is "a law unto himself," and who has found that state of things hollow and unsatisfying, should metaphorically "prance" monowhat as a Spiritualist. No doubt Mr. Chainey does axult in his larger liberty, but he has a right to do that, if only he " has the root of the matter in him," as he would once have said. I trust with all sincerity that the influence brought to bear on Mr. Chainer may be an permanent as it seems now to be potent. It is noteworthy that about the same time that Mr. Chainey was finding his goal in Spiritualism, another well-known man, starting also from Methodism, was making public confession of Agnosticism. Mr. Moneure Conway, so long minister of South-place Chapel, is now in ovidence as one who finds no rest for himself in the Methodism, Uniturianism, or Theism, which he has tried. His state of mind, as portrayed by himself, is instructive.

After a ministry of twenty-one years, Mr. Moneure Conway alreadons the attempt to find for himself a creed that he can continue to teach to others for any appreciable time. Theology has become to him dry as dust, fairas a Methodist, and was pulled up short because he too 1584.)

"Farewell Discourses," by Moscure D. Conway, M.A., (London: E. W. Allen, and may be obtained of The Psychological Press, 4, Ave Maria-lane, E.C.

graphically translated the Bible narratives in terms of modern thought. Then he became Unitarian, and passed through that rather colourless form of belief into a still more colourless Theirn. Finally he takes refuge in the negations of Aguasticism, and may fairly be said to have made a phenomenally rapid progress from the domain of a too vivid faith to the quicksands of hypothetical negation, on which he now finds himself temporarily stranded. During these twenty-one years many minds have passed under his influence, and have passed out of it again. The marcel has been why one so able, so carnest, in many ways so gifted, did not retain his group on those who drifted within his reach. The reason now is clear. He himself had no firm foot-hold whence he could reach out a helping hand to those who sought his aid. The seven discourses in this volumes are most of them remarkable; and from them might maily be picked sentiments that have the ring of truth, and all the freshness and vividness of thought atruck off red-hot from a deeply-stirred mind. He has broken with conventional Religion; "the soul of Theology is hatred," and he flings it from him with abundant disgust. He sees all around him the decay of Faith; his eye is keen to discorn the signs of the times, but he is far less at home whom asked to have the realm of destructive, almost persimintia criticism, and to find a remedy for the avils he

It would be at once ungenerous and unfair not to admit that there is much in Mr. Conway's farewell discourses that is full of insight and of hope. But in turning his back on the past he has transferred his faith to the misty and distant future. He still believes (apparently without much reason) that all will come right in the oud. He rightly discerns that the religious world is passing through a crisis : that the old Faith has lost much of its hold on the thinking world; but he does not discorn in what way its truths can be restated so as to meet the wants of a scientific age in much nort as the old truths of Judaism were restated by the Christ to meet the wants of the age in which He lived. He is impatient of attempts to meet the great want, if they do not chance to fit in with his present mood. "The great change," he mys, "that has come over Christendons is due to the decar of faith in Heaven at a moment when the struggle for existence makes carth a hell for millions. It is not a question of immortality. Our theologians seem to think they are saving men from despair when they show anthropological possibilities that individual consciousness survives death. They are griovously mistaken. . . . Abstract Theism cannot bring comfort and hope to mankind. Why should a man who under God is born in the slums of London suppose that under God he might not be been again in the slums of some other planet?" Anthropological possibilities, forworth! Spiritualism, if he could only have made up his mind to master its far-reaching revolution of the possibilities of the future, would have solved for him his enigma. It would have illuminated his difficulty by teaching him, what I should have thought so acute and penetrating a mind might have found out for itself, at any rate as a possibility, viz. that the acts and habits of our life here build up a character which is perpetuated hereafter; that man is now occupied in preparing his future dwelling-place, and that

Mr. Lonway is the only person of whom I have ever heard it stated that he had tried to investigate honestly and destroy fabricates for himself now the surroundings and sufficiently the evidence that Spiritualism gives of per-which he must dwell hereafter. His life here is not, as Mr petented life after death, without in any way becoming Conway says in his haste, an affair of chance. Born in the satisfied that it offers real and worthy matter for investiga. New Cut now, and an environment that makes progress tion. I have in my mind a letter of his to the Speciator apparently impossible, and virtue, culture, even deceacy, nome years ago, which very curtly stated, if I am not mis- mattamable ideals—to be born, perhaps, in some equivalent taken, a roughor conclusion than that which I have former slum in some more debased and degraded life on a lower lated for him. And yet, as these discourses abundantly show, planet hereafter ! No, not if the life he lived at its best, even there is no man who would have been saved from himself though it be to outward seeming all unlovely and victors. from the grounness of a mend that has found all things. Progress is the law, and its operation is not to be measured theological but vanity and vexation of spire from an by casual glimpses of this fragment of existence; nor is the physicial positionin which is relieved only by a pathetic trust development to be judged by the superficial signs that alone the people and their democratic reign—there is no man are open to man's judgment. But I must not go further. I who has so put houself in avidence as in need of the have not found for a long time so much thought-provoking bearing reflacing of that belief which Spiritualism pro- material as is contained in the seven discourses, for which I pounds as Mr. Conway does in those discourses. With his beg to thank Mr Conway intoise appropiation of the widening of isluented sympathy with various forms of faith who will not agree! "Human religion," he mys, "in yet in its infancy perhaps there are visions to come later, but even now we are reglieng a new world around us, long overshulowed by our star-gazing neglect. From their hiding-places new hibles are coming, scriptures of every race and age, and the great oratoric of humanity swells through them for the en the Our tanon is vestly ordered and ouriebed. Heroes and sages come from their graves, we are no longer hound to the ak of hast the heroes and sages of our race as pagaint burning in hell, we lovingly walk with Zoronater beside the Euphrates, we listen to Buddha leade the Bo trees, we guther with the youth of Athens to 1 st n () = Socialest and Plato; and Jesus, who for fifteen centuries was taken from us by theology . . . has come forth to other unless at be in their own direction. For instance—the our fearless research, with all the sweetness and love that | Prove, in reference to it, says, " Now, we have one more molted the heart of Mary, and all the elequence that i charmed men from their idols." Who can resist the charm and more charitable, and while we venerate our Master as the veritable mearmation of what to as is the Divinest sleaf, we can appro a glance of admiration for those admirations of the Divine who, in other lands, to other peoples, in ges other than our own, have revealed to their followers glimpses of God's own Truth terrses such a passage as that "In youth I pondered over meso words of a Christian seer, "I saw a new heaven and a now earth,' and they revealed to me that a now heaven of establish a church in France. Thirty years agothey hadone at ideals must always be followed by a reformed earth. But ow to my further age, they roven, that equally a new ow to my further age, they reven that equally a new and the few sharps of sweds was a works and who earth leads on to a new heaven. The old heaven having faced that a part i reach the waste get at the heautres as well as -its yory howers, and horps, and to ones book a contine beginning the remarkable Swede drifting clouds-leaving manortanty a cold Perhaps, a possibility not altogether pleasing to the weary toders of earth, I am convinced that if faith in Paradisc is recovered it will be from the standpoint of a happier earth. The ancient heaven shous by contrast with earthly despair the new beaven will reflect the glories of a renovated world," And what Spiritualist will not see that that " cold Porhaps" which chills Mr. Conway's loftiest appirations. and same vses his best circles yours, is just what Spiritualism, and noticing east, unless it he a personal revelation, can remove I am using my words in a large sense, as I am rule, however, is generally disregarded by our contemporary ent ried. I do not protond that any amount of what Mr. Press, honce, necessarily, misrepresentations of Swedenborg Conway probably understands by Spiritualism-rapping now, and of the spiritual philosophy always. tables, floating chairs, mysterious writings, or phenomena, the question of slum or no alum is not one of maner but of that are the unfaring amounts of Maskelyne and Cook, the slow, imperceptible building up of character by the curve Smart. Concertand. Im us, Poshop of Ace grant coursesum of his own self-chosen acts. Hereafter the righteous | women to anything but brend diagent in a mind which has a is rightoons still, as the filthy is filthy still, because the large capacity for a cort of superfine ecora. But if he beingst carlos death makes no break in the a marty of could overcome that unlovely tendency, there is, I stoutly vistence. The life that now is determined that from that to be had from Spiritualism which would provo a halm to his wounded spirit.

January 6, 14th

Man makes his own fatore, as the arbiter of his own

THE SWEDENBORGIAN CHURCH AND THE PARIS PRESS.

(Extract from the Reeus Spirite.)

A Swedenbergian Church has been opened in Paris. The event has exercised the minds of our gentlemen of the Press; with the Outhobe elerical part of it, of course, it finds no favour. As their Church makes the protention of long the sour negacionry of all trute, its Press seems to feebarne to treat the Churco of the " New Jerusatem" with Our Republican journals, who make a boast of being free the war wow no teleration for such an outgrowth f freezant of nearty, as they do not, indeed, for any added to the petty chapels and coteries where, in spate of science and free-thought, mystical peactices, borrowed from the ragaries of the past, are to be inculcated." The of that picture? Our horizon is wider, our views are truer Extracted says, " At a time when all religious are loung their adherents an attempt is made to establish a fresh sect among us. The futility of trying to propagate the Swedish philosopher's doctrines is as palpable as the obscurity enshrouding them-on obscurity baffing to the most resolute examination." The Petit Persones mys, " Paris can now point to a new church; surely there were already temples enough in France raised to superstition, and another Who again can fail to admire the imight that characteristics was scarcely wanted for helping to obscure reason?"

We, however, watch with fraternal interest this movement of the Swedenborgians. It is not their first attempt to So at Armand, at the head of which was the some-protet of the piace. Le however, says a man of probaty and learn-

Honors de Balza - lus ve aparte condensed as well ashe and do n a few pages, the hwa abureau parosophy D is, so for an concerns to ros a set todays conducts or conden and self-scoking and inculesting charity, and as concerns things a ext a white bearing the stamp of the marverous, it certainly does not admit—as one of his critics insists—of being regarded as only adapted to visionanes and such as are proce to be no week a the superintural

In all criticism, upon any subject, we should hold to the rule of suspending judgment until we have got at the knowledge of the facts of the case and their rational relations, and until we are able to consider it without prejudice. This "MATTER THROUGH MATTER."

LIGHT.

nake out, then that we have arrived at an affirmative of the one to the other as it seemed, and as Mr. C. said, against the wrist of his set; keeping, but the room was dark. hand-the one secured in my own right. He winced, and almost at once the ring slepped over our two hands on to my forearm. A light was struck, and there it was form a thout our hands having been once disjounced since the engaged hand he made an exploration of the arm and wrist, change of seats. Mr. C. allowed me to measure his cont- and was convinced that no ring was there. But it would smere to excure the possible by that a ring similar to those be very desirable to know what was the extent of his on the table had been on his arm beneat, the roat and I exploration-whether, for immones, he explored the ands found (as may easily be supposed from the above given arm as far up as the elbow. And considering the ease with dismeter of the ring) that this was not possible. I be, which a conjurer our deceive the unwary as to which of lieved, and still believe, that it was a genuise phenomenon, and I brought away the ring to have the apparently solid that Dr. Wyld made sure throughout that it was the circumference of the tree tested by an expert, taking care medium's left hand which he held. Moreover, it is not once to lot the ring, taken off my arm, out of my impossible, in such a matter, to place complete reliance in hand, that no change neight possibly be effected the report of a single sense of a single person. In these But unhappery the evidential value of the cone obscure subjects, the first rule of scientific investigation is was impaired by the change of seats in the to chiam as much corroborative testimony as possible; and dark. True, the suggestion of this came from myself, where the committee of decemen, as here, excludes any and Mr C.'s character was, so far as I was aware, unblemshed. But at that stage of my investigations, I always progumed against character, and if the idea of a trick had occurred to him, he had the opportunity, during the few seconds of the change of scats, to match up one of the rings and slip it up his arm. He showed me a slight sear on his wrist, but that, of course, counted for nothing evidence with me as evidence.

Dr Wyld took the precaution of passing his hand up the medium a arm just before the phenomenon occurred, a preflaw in Dr. Wyld's,

The occurrence described by Dr. Wyld in your usue of weakens than strongthens the case. January 3rd would be so interesting, if genuine, that many of your roaders will probably share my regret that the conditions were not more completely anexceptionable. The account, as it stands, is far from conclusive. To begin with, Dr. Wold tells us that he has been in the habit of carrying Good Words during 1880.

about his ring for purposes of experiment, but does not tell us that he has invariably preserved it from examination. Dr. Wyld's interesting record supplies a salement are One would be glad to know how he has assured himself that of evidence the absence of which somewhat mys makes a line private marks have not been detected and mutated. similar experience of my own many years a.s. On the A sun ng however, that the ring which find ly oppeared on account I have mover yet published it and if I , o the the median's wrist was really Dr. Wyld's marked rong, facts now it is rather to show how exacting of evidence everything depends on knowing (1) the lastery of the ring have been some of us convinced investigators, whose come and (2) the condition of the medium's arm, during the petence is disparaged for no better reason, as far as I can moments or minutes that preceded the alleged transference

As regards the first point, Dr. Wyld says that before It was at one of Mr Herne's public dark scancos, at the transference took place, and while his right hand was 15, Southampton-row, that the phenomenon occurred. We closping the medium's left hand in the dark, a ring was took our seats and joined hands before the gas was put out - put into his own left hand (by "Irresistible," according to I was third from the medium on his left, a non-pro- him, but he does not tell us how he know this), and was fessional medium, a Mr. C., with whom I had but a very then withdrawn, "I was satisfied it was my own ring night acquaintance, was on my left. There were two from from its oval form, its size, and its totckness." Dr. Wyld rings on the table before us, the diameter of the one can burdly expect others to be satisfied that the ring felt hereinafter mentioned (and which I still have) being aca . by him was a particular ring, on the ground of its possessseven inches. When the light was extings other there was no characteristics which might belong to any number of no ring visible on either arm of my left neighbour, Mr ( rings. If the conditions of previous seasons at all resembted and his right hand was clasped in my left. After title g the conditions on this occasion, his ring has been as feedence for some time with feeble results, I became myself ( a agent and again, and its age and shape were no secret. Since, naturally, for some reason, not suggested by unyour circ with therefore, we have no proof that this ring which he held for a the order in which we mit, and signed proposed that Mr C. moment before the alleged marvellous occurrence took place should change places with me so as to be on my right austead was his own marked ring which afterwards appeared on the of on my left. (I believe I thought that this mearer approach medium's wrist, it becomes essential to know what length of the non-professional to the professional medium would be of time had clapsed since he had observed that marked ring favourable, though they would still be reparated by two under circumstances which safe no doubt of its identity; nitters.) The change—the only one—was effected in the and what opportunities had during that time existed for dark, my right hand now holding Mr. C.'s left. The man is some one else to obtain possession of th. The impression is festations increasing in force, I saked for the "ring test." certainly conveyed that such opportunities existed in abun-Shortly after, I heard one of the rings taken or any struck dance; for not only had the ring passed out of Dr Wyld's

As regards the second point, the condition of the medium's arm sumediately before the ring appeared on it, Dr. Wyld's ovidence is more satisfactory. With his disis two hands they are holding, one would be glad to know other more of 1 stog than that of touch, it is doubly important that one parson's semations should be confirmed by those of others. Some of Dr. Wyld's friends might surely lave shared in the preliminary investigation of the arm, If the experiment as ever repeated, perhaps he will bear in nund thus simple means of improving the quality of the

One further criticum may be made. Dr. Wyld lays stress on certain measurements whereby he thinks he proved that the ring was too small to be passed over the medium's hand. But as there undoubtedly are persons caution which, unfortunately, did not occur to me. I should who can get their hands through what look like impossible otherwise have thought my evidence complete, and I see no opertures, and as the degree in which this power is possessed cannot be ascertained except with the bond fide assistance of the person to be tested, the test is one which can never have any real value, and the mention of it rather

REMUND GUANEY January 3rd, 1884.

Many Howers -Notwithstanding the fact that the gifted widew of Mr. W Howitt m considerably advanced in years, we notice that she is announced to contribute a series of jupers to the Psychotogical Press, 4. Ave Marin-lane.)

REVIEWS.

being all actual atmight lines are especially to be dreaded this account. For, by turning to you one of their extremities, comme folk, who are for the most part mosceles trangles can ! only descrimenate by the sensor of hearing and touch on a nighly educated classes are familiar with the science and art of Right Recognition, which confers on them introduce advantages. This, like most of our own visual discriminations, is the result of paquired indigments, but is dependent on geometrical attainments.

a rogh order. Not to dwell upon this or other scien to poculiarities of Flatland, the following specimen of an officultion in regard to the origin of right (the nun being, of course nor variole) a worth quating. "It was in old days, with our learness no light? and the solution of it has been repeatedly atthought at matterns office routile them to crowd our topic of the man with he with a softence. If we often must be on a asany normal configuration nearestly by making them to be pliny who a same, one rice a new only too well the true solution of this mysterious problem. my countrymous and I am macked at-I, the sale personer of the small !"

world of effects whose causes do not belong to nature in our phonomenal series , qualt effects being just the most important and all porvading antirical applications are telerably "on the surface," the best of juggler, or else that the old wires' tales were true, and that, the book is certainly the Second Part. Other Works wherein the mystical experiences—from the two-dimensional point of viow-of the "Square" author have full significance given method but all to no purpose except the exasperation of for puzzelven.

surface. Accordingly, the first intromusion into other worlds in

to called his side or stanish, nor had he even now the least conception of the region from which I last come. Outside his PLATEAND A Romance of to Discussions Fig. Vinet and World, or Lene, all was a blank to him, may, not even a blank, Price 2s. Gd. Seeley and Co., or may be had direct from or a mark on speen, my rather, all was rean-existent." To k or power and ats emential relations can be carried on in a This is a capital eatire, but it is also inuch more than that Song Law the conversation with the King of Linebard most In a intercreta and dramatic form it is a really abto attempt to be read. That his Majesty mean inferred the introdor to make people understand the relativity of some-consecuences, be a madman, from his use of expressions implying more than and its armon conditions. Whether the author is scientifically no dimension, will be requiry conceived. For the Linclander, successful an describing the optical and tecture passe three of the line is the solid, and only the point is visible. So the King Flatland a world in which our third dimension, height, or replies to the Flatlandar, who has spoken of second the lines mix --- an question we must leave to be answered by more (men)-" But I dony that you saw these things, for how could e sope out the There being only one plane, the insubitants you see the line, that is to say, the inside of any man? But you the of course, up conception of a solid in our sense, and are must have heard these things and then dreamed that you may on writer arrangers on y a server of the great us. These them, And let us ask what you mean by those words theft. Art on the transfer or every war to and right I'm After vain attempts at explanation, the Square attannent of greater structural con- a very measurer on any attempts an ocular demonstration by moving humaelf out of the with every attressive generation. The social and political a line, with, of course, no other result than that of becoming sedas not on as thus dependent on biological facts, and the results douby taviable as soon as the whole square was out of the take are worked out with much argenuity and in a very amoring. When he returned and claimed the admission that there were free tot. I will was tone at a same so that we have no ther lines in Space, the King replied . "If you were a man of different figures must all appear to the uneducated sense of some way a made a stack a worse y at word a recent a reason. I may a which, by a dishloss assumption are credited with the which my senses indicate, and another motion besides that of power of transfering superficial outlines. The women of Flatland which I am daily conscious. I, in return, ask you to describe in it is state of any in your tax of its auto of which you speak. I a list if anything your more you in a month in ago act. I should they become as invalide as mere points, and can run you my and returning to tight, and instead of any lockl description through sofere you are otherwise awars of their presence. The of your new World, you simply tell me the number and enter of some forty of my retinac, facts known to any child in my capital. Can anything be more irrational or audacions ?"

But now the tables were to be turned. We had already hasrd of the Square's grandson, the "promising young Hexagon of namual brillancy and perfect augularity." It would not be fair to quote the best bits of the book, which must be read to know how this proceedious young mystle deduces an observe attinuation of the third dimension by applying the subs power of numbers to geometry, how he pursues the illustrations of variable) a worth quating, "It was in old days, with our learness has teachess to consequences altogether unbeard of ; and how men, a receiving and oft investigated question. What is the lie gets next to bed for his pertinacity. But it was the last aught of the old, said the ere of the new, millennesse in Platland, and as the saud of the hour glass ran out, a new revelation was rougherfed to the Square, just us be was expressing translatence at his little grandson a fully. He is reproved by a butter from the Three-Dimensional World, whose introduction on absolutely profibited them. I, plan, I stone in Flatland on w the score, and the conversation and meidents which cause, form the best possible introduction to Zolliner's suggestive speculations, but my knowledge ennut be made intelligible to a single one of And solders has serious instruction been conveyed in a lighter more among game. For the difficulties of the Flatlander in the trade of space and of the theory of the introduction of Light round to his great are just those of the Landard monarch as into the world of Three Dimensions one if I were the moddent of | regards the ferner; and again, they are just our own in relation to the denimins of a fourth discension. In rain, however, does We are perhaps not wrong in taking this as a hint that such the strange guest recall to the Square his past experience in invatorion as gravity and inagnotic attraction might find their Lanciand; the application cannot be intellectually made. In solution in a four-dimensional experience; that we too, are as a vam, also, does the Three-Emerational being appear and damppour at will for the conviction of the Square, who " was now inclining to the belief that he must be no circle " (as which, of course, he necessarily appeared in Flatland, and so was taken The politics of Fintland need not detain m, and though the for one of their highest aristocracy) "but some extremely elever after all, there were such people as Enchanters and Magnessia." Then a mattern was femous rat as at accompany by the angumilled intolligence degenerating into ferce intolerance. At As the hypothesis of a two-dimensional world to us, so, nature laugth, all other resources of demonstration having failed, the ally, would be that of only our dimension to the dwellers of the Subers forces the Square langed into three-dimensional space. con to the stary of he and to taken a new start. Assess, the in "A Vision of Lineland." He addresses a small line-which, of preliminary proofs afforded of the third dimension had been the course, he takes to be a woman-and gots at first no massey. It ability to see unside (over) the surface lines enclosing spaces is in fact the King, "It seemed that this poor ignorant monarch, which for Flatland, were solids and invisible. But no sooner has was persuaded that the straight line when he will have age as the Square recovered from the first improvious of "Space" land, and is which he save his existence countrates he when if then he puts to his guide a very natural question. He can now the world, and indeed the whole of Space. Not being able to see what before was to him the "issuid" of the Sphere—the move or to see, save in the Strught Line, he had no conception line of depth-hat he wonders that this power still does not of anything out of it. Though he had heard my roice when I roved the "interior" organs heart, lungs, dz., and he sake first addressed hum, the sensuls had come to him in a manner so, the reason. But the Sphere is not a Kantasa philosopher, and contrary to his experience that he had made no answer, "seeing like his querist, and like the King of Lineland, he forthwith conno man, as he expressed it, 'and hearing a voice us it were from founds the possibilities of his own sense with the possibilities of my own intestines.' Until the moment when I placed my mouth sense in general. Although able himself to see the intestines of in his World, he had neither seen me nor heard anything except 'Flatlanders, he rejects as the highest absendity the notion of confused sounds, beating against what I called his side, but what four-dimensional beings who can see his own. Seldom has more for been got out of a serious argument than in this dialogue between the Square and the Sphere, the former at length press has opponent with a quest or many the air on he hank a special

January 10, 1885.]

"In it, or usit not, the fact that ere now your countrymen a . have witnessed the descent of beings of a laty ar own, entering closed rooms, oven an your fordship outered a re with our the extract doors or windows, and appearing and value may at who. On the coply to this question I am roady to make everything. Deny it, and I am henceforth silent. Only rouchaste an answer Sphere (after a passe). It is reported so. But usen are divided in opinion as to the facts. And oven greating the facts, they explain them in different ways."

To the Square's further question "Those who have then appeared—no one knows whence, and have returned—no one you to conduct me ?"

" Sphere (mondily) They have vanished containly—if they ever appeared. But most people my that these visitors arese from the thoughts-you will not understand me-from the brain ; from the perturbed angularity of the some

The elegant protest of the Square against this view, and has onthusiastic proscience of not only four-dimensional but a dimensional worlds, load to his diamend to his own Fintland, where the Parliament is busy in passing an Act monothing like ours of George the Second, for the emperement of presentions to " revelations from another world." The mothods of Materialium towards upacceptable facts, and the "complimer" of allence," are not unfairly curtostured. The produce of the poor Squere is not long proof against the impulse to impuri his knowledge, and intelerance inflicts upon him a lift hong to prisonteens. By a true psychological touch the wear fore martyrdom consists in the doubts which arise in his own mind m the impromient of his experience fade

And the book contains higher lessons than even those of a new geometry. In Flathand, Understanding is exclusively estormed, wherem " many of the best and wheat in Spaceland think more of the affections than of the understanding, mure of your despised Straight Lines (women) than of your belauded circles." And we are left to infer that in yet larger conditions of Space-Life wisdom in yet more manifestly, as Swedenberg says, the "form of love." But the Square is warned against an under the cetimate of the donizons—to kin the Square of se the dimension, merely on the ground of their "consistence. more profound lesson is angrested by a glimpse into Pountland, where the Point "Is ble own World, Ide own Universe"-the apotherous of Individualism.

It may be noticed that this satire is said to have been inticipated by a more serious treation on the same subject from the pert of Mr. Howard Hinton, a son of the adabrated James lil Intuh.

The lovin or the Warra Loves. By M.C., Fellow of the Theosophical Society. Price 3s. (Lordon Recres and Turner, or may be obtained of the Psychological Press, 4 Av. Matia edit E )

The initials M.C. very thinly vest the name woof the author of this charmingly written book. I name would not be not been some morphisms on the world of and But "The Idyll of the White Lotus" is much more than a mark shory, though the author has adopted this method of conveying to the world the truths it is sought to enforce. In the profice it is described as "a story which has been told in all ages and sales all peoples the tragedrof the Soul. Attracted by Desira, the ruling element in the lower nature of man, it stoom to sin , brought to itself by suffering, it turns for help to the rodesn's brought to itself by suffering, it turns for help to the rodesn's ang aports within; suid in the final accritico achieves its apothecass and shode a bleasing out mankind." This so aptly describes the "argument" of the book that we feel a fitter introduction to our readers could not be found. Nor can we, in the space at our disposal, do more than express our conviction that no reader of "Lioure" will tegret having spent the time recommy for its pursual. We contintly commend it to attention

WHAT IS SPIRITUALISM! AN ARSWER TO THE CREAT QUESTION OF THE DAY. Price Seepence. (London R. W Allen, or many or diamon of the Phychological Price 4, Ave Maria-Janes, E. G. J.

This pumphlet, by a lady of mak and title, is a fervid response to the question on Christian grounds, a valuable mutained Bible banching and a strong before of those who untoll Chest and the protect to Materialism and Interest at a time when both are rampent.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[It is preferable that currespondents should append there manica and addresses to communications. In any case, however, these must be supplied to the Educe as a guarantee of good Feat(J), 3

A Record of Measure's Facts and Philosophy

To the Editor of " LIGHT.

Sra,-I see by your suivertising common that there has been published a new outton of the most valuable popular work on Meansorhen that has been usued from the English press. As a student of measurement of fifty years' standing and having read a in. he last half century nearly all the standard works written Townshead, Baird, Elliotson, Braid, Halleck, Dods, and scores knows whither, have they also contracted their sections and of others, to confidently recommend "Dr Gregory's Lutters to ranished into that more Spacious Space, whither I now entreat a Caudid Imparer," as the best popular work to put into the bounds of an honost sourcher after truth in the occult field of Messnorte Phonomenn.--- I am, sir, yours truly.

28. Lorrainu-place, Nowenatle-on-Tyue, T P Bankas December 22nd, 1884.

Asiephae and Society Papers. To the Builtor of " Launt

Sig.-I have forwarded the following communication to the editor of Knowledge for insertion at that paper :--

" I note the following extraordinary, and, I think, imprudent, paragraph in your Short Answers, of Junuary 2nd : 'Fit only for the unfortunate greatures whose futuous folly prompts them to bollove in se grose an imposition as that of slate-writing.' I four this has been written from the standpoint of prejudice rather than from that of investigation.

You are, of course, aware that accres of credible and ordinarily computed witnesses have youthed for the genuinesses of shite-writing phononiens, and I have seen it sayself in the proceeds of a boy-payable, under such conditions as to reader position impossible, and I regret exceed ugly that you do not expressing openium y of exect a my the phenomena before expressing openium so degmatic, offendre, and untres.-1 and

The editor of one of the society papers, the name of which I shall not condescend to quote, is quite beyond the pale of public rejoinder, but even if he could so far control his prepolices us to examine the phenomena, he would per force be convinced of their reality and genumeness, and probably, but of that I am not contain, refrain from the virulent abuse of bloom whose knowledge extends for beyond his limited range -1 am, &c.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, January 6th, 1865. T. P. BARROS

Testimenia, to Mr. J. J. Morse. To the Editor of " Lagur "

Sra,-Kindly penult me once more to draw the attention of rour readers to the testimonia, that is being much to Mr. 5 ? slores. The presentation will take place on Wednesday next. and I would respectfully urge upon all friends who intend aiding in this work, to forward their subscriptions at once

Upon the numerous friends of Mr Moras in the provinces this appeal is more carnestly urged, as, spart from those who have so generously responded, there are many whose mite would show him that he has still a place in the memory of those amongst whom he has no devotedly inboured. I have received further donations as follows "A Friend," per Mr. Yamger £10 : Glasgow Friends, per Mr. Reberteen, £5; F S.S. £5 Yours very truly, FRANK EVERITY

20, Penton-street, N., January 5th, 1885

pline Corner's Mission. To the Editor of "Lanny

Sen. Will you kindly notify in " Liour," that my Dinners Jos the Poor Children of Spitalfields and Buthnal Green will commence on Jamuary 7th, 12.15 p.m., at the Memorial Hall, Bothmai Green, and will continue every Wednesday and Friday throughout the months of January and February ?-Yours truly, CLEOLINE CORNER

S, St. Thomas's-square, Hackney, January 1st, 1985.

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT"

4. AVE MARIA LANE, LONDON, B.C.

TO CONTRIBUTORS.

Reports of the preceedings of Spiritualist Societies in as secrimen a new possible and audients ated by the agustion of a respectful effice, are solicited for insertion in "Lique," Alembers of private cates will also oblige by contributing brief records of automorthy respons at their statices.

The Editor cannot undertake the return of manuacripts inhers the

BUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Annual Subscription for "Lager," post free to any address within the United Kingdom, or to places comprised within the Postal Union, including all parts of Europe, the United States, and British North America, is 10s. 10d. per annual, forwarded to est office in

ADVERTISEMENT CHARGES.

Five fines and under he. One inch, 4s. 6d. Column, $2 2s. Page $4.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

LIGHT " may also be obtained from E. W. Allies, 4, Are Marin-lane, London, and all Booksellers

NOTICE TO SCHOOLIGERS.

Subarriptions for 1885 are now due. Subarribars will oblige by torourding these at succe to The Natinger of Life NT 4 Are March-line E.C. Post Office Orders siny he made payable to Rency Barney. 411 Enfineint Correspondence to be addressed in "The Editor."

Dight :

SATURDAY, JANUARY 10rd, 1885.

THE UNSCIENTIFIC ATTITUDE OF SCIENTISTS

Selentific men, as a party, have, since the great outhurst of what have been termed spiritual manifestations, displayed unreasoning antagonum towards their investigation. This may have arisen from various causes, the produced, when careful observation will show that the conprimary reason being that the majority of those who have clitions are crucial, and much superior to those which become convinced of the reality of the phenomena, have, at scrolate in their ignorance wish to enforce. the same time, hastily arrived at the conclusion that all the phenomone are the production of beings who have passed from this life. The facts are startling and, apparently, suffciently abnormal to cause any scientific mind, trained to recogniso the correlation of physical forces, and conscious of the universal roign of law, to cry halt at their first presentation. Abnormal or unexpected phenomena, when disassociated to render the common theories of trick and legerdemann from crude spiritual and future-life theories, are sufficient utterly and manifestly untenable. of themselves to arouse the suspicion, and too frequantly the unreasoning antagonism of men of science We have instances of this antagoruste in the opposi tion and bitter animoutly which, early in the present century, were caused by the promuigation of the ordinary phonomena of mesmerism, even after men of the reputation of Dr. Gregory, Rev. Chauncey Townsend, Dr. Elliotson, and scores of other able and highly reputed scientific and literary men, had, in the clearest possible manner, demonstrated their genuineness.

The theory of evolution had the same hard fight for recognition. The works of Monboddo, Krasmus Darwin, Coathe, Lamarck, the author of "Vertiges," and Charles Darwin, were but little read and less accepted till Huxley with his genius for popular exposition on the one hand, and on the other, struck down the barriers of conservative tation to repeat his visit next year.

prejudice, and now the fear is that all may unreasoningly he swept into the whiripool of universal evolution.

Separtific mer may be pure and that all payest gators are not " fools and dolts , that many of for most traced. cautious, and consequentions scientists, and hundreds of the shrowdest "men of the world," have examined these phenomena, and the remarkable fact is that all who have fully examined them have been convinced of their resulty and genuineness, but there is far from a consensus of opinion writers represely request it at the time of forestelling and endous stangs as regards the mode in which they be best accounted for; for the return Postage. some, like Serjeant Cox, believing that they are purely mundane, and the products of occult natural laws; while many others, such as Professor Waltace, believe that in them we have evidence of action by beings who have passed the portals of the tomb, and are living mhabitants of a quritual aphere.

A reduction made for a series of operations.

Technology for I a series of operations.

Technology for I a series of operations.

Technology for I a series of operations.

The technology of I are a series of operations.

The technology of I are a series of operations of the subject as accentific mon approach the phenomena of electricity, and the laws of planetary fluxes, at the closer fluxe Landon. Halfpenny londage Stange motion, why should not carnott accountific magnitum, with received for amounts mater flux. out prejudice and without predecuson, inquire seriously into these occult phenomenal

> Men of science know from experience that the seeming and the real are often in direct antagonum to each other They know that obscure phenomena cannot be colved at a glance, but require days and often years of painttaking scientific research, at the end of which, by a process of trial and error," truth is reached. Illustrations of this fact we have in the researches of Tyndall into the origin of mound life, in the experiments of Pasteur in the transmission and prevention of disease; and in the investigations of Dallenger into the life-history of Basterenne turms.

> Let the same principles be applied to the investigation of what are termed psychio phenomena, let not scientists approach them as though they were mislible, and entered upon the investigation to discover deception, not to ascertain truth. Men of equal natural ability, and with higher scientific training, have investigated and assured themselves of their gentiments; surely a reasonable modesty should guide raw investigators. The error into which concented investigators, afterly ignorant of the delicacy of the investegation, often stamble, is that of dictating terms and countrions of abourd kines, ristend of witnessing the phenomena under the consistence as which they can be

> Possibly the most estimactory, conclusive, and easily obtained form of occult psychical manifestation is that known as slate-writing, and we are confident, from long experience, that if that form of investigation he entered upon without offensive dogmetism and esserance, in the majority of cases the phenomena obtained will be of a kind

> Why should men of science longer delay in their investigation into these strange and well-accredited phenomena? Is it want of intellectual engerness to discover truth, or is it sesentific Mrs. Grundyism !

> To County-expenses. - Several communications stand over till next week, amongst which may be named letters from Ebor, W. B. T. W. Oxiey &c.

Da, Gazonay is the best definer in his "Animal Magnetime," of that department of it called electro-biology, and M. Dounto is one of the hest exponents of it under the name of Fascination, on the Continent. He has just concluded a sense of lectures, with experiments upon willing subjects from his audiences, at Antwerp. L'Opinion reports that at his last lecture he was presented by a nonmittee of the audience with a Heckel, with his poinstaking, minute scientific researches form offering and an andrew, accompanied by an eartest invi-

MR. EGLINTON AND MR. CUMBERLAND.

January 16 1883

Mr. W. Eglinton has addressed the following letter to the Camberland's "challenge" which appeared a few days some

To the Editor of the Pall Mail Goods

which recently appeared in your journal. But the was might have known nothing of his challenge, as I have received no comnumeration from Mr Comberland binnell, though I have waited neveral days in the expectation that he would take care that the matter did not etcapo say attention. I now ask you to be kind enough to publish my roply was mounty worked that to Mr Canadan and e at these with most team carfindly and who at the name time fundonal "intrade-reader kin a in the of yer deam is his proposite may appear to create his own notoriety by tay and reasonable in the second well in the second well. If I omnoment here a so see a state of ged cover parers where he are also that their a manging proposes. that I shall "toroduce, or came to be so shall a bose all age. festataons called sparitual" in his presence, and that of a chosen a fight down and and are made to thomselves, in some committee, and should I "succeed in getting the spirits to message dim their eyes against the recognition of an unwelcome demonstrate" he will andortake to explain away such demon- truth atrictions by natural mounts to the satisfaction of the one it ex-(this committee to include himself and Mr 1, an a failing which he is willing to forfait the sun of £1,000. Mr Labouchere being also willing, he believes, to sope uncout this, Min. with another $1,000

Now, Sir, I amphatically protest against the assumptions which Mr Compension say they professor up a sorhepe, but apparently with the distinct purpose of projet ing me in the eyes of your renders. I do not alloge that I am possessed of "appernatural powers." I do not claim to be able to "produce, or custo to be produced, physical sustrificated asealled spiritual" (sic). I do not profess, and novor did profess, to success in getting the approach demonstrate. O mit I meet to that their certain unities jile one is Legitigt's take place a my planta notably wisting area of and culture stances which over use the possibility of its wing produced through no active agrices of miliperson in some visibly present. I have no power to produce it-for it often fails to come when desired and I take is not in a recention, not an I extent the recent of the armore regiment. Note to be a morbil, its the marter, and the not profess to be able to give any intelligible remon why I should be the subject of those abnormal experiences. But the fast remains—as has been proved to the complete astaclaction of many hundreds of patient investigators, including man of the highest intelligence in every rank of life, men whose especity for exact observation and correct judgment would be readily admitted in relation to any other matter. Vin in blay last experiments were tried publicly, in increment of a large and since to the Bateque in Han, to January Hall A. commence was apprented to the arts up to conduct the experi nor as those hosen was Sugarn General Wolasion, Mr. Brimley Nizon (of the Athenmute Club), Florence Marryat Muss Major, and Dr. Goo. Wyld. I sat with them on the platfores; two alates, which had been previously cleaned and examined by all the committee, lying upon the table before us in fall light, one upon the other, with a crumb of pencil between them. After a short interval writing was distinctly board in the course of execution, and on the slates being examined the super and of the under slate was found to be covered. In a second experiment a word thou and there suggested by one of the andience was written between closed slates, under similar cond tions, and at the close all the committee openly testified that the experiments had been conducted to their outure saturfaction, and that they were perfectly convinced that it was an impossibility for the writing to have been produced by ordinary means.

Soring, then, that I have afforded all reasonable facilities for investigation to persons disposed to approach the subject in a canalid and respectful sparit, I might furly decline, I think, to potice Mr Comberland's challenge. But, lest my motive should he misinterpreted, and because I have no other deane than the elucidation of the truth, I have determined to succept it, subject only to certain medifications which I cannot doubt will commend themselves to the judgment of all reasonable minds.

In the first place, I shoolutely decline to meet, for the purpose of this investigation, either Mr. Cumberland or any of the such importance can but be decided by the only argument of any gentlemen whose names be has suggested. They are all, I value in these materialistic times of L. z. d.-G. D.

believe, so far committed to a hostile attitude in relation to these phenomena that it would be next to a miracle for them to be able to reach the position of her and unboosed observers editor of the Pull Mall Gazette, in reply to Mr. Stunet Moroover, both Mr Comberland and Mr Labouchers bave gractationally insulted me by the use of approbrious epithetic. An to Mr. Labouehore, when no applies to me, in his paper, the terms "knavo, "negue," i chest," "vagabond," &c. I can Sing -It is my pleasure to be a constant reader of the Pall make some allowance for his shelps hammer style, which I have Mak Gazette, and consequently I save Mr. Cumberland's letter surgeoff frequently admired in his fearless exposure and dominants and it was a some and it is assible that it demonstrag in a may as the age to was soring a parallelectrical. He may has a wint on in the excess of or viction, but if no, it is a more viction which did not ontitle him to attack me in such a meaning torus (to use the midest expression), insuntich as ft was not founded upon any personal knowledge or evidence whater e. As to Mr. Comborland. I take it that, as a prfundamed " memois-reader " and conjurer, his chief motive into in

In the second were I wond comment that may of the parties to on my at a second or even voluntarity, he pledged to the to feet a 1 000 m to . . . . . . . . . . does non burng against those The most is not had become if the more possibility of such

What I propose as thin-that a committee of ax he appointed, thrue to be chosen by myself and three by-I do not care by whom, so that they are gentlement of good reputation and have not a matted themselves to it out and after a relieux periments are communeat. I will must the committee at any since that may be mutually agreed upon, and they shall be at harty to provide their own slates. But as I am not a conjurer, as the phenomena do not come at my commund, and as I do not nec an inbite craft, name, or device, by palaurtry or other the compactive shall agree to proct on six separate sea and a be or may aim, conclude that in expense or more fields Harry ameriments whose how mall one are fact to Ma-Can become a cost upon our in accordance with his promue, to "explain away such demonstrations by natural means to the extrafaction of the committee," and shall require him to produce the same phenomens, observing the same conductors, at ware preduced and observe in a presence.

I would send a sept. A time set or an enemy of courtesy of So then he are not a not contain the feet of the year he man failed give his our rese-a non, mr, your obedient serving,

W BILLINTON

11, Laugham-street, Portand place, W. January 7th, 1880 The Patt Malt Gracite of Thursday also published the follow ing letter which Signor Duntani has addressed to Mr.

To Henry Labouchere, Esq., M.P.

Laboritheta

Sing In the columns of this journal, under date of 3' at 10't | 1 his it stated that you "have no faith in the Spiritum of skery and are will my to live to 000 to be seen a converted to the belief that the state-writing occurred to presence of Mr. W. Eulintra is not the result of trickers. A me of those who have publicly attested to both the real ty of he phenomenon and the straigh forwardness of Mr. W. Ex uton in the on et I shall take up the cudgets in defence of tenth, of M. bull aton and if a viscovers of potentialist. I, therefore, propose tion can are I shall deposit the sum of $1,000 each in the hands of o we have we Lordon another and then company) a jury of gon lotten, four on each side to close less sively of tipes of has endent position members in the invested cores tops, literary ment, a whose presence Mr. E., who shall all (I having to one as ansere for that for the production of psychography If he major of the jury shin on her is writing between the chosen mis recked one can be not used by legendemants the 22 000 will related the of they remove a will be name. Should this accept this challenge will be they the emplementary conditions of the firsting as to time Sec. I am,

29. Core to read Notting Will, aguines 7th

P.S. - After inving, with some permission, settled, this question of state withing. I shall be map a to over your again with a $1,000 or two, to decide whether Specimental processors in the grow ext event of this burbarrass age. It is lancer and the questions of

TWO PHASES OF "SPIRITUAL PHENOMENA" handwriting, and one dictated by him. The first direct

PSYCHOGRAPHY THE SPASSAGE OF MATTER THROUGH MATTER"

By J. Mark Role 0

As all the results of seances through the medianiship of Mr. W Egunton are doubtless interesting to many of your rewlers, I take the liberty of sending a brief account of my experiences with that gentlemen.

Having been very sceptical as to the trath of the facts of psychography, I, for a long time, was opposed to the yielded, partly, I suppose, to my finante curiosity, and partly in conformity with a wish of my sister. I wrote to Mr Eghnton, asking him to give me an appointment, and on the day named, armed with three slates, slate pencils, coloured chalks, and a sponge, bought an roots expressly for t in occasion, I betook myself to Mr. Eglinton's chambers. That gentionan was sitting at his writing table, in the wellknown scance room, and he immediately come forward, welcoming me as a most cordial manner. On my tell ag hant that I was sceptical up to the truth of paye tograph a facts, he said " If you will come with me nate the next room I may perimps be able to dispel your doubts, but I must inform you, beforehond, that I can never guarantee results as I am not able to control the power, or force it to manifest ibedf, I can only, as the meaning may e comimmunication." One senter led to more a as with many others before me, they ended in my being compered to neknowledge the existence of an intelligent force, acting external y to the medium, and in direct contravention of the littlerte reponned laws of matter

With but few exceptions I used my own slates in all the stances, the exceptions being when mine were filled with communications I wished to preserve or copy , and a few to sex a co. M. Eighnton's double plates, in their case. with their Branch look and key, were used. Each of my slates was used for the first time in exactly the condition I were intelligent and germana to the questions I put, treating generally on private family matters, of which Mr Figureton could have had no pravious knowledge. The cont ate of the latter Mr Eglinton was not cognizant, he, was alone with Mr Eglinton at all the scances. We used single slates, double cues, the one fitting accumitely on the other, as also the pair in a case with a Bramah lock and key

The stugle slates we used mostly for wird voca quesheld by us both, away from, but not necessarily lower than, the table, once, nuleed, we held them some distance above writing in the red chalk) the words :it, both of us standing at the time, and once Mr. Egimton placed them on my head, when I not only heard the writing, to the dotting of the "i's" and the crossing of the "t'a," writing.

or any kind of trackery in connection with it

communication, containing a French quotation, was twenty-eight lines in length, the second, which was obtained when two clean tiates were firmly tied together and placed on the table, showed thirty-two lines , the third one, which was written when two clean slates, accurately fitted the one on the other, were placed by Mr. Egliatou on my head, contained twenty-one lines. The dictated message and twenty-right I sex, inclusive of an eight-much quotation from our of Goethe's poems, written in structly correct German. Once, when holding at some distance from the table one end of two clean, close-fitting slates, Mr. Eglinton idea of holding a senuce at Old Quebec-street. At last I grosping the opposite end, I heard the stoppage of the writing in consequence of Mr. Eglinton withdrawing his loft from my right hand, on joining hands again, at my request, the writing was continued and ended on the other slate. All answers were written from the medium and topsy-turry to him. They commenced, generally, two to two and a half inches from that part of the slate frame immediately under Mr. Eghnton's thumb, and though the slates were under the flap of the table, they were visible to me the whole time; therefore no exchange of the slate or slates could possibly have occurred without my perceiving t, and I kept a sharp look-out. The flop har could not have given Mr. Eglinton any mentance in holding the slates under the table, as some of my slates were too short to come within range of contact with the bar, which, more over, has no margin for " play " to the right or the left. The slates I used were nine and a-half by seven and a-half, and twelve by nine inches, and I doubt if even the longer one reached to the flap har. In the one scance, after some answers to sird rece questions, in which I particularly avoided all names, I wrote on Mr. Eginton's Bramsh lock double slate a question to a consist of mine, a Mrs. N I. T. Mr. Eghaton was ignorant of the question. I myself put between the slates a bit of red chalk, locked the case, and taking the key out kept it beside me is full view on the table. We wanted some time, but no answer came, and no sign of writing was search. Mr. Eglinton once or twice brought it from the shop, being perfectly and of writing and draw the slate about salf its rength from under the dap, and requiring no further cleaning. All the answers received then that it back again, as though to cozen the power out still there was no sign of writing. At last, asking se to resease my sold of his left hand to turner paif way or his clear and tak g one of several envelopes typing on the questions were partly gird sore, partly written, and of the war my table seh ad and, pareed it on the outside of the thate case, then such ig it under the table he gave me his nt his own request, not having been allowed to see them. I just hand again to bokt in my two hands. On my asking why he had put the envelope on the case he answered, "Perhaps we shall get a communication." After wasting some time longer, during which Mr. Eglinton repeatedly drew the slate out some distance from under the flap and tions, under conditions now so generally known that it would slid it back again, each time discovering the envelope on se needless to recapitulate them. The single slates were the outside, in the exact position it was placed at first, he ulways held under the Sup of a small " Pembroke" table, and began to breathe very heavily, and convenies a uddens ran pressed against its under surface by Mr. Eginton's right through his frame and at last we heard the writing. After hand, has thumb restring above the flap and his wrist open to the three final taps. Mr. Egl aton withdrew the case from view. The coulde states were placed sometimes under the under the flap, and banding it over to me requested on to ta do flap, sometimes on the table, at other times they were unlack it. I did so, and on opening it raside, between the slates, I found the envelope with (in my own son's hand-

Dear Father - W ---- v

This is matter through matter

but felt distinctly the vibration of the slates during the as well as my cousin's ensure. This astemished me. I could not in any way account for it. I took up the case, locked The scances were with one exception held in the it again, and tried to force the envelope through its interback-room, but at my request one was held in the front strees, but found that it shut too close to admit the very drawing from, . a. where we carried the Pembroke trade, thunest envelope. Here could have been no trickery or after I had, for the second time, minutely examined it, and jugglery. I saw the thumb of Mr. Eglinton's right hand on convinced myself of the unpossibility of secret mechanism the table the whole time he held the cam beneath it, his whole wrist was also visible, his left hand was held in my I received from my son three communications in Air own two bands ; one of my feet was under the flap of the table, and the key of the case tesule me on the table the whole feel uncomfortable, but at last he cried out, " Press firmer, time. I more country determined to ask my son to explain please, firmer, I feel them statching at it." I prosed the meaning of the words, "matter through matter." clean slate was under the usual conditions, held by Mr. Eglinton under the Sap of the table, and I asked the ev Mr Eglinton sank linek into his chair, and convulsively planation oved root. The writing began almost instantly, and on the slate being withdrawn, after the final tags, we read the following answer:-

January 10, 1885 1

. It moons that maker is d integrated by the spirit-power which we have at our command. thence it is easy to dissolve standary matter, and restore it again by the same process."

Considering the writing on the envelope as the spontan cous manifestation on my son's part, I determined to ask him for a further communication in his own hand and received the following

My cent Pather .- I only have very little power to-day which is send y it a newege in my own wrong. I want to tell you know expect the communion with you'll making me, not only health is not so good as it should be. Forgive more to-day, but believe that I am over around you. - Your loving son in spars, tife

The date with this communication is still in my poster sion and on it is written (in his own hand) at my request :--

Two clean slates were put together and placed on Mr. R.'s. kend and this is the result.

W. Fernance

Having read that sometimes fac-similes of letters of the alphanet, and numbers, had been requested and produced, I asked Mr Is, atomif he thought to at the power could copy a snaple drawing "Very probably; we will ter from like," he answered. Now may slates were nearly filled with answers, all of which I intended to copy when I got home, but on one of them I thought mere was space enough left to make the experiment, so, without spenging out the writing in it, we used that slate, fitting it on another upon which also there was a communication. I drow something very absurd, two figures in simple times, a reminiscence of what I saw years ago in the Fliegends Blatter ("Fly-louves"), an Augaburger weekly comic paper, purporting to abow the height of joy and grief in lanes. I drow the two figures, gave them face downwards to Mr Eglinton, and the two slates were held by him under the usual conditions beneath the fap of the table. I mixed sied som for a copy of the drawings. Intherto accepted laws of matter. We soon heard a scratching, and I exclaimed, "I varily believe they are being copied." After the three taps, on withdrawing and uncovering the slates, we found the two figures. very decently copied.

I then asked for some numbers, naming them, and the word "Alice" to be written, which was done instantly Shortly before we broke off this last seance, Mr. Eginton, taking up the double slate-one in which was an answer from my cousin, J. S., and, "I should like to try an experiment with you, Mr. Rolph." "I have no objection," I first?" "That you can do afterwards, we must utilize the power while it lasts." He then asked me to close and lock the case, and put the key in my pocket. Having done so, Mr. Eghnton requested me, if I had no objection, to lay my eye-glasses on the outside of the case. At first I denutred, but remembering that I had another pair with me, I placed the closed eye-glasses upon the case. Mr. Eghnton then put case and glasses under the fap of the tast when is a part of the law at her image ends for a much me, and me, if I had another pair with me, I placed the closed eye-glasses upon the case. Mr. Eghnton then put case and glasses under the fap of the tast and of which he are not a my man and enough of the tast. I held has left hand in my two answered, adding, "Had I not better copy that answer Mr. Eclinton becoming more and more agitated, I began to they have mard the fast of Mrs. Weldon."

A down his hands with all my strength, bending over the table till our hands aimost touched together. Presently withdrawing the case from under the flap of the table handed it to me to unlock. On opening the case I found my glassos between the slates inside, but open. I exclaimed. That is also matter through matter, or solid through solid." "Yes," answered Mr. Eglinton, "and you have, Mr. Rolph, been fortunate in witnessing it, for each mainfestations of power are not always obtainable. You have been altogether very successful in your scanoes with me." I than proceeded to copy my cousin's communication from the double slate, when I discovered that there was no signature. On mentioning this to Mr. Egunton he took the case, put in a lat of slate-pencil, closed and locked it, and giving mo the key, put the case again under the flap of the table, and because tade some me or the spheres, but because of the good it is rand, "We particularly wish for the signature of the some you. H. sends you her best lave, as do I to both you and to writer, would you kindly give it us!" Immediately we Aunt J. The latter must take ours of herself, for lace that her many the writing, and on opening the case, when will drawn from under the flap, I found her signature at the foot of the communication.

In all the seances I particularly noted that question and answer were nover on the same slate surface, the hypothesis, therefore, that the modeum can write the answers with the disengaged fingers of his right hand falls to the ground, as in the one case, that of a single state, by such action the question would be cortainly issuadged, if not completely obliterated, or, as also in the case of two slates being used the one on the other, the medium would be obliged to write through the one slate surface, -an atter impossibility , and lastly, no medium could stretch his fingers, which on, reds, would cause a corresponding strain and muscular movement of his thumb above the table, and of his wrist (which would naturally be detected by even the most superficial observer), so as to write from the top to the bottom of a twelve-linel. plate with the mercarea difficulty of writing from and lopay

My sorios of sennees with Me. Eghaton I consider to have been so successful that I can only advise all those who are sceptical to pay him a visit, that their owns may be, as mine have been, opened to the truth of the existence of an post gout power working outside the physical power of the mes own, capable of mainferting itself contrary to the

I trust that this summary of my experience with Mr Eg inten may meet your approval for publication as additional testimony to his wonderful powers.

Beaufield Tower, Trinity District, Jersey, Channel Islands.

Tax Republican, Burlington, Kansas, reports a somee with a medium, G. Search. In the thrik circle, a gustar and a viol a circulated playing ever our beads, and hands were felt by all of us on our heads, faces and hands. In the light circle, the modium, sitting in view of the circle, forming one of it by all, the way, himself holding hards, various heads were projected converse the folds of the curtain before which his sat.

table, and, as usual, I held has left hand in my two women how she could ever have teen charges not set a women how she could ever have teen charges not set a manner. She is certaily an ke orner women as a my counter dly heavely, because very panch agitated, heading for over the table he appeared as though gradually forced out of his chair. He begyed me to put my hands farther over his left hand, and to press it down upon the table, which I did.

Mr. Folinton becoming more and more agitated. I began to the press it down upon the table, which I did.

25 8 0

January 16, 1985.

CHRISTMAS WEEK WITH THE SPIRITS

Let MORREL PREDINGE.

On Sunday the 21st September, we have the pleasure and ray ald, the privilege, of a sait from Mr. Eg i tou. who sat with us at our usual evening scance, by special spirit direction. That day being our daughter's birthday we had put out (overnight) some birthday presents, among which, in the morning, was found a letter in direct spirit writing from several of our spirit group, in their well-known and minitable handwriting and on her pillow that morn ing she found, on waking, one of the presents, which had been tied up overnight, in the paper in which we had wrapped it, but with the string removed. No one in the house know anything as to these nocturnal occurrences. On coming downstales the gan stove and the kitchen fire warm both found nlight, with two kettles on, builing ready for an early out of ten later on at 11.30 another fire was lit by our invadide framids in a room we were about to use

At the senice in the evening we had expected that E. M. would materialise and speak to us, he having said he intended to do so, but although there was considerable spirit power manifested, in the way expected we were disappointed. At the end, however, one of Mr. Egimton's spirit guides spoke and told us that E. M. thought that he could do more permanent good to our home circle by nor Day at Haslamore. On the two following days two of our dame circle feet the " power" in so oppression in madien has purpose here further to refer

On the following Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, day, at 1,30, in a room we wished to use in the afternoon.

No one was near it when it was lit.

the Intell key, and sleep there each night-threet spirit writing. We one sutered this room until I done when the innertes are at the top of the house. myself unlooked it on Monday, the 39th. These particulars Now without taking into consideration the characters their drapery over the bands of some of the sitters, who come at me glibby by persons to whom such facts are startling. sorted entirely of our own family circle. We then heard a Let me complete the week at Haslemere; and I will at Granville-park in our closed house.

The paper was a sheet from my own stock at Granvillepark, left doubly-locked up as previously stated, on it was SCHMARY OF FIRE LIGHTING PHENOMENA FOR SIX written in five different coloured gravious a simple greeting, in hence X mandag taken from drawer in your study at Granville-park, written with chalks downstairs and brought here to-night-the pencils you will find with all the points Welatt NATED . wield you a Merry Christians and a bright new Your . and may every thing prosper with you all and all anjoyacon attend you all wherever you may Louise, T T. Lynck, Harry Em y Pompou South Wantel Wa sam Dimesun a d mano the paper s writte on a child's handwriting :--Dear Matume. Me am taken cure of this house with Harry. Pompote.

" Prespont "doubtless felt her responsibility and importance I asked particularly as to the circumstances under which the was written waether the women was in the house or not, and how the "power could be obtained then materialisting out symboling in developing this power for when the house was thus empty. After a good soul future occasions. We were directed to sit on Christians of questioning, I arrived at the following statement: The paper was written on "while the bells were ringing for church," about a quarter to eleven-no one then being in to have I ask am a complete colorse of prysical stret gt the house. The power was obtained from our mediam at for twelve lumm, after which it seased, bearing a develop- Hasterners that morning about eight melock, by entrancing ment of other senses unknown before-to which I do not her fthis was found to be the case at that time. The " nower" was stored till the meanings was written, and they used the room downstairs because Mary usually sits there, wo had the same early fire lightings by invinitle agency to and we also when an source. The signatures, which were in which we have become accustomed now for many mant a their own handwriting, were appended in the evening at with the addition of one fire being lit in the maddle of the Hustemore, while we were nitting. The point of the sine pencil thrown down on the table was broken, and on arriving home I myself opened the mostox of erayous -- a pre-The day before Christians Day we all went to our favourite sent to Tom-and found the remaining sleven points all west g hax at Haslemore, locking up the house until the broken off as they told as we should find them. "Pompos" following Monday, with the simple arrangement that a told me she would open the door for me on going bome. woman and her child were to come in, with the old of This she did as I was walking up the path, and the only two people ther a the house were at the piane in the I left my study and other rooms locked up , and in my , rowing room a algung in song They had recently passed and I was careful also to lock up my table drawer, in the hall door shut. This opening of the door to us is a while I keep-and there only scentare paper devoted to favourite diversion of little Pompous, and it is frequently

I bog my readers to note, and also to observe that the of all who could by any possibility be concerned in this woman we left in charge at might is christially one whom we fact of writing, it seems to me to be a phenomenon which thoroughly trust, moreover, she is not an adopt at writing! could not be completed under our own eyes and inspection Or Chestaux Day at Hassemers, raps came very freely without admitting the power as emanating from those whose while sit my promise the tea table replying vigorously to signature sclaim it. If it were done as stated, no one was in the questions, an otherwise noting the conversation as t went house at the time, and I found on my return bone that my on Sitting an afonce, at six p slock we were directed, as study and the drawers within it were locked, as I myself soon as our men man was untranced and taken away from how left their for had a thing been touched everything the each tithe corner of the room, to put out the lights. was no I had left it plus dust! But I claim character as an When this was done, we had conversation in direct spirit important factor in all such phenomena, and it is time that voice, while spirit presences flatted about the room, drawing Spiritualists insisted on the same when collusion is hanted restling of paper, apparently fluttering slowly from the record failures as well as successes. We left each night ceiling, it finally dropped in front of myself with also wood and cools in the kitchen, trusting that there we some other thing, which, on lighting up, proved to be a might have our fire lighted as it is now invariably lighted blue penci, taken from a box of twelve coloured pencils soft at home. Here we could not conveniently lay the fire over night, and our man and his wife sleep close adjoining the kitchen and were carly on the qui vice to hear the wood However, on Boxing Day and as our meaning and my daughter, coming in from a long walk, opened the front their winted ability on "Truth a Expediency The assumd door, I heard the sound of wood cracking over head to our bedroom. This five has seen him in the morning as according to the sound of wood cracking of the morning as according to the Secrety's business, and the regions of the possible of the sound of the secretary and I at once appointed that crackling. But for some reason it could not be done. used, by our housekeeper, and I at once ascertained that pocretary and treasurer, which were then submitted. The moone was on the upper floor where our bourdons as situa of the six last months of the year the results of fire lighting for a and expression. See 5, 866.

phenomena stand thus

In July, either the guastove or kitchen fire was lit by our spirit friends overy morning, and during that month fires were also lit four times during the

In August, we were only at home three days, on each of which the fires were lit in the early morning.

In September every morning, without exception, and three times during the day also.

In October every morning without exception, and twenty five times also during the day. (Fires in satting rooms were now in requisition.)

In Vorember. Every morning without exception, and overy day during some part of it also without

In December. Every morning excepting the five days we were at Haslemore, and there once in the afternoon as recorded above. Every day also when at home one fire or more lun been lit by our aparat friends.

Our trustworthy medium frequent y say them by under ner eyes, or winds in the act of laying the fire , twice have Sectety amounts their attention to hold a sele of work, de-, on I myself had them lit under my own inspection, i.e., once Bouley announcy 20th and 27th, 1887 a the patherons while it was looked up, the key in my Locture Hall, Weirs-court, Newcostle, in sail of the mostle, in the bath-room while is was looked up, the key in my while I set within view of the door, and of course, within hearing of any sound. My wife, who is, of course, approximately the four to ten the door, and there is a personal. The subject of the process the part of all friends to hearing of any sound. My wife, who is, of course, approximately the of work &c., will take pure each two more at home, has constantly had them lit under her from four to ten thin. Administrately take pure each two stails will be provided. Your and approximately the provided which is a summent of the part cogminmer, though not actual night. My daughter fre intervals. quently has actually seitnessed the lighting, as have four **Specificalism at Home. My early morning records are, of course, taken from Many and my doughter, for whom I it seems improbable that a man can without gesture or claim absolute care and truthfulness outsiders, with their many suggestions, with trust more for proof of the phenomena to records of these which occur during the day. If anyone can suggest tests which I have not devised, and which are practicable under the conditions required for womens factly at the Liego Theory. Lo Se a amost be language if we are the language if the facts I am at certain as I am of the restaurant of the facts I am at certain as I am of the restaurant of the facts I am at certain as I am of the restaurant of the facts I am at certain as I am of the restaurant of the facts I am at certain as I am of the restaurant of the facts I am at certain as I am of the restaurant of the facts I am at certain as I am of the restaurant of the facts I am at certain as I am of the restaurant of the restau such phenomena, I shall be glad to receive such heats, but I mays II, plays we compute each the feet among of the facts I am as certain as I am of my existence. I wear department of arithmetic, extracts the square root of a others coming on.

Jamusky 1st, 1885.

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

LIGHT.

wasked overhead my wife and I who were in the room that the four oclock in the afternoot practically under our own inspection, as has, of course, frequently happened at home I am portions, as has, of course, frequently happened at home I am portions as has, of course, frequently happened at home I am portions as has, of course, frequently happened at home I am portions as has, of course, frequently happened at home I am portions as has, of course, frequently happened at home I am portions as has, of course, frequently happened at home I am portions as has, of course, frequently happened at home I am portions in stating these men oscanices, as this practical level in the theory of the plantform in the evening, this subject of his guides discourse the platform in the evening, this subject of his guides discourse the platform in the evening, this subject of his guides discourse the platform in the evening, this subject of his guides discourse the platform in the evening, this subject of his guides discourse the platform in the evening, this subject of his guides discourse the platform in the evening the plat

61 October ASSOCIATION OF SOMETEVES STA

Transports Report for Year cooling 31st December, 1884 INCOME.

nt the Wallia House Services

To Collect rope at Hall Services

17	Quarterly Subscriptions. Proceeds of Two Beiress. Sale of Hymn Books, &c Donations Guarantee Fund in support Engagence.	of	the	Walia	8	10 16 18	0 10 5
					1770	12	p
	RXFESTOR	TRE.			ź	м.	d.
By	Balance due Treasurer from pre-	v:Jani	year			19	0
н	Rent of Hall	11 h			10	ņ	0
	Clean g &c				ō	.1	0
11	Nyllabus				ő	7.4	li li
11	Hinding Hymn 16ka Papers for distribution				0	6
11-6	Sporton From				fide	0	0
14	Advertisity is	- 11			2	2	0
4 1	Balance in Treasuper's hands	411			7	- 4	-

NEWS ASTER - The Indias connected with the Newcastle work which this Society is doing in the public advocacy or the

Maxima Seed users at a 1 cofessor De bone has been becoming trust this will suffice on this phase of medianuship, for we see manifes in which enter thousands, &c., and all with rapidity and without apparent effort, and half-an-hour afterwards is able to repeat the result of these mental operations."-Le Messager

THE DIVISISC ROO.-C B. Stobburt writes Cyrus Field, of Levenin, is know to mye found water above a times, and he senial were en estimations of the fact Barrons Streeties - The French beloods with steering the street and because with endances of the fact. He can apparatus, charged with ordinary or hydrogen gas, according to a weight that at "your French" notice that it has seen and he seems with the greet level and the sum the saccider, power requires as eight and power to the section of the fact of the seems with the sum that the condition is a power-tree works of an angle of about any first and the ordinary to works of an angle of about any first and the ordinary to works of an angle of about any first ordinary to be a section with the first of the hand being an ton of placetim accordable by a section of the fact. He can deep entire of the fact. He can depend any the power and are a law being an ton the section of the fact. He can depend any the content of the fact. He can depend any the content of the fact. He can depend any the content of the fact. He can depend any the content of the section of the fact. He can depend any the content of the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the can depend any the section of the section of the fact. He can depend any the can depend any the can depend any the section of the fact. He can depend any the can depen the Coloque Geretic, Dr. Woolfert has been equally successful in floor, about twelve foot, the spring rose which flowed out at the Germany. In one of his experiments he was in the sir two pent stock behind, and that he found the spring with the forked hours and a-half, moving, part of the time, against the wind.

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

The Conduct of Girden. By M.A. (Oren.)

If you wish to see whether Spiritualism is really only jugglery and imposture, try it by personal experiment

If you can got an introduction to some experienced Sprittanial, on whose good faith you can roly, ask blue for advice . So if to pulsing to some enterior speak by tenestral to after one is see into be conduct some no objet by set they are were maliculty as obtaining access to private conte-Allo in any case, you tuped role their on experience at the own family circle, or annup4 via on the or the excludes. The bulk of Spirituania may gained conviction thus or via the of from four to e gut persons, bull, or at least two, of negative passive temperatures), and preferably of the female sex . the most of a junta pand on a pa-

Sit west concerns to a to med seeme against medical ance, the missing go one is come a able and a points came positions or all an a reserve to de or on onema zer Place the patient of the hands that upon also open arrace. The sames of consitter need not touch those of like neighbour though the stactor is to not cone to late a feating too by of complete expected matic festicions and of a meetal of not a done car er a ion . A un steptite of anomal Section is not a not elected. The but but it or associate up on a determine to the the 2-, it uses so as a cast in positive has agree able to will, the limit of in kind to the election we explicit aftern one or a made min or tree any former con or two and out about intervals, before parching werns. If after such trial you at I fail, form a freely able t uses at the resson of your failure, elitabetic the ha manpone records a and at or red scheme. An our should be Line is not an per una aprisessation schaper.

Process in cention of successes mally are a cold became prosing ever the hands, with involuntary to nehing of the lands and a n of some of the atters, and a sense con one to bing in the table. Those materials, at first so all of no or cause doubt as to their reality, will assembly develop with more or loss impairs

If the table moves, let your pressure be organ so on its surface that you are sure you are not are my its morrors. A" you will probably find that the mevement will continue if your hands are held over, but not in contact with t. Do not, howeve tes this until the movement is assured, and be in no heavy as get

When you think that the Line has come, let some one take commend of the circle and act as spokerous. Explain to the on seen intelligence that an agreed code of aignals is desirable, and p not that a but may be given as the alphabet is alowly repeated at the several letters which form the word that the Intel gence wishes the averal letters which form the word tract the latel general which is a point. It is convenient to use a single tall for No. three for last which is a superior doubt or uncertainty.

When a satisfactor communication has been established ask if you are rightly placed, and if not, what order you choose take. After this, ask who the latel general paperior to be, which of the company is the mediato, and ask relevant questions. If could not meaning ask fact with exact the said value of the art to be an ask of the said to be a real desire on the part of the latelingness to speak with the fact with exact that of the latelingness to speak with your only satisfy yourself at first that it is possible to appear with an intelligence especial from that of any person property will have gained may take the form of raps. If so, was the same to be a set of the said to be as a superior of the form of raps. If so, was the same to the paper to the last the said of the said to the said of the s

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA

The following is a list of eminent persons who, after personal urvestigation, have satisfied theuselves of the reality of same of or phenomena governily known as Psychiesi or Spiritualistic

All In aste sok is prefered to those who have exchanged boliof for knowledge.

Sen See. The Ear' of Erawtore and Basearres. F.E.S. by adon B A S. W. Changes, Lefting and Con. Media on of se an Sec of Char FISCE All Walson the to the pri Nationalist W. F. Lamett F. L. S.E. Unifewer of Telectric or the Loyal College of Science, Dubbin , Dr. Lockhart Robertson

v. J. F. tot on, F. L.S. martime President of the Boyal Menthe great Security of Liminary Professor de Morran, ampet in Pressiont of the Vigtorial to Society of Landon. Dr. er or a sixty on months world them is un be er to of harmon a "Do Ash airmer Mr. Forter "Dr. leibe Mayo 15 we we some h. Z. Seer, or Le way any not of Teanwood-malsic ac Professors to T. Fechnor, Scheibner, and J. H. Fish on super. Professor W E. Weber, of Gettingen Professor Hoffman, of Warshite, Pentson Perts at some Professors Wagner and Butlemff, of Petersburg, Professor: I are and Mayor, of U.S.A., Dr. Robert Prioto, of Breslau Mon-Cant le Finnmarion, Astronomer, &c., &c.

INTERATURE.-The Earl of Degraves; T A. Teellope; S. C. Hall | Gerahl Manuer ; Captain R. Burton ; Professor send I I | "Lord Broughtin; "Lord Lytton; "Lord Lynd uset A distance West of the Caracter Park W. M. The Lory "Nasan Senier, "George Thompson ; "W tioner, they cant the Mrs. Leanning, Hon. Roden Noch, taken the Line Island 1 S.A.; Durits Lyone, 1 S. 5, 1 Professor W. Lewon . Schemer Alex. Wilder Professor Birnas Carson; Professor George Bush; and twenty-four Judges and occlunges of the U.S. Caurta; Victor Hugo, 14s on and Baranom von Vay | "W Lloys to com, to to "Hon It Date Ower, t. S.A. "Ben a W Edmonds, t. S.A. "Egen Sargent's "Bacon die Potet "Count V un Caspatin Baren L.

Social Position II I II Namous, Dake of Leachienberg If B. H. the Prince of Solmer H. S. If Prince Albrecht of Solme ; H R. H. Prince Endle of Nays. Wattgen-tein; Hon. Alexander Aksakof, Impedal Conneillor of Russin; the Ren. J. L. Na Ivan, sometime Manuter of U.S.A. at the Court of Lisbon ; M. Falle Classical and least coners of France at T. le the late Emperors of "Russia and France Tressients Thiers and "I oppolis, &c., &c.

IN IT CONJURINGS

Type importance auditably a second to make any conservation and insurer that speak with an intelligence separate from that of any person pro at a on will have gained much.

The signade may take the form of raps. If so, we the same person and the wall have gained may take the form of raps. If so, we the same ye had a signade may take the form of raps. If so, we the same ye had a signade may take the form of raps. If so, we the same ye had not a set of the same ye had been demonstratly not produced by any natural means but a root any term of a set of the same set of

Night:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

" LIGHT MORE LIGHT 45-the

WHATE PERFORM NAME WAS CREAT OF DIM. PAUL

No. 211 .-- You Y

SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1885.

Prince Two page

CONTENTS

Musics through Makies = Speaking to the Ary at the Cartaniae Spancy with Mr Patinton and the Spancy with the Patinton

Hatter through Matter " E The Large passed has a superior of the state of the state

The Editor of "Leave" deares it to be distinctly passage, when intact, over the hands impossible. This understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the opinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents. Free and courteres discussion is sursted, but seritors are renders this interpretation less probable when there are alone responsible for the articles to which their names are many rings. attacked ]

MATTER THROUGH MATTER

In the last number of " Licity," " C.C.M." says, in effect, in reference to my ring experiments with Mr Huck, "Dr Wyld's evidence is complete and without flaw," but Mr. Guency, on the contrary, regrets that "the conditions were "season I sested on Mr. Hunk taking my ring home with not more completely unexceptionable," and he adds, "the account as it stands is far from concrumve."

Now with reference to this most occult sulgect, the difficulties in the way of belief are so great as to render perfect tests absolutely necessary; but, as I have already said, it has taken me four years to arrive at my present conclusions, and therefore I think even Mr. Gurney should in those matters in putting yourself in sympathy with admit that I have shown counderable prudence and discre mediums, and at least appearing to have a little chudake, tion, and that when he criticises one having some claims to creditions offiction," as Longfellow says. being an expert on any given spiritualistic subjects he should be very cureful to be very exact and logical.

reaction to appreciate the post-conera as important as this. Blavataky, assisted by an Ocealt Brother now occupied by Mr Eghaton.

hands of the operators and the range only being in darkness. I wrote " Irresistante" between inverted common to indicate as produced by an efficiently constructed or arranged hollow that the ring was placed in my hank by some one calling cover I am induced to inzard this opinion, because when himself "Irresistible," but, for the matter of that, it was on one occasion a friend of more having got, what would a matter of indifference to see whether "Irresistable" the medican's hand, my ring placed on his wrist, and not did it or Mr. Hoak did it, and no doubt Mr. Gurney will being able to remove it, asked me what he was to do, I armit that it would be equally difficult for either party by advised him to hold the medium's hand, the room being in mon-secult means to pass my fron ring through Mr Hush's full light, belond the dark window curtain, which he come, wrist, the ring manufactely fell to the ground, the hands being still joured.

be too rigid in our tests, I must yet repeat that those who am still morally satisfied that it was my own ring, but here criticus carefully conducted experiments, should themselves again the identity of the ring outside Mr. Husk's wrist is endeavour to be very exact and very logical, and these not a question of primary importance, provided I am qualities I think Mr Gurney has not shown in the present satusfied that no ring consted on Mr. Hunk's arm previous instance.

Mr. Gerney opens his criticism thus: "Dr. Wyld my own ring was found on his wrist. tells us that he has been in the babit of carrying about his remark it important, for as Mr. Gurney's criticians are chiedly based on the probability of the medium having deceived me by making a duplicate of my ring, it so far Mr. Gurney goes on to say : " Dr. Wyld does not tell or that he lus invariably preserved afaring from exagination. One would be glad to know how he has assured anself that I same ato marks have not been detected and re-peruse my narrative he will find that he does not exactly the wrists of the medium exactly, and thus render their hates To this I reply that I have taken no precoutions to see my rings secret, but, on the contrary, lawe freezy exhibited them to action and medianes, and on the late he are keeping it constantly next his person for a week, in order that his "magnetica," should render my ring fanader to his controlling spirit,

Mr. Ourney may perhaps smile at my umplicity, but those who understand these subjects know that I acted wisely as so doing, and that, moreover, there is great wisdom

Then as to Mr. Husk dishonoutly manufacturing a duplicate of my ring, I am morally sure he would not I he Still, I feel, perhaps more deeply than Mr. Gurney does, | could, and perfectly sure he could not if he would, for as the that so stupendous a secret of mature should be tested and said ring has on its surface probably 1,000 massic markings. re-tested, and therefore it is my intention, if possible to some of them as small as pro-points, but distinguis some arrange some sixtings with Mr. Hock for hong parameter. I from their position, besides my own adout invisible marks, I and I fee, thus, that if he could make these experiments for an sure that neither Mr. Huak nor may human being could speciality by would the - f successful, occupy a position in manufacture on exact duplicate—except, perhaps, Madamo

My critic then mys, in reply to my statement that the I am in the hope that Mr Husk could, by practice, at ring was put into and taken from my hand by "Irrepa last produce these ring experiments in a lighted room, the tible," "Dr. Wyld does not say how he knew that." Well,

Mr. Gurney next objects to my being "astisfied" that the ring put into my hand by "Irresistible" immediately But although I agree with Mr. Gurney that we cannot previous to the final operation, was my own ring. Now, I , to the grand coup, but that on the completion of the coup

Mr. Gurney admits that my "examination of the ring for purposes of experiment." But if Mr. Gurney will inedium's wrist immediately preceding the experiment and my being satisfied that there was no ring there was more

Bee Zeinbucket, Namember 20th, 1960.

Antished dy f . Has a gord to made and as tar as the measuring, say eight, without fracture or many to either cutors. Well I adopt a pore the and use recuse the recess and on worse a short and a part score, and to remove these . Finally I would remain Mr. Gurney that it is ansafe work like spite by diam's mention a feature from those receipt to use receipt to me a occur so person and when he says the parson of the above open throtomes but foreignate a sect at test a instance to at a tiese of the section of I THESE IS A ASSETTED I WAS NOT A TANKETY OF BUT CASES OF THE A STORY IN 1884 AND SELECT WAY GOT BUT IN monter who could not detect a thick grouping, considers a chart and an empreyer record to a remain wrist, larger than the medium's wrist, through his cont sleave | come got act not as at power ; any he formed off that would be one of so blunt a perception at to be unworthy et consideration.

My critic next abserved "Considering the case with which a cut are can do on the thinky is to which of his two he as they are may us we were as guar to know that Dr my made see to adduce out towas the new a solely that had non- The color on unly spir tout I held the sect is have to supplient with a or to move energy hou for he me and need pate a server, need where Mr. Curn's second new Mr. tenes, ye letter. I will a necessar to show this, er new of one sense in my own case, but in no one peritecism.

respond ton.

where we sto or no cerept ?

hubbles of atmospheric air !

the fourth dimension, when he can show that a rigid body, fact is, professional conjurers do not themselves cann for RAINF ethry," but he thaks it would have been said more measuring, say to be can be forced through a rigid sair, wrist and over the later intact without the destruction of the group

GEORGE WYLD, M.D.

De Wyld wid no don 2 dea lande f with Mr Econand Course visit of an of an opening the But the question, what constitutes good evidence of these phenomena, is of and grade at rest and in streamy tent a third person as f f a mare repeated on man on not read y combardly secure, and a runny for join was the encus sion. An Me transiev is an interest to a pain reful a critic Mit we so he to make that is these matters it a rest my objection a flower by he was no be an exceptably Here he replace so that the stand of a way and are to now of the safe . . . has the first ment of a ser bequired a series of the series of the series and the series of the seri asserting for eventual of vertical M tensor property e produce of not to digital diameters. to be that he had held a fine a hand in the coaches of much a part forward as a tree expension to the pass without at with a visit of the court of I show process of a visit of a visit of a most was that the was more than and the had another methods and property of a second and the property assumptions. Is for otherwise a world our remove that evens or come, he could need to be described as those continued

May would probably at the in the reason the sour transfer again other points of his

" Considering," says Mr. Gurany, " the cone with which We cate then remarks hat a swould have many a continuous extent work as to other of his two man or so as a sy from others press shad saired to have a cyan had a, one would be gone to know that thousand on he e and a lost the new was up you of the Way quie site force the of that I was the mession a Hankwork present to be all and not and present it can be and present and t akter a mitte, and we satt that the may, if a green proportion must therefore or determined he would have seen use affected had I said that my air in relations to the extract before him. That is James one Mr. Puz mel but supplemented us to say in most credit the conjurer with this awity in a raw i. wath the forgers are not merely However, as I was much ag a centent exper just for my loose viti kee agt " e in a cut ac determined grasp own Stroflet a Look very good care to deno outsile. And then, we show a see the own mour turn now much short a set of the will the magnetic exposer makers as the consider will receive a the name for his network nevert a. No thank at I hele a vision and all purpose. For materies if the con over says, "I want to who widerstand diese subtle an jects will appared by acrate by nose, and gots his own is eased by thes or a go other in text, in war here luxue; i sen to the point of Franks, Wr. t mercy says that as there are persons who makes the test is effectually destroyed. We out any excan get to it may a theory what book I so were to travalent estimate of Dr. Wyd's determined and meetings, therefore my at conjusts confus the expenses of a x-series of these exestigations, I take to such a Success the state of show that is placed my which is a glover of placed with the state of the contact of the found on particular of the found of the and the ment on of it mi we weakens then stree githers in dentes 12 years translation, or thely approach. But sho tof six a suppose on being import. Mr. Garrey can The second to now year degree of servation, viz., that only mean by us mowary person, those who are not onbeen so there are some plate luna a which can be senerged, their graph agree of the long reconside expedients of conjurthrough sometrings, therefore Mr. Hask's large hars e.g. Let g agnoral to thereof. And what I have is a and add leve been squeeze through my small ring that pure assumption, in estated by experience, is the Mr. Garney not arrang exp. mer either Mr. Hussis hand nation that such expedie is no ude means by which or my eng, more conjected the two, has evadently on his one hand the targets of which are little vigrasped with the point, no logical right to express an openous. Moreover, I have object of useum y detailing them, can be charged for will ensure M. Curley to show how the point in my another without observation. The art of the conjugar conremonstration, you it is found by expert up that I might passes largery in the string attending at the critical moment be mistaken count possibly weaken the case as stated an to As to your bearvation, wit but knowing prof just the one spirit cular essertial to be observed that it compared vely Is that self widers and the weight of an argument pasy. But when strong tacture sensation has to se with cannot a lessons by the action of a su sequentargoment communication a consciousness concentrated upon it, or at least to se much intories it is quite another matter and Mr. Curriey night as well say a pound of sugar won a 1 don't occave that Mr. Curries well and a conjurer in the weigh less than a pound, if there were added to it some, works who will undertake to effect a change of hands unobserved under the conditions and circumstances de-However, I will believe in Mr. Gurney's logic, and in scribed, and with a reliect of average intelligence. The the public *

Juneary 17, 1885.

satisfactory mentification of the cars of the rong taker from the netual negative openin stration who is says carried Dr. Wyn. I observe that the outer by soil is both a off when summary of he evidence coset eve menten because and if seven to reply. A brote fact a supposed identification as one of the executationes on for second be apparentially a fact at al. It was case which he reads and from this commentance how we the whot proof nor of negree 1 gr you exact a me I think Dr. Wy. Lost see that the level mention mans. You self me against of a concern only said of the ring for all on the west with is on, what anteresting a way a su good possible to ry ring is a point pare a uniport tal province the binesses s w " . A full reaccoff had an are wines as her for tall 1 are the same, and the rim of the ring found is ascertained give you over two inches. Just as in regard to the conjurer's to be perfectly soul. This being so, as it is not scated that art I call or you to beterm a your gone of scatement by the rang was not in the med must possession before the relation to the extremes when you so here I say that scance, for evalentia purposes the case wou w your statement a only recenal a referring to a compress just as good of the ring has been the measures, except sold by at reast a resonante to the cly operation here that it night then have seen suggested that the assegue. In that case a very your fact an at poss may, thencesons are been fix a we refer to what the one ask for your proof " median and for a fact to to be your of a countries. The tar who are the country expenses By have a leased taxal the ancious, the West has a Texpresser ast were that Dr. we is case is one of segcharles toma see a stem man by the program ments can bull visit a care. In we shall a not the see further with seems of me bitemen. But my none for plugger or Mr trainey for he is no first item acumen a a moment the expector afforce by the reconstrements the bear upon it. cash liners from two posts so as Louid there have been a counce of hands we tambet observation 2; Canad PS -Allow me to correct an inaccuracy and net of Dr. Wild more over merry red as to the non-present last week. I spok of the impossibility of a ring of seven of the ring when he was bed the meaning arm and wrist' riches dumeter or gor the gran holder the movie. What The first point has been needs with. As to the second, Mr. I appoint have some was tract its passage through the wrist trainey may be an exporation of the and arm up to the en- of the serve was impossible. gloom. What Dr. Wold says a, "I then passed my left t hand ever the medium's arm and wrist to satisfy myself that no ring was thereon."

We may take a that it was not the saide arm, and it is probable test a country promounce of a loths of un-sch might be rem not superrep but to a right touch by be authorid, considering the percent express of a case, more Dr. Wyld's know eagle of the thick man of me true to se detected by his source would verter y setting out or the ring or the fact of a proded weeve. Yet there are large don't of the property of the quincine rasses by Mr. bearing on the point as noting about to it to favourance presumply no, even where to tenature y armee, as I the keat stock from the co-gauge of the writing. Even apart from the measure sents, however. I see no flaw in the evidence, though emormed in may fairly be asked of what we known naturally though not processarily unnerstand from the account given.

As to the measurements, Mr. Gurney says. But as there are undon ded a persons who con get their hands through what look his impossible apertures, also as the degree to while this power is presented its not in ascertained except with the bone but assistance of the person. to be tested the test can beyor have any real value. The he even adds, "the mention of it rather weakens that attempthens the case. (How it can readen the case dust Mr. Husk has an exceptional hand, I cannot a users and.

For this power of compression, though fact (atternorm) and from the manner and the second of the se controus found destroys the randity of proof by measurement that any machine Journ given aperture is corposa to for any given hand. Physica Therapeanic Satergroup Coop to broke for closed fine compressionary of a hand have g been shown to exist to brain maps the Est to best of the broken S Y a Profession their art anything are the powers sook y ascribed to it by on. Had the respective concessions beer fire meters and rieven a sies, natear of seven and mae Mr Couracy Agreeing with Mr Garney that there could be no would still, it weens, not allow us to a spense wit-Now I subs t that Dr W H & C t ... C

SPANISH BIGOTRY.

We learn from the October number of El Criteria Espirituate that Don Guillermo del Passo, for many years the manager of that publication, passed to the higher life padd no the sleep I at the a ree of pressure which may October 1st, 1884, after a short but painful ackness. The deceased was one of the first in his country who became acquainted with Spiritualism, and as he took an active part in spreading the truths of the new philosophy, he thereby made many executes, particularly among the clargy Unable to combat his arguments, they jud recourse to persecution, which followed him even after his death. As the reower in Spain, and clausing to control everythma, with here and hereafter, not content with damning his soul, the Charch prissed interment for his body, insisting that as the cemetery where it was proposed to place it was conse crated (f) ground, it would be defiled by having him buried there. The remains were accordingly enrefully had away in a new cametery-presumably in unconsecrated ground The fiederic after going a ful account of this plumes treatment we thank any structures, snoply an a "This compact does not seem to as to be just, but we thoughthat by acting thus the Ch ich has only gured herself'-Banner of Light

An inducement to give anything for the winque results of better nor worse han reachers, bowyers, and on an who Now, according to Mr Gurney the fact that had a have on wo kin w somet new arm themselves in be desired be weak been passed through apparently impossible apertures because and ignorance of chemis. J Allyo in the he won Philo-

The concent to Dr. Buchanan has stony at out a new work some apparently impose for degree, we are required to adord that no apparently impose for degree, we are required to adord
that no apparently impose for degree, we are required to adord
that no apparently impose for degree, we are required to adord
that no apparently impose for degree we are required to adord that no apparently impose for degree we are required to a fermious that no apparently impose for a fixed and the fixed to a fermious that no apparently impose for a fixed and the fixed to a few or described to a fermious that no apparently impose for a fixed and the fixed to a fixed

A REMARKABLE SEANCE WITH MB. LoLINTON

* MATTER THROUGH MATTER * AGAIN

By J FRED COLLINGWOOD, F.G.S.

On the 7th just I paid a visit with my wife and two maces, Misses Mary and Lexue Johnson, to Mr. Eglinton, at his residence, Il. Langham-street, Porthud-place, for experiments in psychography, and as I met with much success and obtained some evidence beyond the immediate object of my visit well worth recording, I subput the following brief account for publication in "Light" --

I may premise that the conduct of Mr. Egistim's nolding of the slate, do, do, dee, especially as they have been so well set forth by Mr. Robbit in the current number

After several questions had been put by us and repord to very pertinently in cuch case, I wrote, as latherto, on any way a hindrence. The reply, written in my back-sinte one of my own new slates, the following question: "Is it was right for Lizzie to sit for physical manifestations ( "-wrote it away from the table so that nobedy should know. The slate boing held as vacual, we heard the writing and received this roply, "You it is quite right for her to sit for physical January 1st. It is there stated that Mr. Eglinton, "like mamfestations, Mr Cottingwood."

Mrs. Collingwood then wrote (and out of our sight) on Mr. Eglinton's double Bramak look slate; and after a bit of penell had been dropped in locked it, placed the key upon the table in eight of us all, and handed the elate to Mr. Eghnton, who with Mary and it upon the table. No reply was assectiately obtained and the siste was left upon the

I then produced my own book-slate, already tool with struc and with a lat of pencil maide, and it was held by Mr age the able. The string was removed From it with with his M. Figuritor (coff) hand being grasped by that of Mary, and this scatenes was written :-

'I shall take duege of Mary,

no question having been asked

Here we made an experiment with the intention, if posando, more completely to exclude the "thought-reading " elemout. I went to the bookease, placed my back against it, and took a book at random. Mary wrote on a slate the numper of a supposed page known only to herself, while Laxue wrote the number of a line on the unknown page. The book was put by me on the slate containing the numbers, strict care being taken that it was not seen by anybody, and huld under the table by both Mr. Egliston and Mary, a request being made that the line indicated by the number might be quoted. The following was written -

There is no such page as 50 in the book."

On opening the book it was found that the pagination begun at 65. The number chosen had been 50, and the forms of ) the figures were ceretly imitated-a manifestly conclusive ! B. 15Wilet

Mr. Eglinton, embodying an expressed wish of mine, asked whether "Ernest" would give us any hints as to the further development of "power" in my pieces. The following long answer was given -

"You may rost assured that we small do all we can to aid the development of your mess and that you will nece observe how we have been able to do this. There are not negris wanting that she will make a capital materiment for us to work through, but she will need exceful dayes quient and in this you must trust by Mr. Eglinton on the shoulder of Mary, her hand also grasping the slate and one of his two hands that held it. The writing was very distinctly heard by all present in this experiment, as in the others.

I mked, "Which more is meant?" The reply was written in two different hands -

" Mary, I look after."

* Ernest means Lazzie

It was retarked white the writing was being done that s poute occurred in the middle of the message. And now the locked state, having remained untouched in the meantime, was gain taken of from the table by Mr Eghnton, and held by turn and Mary upon at Writing was nearth somess in so well known to your readers that I forbear to by us, no or the state being opener by Mrs. Comingwood, enter into familiar details, such as position at the table, the ja pertinent answer to her written purstion was found, and we saw lying maide the slate the piece of string that had been removed from my book-state.

Finally, I asked whether my presence on afonce was in

" No. good-byo."

While these experiments were going on, I had in my much the grave asperaions which appear in Trick of all Spantualist humbags, is not prepared to perform his from under conditions which render jugglery impounble

The stock-in-trade of all Spiritualists consists in evad og such an inquery". And the writer further rewarks "I wonder that a few people of sense do not go to Eginton and expose him. Probably he changes the alates when there is a long mossage, and writes the message with a piece of slate pencil on his nail when there is a short one To do the former is not difficult; a common slate can be taken out of its frame and another salutitated

I ask that a careful comparison be made between the actual conditions as described in my account of our season and the supposed methods of a totally ignorant or clumsy mitator of the real thing as expounded in the above quotation. Considerations of space forbibling me to calarge, I can only hope that it will be patent to all who read this how year in the difference.

Our sitting axtended over an hour with scarcely on aterrup on a the phenomena, the chief of which I have on fast-fully recorded. The interest in such results as great to most of us . the facts to some of us are energous m their unportance, and the advantages which undeveloped psychies may receive through contact with Mr. Eghaton will, in my opinion, be precious to them if they go to him with cornest, careful, patient, diligent search after truth, and reasonably accept to this matter, as in others of high concern the teachings of pature.

January 10th, 1885

ERRATUR.—In Mr. Theobald's satisfic last week for "Suptember" read " December," as is obvious.
THE CHAOMO PLAYER.—In answer to inquiries we wish to sinte that we did not amounce the publication of these plates for any special date in January. We simply advertised their issue do my the current month. The artist has found more time requisite than he at first thought would be necessary but we hope not to se e upelled to request any extension of time. They will appear as a supplement to "Leon" gratis (for anteger terra sulva-

To correspondents and Respond of Licht. We are outcomely sorry on to again out you to defer the publication of several articles and letters, especially an important piece of cridence on Esoteric Theoremy by Mr. Wim. Oxley. A review the base our judgment. Try and fee in regard a years well in the gentle at a Egypt also stands over the next week as that we will help you all in our power, at also to a further bless you.

"Your friend,

"Energy."

The above message was written within two slates hald.

The above message was written within two slates hald.

CORRESPONDENCE

Juniary 17, 1885.

[It is preferable that correspondents should appeare their there must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good

"Eboy a" Difficulties,

To the Editor of " Liver

Sin. Tanky ry much afrana that if Emer over not need in member of a circle who could statch at the garment of a sperit supposed to be manifesting itself, and not have patience enough to wait for the final issue of the phenomen at is evidently in a very grade and redmentary state of development

However ancere, earnest, and prayerful such investigators any bu, they will come to a market configure would the con-duct themselves in the fashion described. They had before a the subject entirely alone they will do it more harm than good

It appears to me that the root of all "Eber's difficulties is his impromion that he can elicit more from the phenomena than they are estended to convey. He seems to be under the belief that specifual threes can be grasped by mechanical processorthat psychical problems can be solved by physical methods. No atate of mind can be more open to the inread of fallacies We ought to understand that the phenomena of Spiritialism are abnormal, and cannot, therefore, of themselves be a relacate source of normal guidance and touching. They are surely intended simply as a revolution of the existence of human busings. who formerly lived on this earth. Having alterned a knew edge of this great fact we must then devote ourselves to the sequention of the philosophy and religion which anderlie the fact, which influences ought to be our guiden through the conf aron of contradictory phenomena-

next, the exercise of our own facultion and on goes or nor Waltout reserve, it imparts to all, to none more especially mandana sphere would be comparatively neglected. The spirits than to those who sook. Held up to ridicule, its sulfarance do tell in sufficient of their occupations in the spiritual world to applicated to the vilent shader and personations, at a vita is natisfy on that they devote themselves to our assistance and classed as "regues, clients," "vagabouds, it still the " succome according to our descrite and qualities, and I doubt houd, and in this words of Gathen after his recentition before whother they can possibly to more everify. We must have be a Range Law to be seen truly say " E pure securiors !" (" It much that our language is the growth of our life and experience still moves for all that )-I am, tir, yours obeliantly. here, and can only be used to express corresponding experiences , but if the special and poculiar existence of discultedios, marita is enturely different from ours and inconcervable by us, then their language to express this difference must be also different. and would be unatelligible to our understanding. Their mole of communicating with us must recessarily be limited by this condition; but, as for as they can gain account o our tamels through sultreation, study, and discipline, their teaching is if the highest, noblest, and most metal order. By steady and m the co-operation of numetoring sperits, art, acionos, literature, suc religion may be cultivated to the highest standard, not, how over, so much by attendance at scances as by the careful training of the human mind under the best practical influences. manning which I specially rockon Christianity at expounded by Founder. "Blor" alludes to the apparent melicacy of prayer in ecesting satisfactory results at seances. Admitted, but nothing fathfully, le graned by being prayerful one minute and vulgarly me market the next. One state of sound awamps the other. Sincusty and paraestness will be of little avail unless they are austamed.

I cannot conclude this letter without saying how much I admire and sympathise with the ideas expressed by your correspondent "Lay Lours &c

London, January 3rd, 1885

The Spiritualistic Challenge. To the Editor of Light

Sir, -As a Spiritualist of more than twelve years statuting, I must respectfully yet indignantly protest against an exhibition of the feat of the financial of the feat of the financial of the feat of the financial of the feat must respectfully yet indignantly protest against an exhibition appearing in different pournals there that the challenge thrown ing the various spectators. In some cases two persons, sented down in in a fair way towards being accepted. Has the cause at descended so low that the areas of a betting-ring as to become a learly number closek rose playing into the six, and wandered, performing coloused book, over the heads of he creek a scenter really, as Spiritualists, such so low as to prostate these gifts before as an encoupromating and materialistic age? Will not so as sound like a determing signal were heard, and so the atting choiced candad and broth-seeking a man as Seguor Damani see closed.

this when it is fairly stated? In it possible that the honoured and revored Mr. S. C. Hall will again give expression to the sontinuonts which recently appeared in your journal? names and addresses to communications. In any case, however, Rather lot us remain under the stigms of delucions. and visionarion than unbinit to an orded which our only have the tendency to leave the passions of the multitude still more inflamed, without a core spoul in good result in the furtherance of the cause. Rather let us remore the received and and the exhibit as if for example a work of a the gas no activatory results, and his tase we be hopeless. The authoritant up a soll of the course were a Spa up our and corption, posteroing more of this words about my gets than is moreovery for them, are des. our or perpet at a mances and influence, they can do it in a more practical form the that gove in he shop administering the fund to be wholen towards the alloviation of the misery undured by the children of the indigent poor. Two thousand pounds from each side would go for towards establishing ketchens to be attached to many of our Board schools . He ent parishes, and afford cheap dumors. to those who are compilmorily countily dothed and lib-fed-

Rest from a sure the fact one is increment in an Hi-oce ved at press for a ways seen in state in many win six to ing additional not we have a province. The new new has approve with could freel y and one improvement countries withing of a betting fraternity, of one or any number of individuals not to gracify the whose and caprious of individuals of fashion, who sourt it in too many metanoon simply as an amutoment for the hour. In many cases the would be soo for receives semething which, like the electric spark, strikes home, and the selentiat, with all his boasted knowledge and profound research, cannot, in face of these facts, determine that cortain laws go so for and no farther. To each I would quote the lines in Gray's "Elegy";-

" Pull many a gent of purest my second," &c., &c.

But of such as these the movement is independent; and If we could always depend upon obtaining from mirits | its powers, forces, and phenomena are given, received, and felt securite information respecting the affects of this life and let for seem often in the leady outage than the particion a leaf.

Starbridge House, Carning-croscout, Wood Green, N.

Junuary 10th, 1885.

The Testimonial to Mr. J. J. Mores. To the Billion of " Lacur."

Data Six,-I have much pleasure in forwarding you a comploted list of subscribors. R. A., £3 F G. S., £5 A Friend, 12 Law speed F across, $3 10s. , T Everite, Eag., 10s. 6d The Moses Ponds | 12 T Amon, Eng., 21 In : Amonyma, in A Frience for Mr. D. Y. in gor, £10 , Joseph Swinbarne, £ 15 Clarger Friends, per Mr. Landschauf, Eb. L. W. C. an-Glazgor Friends (2m decations, 11 a Wit y very best 3 open all some from a with thanks as what of M cave to kind y min gener only responded ( my appeal. Y arri

26. Penton-street, January 13th, 1885.

Opn Gorman contemporary, Die Spiritualistische Blatter, is more occupied with the progress of the movement in England and America that he Germany A materia show me sun, Emil Schimppe, is, however, attracting attention at Hardwigs, where it still soone usual to bind and scene the ness a mit various ingenious ways. On one occasion, however, Emil Schimppe was sense, in the corner of at absolute. empty boom, the spectators forming a half-circle before hum-lifter about ten minutes a sharing half of phosphorus atoso opposite sides of the room, were touched together.

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF LIGHT," A AVE MARIA LANE, LONDON, E.C.

TO CONTRIBUTORS.

S. ISCRIPTION LATES

ADVISEDENT CHAOLES

NOTICE TO THE CUSTO CHAIR " may also be of the one E. W. Albert, J. Ard Marin-lane, confere and as the description.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

by forward burt recal thereof The Mininger of 1, to Mr of 4. Are Marin-bure 1s 1. Past Office Geder may be made payable to livery mours. Ad Editorial Correspondence in he addressed to "The Editors"

Tight .

SATURIAY, JANUARY 7tm 885.

SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATION

lody of people." Whether wo necept this statement at raffy accomplished. or not, it is under table that the investigators of occult phenoabilities under which they labour, place. "Forewarned is Foresand."

person or power visibly present, and we refer to this phe pature so far as Mr. Flowers knows it. nomenon chiefly because, since the experiments made in the ceived by the arts of prestidigitation, seeing that some of the with more antisfaction than we shall.

most skuful conjurers of the age, including Robert Hondin, Professor Jacobs, Samuel Bellachini (Court Conjurer at Berlin), Harry Kellar, and others, after patiently investigating the phnomens, have declared them to be totally beyond the resources of the art of prestidigitation.

Repeats of the proceedings of Spiritualities Secretics in an assentiate of the proceedings of Spiritualities Secretics in an assentiate of a responsible of the situation of a responsible of the situation of a responsible of the situation of the first importance that we exclude with also obtain by contributing brief resords of automorphy and only the first operate our investigations with the view to occurrence at their seasons appearance of the return of automorphy and anchor stamps and the nature and source of the power by which it is given.

Any yet our appearance in the presented, are from time to As yet our sequences, I not prevented, are from time to time somewhat sepected by threats of prosecution, because, The About Science confer I alive A see of any x blood with a somewhat in peded, by to reats of prosecution, because, we are he I alive Kangdom a many as a rest of any he for some as conference on the I alive to a state and a superflux merica, he does no per annum any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum and any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum and any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum and any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum and any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum and any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum and any again be, no superflux merica, he does no per annum and any again be, no superflux merica, he does not be a superflux merica, and he does not be a superflux merica, and he does not be a superflux merica. construed to apply. We refer, of course, to Section 4 of 5 A reduction made from a section of the community 2.5 Page 1.4

A reduction made from a section of the community 2.5 Page 1.4

A reduction made from a section of the community 2.5 Page 1.4

Cluster of "Later?" 4, Ave Mark.

Editor of "Later?" 4, Ave Mark.

Relitor of "Later?" 4, Ave Mark.

Relitor of "Clin community and a section of the community known as the Vagrant Act, which provides that "any person pretending or professing to tell fortunes, or using any subtle craft, means, or device, by palmatry or otherwise, to discover or impose on any of his Magnety's subjects" shall be possibled an conviction by received for against subtle 104. Geo. IV. c. 63, commonly known as the Vagrant Act, improminent with hard labour.

Now we protest emphatically against any attempt to suppress the search after truth—in whatever realm, natural or supernatural, the truth expressed in these phenomena may lin-by an appeal to the strong arm of the law, and if Bullisceppitons for 1893 are non-time Subscribers will obline the Act to which we have referred in fairly open to meh abuse, then it is high time that it should be repealed. But we maintain that the Act is no interpreted only because our magistrates and judges know nothing whatever of the matter with which they may be called upon to deal. The clause makes it penal to profess to tell fortunes, but avery person. who is at all familiar with this phenomenon knows that the medium makes no such profession. Questions, which the medium luss no means of steing, may be written on the made of a folding slate, which having been locked, writing is licard going on within while the state is still locked, and of the nature of the answer the medium knows THE LEUAL DISABILITIES ATTACHED TO mothing just as he knew nothing of the question. If the observer is foolish enough to sak what heree will win the Derby, or will inquire as to the health of the Pope, The Wastehold Review, waser to generate and discours man is equally irresponsible. He has no conscious rere against necessary the suggested for most a staword or the part to the proceedings, and so as greatly passed as the fact the "the new was squeet above are too theretail verbat to be to explain by what mixing the writing is

Again, the Act makes it unlawful to use any subtle mean are very numerous, and as their purpose is simply and eraft, means, or device to decrive or impose on, &c. But solely the discovery and diffusion of the truth, it surely the medium uses no subtle craft, means, or device. He is behaves them to realise their legal status, and, if necessary, simply there to adon, the conferent that in his presence to take such steps on may be demable to remove the dist there is an abnormal, utology a power which he does not wee, and over which he are no control, and which can and The question is one that concerns every Spiritualist, does write, between locked thites, even in broad daylight, and every student of psychool science, and as, at no disc the writing being heard in the process of execution. To tant date, it may be necessary for them to use what those who have witnessed the phanomenon it is obvious "Influence" they possess in a public agreetion, our remarks, enough that this abnormal writing is a fact, bowaver which are only intended to introduce the question and to mexplicable it may be, and that there is no attempt whatstate it to popular terms, may not, at this time be out of ever at deception; and we assert, therefore, that it is a flagrant perversion of justice, and a scandalous diagrace, to In this connection let us for the present confine our punish a man by imprisonment because he happens to be attention to one phase of the weird and mysterious pho- the centre of certain phenomena which are, as Mr. Flowers nomina usually called "Spiritual," that of abnormal writ-lones spoke of them, "contrary to the known course of mg, or writing axecuted without the intervention of any mature," meaning, no doubt, contrary to the course of

We have spoken above of genuine mediums. That presence of Mr Gladstone, it is the one which has excited there may be charlatans we do not doubt. Let such be the greatest amount of interest and attention. That write purnished, and purnished severely, by all means. If a man mg sangiven, in the presence of certain persons, known as professes to be a medium in whose presence certain occult payeties, or more popularly as mediants, has been witnessed | phenomena occur without active co-operation on his part, and testified by many hundreds of peops in every rank of and if he is mught red-handed in simulating such life, including more emunded in science, whose empacity for phenomena, and thus in attempting to deceive or impose observation would not be disputed in relation to any other upon her Majesty's subjects, scarcely any pomishment can matter. Nor is it possible to margine that they were de , be too severe for him. None will witness his exposure

January 17, 1885.]

The letters from the Pall Mall Gazette, reprinted below, are the result of Signor Damiani's "Challenge" to Mr Labouchere, the details of which appeared in our last inque The correspondence speaks for itself, and we reprint it in these columns more as a matter of "history" than from any sympathy with such a method of testing tenth, or from any belief that it will lead to a tangible result, much less prove of real benefit to the cause of Spiritualism. Indeed, wn have, on more than one occasion, deprecated such appeals, at the same time confessing as a deplorable fact that the argument which touches the pocket is the only one that cousts in many quarters now a days. But the principle involved is, nevertheless, a bad one; and experience has favourable conditions, these "challenges" lead to, and prove

By these strictures we do not wish to imply the least lack of approciation of Signor Dansian's motives in thus publicly attesting his confidence in his own powers of observation and the integrity of Mr Eglinton. None who know here can doubt that he is actuated by the purest sincerity of purpose, and a nimple whole-hearted desire to serve Sparitualism to the best of his ability. But while recognis ing these facts, fidelity to what we believe to be the true interests of the movement forlads us to blind our eyes to another fact-vir, that his offer, generous and spontaneous though it be, can only tend, and that through no fault of his, to the degradation and prostitution of our cause.

The true standpoint is, to our minds, that taken by Mr Eclinton in his admirable and dignified reply to Mr. Stuart Comberland, which, however, seems to have been lost night of. He said (we quote in full for convenience soke) :-

" In the amount place, I curred consent that any of the parties to an investigation should, even voluntarily, be pledged to the forfeit of £1,000 as the event of the elecision being against the a They would be more than human if the more possibility of such a forfeit did not, even unconsciously to themselves, in some measure dim their eyes against the recognition of an unwelcome

What I propose is this - that a committee of six be appointed, three to be chosen by myself and three by-I do not ours by whore, so that they are gontlemen of good reputation and have not committed themselves to a heatile attitude before the expariments are commonced. I will stoot this commit so at any place that may be mutually agreed upon, and they shall be at abouty to provide their arm slates. But as I am see we use we see the phonomena do not come at my communit, and as I do not nee ' any subtle craft, mounts, or device, by palmetry or otherwise, the committee shall sures to most on six separate secusions before they shall conclude that the experiments are futile If the experiments succeed they shall report the fact to Mr. Comberland, shall call upon him, in accordance with his promiss, to *explain away such demonstrations by natural means to the saturaction of the committee", and shall require him to produce the same phen mens owners in the same conditions, as wore produced and absorved in my protence.

This we believe to be the true ground to take. It is equitable to all, and, morever, taken the question out of the region of quackery in which Mr. Labouchers and Mr. Stuart Comberland would be only too glad to keep it. A perusal of the former gentleman's subsequent letters to the Pall Mall Gatette will show the attetude of mand in which he approaches the subject. If Signor Damain, thooks he can trust such a man to coolly and patiently search for the truth in this matter we fear he is mustaken. We give the letters in the order in which they appeared in the Pall Mail Gazette.

Since writing the above Professor Ray Laukester has also contributed his share (see p. 33) to the correspondence. If anything were needed to confirm our views, surely his letter would be ample. He has thereby posted himself on the Black Book of Science in company with Mr B. atta-by which I procure Professor Damiani means mun who A. Proctor and Mr. Lebouchere. It is well that the fact | dony the possibility of the existence of anything beyond matter

SIGNOR DAMIANI AND MR. LABOUCHERE. should be placed on record, together with his avowal of the methods he denderates—amongst others, saming a mer false colours and physical force !

To the Entron of the Paul Mark GAZETTE

Srn, I have not received the letter from Professor C Damiant, copy of which appears in your many to-day, but I shall he delighted to accopt his channings, provided that we can agree upon conditions and upon a jury. If Professor Daminan and 1 were both to appoint four gontiemen to form the jury, it a gut possibly happen there would be no vardet, it would also be describle that we should agree upon the slates to be used, and apon proper precentions against the possibility of trickery, for I need hardly point out that the art of legardenuits is to do a trick in much a manner that the modes openind is not perceived Professor Ray Lankoster is a gentleman of great scientific and shown that even at the best of times, and under the most practical secunds, and he has always shown an interest in morestigating the phenomena of Spiritualism. I would sugges that Professor Damiani should agree upon a jury and upon conditions with Professor Lankester. Anything which satisfies him will extendy me, and I shall then be quite ready to deposit my £1,000 against the £1,000 of Professor Dandato. by solu abject seen to provent a ength amenation about a quatritia cutting and do, not a layer one solio famed to producted if gets time note by their tenanting to grand against found. For was contradent ing the diction that no amount of human oriner co. or . pr. vo. a muracle, all will, I think, adout that the fact that inhabitants of the immaterial world are in the intoit of writing monages the drawing protores on nuterial slates placed under tables is only likely to be credited upon the most incontrovertible and most experienced evidence, -I am, elr, your obedient servant,

H. Lamberdick 10. Juson Anna's gate, JANUARY BULL

To the Energy of the Park Mall Gazerri.

Kin. Even before resumn at m ; are more of time evening I carmagonium of $ r La much viruees dancers by judlengas I had largeed it from a gontleman of the Press who came carly in the morning to interview me. Mr. Labousters mys that if we each appointed four gentlemen to form a jury it might possibly happen there would be no wordist. I do not think to, for if Mr Labouchere appoints four English gon tunnen on his ade, such to my opinion of the honour of an English gentleman and I am sure that one of them will at least decide for what is Que true, and just. Mr. Labouchere proposes that Professor. Ray Lankestor should meet me to agree upon a jury and apon mentions. Nothing will give me greater pleasure than to accode to Mr. Labouchero's request. Lot it be clearly understood, howover, that, although Professor Lankoster is the the man , it was to senerate their cond them for a trial of that sort, I must deep stry each one or any other man noting or the pary who has already given publicly a verdict age need as possible ay of abnormal phenomena. In a lotter I have just received it on Mr. Laboushore, in answer to one I had wroccon as he as he seems to object to my having Sparitualists on the jury. What would be my if I objected to his having Materialists on his side? Of course I shall have Spiritualists as sure to be will have Materialists becompose the jury. The question is not one of opinion, but one of fact. If under the strictest scientific conditions, with double thates bought by Mr. Labouchers himself, locked or scaper by him, and nover lost from view of the jury were ing at found with a their what matters the previous opinion of any ary if compound of honort mon who have not given already an adverse variet founded upon incomplete observation? Surely such a logician as Mr Laboucharo will not gammay the reasonablement of this proposition. Awaiting Mr. Labouchero and Professor Ray Lankoster's pleasure, I me, sir, your obedient servant, 29, Colville-road, Notting Hill, W ,

To the Europe of the PALL MALL GAZETTE-

Sin, In reply to Professor Danuati's letter in your state of to-day, I must cortainly should object to a jury half composed of Spiritualists. A judge might just as soon agree to the state of mind of a supposed lumater boung tried by a jury half composed of madmen. I never suggested that there should be Material.

January 17, 1885.

-on the jury. A conjurer's art is to deceive the eye. Whether may very possibly lead to followers results. For my own part, by those who, by their acquaintance with jugglers' tricks and by medium, in regard to the honesty of his performance than I special training, are able to detect fraud. It is to such a jury should think of making a similar proposition to a peckpocket. that I would submit be sheef are an option to note I refers a long limit been contrated in the police-courts over and over Denoise is not a percently again that some years of a San engine. He is a cursous and apparently apparent of satural his-teraction of the trick and deceived many of a San engine of the engineering of th ragaband, for he was enought a the act of writing houself or the little games if you plantly tell him that you have your eyes open slate, he is tally went to Causto, where he conference his majorature and mean to watch him closely. In order to see him at work and None therefore, as skely to credit the pretentions of a new above on his glory, you toust full his suspectors to also payon must draw were my professor "sometimes he performs to a some or a man out by making him believe that you are kindups, whilst the so many selieve in glasts flapping about monts and writing on your ansuspected gate. This highly entertaining sport cambet states is that for any note to perceive the minutes in which a be empoyed on many occasions. I have had my him at a with conjurge trick is performed, and they funcy that because of the "that "thereughly game old medium" blade, whom I "cought to committee is to consist of four gentlemen chosen by himself and be expected. I would therefore angreat, first, that there examined the "phenomena," use introduces " a new factor"on familie of the contest. Next I would suggest that, over an be sales the man to announce of more to person water core lot others follow. - I man str, your obedient serving, These might be chosen by we set from acrong the rate be a the west such to as one body as to be bound a as these man and the Follows of which as a polymore as an entertheir analog to Otenial in the golf of the order of the file report of meh witnesses would have much more authorize or the public mind than a condict of " not provou" by the proposed commettee. Even if the armoy stake were in stand, those hebecome of the stake. - I am, sir, your obsdicant servant

January Dale

32

To the Europe of the Part Mars GARRYE

ASTE-SPIRITE ALDER

To the Eperon of the Pain Mann Carrers.

Sm. Mr Lecomphere in intromposamentor of the 10th mattays that we adopt four Spiritumote upon the pary in the take or of slate-writing would be to have a juzy half composed of fundamen to agree on the munity of a supposed smalls. He Matorialists. In roply I would say that if the four juries on has winded more chosen by him they could not be stryth as them and judge would to a jury composed half of he is a minfurther in my concessions. I will not object to see on Mr. La. bouchere's jury those princes of conjurers Marketyna and some -I am air, year obedannt corvant,

20, Colvilia-roul, Notting Hal. January 12th.

Mr. Laboutchoro, Massey's translation of Zeotters. Trans. of this kind of which Spiritualists to justly complain. remiental Physics, a which he ways he wal find the truth about Sinds fully and correctly not forth. ] their recent letters to you. I have however we satesten of it made, and man continual torture from goat, which free about their recent letters to you. I have however to intention if in every part of the visit of We can only resterate on behalf taking part in their enterprise, because I consider that any such is every part of the visit of We can only resterate on behalf taking part in their enterprise, because I consider that any such proceedings as they propose are at the best a waste of time, and Personally, we very much miss an active ex-operation and advice.

To the Europe of the Pall Mark Gargers.

a result is produced by jugglery or by about our may be occurated about an otore think of proposing a wager to Sludge, the app out by making him believe that you are his dupe, whilst the what they am is not computing but superfing supernatural the set," and by the set of Bow-street Police-court draws And yet they have only to go to one or two performances of Mr. from this country. Any one who will take the pains can, Maskeryna to see tricks which they cannot explain, and yet I have no doubt, have the same anusing experience with Egipton. which are not performed by supernatural agency. "I am, air, The great point to remember in that as a Cambridge Lattle-go expenses to remarker and concurring cribbing, "It is only [ ]ABOUT THE COUNTY to stop 'ent , any one can do that. The thing is to cutch . . . , that's really a hard business. I've cought six in my rane It seems to me that all your challenges and wagers and Sin, -Allow am to make a suggestion with reference to the juries in this matter can only result, if the promotions taken Spiritualistic charange. As Mr. Labouchore observes, if the are thorough-going, is stopping the medican from "exhabiting has a week. This proves nothing. What one wasta is, to have four by Mr. Damann, there will probably no no verdict. With the phenomena" fully and freely exhibited by the medium. £2,000 at stake, pur propulses, agreement among friends of To do this one must asseme the garb of a believer. Then at the the opposite parties is searcely under any circumstances to appropriate aboutest, when one has thoroughly and tosurely should be no mency stake , the public are already sufficiently for example, cochanol, a light, a blow from the fist of a firm has been a gent a mingeness with more track a least a least a group of the hand, and immediately the "phonomena" are dynamicantes beyond all doubt to be the conning derices of the above the committee chosen by the appealte rides, there should ansacoury Sladge. I have done my share of the steak bunting. E RAY LANGUAGE.

The following letter was sent to the editor of the Pall Matt to lette, but did not appear :-

To the Emyon of the Page Many Garages

Sin,-I have read Mr. Labouchore a letter in your mun of dependent witnesses might still be admitted when the former to-day a date in reply to Signor Demand. With the objections of the commettee would resolve itself into deciding what is to a word he made to that gentleman's proposals as to the compose tion of the jury, I do not propose to deal. That is a matter which they must settle between themselves. My purpose new is to call attention to an error into which Mr. Labouchers has follow in respect to Scade, and which shows plantly the attitude of his (Mr. Lobouchete s) usind towards the subject, and the ignorance under which he writes. It is quite true that Dr Slade was continued by Mr. Flowers as "a regue and "Lugaboral" because under the state of the law Mr. Flowers had further avera that he never proposed his jury to consist of no other alternative, but it is not true that Slade was cought the act of writing houself on the slate. That was a conclusion which, for want of experience on the part of the magisbut master and force mun, and I might sold that I abjected , trate and the prosecutors, was arrived at without any just ground whatever. Because Dr. Slade was judge of colours. Yet I did not make any exception soon the local, and the writing had been partly accomplished, state of make of Mr. Laboushero's jury, provided they were it was sumply assumed that he had bismedf done it. Experience men of honour, the which I promise to do on say side. I will go emongst those who take the treable to investigate the matter enrolally and intently has abundantly shown that there was no evidence against Slade whitever. And it is not true, moreover, There ' Would that we were now at the end of the defice ties on Mr. Labouchere states, that Dr. Slade family west to Canada and there could seed a upost re. Dr. Shade never discomfem has imposture, as there was to imposture to confess. In his anxiety to damage an except man, Mr. La souchere him confounded Dr. Slade with one who, assuming the same [My Damani sends us a long vindication of State, denying tunno, wont about instating the same phenomena, and was, I that Shalo has over "avowed his amostar and of a special believe, detected in his swindle. It is grow misrepresentations

Yome truly,

THE EDITOR OF " LIGHT "

January 10th.

Sin I am more thinged to Mesora Comperium Labour news to "M.A. (Oxon)" We are again unable to render a mindactory and Danman for the expression of confidence to me contacted a decount of "M.A. (Oxon)". He leaves has hed only to have

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK.

LIGHT

Mr. E. Foster, of Preston, a roully model Spiritualist, who loses no opportunity of bringing other world facts before the people who night, could, would, or should be interested in those, has a long letter, full of the strongest testamony, in a recent number of the Presion Chronecle, which he profuent with the following suggestive quotations --

The thirst for the infinite proces infinity A server $10.60.

Fact, have seen deeped with a heat and pertinnelty that I could never upderstand. Sin City, Birth.

The advent of Spiritualism is through facts and not theories. Its purpose is pentitive knowledge.—Humson Tuttle.

A presumptuous scepticism that rejects facts without estatoin ation of their truth is, in some respects, more injurious than unquestioning crodulity -- Ht. MECLOT

Up to the time when I first became acquainted with the facts of Spiritualism, I was a confirmed philosophical mortic. Facts, however, beat me and compelled me to accept them as fasts long before I could accept the quiritual explanation of them. - ALFRED R. WALLACE, P.R.S.

In the whole universe as is consingent, nothing is innecessary actiling the cause of itself. To explain the camers of all, therefore, we meet admit a cause which may be necessarily a cause of itself and of all things. This cause being, since it is accountry, it follows that God in, for ft in God - LEONTYL

In his letter Mr. Foster describes two physical facts observed by himself and his friends in his library, via.—the passage through the closed and burriouded doors of his book-case, of three large volumes and a heavy roll of paper, which were brought and laid upon the table round which he and his friends were sitting He offered Professor Typidall 500 guinous to explain this pile nomenon accontificulty, or show how it could be done. This is perfectly fair offer-but, of course, Professor Tyndall would ecorn to even look at 500 guinous.

Mr. Postor is, like the late Mr Fowler of Lavorpool, a thoroughly responsible man-and he makes a similar offer and double the amount to Professor Huxley. The Professor has and that the only case of Spritterium he ever explained was a gross imposture—as use might say the only bank note he ever took was a counterfoit. Mr. Foster says

"Let him ley again, as Surgoon-General Wolsolay dal a few weeks ago, and as the Premier did still more recently, and if he do receive entire enterfaction, as I am confedent to will, then nationales to do the same afterwards, and tell us low it whose he can have 1000 guiness for his trouble. Now, gentlemen-Fredomers Typdall and Haxley-you have a chance of securing 1,300 guaress between you. Serely that will compensate for the time and trouble involved in conducting your experiments , and when you have done the above t shall be gind to subsult a variety of others of a still more perpleason character "

Here is no question of a wager, but the offer of a generous reward to two mos of acience for information they ought to be dord. Why did God tooks him would be a more reasonable most happy to furnish. Needless to say that were the offer £1,000,000 it would no more be chanted than the 1,500 gainous. because, with a few most honourable exceptions, men of science hare "made up their made," and no anabor of adverse facts , will ever change them.

What with offers of gifts and shallenges for a thousand pounds, Spiritualism is becoming almost as interesting as boxing or horse-racing ! Doubtless, some look upon this mixing up of money with the phenomena which demonstrates the reality of the spirit life at a desceration. "Thy money perish with thee," quotes one noted champion of the cause-but would may one like to may that to the Archbishop of Canterbury, who gets £15,000 a-year for performing spiritual functions ?

The offers of rewards of handrods or thousands of pounds by well-known Spiritualists for the reproduction of spiritual phenomena by " exposure" under the same conditions that they occur in the presence of mediums, have nover been accepted. There has not been the loast effort in that direction. Funcy Mr Maskelyna undertaking to write within a locked state amwers to Mr. Gladstone's three questions in Italian, Spanish, and Greek, when he was utterly ignorant of each language."

Or this, which I have seen done on several occasions with sent

Mr. Eglinton. A blank card is placed between two slates, the sitter places his two hands upon them, and is then asked. What do you desire to be written?" He says "A message to mysolf in German, French, Italian, Greek"-as the case may Still holding the slate firmly under his hand he hears the writing will me. Raising the upper slate he finds a message aduranced to a min the language he had salected. Will any "exposer" do that for a year's aslary of the Archimbop of

Or take this case which occurred recoully to the present erator. Waden a for information in a personal matter which a one in this life sould give me, I went to Mr. Eghaten and privately wrote three strictly private and personal questions on his double slate, and looked it. Under my hands I heard the sound of writing, and found, in a handwriting perfectly fundance to int, the answers to my three questions.

An arrowed Materialist like Mr. Labouchero can only say It is impossible. It is contrary to the unchanging laws of nature. It would be a muracle, and there are no such things as miracles. These who pretend to have them are introducts, and those who believe in thom are ideats. All Spirituanete are either knaves or fools." And Mr. Labouelore is quite willing to bet 1,000 posteds to prove it, if he can have Professor Ray Lankouter to choose the jury

The writers in some of the Evangelical periodicals take very different ground from that of the Materialists of the type of the two members for Northampton. "A Laymon," replying to be " Sports Teachings " of " M. A. (Ozon.)" says .--

"There is we difference in character whatever between any of the aphrita-thus are all east in the same mount at the same object in view—the rate of the make of men however much the r taction may vary in details, in their persults thereof

The air they breaths is every atom curst. There's no degree of ills, for at is worse

And this is the keynote to the whole question, the money of which we can alone checkbute the question.

Be its more on to clueidate by the repetation of his loclaration that all the populostations are disbolical.

Roal, but diabolical. Undoubtedly gonnano, but at an doubtedly the work of the devil, and a close proof of his existonce and power. Pancy old Cloudy writing Greek between two looked states to unitrap the soul of Mr. Gladstone. Of course, God Who made the davil allows him to do all this muchof. If I wore to permit a oring to be committed which I would prevent. I should be held responsible.

Nothing is gained by attributing the muchief of Spiritualism to the devil. Infinite power and windom carry infinite response bility. To say that God "pormits" ovil is an evenion. He who croates in completely respectable for all the results of his creation. Poor Friday asked Robinson Cruses why God dal not kill the Qua freit per olaum fecit pur so. If In God " we live and move and have our being," the same must be true of all intel. goncon, good or svil , so that nothing is gained by attributing alate-writing to Satur, and our pions friends had better still on another tack. Suppose the munifestations are diabeliant, why denounce that which proves the existence of the devil, which all infidols dony f H may of your friends dony it, all you have to do is to take them to Mr Eglaten, or any good medium, and have his existence demonstrated

Do the diabeliate really think that the devil is feel enough to show his horse and hoof whom he can just as easily "transform himself into an angol of light," and decoive, if it were passable, the very elect-perhaps oven the denouncers of Spiritualism in the Evengeness supers

The Banner of Light gives two carrous statements regarding Mr. Manafield, an American writing medium, who gets answers to sealed letters addressed to spirit friends, sent to him by people ad over the world. He says he sat fifty three times with his wife up hour at each seance, before he was controlled to write. Inc of his batest feats was to give in public a vertation copy of a letter from Ohio, exercially enclosed and the end unbruken, while it was in the packet of the gentlement to whom it was

SPIRITUALISM.

Recently, in a paper ausnamed Truth, there appeared a notice of a unitermination scance, in which truth was made conspicuous by its absence. Were it worth while every pasagraph in which an slieged fact in stated could ocshallenged, and every succer turned upon the person who wrote it, but this controversy would be futue.

I wish to refer more particularly to another platform of minutes before. The following is a copy of the ghost's letter: discussion where we, who are Christians as well as spiritualistic, it is wisest, I think, to avoid theories as much as possible and keep to facts. Scientific men claim, rightly, to darkness. Farewell for a time, argue from the known to the anknown, but they wrough a sire, I think, to make an addending of the word laws, if they would accept facts, sufficiently proved, and base their conclusions on them, they would then come to truths which most be accounted for, and would possibly ansover by such a mode of resourch other laws not yet recognised by scurrer, but which are recognised in the domain of faith. In the Church we sak for more science: In the scientific world for

In a recent discussion on "Chosts," Mr. Pottmore invited by a Laterary Society of which I am a member a sy repr sented the Society for Psychical Research, and moved the following resolution :-

"That the intest eclentific investigation elenely proves the existence of Oliosta and in doing so, stated the present position of matters, which, as far as I could gather the will correct me if I am wrong), is this; they have discovered that toer is a substrutum of truth in the almost universal beta I at a sorte, but up to the point they have expet gone to. the ghosts are subjective, and not objective, i.e., people neeghosts of their own erection. There may be rure instances of an objective ghost, out they are in the shade! And thus for have also the Theosophists arrived, with the addition of a giving subjective conditions, only, however, to retard the aparit in its career towards Nicroso. This theory gives a material power over spirite which Christians will be the lost to admit

After Mr Pedujore had spoken, I ventured into the arona as the champion of ghosts I although the term draws us rather into the night safe of the subject as which we Spiritualists are interested. I gave three cases from my own personal experience. The first case partook somewhat of the character agen and to them by Mr. Pedmore, but east No. 2 was out instituted of it more real ghost, one seen only by semilives. It haunted a cottage in the country whom I first entered it, and objected to my being there. We had a senues at the cottage under spirit direction, and the The story of the education of this spirit in sockers the Bt different times, none of whom were told of his existence previously, and one gentleman, a sensitive, was startled by got up and spoke thus :-the ghost having materialised a hand and arm which he by the side of the hand and arm which my friend saw. This trying to cheat one another, and " that is how it is done!" ghost has since risen to a higher life. He came recently to

THE SPIRIT OF PUBLIC DISCUSSION OF because his character was improved. In a few minutes he further proved his presence by writing the following letter, or rather by having it written for him by another sparit wellknown to us, he scrawling has agnature to it.

The letter I read to the meeting, handing it round for inspection, and here it is. Upon the same sheet of paper are three other direct spirit-written letters, each in different styles of writing and signed by the various spirits writing them. The paper beam a private mark of 107 own, by which I plentified it at the time as horing been blank a few

"DEAR StR AND MARKET, You will be glad to know I am Spiritualists, might look for better though I mean where improving and with Cours map I will continue to do so. All is Sucritantism is brought forward for calm consideration in a well at ____, my dram is changing. I am going up higher. I literary society connected with a Christian assembly. In the shall not be able to be so often at the old house, but may come present frenzied state of the Church in relation to everything semetimes. God bless you all for what you have done for me. Thank Mary, your medium, for first showing me light in my * B. , by J W E."

> I may comark that his presence, which was at first objectionable, was recently quite the reverse, and his atorest in our family life was shown one night either ludieranily. Mary was rubbing by da gater achieck onto de with toothacke pencil, when B - ap eared to Mary (not to N.) and speke " That be ent no good put it on the parwhich Mary interpreted aright us jaw, and so applied it, with success.

> Now I consider that ghost protty well proved, especially with the admition of other details I here omit in consideration for space.

> The third case was the one already recorded in these columns on the 13th Decomber, the secount of which I read from print. This one was seen by eight and recognised by four of those present; it shook hands also with myself and was a real substantial ghout I or spirit, as I prefer to call

I had proviously asked this sperit to give me a direct wering to show to the meeting, and on the morning of the day at 8 a.m., I found on my study table a long message, timing three pages, signed by him and written on marked paper, which was cortainly blank overnight. In the midst t occurs the following, which I should rely on, among other things, as proof to an inquiry of the spirit one u of shell or estent body, which we can essist to approach in by the writing, no one in the house knows, took, are no on saving access to my room, which was locked taitly it

> "Dean Peterson,-We, who are passed away, all take a new unmo in our new hours. Read Rev per spuree Ovreescrite emissire emissir de diederys un ifer qu Bibber Observer amunicallas con

"The English of this I shall leave you were once to find out.

. . . . . . . . . . dictated a great part by E. M.

The spirit in life-time knew Greek, the word undersegred many and on but I cannot quite determine how to read

But to come to the pith of this paper. There are certainly ghost came and spoke through our entranced measure, some remarkable facts stated above, and detailed at greater math to the meeting, which one would have thought should higher life and of its coming to annoy my sensities visitors, in have been meet on their own ground. But it seems to me a long, interesting lastery. He was seen by four clairvoyants | the usual thing is for the speaker, in polite terms, to be called either a fool or a liar. One of my dearest friends

"We all know Mr. Theolaid, his word is above suspicion, thrust out from arrier the dressing-table as he was standing and we know he is speaking what he believes to be the m front of the toilet-glass, that oring the only instance in truth," &c., &c. So far so good, but then he added how he which he became visible, except to our medium, who had talks | once produced simulations of the phenomena; and another and purleys with him many times, but, of course, this was shady one told us how he and a party met for the very purpose of This kind of twaddle, and also another favourite mode of one of our scances at home, and was announced by our little reply by raising up ghosts and then knocking down such spirit daughter as "having come with a new dress," whiter, I self-made ghosts (very easy and very amusing, no doubt), are not what we should expect from serious people. Yet this is what is received with rough guifaves and peals of laughter. Such methods we might expect from Truth, but not from intimate personal friends. The most serious attempt to reply to the fact of my having shaken hands with a spirit is that I was deceived! Well, I might have been, but how about the four others present who testified to the same thing I and if four are not enough, how many are a flourishing banking business at San Jose. He was a deep sufficient to establish such a fact? And how about the Greek, which I am told is incorrect because per cannot stand first !

January 17, 1885.

I apprehend the spirit can put it where it likes, and if it is suggested that it is copied, and not cannot in the where Epiritualism was mostly the theme of our discourse. original be found standing first, it seems to prove to use it and I could only oppose to his sharp logic my own actual In sent correct.

Let me add that my transcription may be faulty by conwriting, and I am not Greek scholar enough to decide.

To rotern to the quantum of the amount of testimony necessary to establish a fact. Three were two disciples only poernoying to Emmans, and their testamony that they saw Christ's given body is accepted by the same people who refuse to accept the evidence of four to a similar fact, and if proces witnesses in my house testify to an unusual phonomenon, we are all very politely looked upon as non compasarealst f

Is this such a pleasant position for us to be pleased in that we should be likely to covet it or even to hear per testimony for such fruits? If we could accept the theory | ledge to mortals before their death. of ballgernation would it not be far simpler ! But we dare not-we could not. We look to the truth to make us free It is the old story of persecution on the advest of anything new, and an endeavour to put down by the strong arm of the law, civil or religious, for both are equally vindictive, God's now reveletion to the world, given to a sceptical age which yearns for such proofs of an after Title.

Монкіл Тикопаллі December 24th, 1884.

P.S.—Since writing the above I have had the following direct spirit-writing put into my drawer; it relates to the Greek quoted above :-

At first he was called Onlis, but as mon as he had comped, and some out of the janelin's reach he said he upto named Orinsetta-Lumes

We meant by it, on earth we are known by only one name, but when we enter to our higher life we change or have a new name, and if you read Revolutions you will see that all have a new name in the Lamb's Book of Lafe.

for Sandi.

A Beaprose goutlemen (an inquirer) is anxious to meet some

Second Commentance left Bories, writes a correspondent, with pockets well-filled by his sensees in thought-reading and explanations of spirit-photocrons. His visit has done goal for many who were dissetisfied with his representations have added to the numbers of subscribers to the Carman Spectualist

LA CONSTANCIA OF BUENOS CYBES. La Constancia de sue of the established corriers of the Van Kovice school which is turning more attention to what by but where is certifice perm ental Surroundiam. La last our ber mares excitacts from Facts, Peorta, US majong them the following Spari-Identity Mrs. Kare Street, of Boston, was at a source wher a medium was contribed by a sport who said through her that she was Mrx Stales' daughter to mentify herself she arew near her taked her not to be alarmen, put her hand into Mrs. Stiles pocket, drew out her pocket be hand onto Mrs. Stoles packet, drew out her packet book and picked out from it an otdery notice of herselt which Mrs. States had cut out of a newspaper and and. See here, our mother the proof of what, or have called my death. The measure was a stranger. * Her presence, continues Mrs. Stiles, 'upo real however, the concommence of her for She has since communicated to me through two other measures. It my great for "

AN UNDENIABLE FACT

Under this heading Mr. J. J. Owen published an interesting letter in the Religio-Philosophical Journal of July 26th, 1884. He related his experiences as follows .-

"Twelve years ago I numbered among my intimate friends a dutingualted Senator of California, who also had thinker, a man of domaive judgment, but a hard materialist. He believed with Job that all consequences ceased with the grave, and hence also the judividual life. Dr. Knox was a frequent and always a welcome visitor in my study, experiences and those of others. Gradually he felt the end of his days approaching, for he suffered from a slow developfusing s and s, which are not always clear in the original log lu go heave. He often spoke trustfully of the sverlasting sleep which awnited him, with its sternal forgetfulness, nor did he experience any fear of dying. On one of these occasions I mid to hum, ' Doctor, although you are certain that you have solved the riddle of your future exestence, I, on the other hand, am equally convinced that you will one day not your error and become conscious that another life laging beyond the grave, let us, therefore, come to an under standing, that if you find yourself alive there, you will, if possible, communicate with me in these few words, I still live. He sernestly made me this promise, assuring me that he should feel it a solumn duty to impart this know-

"A few months after, the faithful friend had passed over' beavely and peacefully. He died, as he had lived, without hope and fear as to the future. Three years passed away without my finding an opportunity of 'proving the spir ts. Knox also seemed in no was moved to give a ign. Meanwhile a younger brother of his passed away and soon returned as the chief control for direct slatewriting of the median, Mrs. Clara L. Reid, who now lives at San Francisco. I was becoming extremely anxious to hear something of the dead friend, the more so when once a material actor mes man come from the East, whom I knew to be genuine. This medium told me that he was some times allowed by his control to give proofs through the direct state-writing, and would attempt it for my bonefit.

"This offer I thankfully accepted. I cleaned a state put a moral of pencil on it, and prouse it under the leaf of the table. The medium placed one of his hands over muse under the table, and the other on the upper surface of two table. After a few infruster we heard some gentle raps. My thoughts were meanwhile fixed on my dead friend, and I saked if the knocking came from him. The reply was one stroke, the well-known signal for 'Na.' I next asked Splittenists in the neighbourhood for advice and instruction. We the spirit to communicate by means of the alphabet. Three shall be pleased if any of our correspondents can help in this raps followed, and the word 'Knex' was spelt out. Then we heard the sound of writing, and I found on the slate Friend wer. The facts which intare shows is are true and the most the would no wase. Indosepher string, sex often was one was corner in his pet theories, who shell serves but on thousand above to a great text of north time encertainty. This was not exactly a case, for all our her items as to a full our fewers as to a full our fewers a for our y cortlar we yet a must reduce edge that my man exact such as presented one, and and red repone to be a se to say to you my friend. I sail five " Your friend as formerly, Wa Knox

" It must be observed that this medium only came to California three years after my friend's death , that he sever snew am, also that the handwriting on the slate was so completely that of my dead friend that it was recognised as his at the bank of which he was president."

"RAKE Birs" is giving "Glimpers of the Supernatural" everyweek, and less not hastate to draw upon avowedly specialistic sources. In the list same a narrative first contributes to these columns, by our esteemed a worker Mr E. Dawson Rogers, is quoted with but slight abridgment.

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

The Conduct of Circles.-- By M. C. (Oxon.)

and imposture, try it by personal experiment

If you can got an introduction to some experienced Spir tunlists on whose good faith you can rely, ask blin for advice; and, if he is hadding private circles, sonk permission to attend one to see how to conduct seances, and what to expect

There is, however, difficulty in obtaining access to private circles. and, in any case, you must rely chiefly on experiences in your own family circle, or amongst your own friends, all strangers bring excluded. The auth of Spiritualists have gained conviction time.

Form a virele of from four to eight persons, ball, or at least two, of nogative, passive temperament, and preferably of the female sax the rest of a more positive type

Mr pays are half negative a territority secure against modurbonce in sublined light, and in confortable and unconstrained positions, round an uncovered talks of convenient size. Place the paints of the hands that upon its upper surface. The hands of each sister need not touch those of his neighbour, though the peactics is frequently adopted

Do not concentrate attention too fixedly on the expected manifesti toto. Engage in cheer but not freedome can erea on Avoid assents or argument. See stresses has no detected offer but a latter spirit of appealties in a posson of determined will may totally stop or docatedly impede manifestations. If convenation than, amain is a great help, if it be agreeable to all, and not of a is a to are up a the second ye care. Patience to essential, and it tony someon as a topic on or twelve times at short intervals, Howell seform anything occurs. I after such the controll fail, for a se fresh sirale. Leasurent this remion of your factor observed a the pharmonical elements, and introduce others. An air should a the limit of an inpercental scance

The first indications of sucress nearly are a cold breeze passing over the hands, with involue any twitching of the hands and are of some of the sitters, and a sensation of throbbing in the take Those indications, at that so alight as to cause doubt as to their reality, wist mainly develop with more or ine capitity

If the table noves, let your presence be so gentle on its surface that you are sure you are not unling its motions. After some the you will probably find that the movement will continue it your bands are hold over, but not in contact with it. Do not, however, try this nate the movement is assured, and he is no heavy to get

When you think that the time has come, let some one take command of the circle and not to spectament. Explain to the unween Intelligence that an agreed code of signals is desirable, and

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

The following is a list of eminent persons who, after personal investigation, have satisfied themselves of the reality of some of If you wish to see whether Spiritua our or really only angulary, the supposition generally known as Paychical or Spiritualistic.

An meterisk is prefixed to those who have exchanged benef for knowledge.

SCIENCE. The Earl of Crawford and Baloures, F.R.S., President ILA.S.; W. Crookes, Fellow and Gold Medallist of the Rayal Society , C. Varley, F R.S., C.E.; A. R. Wallace, the est nent Natural at W. F. Barrett, F.R.S. E., Professor of Physics n be I was to be wonf Science, Dublin , Dr. Lockbart Robertson , by I liffling any F a S. suppressible I respond to the Loyal Meric cal and Chiraggical Society of London "Protessor de Murgan monething President of the Mathematical Society of London , "I'm Witt, Gregory, P.R.S.P., semetime Professor of Chemistry in the l'aivenity of Edinburgh; "De Ashburatz, "Mr. Butter, "Dr. Herbert Mayo, F R.S., &c., &c.

"Professor F Zöllner of Leipzig, author of "Transcendental Physics," &c. Protessors . T. Fechner Sche,baer, and a M. Printe, of Length Professor W. E. Weber, of Gott agent Professor Hoffman, of W. rzburg. Professor Perty of Berne. I soleware Wagner out Butterall of Jeterstanty Podessors Haro and Mapes, of U.S.A. 1 . 7 Report Priese of Bresian Mone. Camillo Flammarion, Astronomer, &c., &c.

I STERATE RE-The Earl of Duaraven; T A. Trollope S. C. Hall; Gerald Massey; Captain R. Burton; Professor Casel, Li.D., "Loni Broughton; "Lond Lytten; "Lond Lyndhunet; "Archbelop Whately; "Dr. R. Chambers, F.B.R.E. "W hl. Thackerny; "Nassau Senior "George Thompson; "W "Ser, cant (ox , "Mrs. showing than lamen Noch, Sec. Sec.

Bishop Clarke, Bhode Island, U.S.A.; Darine Lyman, U.S.A. 1 Professor W Doutes 1 Professor Alex. Wilder 1 Profewor Mirans Corson , Professor George Bush ; and twenty-tone Judges and excludges of the U.S. Courts; Victor Huge, Baron and Baronam von Vay; "W Lloyd Garrison, U.S.A.; "Hon. II Date tower S.A. "Ron J.W. Edmonds, U.S.A. "Epe-Sa gent laron da l'otet; "Louet A. de Casparin; "Baron L.

as induced their &c., &c. IL S. II. the Prince of Spine; H. B. H. Prince Albrecht of Solms; H. S. H. Prince Emile of Says Wittgenstein , Hon. Alexander Absakof, Imperial Consciller of Rassin; the Hon. J. L. O'Mullivan, concetting Minister of U.S.A. at the Court of Lisbon ; M. Pavra-Clavaless, late Comul-General of France at Triorie; the late Emperors of "Russia and "Praces; Presidents "Talens command of the circle and defer approximant. Explain to the unseen Intelligence that an agreed code of signals is designable, and that solvent all thing be given as the adjusted is developing to the will be sometimed as a signed code of signals is designable.

IN STOCKMERINGS

Where a salf-allower meeting of the No. Of the total code of the will be sometimed as a signed time to the first agree we as and two for express totals or interstant.

Where a salf-allower eministrate thin has been established, as if y in one of the life properties to be, which of the company of the medium, and such relevant questions. If confusion occurs, see the the life of the properties to be, when a rear allower or a part of the I belighted to spensa at two in a rear allower or apart of the I belighted to spensa at two in a rear allower or apart of the I belighted to spensa at two in a rear allower or apart of the I belighted to spensa at two in a rear allower or apart of the I belighted to spensa at two in a rear allower or apart of the I belighted to spensa the control of the spensal and the spensal part that there are allowed to the properties to be spenk with a life of the order of the spensal and the spensal and the spensal and the spensal part that there are allowed to the properties to be spend with an life of the spensal and the spensal part that there are allowed to the properties the spensal and the spensal and the spensal and the spensal part that there are a spensal and the spensal part that all there are a spensal for the spensal and the spensal a

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

"LIGHT MORE LIVER " Godes " WHATEVER FOUR MARK MAXIFEST IS ADMIT - Peni

No. 212 --- YOL V.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 24, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS

Fasterie and Explerie Euclidhim 27 The Path Math Secrete Corresponds at the proofs Manager 22 and sport is taken The Calcat 184 medical of Spargage amounts: to the a a store of The Sparshan Chall and A 2 and the State of the Control 2004, at the Con elicas Bucks of Sphrough PART ARE PERMIT

The Editor of "Liony" dearer it to be distinctly understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the opinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents. Free and courteens document is uncited, but seriters are alone responsible for the articles to which their names are Linkontin

ESOTERIC AND EXOTERIC BUDDHISM By WILLIAM OXLEY

The importance of the following remarks must be my purtification for again bringing this subject before the readors of "Learn;" In my former article I gave facts which showed what Buddhesia really is in the countries where it has its undoubted fact that the principal founders and active strong. workers in the Theosophical movement are Buddhuits pure - As shown in my previous paper, and admitted by friend any that is known to Western much. It is this phase lumself, and others of lesser note, as well as the Adepts, for pure and undefiled treth. The law of evolution has busic doctrine is questionable, and undemonstrable to far especially in Christendons—to a degree that the stagnant system, its philosophy included, is nothing more than specia-East neither understands nor appreciates; and from the lation, and understrying of acceptance by those who will and Mahatman downward all reckon without their host if they must have a standard of truth that is massaulable. think that their claims and pretentions will pass unchalsystem in its headquarters may be seen and known.

and others of lesser degree, is the corner-stone of the system, the purpose (in plans English) of reforming the occult

The brilliant expositor of Mahatmal Theosophy (Mr. Sinnett) does not leave us in any doubt on this matter, for he says (see " Esotoric Buddham,"p. 142)," the re-incornations of the Dalar and Teshu Lames in Thibet, at which travellers only sough for want of the knowlege that anglit enable them to sift fact from lanny, is a solar scientific achievement." This as obor and unmestakable, and in other parts of the same aliapter the searned author tells us how the re-mearmation is efficient, by means of "the selection of a child-body," which, if true at al, is a worse edition of the suckee meeting the hedge-marrow, for in such a cuse it is ejecting the spirit which had built up a tenement for itself, and foreibly taking possession of the house built for another by its own about Surely Mr. Sinnett or his teachers must have overlooked this, or they would searcely have presented the exemplification of the doctrine of the re-mearmation in this form. What conceivable right has the Lord Buddha, los superseces, or the Adepts, to appropriate a living temple erected for, and by, another spirit atom of life, for their own specific manifestation and use? In such a case we cannot, and will not adopt that the end juntifies the means

Apart from the truth, or otherwise, of the theory as put home, and the question raised by a knowledge of the facts forth by the mouthpress of the Maliatmas or Adepts, I now there adduced is, Does that system of religion give to its propose to supply details of the actual working of this votaries a means conducive to their well-being in the life doctrine, as it is examplified in the persons of the Grand that now in and elevate them in the scale of mornity and Laman of Thibat, who are the Pontiffs of the Buddliantellectuality? Judging by the well-known saying "that a later Church. In plain terms, I will give the other side of teen is known by its fruits," the response from our the picture, which is withheld, either from ignorance or point of view, one searcely be farourable. What concorns design. According to the avidence which I now address, us, whether as Christians, or Spiritualists, or truthscokors, and which is open to challings if it can be disproved, it is is the claums that are advanced by the leaders of the Thee- not the defauet Adept, or dying Buildha, who "selects the explical Society on behalf of the electric aids of the Bud, new child body" to re-meanante in, but the Chinese Governthe tre system of philosophy or being the repository of the secular and politic "True Wasdom Religion," and also that its leaders and pro to vermiont Council is gifted with a Divine wisdom, then moters are the equipolisms of all but absolute truth in it relegates the whole affair to a fraudulent imposition of the relation to the Cosmos, do. Whatever the Mahatmas them- gromest kind. Strong as the judgment in I leave it to the so we may be? there ap wife religious proclipities, it is an reader, after reading what follows, to say if it is any too and simple; and bowever wate the latitude given to the and fee alike, the grand central dectrine on which Bucklishn measless of this Society for the upholding of their own as system of thought and religion rests is, "The Living specific religious, or other views, yet the Buddhusto school Buddhas," which means the continuous existence on this of thought is held up as the parent and best, and far above earth, by a succession of re-incarnations, of the Lord Buddha and this representation that chiefly concern us as searchers | The issue is clearly drawn; and if it can be shown that this been at work, cosulting in the devation of human mentality- criticism and scientific test, then it follows that the whole

To any but partisant, and to those who have made thembruged. So far as the Occident is concerned, the day has selves acquainted with the actual working of the system, the gone for ever in which dogmatic ensumptions and declara- first surprise is to find how extremely modern it is, a.s., in tions will pass for accepted truths and infallible wisdom, relation to the new accepted faith in the continuous It is not now my object to deal with their doctrinos, re-incornations. What might have been known, or is alleged theories, and system of othics, but rather to left the veil, tohave been known by the founder and his successors, it was in order that the practical working of the Buddhustic not until about 1450 a.o. that it became the corner-stone of the system. It was then that Taong-Ke-pa, who, Mr. I pointed out in my last article that the doctrine of the Sannett Informs us, was the third incarnation of Guatama living Buddhas, by which is meant the re-incarnation of Buddha, appeared on the scene. Buddhast apologists say Buddha lumself, in personal form continuously upon thesearth, that this third re-mearination of the Lord Buddha was for apies me out temporal severage to it is sufficient to say at the easily from their domentical human form." its capity and wors are been a Building was Room i.s., about 100 years after the ore of Tsong karm the a terbarring run the gauntlet, first, of the procethood; then whole conduct of Thibeton affairs, both spiritual and a race. Scepticism as to this cannot be regarded other temporal, into the hunds of a council consisting of the two than quite matchable Grand Lamas and four laymen, under the supervision of two a there made.

From what is advanced by Mr. Sinnett, as the advacate , same of an arrogant hierarchy ! of the "solar scientific fact" of the re-incornation of the Grand Lannas, who are presumed to be Adopts of the advocates of Mahatmai Theosophy to show to the contrary, highest order, it would seem that the dying Buckhas went that Exeteric Buckhasm is the flowering out, or external their own child-hodies " for the purpose of re-mancembary manifestation, if what they are pleased to call Easteries themselves again into carta-life. But this is total at Buddhasm, and that the one is to the other what variance we the real facts of the case for he selection, the personality is to the individuality of the man or is by the Chinese Government, which is made from a | woman greater or leases number of claumants. It is impossible to number of infants whose both concided with the death of it would not be a difficult and cturing to show the weak on one occasion, the Chinese Government early managed the ordinary men upon of the alleger H calayan Viets capdidates for the vacant office "

who, in turn, ofer the matter to the Peking voicer one t select a few These names are inscribed on wooden tablets, | with a transparent found t and deposited in a golden urn; and the child whose mour is first drawn forth from the urn is forthwith, under public acclaimation, solounly out would by the correspond the re-one- have given (which are only a small part, but such demail, boursent of the deceased cagnitary theory that the Buddhas and Adepts "select their own child bodies "! But the Government of the Chinese Celestia. Empire goes further than this, for it cianus the

"These quotations are taken from a work contibed. These Lactures on Embilitions," by Ermit a Tubing, the D. (Trobner and Co. 1984), to which rejumble work the order a referred for tarthey details.

fraterate, which at that period had lost much for printing right to prevent any re-monuterous if it chooses so to do, occult vigour, it not morality. But an man inted con , for "some time ago the Chinese Government, withing to secontions historian unnequarated with metaphysical abelian a certain high office in Thillet & , on the occuse subtleties, puts it down as a bold and so far auccessful of the last occupant, by simply team g an Impercal exact. attempt by this Church reference, "to secure for the lifer actually published in the Peking to ette informing the nichy of his own Church the perpetual succession of Thibeton Pontificate that 'His Majesty the Emperor of Chuse had been pleased to forbid the deceased dignitary I is accessive to rear force bestory of Thibet, but for ever the privilege of reappearing again on earth in

It is too great a draft on our credulity to credit the settle Christia system and that the triand Lamins are Covery Government with any higher motives then State the six best "Su secret ites said the Church, I am and seems and to suppose that the "selected child-body," present Tatsing dynasty, having completed the concuest of of the two tomorisaismers, and again of the Chain, turned ther attention to Thibet, and the two thes tovernment of low as and finally the term up of the Grand Lamas tendered their allegiance, since which time lettery bag-I say, if the original "selected child-body " by the Government of Pekin has retained the supreme tutidage the dying Buildian, or Anopts, successfe y preses through of the Buddhustic hierarchy of Thibet. "Since the middle these orderic and eventually should be the one known to of the last century the Chusese Government placed the the Adepta beforehand, it may be regarded as a miracle of

When the corruption, latrigues, conflicting clause of Chinoso commissioners." What this involves will be seen the "selected refaits, or their parents, which this price if if the laster, representing the Chinese Govern- wretched affear a volves, are thus land open to public scruting, ment, are the real powers, both in Church and State, in who, amongst cultured and intelligent people, can regard I sher and even the two Grand Lauras are sut to supuppers then whole thing otherwise then as a scandelous imposito perpetented for the purpose of supporting the proten-

I maintain, notwithstanding the attempts made by the

The "facts" which I have given show the straits that square the two accounts, and the inference is obvious. The Exeteric Buddhism is reduced to, in order to give a planmach, any implayed for the discovery of the "selected child" subjectioning to the cardinal destrine of re-incurrantion, and body " is an follows The selection in made from a large what to the cots or practice has distripped that person. the properties pontist, provided that such birth was con ness, and more than weakness, of this doctrinal theory as neeted with naspielous higher favouring an artificial analogy presented from the esoteric side, for unless it can be with the spiritual characteristics of the vacant office. As proved by "sober scientific fact" to rest upon sever founthe deciden upon such analogies naturally produced disputes dations than the examples given—which are fathered by to obtain the right of all man ever sion as to the engine, then the cultured minds of the Occident are doing the right of large conject ap the claims and along with the claims the But this is not als, for the astute overment of Pekr g whole philosophy of the system, put forth on behalf of those is equal to any occusion where a difficult problem has to be authorio unseen and anknown (except by the favoured few) noived by-policy! Perhaps the greatest surprise to the castodrans of occult wisdom and powers. Occult truth . a mary much will be to discover that the alternate decision | does not require helatering up by questionable means; and of a "selected child-body" is determined by a lottery to use unnecessary a statement, when the cultivated which scheme was devised by the Chinese Emperors . To antellects of the age are rightly demanding the abandonment A.D. The machin operand is as follows :- "The infant 'equal, of the new checked of the past, which, instead of throught forward by the pricethood, and their respective liberating the main from the bondage of ignorance, have been problematic claims to be an incarnation of the deceased used for the purpose of endaving the many to the few, in to dignitary, are submitted first to the Chinese Commissioners, persist in a course which all lovers of liberty will reject and resist. How can they do otherwise with a system that along with their recommendations. A large number of commences on its esoteric side, theoretically, with the theft names are submitted, from which the Ohmese Government of a ready made on a body and finishes on its evoteric sale

It is quite open for the leaders of the Theosophical dovement to cha once and even dear, the state cents I to be of any practical value, must be accompanied by proof In face of these facts, what becomes of the Essteric that the statements are incorrect, because this is a question -ant of the superiority, or otherwise, of doctrinal teaching, but of actual fact. I have given my authority, and here I leave it to the thoughtful consideration of those whom it шау совсети.

Higher Broughton, Manchester. December 13th, 1884.

" MATTER THROUGH MATTER."

January 26, 1983

carrying about one ring, instead of a series of rings, but I as very decidedly improved by their corroboration. cannot quite admit that his correction of me on this matter is " important." My point was simply that the particular ring, which was the subject of experiment in the case under debate, may have been examined, and so imitated. So far from denying the possibility of such examination, Dr. Wyld dent items less concusive, but that when one finds screen expressly admits it, the medium having actually been said on an moonclusive point, one's view of the witness's allowed to take the ring home with him. This fact was not general competence as an investigator is thereby affected, mentioned in Dr. Wyld's first occount-surely a very grave, and in that way the case, which is only known to entailers contision. As regards the nark aga, (1) I do not see through his investigation, is in a true sense weakened. It the exhealty of the at g 1 200 number markings, some as, I think, beyond dispute that persons exact who can pass of them as small as pin-points, for a person who their hands through a band which practy closely encircles has a our and a few hours at his disposal, am (2) before then wrists, and the hypothesis which I threw out was not admo ting that auntation would have last to be carried to be effect as "C. C. M" supposes a mera vague suggessuch a petch of minuteness I should need to know whether tion, without relation to ascertamed facts. On the contrary, Dr. Wyki actually adopted the only course which would give the relation is a very close one, and the compressibility which any relevance to his mention of those minute markings | I suggested is, I submit, "at least approximate" to what -whether he made a complete chart of the nurks, before might antecedently be supposed possible. I am not a carecommitting the ring to the medium, and assured himself it is true, that the feat I have mentioned has over been that the ring on the medium's wrist was similarly marked, performed when the band was of rigid metal, but in the by comparing it as site with his chart. To regard the present case, the metal innat have been very far from filling identification of the ring that fell on the floor as sufficient closely round the wrist, since Dr. Wyld seems to have been would of course, be to assume that that eing was the one able, while it was still energying the bulb, to suspend it found on the medium's wrist-as to which I shall have a my a string and make it ring with a blow word to my farther on. Still it would be interesting to On the other matter with which "C. C. M " is chiefly know whether the chart came into play even at that later occupied-the hypothesis that the boul which Dr. Wyki not his a soon, or his knowledge of Spiritualium, but his the thumb! pyklenos that a certain ovent had taken place. I should be the last to deny that unusual phenomena may demand

Wold must have had nightly practice for many years.

And since he asks me whether I should. " have been much affected." had his friends supplemented his examination of I apologise to Dr. Wyld for having represented him as the arm, I reply that I should have regarded the evidence

> With respect to the dimensions of the ring and the west, it is probable that my made of expression was faulty, since "C. C. 3L," as well as Dr. Wyld, has misunderstood me. My meaning was not that an dem of evidence, however inconcluse a could render other aids sen-til may have been changed-my difference from him, Apropos of his committing the ring to the medium, an if it exists, is of the slightest. But, however near to we have no the anterspect to a sout not go and cortainty a single test brings as, another independent test friends to text the cone tion of the mer name arm, Dr. Wwo. must surely bring us a little nearer. May I not then mildly uses language when impries that, though I may not see by remark that "one would be glid to know," not only that wiscom of his acting as he did, better judges would. There Dr. Wykl chaped the hand tightly, but that he accortained is here a certain confusion of thought. I was criticisms throughout that it was the left hand, by the position of

Finally, C C M " + mkn that the case is of high vident a value. Had I not thought the name. I should poralize conditions. It may quite be the case that, to obtain not any over the first it worth writing amount. But my w this particular phenomenon, certain incusares were meet in now, I admit, a little modified. It must be remembered may, and that Dr. Wyld did well to adopt them. If the that my former criticism went almost entirely on the asmeasures happen to be such as cannot but militate against sumption that the ring found on the medium's wrist was obtaining conclusive evidence, it is, of course, not like fault , and by Dr. Wyld's ring. But the opportunities for huntation but menther is it mine, if I point out that they have so which Dr. Wyld's roply has revealed make me feel that this point is somewhat more doubtful than at first appeared. I do not know whether Dr Wykl means his excuse for "O. C. M. " remarks that it is ununportant, " provided the not having explored the medium's node arm up to the measurement are an an are the ring found in elbow to be taken acriously. He mys: "The medium ascerta is to a perfect, so ... But to ascertain these were a shirt and a cont sleeve, and to remove these while I facts would require a very careful examination of the ring held his left hand would have been a fent requiring the mosts. The only evidence adduced a that Dr. Wyld and his presence of the Davenport Brothern." "Removal" of friends could not remove it, which might very well be; and these impediments to the extent which permits the passage that it rang when struck. But sounds are the most unof a hand up to the ellow is a feat which I have just certain things to judge of, and I certainly should heritate performed with my own left hand on my own right arm, to place reliance on a test of this sort, unless such a blow and which I shall be happy to repeat on either of Dr. I was struck as must certainly have senously endaugered the Wyld's arms, while grasping the hand that belongs to it, encircled wrist. Afterwards, we are told, as the party "all Somes depends on unfastening the sleeve-link of the short walker mount is the light, the ring fell off from the an operation in which I should have thought that Dr measures west " Now can Dr Wyld add that he kept the medium's wrist under close observation, and saw the To his next remark I take no particular exception. He ring quit it ! If so, the case for the identity of the rings is perfectly convinced, by the evidence of his own tactile will be considerably strengthened. At the same time, it is and muscular sensations, that he clasped the medium's left clear that we have now passed well within the bounds of hand throughout, and he says that I-had the experience possible we git of hand, and "C. C. M.'a" remarks on the been mine-would have had a similar conviction. I not fallacies of visual observation, and on an expert's powers of only adont, but I expressly urge that there is a certain aiverting the attention, are exactly in point. Supposing the quality in the evidence of one slows healthy senses which encirching ring to have been so constructed as to open and nothing can quite replace. I therefore did not complian of jahut in some secret way, it could be no great feat for a con-Dr. Wyld's personal conviction my criticism of his jurer, while "walking about in the light," to remove it, and account was entirely from the point of view of evidence, simultaneously to drop another ring in such a way as to

I am not expressing an opinion that this was what took place. But Dr Wyld has described his exporment as a remountration of the passage of matter through matter, and that is a word which cannot be too carefully used. I rejoice to learn that the experiment is to be repeated, and I hope that Dr. Wyld's energy and perseverance may have their fullest roward .- I am, &c

EDNOND GURSET

To students of occult phenomena the ring experiment as mentioned by Dr. Wyld is no novelty. With Mr. Hunk, rings and other objects are passed on his arm at almost every scance held, either at his own readenen or with private circles, I think that but for Mr. Curuey's remarks the subject would have provoked little or no controversy, as the imagority of Spiritualists have witnessed the ring test to their own satisfaction; that is to say, they have found on the by the long or said. But, mys my informant, I among to other medium along which, lead as being the national most of the medium along which, lead as being the national most of the medium along which, lead as being the national most of the medium along which, lead as being the national most of the medium along which, lead as being the national most of the medium along which, lead as being the national most of the medium. wrist of the medium a long which, best as being the carrow to pass over or hand, was previously a pro-to-on-the taken can a near for another a new strategy, or seen and such examined by every one present, and found to be prefer by solid. I have, thus far, witnesses the sir is you to over an neer again new are personally converses, that no found or trickery is penotised I fact I law met was other some what shader tests, which appear to be far more conclusive | than even Dr. Wyld's experience. However, the question as to whether the arm passes through the ring or the ring through the arm, has never been settled. And although no amount of criticisms would shales the belief of some Spiritualists that the ring really passes through the fields and one has ever soon the operation. Yet, at the same time, the critical remarks of Mr. Gurnay are received with an amount of surprise that would be only justifiable were the whole world convenced of the reality of "matter passing through unatter." Mr. Gurney's opinion that " la these matters it is impossible to place implicit relance on the report of a single sunse of a single person" is, to my experience in senceroun mysteries, but lon well founded, especially as far as and ne see the ron ring can be made to go through the the source of night is concerned. Of source I do not refer to these I to second use, the r g drope of excuse to the night of a prich mark room, but to the respective powers, at one are done in an operation which becomes imperative can be seen by means of the summous sorte-

to to the source of hearing and of touch, every one in the liabil of sitting in total darkness will be aware of a the difficulty in localizing sound, and in discovering the noture of the object one touches, or by which one may be from the beyone until the very ene of the service. These touched. Dr. Wyld's case may be sufficiently clear to those I at at the carefully exampled by several monest who have themselves witnessed similar occurrences, though to others of no such experience, the more suggestion of a ring (not a trick-ring) being passed through the human destity afterwards she proveres, that something was on wrist, must sound like a joke, and naturally so, since the actual passage of matter through matter nover has been the maff witnessed, or been proven. Wore it not for a cartour amount of opposition which the spiritualistic theory must mavoidably excounter, Spiritualists would but too readily assume that, with their experience of occult phenomena, they were at the same cause, origin, and modus operands. Fast, and even unfair, criticism has at least the advantage of causing us more thoroughly to consider our facts before we attempt to explain right senses expect an outsider to believe the statements of grasp.

those who did not see what really took place? Nor even January 17th, 1885.

produce the impression that the latter had falles from his could those who successfully conducted the experiment reasonably claum a scientific discovery. For science does not and causes trouble stadf with the observation of spore results, class red so one knows on the new smarts to seem the cross. It manages to know whether matter does pass through martie no if so, a way does pure Even vero the ring test sufficiently es a colon as a fact we would be then only at the bearing of a scientific manatigavia., How is it done !

January '4 Desc.

L dess the very process be observed there can be no other fact established than the fact of having to deal with a cremendous pezale.

Dr. Wykl expresses has hope that Mr. Huak might by practice produce the ring experiment in a lighted room, the hands of the operators and the rings only being in darkness." What, may I ask, would be gained by this? If Mr Husk would ut in darkson with the hunds and the rings in the fight, one a she ertert a stone hope of success. Kon this co. at a teleprosection informs me that it is not impossible to exhibit the passage

I are not as what a least or town there's so at percent of the way of the view of the terms of the West seasons are my sport or for the court seasons are my sport or for or reads to Dr. While the account period of fourth party and "to be regard to row, form; to the thour was the ham was placed whiled the window curtain. Does Dr. Wyld overlook the fact that in her f tends case the ring was taken off, not put un? I must call has attention to the well-known theory that the process of fixing the ring on the wrist and the mode of taking it of are considered to be different in their operation, incremedas in the first case the medium's wrist is disintegrated, the second the atoms of the ring are divuled. a can't be for dies olds or from spirits or trainer speak warmer the sew of mengegrature is somewhat conflict to Street range on the course of again, if you because the to pry some about to practice aperators to any in leave to say about 1 ed a me that the meaning, among a train or for a on parof observation of these examine of the forms and objects that on a unit of the community or retorned to an account were to the court of the experiment can as produced by conducted in the legal of the common state.

In one last of the and three on those occasions a ring was present on the Hock's west whilst I held his hand hat a for that surprise been places on the tides before the I was extract shed. Once a lady's mail was, during the he part of the scaner, removed from her lap, and her arm a light was struck, and her arm found casing

On another occasion I requested "Irresistible" to put a clear over my arm. To make sure of the genuineness of the test, I ensisted that the chair to be used should be one of the six bont-wood chairs that still resource anoccupied. was then asked whether the one upon which I was seated would do. "Then," and "Irrenstible," "stand up," and time the sole possessors of infallible knowledgersspecting their at the same moment my chair was taken away. I felt a soft hand holding my right arm, and then a chair, which came, as far as I can judge, from the medium's arm, was hanging over mine. Some considerable commutant was beard near the medium, which led me to believe that all the unoccupied them As far as the ring experiment goes, it chairs were being deposited on the medium's person. Legs somes to me that either the arm or the substance of chairs keps core on a contact with my head, and the of the ring must have seen temporarily damategrated buttung of more share was heard somewhere bigher up merely because we have a direct require of explaining the charins a property of the regular of the precious not use if the stand median was seed and appropriate and mystery. But what do we know of the precious not use if the stand median was seed and the appropriate property. Show as procured, show as Mr. except the visible results? Nothing No one present. ther ig such an experiment sees how the rangeone's to be transferred to the wrist. Now, how can any person to his arm the hand of which had never for a second seft my

CORRESPONDENCE

[it so preferable that correspondents should append their prince and addresses to communications. In say case, hower rethese must be supplied to the Editor as a governtee of good

"Memoy Challanges." To the Editor of " Licht"

Siz. -There are individuals who seem to be born to find fault with every one and every thing, except with thouselves and their own doings. Their criticism may well be mot with a shrug of the shoulder. But when serious men like "B. E." in your last must, protest against something which seems to shock their sums of propriety, however mutaken, an explanation is due. "H K." finds fault with ran for having accepted Mr. Labouchere's challenge. " In many bonds, so many judgments," says the good old German property; for I have received as end of congratulatory letters, not only from English Sparitualists, but from Proseco and Belgium, for doing that very same thing

If E." avers that he has twelve years' expenses to Spiritunlies, I have fecally, and some has proved to see that the aftern rates of approximg to the pask it of garrels use offers a the only thing that will stop their ignorant folly. Some toon years ago I challenged the facetous Professor Tyndal , be would not pick up my gazatlet, but, like an hencet man has hold his peace against Spatitualizar over since. Five years ago I did the muse learneds Professor Stufament, editor of H Messagers, of Rosso, whose language against Spin constant and the Spiritualists was morely used durable; he to k care as a visc man, see to task his 40 KiO frame, preferring to hole in torgue and more ever to have if the problems were a position meet as later of A True Colored Stray Brown Stray been le result of accepting Mr. Labouchere's challenge ! Hat not 11 E " observed how Zeath has at ouns discussed the efforare largered which for three consensity weeks it in pit, session of a contact and annels extraorized act the subject attention over money? If gold in the orly regul ment possessing any value in the eyes of our opposionts, we suitst from the house tops with every house in our power object in publishing this work is to attend after This I intend always doing Nory truly you're

29, Colville-road, Notting Hill, W. 6 Damast January 18th, 1886

To the Bostor of Lauret

Sta Convinced by the reasoning of "H E.," and others whose views I respect, I sak heave of Spiritualists to withdraw my got of ups od a. If these who are willing to accept the wager of stree any attent friend Damoun among thom eventioner! What is it? Morely saying of Daniel O'Connell, "Inthan I was yosterday ! "

Let us abjure all such unmounly methods of defouding our faith. We can do so without money deposits.

But I hope that in thes vontilating the matter, we shall pure the way to a committee of impury-partly as need by our appropert-from which will ultimately assume a "report,"-Truly yours, 17th January.

the editor of the Medicus for the valuable assistance by advertisement and otherwise you have given to the Testamonial leed which advances Spirituresm will meet with confold postabil.

LIGHT

Allow me to troupus in your space to acknowledge the adderriptions of Mr. Donaldson, 21, Mrs. Tubb. 10s Mr. Hask on, 10a, Mins Ottoloy, 10a, A. Friand, 10a, E. T., 5a, Mr. Towns, 2a. 6d. , Mrs. Pole, 2a. 6d. , Mr. Thurston, 2a. , Mr. Wooks, 2a. , S. R., is. Those some with those acknowledged by Mr. Frank Broritt, in "Long," and the Medium, and the proceeds of the concost, amounted to £47 10s, 6d. The purso was presented to Mr. Morse by Mr. Demadaou on the opension of mig concept. I am. sir, yours truly

MARKET MALTEN

REVIEWS.

Eaver as the Westings of the Land of the Phanaous. By William Oxfoy,-London Trübnor and Co. prace 7e. 6d , or may be obtained direct from the Psychological Press, 4, Ave Maria-lane, E.C.

This book conten very opportunely just new when the eyes of Europe and the gratisad world are fixed upon Egypt and her affects. Without, however, entering into a discussion of the porphasing political problems relating to this nearvestons country we may may that Mr. Oxley finds in her past history a fulpromise of her future deatmy. This he foreshedows in glowing toring, when " Britain we up note use of nor apportunity notices Egypt for her own good on for the good and expension of millions of frances beings who will only buttonglad to welcome her prosence and her newer." Whother this future, which with prophotic eye, Mr. Oxley soos before a land once rich, powerful, and great, but now, through murale, storoby, and despotant. one of the wante places of the earth, will be realised, who can

The clief accept of the book to our readers has in the in sight which Mr. Oxfor beings to boar mon his sol jeet. He arms the part he man news her many me her destroy in eacy b the same are externed in the light of Mr. W. Egint on 2 And I be a common by 11 E. for aproximation of a worker has sen keynote as the following and the act we a not better explain the most of the book doing his 1 of do not those challenges call public a cutton than in the war words. He says "Without the recognition of he come at (Paychology) in ancient Egyptian secrety, to my or than it of temporal among on and my object tion to this part of the social, political, and aspecially remain y of E. yel, the abmosts of which in past entwice pare times a me dy antwined in our non history. Proceedings out that also, as not next my and equable book has been we en, and the author is to be congressibled on the specces he has a bravel. The chapters on Egyption Magic and Spectmann. are ospecially interesting, and although we see for from and orner all Mr. Orner says-ospecially in regard to the Oxirian origin of Christianity-yet we feel we can cordially communic the work for its fair and truth-seeking spare. We, of course, regard the book at of value from the especial abuildpoint of a Speritualist, and an that respect flud in it much to engage attention and argender profitable thought. Much light is thrown on the intimate commercial between the oscult knowledge of all ages and all peoples-parts, as it were, of one great whole. But we come to run that mark to that the line of argume to which hading so showns on foresterious good from an rice dos e ne ano be a importer factor, vicin con la conclusion find Figure of your and Christian to is only tale, is with be said orginal and the algorithm man and after sea in the too much. We fully recognize the viduo of initch that Me Oxley has written, his facts are good, in many outsides his The Testimental to Mr. S. J. Morse.

To the Edder of " Licery

See.—Allow me to express my hearty thanks to yourself and the poor to discuss here. We wish the book a thorough second.

Moxey Citypia Noz. Since we wrote he not, which a spears Advertisement and otherwise por have given to the Testimonal Fund of Mr. J. Blows. At the same time permit me to take this opportunity of thunking those who have as freely given their agreement the concert, as well as those who have as freely given their agreement the concert, as well as those who have stituded the same on Wednesday, the lith tast, and last, though not least, must conduitly to thank those who have authorized to the fine.

If a man is super same to the same is a less of a strength and the some way on the operator of the first will not only in a control of the strength and the some way on the operator of the first will not only in a suggested by him can, or beneve, only lead to see a term of a control of the first hat first will not out any in a suggested by him can, or beneve, only lead to see a term. Mr. Moran, but will aid our came, more every kind thought and such duty as muritimized pour maints downeds are to a such a mark it. We shall return to the question must week, and a stack in terms which differ from these many is the first articles in that paper. See also paragraph in the sant column.

-All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT," 4, AVE MARIA LANE. LONDON, E.C.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Annual Subscription for "I cany" a steepe so only address with a too one of honors in the discovering of outline the term U mant, including all parts of Europe, and our Shares and of the North America, is the Oil, per manual, corona ted to our office a manual,

A VOLTINGALINT CHARGES.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

unbecelptions for 1883 are not one Antesethers will oblige iller Politics for 1895 are now site American with smitter by forwarding these of accretion. The Manager of 1.14-187 at the Maria-linic Et Post differ disters may be unife purpose on heavy Barnes. All Editorial Lurrespondence to be induced in a The Editor.

Light:

SATURDAY, JANUARY 21rm, 1885.

THE "CREDULOUS DOLTS" OF SPIRITUAL INVESTIGATION

There is a belief unong many persons that these individuals who luve investigated and become convinced of the Inote of spiritual communication are of feelile intelligence. easily deluded and resposed upon, ready to accept an facts the simplest tracks of a convey and quite unlitted to judge when ev, once a pixel before there. Persons who have formed these conclusions are usually those who have apinton. He had never thoroughly examined the facts, it is nover investigated or witnessed any spiritual phenomena They have seen imitations of them, such, for example, as are presented at the Egyptian Hall, and called an expose of Spiritualism, or they see a man tied with rope in the arriver at a relevent convention were to be succeed at streets, and when thus man frees knowlf they exclume that this exposes the Davenport Beathers' tricks, and they then wonder at the felly of those who have been imposed on by articles of a similar class, showing that staffed glores and medatins.

In a certain weekly paper, a writer who evidently possesses to a nowledge or experience of facts, lately states that the manner in which a "spirit-hand" was represent the spirit-hand. The medium sat between two openion, and future generations will then hold up such men made the inquirers told their sames. Drey all the time age of 1885, when such nonsense was received as a proof magnang they were holding the meanum, and so the trick is of the great mental power of the writers.

When we see statements of this kind put forward we incopable of investigating may problems or evidence requir ing intensity of intelligence. These minds are like those ; of the police agent, in Edgar Poe's amusing tale, who failed to find the purloined letter; or they are like a savage, tlety of intellect. Prejudice and pre-conceived opinions rule the average of minds, and conclusions are formed from these instead of from the facts and evidence which can be obtained.

The history of the opposition affered to discoveries Reports of the proceedings of Spiritumist Societies in as successed a affords endiest examples of the fact. When the proof or form as possible, and mathematically the signature of a responsible and mathematical by the signature of a responsible of the fact. When the proof or demonstration required high-class intelligence to comprehend officer an adverted for insertion in "Light," Monters of private contents at their scances.

The Kather cannot undertake the return of manuscripts and endows statute written expressly request in the time of formeding and endows statute and the return Plastage.

When people read about the contemptible nonsente that was written by so-called learned men to prove that the earth could not rotate, and that those persons who believed it did rotate wern either feels or imposters, they usually congratulate themselves on living in an age when commonsense and science provail, out when such twaddle would Pive lines and under, Sc. One inch. 4s. 5d. Column, Ph. Sc. Page 2d.

A reducting made for a series of insertions.

Orders for Pages and Advertisements may be addressed to the following in Science and Advertisements may be addressed to the Closus may be said to the transfer one in the arguments urged in olden tancengament no electricity, they are comparatively sound and logical compared to much that Pages as the first lines are comparatively sound and logical compared to much that receives for absolute under the spiritual phenomena are all the result of trickery. The way "factor" may also be obtained from E. W. Allies, 4, Ave Maria-lane, at its tions in as follows. The mechanicality away from Landon, and all Residenties. they all the time believing they are holding the medium. The medium flourishes about a staffed glove, and lo ! it to a spirithend. Let us see now who are these unbeches who have been thus tricked. There is Robert Houdin, the great French conjuner, Professor Jacobs, the conjurer Samuel Beslachini, Court conjurer at Berlin; Louis Napoteon, Professor Crookes, Professor Varley, Alfred B. Wallace, Dr. Elliotson, Professor de Morgan, Dr. Gregory, Professor /ullner, the late Emperor of Russia, the Prince of Solma, President Lancoln, and thousands of other men of a similar

These men devoted months and years to the meestign tions. They commenced with the tunal double and surpictons, but after long and careful experience were obliged to admit that the facts existed, and the only theory which satisfactorily explained these facts was the spiritual theory

But what do all these investigations matter to the man who knows everything without ever mixing revestigated " That a steamship could not possibly cross the Atlantic was well-known to a certain (so-called) scientific man, and people who behaved it could so cross were fools, in this man s true, but what did he care for that? His profound knowledge enabled him to pressource a verdict without extensions and those people who had examined and had

We have similar classes of minds in the present day belonging to men who can sit in their back offices and write fools, or dopes, will explain the whole affair. Now such remarks should be treasured. Facts will prevail in spite of the opposition of such arrogant ignorance, and in the future these remarks will be valuable as examples of the class of minds which influenced, to a certain extent, public to the ridiculo they deserve, and will speak of the dark

Mr. Statiston Mouse in anxious to gather in all books, are convinced that there are some types of mind quite MSS., extincts from newspapers, and the like which may have been borrowed from him by friends, and have not been yet emitted. He will be much obliged by any such being returned to him at 21, Birchington-road, E. W., with the beast possible

MR John Rumin a "South London Work og Man, with 5 who could not distinguish between a diamond and the to us a greeful terms of Mr. Eglineous kindseas in greeful imitation exhibited in the Polais Royal.

The fact really is, that not one much in fifty is ments, and Mr. Eglinton will we are sore be good to know that capable of investigating any problem requiring great and has kindseas has been thoroughly appreciated by them.

SPAIN

January 24 1884.

The Annual General Meeting of Spiritualists at Tarassa has ossied a tract for distribution out-fled I relates (Truths). It was also established a fund in aid of our and unfirm Scoretonlista

The Spiritualist circles of Marreson have collectively published a pamphlet, and distributed it freely in the district, replying in moderate language to the misrepresents tions of Speritage and Speritagente by one of the dignetaries of the Cathedral of Harressa.

Barcelona. In its first mamber it says "We say he had an esse a either case on others unocountly unseque atea guided by ideas based upon rational Spiritum, and the morality of the Cospel. Let none expect from us exalted scientific discussion nor high sterature we are of the people and propose to wrate for the people." It informs its andoration, and based his decision, very atmage of readers that El Lara de Union is the title of a Spiritual encosts be drawn from the known course of nature." Person Society now established in the Antilles, thus come cuted by ignorant has buy, Slade was convicted by a tribinal pecting the circle of Spiritual Societies round the world,- Incapable of adapting itself to author har problems. Serious

"LIGHT" SUSTENTATION FUND Amount already announced The Mouse Ponder (second donation) Work Cowley in (Victoria) By T. L. c. 0.10 0 10 7 F Tournyands Mes. C 1 0 0 of at little 15, 1810 A. Ethera-

Real tancer has a sen with most M. E. Danson Rogens, Rose N. Ga, Ch. v. band. Fin ab. N. g. of Mr. Moretl. Theobalt. 62 County is Pork Levishion, S.E.

A BARRISTER'S PLAN FOR THE DISSEMINATION OF SPIRITUAL LITERATURE.

SCHOOLIFTON ALBEADY PROMISE

Those marked * are assual subscriptions if	l'iroquires	.1
1 ha asier	P. (p. b.	11	-0
"I restensed-Colonel Wynch	400	-(1	-0
*The Court were a three-	Th.	0	- ()
"The Hon, Percy Wynotham, M. P.	D.	0	1)
"General Campbell	.0	(1	43
 Lály "	10	-0	0
Marel Theoladd	10	43	4.
2 A Post sconal Medium	- 1	- (1	-0
Mrs. Heanings	- 4	(I	-{1
R. Stua v	- 1
Mes, charge	33	4	Ü
1 AL P.	10	11	Ü
W P Morean	- 4	0	Γ
3 11 Caretatone	1	1
A is not b M	1	- 0	Ľ,
A. M	0	10	45

Total amount required £250. Promote stay to not a to Emter of " Licar," 4, Ave Maria-Luc E C

THE CHRONO PICTES In answer to repetitive we wish to Make that a list of minutes the points and of the court a for any special late in Indians W. A up, advertised their many it is the first and make They will appear as a supplement to Lieuty grates for sub-scribers on year plantage. These fractions who have the remaining of Lingt went dove from a click w receive their is units course but a new best who drawn one arms through any other channel we have tempty for the dates in the cruss of our previous amountement. Not appearing a color with a term of the Thomas. Meet that come he pretures will of your obtainable on payment.

Wz understand that Mr. W Eglinton has made arrangements to leave London about the middle of February on a short vient to a distinguished person in Vicana, from which city be will afterwards proceed to Hamburg on the invitation of a scientific committee appointed to invulgate the phononeus occurring in his pressore. He will also stay a few days in Paris, and will probably remain for a short period at The Hague on his return thus dier in my part Mr Camberland has never replied journey. Mr. Egimton, however, has made those movements and yet it has been coully assumed by some of ye conditional upon his not being wanted in London in connection with the recent controversy, as it is his intention not to give his assistants the slightest ground for attack on the protonce that he

THE PALL MALL GAZETTE CORRESPOND ENCE ON SPIRITUALISM

We quote the two following letters asklessed to the Pall Mall Gauctic, us they form a fitting and complete answer to the vulgar communication of Professor Ray Lankuster already published. Mr. Eghnton's letter tota, hotocrar, most singuistly refused insertion !

To the Eurson of the Path Mall GAZETTE

Six,-It is difficult to believe Professor Ray Lankester # El Pero Spiratato is the title of a new publication at agreement as he must be if his letter to you is honest. But he with the facts. He certainly is notorious for having "protener Slade , but he never ' enught him in the act" of chest-The inagratrate, Plowers, said the evidence for the defence in that case was "overwhelming," but he excluded it from cona a with pan minds know all the while, by second, that he westing in Same a sinten was produced by some abnormal age ey and not sychologing in any pact. When his menoped, verige a segue there of a decision from the paracle so she in fully agained to her Slade, through a good we from The Hagno to Lankester generously crediting him with good on les for what he had on and special a re-andignation, but offering to return to London, to visit the persecutor at his own house - ait with him at his own table with his own alone, and convines on that he writing which would come upon them was not produced by trickery. Professor Laukenter never unswered these is, thereby outping the deep and buting contempt or every car set in surer rate certain injurturion of nature of which the sinte-writing under notice, trivial as its character often is, and wrong as Spiritualists may be in interpreting it, is certainly a casual manifestation. Intellectual rathers who paracouste spiritual mediums from bigoted introd of the higher as in which those persons are instrumental do misobiol in two ways With the help of clumpy laws, ill qual-fied to cope with qu's to an concerning medianaship, they first of all bring about much horrible inputtee. Becoudly, they impede the greath of knowledge, for, though the more emotional Spiritualists ching t their perspected faith more termologist than ever, the world at large is misled into supposing the bulsies of Materialism to have proved (when they invo morely wen) their outer. I have used see or, hanguage in this letter, not because I like to do so so a rule, but because Professor Lankester's conduct in this matter has always account to me poculiarly despicable. In planta, miss Jupon it now, after he ought to have grown submined of it, by the light of later experience gathered by water sten, has authority claims a stronghiforward roply.-- I am, sir, your obedient agreent.

A P SINNETT Lad'ar ke govaens. Kenningt in Park, W.

To the Epiron of the Page Mail Gazerre

Sin, -- Anthore seems to be an prospect of Signor Dannian and Mr. Labouchero coming to torus, I trust you will do me the justice of allowing me to remind your readers that I have not skrunk in any way from a fair investigation of the abnormal phenomena which occur in my presence. Since you did me the honour of imeeting my letter in roply to Mr. Comberland, the descusion of the question has extered upon smother phase such there as some danger of the fact being overlooked that I necepted Mr Comborland's closelenge strendating only that the mentary element about discount interlease proposing the account tee of six gentlemen should be closen, three by myself and three by the ner side that the committee should have us meetings for experiment , and that if their experiments were successful they should report the fact to Mr. Cumberland, should call upon hom in accordance with his promise, to "explain away such demonstrations by natural means," and should require lim to responses the same phenomena under the same conditions. To and you it has been coolly assumed by some of your corresponden's time a an anapty of anyester, that the phenomena are jugglets tricks, and that I am afraid to allow them to be various," "skinds," &c. I am not going to on late Mr Bay THE PUBLIC DISCUSSION OF SPIRITUALISM. Lankester. I refer to be language only to point out that were and nort of gontleman that I am tanned with hour; an valley, or t incet; and of whom I am asked to believe that he we am enter upon an inquiry with perfectly unbeased much and quite upon to conviction ! I have no members, sir, to wrate my time with such man, or Indeed with any who have publicly comnutted themserves to a scotch as true who as paying ever attumpted an hopest and patient investigate of a decrease at nation is because for to my so, because my perfect rectifieds in the matter, and my also take a some a many or a part the production of the date-writing and for our states we abundantly tostified by men the eminence of whose position in the mountains world even Mr Ray Lankester hipsault would not venture to needlen for a single personni-

If it be urged that profomonal conjurers would be better the most accomplished conjurers of the age have assured them net or it he go cultimisms of the photo-in-

Pe if so I gobs, writing to the ulitor of Light, such Light, Apr. For 1983, in reference to phenomena which occurred in argo the Brothers Davenport, and, 44 As a prestidegita in cearry respect. Messay, Robin and Roburt Husslin, when a to suitate these said facts, never presented to the sable mything beyond an infantine and almost grotosque payonly of the and phenomena."

Samuel Bellachini, Court Conjuccrat Borlin, made a second deplacetion on the 6th Decomber, 1877, in which he said, at . souther degree found anything to be produced by means of proutel-gitative manufactations, or by mechanical apparatus, and my explanation of the experiments which took place imiter the or more and shared meditions to be a county by any reference to

ment of a long of a model of your strong of a congress the shate-writing phonomers in my presence. As I was control that he was in every corport a gentleman, and would broug an honest and imported much to the inquity, I come; senter to meet hom. On the 25th January he weste to the Let us to an Now an following to In your mone of the 13th participating in a coince with a view of giving an unbesselget may would be a material explanation of off ety and to be produced by sparitual and. I am fisher do the correspond Me-Egl utan, now in Calcutta, and of his host, Mr. J. Mougens, for affording me the apportunity I erared. It is needless to say I wont so a scaptic, but I must own that I have come away atterly much to explain, by any natural means, the phosonight house before I should not have believed any one who described such manufestations under similar circumstances . . . . I repeat my unhibity to explain or account for what and have been on intelegent force that produced the writing on the slate, which, if my somes are to be relied on, was in no gray the result of trickery or deight of hand.

Now that you have kindly allowed me to place these facts I am not greatly issoud either by the violent language of Mr. Ray Laukuster, or by the abourdly grotunges conductions of Trails as to "How it is done?" I can bide my time. The facts will be acknowledged some day, when projected has grown tired will be acknowledged some them.

You're respectfully,

W EGLINTON 11, Langloon-street, W Junuary 20th, 1885

Should his sed and great per sense of malate to the Odyssay's a point and do hist book of the Odyssay states of a few data to the odysas seemed to odysas seemed to the odysas seemed to odysa We bearn has Mit you and cor

[January 25, 1983.

By FRANK PODNORS, M.A.

As Mr Theobald has, in the last number of "Lanut," referred, in somewhat musleading terms, to recent remarks of m. c. I will ask you to insert the correction which be has the imped. Mr. Theobald represents me as having and of the conditions under which they are produced. And I said that " the ghosts are subjective, and not objective." In the speech to which be refers, I expressly reframed from making use of the words "subjective" and " objective," because I think that, used in this connection, they only serve to darkon rouncel. Nor did I venture-as Mr. Theoand implies—to affirm anything categorically on the observers then even men of science, that I reply that mone of matter I merely put forward a testative explanation—and was at some pains to make it clear that the explanation was merely a tentative and provisional one-of certain apparitions, the occurrence of which I regard as fully proved, vin, apparetions seen councidently with exceptional crims in the tent of repute, and a sincere Sparituania, I after that the life of the person whom they rememble. That explanation modistifule facts lausquatrated by the two brothers, were in that the secutal disturbance accompanying (e.g.) the absolutely true and belonged to the spiritualistic order of things approach of death may be communicated to the mind of somefriess), and -in accordance with the experimental analogy of thought-transference -may give rise to a thought of the dying person; and that this thought, abnormal is its origin, may also be almorand in its manifests tion, and may appear for a moment to be part describing his accestigations with Dr. Slade. I have not in the of the external world -in short, an "appointion?" but while the come of the "apparation" is external, the percess form which it amounts to disturnined by the mind of the percipent, being in fact, nothing more than an abnormal mtensification of the montal imagery which, in ordinary I my to a a distinguished protester of legerlaman, milds, accompanies the thought of any concrete object. But happened to be giving life entertainments in Calcutta while I not only did I disclaim any belief on my own part in this was there in the early part of 1882, and he juddressed a letter to hypothesis as a final and sufficient explanation of the facts, the ladles ladle News, in which he will that he should be to best I even stated that it was madequate to explain many facts within my own knowledge. For a full explanation of those further facts I added that I was content to wart

As regards the phenomena of Spirsta I am I said that could not at present regard most of the alleged facts, the my, Intated that I should be glad of an opportunity of as sufficiently makes and as was that remark of to so which has, apour alls for she Mr. Theolodd with a text opinion as to whether, in my expantly of a professor of present for less courty took, in sevene this, I was not ignorant of the surprising on processors in Mr. Theoton was souften are so error ustane ally described in these commons. Indeed, I may claim that in some respects my knowledge in this matter is greater than that of most readers of "Livert," and is equalled only by Mr. Theobold's own : for I am in possesmess that I witnessed. . . . . I can only say that I do not sion of cortain facts-not hatherto published, though expect my account of them to gain general epolances. Forty- known, on I understand, to Mr. Theobald-which appear to me to throw some light on the genetic of these marvellous phenomene. This is not the time for detailing these additional facts at length; but perhaps I may be permitted to make a few comments on the Grock quotation which Mr. Theobald has given in " Laurr" of the 17th inst. Mr. Theobald sent me the original before your readers, they will readily understand how it is that apirit-west ug a few weeks ago, and I thought it so unteresting that I made a copy of that part of it which contained the Greek quotation. I have that copy before me now, and I should like to make a few remarks on it supplementary to Mr. Theobald's account of the matter.

I In the first place, Mr. Throughd has omitted to mention that the spirit ascences the quotation-which a price and could not a mixtaken by the veriest tyro in Livek for anything esci to the first book of the Odyssey. New the Odyssey's a point and do hist book of the Ocyacy to Mr. Theobald at the time, is in an suspessible position, it is a word that cannot stand first in a contence. Mr. Theolaid, upon that, observes: "I apprehend the spirit can put it where it likes." Well, I mess it can. We may, no doubt, concede to a spirit a similar license to that which the "Duchess" claims for herself in "Through the Looking eyes than ours," and can perhaps look down upon the rules of grammer as " merely conventional signs,"

III In the third place, I observe that the Greek quota tion is written very clearly, each letter having evidently been formed slowly and with considerable care. The writing is, moreover, fairly correct. It is, indeed, morvellously correct in view of the unquestionable fact that it is the production of a person who can entirely ignorant of Grock. My reasons for forming this conclusion are numerous. I have mentioned two of them; I will briefly undicate others.

IV The word which stands second in the sentence, sparse (proton), is correctly printed in " Lione" (apparently Spritantian has two supports,—the first, trickery and deceit, the from the transcript of the writing which I made for Mi Theolaid), but, as I wrote to Mr. Theobald, it is man-sport in the original. "Mis-spott" is hardly the correct term, for the first two lotters of the word are not Greek at all, and do not form part of the alphabet of any language with which I am a quanted. Perhaps they are Persian.

Y The third word, Over (Outo), is also mis-spell. It shous . Own (Onten). The mistake is a natural one for no ignorant copyist, but an impossible one for a Grook they continue to exist after the change we call death, they may na brown

VI. The word Observe (Odniana) is wrongly spelt. The corress form is Observed thouse. Out I outlined dissent from M. Theolada's attenuant the title work as well. The the spirit, " may end or (at). The word is not parts he day written, the final letter may be intended for either # " or . (4), but it cannot concorrably be intended for a -am the last letter but one is indulatably v (*).

VIL. The extreme care with which the letters have been formed qualities one to distinguish certain characteristics in the r shape which are foreign to Greek writing.

as The as we in wrotten like an Rec is not at a There a psealiseity in the furnation of the Cost award many new y obvious in the printed type, but whom to be approvent. t rock writing, and which is wanting in the wearing point, huncirer, is not ourclasive, as a careless or ill-taught rock schole will frespectily form his olphus incorrectly

(b) The their is found, not as an ordinary Greek writing, O. but like a devenly 8.

(c) The delice are formed in small the man way so the their except that the upper circle is left moumplate, but this opening the upper curred line occurs on the left side, whereas in correct Greek writing it occurs on the right, thus, & In one metance—the 3 in the word Olevers—the union of the upper carde is complete, and the letter is a counterpart of the thefe,

(d) Throughout the scatence (with one or two excepts as) the letters w(w) and w(w) are written proceedy alike, in a new ra form, which might stand for either letter, but is on the whole more like s (n). In one case this symbol takes the phase of an

(c) The belo is formed, like an English B, by two separate strokes of the post. In the Greek S, on the other hand, the Professor Lankestor, in his own house with his win straight side money gradually into the curred lines which form (friends, and satisfy him of the reality of the manifestations. A the back of the letter, and the whole letter is formed by one of appration, are, with one exception, omitted. In that one untr-Spirituanet. exception the mark is correctly inserted. I regret that I am mable to indicate the source from which the Greek quotation is derived; possibly from some old communitary on the Odyssey. But, on the whole, I renture to think that this spirit did not know Greek.

London, 17th January, 1885

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK

Tax weekly paper called Society, in giving an uncommutally for reserve as if one state we against with Mr. Eglinton, montions the fact that vinters, entire strangers to the medium, get communications in the handwriting of friends, under cir-Glass," when she expresses her determination to make words curustanees which uttorly exclude the theory of fraud. As the mean what she pleates. A sperit sees "with larger, other materialmed spirits of persons whom the medium never me suppose to their friends as natural sur life, so as to be matantly and perfectly recognized, so the handwriting of spirits, our pared with manuscripts written during life, would be identified by any judge of handwriting

> Resease -- a magazine published in Genbrudge, Massachusatts and apparently written by undergraduates of sta University, advusates Psychiant Research in America as an antidute to Spiritualism Itaays -

> Spiritaalban is an ovil in the world,-in America it is a sultie and stopensous ovil . a secret and namekonwindged prison in many much, a confessou disease in others,—a disease which is sometimes more repulsive to the untarated than leprosy second, the obscurity and inexplicacioness of certain psychological

> If over a sillier paragraph was printed in a process? comtelle paper than the above, I should like to see it . We .. has accounce to do with the possible orthe or dangers confrosted with any fact ? It might as well dominion gravitation because a bally built house may tumble down, or a tipsy man tumble into a gutter. It might as well find moved oril in some fact to chountry or goology. There are bud mon and women, and if not exclosely change their qualities. Sparitualism steepty proves their existence still power to produce sensible manifestance a Scionco registers facts and does not denounce them.

> THE American Secrety for Psychical Research, Science in forms us . "Will try to store safely between the Soylas of southing and the Charyledie of charlaten Spiritudian," But why modilio with "charlatan Spiritualism" at all ! What can a Secrety for Research have to do with charlaterium, except texpose it, and whoever our find any "charlater Spiritualine and expuse it will surely morit the thanks of all Spiritualists The efforts of secondle ments of a second special meter to expense it have bad, seconding to to 12. Mr. Narley the an on the survincing them of its reality, so that there does not now exist one truly second to man in the world who man agriculty examined Spectantians who is not a Spiritualist. If there be mich a man, preduce him. The scientific men who desame 8 with some and a fallochood, a dubusion, or an important de no upon de preore ground, and have nover given the matter a м јен не схимарабаов Ave Sempet a tera, mere and there toping a sexular temper. Professor Ray Lankestor. von be a his recent setter has given utterance to one of the most innotentific our hurste of valour abuse I have soon since the posse of Browning m which he pillered blundf, while versery he judges spite in So digit of the man, and abantofully outraging a most lovely s man, belong man throughout or account well as a not or gap can conself we wax now a Sparitualist and a friend of D. D.

Tun torrent of about from Professor Laukester, so happaly assered and rebuked by Mr. Situatt, has, however, brought back to public atemory one conclusive fact-the offer of Slade to return from Holland to England, and all with man refusing such an offer puts hunself out or court He declares a fact impossible, and shute his eyes when VIII. Lastly, the accesss and the "breathings," or marks invited to look at it—which is the most absurd attitude of every > Pennars Mr. Labouchero, for one who makes to pretoned to accoure, is a bester example of the murely agnorant and projudiced opponent of Spiratuchum. He disounces every fact outside has own experience as ampostureoven thought-reading and the commentant facts of meanurism, because he counders them merculous, and he helds with an un

don't happen

See a trival as a log or more prominent leaders, plants ( stack or this is high high and a warf after in accordance with which the good Mr. Flowers sentenced Slade to be imprisoned three menths as " a reque and ragidents," when, as he admitted. the testamony in his favour was overwhelming. Sir Henry Hawking did the same in a logher court, declaring that the Lestimony of a thousand Spattmalists, however respectable, would have no weight with ton

What is to be done with most whose functional of unbelief makes them refuse testiminary, and who have no trust an their own powers of observation?-the men who resolutely shut their perved opinions or vulgar projunces ?

facts to the knowledge of men of open minds, who have retained some faith in their own powers of discreation. Spiritualing as a faith taspervioled the world from the remotest ages- on for the beltef may have been hased on observation we can or tall. Sporthalism as a actioner based on carefully observed and recorded facts, is of our own tensors now almost in human say once a week. Some are a with a a manual the recorders.

Note that note the spongragot expanded. They even expanse car the te g brone denomination to anti-translate to formers to I had unch other-

THE Liberty World, unturing an in on in the sta-Quarterly by Miss Gordon Cannaning on the Changes . Missings. of the Dead," given the interesting fact that the universal belief as Spirkundent in China has an important induses in the admountration of justice. Before contending a estamed the findge makes careful impary on to the relations and friends he makes shelf reliculous. may have in the spirit-world, who may wish to avenge any injusthe core hou, and governe himself accordingly—a man has no and castar a ole in the opinit-world having single advantages. in the coethous super contragand, by one whom friends are at Hon this side of the veil that grown thinner and more transparent say by day is Operather, gate which tops to a over the looking appropriate who go away from no through the ond portal of death, keen as they may be, are in time soluted by a wistful large of reastion What is that but a temporary reparation, if they are awaiting to youder with light on their factor?"—Shanden Belle.

This is a little bit of Spiritualism from a fashemable movel Mr. Black may not have seen as much so the author of "Riones did-but poets and remaneers are not much if they are without this closions, and the more they know the more effectively they can use the power of the invisible world to inflatmen and mould also couldes

Dr. Nichols, automiced to give two discourses in Laverpooon Sunday, January 25th, line taken for is so cets. "Spirituolium What It in," and " Sperituation Was does On will be devoted to the facts and evidences; the other to its objects and uses. The resultion is of course of governor well at can be lone in the discourses. In whole ground of controversy, to meet those was so say Space mann a not true, and if it were true what is the good of it "

So far an actioned is concerned, it is enough to demonstrate the rear y damy fact. The metalness of every truth may be accepte as a principle. But setting the great fact of amountality has a very wide range of uses. To know as a demon-But a of fact that our conscious life will extend beyong the death of the budy cannot fail to affect human character in proportion to the value we put on life. When one knows that he will are on and on, for ever and for ever, he is under intercented con our aron to make his calculations accordingly dying fault to the creed of Mr. Matthew Arauld that "instances | happy " dead will continue as a fashion long after the great majority of the people have lest all dread of death, and all unpleasant feelings in regard to it.

> The axintal spot angons customs of Scotland, which may have an wonething to do with accord-sight phenomena, were sensible enough- except some possible excess in the drinking habits. A funeral feast of Sparitualists with square, flowers, and congratulations to the spirit of the departed, closing with the mynature of the useless maket of the free and happy spirit, would be infinitely more mininctory than our back pageantries of wee.

SPIRITE ALDER, to all who accept it, changes sorrow to pry-The house of nours , note not and for friends come to eyes and reject all testimony which is in condict with process on whichever they have the new on contract and assure to d their ofe, and we and haspe ess. They are remembered on orne ) for them because there is no real separation—because we are so Or course there is only one thing to do. It is to bring the meen to judy them. This one fact changes the whole aspect of hammilife. Death has no storg, the grave no rictory. know that our dead friends are not only alive, more than ever alive, but that they are within speaking ontaine

"Take a million of or one who even the habit of orean org good some of their relations will die about on same time. Of course, there will happen coincideness- and these are the facts gathered by secretion for Psychical Research." This is the way Secence accounts for one these of facts. Why not apply the same on Max token in . I are of $ 0 and on its months rule to all others? History in full of creat, chemists make the E bottom for their man as no as are no var token to thinken, netronomy has varying observations, goologists are a ag reabed of an earl. If they is is measured they eave be at leggerhoule, there are coincidences in natural history; but with so many observers they are easily secounted for. The serson are deceptive. Ym, but how does this argument apply to classes of facts observed and recorded for twenty or thurty years by thousands of cheervers-the facts of psychography, for example, where the written words remain for examination, giving documentary evidence of facts which admit of only one explanation? Retence that ignores, or tries to explain away any fact,

TESTIMONY OF THE CELEBRATED (LLUSIONIST, ROBERT HOUDIN,

To the Fact of Somnambalia Lucidity (Charreymacs).

The following is a translation of two letters addressed by Robert Hondin, after thorough investigation with the mnanthunt Alexia, to the Marquis Endes de Mirville, published by the latter, during the lifetime of Houdin, in his Memoire addressi a MM. les membres de l'Academie des Sciences Morales et Politiques, sur un grand nombre de dicuomenes mervillenx interesant egalement la Religion, la Science, et les hommes du Monde." Paris, Vrayet de Surcy, 1853. (Des esprits at de leurs manufestations | flanlique, the let Yot of the author's " Pneumrtologie."]

It should be premised that Robert Houdin had made the ampliation of " second sight" a specialité, in addition to his acknowledged pro-eminence in other species of illusion, and his exhaustive knowledge of all the resources of his

Al. de Mirville prefaces his statement as follows :-- "

" You all know Robert Houdin, and will encode to that king of prestidegitators as well the acceptro of skill, as consequently the most absolute competence to detect it in others."

" One day, then, this competence occurred to us apropes of the position in band. Long perfectly convinced by our own experiences, we were wanty of hearing our esprite forts of the drawing-room, and our operite fables of the Institute, rejecting evidence and cutting short all our squartions by those apparently specious words

10 R been Housing open as much the plays the same games of scarte the notines what you have in your pocket, he does

What the social influence of Spiritualism may be we have not yet had time to see. People connot all at once get out of the rate of the rat more. Twenty times in an entertainment, or a landred times if it is wished, you shall hand him so many visiting cards, and incoodintely, with the rapidity of lightning, without any hearts tion (which is not the case with your someambulists), his son, at the other end of the stage, will repeat your name, however queer it may be , your address, however distant it may be. He low even surpossed all that , for more than once he has been seen to read a name under a thick and omeesled envelope; to penetrate by a glance to the betteen of a well-closed box, to designate a assunt person by a lock of hair, &z., &c. What more do you want, and are you going to show us ?

January 24, 1885.1

"How reply to such arguments, the weakness of which one feels moner than one can demonstrate it? Nothing is more true. If there Homemore sall that any agents often a would destority, an habitual skill which leaves for so no non-no no n-wilucid of our soumanbulate. And though it is true that thus constancy of success on the one side, and thus uncertainty on the other, ought alone to magent the different character of the photomena, in Paris people jump to a conclusion (see real alleplace cite) and sike Why two causes, whom one is enough !

It appeared that to make an end of this eternal and vicious argument, there was nothing for it but to go and find Houdin

Nomer though than done, and here we are in his room. face to face with hum.

Then follows a circumstantial account of M. de Muville's visit to Houdin for the purpose of engaging blue in this investigation, of the latter's confidence in his own ability to detect the trick, and of what took place at the seance, the conditions of which were entirely under Houdin's documents now translated -

Although very far from accepting the unlegion which M. or a swieneight. bestow then me an especially must my that I am not at di comme it of the operation, no act he favour of magnetism or against it, I can nevertheless, not refrain from declaring that the facts above reported are outsrely correct (and if a plus complite assetitude), and that, the more I reflect upon them, the more improvide I find it to reak them among those which belong to my art and professor. Romer Harrix

" 4th May, 1847

A fortught later, M de Miry lie receiver , ie forlowing

Massionr As I had the honour to tell you I wished for a second scauce, and those in which I was present yesternay pench greater promutions this time that even on the first occanon , for, districting myself, I got one of my friends, qualified to swint my judgment, to accompany me

" Here m what happened, and it will be seen that me saidiffied were everable to produce effects like that I sin about to one I succeers pack I had brought with me, and the cover of which I have marked, that it might not be changed. I skuffle ; it is him on the table, "I kave the king," he said.

But you can know nothing yet since the turn-up card has

'You will see,' he replied, 'Go ou.'

"And in fact I turned up the eight of dismonds, and his own was the king of diamonds. The game continued in a manner sufficiently strange (beserve), for he told me the carde I ought to play, although my cards were hidden under the table and classed m my hands. To each of these cards played, he prahed our of his own without turning it up, and it was always found to be quite the right one for that which I had myself played

I have, therefore, returned from this seases as automished as it is possible to bo, and personaled that it is efferly imputable that chance or shill could ever preduce effects so wonderful (lant it fait impamble que le hantel on l'adresse pourse james produire des effete auen merceilleur).- I um, Momieur, &c.

" May 10th, 1847 "

"(Signed), Rozent Houses

SPIRITUALISM IN LONDON & THE PROVINCES

COMPLEMENTARY CONCERT TO ME. J. J. Monse - A comlimentary concert to Mr. J. J. Morne was held at the Caven lish Rooms, Mortaner-street, on Wednesday ovening, the 14th int., under the conductorable of Dr. J W Bernhardt, The rooms were quite filled. As an expression of respect, and sympathy with Mr. Morae, the meeting was a success, and the tunint credit is due to Mrs. Maltby, the originator of the event In the course of the evening Mr B. Denaldson, on behalf of the late congregation of the Cavenniah Rooms, and other friends, made a presentation of a purse of money (£27). and expressed the feelings of the meeting for Mr. Morse, his comarks being greeted with much emplain by the audience Mr M is made a fee in and carpent reaponts, in effect seknowledging his indulated was to all who had contributed to the gratifying success of the evening, and especially thanking Mrs. Multiby for her devoted and disinterested labours. Referring to his recent severe illines, he paid a manly tribute to the fair ful devotion of his wife, to whose imputations he was, in many ways, inclosited for strength and help. He you more than satisfied with the apport given to his late work, and was as delighted as he was astemated to find it had retroe line such a troop of sympathetic and appreciative friends. But for that he thanked the spirits, whose servant he was. He also made speems reference to the great and arraying kindness he had recoved from the Spiritual Press, allke over the public work he was engaged in, and especially ever the meeting then assembled. He trusted that, though he would seen be absent from those for some years, at, with his family, he intended visiting America, Amstralia, New Zealand control. This occount extends over twelve pages, and its are the Cape, they would be as gird to see him on his accuracy is confirmed by Hondin in the first of the return as they were sorry to part with him now, and with an parness expression of the hope that not only as a medium, but ) as a man, he might over hold a place in their extern and a part a the great cause to which he had born he sixteen years devoted, Mr. Morse resurged his sent mindst sustained appliance

GLANOW.-The Spiritualists of Glasgow have well unittyrdent at an astonishingly obesproont. Their increasing energy and Budinam have apparently become a cause for none concern to those mutual friends, Mrs. Grandy and the Roy. Dr. Ches. Guid,"who much have made up their minds to do senerthing by an a step to this most of the . And the many over the source of the color of the many over the color of the color of the many over the color of the which are even term in of the monitoring of the matter of the models of the monitoring of the models at Marcillet 12 has been stole more were oftel one a consecuence. Of come, a new at sense to may be at the first, and leaves me no more in sections of which is the first, and leaves me no more in sections of which is the first of the first term of the first term of with the original of the first term of with the original of the first term of with the original of the first term of the fir a t game of fearth, which had no netonished me. I took remisting Sunday pivity by arranging to give publicity to "Church Notices to the Not vary note of vehicles of Lax grows can characterized to manage not of Oca country of the at some one of the result of the state of the excepting Moreover and Section of the composition of the state of the price of the composition of the state of the nawn at S area on At he foreneen insetting hart Studies my deal. I deal with all the precautions of a man practiced in Sec. or their present. The set was "To not Form energy the finance of his art. Unders precautions! Alexis stops me. In the evening is practice was seen by Mr. Vening a non-and indicating one of the eards which I had just placed before guides speake on the question of "How are the deal named up?" An auto he Spiritual philosophy teachen, all that the quicketted An east he Spiritual philosophy teaming our new deeply of or of clairwayance has discorned, in regard to this deeply of or of the paids on esting question—the girt thereof—was disclosed by the this occasion. Strongers must have been astonished at the ductrine-edified, too, lot us hope. - Sr Musao.

Paym a rat Co Souday Japanery 4th, a special meeting of men sers was tele at he hall, after the utura service, it elect theory for the strong year. The following were the morel, close a Propulent Ms. I, Sharm Vice Presucensa Mese's Mr. Larcon & Larmor mant he Wears Secretary he d. Paymer Communication. Thomas Japaner aces, their Library her d. Paymer Communication. Thomas Japaner aces, their Library Rev. aces, Thomas Japaner aces, their Library Rev. acet. Web. anno, one Clarke. Spr. new acets are were acide to the Secrety on Samea, the country calls cas held to be afternoon with good reachs. In the evening there was a large to emance, who the guides of Mr. Caractell gave an excellent adverse on Enligions. Mrs. Trueman gave charvoyant descriptions at the close. Mrs. Chapman was also controlled to speak. On Sunday next Mr Moree will lecture for the Society at 3 p.m. and 0.30 p.m. J. L. B. PAYNTER, Hon. Sec., 7 Buckland-street, Plymouth,

&quot; Marrillet was the " magnetiser " of Alexie.

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

The Conduct of Circles.-By M.A. (Oren.)

If you wish to see whether Spritualism is really only Jugglery and Imposture, try it by personal experiment

I was conject an a rodo ton o some experience. Sparitualis on whose good to have mades a assistant of device and the is holo no a traceles seek permission aftern one? see now to cope not searce a not refund to expen-

The source of the courts unique consto private circles, and, is not a c. you must be could be a common in our then would be one or annual to one was from a all convices wing ex most The mix of Specifical paid a ned conversion treation

the rest or differ 25 profiles on the but, positive and regar we a counter occurse against estarts. notes an empty than the date of an array are the date of the condition of the policy beat it for three weeks people it soil emerges to there has the inpe me if a miner the minute open demon To made sole come Flebte, of Laipzag : Professor W. E. Weber, of Gör ngen after need not but it from if he he is count function is an one by Suffernor Religion if Warrant Professor Perfect at Lorne for realt in the dea more quest to attend on the fixer on the expected near fearations are a newspar of a done of a Avoid a consumer. Segitem as no acceptable of a active infinite spirit of appoint or the action of the action are one the visit post increase and englance. If sometiment there is see a top cut field, if it he agreember outliness and if a serfore has it may server to the server at the server at the server at frest curp. These is the second of view to not observate to name and more than the property of the form of the second series o the auto and consistent store. The action of success and all again code breaks at the constant of success and all again code breaks at the over the home we enclass so we are a to he me and a of some of the safters, and a sensation . I not only in her aim These indications, at first so might as to came an at us to the reality, will mentaly develop with noise or bearing or as

If the table moves, let your prosence or a matte on terapriace I get you are sure you are not asking its mot on- After seans one you will probably him that the movement will come one if your orden over, but not present as the state. The spot movies of try this until the movement is as mean and so in no tell to of

About you think that the thire has come, her some one take communical of the circle and not an epokesman. I was a to the acsoon Intelligence that an agreed code of organis is do not do one

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

The following is a Sat of entirent persons who, after personal investigation, have satisfied themselves of the reality of some of the phonomena generally known as Psychical or Spiritualistic.

N. R.-An naterial is prefixed to those who have exchanged belief for knowledge. SCIENCE.-The Earl of Crawfool and Balearees, F.ILS. be once . ! A S. W. Crooker, Fellow and Gold Medallist of the conditional suggests of the Victorian Manager the only of Naturalis Will Paried File Sch. Anderson of Theorem as a Loca Comme of Summer Limited Do Lockbart Robertson : Tir Plantage e 1 8 one care President of the Royal Medial an more pal Societ of London Professor de Morean, For an elimboral from some to the common of a montant transmission of the many of the sound of the Matthematical Secretar of London. The of negative cassave can example the pre- and of the ensure set to the original transmission of the ensure set to the origin Us are to of Fain aight. In Asilonner, "Mr Ruster Dr. Ac 30 Largett Mayo, F.

Professor P Zállner, of Leipzig, author of "Transcrudental Art. 1701 sees O. T. Peelmer, Scheibner, and J. H. the cast grave and that cath of the charge Ir decomes Have Capt of Landacon Account Ac Ac formarring. The Earl of Dunraven; T A Trollege S. I. Iuli, Gamid Massay; Captain R. Borton Unitersor Cassal II D. 1999 Britisham "Lord y ton "Lord von Vehilishop Whately; *Dr. R. Casa were t fe S t and it is to sense to on a name a sense and and W M Thackerny; "Namon Senior "George Thompson "W may be need a to meet a nor well of meet a fine to meet a f

Living Clarke, Mode Island, U.S.A. j. Darine Lyone, I S t. I fotossir W. Denom. Professor Alex. Wilder; Profor will came again Processor I was the the about wenty our described by the gree of the U.S. Carrier victor in go. Bason and the sound vay "As Edgy Carrier, S.A. "Hort Is and them, U.S.A. "Hort J.W. Edmondo, U.S.A. "Epe-Sarge it ague au set Court A. de Gasparing Slame L.

on the east the Act, W. S. 1 B. Nicholms, Dinks of Loughtenheitz If St. 11, the Prince of Saluss H. S. R. Prince Albrecht of Soloss; A S II I range basile of Sayn Wittgetiste h a Bon. Alexander Alway of a second to produce of tuesta she Hon, d. L. an sumprime V as to of U.S.A. at the Court of Lindon. M. Farro-Clavarroz, late Consul-General of France at Trieste; the late Emperors of "Russia and "France; Presidente "Thirts and sameons are our commind of the circle and act as spakesman. It are to the search and that he agreed could of agrees a decide at the sectoral letters which form he was that the in agreement per to repeat the to the country of the interference of the country of th

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

" Licury Mone Light " -- Corbs

"WHATEVER LOTH HAKE MAN VEST 14 MORE.-- Paul

No. 213 Vol. V

SATURDAY, JANUARY 31, 1885

PRICE TWOPENCE

Anowiedge " " Truth " and the hanwinder Treth and the Press and the Press and the distance Whith he returned a second of the secon numbershood that he can recept no responsibility as to the most celebrated professional conjurers), a passed over a conproperty expressed by Carrondors and Correspondents, temptoous silence, or decided with insolent contempt, by Free and constrains if constrain to an ited, best constant are members of the so-called scientific confinterraty, who have along responsible for the articles to solved their names are such imported to observe the same things, or have eve.

NOMENA OF SLATE-WRITING

By Hox Rongs Nort.

the discoverer of a new method in philosophy. He would a outsheld appear to have become dissatisfied with that common-senso T stimony, therefore, swidently counts for nothing for some years affected by scientific investigators), and to him with the discovery, or rediscovery, of a scientific be nuclations of atroducing, or restoring, that a priors method. Yet, since the a priors method, as it has been heremethod which since Bucon has faden into much disfavour. tofore known, became generally discredited after age-long trial I not sen strated to draw this a descuce because he sets asine because of the atter unprofitableness of its practical result, the published testimony of recent witnesses to cortain one must suppose that the learned editor has hit upon some phonomena, with the remark that it is beneath his notice, now application of it all his own; and if so, one awalts his and that the book is only an advertisement of Mr. Eghaton, duclosure of the same with keen interest, seeing how much the medium. I am not sure of I understand the latter long and arduous labour will be saved by a formula, or process, observation. Does be mean that Mr Eglinton bribed us? that dispenses entirely with the necessity for patient observa-That would seem to be his meaning, unless the words are tion, and controus inference from experience. For certainly mere consense. If so, I can only assure him he is mutaken. if the honely significance of facts is not to be scouted as But it is very indifferent to as whether he believes us or altogether beneath the regard of a pir-losopher, it can not. Now if the witnesses are known by Mr. Procter seasony be protended that he may exercise the privilege to be mospoule-habitual drankards, idaots, or persons (hitherto reserved even by strict Calvinists for Deity), without the normal farmiture of senses-or if the of arbitrary election or reprobation amongst them. If a conditions under which their electrations were made certain experience does not happen to sait the Materialism were evidently manificaent and arrelevant for the purpose or Agmosticism of any Mr. John P. Robinson, why font pur of establishing the genuine, or fraudulent, character of the pour les faits! This really would appear to be the extraorphenomens in question, then I can quite understand the dinary, and scarcely concervable, posture of mind which some attitude of Mr Procter as a scientific man. But he of our popular scientists think it norther unbecoming, nor does not argue these objections, and I think that any indecent to adopt. This would indeed appear to be their impartial reader of the book will probably decide that they crude and harbarous notion of the accentate spirit! For in do not apply to the evidence offered in it. Such is the these days of immeasurable detail, and enforced division of nature of the phenomena attested that a very subtleand trained | labour, even the originality of a Procter can scarcely be found scientific investigator is not required here, though, of course, equal to original research in every department, for certain other kinds of phenomena specialists might be hence it would seem likely that even he must accept some needed, and the mere testimony of witnesses not proved to portion of his scientific creed at second hand, in other be abnormally stupid, credulons, or dishonest would count words, on testimony. Or does he know these articles of it for little. But ander the various and varied conditions of be referred to State the State of the book, the book of the book o w our respective observations, as detailed in the book, the Bigliuton in broad dayle, ht or not (written on, that in, many wayatpresentknown to science, and fraudulently), or whether it was written on proviously in a normal way is one quito capable 2 A sougherded by men we house any special scientific training Year fact, the testimony of other sense a may a most (The Fitter a "I sour " was if it be distinctly as compact even as Mr Proctic together we that of the reduced to observe them when they had the opportunity of doing so. Our testimony is but a link in a long chain, and "KNOWLEDGE," "TRUTH," AND THE PHE- has value as an element in a cumulative argument. While the names of Wallaco, Crookes, Zoliner, Feelmer, Butlorof, Wagner, Barrett, Varley, Dalo Owru. Edmunds, Do Margan weigh probably (to say the Mr Procter has long been known and honoured among least of it) as much in the scales of avidence as me as a very successful population of modern act at a those of Ray Larkester and Proctor, however illusresults. But he would appear lately to have added a new trious these may be, though possibly if the former laured to bis wreath, one still more distinguished so, at lummaries of the secentific and judicial world had but beleast, I conclude from the recent paragraph in Knowledge thought them of cading at the editorial sancta of these and t the little book edited by Mr Cholmondeloy Pennell. oracles, before they so rashly published their testimony, they in wareh waite of an added our testimony to that of other might have been put up to a trick or two, and prevented (poor be amounted wetnesses concorning the slate-writing, which "credulous dolts" that they are !) from making so lamentable occurs in the presence of Mr. Eglinton. From this part, an exhibition of their oradulity ! They would have learned in a graph I gather that Mr. Procter must be needed the re- comple of menutes " how the thing is done," for is not my old garded not morely with the respect due to a successful friend, the other of Truth, good enough in a count numpopularises and lecturer, but also with the recovered due to ther of his paper, to give us the whole mystery of Spiritish in Bacoman method usually termed inductive (the method now with Mr. Proctor, Accordingly, one has to cred to Elso why does he accept testimony, say, concerning the reduced to law, appears to violate known law. Careful recent researches of M. Pasteur, and refuse it concerning investigation proves that it is only another justance of lawis one thing, and to refuse to pay any attention to at it Ray Lankester and Procter; dumli awe is doubtless the att.

minds, and don't want the trouble of unmaking them, don't ware to get their own words and confess that they have been Such-and the tecture of dumb an male-are some choice a little real and over heaty in framing their compact little | fraits of the vannted scientific spirit! systems of materialistic dogma. But with all their in prejudice, impervious to unpalatable new truth as the crusical least cultivated boor, the most superstitionridden inquisitor, the most arrogant occlematic. But alas It is no novel experience. The State-paid astronomer refusing to look through the telescope of Califeo lest but own theories should suffer disturbance, the Church flinging the same Galileo into prison for maintaining the cornect theory of planetary metion; all that is an old story. Only whon we men-mankeys play there prants, while styling ourselves apostles of "freethought," the sorry spectacle becomes, if possible, still mere lamentably rideculous. Whenever men win the aighost places as accepted leaders or teachers, they invariably assume those very proud looks, and airs of infallibility, which they had indegenerally reprobated in their and their fine theories away. Truth will not be stereotyped. So long as she lives, she grows. When a system refuses to do that, it means doubt. Consider well the position those sorti map of the colinito universa in which we live any alteged leature of the sountry not to be found noted there can only be regarded as a palpable fraud, to be clamoured down by cat-calls, while the reporters of it are provided with pers, maprisonment, or a horsewhip. There may be more things in Heaven and martis than were dresmed of in the philosophy of Horatio, but assuredly not more than are set or popular lectures of some new Thomas Aquinas, who, in the character of his own Pope, furnishes also his own oredentials. "I am Sir Oracle, and when I speak let no dog bark." And yet the revelation of science is itself constantly shifting and changing its memoge !

Alon! shall Truth indeed perish with the editor of at As for Knowledge, we know that " it shall vanish away "

There is, however, some justifiable presumption (as well as no little unjustifiable prosumption) in the minds of cer tain scientists ogninst the class of events in question, because those may appear to them mirrardons, and the orthodox definition of a miracle in rightly held to be decredited by the course of scientific discovery We can no longer believe in a "violation of natural law." But no beurver in the genuineness of such occurrences unless he his hand be a very foolish person-holds them to be "muraculous"

a priors, by intuition, while other men of science have to in this sense, or thinks of them as violating law. Yet every spend years of toil in arriving at the same conclusions I new discovery it seignee, until it has been classified, and the alleged phenomena of Spiritism, as attested, say, by of law crossing and modifying law. Much indeed must Wallace, Crookes, and Zöllnor? For to criticise testimony be within the compass of such mighty minds as those of musther. On what plea does he justify his arbitrary ex- tudo most befitting us of the lasty in contemplating them , communication of an considerable an assemblage of pheno- yet can they really compass the knowledge of all laws? mount. They want to speak to hom, but he will have nothing. That is a large order? Are they then Himalayan Mahatto say to them, and puts them into a corner as if they were | mas? If the truth of the matter herein neight to be decided, in diagrace. What à priori canon in his much, and that of however, as the eigentlemen men to opine, by Billingsgate, M Lankester, induces these gentlemen to treat so conand the standard of human experience in an very cavatier a "verma," " skeak," or " credulous dolt," though this may fasmon. Are there aristocracic phenome a conscience be a "very pretty derangement of opingha." Wisconcremay not to, and to be an facts he may how home force to unmaked is one I pick up at a venture, and shy back "in the direction of " such pseudo-scientific roughs. We will find But are those alleged occurrences "miraculous" t The more if they want them. Downybrook Pair may not prove only relevant question is; Do they occur ! If they do, then much, but it isn't had fan. It seems a pity, however, that there expansion is yet to seek. But "facts are stubborn Mr. Ray Lankoster prints gloring ministratements about the things." The truth is, these good people have made up there. Sinde ento, and, convicted of error, relates to own himself

But if what these gentlemen are really afruid of in that, our facts once admitted, the probability of a life after fully as bigoted, inslucere, and arrogant as the old, steeped death (because the pumibility of intelligence without brain) hard on them, when they had made up their minds to lie comfortably 'in cold obstruction, and to rot," to have to face the old question once again, which they had supposed dead and buried long since, whether after all they may not and themselves alive yonder, "brought to book" for their behaviour here, and expected, moreover, to do some really useful work for their follow-creatures—say, for the poor dumb animals they have so persecuted.

" The qualit old erect exceens in his guilet, Should have a kook, and a small trout to pull it.

(as Byron says of Imak Walton). No interminable holiday of fellowess after all | But, perhaps, by wishing very much to be annihibited, they might get a special dispensation, predacessors, till the great advancing tide sweeps them too authorising them to shirk their share of whatever business may have to be done by semebody over there. There have been thinkers who thought such a thing not impossible, Only they say one ought to begin with self-efficement here viduals assume. Virtually it is that they thousand vot having and some people don't seem in a hurry to do that!

Spiritists, I suppose, would not be sorry not to meet their old enomies again! They might want to prosecute " for palmutry or otherwise " the mediums on the other side And they will infultibly go about like the professorial ghost in Houn's story, demonstrating from chapter and verse in Kant's Critique of Pure Reason," the sell-contradiction inherent in the very notion of a ghost. In short, they will be as manfforable as Gosthe told Eckermana the literary hore down with the imprimatur of authority is the text books, Tiedge would surely make himself in the after life, for he would buttonbole his sceptical acquaintances, with that tedious book of his on immortality in hand, asking, "Didn't I tell you so ! Wasn't I right! Are we not me mortal ?" And poor Goethe half wished he might not have to live again, lest he should be condemned to most this (spiritistic) friend in Heaven.

On the whole, indeed, it is more likely the Speritists who will be so cock-a-whoop and tedious there, and load the poor Positivists a life! I heartaly hope they will. One pust pay some penalty for such "cornedness," and why not this! Won't they have to listen then to plenty of " echoes of our gussip behind the veil "1

MATTER TEROCOR MATTER.-Mr. Read, of Boston, has a solid ring of tron which has often been put upon my arm when his hand has been firmly clasped in come. The experiment has succeeded as well with rings brought by overse sators on my own arm and in theirs. - I Correspondent is " Forts.

PROFESSOR ELLIOTT COUES' DEFENCE OF SPIRITUAL INVESTIGATION

JANUARY 31, 1885.1

The name and reputation of Professor Elliott Cones is well-known in the world of science, but our readers will remember him better in compection with his recent visit to England, and the interest shown in his book, " Biogenesis," an English edition of which, in conjunction with "M A. (Oxon.), "he hoped to see through the gress before leaving our shores. The accident, however, which has cannot our contributor to couse active work, has, unfortanately, also indefinitely shelved the carrying out of this Professor Coues, since his return to America, has strongly urged the necessity of research is pay hear as the after his has in adulting taken by the over in the stence. The setters which we reproduce here from the he and Photosophion! Journal were, as will be seen, originally contributed to Science and the New York Post. They speak for themso yes, but we may remaid our rone to that Science the same magazine which has lately carned what will, some day, prove an uneuviable notoriety for a hastily-expressed à priori judgment en Spiritualium.

The New York Evenue Post

I beg to send you, with request for publications, a a recently bid energy of heads to a new store to yet head to the to me selection a track of a pathodiscal member bears at the annier time of me man the contrary, as far as is generally known, to the accepted laws of

The operations of the London Society for Psychool Research have accordy laced certain ofments phenomena in a nove a . and a c an an employed springer The fact of teleph a has been established, in my judgment, and now engages jushlie attention through the medium of the Press, You have published neveral articles upon one an pre- and Acres in planting a corproposes between Mr. to easy Honorary Scenetary of he amous capour, If we should watch it intently and no it in London society, and Professor Newcomb, the distinguished ant retention. The latter make, "Can phoets be investigated !" I recently the maning over these objects can be a man be a should move about the room like a human being, and talk and moved gave and off rong my own investigations in ovidence act all exposts lake one, and if we together teached and Sursect declines my letter on the above-mentioned grounds. My inference is, that Science thus projudious the whole present virtua y arccedan, upon no ve y dete to him I gue ster against the a processor theory a whole is instantly note of and what is not cuty agreement. If were only must seek that which is prografly known in of some of the country acts and act that mad against customs, more or last naturalizabily and conclusively, sometimes were a star country with a to be investigated by the Samet with results in perfectly substantial accord with the hypothetical for Parchical Research, whose descent an against the against case a rate in a corneror generally known and accepted." I must, therefore charactoring the sittitude of Science as one emmently unseignishe and sill add anachystate. Under these circumstances we the parity means an alleged apparition of a dead person stored a Eccusio Post do the subject justice?

Engineer Correct

To the Editor of Secure

Six, -The samplest, safest, and most complete raply to this prestoon, saked by Professor Newcomb in Science, No. 27, is, that thousands of the things called "ghosts" have been and are being investigated annually, monthly, weekly, daily, and perhars hourly by thousands of persons of every grade of intelligence, from those who are most valgar, ignorant, and creduecientists. What these things are, is another question I do not may be watched, and the phantom may be handled during the

Chosts can be, have been, and are being investigated by

(a) By the natural exercise of the physical actuse of smell. " Chasts" frequently (not moulty) emit a perceptible odour, mg the process. comelizant very strong, sometimes fragrant, sometimes the reverse, nearly always poculiar to thesaselves.

(b) By the natural exercise of physical sense of sight, in the motion, &c., of other objects are permitted by the opa.

(c) By the natural exercise of the physical sense of hearing. Sounds proceeding from "ghosts," whether those that cannot be distinguished from the sound of the human voice, or those that result from contact with other objects, can be heard, (6) seeing the star and (c) houring them talk, being the usual methods of investigation especially suitable for beginners in this line of

(d) By the natural exercise of the physical sense of touch "Ghosts" can frequently (not always, nor such muchly) be fold and handled in any way that would be reasonably decreus or the case of a living person

To recapitulate "Ghosts" can be " investigated" by smelling, bearing, seeing, and touching them. There are also other methods, as follows :-

(c) By weighing these objects on any suitable platform scales, n the same way that any other object, so the investigator him solf, might be weighed.

(f) By the physical, chemical, or microscopical examination of detached portions of them, as lutir, nails, or pieces of any substance which may envelope them more or less completely.

All of which mothods I mysalf, personally, have repeatedly and succomfully employed in my own investigations, excepting (c), and I am ready to give the results of my experiments to any eciantist, or to any other creditable person or body of parsons who may wish to have them.

Among some of the "conditions" most essential to sucsatol expression to this deficult line of scientific research, I

1 Freedom of the mind of the investigator from any preconserved theory of the " natural peaks do and the natural

2 The constant co-operation of the direct to be access

Since Professor Newcorab has justly insected upon the importained of period on rathering in the one of words, let us see if we can agree upon a definition of that thing which each of

ue calle a "ghost" in our respective articles. II, for example, Professor Newcount and I should together see rise up out of the floor, immediately | front due a gradually condense and take the definite form of a launen being, occupying my three minutes in the pencess, if then it he sile it an if, during conversation with it and while our hands were upon the respect and to disintegrate trieff an solve, and vanish, and if, upon comparing notes subsequently, we found that our observations talked exactly-would Professor Nowcomb agree with me to call that thing a "ghost"! That is what I mean by " ghost" in this letter ; and I have investigated experted what service can it render to the program that kind of a thing, by the methods above stated, on many od casions, more or less saturactorily and conclusively, sometimes

The term show in objections de enoug in his connection, for obvious reasons, one of which as that "girest on-"spirit" in the concrete. To call the object I have described "ghost" or "spirit" is to propridge and pronounce upon what kind of an entity it is this is unsciontific. A better name is versitieal plantour," or " phantain." Respecting each objects f a wear gation I will here my further

(a. A version phase on in a substantial or material though an objective reality, possessing size, shape, solidarity, gravity and capacity for spontaneous motion and locometen—qualities readily observed by the physical senses.

(b) The precess of its gradual integration and dimntegration

(e) The process of the gradual excretion or excrescence of a the neveral knut of scopic measured above, by the following residued plantom from the body of a living person, and its methods which may be watched, and the phantom may be handled dur-

(d) Some persons, to my own most positive and imequivecal knowledge, have the power of causing a verdical phantom to more from their own bodies, of their own comerous volition, and same way that the objectivity, reality, solidarity, size, chape, to measurably direct the movements and other actions of this phantom, producing visible and tangible effects at a distance from the place where their aveng drysical somes are as he time, and constituting a phonomenon known as " projection of the dupbio "-one of the two principal kinds of what are called "phantama of the living," the other kind being the name of a studer planton without the knowledge or rultion of the indi-

The "investigation" of the above-described phenomena as as open to any one, of course, as it has been to me, during the several years that I lavo conducted my experiments with vatious persons both in Europe and in this country, the vermention of my statements, or the proof that they have nsuperation in fact, should be comparatively easy, by the nethor all lattic innovation or by others which a trained separatist like Professor Newcomb can readily devise.

Distinctly, I doesno to commit myself now to any explana tion of these phenomena. I docline at present to say even what I think, or behove, or suppose, their real nature to be simply amort and declare the objective reality of the thur, a have described , to snawer the question, "Can glosts be investigated?" Emplantically, and without reserve, I my "yes; voration planateness can be investigated."

1720, North-street, Washington, D.C.

SOME EXPERIENCES OF A MEDIUM

The Religio-Philosophical Journal calls attention to an interes ing sketch of the experience of Mrs. Burns, a parabolics

As with many others, my path as a medium has been a not unstrewed with thorns; but I have, under trials and privations, striven to live down the thought in the publimund that a medium is less worthy of respect and exteem than other people.

When I esue to Cheago I knew only one family real dent la th and my prospects were, for a time, durial. I and my two young boys had a full share of nothing except faith. I have had my share, with all mediums, of bad names. As ader of a shurch here encounsed most most multing give a materialisation scance, and when I came away some men of the party told me that their opinion was that I was also, in the recollection of having some and caressed a sweet shild materialized, and heard some delightful sanging by a give ten delines to be told my mother's same, nebody a thus country knows it but myself." In a few moments a name appeared on the slate. He looked at it, then he looked at me, saying, "There must be semething wrong tried, for one ) here, that's her name; but it came a little too quick." A lady enmo-a perfect stranger-wanting a test. On the slate appeared a message to her, addressing her by name as daughter. Then came communications from various members of her family. She said it was too wonderful; she supposed that I had, by some means, privately ascertained her name and family history; but was " not to be taken m." These are thorns. Others have not been satisfied because communications are not to their have to be borne with in charity

My development as a medium was not like " getting religion." The independent sinte-writing came only after sitting daily for it for three years.

I have never sought for what are called high controls, I have been satisfied with simple, faithful guides, such as the spirit of my brother, who -in earth-life-was most quiet friends in their "beautiful garments." and unpretending, he has always proved true, and has observed me in hours of distress. On several occasions he has acted quite providentially.

higher and purer mediumship, to show the world the truth of Spiritualism.

132, De Karbetreet, Chicago. JULIA E. BURNS.

CORRESPONDENCE

[It is preferable that correspondents should append their names and andresses to communications. In any one, however, these must be supplied to the Editor at a guarantee of good

Money Challenge. To the Editor of "Launt."

Sin, -I suppose that many, like myself, who are interested in the position recognition of secure prenoment, real with mexpressible dismay the letter from Signer Damiani which was published by the Post Mall Genetic on the 20th inst. I forbear consument nines it, for the objections to it are only too patent, and must have been felt by nearly every one for whom " Lacar" is a representative organ. But you call on your readers for their opinions, with an object that can be easily understood. You wish that the discount of Signer January latest "challenge" should be generally and emphatically expressed and recorded in the interests of Spiritunline, or, as I should just it, of the accentific recognition of the phonontena, be they what they may.

It is difficult to uniferstand upon what principle the Poll Vall Guzette has regulated its admission or rejection of letters on as a subject. There is an attack in its estimate on medion a generally, and Mr. Eglenese in particular. The st. lotter in rouly from this goutloman-a letter creditable alike .. he lutelligence, lumous, and temper-is very properly It a st move y againered but medium resident in Charage, The following is a manual war torrent of abuse force on tecoping to all participate us. age Mr. Eglinton, as the person processely concernes, and as on character was associated, was entitled on a re- over had to the correspondence was closed. Yet his theroughly pertinent and temperate letter of the 20th, which you published last week, is not allowed to go before the public in the columns of the Pall Moll Guarte.

Then with regard to Slade. We must be grateful to the Pull Mail for publishing Mr. Sinnett's forcible and telling retort upon Professor Lankester, and personally, I am obliged to the editor for even the partial publication of a letter from myself correcting certain ministratements by Mr. Labourdiere. But why strike out just such facts-quite language to me. Guly recently some laders sout for me to | briefly staired-us are most important to be known for Slade . postification ! Why furbid even the most summary reference to the experiments of Zöllner and his scientific colleagues, and to a fraud. This was a thorn, but I brought away a row the oridence of the distinguished conjuser, Bellachini ! When Shale's character as a medium is virulently assailed in a paper professing to lot both sides be heard, surely those who, in a materialized spirit. Once an old man came: he mid, " td some, represent Stade in this country are estitled to a some what faller hearing. And then there is Signor Damiani, with has terribly compennining "challenge," adopted apparently by the editor as a representative of us all, none of us being allowed to protest in the more columns against that character. (1

I pon the general question of money challenges in regard to e ver ground of these phenomena, I have not much be my Toy seem of me poculiarly futbe and improdont. Futile, secure in men pulsedy knows exactly which adobas backed out, cyntem, top, a repose or by objecting to conditions. Improdent, because every experienced investigator knows that the phonomera, even such as psychography, are not to be commanded on any given occusion or set of occasions, and because none of us know at all fully or accurately what are the conditions of socress. As to "materialisations," we have usually to take them on the mind. Some case under the misappreliension that I can credit of the witnesses forming some specially sefect and con-"call up" or "raise" their fathers and mothers. Such | Seental series. In miss experiments out of tim at which I have con process in more nescallaneous seemblies, the physical dentity of the form with the medium has been marcely doubtfel, though in many or most metances I believe the latter to lave been intronacious of the deception. But that is too large a question to outer upon now.

P.S .- I thrak it should be publicly stated that Mr. Eglinton was not a party to Signor Damiani's offer to exhibit our decreeed.

To the Editor of " Little.

SH,-1 was very glad to observe your firm enterior of Let us work with a will, let us try to develop into | the proposal made by Signer Danism to Mr. Labouchere to demonstrate to him the reality of materiaustion phenomena for a wager of £1,000.

Both proposale are anyadicious, viz., the demonstration and the wager. These phenomena are not may us to be gambled also in they are facts for sersons, scientific examination knows perfectly well that spiritual phenomena of any kind, overagain scientifically demonstrated, and yet the world is cannot be commanded at will , he also knows that the more credulous a they would remain, even if the Society delicate the phenomena, the more sensitive and occult are the for Psychical Research reported in favour of psychography. The conditions. He also known that every materialisations that truthus, these matters cannot be generally received on authority are perfectly generate are not conclusive to inexperienced in restagators, and that not more than 10 per cent, of those ordinarily observed are under such conditions as to be absolutely

January 31 188

All materializations from cabinets have an element of doubt about them, and the only perfectly conclusive development of psychic materialisation is when the medinar is visibly among the nitters, when the psychic forms grow up in the middle of the room from apparent nothing as so it is speck write, and alake hands with the attern, and grad a second appelble, and when all present clearly see and hear the phen mone se they occur-

Experiments of that kind are not at the direct command of any one; they require much patience to witness them, and a genumenous than I have of the fully and projudice recently the lay don the control of Toute Thank As a Newcasto of Ty-

January Lord, 1985.

The Cry of the Hungry To the Butter of " Mour.

Sec.-1 willingly join in your protest against any course of action which would tend to atific investigation. But, to a to high time that Mr. Eglinton were taken in hand. Once would not choose Professor Ray Lankester as the investigator Illis method lacks delicacy even for the mere qualitative knew not. analysis of payelucal phonoments.

What puzzles upo in this on the one hand, we have a gentleman professing to be able to excreme almost at will a marvallous power quite out of the range of known physical forces an in no other land, we have a Society which exists for the express pressure of investigating, according to accombine the writing as he in. This friend is not only a Greek sch dar yet these two, the median and the Society, have not yet and of the original, of which I am glad My Podmore has a numeral to but it all together.

I should very much like to know the reason of this. Which is shy of the other? Is the force afraid of scientific method, or in the Society unequal to grappling with the force ! It is these little latches that are an perplexing in connection with the occult. We are inundated with Speritualistic literatore which would all be very interesting if we could just get our little modicum of fact to start with But, whenever I have hungrily saked for a fact, I have been given-a dark signed; said now, just when it seemed as if Spiritualism were at last omerging rate the light, and one could get something solid to work upon, there some, after all, so be something wrong about it

Of course, I shall be told that I may go to Mr Eglinton and converse myself. But I would rather the investigation were commeted screw to y. See any ven or won day is not necessarily believing. So far, the Society for Psychon! Research has done its work well. It has boon rigorous in its tests, and for this reason its work, unlike that of issue former investigators, will stand. And I should prefer their opinion to expect that I should be allowed to secure certainty by apecial tests.

In the, if Mr. Egistion can really command an occult force, it is a thousand pities that the fact is not, once for all, accomplically demonstrated. When demonstrated, it would be no proof whatever of the interference of spirits, but in lust, a commander in the Legion of Honour. In anticipation steelf it would be a priceless addition to human knowledge. -Fasthfully yours,

New Atheneum Clab, S.W. A. Bung to Evans

[Our correspondent is somewhat in curve. Mr Egirnton does a passive agent. Further, Mr Bubule-Evens would, like many - La Lumnire

there, be allowed perfect liberty to " secure certainty by apecial Unix. We Fareston refuses no request in moderation pre-Signor Durasan, as a long continued practical investigator, force a cosh seek gapirit. The "fact" has been over said Enter of Lat T

The Public Discussion of Spiritualism. To the Eddor of "Licux."

See. -Mr Podmore's criticate of my remarks on that subet and of the Greek sentence written by a spirit in my al, apon marked paper and under fairly good test conditions, has had my attention. I presume both of us wish to be secur a mour statement of facts, irrespective of preconceived op one In my paper, to which Mr. Polanore calls the further a range of the bar one of the steel section factor all I know reading to as threak writing, but Mr. Podmore says:-

Mr. Thoubald has omitted to mention that the spirit averibad the quotation-which is prose, and could not be initiaken pulicial mind to interpret them, and I shrowlly suspect Mr.

Let in verify a the first the first book of Labouchers but not either.

I have been a transfer and he first book of the first book of the service of the first book of the first book of the service of the first book of the contract of many materialisation and also-writing of the contract of the first book of the contract of the first book of the Discourse was seen very muricians, conocier ig my anxiety an all auch marracones to a premoto and to provide a safety all that our throw light upon them, dienor remains to the small any to his car one on four me can be a count out the idea expects from he are a Mr. I is a seption from their ness or he said arone. As non-leveles. Mr. Per nove the reor speak of the server, (it should there were the Many conserver where smoot the 4.0 west to referred no there. It was from a Greek scholar I had that the lam, I agree with the edstor of Trade in thinking that it reference. He was clearly unstaken. All the specificancel in to be found recorded in the P.S. of my paper. What the "other facts," elsewhere referred to by Mr. Pedmere, are, 1

As I have said before, I am not a Greek scholar. Had I been me is y occurs in any a ser over would not have occurred to be I was d.M. Posmous servicion of the Greek also to as passed under review, I took it to a friend whom Mr. Pedmero knows and would counder equally able to form an epimen of nictionia, the alleged manifestations of such a power, but but a Spiritualist, and the result of an hour's crucial examina-A is to convince me that a Specificalist who knows Greek will took upon the writing and for the conditions under which these writings are done My friend roads the word I have deciphered Onto as Galas, and with the aid of his "other eyes" I can take this reading and thus make it correct : it can clearly be so read, and therefore we one give the benefit of the doubt on the side of accuracy. He also reads proton, as I have preuted it, correctly. He agree and my note on the word Odssore. He considers some of the lotters of antique form and Mr. Podmore's criticism thereof inamportant, and in one case wholly wrong.

With larger other eyes than ours, To make allowanee for us all

But whother the Greek is correct or not appears to me of small import by the side of the phanonimon itself-a Greek sontence written between eleven o clock at hight a al eight in the morning, on marked paper, in a house where no one could have written it, excepting, perhaps, myself (who could have and , as I wrote Greek when at school). But as, according to Mr. Pos more, a stan-a first, as an empossible position, he pr baldy may have other facts a explain how it was o me. He a not however be more careful - has scatement of facts than he has were in due on ance Yours faithfully

MORFIL THEODALD. January 25 h, 1885

Spritture has lost one of its best disciples in Colonel Devoof his departure, he had prepared the customary notes of inviberder ending with the words. "The departed asks for your affectionate rengalement." This departure from antiquated custom is quite in accordance with our sentiments, and we hape to see the constance with our sentiments, and we hape not claim to " exercise at will " a marvellous power. He is merely to see the example followed in the families of all our co-disciples

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LICHT" 4, AVE MARIA LANE, LONDON R.C.

writers capte of a partition and or the relaxable states. St. 1980 http://www.formediction.com/

The Annual Subscription for "Limits," that free to any address we fine the United Kingdom, or to place comprised within the Postal Limits, in the initial states, and British the America in 10s. Act for amining forwarded to our office in

NOTICE TO STREETHERS.

Subscriptions for 1995 are now the Subscribers of Orbige by forwarding these at ourse is The Unwager of FIGURY 4, are Marin-line. FI Post Office Orders may be usual payable to Henry Harnes. All Editorial Correspondence to be addressed to "The Editor.

Wight'

SATURDAY, JANUARY 31st, 1885

INVESTIGATION AND INVESTIGATION

There are a few persons in this world who profess, in Modern Spiritualism, among whom, without at one offer

Their is as gutton are consisted in attending less than rational interpretation. halfa-glosen experiments, and their conclusions, some of which have been published, count of crude and mainfestry projections inferences, deduced from a very limited number of seances, at which the phenomena appear to have been of a manifestations rather than to give psychies and phenomena 19 a fair field, and after careful observation to arrive at any decision, invourable or uninvoursale, legitimately proven by what they observed.

Dr. Carpenter, in his Eoxoonal researches, places his own phenomena and facts before his critics. He gathers his own specimens, employs his own lapidary, prepares his own sections, uses his own inicroscope and modes of illumina-, tion, somets his critics to examine his preparations in his to affirm his protozoona theories.

Professor Huxley, in his scientific controversy wit: Professor Ower and others, on, say, the structure of the brain of the chimpangee and that of man, procures his own champansee, takes the bony care from the brain, places the brain in normal nin, and in that way demonstrates, this having returned. And passed to some time to come. But the to his brother professors that the cerebrum in the clumpanzee covers the corobellum os doos the cerebram in manbjogenetic phenomena, does not trust his experiments to the manipulation of any concerted stranger with a foregone conclusion in his mexperienced brain, but provides his own | ever he may know of passion.

animal or vegetable fluid infusions, sterilizes them houses by high heat, places their inabsolutely pure air, carefully hermetically scals them under his own inspection, and, after years of patient experiment and observation, arrives at the conclusion that living forms, at present, only spring from

Reports of the proceedings of Sprithalist Societies in as account a form as possible, and authenticated by the signature of a response to officer, are solicited for inaction in "Liour." Members of petrate colors will also unlige by contributing being records of noteworthy. The Editor contest undertake the return of manageriphs unless the waters capped a special to the appear of manageriphs unless the waters capped a special to the appear of manageriphs unless the waters capped a special to the appear of manageriphs unless the having found certain conditions necessary for their programmers and conditions necessary for their production declines to accept the non-valulity of his conclusions, except by processes which he hamself has conducted, and m which he has observed contrary results.

In every case the four above-named scientists are indisputably correct, but when their atternon is directed as a to examine phenomena with which they are unacquainted, and of the laws regulating which they know nothing, unless such phenomena are produced under their own conditions, and at their personal dictation.

What would Perfector Lyndall my to the conceited dogmatist who declined to witness his electrical experiments unless he produced them freely in a damp room? He, if or a a core and placable mood, would order him out of a presence or hove conveyed to an mano maylum Why should electrical experiments and psychographic experments be treated differently? Both are produced by occurt, available, incomprehensible forces; both require eta a concettons, those who have lavestigated the conditions best understand them, and the duty of an honest, unprejudical and judicial investigator is to observe the The sources under the conditions in which they have been produced, and ascertain if they remove all reasonable chances of error or deception.

If psychical phenomena he thus reasonably approached, same degree, to have investigated he phonomena of the result is not difficult to predict. Phonomena are the saws of Nature; they are the modes in which she speaks, may be classed Huxley, Tynoal', Carpenter, and Lankester and the language of psychographic phenomena wasts for

TRANSITION OF MRS. MARY E. RICH

Just as we go to prest, we learn from our American exchanges very elementary kind, and in which the skill of the quartette. that on the last crowing of the old year, surrounded by loving of scientists has been displayed in attempts to thewart the friends, the beloved young wife of Mr. Issac B. Rev. of the or og come of only and Rich, possed to spirit life from he Re ere has so Hose in. A devoted husband, a sweet little daughter of six years of ago, a father and five brothers and aisture, together with a wide circle of friends, no are her be serture. In the name of our readers, and all English Spiritualists, we lander our profoundest sympathy to the becoved family circle.

New Books Anhort list of recent publications will be found

Loydes Still to their Athlete E. It is proposed to hold the own way, and despite their affirmation that his specimens most conversasion of me Security of Thursday February 28th. give no antisfactory ovidence of organic atracture, continues. In the course of the evening an an dess will be delit red by Miss Rommond Dale Owen. Fall particulars will appear in due

> M. A. (Oxox's)" laterest, - There is a steady improvement, with some relapses and parexysom of pain. On the whole, the progress is well marked, and the strength is matained, the appetato having returned. The patient still keeps his bod, and most violence of the disease as spent

THE truest love is the truest benevolence, it acquires an Professor Tyndad, in his celebrated experiments on infinite patience out of the very excess of its suffering, and is content to merge its egotum in the idea of the beloved object. He that does not know this, does not know what love is, what-

MATTER THROUGH MATTER.

January 31, 1885.]

men of the day refused to look through his telescope, but proved that my ring, during the first experiment, could not atting town in their cells wrote emborate treations to show possibly have been higher up the arm than the part I how Galaco must be a deluded being, if not an impostor as mathematically such satellites were impossible.

Now, I feel a little as if Mr. Gurney were placing himself in a like position with these critics, for while some the act. prembers of the Society for Psychical Research have called on | me to question me fairly on my ring experiment and to | religioushed his grasp of the medium's hand, and he replied . impost my ring. Mr. Gurney, on the other hand, has "I am not more certain of my existence than I am that I hitherto in this matter, not ecen either myself or my ruig. did not reliniquish my grasp for an instant." but has preferred feerly to exercise his critical faculty Now, had be exemined me and my ring personally I think (matter" is a fact which can scarcely be received by he would not have written either of his late entirenms.

to the identity of any own ring, and says, "I do not see the And I confess that aithough I have had a great many of these difficulty of imitating [reccessfully] 1,000 manute marks [ou t experiences, I am only now able to say, "I know that "the uny ring, for a person who has a pin and a few hours at his passage of matter through matter, is a fact."

It is quite unnecessary that I should characterise thus tation? sentence verbally, but I will now offer Mr. Gurney £30 if in "a few hours," with a pin, he successfully instates any one manute mark I shall sudicate, such, for instance, as the oy the coherent force, which force probably is the attraction indentation cannot by the blow of a hammer, out of the of magne a polar ty. But although these atoms are more 1 000 visting marks on my ring, provided he will give not or less in prex 13, the theory of that they do not touch should be fall, one shi a g

Mr. Carney objects to my describing my experiment as caree but a demonstration. But I maintain that to myself it was a demonstration both to my senses and to my reason, and to others a logical desconstrution. As thus-

I. I have a ring made of hammered from and of a special size and form, so as to render its passage over Mo-Hunk's hand, so far as one could judge by measurement and by experiment, maponuble.

2. I group the medium s band, and am absolutely certain I never for an instant relax my group during the experment, which lasted altogether only about, apparen v, one manute.

3. I then examine the medium's wrist and forcurn, and estudy myself that there is no ring thereon

4. Immediately afterwards I find a ring on the medium s wright.

5. I call for a light, and on w unic examination, and all my (all but invisible) private marks on the ring, and am that man in his unsermost essence is identical in substance absolutely certain the ring is my own ring, and is intact.

ment as a demonstration, complete and without flaw

the ovening of the 22nd inst., and again at the house of Mr. Stuart-Mententh; Captain James, the Rev. Mr. Newbould, myself, and other friends being present

At the end of our seance, "Irresistible" mid, "If Mr gave Dr. Wyld more evidence."

just risen from ring, and as intact.

Having now both hands free, I pulled up the sleaves of Mr Hask's shirt and cout and found that it was teapessible When Galileo discovered by means of his telescope that to arge my ring beyond the beginning of the thick part of there were satellites circulating round Jupiter, the scientific has arm. This was an important observation, because it exampared.

> This brief experiment is so far more satisfactory than the first experiment inasmuch as we were permitted light to satisfy all present as to the status que immediately before

We asked Mr. Newbould if he was certain he never

I admit, however, that " the passage of matter through thoughtful minds on testimony however strong, except Mr Gurney still calls in question my ability to judge as there be preliminary experiences of a cognate character

But if we grant the fact, what is the possible interpre-

The sent the view is, that matter is composed of ultiles to atoms of inferit small mess, hold in close proximals not are free to move with unknown velocity in all

If so, ther al. that may be required still further to separate these atoms from each other is to reverse the polarity, or perhaps only to relax the electric tention

Spritted beings amort that they have the power of controlling magnetic forces, and can thou disintegrate and reconstruct matter. True, the beings who thus speak, do not generally impress us with the idea of their superior was an or knowledge but as they all are unarimous in asser, ag that the wood spiritual beings can control the forces of magnetism, and as this assertion is accompanied by a demonstration that they can post "matter through not tend as if said matter became aguid or gaseous, there nesertion, with the facts, demands the sincorest exame as not of perent the mands.

Theosophy tenches that the external universe is only aw objective reflection of the Divine Will. It teaches further we a the All-Spirit. If so, then logically, he should, as a I think, therefore, I am entitled to describe my experi appritual being, he able, by concentrating his will on a limited portion of matter, to control the attractive force, I will now add the supplementary evidence I obtained on pand thus to increase or dimir ish the interspaces between the atoms of an iron rang.

GEORGE WYLD, M D.

In any ng of the ring experiment "it seems to me that Newbould will now hold the medium's hand, I will try and either the arm or the su stance of the ring must have been temporar is disintegrated, merely been as we have no other Accordingly, having obtained permission to light a means of explaining the mystery. Mr Ken-mans over candle, all present one Mr. Newbould, with his right hand, looks the fourth dimensional hypothesis of Zöllner. take a firm hold of the medium's left hand. After he had According to that there would have been no passage of ring done so, I, having during the whole of the seanes kept my through arm, or vice versi, because for four-dimensional ring in my breast pocket, now produced at and put at into space the arm would not be a solid body. The operation Mr Newbould's left hand, and, he being now arged not for could then only be seen by a four-dimensional vision, to a moment to relax his grasp, we extinguished the light, which it would appear as simple as possible. What ere could "Irresistible" now went to work, and having asked Mr concervably see of it would be just this. The ring or part of Newbould to rise from his chair, placed on Hunk's wrist not it would become suddenly invisible, such part animediately reonly a ring but the frame of the chair Mr. Newbould had appearing on the inside of the arm. It is, to my mind, not only possible, but probable, that there exist beings which have Light being now produced, I examined the ring on the not evolved the sense, or rather the judgment, of the third medium's wrist and was absolutely cortain it was my own dimension. As Zöllner shows, we should simply have to , raise an object and pass it across a line to perform what, of the fourth dimensional process. "It is by no nwn, but we have no right to call it impossible. means necessary," says Züllner-"nay, not even pro-Inble that such beings should have a contemplative conservament of these actions of their wills." He illustrates tent by our own experience. We garselves execute movements in the third dimension, instinctively, but we only attenue to a conception of the third dimension by reflection necording to the law or function of causality. Autorior to this most prim tive reflection, more sense can give us no Literation of more than one plane. The chiki nors its hand it stretches it not. The feeding of the hand remains the sound, there is therefore for it an identical object. But the visual appearance of this object is now different. That is a problem for the child's thought, and it is solved through the subjective necessity of the count law giving the concepturn of a second plane to account for the phenomenon. The judgment becoming instrumenus by habit is confounded with sense perception. The same process is made evident to mature experience by the example of the steree scope, "The representation of the corporcelityie., of the third dimension-springs up in our mind when the tack is presented to our intellect to refer at once two different plane pictures, without con tradiction, to one magic object. We are not actually constitute of this process, and because it is a secretary inte lectual act, an a priori function brought into pany by

We should first explain "Trus satisfa" before we call on "Irresistible" to explain his or its performances. If the fourth dimension is for ourselves only an affair of evolution. that means for the personal consciousness; the larger, deeper, Subject underlying that, which in the case of sections projects effects, but not explanations of them, above the threshold of consciousness, can not from another space than ours. But obediently to the law of equality, the personal consciousness will have the hypothesis, an hypothesis sucwrong a sy seif-conscious reflection, but which is the concept of causo concented by the mental ideality of the norm a mothing it is 18.1 ym uprobserved spectaurary in a gendy-made entegors of personality and specifical and more. I may obtain demand mare to proceed to not remarky. We own to Ju-Prol the opervation, that deeson, though of transcendental origin, from below the threshold, must for consciousness where the threshold take on the imagery to be found there The illusion is thus in the form of the phenomenon, not in the phenomenon itself. The transcendental Subject passes its knowledge into the personal consciousness in the only way it can, by the assumption of an illusory personality. And I do not see why the same should not occur in relation to transcendental acts, or rather, given such acts by our own Subject, the causel necessity of our understanding demanding on actor, the latter must be such for it as it ! can represent, a distinct individual, or "spirit."

But descending from these speculative heights, I own it in condour to Mr. Gurney to admit that, to my mind at tenst, he has hit a labt in the ever need at west, a defectunless Dr. Wyld can further reassure us. Was the ring which fell down after the seauce, and which is now available for examination, the same ring that was on the wrist! That is a question which does legitimately arise on the evidence as it stunds. For I must doubt, with Mr Gurney, whether the solulity of the rim of the ring could be conclusively tested while it was on the wrist. phenomenon, I would by 100 to I that it was genuine. But the most not confound subjective judgments with objective of a confound subjective judgments with objective of a manned Swamborg who a confound and a second in the wife ones. I have seen the confound to be a second in the wife ones. ones. I lawn seen the ring in Dr. Wyld's possession, and ones. I have seen the ring in Dr. Wyld's possession, and if the general appearance of the one found on the wrist was the same, though Dr. Wyld had no photographic chart who belonged to his Church—the Roman Catholic "—La Lumico" for such beings, would be the "stuyendous miracle" of to go by, I can easily suppose that his familiarity with all matter through matter. Nor in our case are we those old dints and rust-marks makes the segmention of a facwages o well tilm "Treesoft bles" with a knowledge smille to his mind very absurd. It is rather absurd to my

I should like to suggest a simple experiment which, if 4 could be brought to a successful issue, would conclusively lemonstrate the possibility of the "pensage of matter through matter -that is, matter as cognised by our credering Jesusserie

Take a piece of chamous leather and cut out of it two ngs, me with a unother, If they are eather irregular and regred so much the better. It can always be shown that hose rings must originally have formed one piece of leather, for no art could smitate the continuous texture of the natural skin, when the rings are placed so that their edges corneido. If some powerful physical mediata, a the habital producing ring phonomena, succeeded in linking these eather rings together, it would be evidence that Professor Ray Lankester, Mr. Labouchere, the members of the Royal Surgety, and the entire fraternity of emperers could not upset. we well calenet, or mystery as to the moules operandi, sould make the slightest difference with regard to the fact of the solid rings having been passed through each other. What the explanation anglet be would still remain an open person-whether the defintegration are built gration of matter, a fourth dimension of space, or some other aypothesis not yet propounded.

Another conclusive experiment would be to the a knot or an endless cord of soft frather, such as Sho their in a cord the ends of which were fastened with sealing wax

LOUBLA B. Cook

ON CREDENCE TO SPIRITS

(Extracted from the Religio-Philosopheoal Journal.)

Spiritual ats should be assful to over mate between instaveness and medianis q. Medianis are of course. always mensitives; but it does not follow that sensitives are meaning. Nother not took who ar really his manadways. a sort a concepting of the able spirits to his feet them. as verthere; there of they, then, unged by importurity and perhaps by their needs, hold seances, they serve only as mirrors to reflect what comes to them from their immediate mundane environment

Mediumship, if not conjoined with disciplined will, cannot but lead to error and disputer. Sensitive mediums who do not discipline the will, maintain self-respect, and lead an orderly life, are as constant danger of passing over the boundary line of manity

If any of our friends would countle a spirit upon any religious, literary, or business question, let them not be guided except under test conditions. Lot what comes through one medium be compared with what comes through another, or others. If it is found that the assumed communiciting spirit mountains his identity, that he gives expression to the same ideas, that he repeats through our medium what he has said through another, or others, it may then be reasonably believed that a spirit has really communicated, and his communication is worthy of just that deference which would have been given to his words when in the earth-life, and no more

THE Beacon Light in the title of a new publication, at a offer a year, edited by a medium, Mrs. M E. Williams, it to succeed well

(Extracted from the Philadelphia Press.)

January $1, 1865.]

dition that it should cause a full eccentific investigation a spiritual journal has been established. The movement to be made of Spiritualism. The University has now new menudes Athens, in tweece and viva a ris, in Eg. a. literary and secentific men of Philadelphia. And not too tion of a mos ment for the delivery of sectures. The year appointed for that purpose a committee of prominent noon. It is high time that Speritualism shoold receive a full has seen proude a works published in many parts of arradiation from the cold, scarching light of science. For nearly forty years it has been an increasingly active spiritual philosophy, page might be filled with the enumera element a our social and religious world. The journals tion of them and their contents. Forty new once are on promulgating it are unsected by the kundreds, and its sale at the offices of the Revice. It comments on the fact adherents by the hundreds of thousands. If it is all error, it of some promuent men of science at Nancy having reported is not to be dissipated by ansect; if there is a truth in it, it to their society the results of a conscientious investigation is neither becoming nor judicious to treat it with headless, of "The action of the mind of one individual upon another,

The possibility of the return of the dead-the key note. of Spiritualizar-appeals to the tenderest feelings of men and women; people come to the consideration of it blinded by grief and hope. These feelings have, no doubt, been traded upon by tricksters who have called themselves mediams; but this is not, as the world goes, very surprising But are there phenomena which such tricksters only motated Is the mediumship which they pretend to be endowed with a real natural endowment in some individuals ?

The belief is extending that under the hase of Spirit, nalism, Annual Magnetism, Clairvoyanec, Telepothy, &c. there is something beyond trickery, but which -whether it. Jamuars be some hitherto uncomprehended physical force, or psychical force—calls for conscientious research similar to that which is suffering from sente sciation for two months, against which given to the other natural phenomena.

The present is an age when all though are proved and reduced to ac out he classification. A century ago men shuddered, or secred, at the notion of gliosts, educated men now neither shudder nor joer at anything. They will not be startled nor astonialed at any disclosure of an invasible world about them; but they will insist that it must be conformable with law and rational system,

Whatever of definable truth there is in Spiritualism will be elicited when eccentific men take its investigation in hand. In Ragland a beginning has been made a Society for Psychical Remurch has been formed, and has acress y accumulated a mass of facts for scientific investigation and seriously for six years, and the Bordeaux doctors could do

That there are invisible beings in the universe reaching up beyond us, just as the ranks of created beings stretch downwards from us to the microcobe, and that the mysteries which now and then touch us, "striking the electric chain with which we are darkly bound," should be making efforts to communicate with us, does not appear absurd to the majority of men and women. It should be for eccentists to demonstrate its absurdity-if such it beand brush such mental cobwets out of the way. It is they not walk without help. His cure was complete." only who can do it. And there ought to be no difficulty a the matter. Unseen pewers would, doubtless, he glad to meet seience half-way in the inquiry, and honest med ours would be glad to meet every test. If Spiritualism at frosty and delesion, let us have it proved, if there is truth in n let us have it, be the result what it may

THE Echo d'Oriende reports that last Sunday the De Rote Society of Speritists opened a new hall in the Chauseco de Thourout, due to the liberality of one of its members. Among the eighty persons present were some of our best-known citisome. After the business opening, the prayer used at opening afances was read. Then communications were written through mediums, and read to the audience. Some addresses were delivered, and the ceremony was slosed by the reading of the prayer used for the closing of the scence. In an adjoining room was a collection of sparit-drawings, which was visited by many, and was to remain open for a week .- Le Messager.

ON THE URGENCY FOR INVESTIGATION. THE REVUE SPIRITE'S RETROSPECT OF 1884

The Benne Spirite says, in its retrospect of the past A large sam was bequeathed by the late Mr Henry year, that the signs of extension of the spiritual movement Sybert to the University of Pennsylvania, on the con are manifest all over Europe. Even in elecurantist Rome

In France its expansion is augmented by the organisa-Europe, bearing undirectly, when not directly, upon the and upon sures by magnetization and the use of susquetues.

The Revus again calls attention to the tendency to federa for all ated by the formation of "Spiritualist All masses in Fighand and America, with both of which the French Spirituate are in friendly relation. It gives a full report of Major-General Druysou's address to the London Spiritualist Alliance, translated by Professor Casan.

HEALING MEDIUMSHIP

The following extracts are from La Spiritions of Last May the widow Samerfeld, at Villette, had need medical treatment had been totally ineffective. By spiritual nonguetraction, through me as medium, in four sittings she was entirely curtil.

"The widow Long had suffered for ame years from abdominal tumour, and interly also from vomitings, which prostrated her for days together. Of the latter she was, by the same means, at once relieved, and in six weeks of the

"I state these facts in the hope that the knowledge of them may help to spread the spiritual dectrine.- It A Madamo Agullena writes; "I had been suffering nothing more in my case. Through the kind treatment of Washing Colligion and M. Britte I was quite restored, and continuo well after a year. My husband wanted to make remuneration, but M. Brauo mid that the only remunera tion that he neked for was that I would help him in the cure of others: for while treating me he had ascertained that I was a clarryoyanto, with the gift of healing. The I willingly agreed to. Our latest cure is of a man who had been a sufferer for fourteen years from scintica, and could

At the error luneral of Bi Guichard, Dean of the Frenci-Chamber of Depus is M. Spullet, one of its emmont members, in his oration used that the departed had desired that his point is short be hid in the touch with civil rites only, but an an an inequality of station, but because he believed that we can am more countries of foreign bread a well-ordered life here he smould at its close to be been a muriples which had propose one He ten rule to a concern the tentament, which may make the tentament, which the tentament of the tentament of the wife tentament, which is considered than I before a too, so rease to give sovereign rule of him. I before a too, so rease to give sovereign rule of him, in the constant of the other can be in the providential recompanion. These who are an in the providential recompanion. These who are at the constant of their fellow greatures, and of the reday I are a secondaries. with the lew-guaranteesure receion of regular que of the all minister of any denormone on whose er may therate so my function and there exists there are my other than I way be a count when to him, belowed wife inc. I even also much. Reside Spirite. The 20 in make that M was chure was ever at work in the spirit of his profession of faith, and that there are many other deputies and senature, eitent friends of modern Spiritualism, who might make a similar declaration.

The "London Correspondent" of the provincial daily wrote as follows on January 16th .-

It is to be regretted that Mr. Labouchers, and equally with line his friend Professor Lankoster, cannot discuss the question of Spiritualians without making use of expressions which are not stal in well-emidteted noticity. To call an opposite : where the areates a plan to the more persons a lotting, but it is not good manners. The failure of negotia amabetween Mr Labouchers and Professor Duniant for a test of My Egint our spiritualistic powers leads many people to think that the former gentleman and are a confident in his antimatter I heard a story from the best authorsty which, perhaps. is worth repeating. A short time ago Mr Eglanton hold a lished facts, carefully examined by, and well known to, many scance, at which some eight or ten gentietien, including Professor Danisan, were present, One gentleman look his own states with hon, two langed forming a double state, and two architected, which were stanged with his own name, and he made what he considers to be a conclusive test. With his own hand folly may inflict. he wrote upon one of the ranged aluter an inquiry to his deceated father-no one clas in the room know what the question was A piece of slate pencil, far too enal, for human fingers to write with, was placed between the double slates. The slates were then just spon the table, the gentieman kept his hand upon thom and never adowed them leave has presented. After a upon the opposite slate to that containing the question. This roply was not an apositic as the gentleman desired, and, accord ngly, the question was agon written on one of the common rance? Why propose wagers or offer rewards? mixtus, a trace of pencil put upon to and then the other absta bound over it with tape. Mr. Eginter navor manipulated the elates at all, and they never left the eight of the operator and trie witnesses. Presently the pencil was heard moving, and when the states were instead there was a specific suggest to the question, which question was not known a convert the annual short Speritualism when they pass to the life to come, and mayo the person who wrote it. Mr. Egint on, where it was verand he had scarcely ever done anything who has exhausted who deny it, does not a mucho one fite me him more, and his appearance, after the second question had been appeared, was that of a man thoroughly prostrated by Intigite

The gentleman who submitted Mr. Eglinton to this test considers it to have been conclusive, meantach as it was impossable for thurs to have been any tampering with the states, which power left his night or possession. I may my that he is a pharinscentical chamist, highly educated, and a man who has travelled about the world a very great deal. Certainly he is not one upon whom it would be easy to impose.

The only directoratoree compets i who this experiment which, to my mind, is open to objection a ne nature of a question asked. It was to the offeet that, hastmuch so the opentioner, being an oblody man, could not in the course I navire hope to live much longer, was it probable that he on he entrance into the aparat world, would be met by his father and was a general albritative, but he was not antisfied with it, and denred a more specific raply. The second capty gave a definite promise that both his father and met a excitle acce, has decerve on his entrance, after don't, to the spire world. The wave tion to questions of this kind is that there exist no means of testing the in him he camer It would have been better if the question had been one relating to some mundang matter known only in the questioners private family, the truth of which could have been envily ascurtained

This experience and shring their aboutless." It a proper mover knew, and of whose personality no new makes must smile and shring their aboutless. "It a proper is now haskes must smile and shring their aboutless." It is not so has bushend or father had any knowledge. to see a Portuguese-speaking people, once on doctions he hands of Popes, so radically changing, as the article in the Reformator in their. Let M-sager

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK.

[January 31, 1885.

NIV.

"One Thousand Pounds Reward" is an attractive heading to an advertmement, but whether it should be used to call attentook to the facts of Spiritualism may be a matter of taste. Every het is the offer of a reward depending upon some connormey Financial and commercial speculations have much a the sante character. Men back their operating-but the question arises whether it is over justifiable to make a wager upon a fact which you know, and your opponent deplet without know helge. In it right to nealet a man for his agnorance? If you Lame which home will win the Derby, would not every bet you nake bo a theR?

Something is to be said on the other sine no doubt. If a man, who ought to know better, persists in denying well-estabcreditable persons, he deserves to be punsshed a little for his w south. A one was almost have estimated a rest well not be prior of he run against a - v wort - V again who stuppe y demonafact of mountain sterest deserves t suffer maste or such

After all, these matters settle themselves better, perhaps, than we could arrange them by my case or one or effort. A life to come has its interest for nullisons. "Modorn Spiritualism is not forty years old , and it is as well known in America as in America. No really intelligent person a subta the reality of its while they were opened and a short repay was bound written phonomena. If some people, full of projection and concest, choose in deny its facts without taking the trouble to execute those, why not let them enjoy their fully and their wilful syno-

> I do not go the length of some who the ow up the imbject on laguat because ton or a hundred seek pleasure in this life for one who will take any trouble to learn the troth about another existence. The excuse for this neglect that every one will know therefore they need not bother about the ignorant and wilful

> That kind of logic may do for the Laboucheres and the Laukestors, the Huxleys and Tymialls. Their ignorance is welful, and they deserve all their " landness of lunct and blindness of mind." People who shot their eyes and fasten them in Lat. non with a pitch planter of projudece deserve just what they not by it , but there may be were forther paradiment some bitterness of remorae for using their influence to keep it as in darkness, When "the blind load the blind and both fall into the ditch," the see who might have soon if he had opened his eyes may have some compunction.

Mr. Labouchero mays that the best judges of the genumeness. Capital time see at a stary to a content. The statural reply is that coveral prostidigitateses of repute have frankly beene testimony to the reality of the phenomena. But there are conjugate mother, who had proceded him thither? The answer to this and conjugers, even as there are investigators and mentigators. and there is no districtivation on Mr Eglinton's part, or for the matter of that, on the part of most mediums, to meet any heard inquirer, whether he is conjurer or not. All I say is that the conjurers to be excluded from a pary to try the manufestations are those who have made a business of exposing Spiritualism. Of course the Andersons, the Markelynes and Cooken, the Bishops and Cumberlands, could not alt on it. But any bount conjurer would be a good Judge because he knows the limits of his own art.

So of ventriloquime. Its possible Illustons are comprised in T a formula or the date to September 1 th, says " in a narrow limit well known to those who practice it. Conversations The first of the Chief the last of the Last of the control of the last of the wife, the father with the ant or daughter, whom the medium never knew, and of whose personality no one present except the

All we Sperituants have to do is to give the knowledge we have gained of the other world to those who are roudy to receive it. The testimony to the reality of spiritual phenomena is conpletely overwhelming. I do not see how any one can read the statements of such aion as Crookes, Zöllner, Wallace, Dunparon, Balcarros, and a score of similarly amentatic and distinguished witnesses, without at least country to the conviction that there are facts in Spiritualum worthy of their altention.

LIGHT

Further, we may say, without giving reasonable offence, that any one who is not convinced by the toutimony within his reach, -the phenomena be may observe with little trouble-is not worth convencing. The beliefs of numbers of parsons are of no more importance than their understandings. The man who cannot see that two and two make four may as well give up the Thibot-as the first official communication for one hundred years has to by her many to he for suspensional, with an approximation for which many phrase suck. The what in whom the Tashin Lanes to born will soon be less free one out to a remem w naturally send an unbany with congratulations in the interests of trade, in which case we may possibly hear more of Koot guides of Mr. Wallie was," Man . His Nature and Needs. Hoomi, and other personages known to Thecomplists.

The Messager (January 15th) records a proposed expeed of Speritualism at Brussels on the 7th and 8th inst. M. Churles fields, it appears, associated two stances in which he would appear in an anti-Spiritualist, to mount the tracks of the mediarus. He was to guess nambers which the audience had thought of, find hadden poss, disentangle himself from the most secure enbinet bonds after the manner of the Darenport Brothers, and emerge unumisted from a scaled suck. All those tricks he would fully explain and demonstrate on the last of the evenings. The Belgian Chronicle of the 8th reports that the first part of the programme mescooded admirably. "H Bel mi mees no aid but the hand of the spectator who lass hidden or pared the objects, and bolding it on his forehood, or manipulating it in a sort of fever, he went blindfold among the andiouse, finding various objects which, during his absence, had been hadden among their purmouts. Whatever may be the secret of M. Bellini's proceedings, the result which he obtains is surprise proves. - W B. ing in the extreme." As to the second part of the entertainment, it was done cloverly enough, but he nover explanted his fracts, "This is the wrong which he has done the public which he altracted to the half by the promise of the explanation and adution of various experiences attributed to the intervention of spirits. Now M. Bellini gave neither solution nor oxplanation. Numbers of persons retired in great daubeasure, considering thermotres daped, et um for, ils si eradent per tort."

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

Branchast (Oosella-street), -On Sunday, January the 15th, Mps R. Dale Owen gave an address morning and evening to the Birmingham Spiritualists. The subject in the morning was " Spirits as Moutors," and in the ovening, "Where Spiritualism has led me." Mr. E. Tymiali took the chair at the morning meeting, and Mr. Turner in the ovening. Mine Owen in speaking of spirits as mentors showed how she had been guided by them physically, mentally, and spiritually, and how her spirit guides have directed her in every detail of her life. The orening address was a continuation and sequel of the morning's, and gave a minute account of some of the traths her spirit guales had taught her. The whole discourse teemed with novel and insportant matter, and was a living comment on Christ's Sermon on the Mount. Miss Owen scarcely glances at her sounty notes, and her style is simple, fluent, and clear, though the thoughts are often subtle. Her summer and language have a wonderful chara. Questions were asked and wisely answered by Miss Owen, and keen interest was excited. A drawing-room meeting was held in the Frederick-road, Edgbaston, at which Colonel Pholps preaided, on the following Friday, when Miss Owen's address was again followed by an animated discussion. These moeting, for the educated and wealthy are most important, for it is almost the only way in which they can be reached out of London They will not attend the Sunday services or read the literature of Spiritualism; indeed, they have small chance of doing so at the libraries will not circulate its works.

GLASOOW,-The Glasgow Association of Spiritualiste hold a sorren and concert on the evening of Friday best, 23rd mat ( Burns Night "), partly to commonorate the 126th anna erany of the poet's birth, and partly to sid the funds of the Society It was the auggestion of an "anonymous friend," who generously offered to contribute the edible requisites and defray all incidental expenses, in order that the proceeds from the rate of tickets might go entirely to the bonefit of the Society. The Hall, 2, Carlton-place, was unfortunatory packed to discomfort, many late comors having to be catered for in an adjoining room. The cutertainment, nevertheless, was hearty and joyous, the hall having been testefully descrated with appropriate motion and matches of song from the namortal repertours of Burns. The programms was ample and varied, and the vocal offeria of the balles and gentionen who volunteered their services were, on the whole, successful. A dance followed, There is now the possibility of getting some news from which was kept up with vigour by the younger members till an advanced hour in the morning. Mr. Wallie last week pold a vant to Dandro and hold man age there , and Mrs. Wallis was ministering a few days before to the spiritual necessities of magairees in Alon, a picturescine apor at the fact of the Ochills, in Clackmannanshire. Last Sunday the subject selected by the treatment was able and ordinective and ovoked a norm each amount of applause. Miss Owen addresses the Society of Som ay and Monday, the 5th and 9th February. Mr. Morse has been engaged for 29th March, -Sr Moxno.

STATEMENT BAILORS' WELCOME -On the oroning of farmer is at a p to , the controls of Mr. W Bart discoursed The Second Douth" in their meal powerful and convincing manner, showing that the passages of Scripture-"Douth and he was an a the lake of fire, which is the second death, and the smoke of their torment secondark up for ever and ever -rero to be understood only in their symbolical agnification. Double a life contrary to the will and laws of the Great Creator; Leef the consequent reward, so to speak, of such a conduct of unisoliness, bringing removes of conscience and the sting of guilt The lake of fire was the dark spheres, where a full explation has to be made, and the not farthing has to be paid. The necessity of a life of hediness was urged upon all present, so as to attent to the first resurrection in which the second desta shad have no

EARLY DEATH.

" It Is not the reaters of the Carsonia to put on thousand for the young who "Tie wall to mourn for infanta lest And wear the cable signs of wee . You stall I prize the feeling most Which doons that Death is not a foo To have the entry quarthe world In an asten of the dire key to While yet the morning hours share, Nor gathering clouds obscure the sk . Tie happy then, 'tis good to die.

For them the young lumortal wakes, So bitthely on the chores of Life Of Life so roal and so fair. Where softly angels greeting bear Their spotless charges to their bowers. And told with love their opening powers

(s), has a night merogan ve-No brighter lot the Heavens can give ! The childhood's own idea. There meta dreams are real There seek for you has one marked apring With migth and play trose sweet spicees ring.

Hence do the Germana, mge and deep, Grief's trappings and the suits of wee Not care to don, when infants sleep, Not die, for swift to Heaven they go, Where music strange, and semple' eyes, Ove joyous welcome to the skies

G D HAUGHTON

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

The Conduct of Circles By M & (Gross)

If you wish to see whether Spiritualian is really only jugglery and imposture, try it by personal experiment.

If you can got an introduction to some experienced Spiritually). m whose good faith you our cuty, ask liter for advice; and, if he is holding private circles, seek permission in attend one to see here to constact senses, and what to expect.

Photo is, however, stufficulty in obtaining accounts pricate circles. and, in any case, you must rely chickly an experiences in your over, family circle, or accord, you want cones, a congers of up oxeludad. The laws of Sparitual was have granes conviction to se

Popula electe of from four to eight persons into or a least two of negative, provide temporament, and preferably of the email sex. The rest of a more positive type

So are two oth degay amornately occurs against airdu to nnes in subsider light and in constants de and anconstrained a set any, pourse an anonvered table of engrentant size. Place the pa nes if the hands that apon the upper surface. The hands of each setter ness one touch those of his neighbour, though the practice in from the the national of

In not coher a rate atter and his tixe of at the according on fee at one Pagago in cheer to it is no done on creation Cam to Flammarion, As rangues & Ac-A and spatial nargum of Section that no determine the state of the spatial plantage of the spatial section of the spatial spat ning he meenedry to ment ten or treely o times, at some one sale there. seture anything occurs. If after such trial years to a form at An Ac Ac fresh of colo. Gross at the reason of your factors of a nate to fresh efrels. Green at the remon of your factors of a mate the second Clarke Block Island, U.S.A. Davins Lyman or a monteness clements, and introduce others. An hour should be 1 a 1 Processor W. D. or 1 Processor Mex. Wilder Prohe and of an unsupersoful wanter of some of the series and a sensation or hardon , on the type Phosp in particles on head or is the new accounter to original tribute. reality, with monthly develop with more or less support

If the table mayer, let your presents be so gentle on his surface that you are onto you are not along he motions. After some time II S. H the Prince of Sulmo. If S. L. I more Vin what it S. la v. you win probably that that the movement will confine if your hunde and hold week, but not be contact which to Do not, however, Aksakof, I ape a consister of Eusera the Hon J. I. by tale until the movement os associal, and so in no lit it to get

When a of family that. Die I me have enough let some one take compared on the extellar management of the second of the s non-lineary may be at the state of the state of at the second of the second of the state of the second of the seco

The second of the same in the same of the same of the same in the same of the same in the reserves in the cuttor of their is subject from that of their second per the cuttor was a real name of the fit in the life of the cuttor the cuttor to

The significant times and time are transported to the control of t

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

The following is a list of unlocut persons who, after personal investigation, have satisfied themselves of the reality of some of the phenomena generally knows as Psychical or Spiritualistic.

B.-An asterick is prefixed to those who have exchanged belief for knowledge.

SCHENCE. The Earl of Crawford and Balcarres, P.R.S., Problem R.A.S. ; W. Crookes, Fellow and Gold Medallist of the Royal Society; C. Varley, F. R.S., C.R.; A. R. Wallace, the No one a, W. F. Barrest F. F. S. F. In the Hoyal College of Science, Dublin ; Dr. Lockhart Robertson ; The J. Ellistann, P R.S., sometime President of the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society of London " "refessor de Nor An superline President of the Mathematical Society of London; "Dr. What report bills immediate Professor of Chemistry in the University of Edinburgh; *Dr. Ashburate, *Mr. Lutter, Dr. Herbert Mayo, P. 48, 80, 80,

"I refessor b' An oer of the organization of Transcendental Pay no. Ac Professors G. T Feelings, Scheibner, and J. H. Le paig : Professor W E. Weber, of took open Professor Hoffman of Works - Professor Letting sense Professors Wagner and But out at Later lang a Lodessors Lang on Mapes, of U.S.A. In It will also of thesian Motio from Harama usure outsider Casara Dasso and some young The salabole outside species using the solid way a desired uplace of the day of an U.S. Courts. An or Hugo Pa on over the impde, with involuntary twitchits, or be houses and active one Harmone von Vay W Lord var son I S V 'Hon of some of he were and a school of a realism, of the twice R Bala Owen U.S.A., Hon J.W. Lancinov I S V 'Pro-Surgent : "Daron du Potet "Count A. de Casparin , "Istion L. plens the Ac A Social, Postrion. -H. J. H. Nicholas, Dake of Leuchtenberg, All S. H. Propen Face of the n. Withgrowten. How. Mexaginer soft a some page to destrict the Vanctur Land of Lasten. M. Payre-Claysoms, late Consul-General of France at Tricate the late is approve of "Russia and "France | Presidents "Thiere and Lingdon, &c., &c.

"Serieum Cov., "Mrs. Browning. Him. Lotten Nool,

IS IT CONJURING

It is sometimes counted of a although that mediums are only dever to be only on the remaining as one to any he and only of the early of the contract of and the state of the contract of the con a silved the whole of an analysis of the restricts is a new year and forth by the gradien. For way, to data a trained clouds part of an a way as to so that a trained of an are producted for the solution of the solution of for melligence we become note as if the vectorys commented to the second points of a major of the vectory commented to the second points of the vector of th

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

" Whatever sorn make manipast in excite - Pout

No. 214 Yol, V

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 7 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS

44.4		Mary 1 de alles
"Matter Stough Marter on the State on	101	Matotry and the Occult Sciences "Spirits and Tricks" A Inquite	@S
The Paris N. A. ATHERS	6:	Ex 1 Filewid	$q  p^{\star}$ and a fee bonn, To	1-5	January 1886	14
No. of the last distant	t <sub>late</sub>		12
of a lost eggs	3	ris the see of plants
Mark e	I <sub>p</sub> Is	e. distal landon	133
A to other families	E-	partitional entitle me cum recogni-	E
Properties that the sample of the	l- q

The Editor of "Liout" desires it to be distinctly to could pass over her hand understood that he can accept to responsibility as to the spenious expressed by Contributors and Correspondents, on the 28th, at his own house, the ring was, according to Free and courteons discussion is invited, but secretar are along remountly for the articles to which there names are attacked.]

"MATTER THROUGH MATTER"

fairney to my mind has hit a blot in the evidence, at least a defect, unless Dr. Wyld can further assure us. Was the them on my wrist." Mr. Bempfylde did not examine the ring which tell down after the senace, and which is avail medium's wrist for more than about one mediahove the able for examination, the same ring as was on the wrist?" To which question I reply, most certainly it was the same pocket, and so far, his ovidence is most imperfect, but, ring, for I po and it up, note on monute examination knew immediately after his superficial examination, he found the it to be my ring, and by the same marks as I know the ring on the me a same he having held the medium's ring when on Husk's wrist to be my own ring. The ring on hand during the experiment Mr. Hunk's wrist was adentical with the ring which fell to when I examine it, are to me, as "C. t. 3. and r.s. "very ring could not possibly be forced over Mr. Husk's hand. I absurd." All which is necessary to guarantee about y a secret y to fix to certain art from a produced marks, and also, strated to those present by its sound, when struck, that it or certain marks in this which this of the ring it may co was intact. as small as pur por atempt, to saturated towards other marks. as to retaler recognition certain and imitation impossible, except to a microscopic engraver, who had expended, my months of labour in an endeavour to produce a faction to that be ringing it, and as I have a broken ring in my posmanon. I can liquimie this test to anyone.

With reference to the absurd idea that Husk could as mentioned that he is, and has been for years, so blind as if I pointed it out to him.

must employ not only a most skilful engraver, but also a most scientific forger in iron, who can calculate to the tenth scanes on the 29th seemed to be in rather feeble spirits, of an men the size of rings, and make due allowance for the in harmony with the medium, who had a depressing cold, expanding mad contracting powers of heat and cold.

been for ten years exhibiting these ring tests, and he assures present to exhibit, but I shall doubtless have it in my me that on an average he has probably produced three tests possession in a few days. a week that is 1,500 tests during the last ten years, and yet no one has ever published any account of any fraudulent out out of two kinds of solid hard wood, and two rings of production of rings.

my mand, absurd and impossible.

the evening of the 29th mat, at the house of Mr. Stuart-Mentesth

Finding that my ring, although too small to pass over Mr. Husk's hand, could yet be passed, with some difficulty, over the hands of most young ladies on whom I experimented, I laid au oval ring, No. 2, made, with diameters about fain, less than ring No. 1, and this ring no young lady I presented it

I set the a page to Husk on I think, the 26th inst, and evidence, placed intact on his wrist, wide my friend, Mr. Bampfylde, held bis hand.

I get with Mr Husk on the 20th, when he showed me my rong, No 2, on his wrist. By the most mirate examination, requiring the amistance of a magnifying giast, I was absolutely certain it was my own ring. Mr. Bampfylde, being present, and he had set with Huck the In your last impression, "C. C. M." writen: "Mr inglit before, who mid. "I have two of Dr. Wyld's rings in my coat pocket; perhaps 'Trrestatible' will place one of hand , and he did not see the rings mid to be in Mr Hude s

The value of this test des in the smallness of the ring, and I think I can safely assert that any man or woman of These coulds as to my not a vite know my ever ring core ion sense would, after examination, affirm that such a suspended the ring in rite by a bit of twine, and demon-

> The only objection the scoptic can make to this experiment is that the ring might have been cut, then opened, and then again welded while on the wrist.

For payelf, I have nover some or heard of any worker in Then as to a ring being intact anyone can determine from who could wold an fron ring while on the wrist, said ring being separable from the wrist only about a quarter-ofax-ench. But if welding were possibly performed, then the appearance and form of the ring must have been altered, a few days produce a fac-simile of my ring it abould be and if there were overlapping in the welding -and without overlapping no welding can take place-then the ring must to require a guido when he walks abroad or enters a house, have been reduced in circumference; but, on as minute a and that he could not see any one of my private marks even measurement as was possible under the circumstances, I found time was not the case. Moreover, any welding pro-If they my ring is reproduced in fac-simile, Mr. Hunk cess must have obliterated certain marks in this ring.

I regret to add that "Irresistable," who, throughout the declared himself unable to remove my ring from the Here also it is important to remark, Mr. Husk has medium's wrist, and so I regret I have not got my ring at

I may now add that I have sent Mr Husk two rings equal size out of leather, in order to test " Irretintable's " I therefore assert most positively, that I know my own ability to interlock them. So far as I know this has never ring when I examine it, and that the production of a been effected, although somewhat similar tests may be found for-ressels by Mr. Hunk or his friends in a few days is, to recorded in Zöllner's "Transcendental Physics." It would almost seem to be necessary to these operations that the I will now add additional evidence which I witnessed on human magnetism of the operator should be continuous with the magnetism of the object, and in the case of two politing range this is not so.

It is most becarriable that, although Husk has been productor these rung tests for ten years, they have never evoked a systematic series of scientific experiments. No appricualistic phenomenon is probably so far-reaching in its application, for if it can be proved that spiritual beings can dissolve and reconstruct material forms, such as iron rings, then as the greater calliculty contains the lesser difficulties all psycho-physical physiomena, such as the appearance of ghosts, and of solid materialised human forms, and of writing w hin closed states, would adout of easy acceptance as man, festations of the don mance of sparit over matter.

31st January, 1885,

GROAGE WYLD, M.D.

DISORDERLY MANIFESTATIONS

(FROM THE ROEMS Spirite, JANUARY 15TH )

An esteemed correspondent vanches, after persona investigation, for the aubitoutial accuracy of the facts continued in the following newspaper statement, which we quoto from the Republicans de Senast-Marie

" Have you over heard souls from purpotory ? No? No more cave we. But If you will go to Marks you may have that satisfaction, and a those deave g who you purse for there, some half dozon-the precise number is not known-scapegment from the other world come everevening and play pranks in the domicals of the cure, and then, having well exercised his patience, file off to the house of the good Sisters of Mercy, and there keep up their

"How fortunate for our commune in being, of all the communicated Printer, the one selected by a supro-terrestrial troups for its first appearance | But our care and the good Sixters do not so regard it

"At the curves the programme seems to be dramming and thumping on the kitchen more pans, rattling with the tongs among the pots and crocks, knocking among homehold things in general, notify opening and thipping univellar, &c.

At the good Sixtom the troupe plays the most brilliant pieces of its repertoire by the aid of the house-belia, pipes of keys, and druinining on pote and pana, causing dir enough to make a bress superr's akin errop

" But after their concert comes their farce, they play at hoaxing like mad students. At the sure's they hade hu boots, turn his garments maide out, put papper in his most box. With the good Sisterate their greatmarm and distress. they pusy corresponding prunks.

"Now lot us listen to what the worthy care mys quout all that "What do these avisible, yet neary sparits come to our presbytery for, and trouble the house of our good Sixture! What but to move our compassion for their up happy and serrowful lot, and to get masses said for their souls ! Not having the power to speak, they call our attention by pleasuntries such as these pleasuntries which they practise for their diversion in the ante-chambers of Satan, white awaiting a better time in the beavenly singtom."

We have to sumark, says the Rerne, that facts like these pusht not to be left solely to the grotesque treatment of newspaper wits, nor to the elerical explanations of our's to their ununtracted flocks, but they should receive attention from our men of science. These might well take example from some of those of England, where a society has been formed for collating all facts showing occult

"M A. (Oxon.)" We regret to learn that "M A. (Oxon.)" has had a related, which, however, has yielded, though slowly, to treatment. Necessarily has thrown him back out the moderal advisors think that time and same are now only needed to ensure a compacts restoration to health.

THE "FOOLS, DOLTS, AND KNAVES"

It may interest non-Spiritualists to know the names of some to whom these terms have been applied by Mr. Labouchere in his paper. In writing as he did, he in dividually standered and insulted every one who has borne testamony to psychical phenomena. We give a detailed ast as recorded in these pages, of those who have publicly testified, dicross the past year only, to the genumeness of the phenomena occurring in Mr. Eglinton's sence alone. Many writers have abetained from giving their ful, names, and such have—with the exception of two persons been eliminated from the list, as also have the names of every lady who has testified in like manner-not because they are not espable witnesses, but in order that Mr. Labouchere may not have the power to insult them personally, if so inclined.

PROFESSION

NAMES

	2718-757-7	B 81-0-8-1-8-1-8-1
	The Hon. Percy Wyndham	Men our of Parliament
ч	H J Hood	Borrister as Law
â	VII Law .	Jh.
0	C & Masses	Do
	W. Protcher , Morgan co.	Schestor
۵	Itia Shoone Judgo Paul .	June of the Supreme Court, I breakense
y	Deputy Surgeon-General Welseley	Army
Г	Colonet Lean	Do
5	C danger W grieb	Do
y I	Major Lewin	Do
d i	The Hon absent Soul	Latteratour
0	II homen of Pennell	Dt
r	A. Lanle, F A S.	Doc
	Latinage, N. Noda	Do.
	George Wyle	Doctor of Medicine
ė.	T L Nichula	Du
ı.	Roy. F M	Church of England
d	Roy. W Stanton Moson, M. A.	Do
	Roy J R P	Congregational Minister
g l	F W Thurston, M.A.	Prof. of English Laterature
q	A. A. Watta	Civil Service
à	J S. Shodlock.	Muneal Critic
	Morell Theoladd -	Chartered Accountant
į	J If requisitions	Merchant
	W Fowler	Do.
ч	J R. Mitchiner, F R.A.S	Do.
n.	R Stuart	Do.
	R. Donaldson amminimum	Do.
ŝ.	W W Woods.	Do
16		Do.
Γ		Theatrical Profession
41	Charles Buckburn annual	No Profession
1	R H. Russed Daviet	Do-
	W P Address	Du
t	C. W. Dymond	D <sub>1</sub>
o i	F Hockley	$D_0$

LOXDON STIERTUALITY ALLIANCE. - The attention of members and friends is requested to an announcement of the zect Convertezione which appears in our advertisement columns

TRANSPROX OF MISS K. E. WOOD. We regret to learn from private letter that Miss Wood succumbed to an attack of typhoid forer at Adelaide early last month. We have no stails, but probably the next mail will bring full particulars.

"Twixy Two Wonton,"-We are requested to announce that Mr. Eglinton's book can only be published by subscription. If those intending to order captes will do so at once, they will materially expedite the production of the work. At communications on the subject should be addressed to C Manning, Esq., 11, Longham-street, W.

THE CHRONE PLATES We have received the following note agency, in the expectation that by their analysis a solution may be found for many problems now more and more occupying the attention of men of thought.

The time of the means "Will you kind y request your may be found for many problems now more and more of the month. The stones are done, but until I get my proofs occupying the attention of men of thought. Probably I shall have to use an additional tint-stone." readers may rest assured to unnecessary delay will occur. The gift will be a coatly one-involving a cash expenditure on the part of Mr. Kouleman's co-donor of upwards of £30, while the former gentleman's labour and time would, in the open market, represent a mailer amount.

CORRESPONDENCE.

February 7, 1885.]

[It is preferable that correspondents should append their names and addresses to communications. In any case, however, those must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good

"The Cry of the Rungry " To the Beillor of " Licur.

Six, What does Mr Eubule Evans want? As a member of the Psychical Research Society. I concur in his approximation. of its methods, but as there were brave men before Agamentnon, so there have been competent secentific investigators, some of them of great fame, who have verified some or other of those phenomena before the Society undertook the subject. On what ground will Mr. Eubule-Brane concede to one of its committees. the credit which he withholds from witnesses quite as dotangeration as any it is beely to supply hose with! I can undermand the man who says. Vo testimony but that of my own particular senses will convine me," though I think hat Nay' beheld Dr Wyld, who, in the same number of "Litair, attitude irrational, but people who sak for testimony, and more testimony, and still let it all flow through their minds like water through a move, seem hepeless. "The Cry of the Hungry" is pathetic, but when food in any quantity and quality fails to sourish, it is a case for the hospital. There is at present an accumulation of good evidence for these phenomena. generally, far exceeding that which exuted for clearvoyance when Schopenhauer and, "Thuse who question it now are not to be called sceptical, but ignoran-

It has always seemed to me that the really needful work of the Society is less the verification of bare facts (though for the general public, which will not study existing evaluate, that also is very useful), then the interprelation and co-ordina tion of them. We must hope, indeed, that facts of original research in the physical phonousms will be forthcoming to exercine the muse high capabilation of observation, thought, and exposition, which have illustrated the subject of telepathy. But of Mr. Bubelo Evans has not already got his "little modicute of fact to start with," it is not because there is not on record plenty of the "nesentatio anvocategation," he decoderates. It would be importment to suggest of a gentleman of her intelligence that he is one of these by whom aridence is easy cospected until it is adduced -a very common use. But what clau are we to

C. C. M.

Scientific Verification To the Editor of " Lacut"

Sin, -- I see in this week's "Linux" that also of your ourrea pury so ta de to decide on the genomeness of Mr. E. manifestations. I much fear that even were such a jury choses from the Royal Bociety, if their verdict at all favoured Spiritualism, it would be set saids on the ground that they were monupetent. I well remember when Mr Crooken, F.R.S., some years ago, commenced investigating the phonoment. The London Press was fond in the expression of exterlaction that a accentatio man of Mr Crookes' emmence had taken the matter in hand. But when has investigations resulted in a verdict of blessing and not of cursing, the Press suddenly changed their opinion of his scientistic emission, and pronounced him incompetent to form an opinion on the embject. The retson is obvious. It pays at present to denounce Sparitualism, and the Prem is wise in its generation, not having forgotten the result of the Cornhill opening its pages to the subject. I think I can perce to in the extremely low and abusive sanguage used by our opponents, a slight ago that they fee the given id not quite so secure as they have fondly anagined, and that they are doing all they can to ensure Mr Eglinton into an action at law, which course I sincerely trust he will not gratily them by adopting. -Yours obediently, Junuary Stat, 1880.

"Bonsy Challenger." To the Editor of "Linur " "Cocios stone against the whole of Tunnary."

Sec. The restarated consure passed upon me by yourself and some of my Spiritualist friends on account of the Labouchere challenge, passes my understanding. To hour my accusors, one would think that Speritualists must not pretend to be and act like men of the world, but succkly to submit in dignified and ecceptific motion the market-place. In fact, our pottern should be the Selection Army. Against this I emphatically protest Looking at Spiritualing as a science, though cortainly the most sublime of thom all put together, I thank it behaves its adherents to defend it with the best weapons this world can supply; and if by the men of our time betting is considered the most effective, bottone should be wielded to the confusion and defeat of its opponents. I can see no dishonour in this. It is really to be regretted that Mr O. C. Massey, before condemning cetting as unbecoming, dia not see how originated is that proposity in the Angle-Saxon man, Indeed, no better example can be given of this than Mr. Massoy limited. For white, at p. 52 of your last muse, he sharply rebukes me for having resorted to that unle corous practice, at p. 56, line 68, of the same name, he, Mr Musey haused, in a moment, no doubt, of unconscious corobintum, and in the very impuege of the betting ring, offers to lay 100 to 1 against Mr Gurney, How truly said

"The faults of our neighbours with Issuedom we blame We tax not enmoires, though we practice the same."

p. 55, unnumiful of the end fate of his friend Damani, bold, offers to the said Mr Gurney 220 to In to prove the minutability of his ring. May the gods avert a shower of thunderbotts from his bead.

In the impationes of comure, my traducers have forgetten no or two things, and made one or two mutakes, which, with your permanent, I will remind them of. To begin with the bet did not originate with ine but with Mr. Labouchere. Did my consurers ever redect on the joom, seeds, and parallege he Spiritualista would have laid to guidage in me Mr. a conchere a heavy gountlet had not been picked up f. And would not our prements and the watchful public out for ever in our tooth this afund of proof, to the great mjury of our cause?

As it is, the defeat rents upon the head of the known is mingaand true dignity with us. And does that score there is all of your roulers that, if at the time of the Shale affair, any Spiritualist had as demonial history as in chalcings Laukester and Donkin as I have done Labouchere, it would have stopped the presecution at once, and saved a blow to the cause and pain to an Innocent man I tgain, Mr. Massey makes the mutake of believing me an deprived of tast as to state without knowledge that I pledged Mr Eglanton's ministry without commuting him first, I did consult Mr. Egimton, told him of my intention of according Mr. Labouchere's challengs, such obtained his promise to sit for the experiment of slate-irriting. Nor does Mr. Massay scent to entertain a proper opinion of my experience in spiritual plamonone, when he hazards the option that I proposed to prove symmetric suggests a committee from the Psychical Society as this reality of form manifoliations by means of actual experi ( ments with Mr. Egianton, a thing which never entered my mind. And when he natirically alliance to the beautiful garments, his koon intelligence faded to perceive that I was addressing an gnorms public, and that I wished them to understand that the spirit forms presented themselves to us bedrekel !

With respect to Mr. Barkes' assertion, "That the spiritual phonospens are not mattern to be groubled about , but are facts for serious accombine examination," I would my that when the proceeds of a bot, wager, or lettery are destined for charity, it cannot be called gambling. And so to the scientific investigation, Mr. Barkas ought to know by this time that the mon of science so-called would sooner be thrashed than investigate, and that nothing is left to us but to expere the obliqueness of their must by making them refuse to come to the test by a heavy

If the fault-finders only know how many lettors I have received in consequence of this dospined challenge from serious high placed in society, who have sought for interviews with me in order to know whether Spiritualism is true, so that they may change their materia. atte views, they would make tots noise

Sir my challenge has made the round of the world. It has met with the approval of the great majority of the Spiritomete It has cowed our opponents, and has caused great desire for investigation. I am, therefore, proud of it, and, pitting my experience of marking and of Speritudian against any other Source as a syring, I shall do the sound again when I consider the occasion recurres t. I am, sir, your obsdreat servant,

G. Damiani. 20, Colvilla-road, Notting Hill, W. January 31st, 1885.

[We have also received a letter from "Trident," supporting Signor Daman a course of action, but pressure on our Correallence to any amount of pelting from the literary, journalistic, spondence Columns compals us to cust it.—Ed. or "Licur."]

Money Challenges.

To the Editor of 1. ar

DEAR Six,-I am one of those who, perhaps unfortune 's believe ru the individuality of the spirit "operator at the other and of the line," and am frequently pound to see how persuto a set cors country these spirit people are ignored, and their readings to operate under any and all conditions taken for granted. I am melanod to think had Signer Damism too or to the an order may be charlenged, that it would not have been made, and strong, we who are Spiritnatusts should treat our spirit friends with common respect and courtery at the

I have been deh sted to read of the remarkable success attending Mr. Eghnton's medianolop, but not oven his vigorous powers, I think, good a set of not the plant of the stapliere of man like Mesura, Lubanchore, Lankester, and Markelyne and Cook. Expended in the past has, in many fintances, demonstrated conclusion which both spirits and mediums are willing and desirous that a w featations should occur, conditions, as presented by scoptical critical sittors, have made success impossible. What chances was there have worming the wager under the still more adverse. construct a sons care of guther from the innovality of The first of the

It is not possible to force people to believe ; there must be a growth within them, a dustre for, and receptivity to, spiritual I ght , and as, contodians of this apportant trath, we need rather more eaution lest we "throw our pourle" where they will not be approported. A little pride a valuable here. If we cheapen the subject and fall to be conscious of its agenty and import And we can be complain if we are met with contempt, ridicate, the scorts hatte d tell to n or was result from a certain cause under certain conditions ; Thus if this latter word conveyed to you a distance of some that the letter was carried by a pigeon or sunt through a pumatic tabe. In this case the fact would be governed by natural law, But if it were alearly shown that the letter was conveyed existence, whose perceptions necessarily differ from his. to you by my gonalum and to you there we also as a special the merdent would be, to a more a contract a contract of nothing also. In one case the fact could always be repeated will unfaming accuracy; in the other case it would depend upon the volution and intention of a superior being. That which do noted about the exercise of arbitrary power or exprise can sourcely be terrord with propriety a matter of law, I must contend that the word minicle conveys to me an alea one tinet from anything governed by law, and even if it should be with transferred and the type acquired explosion to the second law hou I sound has I - to a to of a received was dead a nursele. A man who walked upon water by the assistance of , angels, who hale him up, would manifest or exact a miracle , and I do not think we could properly apply any other term to the medent.-Yours, &c.

T the E great Late I

London, February 1st, 1885.

A Correction. To the Builter of " La ur

Six .-- As I was the only person who, in the Spiritualist, from November 23rd, 1877, union the sam de plante of me hor "Nomeria, to which I alluded in the article of March actous and professing materialists are easily known, but the

"Sth. 1870, mying," It pains me to be regarded as a Nomesia , I would rather be looked upon as one who, like others, upholds principles in which he believes," I am rather corry that my manda are given as W R. P in my article or the same a b just, in your mone of January 3rd, since many of the all realers of the Sperifolded knew who " Seculator" was, and may not be serry to know that he is still on this side the water Yours truly.

[February 7, 1885]

Contradictions in Spiritualists.

To the Ed for of La HT

See, ... "Ebor's ' difficulties, in my opinion, all arise from his want of a clear approhomous of the truth that some facultica and perceptions while he is in this world are in an embryotic or recimental condition, requiring much davelopment before he can be certain of anything, beyond the need of this development, which is his highest and deepest necessity. The acquirement of knowledge here is valuable, not for the exact information varily expected of it, but rather for the development of the mre nectual faculties which are its effect.

Let" Elect tryand put himself in the position of aspert tencher end he will moon find how difficult it in to convey the information as to facts for which "Eboy" orayon. The difficulty arisen from there being no point of aiental perception in which they are agreed, owing to the undeveloped condition of the one and the daysloped condition of the other,

The pupil looks at all matter and phenomena around have in we will, as wholly real, the sparit teacher from his higher perceives that although, interior to all things and motions of though, there is a vital reality, only a dist and in perfect shadow of this interior reality is perceived by us. Carno country by a contrape of the lowest to distinct when to describe a boantaful passering, full of noble colour eas who was born blind have a second do not vary in their morality. Well ! how could they? Suppose a spirit came and said to him, "Go and Sin In the Ran Rank Vallacere me not care an area mander that man, it is quite right to do no, because he is a had remains contribution to your columns of a distant non man," "Elog" would know at once the was an art of the distant per a price of a some case was a second one case and gave him advice as to a contract them are personal with a first out of the say that was a good aparit. And why? Because moral prisciple tand to be that is not a min valger some the not happen, and sun boug fact in the spirit of every human being incarnated or that they a the some Assirent to certain laws, Before we were at in the basis of all his opinions as to his own can arrive at resitive cancianous on this knotty point, we are the character of others, here or in the sparit world. that deline what we meet by miracle and law, I understand a new work we are no called freds of existence here or mirrolo to be, not an unexplanted wonder, but an actual super-there, it is very different, because the perceptive faculties we setting or violation of a known law of nature by the intervention and a second and a second advance we make from of notices or the part in at he A law f consider to be specified and the second of the allow a many a state of the property of the letter of the a quel que a proportion de la france de desenvo miles in a few me ates, the incident might be wonderful, but he is only himself in process of development to see things as a ab a st necessarily be memoriated. Investigation neight prove they really are, and not as they seem. He might say, "So they appear to me now ," but he m well aware that he is liable to be controllected by any spirit who is on a higher or lower plane of

I think, povertholom, that " Ebor" is quite wrong in mying that we cannot use our reason in dealing with the conditions of spirit iffe. Notwithstanding the iff. is as a to a to caused by the growth of man's perceptions, we can still observe with ore or less clearness the line of development which is in progross, and that as a gradual lementag of our successive on extener impressions, with a substitution therefor of more mesgualually perceive that the inner structure and foundation of all uniter is thought, and therefore right thoughts and true morality argues that one thing obsides to law should be superseded by are the only realities exterior to the inward spirit. Chilin thought robus, the sparit comes to our admices and by its power over the mner nature of things A gives to the reality that shadowy sees blance called matter why is a the may in, we can now see We will consider the same or not necking a thing more include and tangible, but doing the very reverse to the eye of a more developed, discarrated spirit.

Regarding Spiritualism from this point of viole, it is obvious that it leaches on that the paramount duty of man in the development of all his faculties, so that he may progress into a clearer apprehension of his duties to himself and his fellows. There can really be no oril in existence but want of development and progress. What are called the facts and phenomena of Modern Spiritualism are only of use to show to conscious and unconscious "Scrutator," to March 28th, 1870, semonally took up the con-materialists, that the spirit here and hereafter is the real man, troversy agrant Madamo Blavataky, Colonel Olcott, and and that what they call matter is a phontannal appearance suited "C. C. M.," and only refranced on Madams Blavatsky calling to the condition of our present infantile perceptions. The conwho would acout the idea of being so regarded. They form the the A legislation of the people we need at season and who call the molecular ritial, the path that a Christian Asient actually travels specifically Spiritualists, but who from training and acquired habits have I wish I have speak publicly on the Processor's Craft. Let me be become quite unable to understand their own spiritual nature understand. I respect the silence of Masonry, though by recent and its wants, which are infinitely more important to their than any knowledge that can possibly be acquired about the world of spurite, or the phenomena spirits can show us. It grieves all true Spiritualists deeply to one Spiritualism degraded by the perpetual parading of the feats of spirits in naterialisation matter through quatter and such like-which are very aproperty of the second of the true wash ar a criff a coff our trance speakers One of these inspired apeakers has just left Loudon, who, in the opinion of many competent judges, is the finest trance speaker fory pillary are, and where the Arch Adopt manifests His presence on the world. He was very budly supported when here b Spiritualists, mainly because his guides told the whole truth. concealing nothing. Had be lived 1,800 years ago, his words would have been idelised, and all who did not agree with them would have been denounced as heretics by the religious people of our day, who cannot understand that God, Human Nature and Impiration are the same to-day as they were then. The educated Sportuadiate in E

(as the socularist in a recent insize of "Laurer showed) Stagnatum Misser? Have you lend the secret of the Moder Misser? Have in beliefs or superstations of a hygoue ago, the time must come when either there will be a stern conflict between the two, or the term is next as a second of the popular thodogy will have a west that wal came of what kely place, and extinguished the Fire of the Sanctuary lemps his washing in heart war.

any division between religion pass 5

The tank and the property of the party of th our work. If our leaders do not like this work, others will not be one and the spelt of the conft. their doubt be found to do st. ( - > as a - - - - - - - - - - - - long to there are people detecting its very imperfect such as who are not ashaned to own that they are converts (through observation of spiritual phenomena) to the popular theology, which is far more opposed in spirit to Spiritualism than Materialism or Socularism?

I am glad to may, however, that Spirit a many thousands in this country, and to a ... ... tues ... liberating force that has freed them from the mental and moral stagnation cannot by albeston to old beliefs, well-enough suited for the age in which they were promulgated, but not so to the Lot us uphold Spirituslatin as the inner truth of all acienca. of all religion, and of all theology. It comes from the world of execution, and can be nothing loss.

Spiritualizat is now laying the foundation of a now an Inc. discrementation of God's Troth than has over been in a me before. If there are my among us who wish to not to a and imporfect behals, let us as true Spiritualists separate from the and form currelyes into a solid pladang of believes in the . progress and development of truth and have ve A L or Cathone writes in a recent number of 1. quality he calls Greec required before progressive devel ; and ear a begon. He forgot, however, to say (and I supply the ner so a r to tres a grace is freely besterred on all His children, where their be who who are no prient, pope, or elergyman, or other secondotal person or institution is necessary for its Burnt Was Ingicanak, Gladatone-road, Croydon. [Mr. Donaldson's letter has been in type some weeks, but being rather long we have been anable to find room for it before. The discussion on "a" Ebor's Defliculties" must now come for the present.-En. or "Leanty. ] unconscious ones are just the ordinary people in all walks of life, as the day and og a thiffe. If my brainer has been in a culitor annovation a tack of rubbish has become gratted on the Masonic tree. Premissoury was once a science, and its initiates were cine evidences of the power of Christian Theosophy. Let my Ve a e-se to their ancient ritual appritually, now her will find the key to need of their knowners as to a week or to mystery of linears I fo, of the counte mass shown . I do pathway of the Master Mason, the Arch Adept. It is choused that Muses was a Freemuson. We'll some to be in the distributed by the knowledge in the Theosephic laws flowing, in the three-fold and series fald degrees, from the secret place where the living stone and In that knowledge He overcame the powers of the ligoption Thomsophic Adopts, who did not draw their power through the mystic rock and pillors. I have not write more on this point. Let it auffice. There is a Christian Theosophy, and the Bible is its tex. cook. There is a Heddhist Themsophy, and its power is from the assures of the Lagood. Carried beyond a carried point it is the Hack Art. What wonderful power was deplayed in appost can to the signs shown through Moses. Missons, have you lost the spirit d at 11 or adules solenes became a pack of sent-no secret word became powerless? Do you, indeed live in a world which has been visited by the Arch Adept, the Mester of the Temple ? Has the power of the black Science peneumted into your no hance t It is even so. How pulful to contemplate : Where is the wat . . . . . . breath of God, that used to they from the sacred die, out the cleaner the lodge-sweep away every and the secret place, there is a sound of wings, all this. indicate the Master's return, and the rock and the pro- will see disclose their secret, immunot tongued on the air. Massus, every man to his place, the earth karma must be driven back. What if the Master comes and finds the Temple in disorder, attered ver with the imparities of the enemy where helipper droud be written on overy vossel and implement?

Theosophy, Christian Theosophy differs from Buddhat Theosophy Janua Januara.

> . . . . . the employed of the spirit Land W. What he appropriate the second of the complete the second comments of the the Adepte of the Bible performed (in the Masses some Laur wonderin works.-Yours, &c

"P.S.—Taka Moses, Joshua, Sanntel, Dantel, Elijah, Elisha. and Jesus as examples. They were Master Mosons, or Adepts. In the true Masside or Thomsophic Science, and performed their works in it."- Ide of Man Times.

Dirrors the Light.-" Neglect not the macinberg of youra to the group meetings in private and Spiritual truth. That is a who there we have the world in them who holy themselves. The spiritual truth themselves to the spiritual truth truth the spiritual truth the spiritual truth the spiritual truth truth the spiritual truth truth truth the spiritual truth it does help us, six is indicted in a great degree of a copping one of what is best here, is well expressed in Lowell's golden words

"We see but had the current of our deeds, Seeking them only in the onter life.

An becaless of the encircles, a week
Which, though unseen, is fell, as some in to All gerun of pure one world-wide purposes." I to all non, in a fine

Most Lozo Heast has been at Chicago. She was introduced Masonry and the Occalt Sciences

To the Editor of "Lights"

Size, "I appead a alip with extract from a curious letter which recently appeared in the Life of Mon Times. By object in to mak them of your readers who are Masons to treal as Spiritualists to inform me, as far as they are able, what connection, if may, there in between Masonsry and Psychical Science, either toom or in the earlier days, also may another they may be able to afford me on the subject, either (with your permussion) through these columns, or by a private letter addressed to your supposed these columns, or by a private letter addressed to your supposed these columns, or by a private letter addressed to your supposed these columns, or by a private letter addressed to your supposed these columns, or by a private letter addressed to your supposed to the columns of the subject, with their fairly efforts to prevent a strong or the columns, or by a private letter addressed to your street we see a column to the columns of the columns of the columns. through these column, or by a private letter addressed to your open univella upon her merely putting her hand in contact with open univella upon her merely putting her hand in contact with it, it must be said that there is some ' force " in nature of which our secondary of our accounts have not yet given an account. Beligne Philose

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT." 4, AVE MARIA LANE, LONDON, E.C.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Units Subscription for "Licent," and from to any address with a tis 1 most K agains, or to places comprised within the Postal Latin, including all parts of Europe, the United States, and British North America, is 10s, 10s, per annum, in warded to our office in attenues. ADVERTISEMENT CHARGES.

"Incht" may also be obtained from E. W. Allex, 4, Ave Merie-lane, Loudon, and all Reconcilers,

NOTICE TO SUBSCHINERS.

payable in Henry Barnes - th I to be addressed to The Railor

Light :

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 778, 1885.

"SPIRITS AND TRICKS,"-A POPULAR ERROR EXPOSED.

The Whelehall Review has been discoursing on "Spirits and Tricks. It makes many a blumder, and perpetuates a grave popular suppressio seri, avolving also, almost as a matter of course, a suggestio fulsi. The whole article, however, is couched in terms at once courteens, and, from its an a especial point of view, perfectly fair and just. We, thereforce gladly take up the gauntlet thrown down, fully be revine that, as a matter of more justice, our contourporary will correct the error into which he has been, no doubt, unwittingly led-

We say "unwittingly" because, reading between the anna, we observe evident traces of a desire to treat the question on its merits, though at the same time marks of "the train of the serpent," in the shape of the langering infuence of a popular prejudice, are no less conspications, Thus article is, therefore, somewhat anomalous.

The pith of the remarks will be found in the following worsts

"We confess to session entirely both Mr. Labouchere in a a contest wit the Spir mainta. Le says they are englurous, they may they are not. But they refuse to be tried by their peers

The conjurer knows what great things can be done by trickery I the spirits can bent these, then he count adout that they have other and stronger weapons than he has, . . . . It may be a valgar idea to associate the spirit marvels-if such there bewith ordinary conjuring, but why do not the Spiritia was get rid of this valgar idea by challenging the conjurer? Let we nee follow. If a jury of professional conjurers fail to suse vertrickery, then let the scient he mee invest gate the matter. If conjurges has to detect human agency at work. Len there must be more within S, returnment than the decoupley decime of Let the uniter be tack of a turns that by the common conpurer then by the brance men of sole see. If Spiritualism in the gomino long which it professes to be, it can easily stand both tests. For this we know on a high authority, that if those things be of God they will prosper, but if of man they will come

The usue is clear enough, and we accept the situation, The simple answer is that the conditions mid down have been fulfilled over and over again. Medians do not refuse to be tested by conjurers. They have been so tested on many occasions. What they object to, and what any man with the alightest alred of sulf-respect would object to, is the intolerable insolence of the Laboucheres, Maskelyne and Cookes, and Ray Lankesters. Met fairly, as man to occurred in Pans through the Brothers Davenport, mid man, they shrink from no reasonable precaution desired by the investigator. But to be first called "knave," "chest," "skunk," &c., and then expected to meet the originator of these offensive epithets, is rather more than ordinary human nature will telerate.

No doubt the conjurer knows perfectly well, and better than the majority of people, the limits of the prestidigitafour sart. We are agreed on that point. We, moreover, arow that if the testimony of conjurers is relevant to Pure new and made to One mel, in 6d. Column, 22 in. Page 21.

A column made for a series of insertions.

A column and Pages and Advertisements may be addressed to the legs to stand on. The conjurers have tested the men of Education and Pret Office Orders may be made payable to Henry Ranney at the Chief Office, Loudon. Hally-may Postage Stand, at The "valgar idea," like all untraths, dies hard, but when the received for amounts under 10s.

Whitehall Review is put in possession of the following Whitehall Review is put in possession of the following facts it can hardly again plend ignorance if it perpetuates the "lie's long-linguring life."

Mediuma, who are the instruments of an external agency, have, as we have stated, more than once been confronted Enbertellous for 1885 are now the Anherthers will ablige with conjurers who deceive by sleight of hand; and in the by tirraged of these states of the Manager of 1.16-H I are And Marin- and E 4. Cost times decises may be made same manner as no man of account who has thoroughly and applied in Henry Barners. till i describe correspondence (agely investigated the phonomena has failed to become convinced of their reality, so no conjurer who has been confronted with the same facts has been able to explain their occurrence by presteligitation. Hondin, Jacobs, Bellachini, Hormann, Kellar, and others have already conferred their powerlessness to produce under the same conditions what occurs without human intervention in the presence of a medium. Houdin's testimony to the reality of psychical phenomena we published in extense in our issue for January 24th, we now give the original testimony of the others samed

Testimony of Barry Kellar

Harry Keller, a distinguished professor of legerdemain, investigated the slate-writing phenomena which cocurred in the presence of Mr. Eghnton, at Calcutta, in January, 1882, and a the , th of that mouth he addressed a letter to the est the of the Judgan Donly Steer, in which he said :-

In your usus of the 13th January I stated that I should englac of an opportunity of participating in a sinner with a rich gray an ambianed opinion as to whether, in my especity of a professional prestidigitator, I could give a natural explanation of offects said to be produced by spiritual aid.

"I am indebted to the courtery of Mr. Eglinton, the wardamete nedium now in Calcutta, and of his host, Mr. J. Moracle, or afforting me the opportunity I craved.

It is needless to my I went as a sceptic, but I must own that I have some away uttorfy unable to explain, by any natural means, the physica sens that I wanted on Tuescay evening I wall who a little in a reption of what thek place

After describing several successful experiments, Mr. Kellar proceeds :-

" In respect to the above manifestations, I can only say that I do not expect my account of them to gain general eredence. Forty-night hours before I should not have believed anyone who described each manifestations under similar circumataneos. I still remain a sceptic sa regarda Spiritualism, but I repeat my inability to explain or account for what must have been an intelligent force that produced the writing on the slate, which, if my senses are to be relied on, was in no way the result of trickery or alought of hand."

On the 30th of the same month Mr. Kellar addressed another letter to the Indian Daily Nace, reporting some experiences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regarding which he said

"In conclusion, let me that that after a most stringent trial and strict scrutary of these wonderful experiences I can arrive at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trackery in any form, nor was there in the room any mechanism of machinery by which could be produced the phenomena which had taken place. The ordinary mode by which Maskelyna and other conjurers imitate levitation or the footing test could not possibly be done in the room in which we were assembled

The Testimony of Probusor Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Lield, siehr Licht, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which "Spite of the essertions, more or less trustworthy, of the

we must understand it, and neither the journalists nor the con- hand again covering hers. to the Speritualistic order of things in every respect.

February 7, [585.]

beyond an infantine and almost grotesque paredy of the said phenomena, and it would be only ignorant and obstitute persons, who could regard the questions seriously as set forth by these gentlemen. If (as I have every reason to hope) the psychoal studies, to which I am applying myself at this time, accord, I you satisfied," inquired Professor Depolow, "that no living shall be able to establish clearly, and that by public demonstra- human person could have been in any contact with the pencil tion, the immense line of demarcation which separates medium is when it did the writing T . "Cortainly I am," is a Remain the phonomena from conjuring proper, and then equivocation. will be no longer possible, and persons will have to yield a over Build and a trained of four days, and touch my assistant to w dence or nery brough redetern acron odeny

Figure and the data of the searces one and automiphilosopher Mr. W. Croskes, of London. I am now in a position to prove plainly, and by purely ementific methods, he existence of a "psychic force" in memorism, and also the ind or you, done sir, to meet this letter in your next manber, if agree- my hotel after bronkfast. There not had my breakfast and hable to you," de., de.

Tentiment of Samuel Sellschint.

following declaration in December, 1877

"I hereby doclare it to be a reah astron to give deceare judgment upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Slade, after only one sitting and the observations so made. After I had, at the wish of several highly esteemed gentlemen of rank and position, and also for my own autorest, tosted the physical mediumship of Mr. Shale, in a series of sittings by full daylight, as well as in the evening In his bedroom, I must, for the sake of truth, hereby certify that the phenomenal occurrences with Mr. Shale have been the roughly examined by me with the trimutest observation, and or restigation of his surroundings, including the table, and that I have not in the smallest degree found anything to be produced by means of prestal-greative manifestations, or by mechanical apparatus; and that any explanation of the experiments which book place under the electroatment and conditions then obtaining by any reference to prestring tation is absolutely impossible. It must rost with such more of science as Crookes and Wallace, in London : Perty, in Berne , Butlerof, in St. Petersburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published spanious of laymen as to the ' How ' of this subject to be preunture, and, according to my view and experience, false and one-sided. Thu, my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and wit some. - (Signed) SARVEL BELLECHIST, Borlin, Decomber 6th, 1877." The Testimony of Hermann.

The Chicago Times (December, 1882) gives a long account of seances held by Hermann, the conjurer, with Mrs. Sumpoun, the psychographic medium of Chicago. We quote from a summary which appeared in this journal, omitting nothing however, that is of importance :-

The stitung was held on December 2nd, at 10 a.m. at the rorens of Mrs. Simpson, the well known medium of Chacago given a long account of the proceedings, seem parts of which are aftirmed that he was a melena, but did not must to men it. W the so important that we quote them in full.

tary one, containing a plain table 15th by 22th, covered by a powerless to produce them save by alcoung the modulinaling cloth, and placed near the window, through which the sun was which they set out by deaying. shining. Hermann carefully examined the table, and testaked that it was perfectly simple and plant.

then asked Hermann's sanstant to place his hand underneath further currency through its columns.

Prench and English journalists, and spate of the foolish jealousies here, which supported the slate in a position directly of ignorant conjurers, I feel it my duty to show up the bad against the under-surface of the table. He did so. The faith of one party and the chicanery of the other. All that has cloth was raised sufficiently for all the observers to see the slats been said or done adverse to these American inclining in resting firmly against the table, sustained by Mrs. Simpson a absolutely matrustworthy. If we would rightly judge of a thing band lying open and flat under it, and Remann's assumed's percent possessed the most elementary knowledge of the science Mrs. Suppost requested Hermann to make some remark to that governs these phenomens. As a prestaligitator of repute, which the psychographic message might form a ruply, as this and a sincere Spiritualist, I affirm that the medianessic facts would be an additional procession. He turned to McVicker, and demonstrated by the two brothers were absolutely true, and belonged, and, "As I was saying..." The remainder of the connect was not audible. Instantly all heard the writing , Hermann acknow-Mount. Robin and Robert Hoodin, when attempting to lege hat a use clearly audible. Upon rusing the cloth the imutate these said facts, never presented to the public anything maters southe state were found undisturbed, and on the state * ang examined it was found to contain the following words :-Yes, but I was not present when you made that remark."

Hermann examined the writing carefully and and it was wonderful. "I am saturfed," said he, " lot a go home." " Are now roule any person get between the alate are tweeter

Mis. Suspens here rose and tendered tier chair smilingly to Hernite's segang hear to axia her pace it is perform to as not ork then and there.

* No romarked Hermann waving away the proffered duality of the sport 'In appretant manifestation.' I authorise clear, "I can do it, but not now. I will do it at my own room in not the necessary force to do it here."

If at my inquired Professor Dunder, " will you do Samuel Bellachini, Court Conjumer at Borisa, made the M by the vertice of y arrart of legent has and decoit, or will y and only be one of forcer not making the

See and the about definition in the reartd. Other persons have the name powers as well as also. I tell you in a very few days I will dolt all, and above my constant how to do it," easy Hern von " Is it a track, as done have in the presence of Mrs. Somewor in the some that there is any decoil or naparition ! man as Professor Denalow

" No. some inhabeter I agree with you fully on that point," tophed Hermann

" Will you cortify that it is not done by the exercise of your art as a presting estone I' be was asked.

"No , not to-day. I will write a lotter to Mr. McVacker about it from Pittaburgh, and if you publish that you get all you want and Hermann.

" But you came here under an agreement to certify now what you linvo som'

Well, I will leave the paper at my hotel before leaving town

The serving above all acid to war obtained in Mar Boar or newtonian or. To implete the pay on preconding to any part Hermano was requested a clean the date which he had hanself a remaind and brought well him. This he are and a ner complances precisely a solar to those afready letailes an intelligent answer to a question proposed by McVicker Hmain, will gon stay may tonger than a treek at Pittsburgh ! was at once received, " No I no longer than one week at Pittsburgh The photometric but reprised with comediate movest uncer conditions proscribed by Hormann, which he had conindently bonated would be fatal to results

It will not full to be noticed that Hermann admitted the renomeness of the phonomena, and, though he becated of his newer to reposition it he distinctly demod that such reproduction want be at roughle to be said as a conjurar. Blackelyne, inan centr versy with 1 da when he was offered $1,000 if he e tile performances of an error of the phenomena that occur Mr Hermann, and one of his americants, Mr. J H. McVicker on he occurred of a medium, did the same. He admitted he at whose theatre Hermann was then performing, and Professor, governments of certain phenomena called additual. Hermann Donalow were the observers. The Cheego Times, which has clause and unsten in so many words, and a as a sequent port more than unconhown its fairness introsting an tape judat antipoet, jos the sie on, he intelligence present who wrote in inconse out attaching too much value to that claim, it is not a little The room in which the experiment was made was an ordi- singular that when confronted with these facts conjurers are

This is our case at present, as far as conjurors are concerned. We now, in conclusion, call upon the Whatchell Mrs. Simpson set beside the table and handed Hermann her Review as a bare act of justice to correct the mistaken slate for examination. He prenounced it clean. Mrs. Simpson impression it has, not knowing the facts, allowed to gain

JACQUES INAUDI

It is agreeable to that, through your columns, that in Piedmont, is still to the force. It was in the P by Spiritualuts, and he was then ten years of age. Then, I time with appropriate ceremones. as now, it was suggested by the Rerus that he may be a red: um be phremotogreally endowed with organs of the brain favour eternal progress and endiess happiness in its future in quito able for calculation, for the arithmetician in the fiesh must another. Spiritualism, uniting all men by the knowledge of a have a well-formed brain for the mind to work on , mannon destiny, must lead them to work together for the goverand a good calculating control must find a good and appropriate medium, with a well constituted bearn, for his tool. The American calculating boy, Zerah of an exist les which as Materialism trackes, may and at any Collegen, had the organ of casculation very large, as Mr morgant? Why not be friendly with those with whom we must L. N Fowler, the phremologist, informs us, and demonstrates have to all eternity? Only, if nine-tenths of the human race are by a portrait, while the Acces says of Jacques Inaudi ." He . be sternally danued, why concern occacion with improve is said to have an energous shall," and the Reces of April, 1880, gives a portrait of him from a photograph. There as however, as I have looted, an interesting fact concerning this boy, which is thus when he first became notorious for his calculating power he himself attributed it to medium slop, to the whatperings of his departed mother. So if he destroy is a demonstrated fact. The inequalities is a state of the department of fact. and been rich, and Dr. Winslow had get hold of him, he con your and even of development in this brief earth-life and would have been shut up in a machinum. But was it his spens. Whatever good we are goes or torever mother? The child evidently thought so, and yet it need not have been so, for it might have been, and still may be, faculty, who assumes that tender tie, the more t please the palitical and social distinctions as to force upon as the sense of medium and to elicit his attention. At the same time man Spiritualists will bear me out in the affirmation that me model , no, up white man with pleuty of suspense they have themselves received the most toucher, affectionate, and apparently reliable communications Alle stone as an error example commune to cost and as wanting in avidence of identity breatest need a the basis of all raw second the abounding of Still, we must even that if in diseques branch's cost his our destay. entions which are about the last we could wish nother a radeed lincomitral, it is but murely we find mental and the or the especial farts of the female sext. And had and it during life ?

A writer in the Rerus of May, 1880, M Bouillac, of More Homalt) gives the following interesting anecdate of the child, who, at that time, used to go about to cales nice public purces, where he demonstrated his powers. M Bouiline had saked the boy to join himself and wife at break who came in, "Would you like me to tell you how many Materialism, and then a jury of conjurers, most of them being mainted have passed since you were born?" The girl told equally committed as "exposure." When a man is to be tried I am the year and the day of her birth. Jucques answered, days." He then held down his head, and in twenty seconds, able to give a true twellet. But when, some your ago, women "That makes twenty-two years, three months, and seventeen he gave the numbers of minutes. I took a note and were hanged for shop-lifting, a jury of shopkeepers from Ladingle the edculation, it was exact I remarked that cate Hill was perilous. the child did not think, or seek it. He was samply very attention-he listened. I said to hus, a My nittle friend, it is not you who make these calculations. this for me, that I may get my bread." I asked him it so inclining said. If you doubt the considered of the two said that no one had asked him, and time ground he have the wrists to her with sike restinitively and cried, "There army mother there she said to some considered him a true of pleases for these you with as the said Norm who fairly tries that experime can fall mer." I she and of pleases for these you with as the said of the considered him and the said of the two shes and that no one had asked him, and time is said. If you doubt the considered continues the two saids the considered and cried, "The said that no one had no the true is said to some constitution and the considered continues and the true is the said that no one had asked him, and time is said to some constitution and the considered continues and that no one had asked him, and time is read to the considered continues and that no one had asked him, and time is read in the true is the considered continues and that no one had asked him, and time is read in the two saids that the considered continues and that no one had asked him, and time is read in the two saids to the considered continues and the true is the said that no one had asked him, and time is the said that no one had asked him, and time is the said that no one had asked him, and time is read in the said that no one had asked him, and time is the said that no one had asked him, and time is the said that no one had asked him, and time is the said that no one had asked him, and time is the said that no one had asked him, and time is the said that no one had asked him, and time is the said that no one had asked him, and time is the said that no one had asked him and time is the said that no one had asked him and time is the said that no one had asked him asked hi and much a out his mother, whom his father heat we de-WRT

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK XY

A In report, some years ago, a violent mob annahed the Jacques Imoult, or Inode, the casculating boy from Cana, must of the Brothers Davenport into small bits. Now the Specitualists of Laverpool Silva large bull every Sunday, and are Spirite of April and May, 1880, that he was first heard of about to build a larger one of their own, to be opened in disc

Dr. Nichols' discourse on " Spiritualism - what it is, " ofen a admit this to be quite possible. I by no means take it for good, though not a very large sections on Sanday morning on granted, for it has been asserted that ha is a clarandient apeaker held that proof of existence after death gives recognished hope of immortality, and that when men know that they will In either one, however, one thing is necessary. The live forerer, they will live better. A life that may be could say norms, execulator and the calculating medium must both day by some triding seculent is one thing-a bits that has

> Why should a man trouble himself about the conditions the conditions of this memoritary prefude to the horrors of the horoafter? Why should a Calvinut sit on the Royal Commisalors which takes evidence and talks about " Outcost London " 1

> Spiritualized gives the true bosse to a brotherhood of humanity The whole human race can unite when its common and give an

> Spiritualism gives to every one who opens his eyes to its ( eta a destroy, a career, and a dignity to far beyond our little Annex on to with my was marged to as a off turn that

With a little more experience—with that realisation of our from mytaible beings, purporting to be their mothers mental and moral condition which time must bring to us we Spiral a stanta be shear on it to the emporance the st to no exporte, escape up and off your bon to > Know Thyself," is the motto for all reformers. To really know namelysa, our minda, our capabilities, we must know our destroice. All hope for human progress in this world reals upon the knowledge that our life in endless. Only with that knowledge can we traly know ourselves.

> It is droll to see how Mr. Labouchere getaout of his challenge by first descending a jury of scientists utterly committed to for murner they suntmon a doarn of the neighbouring shopkeepers, who, having no interest in the case, are supposed to be Matter through matter. The facts are too numerous, and to observers too intelligent, to leave any doubt. Professor He looked me full in the face without answering [ Zollner photographed the knots upon his endless cord, and the repeated, "I know it is not you." And hearing town as wooden ring he had turned, which, in the prosence of the medium hun, and lowering my voice, I added, "I talk with the Slade, was placed upon the table piller, century to "the wellilead." He looked at me, and answered with a ministed known laws of nature. One of the most common at miracks nir, "Do you talk with the dead? You! Very well, yes, in Mr. Eglinton's scances has been the placing of a common er, at is not I, it is my mother, who is dead, who does all obsir upon the arm of a person who was firmly bolding the this for me, that I may get my bread." I asked him if he median's hand. If you doubt the coundress of the char,

> There is no doubt that solid iron rings are placed upon, and taken from, Mr. Hunk's arm, when his hand is held by others.

my arm while holding Mr. Egitaton's hand-I have used the wrists together with fine cotton thread. I have seen solid matter -visibly and palpably solid-form and dissolve. I have writing m mk, done between two slates firmly pressed together. I have than the accomplished young Brahmin gentleman at present writing in ink, done between the leaves of a large book at it the guest of the Loudon Lodge of the Theosophian Society lay upon a table in full light, with a heavy weight upon the The paper before as deals with the more or detect of beauty

February 7, 1855.1

And physical facts like those " are not worthy of the attention" of our men of autonos-our Huxleys, Tyndalls, Carpentors, Lankeston, Avellings, Proctors, &c. ! All the more honour to Wallace, Crookes, Zöllner, and others, who have, like true philosophers, investigated facts even when utterly containly to, and subversive of, "the well-known laws of nature."

A philosopher shutteng his eyes to a visible, physical fact " I trival fact!" Wall, Crookes' radiometer demonstrates the trivial fact of the force of light. A bit of paper dushing at a rubbed atick of seeing-wax to a trivial fact that shows the solion of electrosty. The trivial fact of a series of raps upon a table, or a bit of pencil writing between two slates, locked, wrapped, or tied together, may demonstrate spirit life and spirit power

And this, our amicus Erangelied newspapers tell us, in the work, or amusement, of Satan-the fellow who personaled Ere to est the apple, which " brought douth into the world and all mer wee." Just as, Of course Sature is quite equal to It-but where is the motors ! With all his machinery for filling the world with vice, crime, and musey-with the seven deadly som in active operation, why was in tunnell with rapping on tables, and writing of dates, and maxing ourn believe that they will live after death ! Our unbelieving and quite too credulous Evangelicals must try again. Satan has other work to do.

Two reporters of the Chicago Escates Journal have had a beance with ifency Stade, of which they give a full report, an abstract of which I find in the Banner of Light. He hold two slates, with a bit of poncil between them, in full light, to the our of une reporter, and both hourd the writing, even to the crossing of t's and the dotting of i's. Questions secretly writ ten were answered. An accordion held by the valve end where no visible person could touch the keys, played several tunos, and the conclusion of the report is that, " They left with the un alterable conviction that, whatever interprelation or estimate was to be placed on Spiritualum, the manifestations which they witnessed were real and true, without the slightest admixture of frond or eldospett."

Good for Change—but what is to harder two reporters from the Time or Daily Telegraph, Standard, Daily News, Poll Matt Genetic, &c., making a similar vanit to Mr Eginton ! The Pall Mall Guartte has done some things truly horoic. It has oven found some name for a rival journal hesides the contemptible one of "contemporary." Why not destrogaish itself by reporting on minual phanemenon?

Teverarny "Some years ago a woodman and his wife I year next deep before a new clotte was such angular sympactiff, be need a maderacan earl other with me a sweet or it was not a resented of ear other for the secret a 1881 winde in historia was not for new or foliage infer the rate can be a mighbour for help, so my that me to a neighbour should not be than her has bund was dying site did not know processely where he was here then maintenance when the most absoluted in a state and an atom by his are, which had divided an artery. The wife became manne. If any one wishes to know all the details of this remarkable instance, I shall be happy to furnish thom
—— Resuell M.D., Calamet, Mich. Religio-Philosophica.

AT a meeting of L'Union Spirile Française, M. Delanne, editor of Le Spurianne, quotot many proved instances of appart, the bringing of solid objects into closed rooms. In considering the bringing of solid objects into closed rooms. In counsidering the phenomena, he divided them into two kinds. (I) Those where there was fluids (spiritual) creation, and (3) those where there was celly material opport, in which the ponetrability of matter was manifested. He recalled experiments by Puradgur, and quoted tarse by medern magnetists showing that object a have a fluid mable or that they exact spiritually and mater. It is known that a coay may use all forms soud, again gateous, and remain. He argued but a sport might by what power bring the matter of an higher ofto the value t state, and then re-solutify it upon its stall existing fluids notifie. Le

I, who write these works, have had a chair "threaded" upon ON THE HIGHER ASPECTS OF THEOSOPHICAL

Perhaps no more competent exponent of the characteristic conceptions of Indian philosophy has appeared in this country life, its supreme and, and the means of attention. The test a defined to be Happeness, the eccond, Knowledge to staces has only relation to happiness, morality law no absolute worth We state these perspectations buildly, as if they contained nothing more or higher than Western nineteenth contary utilitarianiswithout the light thrown on them by a metaphysical paychulegy To this latter refers the prime condition of artsimment-Knowlodge. But knowledge of what? The answer is, Of the changes of our conscious states, and of the relatively personnent under ying the n. A existence a sange, hone of its states are ever hasting. Now the great mietake we make is in thinking of our limited, personal self as an calify, essentially and radically distinet from all other such sails, whereas it is in truth only a state of consciousness, and the ultimate basis of consciousness is umrered. It does not follow from the that individuality is coincident with that particular atute of external emissions was which is all we know of it at present, and which in this paper a called the personality. On the contrary, the personality is only a state of the individual solf. This individuality we may provincestly call the human entity, remembering, however, that it is itself only a larger and deeper state of universal conscious were. We have, therefore, to apply this conception to the problem of happiness, and its others aguifeence.

My bleed of impress must relate to the most ordering state of consciousness which I can identify with arreal. If "I" wish to be happy, the first thing evidently, to ascertain is what "I" am, as far down as I can reach into my nature, that I may not identify myself with any very transient state or even moud. The sulf-moul gence which defeats its end even in this life arises from an axtranto foolioness of imagination in the presence of desire. allowing the mood of the hour to stand for the self. Country experience corrects this mistake, which is more was success. fully opposed by the production or moral transact received by most of us, without any disposition to exceed the leading. Nor out the teaching be extended without a power of self-lifentification with a state of consenuences lying deeper and enuprising more than that partie state whose exclusive interests oppose it to other states, or pursonalities, on the same plane of consometimess. But this ideal, the true self we are in search of, and which may prescribe quite other conditions of implimese than those recognised by the personality or such, is not to be found at the end of any temporal across it is ofther nothing. or it is, is now, the (relatively) real underlying the apparent.

in order to be truly happy the personality has to runned its own perpetual changefulness, and the result of such remaction will be the surrender of the desire for the personnence of any particular state of its existence, a dreire springing at My france ignorance of its own nature. When the ignorance is experient and the personality conforms shelf to its nature to change, the character of the Ego is no completely altered as to resuler the personality, to all intouts and purposes, extinct, to mark the difference of state, the entity is then called an individuality. It us not within the scope of this paper to discuss the nature of the existence of the individuality during the time when the pursoundity lasts, or, strictly speaking, ungages attention." By this last pregnant plunes, Mr. Mohim indicates the analogy to be privated. Just so its momentary states of conscionsness are to the personality itself, so is the latter to the individual Subject behind. Attention is engaged, as to particular acts, by interest or desire , and this way rise to a degree to make us oblevious for the time being of more important or lasting concerns. Now our whole person at life it, on a larger scale, just such an onesgeneentor fixation of attention nitaching an exaggerated value to its objects. So likewise, the power of disongaging the attention is to both cases the same in kind. The reflection which belongs to the personal ty comes to our add to suggested the interest, with which a particular object autmets as Air our feetier subjective self evidences as ex-scence be do to wer to represent a personal consciousness be unitability flan on states of the latter, una the consequent intrium work messions water a ceta of, as is only the personality and the individuality of man have resulted in such a negative knowledge exampt supply the content or state I is a specifican heavy migressions of a mic aphysical puzzle, of the spiritual consciousness it affirms by contrast. But there better ancesse may be hared from a method by which the one is to overlook the positive side which recoverily belongs to the state is represented as morging and long steel in the other, by demail of personality. I cannot deay that my interests are other the natural operation of consciousness in the course of its than yours without practically affirming all thus we understand whang we are represented. Forgotful of this, our persomalities limit up schooles of happeness or which the desire life of the whole, though it may be individualised by organic militate position. . . . . Examining the true means of our consortousness, we find that the great cause of pain and suffer- while its own experience is physical. But there is only a shiftring is the personality stack, or, in other words, the great in becost we feel in ourself under the conviction of their separatenon and opposition to other selfs. , . As the work of ethical once, "There dominates throughout the whole range of existevolution proceeds, the personality which produces the a accompanies of opposition of self and so to a school a because and expands until it loses itself. The presence of appear a refeeting of separateness, disappears, happiness grows with the metaphysics without physics is degracism, and othics by itself growth of more permanent interests, and reaches the course in a tion when the "dewdrop at pronte the change on," and a personality destroying its limitations merges. It is not not a Itanama. The peaks of perfection that the giarified individuality their begins to senie are for beyond the loss of mortel ayes. It nover, indeed, loses 'the glory of going on and still

* Read at an open meeting of the London Lodge of the Thersopheral Society and on Davenber 19th, 1884, by Mohlal M. Christerii. (Transactivus No. 3.)

February * 645

Pehrmary 7, 1885.1

70

Evolution and self-knowledge are thus assentially the same We have not to become, but to know that we are, This leads us to the observation of another characteristic feature of Eastern thought in regard to aptritual atbecoment or evolution. This is the subordination of morality to knowledge. For the knowledge here meant—the bund promonion which can be grasped by a metaphymical formula. It is an act of confliction by consciousness, involvein Stanif all the higher others results. Morasty, on the way hand, belongs to some given stage of cornelensators, as, pethaps. the highest, or as tenting to become the highest, expression of that stage. Those higher moral ideals which do not require the sangtion of a face, but appeal to a new or regenerate condition of the mill, are not conceptions of an advanced standard of rectitude so much as presentiments of a larger consciousness, to the mascent development of which these kleah testify. Thus for a morality controlling the lower paters, we have a tegition nature becoming self-conscious. This cortainly is not in steal a neval contribution of Eastern to Western thought. It is the Christian doctrino of Reguneration, referred to by St. Paul's distinction between the echoclimaterana Christ, as, again, it a the ideal which modern ethical specimation offers to the roce, as a consequence of the heredistry bytomics on and progressive the merry of non-against motives. But in Christianity the inetrate have remained a mystery, or a theological dogma, for all not be two apprehend it roolly if not explicitly, in the Eastern sense. The social inted, on the other haut, has no metaphysical significance, since it recognises avolution only one plane, being limited to a nort of moral two Juneous as world. The striking achievement of thought in he Fact is not the religion and the philosophy are one are are as ne system And that is so because it does not regard the temporary in the tion of consciousnoss-ordion in this paper the personality-as fully representing the subjective being, and as being, therefore, to be supplemented and converted by a power astementally the self, however controlly that power may be conceived as operatfug. The supreme condition when every walls gon many the denine of the personal so in here ca be also sure here not as the "meridee" of semething which exists, but as the codevery that what seems to be is not. To see limitation as being. as the essential self, as the illusten of personality. The principle of deliverance at, therefore, knowledge. Even speculative small coals represents and repeats the larger arm or cycle of its knowledge that our personality, an the interest of constrous existence. It is, indeed, very possible to misinterpret this law ness in its objective relations, it a transient shase, will carry us as is, perhaps, especially the case in sucking the tree correa long way, if only we keep it always before an winner he is apendence of waking and alsoping with life and death. Accordmustain a continual equationally and autoforance to the action of me to the apparent analogy, for instance, the subjective state external causes. For every application by will of alastract truth to which it is mad doubt introduces on, and which answers to the nakes it an organic basis of life, realising or ashstantisting is diurnal along, should have a duration of only one-third of the m us, and is the progressive affirmation or recognition of the objective life, sustend of being enormously in excess of it. The satyor consciousness, whose true self-knowledge, transcending solution, we suspect, in to be found in the different measures of and dispelling the personality, is thus attained. The highest time. This night happen in either of two ways, supposing effectuation of Will as the subjugation of Desize, and Will is what we learn of the hundreds, or even thousands of "years" quides to thurschevement by the knowledge that Desire does too bkely. former attempts to elucidate the distinction between not belong a its true consciousness. It may seem, to col that by fraternity and lare. A consciousness without exclusive interests has total interests. It lives in the whole, and is toe for the persentation of some particular state occupies a per- relations to an objective world, and by special functions. As long us the personality remains, individuality is for it metaphysical, a threshold between the two, for the metaphysical becomes he physical as soon as it is brought within the region of experithe brettend times, if a compact a time a men on other is the power that fights. Any sen as a far that locis one and enthrones the other I the was a ways de duces pain, which disappears in proportion as its true cause, the feat to own ands. Physics without metaphysics is empirically is superatition. The harmonious combination of these three elements forms what is called Theosophy, Window-Religion, or Esotoric Sciences. The study of this great amends is a proper development of all the different faculties, the synthetic unity of which is the man. Physics requires the cultivation of the intellect, metaphysics can be comprehended only by the development of the intuitive, or purely rational, faculties, while the me sonal nature is expanded by othics. The feeling of curerential awe for what we call aparitual is produced by the conresponsed in metapoxistics of a real following. Meta-direct responses in true as the following union, who with a said agviction profinces the feeling of are for the subjective side of nature, and maken it meral." "The practicability of convertone motunityment concepts into physical facts by the help of othics, must not be lost sight of." And this is " a teak abroady accomplished by accounted individuals." Why not I If the philosophy of spiritual evolution be true, it is just what we should expect augs in themselves," behind the objective aspect of experience, is substituted the conception of an attractained territory of experience. This is the bahacood idealism which was position of our vy mor no strate estatement to either the natipective or the objective aspect. All our resident connect miners (" the universe," may Mr. Mohite " as a grown consciousment and what for us is the trace a central relative a sun unser w only a field of experience in which the subjective conditions are different from ours. One of our own most distinguished mate-Ayuciana, Mr. Shadworth Hodgaon, in his "Philosophy of Redection," and Dr. du Prel, in his "Phalosophio der Myatik," have arrived at very similar results.

This view of the potential reduction of the metaphysical (transcendental) to what the writer here calls " Physics" (facts aphicol to scientide approhension), is in agreement with much independent contemporary sporulation. For the ostology of

Another characteristic of Eastern thought, to which also the generalizations of Western philosophy are independently tending, is its fidelity to the analogies of nature. That is very observable in the view of douth as the termination of an objective phase of human existence, and its retrest into a subjective one. Alternation of opposites is one of the most universal facts of on are Action and re-action, activity and rust, expension and napiration, whother we take our examples from mechanics or from organic phenomens, we find the same law measuring time by opposite states. Nothing but our mability to group existence and its changes on a large scale has provented the otherwise obvious application to the ones of man. For by another law, of which philosophy and acionec may purhaps make greater use horeafter, with everything that which happens on the

The measure of time may be taken from ofther the subjective or the objective state, and the two measures may not at all coincide. And that would be quite in accordance with dream experience. But our present object is only to point out the presumption from general analogy in favour of the statement that survival after doub does not mean a more contamulty of the personal life under new objective conditions, but in the withdrawal into an interior state of consciousness. The consciousness of personal identity would then depend upon how far the interior consciousness had already been associated with the personal life; for without association of ideas there is no recollection. The intermediate state, or " Kainalocs," answers to the period during which the still karasaed, or interested, mind is kept awake, or half awake, by dwelling on the occupations, excitements, or hopes of the past day, a period which in the one case as in the other, will be extremely variable. It appears to be new quite concoded that communication with the half-awake personalities in Kama-loos through mediums to possible and a fact. But the analogy suchles as easily to approcase the objection arged against these practices. When we have parted with the organism by which we energied in collateral reciprocity with others on the same plane, continuance on that plane can only be a morbid endeavour of consciousness to maintain its objective phase. The true individuality would return into itself, into its larger life. This descripagement may be seriously retarded by importanity. The would be alsoper after his toil may be kept feverishly and uselessly awake by care or anxiety, but who would be so barbarous as to motost his repeate by insisting on conversation with him ! Even his willing now, if he be willing, is not, in his interests, to be encouraged

But though little good is to be got, and much will is to be aperakended, from these communications with Kama-loca, we learn that the rest of Devechan is a period of spiritual efficance. It is a proposition strongly inusted upon that all true appricual communication must be subjective. That means from consciousness on a higher plane on repport with our own similar intuitive consciousness, whoreas Kama-loos being only an obscure continuation of the earth-life, communication thence can only be ed an external character. Mr Mohini thinks it is a fact " that men dying at a ripe old age with the satufaction of having accomplished all life's labours, very rarely manufest through mediums." But "those sione who, staring a long course of unselfish life, have shed every atom of material craving, are able to overleap Kama-loca altogether water in the case of the generality, its duration variou from some bours to a great many years. But all such statements about duration should, we think, be taken with the understanding that time has no absolute measure, and that therefore estimates. tak a from our measure give un. The real discontions

"While the maritual life of an individual is unfolding itself in Devaction, sympathetic souls on earth feel the vivilying and spiritualizing inflorace of that unfoldment, and translate it istetheir physical lives according to their respective spiritual development. Whenever an individual on marth is enabled, by his highly speritual life, to tire upon the plane of soul, he can coneciously receive the influx of spiritual energy thus showered which the earth, and truce it to its source. True spiritual communication must be of a subjective character. The pure spiritual being, even while on worth, ribrates in unison with some glorified predecements, a good man in life and goodness in death. It will thus be seen that good men, freed from the limitations of the flosh, become inspiring influences in their turn, and so remain for a period anumensurably greater than the span of their lives on outh, before making another descent into objective life

Le Spiritume gives a list of eighteen circles (groupes) now being held in Paris, with their addresses and tames of meeting.

THE Figure of Patis has an article upon the dramatist, Victorien Sardon, which says that through his hand, as a modium wonderful drawings, filled with fine detail, here been executed where a re wer known has be came to in his one are state. make he simpless sketch. Further roof that the purity is turning to be in the direction of Sport and and in the counted by the fact has Fig. 21 is also printing a negative. If store a faire person has dispose approximants,—Le

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

Grascow.-Last Sunday, while the usual services were being conducted in the Spiritualists' meeting-place, Miss Romwond Dale Owen lectured to the Secularate in their Hall lugram-street. Him Owen spoke twice, forenoon and evening. her subjects being respectively, " A Chat about Robert Owen, and " Work." Har morning audience was somewhat scenty and scattered, but the lecture was delivered with an easy grace, and contained nonly interesting points. The audience in the evening was large, and the address was in many respects much more thing in its deliverance and effect. Moss Owen as not or visco a wort, but also a true and consistent, Sparttanlist 84 for reasons the cital importance of the gonzar on was his possesses her, and courageously senses overy opportunity that presents stool for making obvious to others the realities and and one of Spiritualium, It may, therefore, be inferred that on the occasion or question, she was not retieunt respecting die in the wice it for the areas for heavil. Desiring with the not bework in rolation to the spiritual in near. More twen him probably the advantage of her audience in possessing a clear knowledge of certain spiritual laws and forces which, although constantly operative in the various spheres of numer life not its relationship, my yet undraunt of m to placeophy of the average Socularus. In appounding such laws, therefore, by means of sample and obvious inners. tions, clearly presented, Miss Owen was able to atter the essence of Spiritualing from the Secular platform. Doubtless many were affected only by the "strongs dectrines", others, let us hope, gathered a few good-grains of truth that possibly may quicken by-and bye and grow into now forms of thought in their ands. However this may be, the spectacle of a fragile woman Sewing an amorene of act holes thanke a accombinion many to no nitrora new diselegation. The new many most and gettien. or in a way which a more was scally opposed to the bent of their nic and anal an our rout have among a district very every surposted, a style of utterance simple, fluorit, and unconsciously graceful, was of steel commething to pander over. In the Stull, 2, Carr son plus. Mr. Waster see and the placform in the evening, and his guides replied to written questions submitted by the audience. The attendance was large, and the questions were numerous and caried. The replies by the guides were remark able for their elequence and fulness. Mr Wains was evidency her test to a and gave forth his maplications with cone, freshness, and freedom. Miss Owen will speak next funday, har our set being. Where Sparttaneous base oil his again Moreon following, as 8 pcm. in Experimental Proof of a Herese v St. M. Nou-

NEW ASTAR. In January 20th the members of the Society This review must a se with a citation consorming Davachan, for we have left no space for a critician, which would necessarily be of a mutaphysical character, of the further statement that antices in that state are not self-conscious. the new president being Mr Thomas Thomasn, and the rice presidents Messra. Kersey and Kay , Mr. C. E () apply, of 25 Jefferson-street, retained the office of corresponding secretary the only other change being two fresh facts muongst the committee. The treasurer's report showed a belonce, in favour of the treasurer, of £15 7s. dd. , has not come of fix and see consistently, how the done and the extra spence are who is and becomes see you died. On the 26th and 27th the assists of he South Set of a sale of work to raise funds to help the N.S.F.S. or in to be cause more efficiently. The result was more as of a second of the best and the hall was needy a nation, as while were taked and patronsod, and overything disposed of, excepting a pair of pictures, the time being agreeably diversified with some vocal and instrumental music by the kinduces of a few friends,—Liverstate.

> A " Larrie One" writing in reference to Dr. Ray Lankoster a attack on Mr. Eg.inton, mys : "My son and self had a sennes with Mr. Eglinton a fortnight age, and although I did not access in my object, which was to be put into communication, if possible, with one particular spirit, and, moreover, was dissatisfied with the explanation of difficulties given by the 'Guide,' Ernest, yet I am as firmly convinced as I can be of anything, that the long message (written in an incredibly short space of time) which I received was produced by an intelligence other than that of the medium. Mr. Eginton no more wrote t than that sage Professor Lankester himself What we went in investigating these strange phononena is a tride less elevenness and a disposition to believe that after all there may be one or two members of the human race, not, of course, as wise as ony selves, but as honost,"

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

The Conduct of Circles. By M & (Cxon.)

He may have seen a other Spar bancon or reques into jugglery Abil imposture in thy actions in section

If you can get an of some on to some personned Spar trailer or whose good faith you can only, and blue for advice a said, if he is bolding private aireles, sook permission to aftend one to see how to , to a man A S W Crookes, Fellow and Gold Medallist of equation a constant to what respect and an ease for ton few melts on type comes a time in the Hoyal College of Science, Dublin , Dr. Leckhart Robertson , away and you or amongst more were more to some two the J. Elliothers, F.R.S., according President of the Royal Medie elece. The maked Spiritualle's may be no consume distance.

a negative passe e temperament, and govern dyor, he female sexall to him of the ACP ACP.

Sat me in a moget a seninte y seeme nga list disturb 1 and Mary 18 Ac Ac Ac action of the condition of the second of the condition of the second of the condition of the conditi anes, in subsucce light, and in combined to the opposite annex eliter pand not taken those of life neighbour, though the practice is Insurantly adopted

In not concentrate affection too fixedly on the expected manfescations. Engago in charful but not frivatore voc sation that is Planta aron. Variousier &c. &c. fessiones. Regage in conservations has resonance the part of the position of the part of the position in a possion of determined who may a flat to the Masse Cape 1 to the on 1 to assert 100 s, y stop or neglectly impose nanofessations. If conversation to a 1.10 sor or a summared 1 servation 1 and 1 servation in the largest holp, if is no agreeable to all, and not for the part of the servation o before my thing occurs. If after such trial you all fail, form a A Ac from circle. Lucas at the reason of your failure, eliminate the also momor elements, and infrance offices. An hour should be nerger in the content of surveys assumily are a cold breeze passing . Three indications, at first so elight as to cause don't as to the r rea. To will mentally develop with more or less repeated

If the table moves, let your pressure be so gentle on its our new that you are early you are not gloing its notions. After some time you will probably find that the movement will continue if your untils are held ever, but not in contact with it. Do not, however try this until the movement to amused, and to in no heavy to get

When you think that the time has come, let some one take e manager of the circle and not as spokesment. Explain to the unseen thin agence that an agreed code of signals is desirable, and not that a tilt may be given on the alphabet to almoly repeated at the sevents letters which form the word that the later season wishes to spall. It is convenient to use a single tilt for No, three for Yes,

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

The following is a list of eminent persons who, after presental investigation, have entistied themselves of the reality of owns of the phenomena generally knows as Psychical or Spiritualistic be lefter anower ge as a large of the Earl of Crawford and Balcaron, P.R.S., St. and T. Talellia of h J. a Sorte y J C. Varley, P R.S., C.E. ; A. R. Wallace, the shows a difficult in hear as access to a new circles connent Naturalist; W. J. Barret, N. R. S. P. Troposor of Physics cal and Chicargical Society of London; *Professor do Morgan, to a confine to eight persons, half, or at least two munclime President of the Mathematical Society of Landon "Dr Was many by L S I sometime Professor of Chapmatey in the University of Edinburgh; "Dr. Ashiburner, "Mr. Rutter, "Dr.

N.B. An asterisk is prefixed to those who have exchanged

postdom, rand an incovered table of convenient size. Place the "h.s.," See: Professor G. T. Feelmer, Scholbeer, and J. H. Pulge of the hands that upper surface. The hands of cach. Fighte, of Leipzig; Professor W. R. Weber, of Göttingen. Professor Rollman, of Warsharg; Professor Perty, of Revne Professors Wagner and Butlerell, of Petersberg ; Professors Here 10 Mapos, of U.S.A. ; Dr. Robert Friese, of Breslan ; Mons.

may be normany to meet ten or twelve times, at short latervals, How to Sections to a "Mrs. manning. How Lonco Nick.

litchop Clarke, Rhole Island, US.A.; Darius Lyman, S t Professor W Deuton: Professor Alex, Walder; Proon Il man Corson , Professor George Bush ; and twenty-four ud, and on-Judges of the U S. Courts; Victor Huge; Baron were the acute with involuntary two telling of the hands and arms and abroness on the "We recent a cone, I SA "How a some of the efficient mid Surgent | "Baren de Potet; "Count A ue fasparin "Baten L. in an A Social Postrion -B. I. H. Nicholas, Dake of Lauchtenberg, If S. H. the Printe of Solmer: H. S. H. Prince Albrecht of Solon; II S. H. Prince Emilio at Payn Wittgenstein, Hon. Alexander Aksakof, Imperial Councillor of Russing the Hon. J. L. (Phillippe, sometime Minister of U.S.A. at the Court of Lisbon havey avaised in a Compil-General of Prance at Tricate the me hope core of "Russia and "France; Presidents "Thiera and "Lincoln &c , &c

18 IT CONJURINGS.

I we must make conflict only a logs of think one constraint only election of the property of the constraint of the const the specific before the word that the bite's general which is a positive for any term for the specific of the service of the s

Night:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

"LIGHT BORE LIGHT " Gords " WHATEVER 19711 MAKE MANTEN IS LIGHT. Paul

No. 215 .- You Y.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1885.

Pater Twoperce.

Specialization at Home 1

The Control of the Contro 1 The Verland and be "Super-ble time to Nobe a super-ment of the mallian lines a the super-time to the s No. of Manager

The Editor of "Liont" deares it to be distinctly understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the tan decided opinion, for my knowledge of Greek is scarcely opinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents, organil the alphabet, * Pros and constears discussion is excited, but senders are in the last 'Living' (i.e., of the 31st ult.) which puzzles are glane responsible for the articles to which their names an

"SPIRITUALISM AT HOME

By FRANK POUNDER, M.A.

I must preface my letter by an apolegy to Mr Throbald. committed by a "Greek scholar," No doubt Mr. Thoobald , On the achas some grounds for making a statement so extraordinary acquainted with the Greek language, and that this form. Again, though no accent, and only one "breathing words in the Greek; and "considers some of the letters of precisely the memark which is essential to the correct pronun-Theolaid abould state whether this crime is identical the word speeden is incorrect; the proper conjunction in with the Greek scholar who made the mutake inferred to the sentence is speeds. But speeden is an actual Greek word, above. For in that event I shall not be juch sed with the same meaning as speade, and it is at least as to discuss questions of Greek scholarship. But even should invented openion, as that a Greek scholar should lave the unipero's qualification for his task to beyond disput written it in this context. Mr. Theolaid's intimate acquaintance with investigations of Those three circumstances appear to me to indicate that the kind must surely convene him that the course while the sentence was actually written by a person who which he has adopted as not calculated to elucidate the truth know no Greek at all, it was composed by a person who I made my criticisms openly, and explained my reasons for possessed a knowledge of Greek about equivalent to that making them. It is not enough for Mr. Thoulaid to most of a school on in the fourth form. my o pections by a vague report of what an azonymous! When a secentific student wishes to ascertau the cause critic has asserted or assumed. The make of the case of some rare phenomenon, he naturally compares it with any should be given, the grounds of his criticism should be set analogous phenomena which have come under his observation. forth, and his actual words should be quoted. If I have Lot us pursue this method in the present case. Most readers the wrong. If the form of the letters is archaic, he should published in the spring and early summer of last year, from adduce other examples of these archaic forms. If he du- Saedi, from Wamik, another Persian poet, and others. And agrees with use in his reading of certain words, the possibly some may have been rather impressed by the writing should be submitted to other duly quantied judges, abnormal introduction of out-of-the-way Oriental poetry The matter cannot be sattled by assertions and assumptions into a quiet suburban household. I doubt, however, if any of his or of times. But I may mention one circumstance reader of "Light" will have appreciated the full signifiwhich may, perhaps, prove relevant to the issue between us cance of that note which Mr Theobald has appended to his Mr Theolold, as mentioned above, stated that he sub- account of these writings in "Liony" of June 14th, and mitted my criticum of the Creek to a friend whom Mr. which also appears at p. 29 of his tract, "Spiritua.ism Podmore knows, and would consider equally able to form at Home." an opinion of the writing as he is. This friend is not only Obviously, the marvellous nature of the incidents, as a Greek schoner, but a Spiritualist. ("Light," p. 53.) Now, I have received a letter, dated February 2nd, from a valued I friend, who is a Spiritualist, who possesses some knowledge of Greek, and who was consulted by Mr Theobald on the Greek quotation, and on my comments thereon. The most pertinent sentence of my correspondent a letter I will venture to quote :--

"On those (a.c., the Greek and my comments) I could have

The menmag which the writer intended to convey by the words last quoted is hardly doubtful, but perhaps Mr. Theobald will solve the puzzle by telling us whether this correspondent of mine is identical with the "Grook scholar referred to my a m

Before passing on to consider the question of the production of the writing, I will most Mr. Theobald's challenge on the position of som. It seems to me provable that in the origins. I assumed -as I now find without any trustworthy a obsentence from which the writing in copied, the nonmative donce, and upon more conjecture—that the mutake of Odiaseus, stood first, thus—Odiaseus sacu, and that the macribing a promo quotation to me epic poons had been come copyat, with a fine source of sterary property, not washing mutted by the spirit who is responsible for the quotation. to introduce the quotation by a word that would acoby onely Mr Theolaid has now informed us that the mintake was preservent to his previous remarks, one tax the mino

I have expressed my belief that the writing is the proand I must apologies to him for my unwarrantable duction of a person wholly ignorant of Greek. But there are remarkable indications of an imperfect knowledge of Mr. Thenbuld proceeds to state that he has submitted Greek somewhere. Though the termination of the world my letter and the original writing to a friend who is Odmenou is mearred, it is yet characteristically Greek in friend dissents from my reading of several of the an seried, that one is not only amorted correctly, but it is antique form, and Mr. Podmore's criticism thereon union cintion of the sentence—representing, as it does, the exterportant, and in one case wholly wrong." I think Mr 'A Lauty-a point which I overlooked in my previous letter to believe so fully as Mr. Throbald in his competency unlikely that a person scholly ignorant of Greek should have made a mintake, he should come forward and prove me in of "Light" will have read with interest the communications

"MATTER THROUGH MATTER"

February 14, 1983.]

originally described by Mr. Theolaid, in "Licery" of April | considered complete. It is hardly necessary to detail 19th and May 3rd, was due, not to the actual method of other variations in the poems as given by the apirits, and as production of the writing -- for the conditions were not printed in the "Repository", they are all of the same classy There is one interesting point, however to be noted here any knowledge of the works of old and little about the poem headed on a Lie r p. 217, which known Porsion ports, and should be able to give securate appears in the "Repository" as filteral apparently a name translations from their works, and an accounts account of for a short lyrical poem). The spirit of Saadi, I regret to the life of one of them. The whole interest of the matter say, claims this poem as his own, it is in reality a com-

Again, Mr. Theolaid hardly does justice to his subject. the interval between the original publication of these when, in the last lines of the note referred to, he myn that writings and their republication in "Liouv" of June the tract contains "very interesting references to Sandi." 14th-that the whole of the information given was derived. The reader would certainly not suppose from this casual from such a readily accessible source as "Chambers remark that the whole account which the spirit of Saadi gives Repository," it was clearly incombent on him to explain of his life on earth is borrowed almost word for word from this in the most unmutakable terms to his readers. What the tract. Readers of "Legitr" must, I imagine, have grown tolerably familiar in the last few months with the Since we me to above, I have but my attention called to criation of parallel passages from English and Oriental an old truct, culture 'Tersian Protey,' published by Chambers eteration, and I will spare them another infliction of the many years ago, in which every particular relating to Wansik is word. But it should be observed that the sage whose confirmed. , . . . Wantik here unfolds the sayatte doctrines writings formed the basis of a previous comparison had more of Zerdoutt, and has several attention on the way of for our case to have been a labored more discretion and accuracy in the manner of it. For our post, in describing model but in the tract the but line but a . If a and where facts to familiar to him as the events of his own past life, is content to use the precise words of another, adding to them not at all, and omitting only cortain facts somewhat discrecitade to humself. I or af an we must apply but here, too, we require some further proof before we can remark in no little of the sommark of the spirit at established. Mr There say he was or, is not, apparently, of this opinion of San a venter about at the work of a venter and the Lange of April 19th, after giving Sandi's own account

> On receiving this harrow I thought it passened medeble softic not probably, for testing the accuracy, and some notice of it a ten firm M A. (Oxon.)' from whom I received the alone a cutract which substantially confirms this spirit

The extract referred to is an account of Sandi derived from another source, corresponds 2 in detail with that this source are derived all (not " some," as stated by Mr given Mr. Theobald by that " spirit " It is difficult to understand upon what rules of evidence Mr. Theobald proceeds when he speaks of the correspondence as a substantial confirmation of sperit identity, even when the source triffing alterations, which avaitably violate the rhythm, and of the spirit communication was still unknown. But a few weeks after publishing this, it was pointed out to him that Sandi's account of himself was undoabtedly derived from is the hearth" ("Litter of June case by "58, co in the the tract above-mentioned, and that this correspondence of tract the last line but two reads "Thy living word through two independent accounts of his bife was, therefore, desti-Vesta's Sre-domain," but Mr Theoland's version has it | tate of what little evidential significance it might have been supposed to possess. What are we to think of his competency as a witness, and of the value of his recorded evidoubtful-is an incongruous message of the original line and cleace, when we find that in republishing the account fance Launt, June 14th, and " Spiritualism at Home" he does not mention these circumstances at all, and alludes to the tract in question merely as containing " very interesting references to Sandi" | 1 1

In a subsequent letter I hope to return to the subject

London, February 2nd, 1885

REAR COTTON - He evers - Spiritua into are more numeran han any best in C intended case, but the Roman Ca is ice, yet the most imagnificant and by bein can caug a Can her yet the most magnificant ambig bern can grag a strong influence to bear own society became her size and also recept so he cause forgatosetom. More resentations of my of an interpretation of an people are controlled an adminishing a so span as Will any aposito of disorganization or lighton us as to the superiority of heaving every it ng among us at loone-em s? If Sport calon, a cold copies cal he tast has at more and doors. I am more arread and for has not as the decrease of the span and account of the calon the second of the calon of the second of such as to exclude possible fraud-but to the antecedent type improbability that any person capable of such fraud should hes, and must have been understood by all readers of bination of two poems by a later author-one of the "Limit" to lie, in this admitted improbability. When, Sulis, therefore, Mr. Theolaid discovered what he did discover in percus sum in the note referred to I will here quote the ablet of which come the two which he was thus "Thy living word through Peaks dis a six not as not told that the word in staller in interesce with a Intermitate. The spirit of Water to a common of the second Avests, and otherwise corrects the translator. The achieves larger, as a lost of aparts aboutity, are important and access as In the testing that are absent your se-

setting property and the second section of the second was coming the second which are dudy the mea of their being copies, flauch were of himself howers a admitted woodship

This pagaintaneous commentary care area is not subgred. a antisfactory account of the matter. The one tout reforred to is incurred in Part VI of that at one time some or mul widely eigenented sortes known as "Chambers, Report bey of I struct ve and Amusing Tracts." It as therefore, as stated above, a readily accessible source of information. From Theobald) the translations of Pers ar poetry quotis in M. The shalf's articles , and all the bagraphies on any give-The postry is quoted rerbation et literatus, except for a four very generally the sense and the grammer. For metan-In the passage beginning "At home the por of punction "Thy Zend Avesta, thy hving fire domain." This are which, of course, does not senu, and the sense of which is of two footnotes given in the track. The first note is appended to "thy Living Word," explaining that it alludes to the "Zond Averta", the second note-referred to by Mr Theobald-states that the word " Vesta" was introduced by the translator. The "spirit of Wamik," Mr. Theobald of these writings from mother point of view. teds us, signs this production, and adds the interesting information, " Warrik was barnt to death at Abyenna: he lived in this life before 636" (" Light," p. 249). The spirit's said for biographies necurary, as here outstroped his discretion. If either the spirit or Mr Theorem. and read the tract in "Chumbers' Repository" with an h ciont care they would have discovered that " Was k never hered at all, he is an allegorical and woolly imaginary personage, the here, not the author, of the poem onoted, and that the date 636, given in the tract, has no connection whatever either with " Wamik" or the unknown poet. In view of these facts Mr. Theolaid must, I think, almost that the proof of "spirit identity" cannot as yet be 1 -Dr S R. Britton (1875)

My fourth scance with Hask was again, by the kindness of Mr. Stuart-Menteath, held at his house on the 5th inst.

We used rong No. I, which we found too small to be telepathy forced over Hosk's hand, again placed on his wrist, but as this operation was not under test conditions, I cannot assert that it was placed there after Coptain James had hold of the medium's hand

My object in new addressing you is to draw attention to the present condition of the case.

Husk has my ring, No. 2, still on his wrist, namely, I neue days after it was first placed there, be talling us that Irresult . " declares he will not remove it for some time, as he wishes his meerum to exhibit it as an evidence of matter through may er and to favour this object I now give Mr. Hask's auto-se. 60. Max od oad, Peckha lave

As to the pres at of this ring, which is mainfeact asuch too small to be forced over Husk's hand, buyon, was cut open and then welded on Husk's wrist, I to-day took the opinion of two friends who are civil engineers, one of whose specialities is connected with details in iron, in reference to the construction of locomotive engines. Their OPIDION WAS !-

1. In order to weld such a ring, a white heat, approach ing the melting point, would be required, and this would almost exclude the attempt to weld at on a human wrest

3. This more sary degree of heat could not be retained by so slender a ring for more than a yout one then, if a minute, a period much too brief in which to refer a turring a to its covalar major round the wrist and to complet

3 buch an operation, if possible, could be effected by means of a pair of pancers made for the occasion, of a special curve, estibles, and shape, and would require a great leverage power, but such power could only be used by the impacts of these waves in a way that causes in him through an astroment too large and clumsy to grasp a fine ring with a a parter such of the west

. The operation if effected, would leave the line of welding visible, and thus reveal the operation, although the ring need not be reduced in circumference by the welding, as I have formerly stated, as the ends could be drawn out.

I think we may, therefore, exclude the idea of Husk having had ring No. 2 welded on his wrist. At the some time. It is easier to believe in such a welding than in the pamage of matter through matter

I trust I do not weary your renders with these repeated tests and details, and they will at least show that I am de termined not to accept so actounding a proposition as the passage of matter through matter on trust.

Criticisms on thus matter are very important as they lend to renewed and more careful experiments. But those who criticise this subject should have certain mechanical aptitudes, and first of all should most carefully examine the experimenter and the materials operated on, before verbally and publicly criticizing the operations themselves.

George Wyan, M.D. 7th February.

Mr. PLUMB, a leading estima of Spontor, Illinois, writes to ne -" Dr Slade has been here for a work, about fifty itsquirers had afances, and were much supressed by the facts witnessed through his mediumship. His visit has given the came a great suspetus here."-Religio-Philosophical Journal.

Turn hose who behave in a resurrection of the majorial body consider attentively this jumage of St. Paul. But this tay, brethren, that fical and blood cament inherit the Knigdom of Heaven weither doth corruption inherit meaningtons tion the contract to be semigrated on the transfer of the order against Williams Court at not a business becomes it so yet a new research to the semigrate of the contract of the continuous, a given a no name a district operator of an interest of the in-corner of an interest of the in-corner of an interest of the in the parting of it from its temporary earthly apparatus. The resurrection is only of spiritual againstance. Dr Watder

OF TELEPATHY (From The Nation.)

PROFESSOR ELLIOTT COUES' EXPLANATION

I beg to offer some hypotheses in explanation of a Suppose that the fact of telepathy has been established substantially according to the results reached by the London Society for Psychical Research, viz. that one person can know what another person is thinking of without any known physical means of communication

(&) Suppose that consciousness and memory, will, understanding, &c., do not depend upon matter for their existence, but only for their manifestation , no., are spiritually self-existent, but require a physical basis whence to effect any knowners result, iv, to become flicient cubics or

2. Suppose there is no a apparents, importainment, frictionless, tempe (s.e., not atomic) or may other state of matter, ordinarily mappreciable to the physical senses, havma modes of motion peculiar to itself and appropriate to the support and primary manifestation of consciousness, and that we agree to cal, this kind of matter "akasa," or "od," or "biogen," or snything else,

(d.) Suppose akum susceptible of being set in sundry modes of motion by the consciousness, will, do., of come person, and that such modes of motion are respectively the expression of such and such thoughts, in the form of thought-

(a.) Suppose biogen capable of continuing for some time a particular mode of motion impressed apon it by the will, and of propogating this motion to some distance from the point of its origination, just as light-waves, do are propagated -- both the number on its non-o seing ordinar of impercepti do to the physical senses.

(/1) Suppose a person at some distance to be affected waves identical in all respects with those proceeding from the originator of the motion,

Obviously, then, the consciousness of the two individuels would coincide, i.e., one would have come to the & t c some thing the other thought; i.e., one would have " read the mind " of the other, and the operation of the one mind upon the other would not have seen cognised by the physical senses of anybody, s.a., it would have been the section of one mind upon another at a distance, without any known physical means of communication, i.e., it would constitute telepathy-just what the London Society for Psychia Research would appear to have established.

Assuming the truth of this hypothesis, it accounts for the facts, is not meanipatable with any of them, and is, torrefore as avalance working hypothesis to explain

The biogen-theory derives some confirmation from the fact (not generally known or accepted, and contrary to some of what are called "haves of ma to a rat arms became a to be an states of a consection to get waves present as a ray or pound from the agent and impange upon the

It derives additional to firmation from the fact that bioget is some of its stores we modes of motions, may be smell hear seen, and as a ly any one or, comes under the aid any observators of the thysical season.

It ay your the minds of some to be assured that no Do not made no need be work at te my some of the grant top, haunt the seances of the Spiritualists. I have nothing to my here of those alleged ghosts supposed to be apparite and of war persons. But I will give a new name to wate now called "varidical phantoms." I will call them telepathic continuate. With this hirt, one the remander that the splantage which con poses the visible and tangebre bodies of and speece into the regar fore automata as that which I have essewhere described and comes coogen, al remain very truly yours, ELLIOTT COUES.

17 °C N St. Washington St., Dec. 28th, 1884.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[it is prefemble that correspondents should appeal their names and addresses to communications. In any one, howeverthese must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good factly.] .

The Society for Psychian, Research and Mr. Eglinton. To the Elitor of "Liour.

Son. To make a reply which shall be no answer, and to divert attention from the main question by importing a slight flavour of personality into a discussion—there are controversal diwith which the world me long been familiar, and of which the letter of " C.C.M." affords yot another example. Any little so often out before those by the same writer.

What does Mr. Eubulo-Evans want I's sake "CCM." Well, incredible as it may appear, Mr. Eubule Erans actually wants a plain answer to a plant question. But he are expects to get it. For what would become of the occult usthese effermatances? How could such a tender efceper fourish in this benefing atmosphere of categorical clearment?

My adeation was and is, " Why does not the Society for Pay no. I moved to see a continuent para an life payerhead phonomonous of the day? Has the Society a reason for not offering to do so, or does Mr. Egiaton decline to be investigated by the Society !" These are questions which obviously admit of entegorical answers. If they do not receive them, even that without over-pressure on the facultius, to draw a right conclu-

expects strict logic from a consequence of the strict of the contest, and you clear the port the logic from the port of the logic from the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest, and you clear the port of the logic from the contest of the logic from the lo Common the assert rack of the Society for Daycheal Research | 100 min for in the section to be acted a seep month for facts than the action of any set of any come ment of them." The question here is, and "C. C. M. a. opinion as to what the Society ought to do, but what the Society baying had to play it out. He may, indeed, that he del not tault professos so ha sim and object, and as yet, it has happily shown no tendency to devote itself to the co-ordination of "facts" which it has taken no passes to verify. No doubt, were it to do the straint and the second residence of a second second second second second in Lama-like sochiston in Dean's-yard, and a sur- atthe darkness with occult phonon to very CM on M. Moroll Theobald (phonon and Greek preferred), it would natound, if not convince, the world by the grandeur of its eordinating faculty. And in the end, like the Leura, it would little hurriedly ashuved

Municiple, so long at my question remains management i the rememon Yours furthfully,

New Atherman Club, S.W.

[The "plain answer": joined by Mr. Evans can obviously mily be given by either of the parties concerned. Speak a unofficially, we believe we are willed the mark in saying that norther the Society nor the medium fight sky one of the other The former have hitherto confined their officed investigation to another phase of occas phenomena. We believe, a wever, that and vidual anguiters of the various con intrees have obtained very satisfactory results with Mr. Eg inton. We also behave the time in near at land when the Society for Psychocal Research, as a result of its investigations, will be compelled to make notice authors atatement on regards "Spirituacon trust that the public will have been sufficiently someone by its researches and unfluence to receive their report in a different | manner to that in which previous reports have been received. Ep. of "Light "]

Money Challenges. To the Ea to. of LIGHT

Sut,-In the letter you probably from Signer Dancom to the above subject, he says "It savesily to be regretted that, Mr. O. O. Massey, before condomning betting as unbecoming. Ald not soo. " &c.

To which I roply, that it is ready to be regretted that Signar Danuars, before attributing to me a moral objection which I cause under certain conditions," is not calightening, as it ages dreamed of rusing, had not taken the trouble to read my applies equally to a miracle or un accident.

letter with a little more accuracy. Had I " condemned betting as unbecoming," I should have been self-convicted, not only of meansstoney, because in the same paper I said I would by 100 to I that a certain phenomenon was genuine, but of most contampsible hypotriny. For not a week passes in which I do not but apon a rubber of whist-my favourite and now almost only positions—bender my nearly shally habit of playing the game for the regular money " points." And in past years I have been, comy cost, something of a guidolet in other ways, I can imagine the lengther of some of my old and present friends if they beard coming." No, it was rather in on ohl sportsoan, made wary sperience, certainly not as a moralist, that I as I excell the

"r Dammu's challenge. For what did I my? That spin someon which may be derived from them has been, I am such challenges were " futile, became a the come of any among mare, abundantly carned by such of the readers of "Lacate" so exactly which side has backed out, by objecting to conditions on have ever made an monest attempt to study the metaphysics attempting to impose them, and "improduct, became every experionced myestigator knows that the phonomens are not to be munded on my given commune, and because none of us know at all fully or accurately the conditions of societa." I can assure Signer Danient that could be have wen £1,000 from Mr. Lolanghere I should lave chuckled exceedingly, without the glast, or oven the "ebell," of a moral scrupic. But his challenge rather resembled a practicont rortain gunes of cards, as to which addring at the mater, but as not belonging to the legitimate part of change of a not under penalty of replacing the whole and wish who conseconfully. You hold a bad congertor of nonches, "the general party warms according to a second of the contract of the co all the on which you say I as well a contact and decined air. Those who have to relate the ground the visit. Of course he one with any knowlesse of human nature may think you hold great cards, at person, stormark and > once, it is a dangerous game, and I con a sate and a not proposed " to prove the reality of form, manifestations by actual experiments with Mr. Eginton," But does he mean to imply the control of the state of the second by experiments from San transfer of the san of the sa

The second of the same of the have pledged Mr. Egizaton's ministry without consulting him first , whereas he did consult Mr. Eglanton and obtained has propoles to sit for the experiment of slate-scriting. So I understood, and never mid or suggested the contrary. All I mid assuredly receive the reward of a well deserved apathons a was that Mr. Extinton was not a party to the materialist challenge-which was to my mind by far the most objectionable of the two-and Signer Damient shop not meant that Mr am secured of the continued extateure of at least one occult, Eglinton did se a matter of fact consent to that. Really, before talking about people's "mistakes," Signer Damiani should look ogain be see what it is they say. C. C. M.

To the Editor of " Licux."

Sen . The care (whoever he may be), in your last lates, por the expression "unmorality" as applied to the Labouchero challenge. Nothing more abserd. For if attributed to Labouchere's challenge, that gentleman might tell him that an this country goes on continuously from the Stock Exto the turf, the whole English nation must be very im If "Fidelax" attached manorality to my challenge to Labouchers, when I proposed the money to go to a charity, the application of that epithet becomes doubly abourd. I hope Finlance," will in future recollect that the ugly word by him orapleyed abould never be used amongst gentlemen, Spiritualists, and, above all, by an anonymous writer. - Very truly yours, 20, Colville-road, Notting Rill, W. G. Daniast.

To the Editor of "Laour."

Six,-Your correspondent, "Trident," appears to me only to confuse the subject.

February 9th, 1885

He definition of Law on "a certain result from a certain

According to his view, a mirricle happens whenever I take up my pen from its pusition if rest on the table, its movement into my hand cannot "always be repeated with unit accuracy," as it "depends upon the volution and intention of a superior being, and upon the "arbitrary power and captice" of

February 14, 1884.]

Its position is one of rest, in obolicace to the law of gravity which law is supersoded by the transcendent potentiality of my harms volition or caprice, which is stack subscribent to the that she was suffering from neurolgia, indicated a conditioned " lugher law " of life and being.

Your correspondent's confusion of thought is also shown on the first paragraph of his letter, in which he states that " man could walk on water if he , up by angels, and would then a hometal, and nebated from her francis. The fever rapidly gnact a miracle," but if a parter in a son or ong would not walk on the water at all, but spently be a rece through the air, and the water might be dispensed with as an element in the performance

Given the facts, the explanation is to seek. Mr. Roden Noel's few words in the subject put the matter in the right bolt. There is no room for numelo as a war of law, and thes dominant in co-extensive with the universe. Your abudient

The "Natural" and the "Supernatural"

To the Editor of " Lette."

Son. - Clausing lately over some old copies of the Times, found one in which was an interesting review of the Lafe of Dr Johnson. In realm, with his opinious, it finds thelf majelled to read in some way the question of the supernatural in relation to their the sit to be a distant notoworthy. What, I should has so sake see Fin existing as the as we self-divides the there can be seen in the service of put of peacing? I What ten reappearance of departed sperits," in the combon of the Time-And let it be noted with some moderate feeling of congratula tion that "the man who calls his neighbour superintions is often objecting only to a particular kind of superation, and that his own belief is often the greater sham of the two," Let us be joyful in a chastoned nort of evry. Here is the criticism of

"Johnson was increditions in matters which depended upon human testimony, or could be decided exclusively by human reason When he mand the line which divides the natural fram the super natural he was on ground where these tests lost half their value. They would could blue to determine the reality of particular occurrences alleged to be supernatural, and in some cases to delect importure, but not to decide the general question with regard to the possible reappearance of departed spirits-whether it had over been permitted, or whother it was permitted now. If uncertainty and curiosity, the offspring of starce many on tone numeration question, may be terrored credulity. Senson was credit us. I was as litter on enemy of all foliages as that she houself sum a grief, sham joy, sham government, sham pactry, share region that he knew very well that the man who calls his neighbour space atitions is often objecting only to a particular kind of superstition, and that his own belief is often the greater chara of the two."

> Yours, &c. A Semiroalist.

I WOULD NOT SHRINK!

By Rev. CHAPLES BELL, B.D. - From "Congs to Many Keys."

I would not abrink if some dear glost, Use of the dead's unaumbered host, Should rise in alleues of the night, Shriped as an aureole of light, And pale as anowdrop in the frest. No. 1 If the brother leved and lost For me the ident river crossed, For me left workle all fair and bright. I would not shrink

Oh, if I gauge my heart aright, Dear would the dead be to my aigh. A vision from the other cust Of one on carth I chevaled most Would be a measureless delight. I would not shrink

TRANSITION NOTES.

The Harburger of Light for January is just to hand, and contains Hie following .-

Mass Wood, the well-known medium for materialisation died at Adelaide on the rath of last month. In a certer of Mr. Remon, which appeared in the Docember usue, it was mentioned of the loss of a was then entertance of an ac serious, but in the early part of the month, typhoid fever a prof the patient had to be removed to the special ward of assumed a mangement form, and in a few case the physical lawy becoming unconable, was shendened by the spirit, which we the man has and a more appropriate tenement on the the Mess Wood attained considerable fame at Newcastle some too years since, where, in conjunction with Mine Faclimit, the gave materialising sention, under atrick test come tions, to the antisfaction of Mr. T P Barken and other experionced tovestigaters.

Mr. Defries, of Sycney, wheat on a vast to East, is some twolve months aired, induced Mas Wood to necompare a net Sydney to give a series of sonnees to a number of investigators there, these seances were very careful y conducted under the appervision of Mr. H. Gale and Mr. Buckland, and gave attisface tion to quite a number of earnest impurers

Mr Remera of A lelamo, has been most anxious for Most Wood to cast that city, and at length succooded in making a arrangement for her to do so. Only a few attings laid some eld, giving protune of good results, when the ilmest which has removed her from this field of action avertook her, Our nominal sequentiance with Miss Wood was of the briefost, but friends in Sydney who knew her int mately speak highly of hersincerity and other good quant on. One of the most strike grants in contraction with the Sydney searces was the materialiaution of the late Mr. C. Cavenagh (of the General Post Office, Sydney), who was distinct y recognise is you could be serious

Mr Charles Partitions.

(Prope the "Banner of Light")

This parriagely in the field of operitual publication-for the from of Picturdge and British (S.D.) was one of the very enclose in the work of putting before the people the literature of Specialism in the opening days of the mevement-passed to list reward on Forday, January 23rd, from his country cont, Bellevalle School as of sever years

His transition has awakened a profound consistion among the Nor. York Spiritualists, and we are informed that a memorial neeries will be held by the First Society of Spiritudists of that or of which he was a treates, as men as the perput arrangene we can be made

Assert master, of he Boy on Posses wor in America: Some a change may be a finite or Monday . This of 200 a to take action for a like service in memory of the attention was presument among its foundors, and was its Vice President. The New York Tribune, in speaking of his ransoner

By the death of Charles Partridge . In Produce Exchange toscs one of its obligat members. Its was the senior member of the first of Partridge and Shofth, floor merchants, No. 17 Moore-street, and was a shrewd and adveces for business man. He took acrong ground against dealing in futures. In regard to the criss of speculation he testified before the twentgating committee of the Legislature, which some time ago cook evidence in this city on the or yet. He was a subscriber to the gardulty fund of the Produce Exchange, and the was the minety-several death that has occurred Exchange, and the was the macy-several, doubt that has occurred manny those for whom it was fastituted.

Roy. C. P. McCarthy, writing as from New York on the 25th, pays of Mr Partridge

20th, toya of Mr. Partridge

I c was an on those Sprituallist, a true humanousism and an investment of innethropist. He was a director as well as the class to a message in innethropist. He was a director as well as the class to a network of his explain are on the last devotes to a network of his explaintage of the last toyal and the explaintage of the common file pess pone catom and standard of animose or tipe, and has explaintage of the class of the carried year expert to the file carried year expect the class of the file carried year expect to the file carried year expect to the file carried year of the file carried which is the spring of the file carried to the file carried

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT." & AVE MARIA LANE, LONDON, E.C.

S ISOR PTI N RATES.

The Annua Subsections of a finite confere to any address within the United Kingdom of a diagon conquered within the control Linear including all the of Europe discontrol States, as a series of the conference of the control America, or like the per arrange constanted to our other control and control of the control of the

ADVECTOR MONT CHARTES

ATMERSPISMENT CHARLES

ON THE AMERICAN FOR THE STREET OF THE PROPERTY OF A collection may at our are rises of proceedings.

Onders of Tapor and of other more again by addressed to be believed of Tapor and of other more again to addressed to be being on the Tapor and Proceedings Orders may be made payable to first Bangara at the Charle Office. London, Halfpenny Postage Statepe proceeded for amounts only 200

NOTICE TO THE PLULIC.

NUMBER TO STUNCKINGERS

nserifit sits tox trops are now one. Authorities will bolige by forwarding these as ance to. The Uninger of A.16MT." A Life Anclashine 154. Proof differ Orders may be unide physicle to Henry Rhenes. Al. I d.(neigh Correspondence to be gadressed for The Kulter.

Wight:

SATURDAY, FERRUARY 14th, 1885.

LONDON SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT For the Year cutof 31st December, 1883.

. in the 25th October, 1883, a Special Conference of the Mombers of the 14 Accounts of Sur augusts was called " to consider the becomity of discontinuous, I am by misters Assertation, and further to consider a school ( subm tred by Mr. Sminter Mags for carrying on effectual We ke more or her cents to an.

The Lastantes of the Association at the end of 1880 in volves a benefit of £210, without reading emets, which chiefly computed of Eurinture and a valuable Library

The Conference resolved to make over the lab say to a new Since y, report largers Committee commenting of

REV. W STAISTON MORES, M. A. Ph. I AWSON TO BUS. "Moregia, Threemann. Joseph R. Familian

*H WIE 388 D. G. Forst maxin. A Joy (who has sence entired), On Wyon, with power to and to note member in accustoms to this Comme to here out T limitate the affines of the ongo-Society and 2nd. The pt the telepion proposed by Mr. Stand in Mores for the Common and Society

The ent of these objects was correct out by those Members of the Committee market or an exteroil * and the second by all the a a ve name gentlemen who were joined at their invitation by

Dr. Staxmore Steen, Риограмов Самана MAZOR-GENERAL DRAYSON, ALARIC A. WATTS

The Louisin Spiritualist Alliance was their launched in Docember, 1883 with about 100 Mainborn, and the number daring the year 1884, was increased to 140

The Alicanco has not felt stadt at present authorantly strong to take the obviously desimble step of renting a at the Banqueting Room, St. James Had, in Regent Street, on the sen May and the address given by the Prendent on and on the 19th December, Mr. Alarie A. Waits gave a paper on "Spiritualism Some Difficulties and Some Seggestrous," which was published in "Laure" of December 27th, ABS4.

"Light," on "Science and the Phonomens termed Spiritual;", Journal

The Council have men many times during the your, and have directed their attention among ther things to a assemination of spiritual literature, not only as the Church Congress, which Mr Farmer attended at Carlisle for this surpose but also at the Congregational Union secting in London, and in other chanto a a new die truths of Spireducialist might be advantageously presented.

They have also given their attention to the terms ten of Confederation amongst Speritualist Societies throughout the world, and are in the receipt of cordial replies to their expettines.

The main work of he Chance was a they carmently "Tablet" may also be not used from E. W. Antes, J. Ave Maria lane, construction in the rest with like We obers, and a single families, smill get book effect. soon on the provision of adespiate monns. Visco pt the jects annohately in view, when the requisite funds are furthcoming, may be mentioned the opening of rooms where-Subscript any for 1883 are now due. Subscribers will ablige in the Library and various Spiritualist papers can be placed for the use of the Members, and where a social centro may be astablished for the convenience of Spiritualists. With this might be associated a depot for the sale of | appritual literature.

While large same are yearly achemical voluntarily to support societies which have no piero worthy object to attain than that sought by this Alliance, it is a matter of regret to the Council that the work before them should be hundered by back of funds. They would hope, therefore, to be enabled in their next report ar to more a large and root of members.

The Accounts for the Y or a worled, are appended Signed in select of the Conner-

W STATISTON MONEY, President Monkel Thronbard, Hon. Sec.

INCOME AND EXPENDED ACCOUNT. 1881.

152 to 0 Expenses of Converses 10 0 0 assess 49 11 8 Distribution of Literahopathings. Printing 21 1 3 Printing 33 9 9 Petty Cash and Pestage 16 1 0 0 gra 1 r FIG. 1.4 Audited and found correct.

Tipponalio Bromesia, and Mixel, F.C.A.

 $\Lambda(u,w)=\sigma(u)$  of u(u)=0 as u(u)=0 among its inhabitants the greatest number of Spiritualists, but it would be excended to suppose that they have all been convinced by professional mediums. There are very many mediums who receive no money remuneration. We learn that in Brocklyn, a suburb of New York there are no less than seven ascreties, to whose seasees there is gratuitous admission. -- Le Sperdienc

ROSE. Three container ago, by Papal actionty, fordan-Briefo was but the one and to day a statue of their one memory. Free thought begins to a second typen not, and we may soon see Italy exterior, spots the same course of a great as Spans which, after bein, the it nigest subsark of ole scurve, son, stateds in the front among nations in which Spurition. has been cutablished. In Rome, on the 30th of May, annuversary of the death of Voltaire, an ants-elemen congress is to be opened, to slow on the 2nd of June, nanivernary of the death of Garibaldi. - Le Sparitame

Dearso Gerald Mostey's stay in Sydney he lectured to counted Sunday andsences in the Theatre Royal, Charles Bright, the mensi locturer, making way for him. At Hellerat, previously, home for itself, but has fluring its first year mot percelledly be give three loctures, the two first, on literary subjects, were received with stanishous approbation , the third was upon "The Here the general body of Mombers assembled for the first time | Dovil of Darkness." When half through, the charman felt has opinions so shocked that he rose, mying that he could no longer that recasen has been since published under the title of listen to such "twaddie"-colonish for "rabback"-and, calling "Voices in the Air." The next meeting was held on the upon all good Christians to follow him, walked ut and 10th June, when a paper was read by Mr. Morell Theobald, there were serum of the audience who cities. Mr. Maney reand has since been published as "Spiriturliam at Home." sumed, and at the conclusion received a cordial vote of thanks. A Convergazione on the 15th July closed the summer season. | Spiritamian is gaining ground here, and people are more and On the 23rd October a Conversazione was hold at which more openly expressing their views to define of the colonial Quaral Drayson road a paper since published in Mrs. Grundy. Sydney Correspondent of the Kelsyto-Philosophical

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK 331

February 14, 1885.]

The admirable discourse of Mr Alarie A Watts on "Some Difficulties of Spiritualizas," delivered before the London Spartnams: A range at St. James a Hall, has been copied at full lengt, from Lacury " into the Religio-Philosophical Journal, of Chacage, USA. This courtoous reproduction, very widely axtends Mr Wetts' ambitory, and can handly fail to put many thousands of Spiritushets on their guard against soducing or ignorant

The first fact of Spiritualism is that spirits exist, the second is that hey are moder some concert me, able to talk with us. It does not follow that not will a all cases oil or on truth, at even that they know the truth. Tak ag annortality of eve. a continued existence, as a demonstrated fact, we have forty nullions added to the population of the spirit world every your-

These forty in thous are in every condition if se enquirent from the radest savage and the bignest events on any arguing infinite cly in ideas of morals, religion, and character. This is the Mr. Crookes ready to be cross-examined. If they as not reason over growing a unit work or our one. The pariet of than other as rif a nee than every sum in the scores have instinated works of spirits. We know the services of a constraint of Henry Shale, driven from England by the personation of our planet, why not only William to manner of some Lankester and Denkin, has gone to Poundelphia to must the and planets in space, there must be an an oute variety of approx accountitie commutate appointed to early out investigations into

.

The difficulties of Spuritualium, mys Mr. Wetta, are those of darkness. With light they disappear. So we cry for "Light more glat and gladly welcome all that comes to us. To have absolute proof that spirits exist is an immense enlightenment. The difference between a trembling hope that rests on some religious teaching, and the knowledge born of action the hundredth time, perhaps, that medianising does not neces demonstration, in conteching that Spiritualists along one fully sarily give country or morality. But as a coward or a rescal Approciate.

What can we do for our follow mens-for all we would no ano cantee necessary o nedomosing gladly benefit in any way-better than to give them light upon this most interesting, most important, of all things? What knowledge can be so interesting, so meful, so full of poses and joy as this assurance of a life to come ! The atterly automating though in that Spiritualists, should not only sad be eager to tell all they know to their (riends, but that they should even conocal their knowledge.

The fact is that what we must four in this world is relicule Within the mesocry of living men a gentleman whose venerity was appealioned involod the quotiency be secot him with excel or pastol. We have happily dispensed with dualling as a corrector of manners, and we back our smertima with a unger of money anatone of the wager of battle. All the same, one who has seen a ghost generally prefers not to talk about it in maxed society

For all that, the Spiritualist Alliance gives, thend invite tons to its coafery new at St. J. maxw. Phil. and .... in we of the large towns there are Spiritualist societies, with "Sunday Services." The good work goos on. The bulk and weight of testimony mercases. Parth in the popular theologies declares, Our world brightone, our atmosphere grows clearer, and life is better that can be conceived. Crime wants secrecy. worth living with every fact that proves that existence is continued with every growing glory in the world to come.

There are strong reasons why a man may conceal his know ledge of the facts of Sparitanium. For example--- is a man with a fair prospect of a Government appointment to some post of dignity and honour, with an income of £10,000 a-year, such as has just falles to the new Bishop of Lundon, likely to proclaim upon the bouncers has setted in Spiritua and lea Prince Minister, fighting with the Mahili I The Cast of Rumis and the late Emperor of the French, feeling secure in their positions, did not mind it. But the Nicodomus Clab is considerably larger than all our Spiritualist societies. For these reasons It is a carious thing to go to a Spiritualist meeting in London or " the Provinces," and book round upon the audience. Intelligence, firm ness and independence mark every head and commenance. The non moral courage and cheerfulness based upon a solid assurance.

"Outlook?" Yes Thus so the outlook that, so the knowledge of the facts which constitute Spiritualism increases, the in nature. All are equally mysterious to us-and the wheel characters of mon and women will be changed by it so com- man in the world is just as guerant as the most foolish. For plotely that a new moral world, and, to a great extent, a new physical world will be created-a now heavens and a new carth.

The Religio-Philosophical Journal vouches for the truth of a statement that a lady has been in constant familiar after turns with a deceased brother for more than forty years, "To the lay that brother is with her as naturally and remay as ever-seed and heard as are others of the in methods. "Thousands of times," one sego. I have seen from a of carked with him. " In all such cases at should be just being scatch whether his spirit was solde and audible to only one, or to all wroom protects. If not he testamony has no value except for those who do not need it . . .

Mr. Courses has been a model my at gares. His ghosts, or materialised spirits, were visible, amailie, and tangible to all mesend. He, and four of his friends, each around with a camora, in one evening, with the electric light, took howy ave. It is grades of a gliout, in several cases with the medium on the same plate. Now, what her Mr Lankoster to my to a series of scientific investigations, carried out with such thereughness by a distinguished F R S. ? The photographs exast, and there is Alle Crimeta rate at a habit proof, what is i

Reary Slade, driven from England by the personation of die reality of Spiritual phonomena, provided by a boquest of he late Mr Seybort. Slade, I know, from personal observe a a, s to a general and and am, as he was proven to be in the most thorough way by Professor Zöhner, and by many others , but he as personally so little of a hero that he allowed humself the other day. In bullies in a a conformer of fraud-place in for may possess any sort of physical quality or intellectual accoundistanced—may be a clover areat or athiote—so may he have

From observation I should say that a very good in monone who can be roughly used by quirts for their quantiests a mewas more liable to yield to all sorts of influences, good or onshear others. Senictives are contounly getting into troute It is the hard, firm, unimpressible intures that herer go astroy or get into difficulties. The condition which makes one a medium for good spirits may, without special protection, make one a vaction of laid once—hi the body or out of it

Then it may be dangerous to be a modern ! Not quite that It may be dangerous to be staceptable to influences but I have not abserved that specia out of the body are had so dangerous za men and women still in the floth. The rule is that good specits watch over and protect their measures. And in any case they are, on an average, as good as the best. How often de reread in the newspapers of clorgymen of turnous denominations. who get into "trouble," while probably hundren cores twenty are hushed up. In itself, the belief in the presence of sperit friends must be one of the strongest restraints- no of the most powerful of protections against avil temptations

When a man in Now York gata a telegram from a friend in Liverpool, dated fire hours after he recurred it, he does not go about talking of forces in nature-but he boys or some com or rotton. Our friends in the spirit world can telegraph to as, but they do not often concern thomselves with speculation in stocks or merchandise. They very seldom give us the nows that comes out in due course in the morning papers. Why our spirit friends to not goe in the area give I for the Derby was nestery. The spirit "Joey," after making a quantity of diamonds, perfect to night and touch, but which, after being well examined, visibly melted into air, said, "I could make my medium he richest man in the world but it night not be its best ming for n, and it might be the worst."

And here comes in Mr. Gladacome a remark about the shatewriting he had with Mr Eghuten, that there are forces in nature we know very little about. The truth is that we know nothing at all of the real nature or mode of action of any force ex top 1 h to the cost to extend to eather of extending FRAUDS AND EXPOSURES IN MEDIUMSHIP, afternoons of an ion only when I got a feet has a veg a veno doubt at all that some force was acting with intelligence at [ the other and of the wire, hundreds or thousands of miles away and such intelligences are generally able to give satisfactory and need of front state of a 1's

lantometrates force acting with attelligence as matter

 What good do spirito do us ?" is a question every around. the full daylight, at a large table, with a girl-a attle narrory-unid of afteen-I heard some raps, which, if power, and clover enough, she night have made. The thought of the Great Teacher, or to what extent the lives of these who was unnecessarily a whiteness, jungling sound at my fact. I are nominally His followers are based on the Divine healthwice backed down, and saw that the table leg was clear of the floor that fell from Ris lips. When the suggest of this New Dispesses mid the basis caster set whirling. Here was a force, acting to Lion-for such we seem to have at this time, at least in its dawn telligently on matter without visible contact. So simple a fact to talk to us, they whisper the same essential truths and blemings, eneries conviction of spirit life and power

Mrs. Oblighent or writing a spiritualistic story in Blackwood a story of the seen and the unseen, which is very foreurably . The Libertys II and, Ranged, the elements of the mi 4 and the little of the state of the state Either the demand is mercaning or the supply is pressing. The -I find a because many faint prophets are gone out into the spirit world sound to be arguedy denousling recognition.

(From the Reens Spirite)

annall farmhouse on the frontier, necupied by Jame and specia of darknoss the white-winged messengers of truth, Perrin, his wife, and son, has been the seems of stronge and the "sadacing spirile" from that aphore where every one events for some thue past. Household articles are thrown about or hidden, stones are cast through doors and windows, and down the channey, dishes are taken from the table and thrown to the animals, lamps are lighted at untimely murs, firing in scattered about the hearth, and indescribable nonce are heard. People come from the serrounding parts to hear and see for themselves. Cures and Capachins have expressed, but the invisibles mock them

Harrian facts, they say, occurred at Monthey, some tervention of an old man from the Canton of Yand. The strengthened and elevated by choosing the one, and refusing the Percent would soul for him, but our care forbuts it, because the words a Protestant, and therefore, my they, has no power over demons .

Our correspondents say that they belong to a nucleus of vading spirits to sentenents of order; they think that the round m, and thus learn to reject the mawholesome and the younger Perriu, aged seventeen, is a medium, and that his murbific mediumstop might help, but the family is under the sway of the oure, and he wharter upon as than he is upon the old Protestant from Vaul, for he tells thou that Spiritials are the same as Freemasons, who ought all to be put an end the object time are not in over all is count to the area of a second of the report of the resolution o P.S.-The latest report (November 27th) is that the

Delicered on the Church of the New Speritual Dispraintion Conference, Brooklyn, N. Y., January 5th, 1885. By HENRY KIDDLE.*

Fraud, and the exposure of fraud-those are not pleasant Dr. Nictions at some whale is at an ill areas and things to contemplate in connection with a subject no meredsimilar fact, a little atronger, because seen best or an another for such at ahould be-as aparit communion. But it is notes and it was, therefore, not a hallseman a of allowable to ignore facts for the indulgence of sentiment, how we are a more at the second of me by knocks on the floor, and then balanced street on two an important prelimentary to the attainment of truth to three mes changing them from time to time, and then, at the request, down the shele we may have easily me our minds and hearts, s a relegant pose on two logs and deliberately scalled two yards and to enthrone the actual—the matter-of fact—in their place. towards has, and pressed with counderable force against his The millennium has not yet arrived, humanity is still characknee. This curious manifestation was seen by fire persons, and torises by the weakness and wickedness that stand out so the chair, one with a common case bottom, was excefully consideriously in the records of the past. There may have been we have d. It seems a silly sort of fact, but counter what it progress and amelioration, but the elements of human mature are very far from being purity, anselfishment and trattifulness. The opposites of these are far more potential and conspicuous in human acciety, notwithstanding the establishment of Spiritualist is called upon to source at least once a day. Well, Christianity for more than 1,500 years, strongthened and som-. a good thing they do is to prove to un that there are qurits. tained, as it has been, during that long period, by all the power In there anything they could do that is more useful f Sitting of he can not said the matitations of social life. It which was for a sale how as a second eyes in which A to the partition of the contract of and for a time, at least, startly un from our aloap of materiality list, alos ' there are other rolom, beguling and ensuaring, that strown the merod accepts of the Divine memorapers, and lead us back to our more accustomed ophers. We do not sufficiently head the lender aparetism of the laring and beloved disciple Believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are world." Thus we soo that, in the early days of Christian Speritualism, when the volces of spirits were listened to, when spiritual gifts" abounded, as they do now, there were then, THE PHEN MENA OF STONE THROWING as now, mediants (prophets) of deceptive mandentations, as well as of the good and the true. The doors from the spirit world were open then, as they are at the present time, and the two classes of apirits cause through -in the language of John, those Our friends at Value write (November 11th) that a who were " of God," and those who were not-spirits of light " loveth and maketh a lie."

The material sphere in which we now dwell has one special characteristic-that of choice. Everywhere we, as the come and stanger and Adam and Eve, are made to partake of the " fruit to a if a . At whe go if good ato a s and the experience y which we are thought to berry liste with selfthe professional and the heaven a una semented, in the control of the · at · alm that the frequent Spirit corner sor areas its to exception to that award contame the elements of good and evol, and we are to be other We cannot evade the responsibility of making that choice. We dare not dash the cop of bloming from our lips, because the prisoned barel is by itserde, and we are too indelent, ine spathetic, too cowardly, to distinguish one from the other. It is the condition of life itself, for we should die of hanger or xixty Spritsstanmong whom are mediums who would willingly of discose, did we refuse to study the properties of the subjoin a civels at the house in the hope of branging the in- stances offered for food, and the maitery inflarences that sur-

So as it with the tree and the Islan in Spiritualism. I ignore neither. I never have, for I concern that both come to us with the same musion, to instruct-the one with the voice of edifies. tion, the other with that of admonition. But it is incumbent upon us to make a wise discrimination, with neither agnorance nor makness. The inret and the wheat must aspally be left to grow together, lest while we gather up the one, we root up the The harvest comes, when the agrarative care at take v and effectually accomplished.

Friendary 1, and

The enemies of the great spiritual more mont of this time find no theme so protific as the "france," which they alloge steperpetrated by those who are called medicans for spirit mandestation. In their public invectives against it, they smally resolve all the phenomena on which we have our knowledge of the sperit world into fraud, dolumen, or ministerpretation, and fraud is mad to explain the greater part. We must, of course, expect this from the mismios of our cause, this progress of which threatens their entitly interests, and the claims of which are offernive to their strongest prejument, but, cortainly, while we ought always to be faithful to the truth, or Spiritualists we should not be eager to fasten this edicus charge upon mediumship, and thus to supply amountson to its bigeted amailants, and sad them most effectually in their efforts to possen the public introl against it. When we attempt its defence, we often have to make the statement harled disclassfully at us . "Your best framehave to adout that the morament is permosted with fraud, and that the word mercust has become almost a stress or in the ater or impostor." There may be, they cometimes admit, a small resolution of fact after excluding the result of wilful maposture, but this, they amert, is wholly and to certain unknown psychological forces, or to the psychic powers of the embodies. and to the street of the control of or one the glost," literally, and its feet exult over its lifetees remans, from which all the vivilying warrath of inmertality has passed away, to give place to the death-like coldness of no extreme acrealate paychion.

You all know the frautic efforts that were made to prove the Fox modutus to be trickstere-bow committee after committee was appointed at the public meetings held to witness the phonomena , how dusppointing the success. the their of the transfer of the with fraud, their sun committees being obliged to exculpate the accused, after a excelul attractation; and how those pions and respective statement of the contract of the first statement of the contract of For a 12" V skiller by 102 Mr. and 1 2.0 miles at cent go that a transmit a salt man of the area who bravely confronted as on the terms. furious with scientific and religious hightry, and muddened by their rightoons and against frond. This was the first optical passes by in Now Dispersation, which their came nearer being pling strategies a large of by one but a visited. Reports of the different note into

Since that early period, the spirit mainfestations have on with a vast increase in the number and variety of their pleases, and with overwhelm in, and made water was a few to but there has been no internusion in the outers of a against the public mediums. Indeed, there is scarcely onhowever genuino or powerful, who has not then been atguna-

In former years this outcry of fraud name only from the opponents of Sparitualism , but, in recent years it is and quite as rigorously by many professing Spuritualists, especially in relation to manufactations which they are inclined to are a liors and discredit. While, without doubt, this is done with good and pure motives, and the sincere denire to keep tix spiritual toursment free from all that tends to dishenser it in experience and study of the phenomens, that many serious must wend those who have been found quitty of from me taken have been made in carrying out this perior, as, I think, nection with their med amaken? will be obvious from the facts I intend to present.

at Rocheston, were examined carefully by committees appointed committed in the exercise of their peculiar recution. The for the purpose, and thus, in part (but only in part), escaped simulation of mediumship by artful protouners, that is, the perto Delica de Baretto national son

mediana (Mrs. Kate Fox Jonckon)

"We have here a career of twenty-six years of medinmship of the most varied and remarkable character; mediumship which has been accutinized and tested from the first hour of its manifosts tion, down to this day, and with one invariable result that no gift, should be followed by a heavier rather than a lighter imposture or attempt at imposture has ever been discovered, and paunity, but experience has certainly taught as the truth of what no cause ever been suggested that will account for the phenomena I read recently in the English Spiritualist paper, "LIGHT, except that advanced by Spiritualists."

The phase of manifestation which has especially encountered the charge of fraud is that which is known as "full-form materialisation , " in connection with which the " exposures " of nodices, apparently guilty of imposture in personating spirit forms, have not only brought public odness upon mechaniship and Spiritualism, but have been made the means of discrediting many of the most current adherents of the cause, who are, even now. I am sorry to say, charged with "condoning fraud," bumuse they present facts, as well as theories supported by facts, that go far toward the partial or outire exculpation of the seemed mediums, and the vindication of mediumsh p at general.

It certainly cannot be right or expedient to make accoping descriptions against the intellectual and moral integrity of a large class of intelligent and carnets Spiricualists. Suraly this no requisite to strengthen the defence of truth against false a parity against immorably, or gonuino mediumidap amagest that which is appropriate and fraudulent.

There is a very serious question concerned in this matter-a nestion the proper solution of which is rapidly being reaches by the intelligent, fair-minded students of spiritual phenomena and later, and if any one thinks he can affect the decision by attacking the motives or aspersing the character of those who have taken cucher side of it, he will find humself gready timetaken. It would be no triumph, but a great masfortune, to divide the present spritted army into two hostile entrys. Differ we must be our interprotetions of many of the phonomens, but the same of the consistent with fraternal fooling and protond respect and good will, unless it incite to personal tault or detraction, to which no true desciple of spirit-contmunion will aver descend. If I commend a med um whom another has condemned as unreliable. It does not prove that I tave " condened a fraud." The informer is, indeed, quite the reverse, shootny experience must have been totally different, ed that experience should be respecte

In what I intend to my on this subject I shad present only well attented facts, and the conclusions of investigators of nature experience and appealed intelligence; and these abouted he actual rely outsidered, without promake no plot for "charity was a see as con-demand. Let the gusty suffer, but by a constraint before a fair trian, last in the end a reflect lastue. Agree of the is a judge and executioner. I do not know but that, with some was it may be "ensier to be charachle than to be just", or as know that it is always tootly under to be uncharitable than to be just. It is not, however, charity, but truth as well as justice, that is concerned in a careful discussion of the was a safe which and ameliquatould be tested, and the cause with a second second on a second The personal element is, an fact, a survey to be at a survey of apartual second deposits, in no small degree, upon a know solge of those principles. I trust, therefore, I shall not be use understood, I offer no spology or excuse for those who have professed the mered gifts of Heaven by fraud, or counterfuited dences of minimitality, but those auffor the just cousepercent disir guilt but lot not the innocent suffer in consepuence of our melmots and ignorance

The great question in: On what prosciples and by what methods " we by determine the guilt or innocence of medianus charged with the perpetration of friend schile in the exercise of their mediumatic gifts? This is the primary question , and next to it, but of the greatest importance to us as responsible representatives of this the minds of the public, I have been led to believe, from careful muritaal movement, as I that is the proper course to pursue to

Is will be observed that, in both these questions, I refer only The For mediums, fortunately, after they had been scoffed to those who are really mediums. whose mediumate grits have at by the propediced, superficial witnesses in the public meetings been closely proved to exist, and, also, that I refer only to note petention of what have been uptly called "Truesdoll's tricks," In 1874, long after the "too and knee joint theory" had presents a different, and scarcely organic, subject for considerabeen expleded, we find the English secontact, Alfred R. Wailace, tion, at indeed, does also the moral character or conduct of bearing the following testimony in favour of one of those mediums, apart from the exercise of their special vocation, or as ordinary members of the community. The common laws and mages of society provide for such cases, arrespective of may spritualistic policy. I adopt that offenors committed in the name of mediumship, or by those endowed with that Divine " the mora, character of a medium has about as much to do character of a singer or actor has todowith the quality of his art." While Inboula object to the use of the word excellence in that connection there is no don in, the fact that the natural ondownwater of medicuship may and often do, co-exist with great defects of character. Since we are now demonstrating a the world truths that can be useds known only through mod moship, it is a procious galt, and should sures be rathlessly conformed and cart away, but adiciously excouraged and cor played. I had most strongly that no medium can be reasy . . . at who is not moral and apprituate, and yet many for me as who have been most successful in proving to the world a oil truths of spirit existence and return, could a mil . sittle of those qualities. We must separate the man from as

In my distribution of this subject I have been caroful to make his to a conthe diaregard of which much a parties and mealenhalto lajory one cause have resulted. In dual, the aptritual movem the state of the state of sents to many an appearance which, in Shakespeare's poetical parlance, may be 1 kerted to

"A tangled clisto, nothing impaired, but all disordered."

One of the most significant (ante to which I deare to call t up a firm of the absence of the form queroes, is, the I was never a work and that have had no be at a sign of paid option is a sign of have happened in connectors with medians of established gonumentees, muchly after a presencted series of successful and [ startling manifestations that had greatly tenpressed the public

In regard to those novembra-called a same of to measure, of many other much cutes, let me say that I accept. none of the statements that have appeared in the newspapers. The barriet as a good a same a d · it is if it affort at exposure made by the two learned scientists, the utter fainity of the exultant claims set up, and the impossibility of a measure's obtaining justice in what is nears on the testimony of projudiced, agreement charryers. proceeding a const aparit is solved and the "exposer in a far day a new Spirit-grabbing " is the method of testing the genuineness of referred, it acoust to be an experimentally crites.

The effect of experience has been to show to thinking, disinstalments attained of spiritual phenomena, that the contourny mothods of frequency over really of no value... that "spirit grabbing " proven nothing, either as to the genuineness or the honesty of the mention. This has now become the position of many of the usest intelligent and experienced investigators The letter written by Alfred R. Wallace in October, 1882, in reference to the "expensive" of Most Wood, note forth in a g quest locid manner, the philosophy of this subject. Let one e ? a fare about purigraphs

"It is my deliberate conviction-accepting the reality of these hadunutary we assumed businessly, and as narrated by a expect of compotent observers and deducing from them the obvious and close a visite, and was a made council non-of the form and most in that the fact of a person a solving the form and and ng the medium is not, and cannot be, a proof of trand, but - in An probability, the natural and investigable effect of training to keep apart trea beings who are really one, and who cannot be railely interfered with reithout clauger to the housen budy school abnormal organica tion enjoying the material for the temporary underindication of the second of the analysis of the second on problems in the he facts directly support and, therefore, he are a passing mindo is of the measurety of experimenters, if they were more questions of tecrestrial mechanica.

To this Mr. Wallace suggestively publed :-- nowever perfectly their powers may have been tested, however presenting not only his face, but the height, size, and oven weight with the reality or excellence of his mediamakip as the moral goal heir character has seen subjected to accusations of transion ma W as I brings egolip sentit of history water a regime The new data wire never a for a has been so see at has been found offer at non- non-taken act is nerved to merge who the presentant, to be able to make a majors to be new here advanced. I sell which were be investificate from have er over somethe a core size so care would result a their speedy AMARCHMENTOR.

n regard to this view of the case, Mr. Stainton Moses-"M.A. (Oxon)"-said: "It is a hopeful ago that experienced Spiritualists are beginning to see what Mr. Wallace to well puts, that 'catching a spirit' proves nothing of logical necessity. It . I may almost certain, that any such secure would place the medium in the heads of the seizer of the form, if that form were as authorantial and solid as they usually are." And very recently in one of the series of articles in "Light,"to which I have already referred, this canttons and intelligent writer

It will not be until our knowledge in very considerably advanced that we shall be able to see how dangerous, how ignorant, how foolish were the methods all but universally adopted up to that date thesp. We shall know then, as we do not new, how success the appearances that we we can auctain, how saturds " solution of a perplexity attempted by those who 'seized a is only to show that it was in fact the medium

Thus, according to those and many other of the best experts in apartualistic investigation, "apart-grabbing" is not a proper or columbia matheal of tenting the guilt or introcence of suspented as well mediums , (1) because, even when a separate form in an califord, a furnible seizure of that form must place the in at the lands of the sensor, and (2) because, when a a compagnity for any and a superior of the superior is been brought from the cabinet, and made to pare what the mirit, in a more or less changed or transfigured condition . . der intelligence back of the studion who is responsible for the if fraud is committed, the medican may be wholly guiltless. The may come witcom to examiny of decept a manifestations, to its the componentiality for which is a ways a problem of considerable perplaxity. Obviously, the after over of the circle are not to be wholly disregarded in accounting in justice." The lemant it tenches about the presence of deceptive spirits. We are bound to con squared that we stand we who prefers to be Spiritualists ander (1) the general character of the altters. (2) their condition where a decrease of the hundrest measures out we prove state- of saind while holding the circle, and (3) their manner of holdit. There can be no doubt that a large circle of postero-The case should be carefully considered in all its parts, and both | minded attern constitutes a battery, the power of which scarcely my redime or his guides could result, and in that case the circle no are we purhaps, reply Thin is generally true, but would be wholly responsible for the manner in which the we state a common anight in Augmente defects, as when the medium might be used, and over articles of dross, drawing, do., must be brought in to consumate a faces, and the disgrace or of the madium , for the powers of the lower spirits acting number quied for most readily suggested to the inexperienced mean harmy physical mediumship can searcely be limited. chapter. Like blackening the trumpet, he which I have though I believe they are always held in check, while they are at the same time permitted to have a temperary every, no that mortals may loarn the lessons they need,

Of course, we cannot expert that the outside world will understand or accept this doctrine of spirit intervention, which is the outcome of much experience and study of the manifestations and while promise now circles are held, we must anticipale that these who have little or no expenses will derisarely reject this explanation. As Mr. Sargent wall mys, " The frauds charged upon approved mediums rates questions the aureor to which will be naturally ecented by those not intuitiely acquanted with the history of the planomens." We must be prepared for the fate of all advocates of new and unpepular manely, to be accorded at smil abused. This can be avoided my ey a tergreenation which no person worthy to be called a Spiritualist would think of for a moment. We must follow Truth wherever it may lead us.

Those who have suggested the fact of the transfiguration of the medium as explanatory of much that has been perplexing in these experiences, have been subjected to a great deal of devision and asperaton, as desiring to pulliate the guilt of the medianes ; but this phenomenous is by no means unfamiliar to experienced investigators. Mr Sargent, it has been ocen, recognizes it. The elongation of the medium Home-a kind of transformation -was certafied to by the Committee of the London Dialoctical who deal with the greatest mysteries of an unknown manages as Society many years ago; and Allen Kardee, in the "Book of Medians," speaks of a young girl who took on at certain times, all the appearances, meleding vosco and speech, of 'So far as I remember, every medium for mutorialisation, deceased persons, among them that of her deceased brother, of his body. Mr. Sargent refers to this circumstance in the been given to me in this manner, by menns of which a perfect * Seren de Bana

February 14, 1885.,

The facts which I have already efted show how difficult and puzzling a problem is presented by the acceptance aspects of the phenomenon known as material aution. Indeed, all mediumship, litelading over that of inspiration, presents questions of somilar complexity, but in connection with that more accuracyform of spirit manifestation, them difficulties are appropriate in tensified because they are more compressors to ordinary observation. I magled to see that transc-mediumship is now undergona very careful analysis, as to sta processes and results, particularly with the view to discriminate between what comes from the . and what is the result of the medium's own these things in their suggestiveness, cutching but a glimpso, as and due and of some to a degree of the some the a life of K and No her K has he is sented and that to be resh, dogmass and condomnatory in our conclumora in regard to these matters of which our knowledge is ausuperficial, is the part of extreme folly and presumption in according these phenomena, the very first thing that strikes us with startling force is the controlling intelligence which we see lies back of every manufestation. That intelligence in the emence of (tall ; to it all class as accordary. All monances phenomena, including these marvellous forms that pass before our syon, are comparatively unimportant, because they can never be anything but an imperfect representation of the approxiterm meteroduction is, in this regard, a minimum. Or spican never be materialised, though it may, for the tas beinclothe shelf in these extenported material forms. Not on he was not a front of ones care in one one one of a care care was a second to present, In this way. But it that down a second to the intelligence which is also very gan is a sea a . Whom, therefore, we one these fity war and the second was the second the second the second and not of earth-airveng to make themselves visible to us. by a process which they, in part at least, understand, but of which we absolutely know nothing, why should we intervens to dictate to them the methods and conditions of the war lives not reason, or common-series, require and we alread nears of to those to select their own methods methods payton non-horse was a mag to results, a supply the lessons which they convey ! In authorism with the quote words, very recently penned, of Mr Stains More Speaking of what have been strongly insused upon as "tost conditions," he says .--

" Some, in times past, have railed upon a more or less careful tying of the medium, so as to make the normal use of his body inpossible. They considere has her had accounted for he up when they had bound him must and not I am and to him that this faller is exchanged. The assumption on which is as tounder handers within the power on new wire and have a To tie u a med on and jett in this a a consect by first of all, a sheer wants of effort ; and, next, introduces late the experiment a

That is to say, it consustes from a spirit of suspicion, if not something worse, and thus draws to the virely a growd of muchievous spirits, who use the entranced medium as the instrument of their frolic or their malion. Mr Stainton Moon then expresses his approved of the principle I have referred to as the proper one to guide in these investigations. He says --

I used to favour many own researches, so the most medul and simple plan of dealing with these openit subjects, to lot the invisible operator present what he wishes to show under conditions of his own relection. Let bin tell me what he wishes me to do to aid him. Then when he has done, let use endeavour to have the phenomena reproduced under other conditions, if possible, in such a manner as will give the best evidence of their gendinenes, and enable me to give them the most careful and intelligent study."

Experience has shown that by the application of thus principle the integrity of the medium never enters in an element into the question , and thus the most convincing manufactations are obtained and the best evidences of genumeness presented. The demon of suspicion is exercised by the overwhelming power of the spirit of truth reigning in the circle, and the minds of all present receive an unalterable conviction that they have indeed looked on the forms and faces and listened to the rosces of visitable from the spirit-apheres, not because of their crodulity, as sometimes charged, but because the proofs presented have been irresistible to the keenest intellect and the most critical observation. I the medium's own statement of the case. If this is right, as it have described, on other occasions, the varied tests that have a numedly is, let the same principles be applied in all cases, but conviction of the truth of materialisation has been definitely established in my mind. Many others of longer experience will confirm what I say in this regard; though some may be so constituted as to be ratified only with belts and bars. I do not reflect upon the sincerity or integrity of these persons. Let all the their best adgment

While the phenomenal place of Spiritaguen continues to be as prosperent for it is at the present time, and promisenous sireles are beld under conditions so crude, so imperfect, and indeed so often atterly bad, we must expect that the results, however emvacing, of spirit-power and spirit-return to those who witness thom, will, not always be congenial or satisfactory to the mind mand or the minds of other persons present. When I look at that has advanced beyond that low grade of spriftuality. We must, however, bour in mand that Sperituation comes to adchases and every grade of nankind, and that, in most cases, it must reach the senses ere it can touch the heart. Honce, even the lower phases of mediumship are greatly in demand, and if we would help on the conversion of mankind to a knowledge of spirit-return, we must fester not discourage it. We must recogmus, and try to teach the outside world the poculiar dangers to which public medicans are expected and three around them, as a protecting regit, our own personal suffaction, finited of covering them with obloquy and treating those as erlamous and outlews I have endeavoured to show how difficult it is, in the case of a perfectly genuine and honost medium, to prevent the occurrence of droughtaneen that may give rise to what is called an possive," and all the seeming evidence of guilty co-Then how careful should all of us be not to not to de an at an of guilt too mutily, or before a excelul off ag of all the evicence and the testamony of every person present, yes, as careful as if the charge were of the inghest crims known to the age?

And now, to some to my second question , suppose the against to be found guilty- I do not mean, please to remomber. of attacking medianiship, but of presenting, or using to present, deceptive mainfestations, for a generic need-un may be guilty in either of these ways, either as a kind of particepa so we with his guides or familiars, who with to make a , a mafestation beyond their authrea ability, or to supple mean is work of the spirits by his will be with a constitution. and personation. Suppose, for expusion to or est in a suit fraud has been established by finding on the mosts as person paraphornalia evidently propared for the purpose a sat course are we matified in taking at much cases? I abarrer where not only juntified, but onlighted to inflot upon to denot after a careful consideration of avery integration, manufacture the penalty due to the offence. We are not, however, just deel in going beyond the truth; we are not justified in a wholesale condemnation of his or her mediannhip, and in discrediting its results, post, present, and future, as well as those persons wh has a witnessed them and cartified to their genomeneas. We may condomy the individual, if it becomes our special duty to connegen, but not the med unabig

In not thin the course pursued in the case of after gifted people-nators, artists, municipius, poets, and sometimes even elergymen? Do we not discriminate between the german of Byron, Burns, and Poo, for example, and their character as in dividuals? The world recognises this distriction and accepts the fruits of genius, basks in the radiance of its splendour and glory, while it is often saddened and disgusted with the cuthliness and sensuality that are frequently its personal concemitants. We cannot control this, if we would, for true mediumality, like bru liant gomes-which is, indeed, only another kind of medicanslap-will always command attention, let us the negatest its possessor as we will. The woman of Ender exercised her gifts oven while Soul was rigidly enforcing the bloody Judaje laws by which it was sought to crush out all resort to those having and as spice. When the great povels graphic medium, whose aplended gifts have emblaceted the Speritanium of this time, fel-(as fall he dul), there was no attempt to hunt him down and make him an eternal outcast. His fault was ' combined " even by the Spiritualistic Drace of this time, under the plea that each scance arest stand on its own merits," he being a medium beyond all detail or equivocation. So when the great platform test-medium foll into discredit, the spoils of his socalled "exposure" having been captured, like those which, it man more were at from maner to is, is draine, and ical by an attempt at "personation," or the simulation of spirit-presence on was commented," and due consideration was given to let is led bring to his soil into general retrieve and conden nation for the occasional fundants of a far in security by your sin, if the entervial isotropics is no new no good as exacted, and hely as the range of on a masses of originating coss manked and selp them on their way through a cosand darkness of this world. Humanity, however additionals e or antively progressed, as still held in the thereason of partidy vanaious and visco; it still lingers on a low spiritual dan and was configurated, pions or less, whatever comes Trum was it with the beautiful appritual a unit was fith N white extreme leaves of excluded. The back a S a case what expenses con eller one in the parties of the parties and the agree of appropriate to a sufficient of the section who has per a per a facilities a special of the e a hard to seed nower, then they erected a despected "In write to the control of the state of the ant when the representatives of Spiritualism will be able to entalends may such tribunal, or when may man connected with to a version to all the manufacture of the contraction of got of the an am a see et. In his judgment, he may deem appelling processing paging the Theorem is one do be as a par larger is see all and if space which I adv. the second of the second refined the photostona, I have always viewed them as ready for the regress at the reason of our or tire emittee of the authord into to these higher and grander truths which can find a a separate a second attached others. As seas according no acquiring external expression, that he which the true tame he had not not see from a management against a Speritualism country. But I be not forgot that truck would never have dawned upon my soul. They it was for one one are a sad a census on a large state to be to dethat led my to the door of the spiritual temple, the pathway to present a sax see my with more a result with which I should nover athorwise have Jucovered. No to a I may now them to a ser of a many new war and a me enticerous to defend thoughto protect the best whenty he whom about they can be presented, and to shield them it so on the discoverent is assued as a so in a to get mentes the sty and condemnation. And there is another continued when a develop only by a rational may of modernes in the time commons of the circle and not as spokesman. Exclaim to the unlated not by grow materialistic conditions, but by an application were litteringenes that as a read case of square is never a man of those subtle principles which spiritual exploration can alone to select of the best of the act of these se

I do not believe that any of us have any favour to bestow on fraul or its perpatre as We all asks dutest it, and would so a many bantaly hif no su was some Let us then all work if on one ago to placed, and if not, what order you should take. t section, cultivating temperation each other, and not permitting A too he are no are no arterespond to be, which of the intellectual differences to disturb our ignifical harmony

AT Victime Baron Hebet ouch, who introduced H Baston not up has the he as a book in which he discusses and where or it is used as a stress or La Specificana.

Now the second and the material to the Andrew see you will have guined asset. p. Someon, perforbancy processed in send most have mental or a management of the street of the street of the street and and and and and the rape become clear that they may and home one is least of which is personal in necessary for necessary the table, or in a part of the room where they are thirden isth a deeply interesting sork, one, like her novels, dooply steeped in American. Mrs. Stown sooms to lines were to a little to and the er at her Spiritualism, but sho see as the fer a sterne pro-galore against the estimate increase noticing any the promotogener per formances. He maint was it exercises an experience of the attempt may be deforred till you can accord to some other in its pations are experienced by any violent methods, or by means of form manifestations, ask that the attempt may be deforred till you can accord the source to her in its pations are experienced as not according to the will the intensity or our maint. On p. 421 \ \darksquare 11 \ \text{perions for the inting.} The precess of developing a few will the intensity or our maintee. On p. 421 \ \darksquare 11 \ \text{perions for the inting.} The precess of developing a few will the intensity or our mainteent of the intensity of our mainteent of the intensity of the precess of developing a few will the intensity of our mainteent of the intensity of the grapher and second husband records these words. She told must that in all she considered her best writing there was a nother wife the chifted fook possession of her was the later with a specific and the considered her was the considered her was the later was partially as a second to the possession of her was the considered has specific as a second to the constraint of the accumum as we are well as the considered has specific as a second to the constraint of the accumum and the constraint of the considered has specific as a second to the constraint of the considered has been also become as the considered has been as a second to the constraint of the considered has been as a second to the constraint of the considered has been as a second to the co bagrapher and second husband records these words. She told should be ship in its nighest souse, voz. That topication through which all the jughest ofear in eligious poetry, art, and senence have been gave to the Kill the Divine Mont surects of the becay, excovering study through the spiritual centre of the owner son G W M D.

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

The Conduct of Circles-By M.A. (Oxen.)

If you wish to see whether Spiritualism is really only Jagglery and imposture, by it by personal experiment.

If you can get an introduction to some experienced Spiritualist, an whose good faith you can sely, ask bloo for advice; and, if he is to the private circles, seek permission to aftend one to see how to कारत कर के मार्थ अपने विकास

There is, however, difficulty in obtaining accous to private circles, and, in an onse you want rely chiefly on experiences in your can one little of the countries in those with the surgelie, own tently access where, it was own ones a strangers being

Form a surele of from a to e an parson a half, or at train two the distributed who great and a the frinkle sets,

Sit, published and new view of remote vieweare against new beor sure a sure evolution of the charge of the charge in the convenient of the conven a common and an arrangement The lands of each and the provide the provide it the complete a not the a to greension too axedy on the expected maniand a the full beautiful about our erea on to test w and a methodoxical his fruitties of his contract of contract the principal has no determine offices, reasons a man, agreement will true refuse a second at a second in a specied of determined will may to separate supede manifestations. If conversation the effect of a state of the st

The proof of the bastonase it to their

I to the make his our prosume or an grade on its surface has some a voncer him a dig two bollons. We want may you we or have the fig the most metra with contrading of some have the new by put premium with the not because

When you think that the time my rome, ort some one lake the several letters which from the work has be board to wishes to specify it is convenient to use a single tilt for No. three for Yes. to express doubt or encertainty

When a state of a communication has been established, ask cont duy a the spelmen, and such n lexans ques sons. If confustor sente. as a same a first florid that exists in the fig. the no compute a search case bade. Petersee was none at the if it how see the country part of the moth, ence to seak with you. If you only see a more an or aim at a presente to speak with an intelligence separate from that of an person pre-

The signals may take the form of raps. If no, use the surse t some Error —I have out reach to " Life of George Blick," The companies of restrictions of free communication. Let dendy interesting to k, and Blick her normal absorbed to the communication of the the control of the second of t to write he now committee the mainfestations elevating of a deals where on such

Should an attempt he made to entrance the mechanic, or lo

surrices but not work is were anogenet. Finite-t the free nee to not enter into a very soreinn investigation this visual of idle currents or firsts y | Call side a reverse present for what come goes and true | Via will be repaired for you gain only a well grounded consecution that there is a | e ofter court for which a pure and good life before doubt is the best and wheat preparation.

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

" WHATCHES COME MARK IN SPECT IS MORE - PAGE

No. 216 .- Vot. \

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1885.

PRICE TWOTENCE

CONTENTS

Improsopia Replies through a Lady
y the divingtion of the replies to the replies Henry Warm Precher on Witchernft, understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the said that her hand wrote them automatically, without her opinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents. Free and courteous discussion is sucreed, but scritters are replies, and that those who know her best stated that she had nlone responsible for the articles to which their names are and, so far as they know, had not given science any con-

PSYCHIC OF VERY LIMITED EDUCATION

By T P. BARRAS, F.G.S.

In the year 1875 I was invited to attend a series of castle on Type sitting-room, the table used was made of ordinary deal, and with the stood on four legs, the top being about 4ft by 2ft.

myself. The questions were asked by being written in the thom I may written by or through the hand of the lady MS, books at the moment of ask up, and the hand of the medium of very aimited education. medium immediately replied to them in writing. I have answers in my possession at the present time, and they may twrote the replies be examined by any cornest incomer resment replied to critical seventific and other questions for accordanced that unscellations questions were verbally asked thirty-serve eccurage, three hours such avening, in such a and were replied to by the hand of the medium in writing , manner as probably no other man or memon in England that elaborate drawings were produced in total darkness;

and in the best possible form, because it is very improbable | up to that period to my positively that all these phenomena that any homan being in this world, or any human intell were perfectly genuine, but at the fourth seames tho begins who has departed into the next world, could, mode of proceeding was loft practically under my own instantaneously, and without special opportunities of control and I naked, in writing, all the questions in research, narver in the best manner, and with absolute burta as MS, books and in the same MS, books I have the pecuracy, long cories of questions on various scientific and whole of the repres written by the hand of the medium. other subjects, but thus I venture to affirm, that not one of Nearly all the questions were saked by myself, and I know the adverse critics of Spiritualism, including Mr. Labouchere they were not, provious to asking, known to any one clas in and Mr R. A. Proctor, could, under similar circumstances, the room. Occasionally, questions were asked by those prereply to the questions with equal conciseness and accuracy, sent which I reduced to writing in the MS, book that mustly about six in number, that they are tolerably well- replies must have been spontaneous, and cannot possibly known living persons, and that any one of them would have been proviously prepared by the medium. Assuming confirm my statements.

the scences were conducted, the autobiography of the easily explained, but on any other hypothesis they are medium, typical questions and answers, &c., &c., are to be inaupheable, as neither I nor any other persons at the found to the Psychological Review, Vol. L, p. 215, October, seamer could have answered many of the questions, and the a very moderately-educated woman, that she sat in the ments I am now making are true, or I am guilty of presence of critical observers, that the questions were written and read aloud at the moment they were being asked, that the replies were given in writing in the same MS, book in a rapid and imprompts manner, without opportunity for reference, revision, or correction, that the questions were upon many scientific and other subjects with which ladies generally are unfamiliar, that the lady medium [The Editor of "Leant" desires it to be distinctly affirmed her online managementance with the subjects, and heing conscious of the correctness or mearrectness of the no taste for scientific studies, no access to scientific books, sideration.

The departed person who, for the most part, professed IMPROMPTU REPLIES THROUGH A LADY to control the hand of the medium, and professed to be the author of the replies to the questions, was according to his I representation on American who had pursued his studies in Germany, and who departed this life about thirty years ago.

Occasionally very abic replies were alleged to be given by a departed person giving the more of Jo. Harr son

Other and very pocular controls took sossession of the scances that were being held in the humble residence of a hand of the medium, and wrote characteristic replica which young married lady, a non-professional medium, in New varied very much in their composition, and maintained three poculiar ideoxyneracios of composition and caligraphy The scances were has in a small and plantly farmated whenever they used the medium's hand for the purpose of

All these secul arties of writing and composition may On the table lay MS. books and pencils provided by be seen in the MS, books now in my possession, and all of

Whatever theory may be adopted as most satisfactory, the whole of the MS, books containing questions and arequestionably the hand of the measure unpremeditatedly

At the first three senness I devoted myself to observing The problem at mane is this, a comparateredy anothered the manner in which the proceedings were conducted, and and that closed and sexued letters were also read in dark I am far from affirming that every answer is occreet, nega. I was not sufficiently faint me with the proceedings I may state that the witnesses at the scences were also contains the replicit. I can vouch for the fact that the that the hand of the medium was guided by a sighly trained I may also remark that full details of the mode in which scientist, or by highly-trained scientists, the answers are theory of thought-reading, therefore, is quite untenable.

It is necessary to bear in mind that the medium was . The question resolves itself into this, either the state-actiberate ying, and those who know me best will be best able to judge of the probability of the latter happinesis.

February 21, 1885.]

87

At the fourth seance, held August 9th, 8" , there were present, including the medium, two ladies and five gentlemen. Among other questions I asked the following, 1 and received the nunexed replies -

Operton. What are harmonics?

86

Answer. By harmonies are meant those sounds caused by the nodes or ventral segments of stringed instruments which occur in success on.

Q. Are the harmouses in an organ pipe the same as those on atringe?

A. Certainly not, in organ pipes they occur in the middle of the pipe in closed ones; in stringed matrimients ust wherever the nodes are placed.

Q. Do different notes give different numbers of harmonical

A. Cartainly, but it depends upon the temperature of the atmosphere what number of harmonics are some of

Q. Do not make at the homeledge qualary giring as you self or are you obtaining it from others? if so, them when

A. It was a subject I used to be interested in I had some knowledge of manic, instrumental music, but any on the face of it, inaguational I formation I may have given you is my own, and you are welcome to it

Q. How in the sense of sound conveyed to the mond?

sound, like light and heat, is motion, and is caused by an agency whose operations, at any rate, have been in particles of air being set in motion, as you call the simple tour of a sation, these particles are moved in backward and forward motions, eausing a sound wave to be propagated, which, falling upon the car in close contact with the typipanum, causes the auditory merve to vibrate and thus so doubt, through the same agency that area are been at convey a sense of sound to the sense and of an account in a male after and I

A tuesquae he waves anothing each other stop the progress of each other. Take two tuning forks in either the strik them both with equal force and touch the ends on the tail. the waves meeting in this manner you will see that the erest of each wave will intercept each other. The experiments are worth trying.

Q. If two metrors met in space which a supposed to be almost a paramen, seould upize be the result?

A. I should my that un sound whatever would be produced, since a sound cannot be produced in a vacuum

At this seance I saked seventeen questions, to which relevant replies were given; sovem of those questions and answers I have quoted literally

The fifth scance was devoted to questions on more are the sixth senace to questions relative to the controller a experionees on entering his new life. The replies to those questions shall appear in my next communication. The answers respecting the future life are very interesting.

(To be continued.)

"MATTER THROUGH MATTER"

unproductive of any additional evidence of an unanawerable those who admit the possibility of physical effects from an Je en et its exhibition.

off his hand except at the cost of destroying his hand, and afficulty. Demonstrative proof is, indeed, rarely possible practical mechanics admit that to weld the ring on his it is a question, in most cases, of personal character-of wrist would be beyond their power-

Husk will hope to attend the Spiritualist Alliance the first hypothesis as the true one, supports his position, as Conversazione at St. James's Hall, at 7 p.m., for inspection. a rule, by evidence of the most flinsy and insufficient 15th February, 1985.

"SPIRITUALISM AT HOME" 71

BY FRANK PODNORE, M. A.

In my last letter I discussed the most important and interesting of a long series of written messages which have made their appearance in Mr Theobold's house, and I showed that there was nothing abnormal or extraordinary in the writings themselves, as they were in every case copied from a well-known source. I pointed out, moreover, that in ascribing to Saadi poems which he never wrote, and to Wannik a life which he never lived, and in distorting the chythin and the sense and the grammar of the poetry, the vis had made some very human and by no means extra ordinary bunders.

There are, of course, a large number of other quotations written in the same way, of the origin of which I am ignomust, but one is, perhaps, justified in the belief that a more prolonged search and a wider acquaintance with current aternture, would reveal their source.

It may still be the case that the writings are produced a some abnormal manner, though the evidence for this is,

But the written messages are not the only strange meidents which have occurred in Mr. Theolaid & house. Firm have been lit, breakfast tables had, A. This is a disputed subject. Of course you know that trapets allod, and other demestic offices performed by risible to Mr Throbald. All those who have read Mr Theologid's articles will probably share his conviction that all these phenomena must be traced to the same source Through whatever agency the poetry was written, it was, and explored who a torse converget apon the several some Q. Thy do two similar sounds produce silence and two one of the phenomena three was what in the come measure upon all. Now, when we come to ask how all these thangs were done, there are three hypotheses which present themselves as outcoedently possible

I. That they are due to the action of some extraphysical agency, which we may call spirits, or psychic force, or anything elso. This is, I take it, Mr. Theobald's view

If That they are the work of human bands, working delaberately and with intent to deceive. That, I apprehend, would be the view of the unregenerate world

III. But to those convenant with such inquiries a third hypothesis will present itself, as at least concurable, viz. . that these offects, while they involved the action of only the ordinary physical forces, did not necessarily imply conscious fraud on the part of any person concerned as their production. In other words, we may suppose that the fires were lit, the poetry written, and the kettles filled, by some person in a state akin to compoundation a state in which only automatic and unconscious actions are performed. There is good reason to believe that many of the so-called "physical phenomena" of the séance have their origin in a state of this kind; and overy person who has investigated the subject at all must be very familiar with the manufestations of automatic writing and speaking.

Now, to establish the first hypothesis we shall need, of My fifth scauce with Husk, held on the 12th mat., was poorse, the strictest and most impregnable swidence. Even extra-physical cause, must admit also that they are of He still wears my ring No. 2, and puzzles all sceptus by rare occurrence. To determine, however, whether in any given case the second or third of the hypotheses above Merical men admit that it could not be forced intact . dicated is the more probable must be a matter of some presumed integrity, that is, of the person concerned. Now, Should the ring still be on his wrist on the 26th, Mr it is to be observed that Mr. Theobald, whilst maintaining GEORGE WYLD, M.D. character. He does not attempt, that is, to set forth at the time of that visit.

ordinary luman agency highly improbable.

severe exercise of patience.

which appeared to exclude normal agency. We will describe near the gaselier. The additional writing, however, adequately in each case the evidence which, to his mand- these in order. (1) Written messages of some length, and for we must, of course, assense that he has latisfif some in various languages, have been found on several occasions grounds for his belief, though he does not state them in locked drawers and cupbourds, notably, on two occasions sufficient to establish the abnormal nature of the incident at loss (pp. 245, 248) in Mr Theobaid's private secretaire described. If he had been consistent in this course, it of which he always curries the key with him. Mr. Theowould not have been worth my while to write this letter buld showed Mr. Hughes and myself the piece of furniture A man who, without any evidence on which to base his in question, having a substantial wooden flap of considerable conviction, will believe in marvels such as these, on the solo | thickness, and, apparently, a lock of good construction. Mr ground that they are agreeable to his hopes or his pre- Theobald also indicated the precise spot on which he had prosessions, is not, of course, to be argued with. Such a found one of the written messages referrou to. When he belief may be held to be above reason, or below it. It is, had again closed and locked the secretaire, Mr. Hughes, in at all events, outside the province of reason. But Mr has presence and mine, pushed half-a sheet of note-paper Theolaid has not been consistent. He has, on occasion, through the crovice at the top of the flap, and, by means of brought forward evidence purporting to prove the abnormal a second half-sheet, gave it such impetes, that it fell on nature of these occurrences. How far that erubrace falss almost the same spot as that already indicated as the locale short of establishing what he desires to establish, I propose of the "spirit message." This demonstration that the now to discuss. I will premise that I received last spring "test" of the locked secretairs was worthess, occurred a ried osce account of these occurrences from Mr. Thochald, before the publication of the account in "Limit," June and that, subsequently, on his invitation, I went down in my 14th, in which this " test" is described without a hint of capacity as a member of the Society for Psychical Research, sta real value. (3) The writing has been produced in Mr. together with Mr P. S. Hughes, at that time occretary to Theolaid's own presence at a season ("Liont," pp. 245, one of the committees of that society, in order to examine 246, 343, &c.), the medium being within the cabinet, and the scene of the occurrences. The following comments-seconded from the view of the cire. M. Theorem has which have been submitted to and approved by my colleague, not approved in " Lie my " what we dee he have for his Mr. F. S. Hugher-are mainly founded on our observations, start ment, that the messages were actually scribt is in the seance at the time. But taken me of the points a which It will be convenient if the subsect of the writings is Mr. Hughes and I made special fingury. With first measure. In most was, as took a of Last over reference to one message of connecterable long a, which aware the como times under which the writings have been purported to have been written under these conditions in so produced are not such as to exclude any of the three abnormally brief period, we ask a Mr. Pheomaid are no be hypotheses above mentioned. As a general rule the writings had examined the paper on which the message was written have been found an easual about of paper placed on a table before the scance began. His reply-and it is notewortly. in an anoccupied room, or maide a dury, or under the cover no illustrating his attitude towards these occurrences more of a newspaper. But, whilst the writing itself is, in nearly fully than anything which I could write-was to the offect all cases, of a very currous and unasual character, it has , that he had looked into the box, in which the paper and also, on certain occasions, been produced under conditions peneste dea rore kept, in order to accertain that there was which, as described by Mr. Theobold, appear to render plenty of paper there, if required. As this appears to have been the only precaution which he took, or thought at no-First, as to the character of the writing. Mr country to take, we mod not perhaps further consider the Theobald speaker of this ("Lioure," p. 245) as " utterly to party of maction. "It the one occasion, when all the out of the range of ordinary human writing." He occupants of the house were assembled at the senue, and showed Mr. Hughes and sayself numerous speci-when ingrum of any unauthorized person was presumably mens of the writing so described. It is remarkably apposable, Mr. Theobald tells us ("Liour," p. 246) that regular and oven, and unusually small. I reckoned that, they received a message to the effect that various writings of the smallest writing, about seventy lines would be con- would be found on the coil age, &c., of the upper rooms. On tained in the length of a half-sheet of common notopoper leaving the scance room the writings were actually found as But I may no specimen which was not perfectly legible to the provided Of course, it is conceivable that, in most cases, naked eye, and which could not be equalled in minuteness the writings had been on the ceilings for some time before and clearness by most educated persons without any very the scance, but had escaped detection. Ar Theobald, however, assures us, that this " could not have been the case in On the ceilings and walls the character of the writing is at least one matrice, because I had five minutes before somewhat different. The writing on the ceilings of the (see the senere) looked at my study ceiling to see if there rusors is, in every case, large and stenggling, in curious was any more writing than a solitary B, which was written contrast to the tiny and well-formed writing on the paper as a beginning three weeks ago, and I know there There are, however, two or three sentences on the certains was none then." Well, I must adout that when in the hall, and above the lintel of the door, which are go Mr Theobald first described this occurrence to me, it larly and overly written, and in a much smaller handwritting seemed to me extremely remarkable, and I went down to Now it is noteworthy that the inscribed portion of the Blackheath prepared, and almost expecting, to find define ceiling in the hall, and the wall above the door, would be proof of some extra-physical agoncy in the matter. As within the reach of a person of ordinary stature, standing Mr. Theobald described it to me vict rose, and as he has upon a chair, whilst the other ceilings, and the cornlors, as described it in "Lions," it is obviously implied that the Mr. Theoladd correctly informs as ("Learr," p. 246), would additional writing was in such a position that anyone be beyond the reach of any person mounted on a chair or on casually tooking up at the "solitary B" must necessor, steps, but not, of course, beyond the reach of such a person nee the other writing as well. Clearly, if there was any armed with a broomstick having a pencul attached to the idelihood, or even any remote possibility, of such an observer overlooking the additional writing, the test is Thus much of the indications to be drawn from the valueiers, for the additional writing might have been made character of the writing itself as to its probable source. In weeks before. Well, when we came to Binckheath, Mr. the second place, the writing, as Mr. Theobald tells us, has Hughes and I found the "solitary B" in Mr. Theobald's been produced (1) in locked receptacles, (2) in his own pre- study without any difficulty, it is a large, clearly formed sence at a seance, (3) under certain exceptional conditions, letter, and is placed about the middle of the ceiling, would have described the process in some other words than ceiling to see if there were any more writing than a solitary B."

LIGHT.

writings in preference to dealing with the other matters taken place at Mr. Theoladd's bouse recounted by Mr Theobald, not from a malicious dearen to attack the weakest part of a strong case, but because it appeared to me the only parties of the evidence when presented any primit frem proof at all of almorral agency I must own that, as the facts were described by Mr. Theolaid, it seemed not easy to account for the production of some of these writings by normal means and I went down to Blackheath semowhat supressed with the strength of the visionce on this score. Wall, I found, as I have recounted, that its soon ng strength was due to an almost muredibly vague and praccurate representation of the actual circum

It did not seem to me then, and it does not seem to me now, that there are, even on Mr Theoretic own statement, any grounds for meriting the rost of the phenomona to other than normal causes. Mr. Thoulast, us he tells us, watched often in the hope of seeing the Bre bt by musem hands, but, to quote his own words " What I routehed for I failed to obtain, out I received proof to my an al of presence outside our own. This kind of reply to my watching has been frequent; I soldon get exactly what I seek, but amoutling equally matisfactory in the way of proof," (p. 241) I have to remon to doubt that these " squally satisfactory proofs" have been correctly described in the pages of "Lioner," and the reader is, therefore, as competent as Mr Theobald or myself to judge of their value. Two such " proofs " are given at the end of p. 244. Another, which I will brighly aumpiarize here, will be found on p. 245. -Mr Theoland had asked for a mesenge to be written on some MS., locked up in the secretaire, the test gives was the writing of a message on a separate piece of paper, subsequently introduced into the secreture, and found in the position which I have already described

To conclude. It may be that there is a royal road to knowledge, and Mr. Theobald may have discovered it. It may be, in other words, that there are other faculties for the apprehension of truth them the senses and the intellect which we know. Mr. Theobald's conviction of the extra physical origin of these phenomens may be based upon the intuition of some ligher and more spiritual faculty, and may possess irrefragable certainty. But certainty so acquired council readily be commumented to others. If Mr Theobald had been content to appeal to faith, he would have run no risk of being put to confusion, but he would have found, it is this. He has appealed to faculties which are the common property of all men-to the senses and to the under standing, by the evidence of the senses, therefore, and under the laws of the understanding must his cause be tried. And the verdiet of that tribunal will. I think, be careful search, he would have discovered this writing at all [ Fires, we may believe, were lit, kettles filled, and break-And I venture to think that an observer who had spent | fast tables laid. But phenomena such as them are known the time and pains needed to make such a search conclusive to occur in other demestic circles, and Mr. Theobald has established no grounds which would warrant us in attributing those used by Mr. Thoowald. "I looked at my study them, in his case, to other than familiar demestic agencies. February 9th.

I entirely agree with the account Mr Pedmore has given I have discussed the question of the production of the of our personal investigation of the phenomena which have

11, Staple Jun, W.C. F & Hecates, B. A. February 14th, 1885.

[Fully believing that the interests of truth are best served by free discussion, we have given life Polimore an opportunity of stating his case. It will be seen that he throws a very thin diagnise indeed over the conclusions at which he has arrived. Bearing in saind the serious nature of the inferences drawn by him, it is only fair to Mr Thoobald to armounce here that he has informed us be her no intention of sharking the lastes raised, and that he has "a very conclusive answer." Nothing more can be said this week except that Mr Theobald contends that Mr Podmore's investigation of this uniter is manifestly of the most superficial character, mornisch un the time he devoted to it did not exceed one hour. But we must leave Mr. Theobald to tell his own story.—Etc. or " Licery "]

CORRESPONDENCE

[ to profemble that correspondents should append their many and addresses to communications. In any case, however, those must be supplied to the Edstor at a guarantee of good

A Reply to Mr. Enbale-France. To the Edsfor of " Links."

Sra,- The relevancy of my letter referring to that of Mr. Bubule-Evans, in your paper of 31st January, and of his reply to muse, may be judged by the following extends from his first letter :- " We are inumlated with Spiritualistic literature, which would be all very interesting, if we could just get our little modicune of fact to start with. But whenever I have hungrily naked for a fact, I have been given --- a dark stance," for "If Mr Egliston can really command an occult force, it is a thousand prices that the fact is not, once for all, scientifically

The whole implication of that letter was that acceptate verification of those facts is wanting. I wrote to dispute that assumption, and not to deal with a particular question which could only have the papertance it possesses for Mr. Rebule-Evans if that manuscription were allowed to pass. I am uncon secous of any "controversial device" in my letter, which is also quite innocent of any irrelevant personality. In the latter respect, indeed, Mr Enhale-Evans has the advantage of me, secured I do not know the quality of has metaphysics, whereas In my own attempts to represent philosophical sporalationsvery rurely original he finds far-fetched material for a succe. which, coming from a critic of whose computence I had may manurance, might possibly annoy.

By omitting part of a sentence of muse which he (thus in-(kely, not many disciples. He has, however, not done perfectly) quotes, and by assuming that the word " boo" means. not at a ," Mr. Kubule-Evant is able to suggest that I think the Society for Psychical Resourch would be unefully occupied in co-ordinating facts which it has taken " no pane" to verify

What I mid was "It has always account to me that the really modful work of the Society is less the verification of bure facts," &c. From my own point of view, it would be highly adverse to his claims. He has observed and reported many illustral to regard the most needful and important function of strange occurrences, and has addreed evidence on which the Society to be the re-demonstration of facts which I believe

February 21, 2883.]

I had no authority to reply on bohalf of the Society, and curtainly did not affect to do so. Mr. Evans, though approving its mothods and results, has not, I believe, supported it by nor rejections against all who cannot be see as we or are we to name and salacription. He prefers enticion of its progress in Leone" to the direct influence he might exercise as a member And as an andependent correspondent in that paper, I am no a with for ourselves alone, but, as we have I welly recovered more guilty of evading a question which would be more properly addressed by a mumber of the Secrety to its governing body, than I am concerned with the he owner tire w (if it is indefendently about or converged or is in a on Mr. Frank Mr. Doualdison very rigidly shows, there suits be a concional SOMEON OF THE RESPECTABLE AS ALTHOUGH

It is not my fault of he is unable to see that his letter mathibid either ignorance of, or dissatisfaction with, all the exacting exmany of arrange once wheat is there is if we show mentaly state of stagnation. To take only the last twenty years, which Assert at it was a material or a track of the other branch Incorrate the sept on if it is a day that the sector of question, somewhat percurptorily asked by a gentlemm who had God as working actively in its malet. Take, e.g., the terrible not put honself in a position to sak it, and in a quarter in who no official reply was to be expected. Rad Mr Eubule Evans y as ag entitled a fort of ex-communication on the avoided generalities, his question might, for me, layer taken its so set in new compying the thoughts of comments chance of any irrespondition assurer it could get

C C M.

The Society for Psychical Research and Mr. Egiaton. To the Editor of " Litter."

S n.-I bog to my, as response to Mr. A. Eubulo-Resuss impulry, that I do not decline to be investigated by the Society for Psychocal Bosonich, or may exceety having for its object the elucidation of truth, Indood, and I believe it is no secret, I have not with many of the most prominent members of that Society, with what results only those who have had the experience our my.-Yours truly

11. Langians street, Portland place, W. Ecceptus

The Relations of Religion and Spiritualism. T the Late of Labour

Sig I hope you will give me space for a roply a Mr. Donaldson a letter in which we attacks one of the streets I have gost compact made to the health unitable to relaxions occurred Resolution such Spiritor and

First let me deny on dean alle and it is for any sawal reason that I deprese out the and reduced more and by cause I one clearly that is smoon is their strongth, and that are ruption must bring injury to both. Mr Donaldson writes well on Speritualism because he has gone into the subject somewhat there for the arm and a week in dis. a set ten, as high and deeply, but when he touches ou religion he seems to have morely may think you are an analysis as any my love men and sampled the surface. Human theology, like overything che that is human, in a currous compound of good and cyll, the clunded and porverso human intellect taken hold of the precious truths which are placed before it, and in order to suit them? recognizable, but howeath all the surface arrow that as thus thrown up, becausered truth for those who will go deep enough to find it. This is true equally of religion and Spiritualism.

All this is perfectly well known to readers of "Linux and any one who should mix up esoteric and exoteric Buddham, or easterne and exoteric Spiritalian, would be put out of court all around us should be equally blessed !- I am, sir, yours faith but the difference between outcric and exotoric Christianity is far y quito as great, and where any comparison is made, should be fairly considered. As far as I have observed, the rule lutherte with ! writers of Mr. Donaldson's turn of mand has been to compare exoteric Christianity with conterio Spiri, unliver, and the result is n perversion of truth. It is a purious confirmation of what I my that anyone who could write the first half of Mr. Donaldson a letter, full cast in of thought and maight, should yet be unable to see deeper than the human incrustations which overlie the popular theology, and fail to perceive that true religion and Sparitualism are twin sisters. He can see, in other matters, the management of the ontward and phenomenal to express the inward and real, yet he referen to apply this truth to religion. What would ; become of Spiritudum if it were judged only by the low and to be already sufficiently proved. The abstractor of this year, interne manefisherious with arresonned is on comes? He can Mr Entwice Erana considers not all reas , acade has question 'realize our contryonce condition and the difficulties of outsreferred to a preferred object of the Secrety, not to individual municities between beings of various degrees of developments operators of its best strictly. But there was a logical necessity and yet he will not have patience with his fallow embryo, who upon me after word I of it of said to justify my own cost in, maybe, a little resedeveloped (on some points) than himnection with the Society, and otherwise Mr Echale-Ryster self. Unconsciously, he is falling well to the old user w sught, and probably would, have retorted. "Why then do you solish spirit which has marred all reformations in the past, which says to three whom it night to years to help "I am right, ye are strong, shift ye for yourselves," Seriously, do see wish to form nurselyes onto a small protesting sect, bristling with go out fate all the world with leads of healing, leavening the when man ? Sarely, we do not wish to hide up our buonts of term for a varied so good strings among the men. The only way to do this is to seek out, not points of difference, but of agreement with these whom we are the ore for he standpoint of montal perception before information can be COMPANIE

Again, I dony that the Church of the present day is in a covers the space of my personal descreation. When one considers on that short time, it is impossible to doubt that the Spirit of doctring of eternal purpolanest, to doubt who was y of all denominations, and larger and larger views being calmly propounded and accepted. Thus, by a wholescans and natural process of digestion, the ovil is being slowly but surely chambated. Up to the present time, we Spiritualists have enjoyed the privilege of being the most extinde body that her yet existed for the necking and propounding of truth, and herein has been our strongth; let us think many times before we lose that privilege. There is room among us for initials of all shapes and sizes let us welcome them

Yet one more word. There may be some to whom the Church has no monage, "for God fulfile Himself in many ways", but those who are able to receive Spiritualism as confirmed by religion, and religion to formated by Spiritualing bounds, doubly, and I would that all night to benefit. To illustrate my meaning may I be parallelled the egunum of relating some memorial experience When I was a young investigator in Spiritualism, a lady whom I committed cont me the " New Book." I also horrowed " The Two Worlds, 't and then my oyee were spened to what had a refere show all one, but and sever been a que sted the unbroken clocks of apiritual communication from the beginning of we were and I are not a see a Sp. namet a which I should probably never have done but for the testimony contained in the Sacred Writings which have been preserved for us by the Church. I for the last of the war say were to be authorized, that ear tigh was size on the Bible, but the Prayer bank and a good or with oyes from which seales had fatter, and are still other; As I took back upon my past life, I see how ad the true to be confront the chiteaching, from my earliest years, ha liking or especity, tweets and turns them tell they are nearedly was much me proparing in for that which I am now able to receive, and which again is doubtless paving the way fee more to come. To me, therefore, Spiritualism would have but smallow hase without religion, religion, but buil its life without Spiritualism , and, knowing as I do, the blessed effects of their a for an one we well out to marvelled at if I long that

> Ma. W Equision's Confinental Tair .- Mr Egl pton loaves London on Sunday ovening next for Paris, where he will stay for a few days with some friends. Has address in that sity will be 35, Rue de Borne. He afterwards proceeds for a lengthened stay to Vienna, where we believe he has arranged to give scances to the very people who behaved so chanceally during Mr. Bastian's right to that city. It is not Mr. Eginton's intention to make a long stay abroad, owing to pressing matters requiring his attention at home. Letters addressed to the Grand Rotal, Visnia, will reach him.

414 A New Bash of Sellet in (minoritality by John S. Earther By T. Engeley Thumps Shorter).

the editor of light"

6. AVE MARIA LAME,
LONDON, E.C. All Communications to be addressed to SURSE A PTI ON RATES.

The Asumal Subscripton for a new rost free to any soldiest within the United Kingslon, or to places accuracy to a the electric States, and or established America, a 10s. 10d. or aromaic accurates to our other distances. ABVERTISEMENT CHARLES

ADVORTISEMENT CLARE S

Pice times and under Ja. One inch, 4a, 6d, Comme. Com. Page Cl.

A reduction including a series of incertains.

Cortain for Pages, and increase in the including the arterised to discuss the form of and C.A. Montage E.C.

The income at Other Orion is very made, each. He are the form of the company of the sense of the pages of the confidential of the company of the confidential of the company of the confidential of the co

YOU BY THE THE "Lifett may also be to do mu. If so, it w. v. . . . I, we Marca tame be determined in the scientists."

Dight .

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 91st 885

HENRY WARD BEECHER ON WITCHCRAFT AND SPIRITUALISM

Parliage no prescher of the 80,000 in the United States is more profesent in the art of standing on both sides. of the fence at the same time than Beary Ward Beecher I , fact, such is his dextersty, he hoodwinks the spectistors so that they are equally divided in opinion is regard to which aide he is on. Whenever he has come out squarely and made a distract declaration, usually in the next section. he has taken pains to deny it, thus remording one of the accollent cow that gave the pail of at k and then kicked it over He west out of his way in a recrut assume to deny his belief in Speritualian, by preceding agrand witcheraft Of course, the W teh of Endor was his text, and he came to A settles on angel came and apoles to Cornelius , Paul these or a marine.

Now, as to this matter of witchenft-women witches, mon wisheds-I know put as much as you do and you know just as augelic visions, much us I do, and we both know nothing. Cortainly, at the time the narrative of Mad's clast was written, it was believed to he morely a hinterioal fact. This helief in witcheraft has permontal many minds in all ages. Even as late as two hundred years ago it was betraved in by everybody-doctors, lawyors, mentsters, philosophers-and during the two hundred years. which proceded that time over half a mailor of men had been burned to dooth by Europe after judicial trial and conviction of participators a the black sys. What ma become of that belief i Science struck it no aledge hammer blows which drove it away , affect. It was never deproved, and yet where has it goes ! N one knows, suid no one knows why it has gone, but it has chared up and floated away and become no more, over us a for rises and disappears before the rays of the morning sun. State we have the old being in a telegraft among a few of a r periode largering yet, while itt place of it we have a new kind of enja-Now in regard to this question. Do spirite over revisit this surth? I want to my that I would be happy to believe they be put in an infirmary al, but I have failed to Jucover it. The communications I have received purporting to be from my parents were of such a why he receives such "milk-and water" communications. weak, with and watery git me the to you, it have seet the in an informat? I have been at someon set a districted new in the conme of my life, and lave seen many, bright both, lotunderstand, but nothing to convince me that communication with a spirit world is open to us."

If Mr. Beecher known "nothing about witchcruft," why does he easily to talk about it, as though he was thoroughly , Journal versed, and well prepared to come to such aweeping conclusions? He confesses he knows "nothing," except that the belief has gone, how or why he does not know

There is one thing Mr Beecher knows and every Bible student knows, minery, that the existence of witchcraft hold on Thursday evening next. February 20th, at seven p.m., and witches is most clearly affirmed by that book. It makes no statement more absolutely, and on its command not to suffer a witch to live, rests the most damning amouncement of a story common atrocities of the post ages, finally ending in this country in the terrors of the Satom persecution. Mr. Beecher says.

Science" had no blows for it ! Science is certain knowledge, and just thus and this alone, has awakened mankind from the nightmare of dogmotism which made such wholeale torture possible.

Granting his version of witcheraft, going " to the W tell of Endor to traffic with the devil,"-" to the powers of darkness for help," there could be nothing more unjust than referring Spiritualium to the mine source. Az for spirits revising this earth, he would be "happy to believe they did," but he has " failed to discover it "! What does Mr. Beecher think of his Bible? He denies t to truth of its doctrine of witchersft, and says that it is all town to a bo, and now he discards all its teachings in remard to immortal life ! Yet the Book is replete from beginning to end with the ministrations of spirits. Its value depends thereon, as a fundamental evidence of life after death. An angel appears to Hagar and to Jacob, an angel spoke to all the peoples of Boch a wade at s wan angel on an oak, and received therefrom the announcement of his mussion to save Israel, the Witch of Endor saw gods" or spirits ascending from the earth , Elijah was fed by an augol, an augol appeared to David with a drawn sword. a-angel appeared to Duniel and the fames in company with the three holy children, and again appeared clothed in lmen, &c., an angel came to Joseph in a itreum , Moses and Elian appeared to Jesus and then others; an angel appeared to the two Marses at the sepulchre, and a spirit removed the atong from the door; an angel appeared to Zacharian in the temple, an angel appeared to Mary and announced the birth of Jesus , angels appeared to the shepkerds , Mary Magdalene saw two spirits dressed in white, who addressed her, angels opened the prison doors and liberated the on a mon or spirit, praying him to " come over to Macedonia and help us"; and Revelation is a series of

From the time of the Apostles to the present there is an unbroken chant of ovidence of the appearance of angels or

What does Mr. Beecher propose to do with this mass of Diblical ovalence, or rather what has be done with it, that he would be so happy to be consumers that "apirits sover revisit the earth" !

He brothers have been convenced of the truth of spiritat senters. Unaries the class are written a long on the no arguments which ever were framed against it had the least somet, in will on hower grounds in supports his behef the same. His nature have arrived at the same conclusion. Mrs. Stowe gladly accepts it, and Mrs. Hooker is an ardent advocate. The Receber family are a fathing of Spiritualists, and the passing strange that while other members receive satisfactory communications from their municition with the world I mean by Spiritedists, spirit friends, to Heavy Ward alone they give instructions " of such a weak, milk-and watery mature that they ought to

> We presume that Spiritualists will readily understand At one time Mr Bescher inclined to Spiritualism, and his servious were for a time replete with its philosophy. He will find, as others have done, that it were better to consult even a " Witch of Endor," than curry popular favour by denouncing what he knows to be true. - Religio-Philosophical

THE LONDON SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE

We are desired to remind the mombers and friends of the London Spiritualist Alliance of the conversations which will be In the lampers of a St. John we Han. Mess described Date Owen will address the meeting. We hope to see a brew attendance. Tickets can be obtained in accordance with the

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK

February 21 (SNo.)

XVII

The Journal of Science says "It remains to be seen whether Spiritualism will henceforth take up a political character "--ainco-Mr. Gladstone had some observation of psychography. We might as well expect that the fact of Mr Gladstone turning over a boulder would convert goologists to Liberal views, or his policy [

The same yournal may that cortain scientistic journals are "connecting with Spiritualism"-whatever that may meanand products that "they will probably soon change ados, out their own words, and dayley the usual inducrout and of neophytes." We wish them joy of the process of eating their owe words, and a good digestion.

We are also informed "that the more possibility of a fourth dimension of space is a serious consideration "-because a four directmental being could enter our running as aroons as which chasts, and do all the things commanly a ways the spirits. I so the formation of a cluster of leaves, white packed in a little ghost is only a follow with an addenoual dimension.

Mr F. W. Myers, a newspaper tells us, explains certain plicar to the angle one or be spot as rate as the tender to pointing by a company of the program or pringle and shirts. He was expectation in the of physical elander of our 18 c. writing, for example. Here is the fact. I lay my build upon two clean alates with a crurch of pencil between those, I hear the sound of west up. On removing one state from the other, I find a swige of wroten in a factor of time relating facts or answer ing next to anxional to any person but myself. Thought read in account the same the archess of question, which is a read one are not to take the part 1 to some or Mr. a mission haro observed, but have not attempted to explain

Troth invites Mr. Dannan to give Scotland yard the benefit of some spiritual commissionless respecting the 3 mm as Sprits, as a rule, do not moddle with gambling or poles. They do not serve unlitary communiters as spice, nor farmali wronged kushasda with evalence for the Directo Courts. If they were to but in our affairs in any of those ways, we should have a tiles tune of it. If spirits were as inductors as ordinary man and women in the flesh, life would be intelerable

A correspondent of Freth-"What i as a mane asked Juliot-arriter that the ladge at a 12, his Research meeting recincit to be the reconstruction which indicates the between lighter a and to survive and to men, more or less in the want cone it on as the neaker oness. Then may now at . The only calcbridy present was Owner Water as if that would no count for the condition abke of the men and women. If there are in a care do if westing an histoff to regregations we must still wonder that there are editors stoped enough to print it.

What are our auto-Spiritualist friends thinking about in this matter of the iron ring worn by Mr. Husk as a wratlet, and examined by an inquirer to find out how it got there? It could not an ever his hand-and there it was and had been for several days. Only a white heat could wold at, and how could that have been applied to a close-litting ring on a man's wrist?

It is well to repeat the facts and to consider the problem. It H not now. Iron rings have been worn similarly as necklases. Zöllmer's ring turned from solid wood, and placed where it at.) runains upon the pillar of a table, is another proof of the miraculous power of spirits over matter

Professor Huxley got the largest vote as Man of Science in the Poll Mall Grantle competition, and what has this scientific leader to any about solid from wristiots and necklases, which are pot on and taken off as if they were made of indiarebbor !

What they all cay with one second as (a, it is not true, and (6) if any credible person eays it is true, he has been deceived by a hit of conjuring, and that which is physically impossible is not to be believed upon any kind or amount of testimony. Still there is the fact—one of thousands just as impossible just as appealed to the "wen known laws of nature

What is the maternamation of a visible, pulpable, business form, that walks about, talks with you, shakes hands, gets photographed, and so on, but a far more complex and wonderfueach bettern of the same power of mand over matter-if we only know, or could begin to know what a mind, and what a matter, and the relations of one to the other?

Really, as I may have remarked an some former occasion, we seem to have been placed in this world expressly to see and many-had not to know the teky or how of anything, and react of all of ourselves. And of all by withoses that of nintermassis a the meet meretible. "With God all though are possible. This is not the assorted that God in Alonghy. This is what God means. The assertant is-Aunit the existence of a God and all phonometa are easily accounted for-the solo difficulty being to account for God

Chairse Gordon-Gordon of the Soudan-behoved in God, and had no difficulties about matter or spirit. The Selverion Army law none. Naturalists have their kind of miracles, such capsulo, or the formation of a bird from a uncrescopic point, a ent. The phonomena of mature are a little less mode than those of Spirituation, but the production of an ear of wheatsay, from its garm, when you look at it, is suite as wonder ful as an orderey uniterians ages with Mr. Eglinter

4 6

Typidall and Huxley or electorid, with Professor Lankester thrown in-know no more of one phenomenan than of on ther. "Errent and "Jooy" are as real as solid, as raible, tangable, androle, thoughtful, and strong as as all and intiacle is any of our naturalists. Oct they have the exchine powers or faculties denied to the manual professors, and destruct by thou, "" Ernost" poures to use the perform of and thought the door looked, and the key in my pecker and where extely barred. He writes between two slates timely held or tied together. He writes in a little closed box, with my hands sor the ower. A hig musion box, resting on my know, with as hands on its lift, at my compost stops in the middle of a one goes on the after another mentions of attempt is now. It is not laws of mechanics. "Ernest" backs with me, abaces hands, says. good night, and, while the door is firmly locked, and the window finally barred, is no longer visible or tangible

As if the uniterialisation of the body, amounted by a human quit, with powers for beyond those of any man in his antural oody, wore not a unmele facusmostly transcending. We How a com wrintlet! But the boant for amplicity of the latter is to charte. We begin with A B O and 2 + 2 m 4. Some soom to step there-or thereabouts.

The specit " Lily " whom many of my readers have seen conversed with, perhaps felt as well as seen, was atrong enough, with Involving conditions, to hold for materialised form together so as to be photographed by Jaylight. She was mee about her contunte, and very graceful in a long robo of white despery floating to the ground. One day I was anthere at enough to sak her if she had any shops and stockings. We were on rather form our terum. " Como here, she said, " and I will show you," Of course I gladly accepted the invitation . Now a doyour hand noar the floor, and I will put my foot in ft." I dropped -gracefully of course-on one knee and mild my right band, palar appared, three niches from the carpat Intojt comes, very nice little naked foot-solving the problem us to shoes and stockings. I carofully and discreetly exminimal to anatomy. It was a norfeetly autural naked formalise foot. Within the curtains which formed the "cubinot" was the medium, Muss Cook. There was plenty of light to make the rest of our company visible. The only question was whether Miss Cook was " Lily" and "Lily" Was not an torswas buckly adver. Waddrawing her taked that from my hand, Lily said, Note, commone my over nor. I reaches may my bound, and found the two feet of Mass Cook, who was sitting in a chair, sommingly in a door trance, completely enclosed in a pair of twelve button boots?

Every incestigator who socks the shaple truth in a philosoplical sport with no theory to support, and ready to sceept every fact that comes to him, inoritably becomes a Spiritualist that is, he becomes satisfied of the genuineness—the objective resulty-of the phenomens. The only and how he can meditate upon at his lessure. The facts, facts, facts on the first consuggettion.

The Religio Philosophical Journal has published a smaarkable lecture by Professor J. R. Buchamas, one of the most original of Amoriesti investigators and thinkem. Two of his austrom are has not y " and " The seigntific mathed as to examine facts.

respect for the analysis so any who to partitude analycentradict gain other an or selector the may be a bor word, he may a hald a should a marret to Spans to the mediation Fig. is NYACON ONLY A de Selvente por el agun es bent Man-Borkeley and, 'We metaphymeians min a dust and then on plant that we cannot see. Plate trught that there are a matter, only aleas, the thinker being as street as all of which he thought-an ideal man making an ideal mayorae. Arbitotle's logic was an intellectual extansity for the human more. He was a has a verte speciment or the deciment of the carelons as to has not a state of the transporter of the de an from the to Humbler, ever on a morning of epitot. what philosophy monus."

Dr. Burbanan's conclusion is that which we are tryin a sout are enforce—that " the most unpertant facts ever dispiace of eart of the each depression within the dead return, algaz an may rosan modes a larra ne casana assistance, giving an thirty is not a record to some a re-

"Magnet cat come only it is very above if very as a Peasement is said to be nine points of the law, the tenth has in munit chance against their This is true of to as a serie education. We have to set an education of a lan a new one, and by a mount to be a sugar a con cone

The religious fault-the popular theology-of the Middle Ages le to so must have a person strongs the general being an the name of demonstrate a reservoir in a tell of cause a mihanging down up, and barring of himmerable to wome over more event and now or a sadge as 8. Scattlery Hala having wente rees bitaniousy fortistalia

The reaction from these horrors caused the present uniteria, but, and the sturdy, and sometimes stupid, resiste ..... the truth or real ty of Spiritualism as accontifically demonstrates. by the observation of fruit-which above the the probability that the witches put to doubt two contarios ago, in abadience to the e outside given to Moses. Those make not suffer a witch or were in our y codes, the base of the overall beautiful.

The amplioration of our morals, manners, and laws a above on ways t medium to-day is seldens presented, and when he a soloope gets more than three months of a set in preserment. A Fbeller, with friends and money, gets for menths of nonewhat inxurious repose as a first-class mindemension. A cent on ugo it would have been the whopping post, nailing by the ear, the brand og fron, or the pillory becomes the dominant, and puthops, persecuting faith of tomorrow-but freedom comes with knowledge, and free thought must lead in time to the free expression. In the twentieth century at the truth of the matter, especially as, according to the people in what are called cirilized countries will not even be That is my present Onllook

W T R .- A though good and very suitable for private I to old proverb about "casting pentis,"

AMERICA is certainly shead of Europe in the path of progross. The three colleges of Boston, New York an Unionnati, have obtained official authority for establishing a special course in magnetic therapouties and for giving diplomas. Already individuals known as having the gift of healing have recorvod such diplomas. - Le Spiritizate.

THE AMERICAN SPIRITUALIST ASSOCIATION

A copy of the report of the American Spiritualist Association's annual meeting held at Lake Pleasant Camp "I am a man, and consider nothing foreign which concrete last August, has been forwarded to us. It is published in the form of a pamper tof a ty four active pages, at the other of the Religio-Philosophical Journal, Chicago. It contains Dr Buchaum, like many ther practical scientists, has little the Association's declaration of principles and constitution, a th list of officers , who the speeches, in full, of the Pro-s dent and of prominent Stantanastript whit is the apprilate occusion. It then gives the Presmont's subsequent and take I am not suffered to a war went not be not so that to Spiritualists at large, on the argent need for organization, and his pleading is made more foreible by the reproduction of an address by Dr. S. C. Brittan, published is 1875 quite as apposite now as it was at that time. Under the liceting of "A Bond of Umon" the cors numention received from the London Spiritualett Alliance by the Association is reported, with the resolutions passed thereupon by the Executive Board of the Association. These resolutions express concurrence in the conviction that, in the proposed alliance, "no assert to any fixed creed r confession of faith is required," and in the propositions (1) That there is a life coincident with, and independent of, the life of the body, (2) That, as a necessary corollary, thus life extends beyond the life of the body , and (3) That, under favouring conditions, there can be consumeration between the denizes of a total of exercise an those of the world in which were to burnet it. The America Specialist Association will co-operate with the London Speritualist Alliance in opposing the materialism of the age."

The President, in his address, calls to mind that all the officers of the American freely give time and money to the cause, and, the only source of mecome being members' doline authoriptions, voluntary contributions will be looked for from those who can afford them to give effective aid in the work of the Association.

T Coursespance, Several letters stand over this week We hope to give them due attention in our field more

Beauties of "Light" will do us a great service if they will kindly write out, in a concise form, as account of facts that may come under their notice, giring, if possible, the full names a surrentee the reservoir and loan for Turney by Add a clos magazine has been reer to I, and a few acts are now in the lands of the Psychological less. Persons descrous of completing their film should make an early application to the manager

Or nudber, so a look of a six K constant an approunded mente a gior II no er bir u he committee of hope shortly be able to find an opportunity of vinting the motitution and if a no a report concess in any

Ma one account An electroment electrom manufact column of a pamphlet much by Madame Coulomb, giving an acgrant of he are area of Marlame Blavestaky from 1879 So the world really moves. The erect persecuent to-day | 1881. In justice to the last-camed lady, weak and inconclosure as we thought her case, that of Minister Coulomb at far more unantiafactory. It becomes mereasingly difficult to arrive Pioneer of India, Madamo Massaltaky has now, in spite of her ritheuled for trying to know the truth-even about Spiritualium. definite mauranes to the contrary previous to learning England, decided not to proscente Madama Coulomb for Mander.

Books Received for Review -- " Symphomalrea," by Laurence Oliphant, "Two Stories of the Unacen The Open perual by those who maderatand the method of its generic, the Door, and Old Lady Mary," by Min. Diphast, "The message is hardly fit for the columns of "Learn" Remember, Mother; or, the Woman Clothed with the Sun "Songs of he Reig is and Depths," by the Hos. Roden Noc. Man or, Fragments of Forgotten History," by Two Chelan of the Theosophical Succety, "Spirits in Prison," by Preferror Plumptre, "House and Work in the Future Life," by F. J. Theobald , "Bock to the Father's House , Shadows." by John Wotherbee; " How to Lave a Century and Grow Old Gracefully, by J M Probles, M. D.

"POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY"-AN UN-SCIENTIFIC SPIRIT

February 21, 1885.]

Professor Elliott Coues, whose treating on Biogen-or a spiritual basis of life-we have commended, falls under the displeasure and contempt of the Popular Science Monthly, whose materialistic methods are transcended by this large-souled and able scientist. A physical basis of life, a protoplasmic start from alime and mud, saits the proud Mouthly, but a spiritual basis of life it despites, their experiments on the same subject, as have also before Last August it mentioned Professor Couca's Biogen as "a! lively little treatuse on biological mysticisms, . a spree in speculation, . . . a rally for the defence of the old, but declining dectrine of 'vital force,' which was 'made the most of in times of ignorance," and contemptoously closes by saying that " the publishers, doubtless aware of the fitness of things, have printed it in medicard arrawing my including and his guessing will be right ten times type, such as was used in the dark ages to which Biogen in a hundred. belongs."

In the same number some comments of the Saturday Review on measurement are approvingly quoted, in which it draw one, and having well looked at it, willed his medium is thought that a small margin of hypnotic facts may be to guess what it was, and the medians guessed aght real, but "the common element of mesmerism and Speritualism, indeed a very large one, is really delimina and fraud alone." We are also told that investigation " by those alone qualified to report," has " over and over negatived all due to the operation of some natural force. shadow of evidence" that meameric subjects can do any thing, or see anything, or " be influenced to perform specific actions " without previous limits or improvious. The wave writer, and the equally wise Science Monthly, have never alphabet, he placed three persons, one his medium. The heard of Dr. Gregory's experiment in Scotland, where a slightest motion of the medium was communicated to the " learned professor " wont into mother room and soon the meanerised subject of Dr. Gregory began to laugh and told what odd expers the man who just went out was cutting in him. He touched action after letter, forming a word or another room, describing perfectly an odd dance he was performing, and of which none know but himself. Many like facts could be given, but the Science Monthly shoots at them. "None so blind as those that won t see " is a good old provesti ecentuate ignore facts and float at conclusions from premises of which they are ignorant? That is the spirit of this to scientific magazine. But it may be said that it go is us

Some of the old Round, Paper were valuable and borrapateons of art, but they were Popos. The bland are bigoted contempt of this Monthly for any spiritual science or philosophy is as hitter and dogmatic as the papel horror of of Rome or of inductive science.

Professor Coucs may well count the contempt of the Popular Science Monthly as high honour. Let him possess his soul in patience and work and wait, and the honour at last will be his, the shame and confusion thems.-Religio-Philosophreal Journal.

Mr. W Ectatron is now paying a short vast to Ulversion, where he is giving admices to the local clergymm and others Interested in Spiritualism. We shall hope to give an account of them in an ourly 1900c.

HAUNTING.-A house in Grown-street, Nuwhavon, Conn., is inhabited by a Mr. Mann and his wife. A servant who sleptan attenual that her bouncead has been parker about to o and that a worther costs, whom she had sheed in her table in the morning of a sea of one. When the Munic have been alone in the house, they have mared moreover of feet morning about and of things falling. Mr Rois an employe of Values Ex-press Company, occupied the premises with a wife previously the says they were similarly disturbed, and this Mrs. Ross a name declared that she are going up and down stairs, they having no ments in negligious and the ugt read of their around with the holger, a tall man in ordinary contains, with a face of saley pulse. Davenport cabinet, then he extracted much from a new of new. Many think that the house has been the scene of some sack, but of explanation not a word, to the great duantisfar tragedy, and hope that an investigation may lead to the laying tion of many of the authence, who said they und been blagadeof the annually special vintant.—New York Herold humbugged, and they were right."

TRANSMISSION OF THOUGHT

(EXTRACTED PROX Le Spiritiene.)

M. Richet, the connent physiologist, is the editor of the Rerue Scientifique. He has contributed an article to the Reries Philosophique, in which he relates experiments made to test the possibility of transmitting thought without the use of signs by speech, gesture, or writing.

Drs. Charcot and Damontpullier have already published t ich some men of sale ice in long and, all confirmatory of " | the fact no long known to, and pu shee by the studiets of magnetana

M. Reach sole for a scarring-point the fact demonstrated by mathematicians, that a man guessing one of a pack of puty my cares fifty-two in number-and then

Sitting at a table with a common pack of playing earls remote from another table at which not his medium, he He drew again and again. The medium's guessing was not always right, but it exceeded the mathematican's ten in a hundred. M Richet was satisfied that the excess was

He made another experiment :- At a table, connected with an electric ringing apparatus and a needle suspended homeostally over a quadrant marked with the letters of the table, the bells sounded, and the needle moved. At another remote table the experimenter ant with an alphabet before sample soutenes, will ig their transmission to the medium, who often stored exesting the sell to ring and the medle to point, but not always with exact correspondence to the expermenter's will, rendering, for example, Louis for Louis, and Joon for Jean. M. Richet was intiated by this result In it the true scientific spirit to fling contempt on honort also, and amounces his attention to continue the investigaand skilled students who may differ from us! Do true tuen, promising to comment in a subsequent article upon the investigations of certain English sevents.

It is very refreshing to find an on next physiologist, , editor of a secentific journal, engaging in the study of phenomuch valuable matter, which we have no wish to deny and mena still under the scientage ban of charleterism. We may now look forward with hope to the time when our mayants will have acquired the good sense to withhold from denying facts without investigation, and from contending against ideas solely because they are new. How often are they to be reminded of the discovery of the circulation of the blood, hersties. A bigot is a lagot, be he professor or pricet, devoted and that it's most resolute opposites were in our colleges of

NA NT HEREN.

CUMBERLAND ON THE CONTINENT. -Le Mossiger (Large) reports the Cumberland Laboutchers challenge and Mr Egents ton's roply, which it calls reasonable and dignitled. It then gives Signor Daminaf's counter challengs to Mr Labouchers, and premium to report further proceedings. Je Messager mays that Mr. Labouchore's partner in the challenge is now in Brussele giving his usual outstainment, of the admission prices of 20 france and 10 france. Le Spiritume (Paris) also reports the challenges at says, "This Comberhand avaded test adances offered to an when he was in Paris, and he evaded a sciniar offer by the Spiritualist Society of Vienna." It then reports the doings of Bellite in Branch, who advertues hunself as "It prese dispute the units specific see characteristic comme Comberton the anti-Spiritist prestidigitator, not a charlatan like Cumberland" profits of to explain Spari ist cricks. Le Sp in one then quotes from the Chemagne Brundels. He made some experi-ments in magneticno and an ugh reaccing their some with the

ORTHODOXY IN RUSSIA

(From the Russian Correspondence in the Revue Spirite.)

In Russia religious opinions are various and of overy shate. The Star Church, calling itself Orthodox, it the priginal Catholic, or Universal Christian Church, of which the Roman Pontiff coarus to be the head.

for Russian socie y at reagious opinions are treated tun 1810. This tolerance, however, has not yet penetrated ! the ranks of the Orthodox elergy, on the contrary, Spiri United Greak continumion, for example, which has been an marst acreobject of persecution for half-a-century, has now its charetes confiscated and their members put under police other than the Orthodex so numerous in Russia. It vents its lamentable feeling a large handsome stove, before which was a screen, usually signarly against members of the Roman Catholic communion covered up with a kind of silk ganze, and every time a Lere are some of the instances quoted .-

A Roman Cuthout may not leave his property according to his discretion : It devolves compulsorily as the low

Ly the case of mixed marriages, if either parent is Ortho-Roman Catholic or other priest beptises such, he subjects me. One of them was a very sad one. dox. all the children must be brought up Orthodox, if a hanself to transportation.

No church, except the Orthodox, may make any rel gioux demonstration whatever outside of its own walls

No Roman Cathona budop may make a diocesan visitation without a permit from the governor of the province; her may a Roman Catholic priest visit a sick or dying person beyond the bounds of his proper parish

No Rouan Catholic priest may confess an Orthodox Russian, under pain of transportation,

The impediments hedging all not within the pale of the Instance: A general officer, a Protestant, whose wife is a Catholic, applied for a permit to buy a small estate in one of the provinces, and it was refused, on the ground of their not being Orthodox

It is a grave matter to offend the Church, for each is its influence that It may end in tromportation, which means the long, terrible murch to Siberia.

But, as said before, rel gious opinion is not held to be a cause of difference in somety, and remarkably so in the capital since the introduction of Spiritualum.

yours of age, for the past four weeks there have been stones alone, and we had to look round to see if no one class was thrown through the whidows and doorways. The place has been one there, put under the production of the police in cain. Lately things have been thrown about within the house and crockery broken.

Shortly afterwards I was with the Counters in the mine. The little girl speaks of seeing one "Marianne," farisible to others, said also an old man. Her description of the latter corresponds with that of her grandfather, deceased before the was botte. She says they both ask for alms .- Reme Spirite.

Gaasa or Mrs. E. W. W., is occupied he pla, one on Sunda, cast as the Sorrous ests Has 2. Cartton one Subject chosen by her gite es was Popolar dejer man a Sparat a isin comme contact a to confined to refacels hey and resuch themselves with here halv has carmes most arm igour am, caree was not so large as it is didn'ty a sile have occurrent Spiritualists went to hear the distinguished stranger, who has been brave enough to any what he known or thinks in favour of the unpopular subject of Spiritualism

A CURIOUS APPARITION

By H. WEDGWOOD.

The fe owing narrative of an experience which she had when a young girl, was given me by a lady, a German sect of the Greek Church, which separated from the by bath, but married to an English clergyman, and now the very excessful principal of an advanced institution for young ladies. I first heard it from her by word of mouth in the autumn; and three months afterwards she sent me, with a memory, especially since the introduction of Spir- on my request, the written statement exactly to the same offect.

'I am afraid it will sound abourd," she mys; "and tradium seems to have exerted greater elevient intolerance tyes even now I have the whole seems as clearly before me and the State under its potent influence tightens the rouse as it was then, and I could give an exact drawing of the of secular power in its favour. This deplocable intolerance shape of those white logs. There certainly was no body to extends to all religious sects outside of its own pole. The thems." The pocurrence took place, I suppose, about twinty

I was staying with my mother during the winter months supervision to prevent their attending the worship of any with a Counters W., at Krippets, near Strehlen [in Silesin!]. In get to the usual sitting reces one had to pass a large It is suppossible to specify its treatment to minor seets, respector room, and on the right, near the entrance, stood person passed the screen the draught would make it rustle. tem might a the family had gone to a ball at Strehlen, so my mother in I were oft more with an ole dan servant to a get or us at cure one games. Monat per was restrict the responsible a visa generate the attengeroom to try some new songs which a friend of our Counters had lent for

> "Will she come when I am in my grave and put a wreath upon it, &c. Will she come!

Just at that moment I heard distinctly a hollow knocking at the door which led into the large reception room. I started and cried, "Como in! " thinking it was Friedrich coming to tell me that dinner was ready. But another smiler knock was beard, and thinking that dear old Friedrich wanted to frighten me a bit, I took the caudio and went to the door, ready to fling it open and show that I was propared for the joke. When I stood there another louder and Orthodox Church are numerous and vaxatious. Take one more resonant knock sounded right in my car and made me all ser I opened the door sharply and stood there with a gamelle gazeing into the room. I saw nothing, but heard the rest my of the salk gauge as if someone unseen glided by I heave that a tiling or floating sound all through the troom, an even the adjacent corridor and down the stairs. I went at once into the kitchen and asked the maids if some one had come up stant, but the question was superfluors, they were all in the katchen, Friedrich with his isg apron polishing up the silver, and telling me that he would serve up shortly. Then I went to our room, and told my mother what had happened, and it felt so loosly and norrible in those large rooms that we determined to have Dison see v May rest at the Area hour at Mont on dearer more own room. Yet it felt as if we were not mark, occupied by Monton Florent, bit wife, and a doughter ten on dearer more own room.

room, between light and dark. I was playing on the punto, while she walked up and down the room. She came to me several times, asking me if I did not hear voices, she always heard voices either talking or shouting into her The par. I told her I heard nothing, and went on playing. I just then played the Carnival de Venise, arranged by Schmethoff, and when I came to the last page, and just finished off with the run, I heard a horrible harsh voice shout into my car, " Allerliebet!" (charming ! ) and, with a for a counter-actualities in the form of an advest under the shout into my car, "Alberhetett" (charming I) and, with a suspices of the Glospow Sunday Society, by the Hon. Roden Noel, in St. Andrew's Hall (the largest meeting place in the city). His subject was "Byron," the chair being taken by Professor Nichol, of Glasgow University. Naturally, a number of off above the knees. The legs were wound round with white hoen stuff, and the feet had no shape at all. They , ended in a long, thin boot-shape, as one sees in pictures of the time of Chaucer. The lines was twisted all round, and about the knees it was thicker looking. I had fully tune to see that, as they glided slowly behind the wardrobe. They looked as if they had come fresh out of the grave.

As soon as I had heard that horrable voice the Countest put her hand on my shoulder, and, in a very frightened voices, said. "Now, tell me, did you not hear any voices, I holding private circles, seek permission to attenu one to see how to now! Why do you look so frightened! is there anything in the dressing-room!" I did not want to frighten bur more, so I got up, and said I would just look in the dressing-room. I thought I heard somebody calling. So I looked outtously all round, and when I came to the wardrobe I found that it was pushed close up to the wall, although when I my the less sliding behind it, it looked as if it stood two or three inches off, as I could see dutinctly a space between the wardrobe and the wall. I came back and told the Counters, positions, round as ancovered table of convenient size. Place the I must have been mistaken about some one calling as no one was to be seen. I sat down once more and played one of those beautiful hymn tunes which always seemed to mothe the Constess, and whenever I shid so she said that she voices the not enture her so much.

One evening we had all been very meery and my mother told some speedotes, and finally ordered me off to bed at 9.30, as usual. I went rather reluctantly, as I never liked to be alone till site came. However, I went and when I look a for the matches to light the candle it seemed and a whole alectric battery had got loom. It cracked with electricity all over the room, and when my candle was lit it was just as if some one pincen was making fun of me. First it crucked plose by my ear, then near the writing table at the foot of the bed, then again a see to my ear, once in my right, and once in my selt car So I determined to fetch my mother, and let her hear the electric battery, and when I went to the door it was worse than before. When my mother came just a few sounds were levard close to her our and then all was quiet. It felt like the calianess after a Market St.

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

The following is a list of en ment persons, who after sensons investiga on have savisfied betweeness of the reality of some of the phenomena general known to the deepl of Spor matrices

N. I. An as cross a prefixed to those who have exchanged bettef for know mige Science.-The Earl of Crawford and Basearres, F.R.S., President It VN W Crookes, Pellow and Gold Menalist of the Brian Secreta, C. Yarle, F., S. C.E., A. R. Warmer, Co. riminer Nationalist, W. F. Barrott, F.R.S.E., Professor of Physics in he I ova. ollege of Science, Dublin : Dr. Lockbart Robertson ; *Dr. J. Ellistson, P. R.S., sometime President of he L. va. Men eal and Chirurgical Society of London. "I intersor ste Morgan sometime President of the Mathematical Society of London Wm. Gregory, F.R.S.E., sometime Professor of Chemistry in the Laivenity of Edinburgh; *Dr. Ashburner, *Mr. Rutter, *Dr. Herbert Mayo, F. R.S., &c., &c.

*Professor F Zöllner, of Leiping, author of "Transcendental Professors & Professors & T. Professor and S. L. Professor & T. Professor and S. L. Professor & T. Professor and S. L. Professor & T. Profess Physics, &c. Professors ( T. Lechner Scheisner am o 1 Canalle F accountion. Astronomer &c. Ac-

S. C. Hall serald Massey Captain R. Burton Professor Causi, LL.D.; "Lord Brougham; "Lord Lytten; "Lord Lyndhand; "Archbishop Whately; "Dr. R. Chanthers, F.R.S.E.
"W. M. Thackerny; "Nassau Sensor; "George Thumpson, "W. Howlt; "Serjeant Cax; "Mrs. Browning, Hos. Roden Nock, | Jon., Mon.

Bishop Clarks, Rhode Island, U.S.A.; Buries Lynnan, 1 S.A.; Professor W Beston, Professor Alex. Wilder; Profewor Humm Comon ; Professor George Bush , and twenty-four Junges and ax-Judges of the U.S. Courts; Victor Hugo; Beron and Barowest von Vay ; "W Lloyd Garrison, S.A. " Hon. *Hon. J W Edinonds, & S A *Eper Sargeot "Baron du l'otel "Lonnt A. de Gasparin "Baron L. de Guidenstünbe, &c., &c.

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

The Conduct of Circles.-By M.A. (Orth.)

If you wish to see whether Spiritualism is really only jugglery and imposture, try it by personal experiment.

If you can get an introduction to some expedenced Spot maist, on whose good fully you can rely, ask blue for a view him the is conduct stances, and what to expect

There is, however, difficulty in obtaining access to private circles, and, in any case, you must rely chiefly on experiences so your own family sircle, or amongst your own friends, all strangers being The a 'k of Stora in it's have gained conviction than,

I orm a circle of from four to eight persons, half, or at seast two negative posser e temperatuent, and preferands of the female sox, the rest of a more posit to type.

Sit, positive and negative alternately, secum against disturbtheo, is subjusted light, and in comfortable and anconstraints palars of the hands dat upon its upper surface. The hands of each sitter need not fourh those of his neighbour. Though the practice is frequently adoptest

LIGHT.

Do not concentrate attention too fixedly on the expected manifeare one. Purpose or meetin by not anyohous come sortion. Avoid dispute or argument. Scopifeton has no deterent effect, but a littler spirit of opposition in a person of datermined who may totally stop or decidedly suspeds manifestations. If convenients flags, made is a great help, if it be agreeable to all, and not of a kind to irritate the sensitive our. Patience is essential, and at may be necessary to meet for or twelve thuss, at skort intervals, before anything occurs. If after such trial you at. Inil, form a tresh circle. Lucis as the reason of our a see chanacte he these more consistences is, which has a men others. An hour should not the burst of an innercessful water.

The lost twice was of success it unlly are a cold breeze producover the lands, with its observe watching of the hands and arms of some of the autem, and a news non of throbbing in the table. These indications as his so sayships as to cause with an to their reality will assume devices with more or loss rapidly

I the table noves, he your pre-sure be so genute on its sat-face that you are sittle in a constanting a maximum. A let some than you will probably find that the movement will continue if your bands are held over, but not in contact with the Do not however, try this until the movement is assured, and be in no burry to get

When you think that the time has came, let some one take communed of the circle and aut as spokesman. Explain to the unseen Intelligence that an agreed code of signals is desirable and ask that a 10t may be given as the alphabet is slowly repeated at the several letters which form the west that the Intelligence wishes to spell. It is conventent to use a single tilt for No. three for You. and two to express doubt or uncertainty.

When a sixt suctors communication has been comblished, ask if you are against places, and I not, what order you should take After this ask who the Intelligence purports to be, which of the company with medical transmiss relevant message I confusion occurs, escribe it to the dallentry that exists in directing the nessements as free w is exacts one. Untiened will compay this, if there be a real desire on the part of the intelligence to speak with you. If you only satisfy yourself at first that it is possible to speak with an Intelligence separate from that of any person pro-sent, you will have granted man at the same three the same three many take the farm of man. If we are the same code or against and ask as the man become every in they may be among in the code or or in part of the x one where they are remote a risk and prostness or any market ment. On about any who and even uses. So all an arren to be made to cultate the meaning or a I TENATURI. The Far, of Duaragen T A Tenhope a manifest of any violent methods, or by near of our man retained that the attempt may be deterred till you can seems the tions, and that the attempt may to deterred till you can accura the resource of some experienced Spiritualist. If this request a not maded, semicina the stiting. The process of developing a state median as one hat high the meet an inexperienced in a ret increased light will check mass mannesterors. I had y Try the results can get by he light of Reason Manata is a level mass and a clear jungueur. I so not collect overything you are told, for though the great unseen sorthernors, in many a wise and discerning aparts, it also has in it the accumulation of human folly, wantly, and orner, and this lies nearer to the surface than that which is wise and end. Distrust the free use surface than that which is wise and good. District the free uso of great names. Never for a moment abundon the use of your reason. The not enter rote a vert solemn at red gation in a spirit of idle rurness, or friver by the content reverse testre for what papers good are true. You will be repeal if you gain only a went grounder conversion man, there is a "relative death for which a pure and good life before death is lie best and wisest preparation.

PHENOMENA

Measures, who are the instruments of an external agency, have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who deceive by sleight of hand, and in the same manner that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly investigated the phenomena has failed to become convinced of their reality, so no conjurer who has been confronted with the same facts has been able to explain their occurrence by prests ignation. Houding Jacobs, Beluch . Alerma in, Kellar, and others have already confessed

Testimopy of Robert Boudin.

The Marquis Endes de Mirvillo published during the statime of Housis two letters from the satter, in his Me norre addresse a MM les membres de l'Academie des Singles Morales et Pe diques, sur un grand numbre de diennimmen mervidens interespant egylement in Religie in Sentice, et les hommes de Monde," in which the conjurer confestes his matricey to explain the phenomena he wit. nessed in the presence of Alexa, the clarroyant. A circum stantial account is given of M. de M. realle's viert to Houses. for the purpose of engaging bits in this investigation, of the Inttor's confidence in his nwa ability to detect the trick, and of what took place of the same. the cone tions if which were ontirely under Houdon's control. The account a tends over twelve pages, and its accuracy is confirmed by I on a rathe first of the docume to now translated - although very far from accept ug the calogues which M - neggod anough to bestow upon the nor specify and digithat lace is a new countries to produce our fiveof laught one or up, not you as now become not common an decises great to facts above reported are as a concern so de la place marghe, a de mar, a me the the mare I reflect supra the in the more impossing than the both them entong those which belong to object the people and

9 Ropker H ox

A fortught later, M. do Marville received another letter, in which the following, referring to another senice,

"I have, therefore, returned from this admics as ratorioles." not it to possible to be, and personaled that it is afterly aspectible that chance or skill could very produce effects so mundeful (tout a drawing of the quirt in aprecia non-tention I authorise for tompo sible que le homerd on l'adrence pusace practice produire des you, descrair, lo maget any export next attaber, il agrecrhite anne merrellene) .- I nin, Monntour, &

"(Signot), Ronner Houses

" May 10th, 1847."

Testimony of Starry Bellar

Harry Kellar, a distinguished professor of logerilemain, Livestigated the slate-writing phonomena which occurred in the presence of Mr. Egli aton, at Calcust s, in January 1,880 and on the 25th of that countrille as resses a setter to the editor of the Indian Doilg News, in which he und -

" in your came of the 13th January I stated that I should to glass of an apportunity of participating in a seance with a grow of giving air unbassed opinion on to whether, in my ex-acity of a professional prostoligitator, I sould give a natural expannation of offsets and to be produced by spiritual aid.

I am marebles t the courtesy of Mr. Egianton, the a orithagest comes in now in Corrects, and of his best, ble J. Menge at far affording me he proctunity a craves

"It is needless to said went as a sceptic, but I must own that I have come away atterly unable to explain, by any natural menns, the phenomena that I witnessed on Tuesday evening. 1 will give a brief description of what took place.

After describing several successful experiments, Mr. Kellar proceeds -

sayone who described such manifestations under similar car noises. - (Signed) Saxons, Buttaunus, Berlin, December 6th, cumstances. I still remain a sceptio as regards Spiritualism, but , 1877 "

WHAT CONTURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL I repeat my mability to explain or account for what must have teen an into a next force that produces the wording on the state, which, if my senses are to be relied on, was in me way the result of trickery or sleight of hand,"

On the 30th of the same month Mr. Kellar addressed another letter to the Indian Daily Nors, reporting some experiences of another kind with Mr Eginton, and regard-

" In conclusion, let me state that after a most strongent trial nia strict scrutiny of these wonderful experiences I can arrive at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trickery form nor was there in the room any mechanism their powerlessness to produce under the same conditions backdary by which could be produced the phenomena which had what occurs wit jout human sutervention in the presence of takes place. The schinary mode by which Maskelyne and other or in new neutric levels into or the floating test could not possibly a totte te sor which we wen assembled.

The Testimony of Professor Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Licht, mehr licht, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which occurred in Paris through the Brothers Davesport, said .-

Spite of the ameritous, more or less trustworthy, of the French and English journalists, and spite of the facilish joulouses of ignorant conjurers, I feel it my duty to show up the bad furth of one party and the cheanery of the other. All that has been and or done adverse to these American andressa in on a vigotimes with a with right udge of a thing n tal of rate of fall store is a recting of the policy and a start of the conare no masses of the most of the city kinds and it of the science but a nation of eating to be not the state of repute most tell by the two brothers may give stelly true, and belonged of a his disable only of those work respect.

. Moure, Robin and Robert Housin, when attempting to mixto those and facts, mover presented to the public anything buyoust an infantine and almost grotesque puredy of the said phenomena, and it would be only guerant and obstrate persons who could regard the questions surrously as set forth by those guntlemen. If (so I have every reason to hope) the psychical o show, to which I am applying myself at this time, succeed, I a sil burable to establish clearly, and that by public descenting tion, the humouse line of domarcation which reparates medianum tie phonomena from conjuring proper, and then equivocation will a military possible one series a will have to yield to cadence, or a vice with my term parties, deny

I would not a the count come and natural ph support M. W. renkes of Lenger , and then the a post tron preve pur y ur y me ly scientific methods, the existeties of a 'psychic or organization, and also the indivialike to you," &c., &c

Testimony of Samuel Bellachini.

Sacrae Beday a, Court Con area at Berlin, made the following necessation in December 1877

I horoby declare it to be a must action to give decuire judgment upon the a present mer as performance of the ture on measure. Mr Henry Slade, after only one a string and the operations as made. After I had, at the wisk of several highly extremed goo semen of bunk and position, and also for tay own size we tested the physical medianulip of Mr. Slado, in a series of sittings by full daylight, as well as in the greening in his bedroom, I must, for the anke of truth, hereby certify that the phenomenal occurrences with Mr. Slade have been theremainly exercised by me with the minutest observation, and investigation of his surroundings, including the lable, and that I have not in the smallest degree found anything to be produced by means of prestudgitative manifestations, or by mechanical apparatus, and that any explanation of the experiments which took place under the circumstances and conditions then obtaining by any reference to presthlightation waterfully impossible. It must test with such mon of acience as Crookes and Wallaco, in London , Perty, in Borne , Butlarof, in St. Petersburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power and to prove its real y. I neclare, moreover the published opinions of "In respect to the above manifestations, I can only say beyone as to the How of the subject to be premature, and, that I do not expect my account of them to gain general according to my view and experience, faise and one-assed. This, crudence. Forty-eight hours before I should not have believed my declimation, is signed and executed before a notary and wit-

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

" WHATEVER LOTH MAKE MAXIFEST IN LIGHT.-- Paul,

No. 217 -Vot. V

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS

The thredding of Scephistans of the special has been a properly seemed by the property of the

The Editor of "LIGHT" denres it to be districtly understood that he can accept so responsibility as to the character, are the result of some occult power or are proopinions expressed by Cantributors and Correspondents duced by fraud-brook no delay. For these are really Free and courteens discussion is invited, but services are the expression report by M 1 shower communication in the alone responsible for the articles to school their senses are last number of "Lienz," True, he suggests another

THE CREDULITY OF SCEPTICISM

By Monga, Theoreto,

A REJOINDER TO MR. P. DMORE'S CRITICISMS CN. SPLATE MASSEAT HOME.

Refere entering to detail into Mr. Polymore's criticisms, pulgeon the phenomena which I have reported, there are one or two very important preducinary considerations. Mr. mentions that I had in "Liour," p. 205, referred to this as utterly out of the range of ordinary human writing. Podmore writes in a severely judicial, quasi-mientalic style And I submit that in doing so I was perfectly correct. He claims to be the representative of a society for careful verte Jy 1 have a verteen sheats of exemaly button and dispositionate inquiry into these matters; as such he wasting so not a r so near, and so regular, and I do not has made his investigations, and as such he presents his wonyhody who has. If Mr. Podmore knows of such report. If so, I subsuit that he should have given the full or any produce them. Mr. Pedinors admits that the writparticulars of the process of lus inquiry the date when it -g 'is remarkably regular and even, and unusually was made, the number of visits he post, and the time those small, but," he adds, "I mw no specimen which was not visits occupied. If the Society deputed him he will of perfectly legible to the raked eye, and which could not be course have presented his report to the committee for us countries in minutoness and clearness by most educated perhear how the commutee weeved it. My Pod one poses some without may very severe exercise of patience." I supnot as no under ideal. he wears a livery wars a stell and pose Mr. Podutors would class bimself amongst " educated therefore claims for his core may attention in importance which personne." Wolf, I whallenge him-in the presence of a and violativist certainly does not energy. Now I have a not a tree, who shall watch the process—to copy a sheet of lettle right to complem of this, became I find that no offices, this writing, equalling it "in minuteness and clearness recognition of his inquiry exists, and he certainly did not wethout may severe excrete of patients." I venture to may present himself in that especity when he visited me. If I that it will take him more time and the interest of a great had supposed I was being subjected to the solemn and deal more patience than any member of my household has judicial process of a trial before this excellent Society, my a chance of devoting to an act of froud, and that even then attitude would have been different, and my former ceply to he will fail. The writing is so minute that most persons Mr. Podmore would have been modified in important to whom I have shown it have been able to read out two respects. Moreover, the reception which I would have given or three lines without great weariness to the eyes, and if him would have been more guarded, and I would have post they eared to finish it have been glad to avail themselves poned the inquiry, de die in dam, till all matters onb judice of a powerful magnifying glass, which I keep for the purhad been fully discussed. As a matter of fact, Mr. Podmore's, poso. So much for the dependence to be placed on Mr. visit was not of this serious character we were very free Podmere's necursary. I will show the writings to any who and easy together, not at all judicial. He only visited are may be carrious to see them if they will call at my house for once—he has not, so far as I know, made any experiments the purpose on Saturday afternoon next, or any other day to give body or force to his speculations as to the mode in by appointment, so that they may have an opportunity of which the phenomena were produced. I certainly did not judging for themse verprovide him with a becomstrek, with or without pencil As to the writing on the ceilings, Mr Poumore states attached, he made no attempt to write in a style similar to that "that on the cellings of the rooms is, an every case, that on the papers or ceilings which he looked at, but he large and straggling in curious contrast to the tiny and wellcertainly did jump on to a chair in the hall, and found that formed writing on the paper." His object in stating this be could not reach the ceiling by any extension of his very is manifestly to suggest that it is thus large and struggling, long arms! All his suggested explanations are of the ex because of the difficulty of reaching it, whereas if it were post facto order, and quite different from what we have done by an occult power that power would be able to been accustomed to in the accredited investigations of the execute "well-formed writing" on the ceiling as well as on Society which is supposed to decorate him with its credentials. paper within easy reach. To this I might reply that any

I pass og, for the present, Me. Podmore's criticisma on questions of identity, and of mis-spelling in Greek or other messages. These are fair questions for argument and for differences of opinion, and I shall deal with those in my own way and at my own convenience. But questions of fact-that is of the fact whether the phenomena of daily occurrence in my house are normal or abnormal in their hypothesis ... that the fires were lit, the poetry written, the kettles filled, by some person in a state akin to somna o a sm. But this absurd suggestion even Mr. Podmore huntelf is keen enough to see will not apply, and so he not only seeks to show that I am deserved but deli cutely hints that, by the way in which I have " described the process," I have been a party to the froud. Whather the suggrated disingenuousness has been on my part or on the part of Mr. Padinore your readers will be able to scrikingly characteristic of the departed friend by whom : of the recess. professos to have been given. So from imperfect knowledge I come now to what Mr. Podmore, in his "capacity as or heavy storage standing upon a chair "

Speaking first of the "character" of the writing, he

e egir ght bod han, n offic dans. Needloss to say, a as not within the reasa such smaller writing " ! If so, who wrote them ! And this 'test' is described without a hint of its real value." to a vital must who has the modesty to say of the occurrences. report I Verily, Mr Podmore is a puzzle!

have been done weeks before and been overlooked. My reply He jumps at conclusions too hastily in that it had not been done weeks before, and had not been overlooked I know that it was not there when I looked, had examined the paper on which the message was written descrite agencies." before the season began His reply-and it as noteworthy, validity of this test."

afterwards with messages in the same very minute and sacrificed to the "credulity of sceptacism.

power, physical or spiritual, writing on the calling, some regular handwriting already referred to, written, moreover, way out of the range of ordinary vision, would, one would un ruled paper, the lines of which were perfectly kept. If naturally suppose, write "large and straggling," so that Mr Podmore thinks that this was accomplished in the the writing might the more easily be seen. Mr. Podmoro's dark, by an uneducated young woman, and not by shaoresat starement would, therefore, amount to nothing if it were in means, he is certainly an instance of the atter "credulity necordance with the facts-but it is not. We have writing of scepticism," or our medium, who certainly could not do on the ceiling of one of the rooms, small and regular, and the work in the light, is abnormally clover in the darkness

Mr Podmore hastily and eagerly draws false conclusions. a member of the Society for Psychocal Research," evidently Again-anxious to make his preconceived theories fit- prides hinself upon as the discovery of a crucial test. Mr. Podmoro mys "There are, however, two or three He says "Mr. Theobald showed Mr. Hughes and myself sentences on the calling in the hall, and above the lintel of the piece of formiture in question," a private meretaire, the deer, which are regularly and evenly written, and in a "having a substantial wooden flap of considerable thickness, much smaller handwriting. Now, it is noteworthy that the land, apparently, a look of good construction. Mr. Theobald inscribed portion of the coiling in the hall, and the wall , also indicated the precise spot on which he had found one above the electric would be within the reach of a person of of the written messages referred to. When he had again closed and locked the secretaire, Mr. Hughes, in his presence helder a man, careful once on the ride of truth where and mine, pushed bulf-a-sheet of note-paper through the vascertion, he would have cravice at the top of the flap, and by means of a second measured the height of this coiling. I have done so. It is imit-sheet gave it such impotes that it fell on almost the same spot as that already indicated as the locals of the of a person of ordinary stature standing upon a chair "spirit message." This demonstration that the 'test' of the Yet, Mr Podmore, unmindful of this fact, admits that locked secretaire was worthless, occurred before the pubthese sentences are "regularly and evenly written, and lication of the account in . Lours, Jane 14th, in which

Indeed! Why should I hint that the " test " had any which I have from that to time described that they have value when I knew that it had not? Mr. Podmore's visit "appeared strongs only because the observation has been was in March. My letter, in which Mr. Podmore thinks I maconrate or the report erroncens and misleading " | After should have admitted the value of his test, was written in to a worst pe to be thought of his own observation and June. But in the mean time "many things had happened Mr. Hughes, in Mr. Podmoro's presence, had pushed a half-In another case Mr Podinore endeavours to make a good sheet of thin note-paper through the cravice with difficulty, deal out of a very little. I had stated that I was told at by giving it an impetes with another piece. But since then one of our sounces that some were no would be found on the I had found monages there, written on paper which no coiling of my study, at which I had looked five minutes artifies could have get through the erevice-netably one before and found that there was then nothing but a solitary | instance in which it was directly opposite the lock, and written B written three weeks before, but on leaving the scance on a thick sheet of paper trebty folded! And since then again, room I went to my study and found the writing as I had on my birthday (November 1-1th), I had found on my study been told. Wien Mr. Podmore came down he discovered table a short note telling me that a birthday-letter would be the solitary B in the centre of the ceiling without difficulty | found in the secretairs, on opening which I discovered, directly whereas he forled to detect the add trous writing until it opposite the lock, a sheet of paper filled with writing, fedded was pointed out to him, it being much smaller and written not | an four, and enclosed in an envelope! Clearly Mr. Pod. on, but near, the comice, and he thence acques that it might more has not the requisite capacity for psychical research.

The real animus of Mr. Podmore comes out in his concluding sentences, as follows; " Amongst much, however, that and I know it because my sairch was thorough. I have below failed to establish, one set of facts min my judgment at had, during very many mouths, too much experience in least, conclusively proved. On the evidence adduced there discovering writing in most unlikely places to be stupid is attle room for doubt that certain occurrences did take place as described. Fires, we may believe, were lit, kettles enough to sourch without finding.

Mr. Podmore further mays "With reference to one filled, and breakfast tables laid. But phenomena such as message of considerable length, which purported to have these are known to occur in other demestic circles, and Mr. been written within the cabinot-"in an abnormally Theobald has established so grounds which would warrant brief period, we asken Mr. Theobald whether he as in attributing them, in his case, to other than familiar

This is a clear charge of fraud. If Mr Podmore means it as illustrating his attitude towards the occurrence more to attach to myself or to any member of my family, then I fully than anything which I could write-was to the effect throw the charge back upon him and tell him that we are that he had looked into the box, in which the paper and at least as honest, and as sincere seekers after truth, as be pencile, do, were lopt, in order to accretors that there was can be. And if he means the charge for our demestic help, plenty of paper there, if required. As this appears to have I reply that, knowing and esteeming her as we do, after been the only precaution which he took, or thought it ne- many mouths of close observation-acquainted with all the ceasury to take, we need not perhaps further consider the acts of her every-day life, almost with her every thought-I can no more believe her to be capable of fraud than I can Just so. It does not seem to suit Mr Podmore to consider believe Mr. Podmore to be guilty of forgery. Yes,-in the validity of any test very far But it was not the only pre- spite of the protostations of the so-called acceptage mindcantion which I took. The paper in the box had already character does count for something in all matters, normal been secretly marked, as it always is. Indeed, I have or abnormal, and I cannot, without protest, allow the sometimes handed in a sheet of marked paper to the cabinet, character of a young woman, whose benour and integrity and had the same sheet returned to me a minute or two have been fully tested and established, to be thus ruthlessly

Moreover, we have abundant evidence—and I say this for the satisfaction of those who do not know Mary as we do-that the phenomena alluded to are not due, as Mr Pedmore gratuitously assumes, to familiar domestic agencies. I do not care again to detail at length occurrences which I have strendy published. As to the particular incidents alluded to, they occur almost daily, as they have done for how a common chair has been throaded on my arm, while I held many months-often under the direct observance of some member of the family. I myself have once, and my wife and daughter have several times, seen the fire lighted in the day time, "by other than familiar domestic agencies," and my daughter has seen honey articles being carried about the house without human intervention. It may suit Mr. Podmore's mental temperament to my that "the thing is impossible." I reply, "Just so-only it happened, never and that of half-a-dexen witnesses competent to prove any Cheteus ! **

And even if Mary were morally capable of the fraud which Mr Podwore so dippently and careleally suggests, she has no opportunity of perpetrating it. I will record one solitory instance out of many. On one occasion, before going down to the scence-room where all the other normbers of the household had already assembled, I placed a Matthew Arnold says miracles don't happen because he has shoet of blank paper on my study table and left it there. At the close of the sounce I was the first to leave the room, and went straight up to my study, when I found that the paper which I had loft blank upon the table had in the mountains been written upon, the first page being filed with writing. I cannot rough for the whereasouts of the eat on that particular evening, out of which unfortunate circumstance Mr. Podmore may, by the exercise of his worsted ingenuity, succeed in evolving a working hypothesis. Barkas, or New astir as with har bear oil, matter of fact assi either of fraud or of "natural causes."

Mary, it abould also be stated, is never alone; my daughter assists her in her domestic duties, and e-sleeps with her; and the two have quite enough to do to settle the question. We night get up an amounte bed suit, for get through their work. Shala not, moreover, one of those "educated persons" whom Mr. Podmore credits with such wonderful expection. She could not-if her life depended on the fact-execute even a decent imitation of some of the many writings we have had, especially of the sheets of very manute writing already referred to. Since Mr. Podmore's visit we have had ever 300 written meanages.

amongst them writings, in very various styles, in French, Laten, Greek, German. Raratongene, Weish, and old Brittany to say nothing of some messages specially characteristic, and in the very style of departed friends of whom Mary could know nothing. Where could the, even if she had nothing she in the world to do, pack up all these matters I And how and when could she acquire all the requisite information about our departed friends-departed years before we know her -learn their popular characteristics, practise the forgery of their handwritings, and carefully write out lengthy messages, some of which would task ever the patience of one of Mr. Podmoro's imaginary educated persons to copy? Were she entellectually capable of doing a tithe of this she could only do it by alipping out of bed in the dead of the night, leaving her bed-companion unleep and unconscious of the fact. Mr. Podmore suggests that the writings on the lefty coilings might be done by pencils fastened to the ends of broomstreke! A friend at my side as I write this suggests "fiddlesticks1"; but I will not hurt Mr. Podmore's feelings by a joke when he mevidently so school. Mr. Podmore clearly believes that he could write a respectable hand on a ceiling in that way; I would advise him to try. But even this could only be done by Mary, as I have maid, in the dead of the night! And fancy Mary at midnight, unmissed by her companion, wandering over the home in her night-dress, a candle in one hand and a broomstick in the other, amusing herself in inscribing insarages on the ceilings! If Mr. Podmore can really believe all this I than the Mahdi. Happily we have a Spiritualist Gordon—or think I am fully justified in heading this communication Woheley, perhaps, who means to "mussli" him. At all swents, "The Credulity of Scepticism"!

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK

LIGHT.

I haid that no one can to a better service to Spirituation than he who exposes a fraud, or shows how any phenomenous, supposed to be spiritual, sould be naturally produced. I should be extremely obliged to any one, for example, who would tell me the hand of Mr. Eghaton, how writing was done in a wellknown hand, between two slates, which I held out at arm a length in the light between my thumb and fingers, how a drawing, which would take a clover artist an hour to make, was done in atter darkness on my marked paper, in my hearing, in less than a manuto-and a dozen or two of similar " miracles,

Of course, it is open to any critic to reject my testimony, ordinary fact, but by such a process everything unusual or approbable could be discredited. It may be said-it is more likely that a hundred persons should tell a motorcless he, that that a spirit, that is, an invariele, satelligent being, should be able to mandest its existence by what are called spiritual phenomena. But a preconceived theory at to what it possible is amphilosophical. Out of mathematics, anything may hoppen never impressed to see one. Every Spiritualut knows that miracios" do happon, because he has seen there

Of course, at this present writing, I have not seen the reply of Mr. Theobald to the criticisms of Mr. Pedmere, but believing han to be honest and not idiotic -neither a knave nor a feel- 1 ago quel ma tre record de senero es que se de la las trespençosays en escahas store a carefully examined. The more such though are infresh the bear I should be glas for example, to have Mr. to I have part or a successful of the part of the I have When we want on a total in which he facts if Shipping land lett up pulses a communed of a report to communion, which would example, in the Law Courts, if it were not too costly. Or the Royal Society might be induced to appoint a Special Committee,

Or, which may be the best plan of all, we may allow the sperits themselves to manage their own affects, as they have done and are doing all over the world. For example, an indiscretion of a very remarkable medium, some years ago, brought into a London Court of Law a body of test many such as had nover before been gathered. There it is on record in sworm affidavits, ready for use. In a more recent criminal trud the judge saw fit to exclude all testimony as to the facts of Spiritualism, on the ground that they would have no weight with him, and ought not to have any with the jury, though aworn to by a thousand witnesses.

Mrs. Groom seems to have given some very nice tests at Lavarpool. A gentleman hold that her descriptions of spirits were thought-roading, that the only described the departed parsons of whom he was thinking. To remove that objection she proceeded to describe some of whom he because he was not to olding, and thus disposed of his theory. Within the limits of her powers or gifts, this lady has always secured to me a very saturfactory and racful insdium.

One of our "contemporaries" has found a remarka dy ing more a nost. In a thoological mecourac, he says "We are warned against the domain of seasuality introduce upon he spiritual realet,"-domains are always intruding upon realms,-it is a way they have got-"as it has done in our cause, to its great repressed, but the most notorious scandal that has taken place among us has been the work of Papusts, who, undoe the gume of being the servants of Spiritualism, have emiloacoured to be its worst foss." And sa if this dreadful nows were not bed enough, we have a prophecy thrown in. "We may look for an increase of this treachery in the future.

The Pope, it seems, is a much more dangerous personage our contemporary means, at every cost, to reprove both the

- 0

LIGHT.

Pope and the bul multimes. This is clear enough, for he says Balance, who was reproved by his ass, is a type of the unprincipled medium, who is ready to do any kind of directors as for hire"-only I cannot quite see what Balaam can have to do taking the san dictions before we know. "A Somitive," speaking of the Mahda, and of General Gordon, before the fact of the death of and if there is one thing more desimble, it is the life of the may copies entrusted to our care. moble primager as his knowley for his known his worth in changing foot into francia." Now, when Basson made this indiscreet proplanation, where was his and The thintim must have been upon minouly thick.

I connot see why Popery should be demoniced by Spinish nations, any more than any other of the hundred and odd erecoof Christiantom. It is older than most and purhaps as nome. The history of the Catholic Church, and the lives of the same, even the coldest and most carefully edited, are fall of four plates. appritual manufestations. That a priest, history or over a cardona abould denounce, and warn his took against any Sounce nalum antada the Church, is not a matter was Tay strange thing is that we have to little of it. Lost process are the the virgins we read about. Take any tots and with many probable ay find that if five are wise, the other five are foolists, and have me oil in their bunns.

As Spiritualists we need not tremble ourselves in the least about Roman Cathenica. They are necessarily Spiritualists Their literature is full of mirror loan best to a when their faith fails, and they are in danger of lapatity at Materialism that they need new evidences of spirit axistence Our pussion is to Protestants and Infidela. It is to prove to all who doubt or dony a future life that it is a demonstrable fact an unquestionable certainty, as absolute one y of an express team out at Vienna, the other day, and then blow rail your agains with he re assess, solved the probacts for themselves in death last wants by have chart agela tragedy had they known the facts of Spiritualism ! !nately-nine cases in one hundred, our coreners' juries bring In a verdict of temporary mannity—but how in this Vienna case, which may have been a mutual murder? However they managed it, there is not much doubt that they were a couple of possimistic Materialists, who finding life not worth living. resolved to get out of it, and were disappointed, perhaps seery, when they awake to consciousness on the other sale

Mr. Eglinton has gone to Vienna. It is said that he has been on by Bar a H short and that he may show Pen-Randph and the Archibaka Johan the alaboury age to a me by interested Mr. 3 have me Surgeon & energy Workier and Lord Tompson. When the Austran Prince and Areduko kaya had a short course of psychography, they may be ready for materialisations. Even princes must creep before they walk, and have to learn their A B C's before they can read. It as very nul that there is not a Royal road to learning and window nor even to good manners; but no it is! Midlie. Samb Bornhardt, it is said, was obliged to give even an English Royal personage a lesson. Exercising in her presence the Royal prorogative of wearing his hat, while her other admin ora were uncovered, she exercised her higher prerogetive, as a lady, be put all upon an equality, by saying, as she alone could have and it, " Conner-com, memours!" (Tablem!)

Mr. Eglinton, I venture to predict, will not have any repe case nothing was found, after all the searching-nothing in the appropriate least to account for a series of varied materia, scations.

they never saw.

THE CURRENT NUMBER OF "LIGHT"

According to our most penetice, we are not problem open in excount of the actual demand. In view, how with the Pope, or the Pope with Balann , but there is no must be a of the remarkable eveners, for matematication preso ted that week, our salisersbers may arrive to communic " Linger" amongst their friends interested in Spiritualism. Wo From the same source we get another proof of the wiedom of have, therefore, arranged to keep the type standing until Monthe Transationtic band who has warned us against making pro-day next, and, provided a total of 2,000 extra copies are ordered, applications for purcels of " Lutter" for free distribution at the rate of 2s. fel. for every twenty-five copies (postage 6d.) will be the latter was known, says :- "He (the Mahdi) is far too subtle liber. All orders must reach us not later than the first peat on not to be well able to judge of the power that opposes here. Morning, March let. We shall be pleased to circulate

THE CHROMO PLATES.

These will be saucd with " Lacart " of March 7th, and will he sent to subscribers on ony own list and also to those who, obtaining their emplies through Mr. Allen or any other source, made the requests application previous to Jamesry Slat last. When published, a few copies will be on side at the rate of 2s. the set

We regret the delay, but this has proved maroslable. Work of this kind requires great care, and when it came to be proved" it was found that two or more tint stones were country. The total cost of the gift will considerably exceed £50 for stones, drawing and printing. There are four plates (1) A series of "spirit" lights. (2) A "spirit" hand enveloped in drapery, aboung how the latter appears in process of formation. (3) A microscopic hand. (4) An "apparition" (bust).

Those who have past for special packing (0d.) for parcel ent will receive them on reliers. This is the only safe method of transit, folded on poster to organize way rice will on aport to be an or of a few roces an opportunity of he may the processing process of they when the exact and being in every sense of the world works of art. I seems a puty to then damage them.

The two young men who shut themselves in a compartment ANNIVERSARY OBLEBRATION AT CAVENDISH ROOMS.

We gladly comply with the request to insert the following amnonneements. The services are conducted by Me James Burns, of the Medicine a charge sal

In calabration of the 37th anniversary of the Advent of Modern Spiritualism, it is proposed to hold a friendly recases of London Spiritualute, at Cavendish Rooms, 51, Mortinserstreet in American preprint, March 18th. There will be a ten from 6,50 till 7 30, after which the evening will be spent in speeches from well-known friends of the escare, suitable to the occurion, interspersed with music and singing.

I sentended that this meeting be helpful to the New of the Supplement For many Services, which have been so succonfid to me and man to come in Houseas. The offers to carry on these meetings with he was mee of local measure and apendors, and at a minimum expense, promises to be a grandying necess. There are, however, valuable workers at a distance, who would gladly mait us on payment of their expenses if we had a fund for that purpose.

That the proceeds of the Approximacy Celebration may go halv to the fund for austaining the Sunday Services, the expenses are being contributed by kind friends of the cause. Your aid in this work is respectfully solicited, and will be tounkfully recoived by

> Max. Matror, 46, Grove-road, St. John a Wood. Mast. Buxxx, 15, Southampton Row.

Mr. H. G. ATKINSON.- We regret to learn that Mr. rulled, mer door slammed, nor be seized, nor have his person Atkussen presed away on the 28th December last at Bouleguescarcing and his puckets rifled in Vienna, where in the other and Mer He had long been a contributor to the various

We are informed that Mr. Eglinton has given most successful scances to people of the highest society in Paris, including THE influence of men is not confined to the circle of them M. That and M. Detaille, the great painters, also M. acquaintance. It spreads on every aide of them, like the Richet and M. Ribot, the eminent scientists. He has left undulations of the smitten water, and will reach those whom, Paris for Vienne, and letters addressed to the Grand Hotel in that city will find him.

CORRESPONDENCE

February 28, 1883.]

[It is preferable that correspondents should append their names and addresses to communications. In any case, however, those must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good

"The Ring Test, a Proof of the Reality of a Materialisation." To the Editor of " LIGHY."

Six,-In July but I attended a manon with Mr. Hunk, when, whilst taking our seats around the table, it was noticed that a thick, but harrow ring was on his left wrist. He had not informed in of the fact, became, having become somewhat accustomed to westing "bracelets," he mid he did not himself remember the circumstance.

The ring was carefully examined by all present and found to be the identity test ring ones y "Irremstible" in the matter the art matter rates need in order to show the evaluated where of the most constant areas that I must first give a somewhat detailed description of this ring. The internal orcumforence as 7-95 inches (being a trifle wider than Dr. Wyld's ring, No. 1). It can be moved up the arm which is rather thus—exactly five mehes above the wrist-bone. It is of rather course make, plannly welfied, and was passufactured by a scoptical anquires for the purpose of experiment. Hundreds of investi gators have examined this ring in their own louids before the beginning of the scance, and as many have found it over the medium's hand immediately after the gas had been relighted yet there is no doubt as to its perfect solidity , and it is equally certain that it cannot possibly pass over a hund the circumference of which is 9 15 inches, nor our it be urged apwards more than $1 inches.

Now, at the seenes of July 6th, a form (hunt) appeared over the table, and as a tool exposed his nude left arm so far back as the olbow, showing by the light of a luminous siste that no ring are before and - a distant the scatter at it could be heard at intervals are king against be table. Just belove the form (or bust). appeared, it so happened that the modern's arms became violently agitated, the shaking of his hands counting the ring to rattle against the woodwork, not only in a manner audible to those sitting around the table, but sufficiently loud to be hourd in the next room. Nor was the nude sperit-arm exhibited in such a way as to make a careful examination difficult, for it was first associated by the spirit that the test would be given. All present being prepared for the event, were carefully watching the alow removal of the drapery. The uncovered fore-arm was placed upon the about of luminous paper twelve inclina long, and kept in that position for at least twenty seconds. The illuminative power of the paper, which bendes being nearly new, had been exposed to a long day's supphine, was very good that evening. At the conclusion of the scance we all found the identical test ring on the medium's left arm

Dr. Wyld's rings which I have seen on Mr. Husk's wrist, the first some three weeks ago, the second but Sunday evening, are thinnerthan the medium's own test-ring, which would to the scop! cal mind render the welding, whilst on the wrist, a greater power bility than would be the case with the thicker one. But to these who might perhaps entertain such abased ideas I would aimply suggest that they should souls the question by their having the operation performed upon thesasely on.

February 17th, 1686. Р Кистеплен.

. . . To the Editor of " Licity."

See, -I am sorry to find that I have not made my argument quate clear to "W N." He mys that, according to my your, "a moracle happens whenever I take up my pen from its position of

This wa totally incorrect version of my dectrine. I expressly defined a nursely to by the result of the intercention of some superhumen intelligence. Now, as there is nothing " superhuman " in "W N. 'e" use of his pen, I fail to see the relevance of his illustration. He has mixed up together my definitions the word " certain" in the sense of known, regular, and sacertamabie

"W E." thanks that in the miracle cited by me, of a man W. N. "thinks that in the mirade cited by me, of a man walking on water with the assistance of angels, the water might compolation—the thought that many kindred spirits, though be dispensed with as an element in the performance. Possibly, unknown to him, know and love him and participate in his but if "W N." should ever be required to help an infirm person sentiments.

jacapable of walking alone, "W N " would probably autover the ground to be a considerable advantage in conducting the openhou. I have no doubt the angels referred to would old the water equally serviceable. How does "W K a regument gasmight by by dispersing with the water? The incine wol a man injaman ra y carried grough the air is surely as misculous as being helped to walk on water.

The plante "supernatural" quanties and governs a ony munents on miraculous intervention, and I, therefore, see little occure for "W R. " manpprehension of my moning

"W N " says, ' There is no room for miracle in a densum of law, and this domain is co-extensive with the universe." Preenacly so the que in this is notice there are two in worses. the material and the spiritual actions with meet factors the zone of miracles. There may be "confusion of thought apparent in this assessmen, but I fancy this confusion is not on ary side. I hope your readers will not consider my explanation too elementary for the occasion. - Yours, &c.

London, 14th February, 1885.

TRIBEST

A Deserving Case.

To the Edular of " LIGHT."

Sin,-My object in writing to you is to sak the kind help of readers of "Liour" in a case I have just been investigating

Mr. John H. Pollen, a young man and Spattanust, line been ent of employment for some time and is in great distress. He is well educated, our speak and correspond in the French and Dutch languages, does not mixt what amployment he is given can do freehand throwing, and would be content with a small remuneration so as to emble him to live. Can anyone help him in that way ? He can only take light work as he is not of a strong constitution

Not being able to write personally to all friends who know me, I sak you to meert this letter in the next issue of your was not if We was . . . . . . . . here was he can on the medium a paper, solitoting contributions towards the support of J. H. Policy until he can get into some employment. He is now antirely without means, and will feel grateful for any sat of kındırom oz halp giron han

May I beg the kind assistance of our numerous friends and Spiritualists in this case! I shall fool greatly obuged for any mount.-Yours sincerely, Lilian Vada, Hendon, N W (Mas., M. A. Eventte Fubruary 21st, 1885.

BPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

Gasenw -The hurden of last Sunday's labours at the Spiritualism' Hall here develved wholly upon hirs. Wallis, her husband monowhile filling organients elsewhere. At the morning saures her guides discoursed on "Mediumship to Kespanialia, nos una Dungera, anni sorceoste, an mapar ang u maand a said or one can no countried. Thems of a well-the effects to ostablish repport with the spirit world. Eleving warned their heavers that the doors of medicinaship once opened must useds e well gone all or in agratingly of pure aspiration and goodly at a the guides waxed alonumit as they preceded to speak of the energy offices of mechanishap, and the claim the world had upon those who possessed the gift developed into unclulress. After the discourse, which by the way, was delivered with wonderful case, fluency, and greec, came "Merando," who may be described an Mrs. Wallin's spiritual "right hand supporter. Has style being conversational, an opportunity was afforded for a general expression of thought and optmon, during which it was ande known that the services of both Mr and Mrs. Walls, as well as of their sperit friends, were at the disposal of all who stood in most thereof for the purpose of smisting in the developmont of private circles. Then followed " Verna, who conveyantly described the spirit forms, whom she could perceive a thin the semmathetic sphere of many of the persons comprising the ecanon. The public meeting at 6.30 p.m. was addressed on the subject; "Salvation, Why, When and How?" After an invoeation countries in anguage at once symple, impressive, and sturitually elevating the guides of Mrs. Wallis delivered a most a gorous and successful secourse on the theate. - Next Sunday of miracle and law, and massed the combination. I use Mr. E. W Walls "Answers to written Questions; or, Matters pertacong to Spiritual am Sr Maxio as to be addressed to

THE EDITOR OF LIGHT.

4, AVE MARIA LANE.

DONDON. E.C. All Communications to be addressed to

SUBSCRIPTO NOVIEW

The Appear Subscription for "Lating," just free to any address within that I must kraighten, or to place comprised within the F starting, including all jurks of Europe, the United States, and British North America, in 10a, 104, per gamma, forwardes a new office in additional states.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC. "Tagert" may also be obtained from E. W. ALLEN, 4, Ave Marin-lane, London, and all Buildellers.

Light:

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 18th, 188-

AN "APPARITION" FORMED IN FULL VIEW

BY SEVERAL WITNESSES.

Laurhie

Mrs. W. Eculyton

By JOLN'S, FARMER

Імпері стопу Веманов

commercia, circles all over the globs, but who wishes to unvarying willingness of Mr Eginton to place every facility preserve an anonymity in this matter, I was, some three months ago, placed in a position to commoned experimental research in connection with what is commonly known as I form manifestation," or "materialisation." I have long and persistently urged upon Spiritualists the necessity of regular and systematic investigation in these matters. Hithertothe evidence, with one or two notable exceptions, has been chiefly apasinedic in character, and important closs not evening, Pebruary 17th, at 11, Langham-street, W having been followed up as they were presented, a perplaxing meanipletoness characterises much of the evidence brought forward in support of the most deliente, as well as the most wonderful, of the many phases of psychical phanomena-I am not unmindful of the close scratmy and the rigid seven take mothods brought to bear upon the subject in the past by | thuster tests. such observers as Mr. Alfred Rassel Wallace, Professor Crookes, and others; but, since their inquiries, ten or a dosen Years have empsed, and, with the course of time, vast straces payer seen made not only in the character of the phenomena but also an elegand to the method audonted in their investigation. Thursfore I believe myself to be well within the bounds of truth when I say that my own narrative, and those of my follow-witnesses, contain valuable ade-tions to our present stock of knowledge. This is more especially the case when we remember that, since the experiments conducted by Mr. Widlace and Professor Grookes, no regular course of study has been engaged in-even by Spiritualists, who, of all people, should have been the first to recognise its absolute necessity and paramount importance. It is needless to discuss the cause of this, many reasons are obvious. It is sufficient now to emphasise the fact that it is only by such regular and searching inquiry that we can hope to estabhale our phenomena upon a firm and unassarlade basis.

Practical experiment has fully justified this position. Short as this somes of someex bus seen, there has seen obtained, in my view, an incomparable result. I by no means wish to infer that we have exhausted the question. Personally, I am inclined to the belief that our experience, remarkable though it is, has been confined to the more threshold of the inquiry, and, although the course, the cost of which has been defrayed by the kind friend already referred to, will soon be ended, I hope others will be so interested in a complete investigation of these marvels, that a continuation of research will be possible and practicable

A series of twelve seances were arranged for with Mr W Egimton, now of 11, Langian-street, W. Of these, nine have been given to circles varying in number from more to fourteen persons, exclusive of the payetne. We have taken into account, as a working hypothesis, the existence of an intelligent force external to the sensitive. Such a position has in no way militated against the full and free use of reason and common-sense, indeed my experience has been that, by this method, I have been enabled to establish a bond of sympothy between myself and the medium which has proved of inestimable value in the conduct of the inquery, and I know my experience has by no means been ungular. By this means it has been rendered possible for us to regrest ernoun! experiments discuss perplexing features and incidents in I fact, in every way to speak fully and freely what has been in our much, and to obtain marction for the employment of such recoveres as seemed to be desirable in order to settle most points.

Space forbuls my entering into a discussion of all the details of the course of senners here and now. Suffice it to my (I aprok for mynelf alone) I entered upon the inquiry in a frame of mond which I can only festive of one of suspension of judgment on some part culars, and a reasoning scepticism with regard to others, w are on some points I was in a state of after disbelief. Now, although I have by no menas arrived at ful con-Through the generasity of a gentleman, well-known in viction on all the questions at much, the uniform and for investigation before us, and the patient, current co-operation of the "sentient forces" working through him, have removed many doubts, shaken my accepticions, and in some respects given me an absolute convetion.

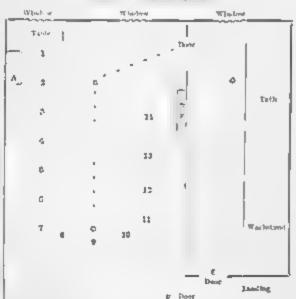

It is its regard to the latter that I desire to write now; other matters must be left for future treatment.

The math coarse of the series took place on Tuesday

Plan of Seattre Room, Constitution of the Circle, and Position of

Upon reference to the accompanying diagram it will be seen that the events described below do not depend upon

PLA OF SLAVER ROCK

Samer and Post, our of Majorate of the Carely -

- I. HER KERETTE, LIBER VILLE, Highler a HIR, Hersher, N. W. 2. HE. F. Ornson Kranger, Resp. Ville, Topich End, Flockber, N. W. 2. HE. F. Ornson Kranger, Resp. Ville, Topich End, Flockber, N. W. 4. E. Viller V. Green Ville, Endelser, Britan, Receipt, N. W. 4. H. Wertham, S. Anson Frank H. Hersher, R. S. W. 5. H. H. Wertham, S. Anson Frank et allege, E. C. H. S. Farano, S. Frank et al., Charles, E. C. Mar B. A. Farano, S. Frank et al., Charles, E. C. M. B. M. D. P. Volveck, R. S. Lerbury Ramb, W. B. Mr. D. Volveck, R. S. Lerbury Ramb, W. B. Has Farance, Mongham

- n. dies Farmer, Maugham Street, W. R. Mrs. Madulant, Langham Street, W. R. die Johns S. Farmer & der Mucha Lane, E.C. 22 Mr. R. France Louarth House Holder's Hill, Hensian J. Mas. France, Langrid House Holder's Hill, Hensian & Mins. Roughs, Rose Villa. Church Ebs. Flackley S.

doors leading on to a landing and into a bath-room, the at first on his right aide only, but just previous to the next latter also opening on the landing. The doors E and F stage of the process, on his left side also, finally fluttering all I locked, securing that at E, leading from the bath-room to over his broast. Upon the last turn these disappeared, and the pessage, by pasting postage stamp salvage from the jamb, upon Mr Eglinton taking up his position at the point across the marble shield covering the keyhole, to the panel of anticated in the diagram at B they were not to be seen. All the door. To be doubly sure that while the circle was thus time the breathing of the psychic had been increasingly being held there was no possibility of communication laboured and deep, accompanied at times with grouns. by means of the listh-room door for a confederate with out my knowledge, I made private marks on the door and door-post to indicate the exact position of the stampmalyage, so that, sampling for a moment that it was rumoved to allow the ingress of a confederate, it is hardly possible it could have been replaced so exactly as to deceive subsequent scrutiny. I also examined the bath inside. The The movement of the fingers was such as to draw it at windows-the recess are on the second floor-look out on to Lanchematreet, they are, therefore, duly accounted for

February 28, 1985.,

These precautions are those we had, during our experiments, been in the lealet of observing. Our experience on this reached the ground, covering Mr. Eglanton's left leg from particular evening, however, in no wise depended on these precautions.

The circle consuted of fourteen persons, exclusive of Mr. Eglinton. Their names and addresses are given above, and the figure opposite each mass corresponds with the actual position occupied in the circle, as indicated by a corresponding numeral on the diagram. It will be found useful to bear in mind the position of the various witnesses warm reading the avidence, which I hope will be added to my own description of what took place.

Across the door between senuce-room and bath-room was hing two heavy curtains, and Mr Eglinton, when ming the bath-room as a cobinet, mt at, or near the spot marked D.

Amount of Light.

I have always found it difficult to describe the amount of lighterailable for observation. Comparisons are unsatisfactory, and yet I know of no means by which the amount of light our be accurately gauged. On the present occasion I can only my that, though the gas hurner at A was turned low, compared with the light actually used for lighting purposes in a small room, yet it was sufficient to enable me clearly to pheery prerybody and everything in the spartment. When the form that appeared we ked to the spot at which I was sitting No. 11) and stood before me, I was able distinctly to note every fenture; indeed, were I to see the same face amulat. the crowds of Rogent-street, I should poutevely be able to ide tify it Moreover the night was a " ight" one, and although a " long " olino was drawn down over the window at the back of No. I setter, yet a considerable amount of tunity for prolonged and careful scrattary. Upon his shaking by turning out the gas, and by this light alone I was able to distinguish the subjects of pictures on the walls, being, however, anable to read the latter of some of the engravange It will thus be seen that although the light was technically "low," it was not becaut for the clear and accurate observation of what occurred.

Passing by the preliminary occurrences on the evening in question as irrelevant to the phenomenon of the presentstion of a form, evolved in presence of all the observers and with the saychic in the circle in full view the whole time, I will give my observations in detail. If my reasters will note the position I occupied (No. 11) they will better understand my narrative.

deep trance, Mr. Eglinton paced up and down the space more or less. It is obviously impossible, however, to state formed by the circle. He was restlessly spatnedic in his this with any degree of accuracy, and I only mention it to povements, and his hands, at times, convulsively clutched show that its appearance was entirely different from that of different parts of the upper portion of his body. Twice he Mr Eglinton, who will attain his twenty-eighth year in July mused, and, approaching Mr. Younger and Mr Taylor, next. made passes over them. This parade lasted upwards of 2. Hospht.—The figure was certainly taller than Mr-

The room is an ordinarily furnished sitting-room with light-in use like a half-crown pieco-was observed by me, Now, standing at B, half sideways towards me, I saw him (Mr Eghnton), by a quick movement of the fingers, gently draw, apparently from under his morning-cost, the top button of which was fastened, a dingy white looking substance, if I may so describe what I have never handled, and of the texture and make of which I have no knowledge. right angles from him, allowing it to fall and hang by its own weight down his left side. As it omerged from under his cost and fall, it gradually moressed in volume until it be kneedow wards, the connecting link between this portion and his size ben g preserved too whole time. The mast of white material on the ground mereased in breadth, and now commenced to pulsate and move up and down, also swaying from side to side, the motor power being underreath the mass of material, and concealed from eight by it. The denominant of the man would be about two feet in height and, say, about three foot in length and breadth but I was not favourably placed to observe the last two dimen mone. Looking at the facts in the light of the result, I should say thou pward pulmtory and the lateral swaying movements were caused by the action of the head of the " form" sterking against the material resting on the floor. The height mercased to three feet, and, shortly afterwards, the "form" quickly and quictly grow to its full height, carrying the above-mentioned durgy white material with it. This, by a quick movement of the hand, Mr. Eg inten draw off the head of the "form," the stuff itself falling back over the shoulders and forming part of the dress of our visitor, it being n some way firmly fixed to the rest of his apparel. All this time the link (of the same white appearance as already described was manetained between the growing "form" and Mr. Pg inton, who had remained in night of all of us during the whole operation. The connecting link was either now completely severed, or became so attenuated as to be invisible, and the "form," with a majorty and dignity one can ill lescribe, advanced to Mr. Eventt (No. 4), shock hands with him, and passed round the circle, treating marrly every one in this same mariner. From my position I had an opporlight came from that source. After the scance I tested this hands with me, I, somewhat loth to locue my group, greated him in this way three times. Passing on to Mr. and Mrs. Pearce (Nos. 13 and 13) and Mrs. Rogers (No. 14), ho crossed the room to where Mr. Rogers (No. 2) was sitting, swook hands with him and those sitting on either side, and then, stepping out into the room, neared the curtains of the lath-room door, re-approached the medium, was was now partially supported from falling by Mr. Rogers, and, taking the psychic firmly by the shoulders, dragged him into

Thus as an accurate account of what I observed of the actual formation and disappearance of the figure. I will now don't with other points of interest

Characteristics of the Figure.

- 1. Age .- The " form " was that of a man of middle age Coming from the inner room, apparently in a state of Judging by usual methods, I should put his ago as fifty,
- five minutes, during the last three of which a brilliant Eglinton-upon actual measurement four inches. I docated this by stong the statum y means of objects on he walls and afterwards comparing the height of the medium in the mane manner. Another means of testing this fact was afforded on two occasions, when the "form" and the psychic were stanting

the other way

mouth was hidden by a full growth of dark hair on the upper and lower has and clan The beard, also dark, but tanged with grey, was long and flowing, divided in the broad and the head was well set back upon them. The feet observation. The hand to the touch was warm, seft, and longer, and its grip was firm and hearty

". Glothing. - The "form" was apparelled in a white, flowfolds upon the frame of the figure. That portion hanging bka a hood from the shoulders, and which formed the colour and more substantial to the sight than the rest of the 6 Other Characte onton. The whole forms was full of I fo and an mytor. Though it did not speak, it clearly | drugs that of any human hand unarracood and responded to every request made to st Gratification was indulatably expressed by the face at the success of the experiment. A careful solinitude was apparent on account of the medium. Twice when the latter was staggering to the ground, the "form" turned away from the circle towards him and grouped the white connecting link between them, which again became visible towards the close in which we sat. There they shood for a messent, the "form of the experiment. After the "form" had had a separate existence for some manutes, the medium, atil in a unconscious state, again draw forth the white materia. above-mentioned from his side and under his coat, and stratched it out towards the "form," which eagerly grasped

Another noteworthy feature is the distance the "form" receded from the modium. The farthest point reached was ten foot, as represented by the dotted line in diagram. from B to C. The distance from latti-room door to B was a x feet. It must however, be borne in mind that the dotted know from B to C do not represent the track taken by the form it approached within six nelses of nearly everyone in the carele

When the medium lad returned to the bath-room, water was asked for by means of rappengs, and upon my entering the room with a glass of water, and while familing in the dark to reach Mr Eghuton's mouth, I full a "form" by my aide, and my arm was gently guided.

The next day I wrote to each member of the circle, asking them to write out and send me an independent account of what took place. This has been done by several of the witnesses. It will be noticed that on some points of detail there are differences of opinion. After careful purusal, I radino to the belief that these errse from the different positions occupied by the various witnesses. Those present at this senses who have not sent independent accounts of what took place, authorise me to state that they, after reading had previously been examined by m and the outer door secured. the reports, approve of what is here written as a correct Apparently entranced, he walked rapidly and repeatedly up and

By Miss H. WITHALL

Miss Helen Withail writes -

Mr. Eglinton entered the room where we were sitting from side by side, both being firmly planted on the ground. The Ho walked several times up and down the circle in a restless, estimate obtained in this way tallied with that obtained in excital manner. This continued for about five or loss minutes. During the time he went twice to Mr. Younger, and once to Mr. 3. Face.-The features were regular, full, and animated. Taylor, making some pames over them. Whilst he was walking. I distinctly saw the forchead, eyes, nose, and cors , the I saw on his right side a small bine light, like an electric light This light was not constantly there, but was evanescent. Mr Egin on then stood at about a distance of four feet from these nearest to him, and we my a white raperous ashcontre, and fed upon the chest. The eyes were deeply act, in constant action, just as if he were drawing this sobstance out and the forehead high. The hair on the head, though dark of hissielf. It quickly increased in quantity, and gradually in colour, did not appear to me so dark me that of the reached the ground. There it seemed to rest, and increased in bulk, being, as it were, pushed out by some fures in the interior * Figure -Ti s was mass vely on it was appeared sould a the grow in hought, until an upward movement divided the and substantial. When passing rooms the reliable treat, and states, it not p, and suddenly there stood before as a "form" though unloard, was distinctly felt. The shounders were in house where it and a re-collect than Mr E-mitten by to or tyree delies . Le hin in every feature with I saw were naked, but I had no opportunity for further natural to the eye, dressed in a loose white garment, now no a regor reporous, but appearing of the consistency of a rather thelige, and a though as broad at that of Mr. Eglinton was thick muslin. At this time there was a connection between the "form" and Mr. Egimton, which consisted of this reportus inbatance. This connection, I am told by others, was, for a ing robe, fastered round the waist by a girdle. It hung in time, several, but was afterwards re-connected. My own ob servation is faulty here, as my interest for a moment was absorbed in Mr. Eglinton, who was now standing close by mo, concepy under which the "form" was made, was darker in a stray developed as a term has a new he unite away and I feared was becoming too exhausted. As soon as the "furni from the accition and united round the circle, shaking hance with seronal of the citters. He held my hand, together with that of the guntleman sitting next me, and his grasp was as

It is difficult at such times, whose every nerve and every feel my had the extrement tension, to say how time passes, but I should magine that the "form" was present with as from five to eight minutes. When the last shake of the hands was given, Mr Egianton as by a strong attractive force sommed drawn to the "form," and the two closely together walked towards the small adjoining room, separated only by a curtain from the room enterting Mr. Eg. on with tender care, passing behind the artime, and vanishing from our aight that prove form speed, or what you will, had come and gone, and often trace of al. Il has come note human along before our eyes, and had left as to all appearance as perfectly formed as mortal man; for the time eron stronger than the medium; but in a few montents he was not , he was gone, whither we can-

The amount of light during the seasos was small, but it was ufficient to tall the time by our watches, and from my position, the gas jot being close behind me, I could see the features so clearly and plantly that I should have had no difficulty in recognizing them, had I previously seen or known the " form."

This is a statement of facts, in they appeared to me on the men ora de evening of the 17th Pobruary 1 am gial I was present at, as I suppose, one of the most marrellous sonness that

By Mr. H. WITHALL.

Mr. Henry Withall sends me the following account:-

The amount of grounglet under which the following material is ing phonomena occurred was in real ty mean out large in this parison with what has been historic all were at most wearen. t c k nd. The sitters were visible to one another, and the various is posts in the room could be seen. The light was also stifficient to mable one, at a distance of twelve feet from the lamp, to just see the time by his watch.

Our souts were arranged in the form of the letter U. with the side extending about the feet beyond the other. The use lance between the arts on facing each other was agout att fee-

At the communecement of the latter part of the seance, Mr. Egunton entered the room from the adjoining apartment, which down between the two rows of sitters, stopping once or twice to make passes over two persons. All this time patches of light had thus been obtained, and increasing quantities descending a perhaps, phosphorescent than electric. He was much agitated, and nervously moved his hands about as if in great pain. His breathing was also very laboured.

February 28, 1865.]

Mr Eclinton was now standing between the two end atters, and there issued from his left aidea isombraneous substance sometion or maleria seation probably occupied four or five minutes.

The meterialised spirit was as real and substantial as any of the sume material about his want. His head was uncovered, this figure could have been recognised by suyone who might have known him in parth-life.

He greeted us, shaking hands with most of us, but was enable to speak. All this time Mr. Eglinton appeared to be dragged helplessly about wherever he was led by the attenution of the form, and would have fallen if not supported by one of the

Visality and strength characterised the naterished sperit. and weakness and helplessness the seed our

After remaining with m a few minutes, the materialised spiral, approaching the medium, from whom he had at times been dir ant light to ten foot, but him, supporting him all the tune, into the adjusting room and both were hidden by the

After a few manutes Mr Eglinton was found nonscious, but completely exhausted, our spirit visitor gone or at basis invisible.

By Mr. P. M. TAYLOR.

Mr F M. Taylor's account at as follows .-

By raps we were told to lower thought a little, which was done. This was the fewest point at which the light was during the whole of what follows, and it was quite sufficient, as was practically ascertained, for the gentlemen who at ferfice from it to see the trust by their scotches. The light was opposite the opening to the inner room.

Mr Belinton new came from the inner room and som menced restlessly pacing up and down the space between the sitters, at first slowly, than more rapidly, once or twice touching the beads of the two sitters as before. For some tornates he encomingly pased, never leaving the circle, and was under full observation by all. From hoad to foot he was visible, chain and pendants, his dark, close-fitting morning cont and buttons, dark tronsers, and pale face being capable of the closest scrutary by all present as he passed them or stood stell.

It was noticed by several present, as he moved to and fro, that a very cold wind accompanied kins, so much so m to be unconfortable and challing.

His breathers became much deeper and quicker, and he acomed in considerable pain , the pace was then slower, the guit alightly unsteady; the breathing became very hurried and deep, accompanied with growns, and as he now stood between the two sitters and within three or four feet of each of them, with the gas-light felling on him in front and the light from the window at his back, a small white spot became apparent at has side by the heart, as it were between wasstoost and cost. The breathing was accelerating every moment, the white spot increased and sproud to the edge of his short cost at side and front, forming, as it were, a white liming. The material could now be clourly soon. As it was oralred every moment in increasing volumes, the medium with his hands drawing it in abundance from hum, it fell in folds on the curpet, a beautiful anowy mass, some three to three and a half foot across, energing his foot in front, and in full view of the extern. After a considerable amount were intermittently appearing on Mr. Eginton's left side, more, pulsating suprement was observed in the centre of the mass. the whole seemed to rise a few inches and fall, as though inflated, the medium's foot and lower limbs being motionies. As the material descended from his side the mam, rising each tame, became greater, till the centro assumed a rounded shape, the size of a coccompat, and reached not quite to the height of the thing like very pale yellowish smalls. This by degrees increased knoe. This ball, as it were, then commenced awaying laterally, in length until it reached the ground. He now lifted his foot on to as wall as pulsating , the insterial from the side descending now the boltom rail of a chair close by, and the material, or whatever it in greater quantities, the pulsating mass widehed out on each was, was now supported by his leg, which seemed marrounded by under few inches below the centre ball, and the swaying moveit as with a canopy. Betteath this, upon the floor, there now ment became much more marked, at each movement in secured some force busy at work, weaving or arranging some- crossing in height till it reached the medium's want. The thing, and, forcing up the emopy little by little, raised it until it highest portion new because substantial, and lost the thin gautewas about four foat high. Thu, suddenly parting, revealed to like appositures at had hitherto assumed. After awaying rhythwe the fully formed figure of a man standing about four melos miscally for some moments, it gradually became higher than the tailer than Mr. Eghuton, but still attached to him by the most medium, and stood a lattle to his left, when the upper folds of brancous substance which first appeared. This process of evolv- the gauss fell over, and to the amazement of all process there was the maseria form of a full-grown man, and in another mutant the features were destinctly visible. The hands came from the side homen being, and indestinguishable from one. It was elethed at of the money. It was within some six inches of the medium a long pure white garasont rescalding fine muslin, with a hand. The moment the hands became visible they seased the material maring from the medium's side and pulled it his hair was very dark brown, thick and ourly, with board out rapidly and energetically (Mr. Eglinton drawing it out decided each ado of the chan. If the assumption of morta, form, from himself). So eager seemed the spirit form that the material necessarily follows upon the lines of the original neutal body, parted, and in a moment he caught the portion projecting, and again commensed drawing more. The figure ewayed for some time as if not quite stonely. It was observed that the materia. was, however, sufficiently strong to apport both it and the medium in upright position. The 'form," then, with a motion of his hand scross the insterial severed his connection with the

The form," thus built up and brought into existence in our presence and under our very eyes, was a man about forty-five to forty-six years of age, come life, 10in high, broad and strongly built, large shoulders, well set back, dark hair, ful. large black board, eyes somewhat sunk and apparently dark, clothed from shoulder to fast in ample folds of the white game-like substance. He gave one glance at the medium or though to satisfy himself of his enfety, and then should hands with Mr. Everitt, and, walking round the drele, shook hands with mearly all. The "form" seemed as pleased as we were. When he tions to no, I rotained possession of his right hand, shaking it most amongstreatly some time, while he was shaking hands (his left) with the lady next me. The hand was well-made, smooth, warm, and slightly moist. He walked to the extreme and of the circle, a distance (by measurement) of ton feet from Mr. Relation. After remaining with us some minutes, he passed towards the medium, shook hands with those at that and of the tuons and then seized the medium, and took him into the bathcom, the curtain planing bohind thom.

The chief points of this memorable sitting are :-

Let. The number of eye-witnesses present-fourteen adults. 2nd. The amount of light under which it took place-enough t any part of the circle to see the time by a watch, at least.

3rd. The ned up a whole bedy being in full view the schole of the time the figure was forming.

4th. The gendual formation of the material and figure.

6th. The total distinction and disamilarity of person and ersonal appearance of the "form" and the medium when both ere under the closest observation at the same time

6th. The life and animation of the "form"—the surried sont ion of all its movements.

7th. The solulity of its substance and the atrongth it

8th. During the swaying movement, both the hands of the redimen were in full view, and did not approach at any time the awaying mass.

9th The " substantial " formation was gradual and even. 10th. The features became viable very suddenly

III. The figure, when fully formed, was within a few (six recyon) inches of the medium between the and one of the sittors and observations could be made of the space all round there by those sitting in circle.

19th. The cartains across the opening to the inner room never noved in the slightest from the time of Mr Eglinton leaving it to his being taken in again by the "form."

13th. The "form" grew up at first in front, a little to left of medium, and was nearer the circle by a few maches than the med the Whon the "form" somethed itself from the racelium, it this was nometimes relieve, and measures changed to a 14th. The medium, when the spirit approached hum (after Minking hands with us) seemed completely under his power; the cont was not bulged out, and there was no sign of there no many s heavy however, but its perpendicular, and was falling being any quantity of materia. As the medium walked to and ror is spen form" towards the circle, when the "form" serzed Mr. Esbuton and drow Juny behind the curtain.

with The hands and arms were as solution to the man bready attached to the body, as a strong mater of a visual warebe , this I proved by the reaction manner in which I shook his

By Mr T EVERITT

There was sufficient gravitable to see the time by my watch The medium was certion, walking up and down the room, I imercual a bright fluttering light, and then noticed protruding from the left broad of his cost, some white staterial which the mechan soon began to pull out in large quantities. This fell at the carpet. Some force seemed moving under this apparently finish minterial a more solul appearance granually rising until at sat a human being appeared in our miles, who, commencing with me, shook hards with all the mounters of the circle. Mean and M. E. at in was supported by Mr. Regular from falling. The worst in took Man Withall sand my hand in his own after the construency original tank hore of some whate drapping core is at the and the a wide which, to all appearance, could through his buttoned-up cost, and supported him by A while he great status y into my face. This position give me a good apportunity of minutely observing the personal appears as of the specit. He had thick black, bushy hair, with heavy evebrown of the same colour, whiskers and moustache full, with board about soven inches long, slightly "Dundreary." The eyes were black, with a mild and gentle expression. His cheeks were this lock or recidials. He possessed great confidence and approximate an arm of among friends. The parties and expefrom the meson a formed he whole contains of the marit witfinally ambited the medium into the unit orders, are thus order a mant romarka do testico

Br Mas. EVERITT

spirit" were together plainty seen by all. The "spirit shock bombs with, I beneve all in the room. The band was warm and soft to the touch. It was also firmly grapes and shaken by me, showing it to be so duranty out a many substantial "form," He appeared to me about two or three meline taster thus the mediana, and had a short room face brack har hopewatcher. The encountriestaring the whole time was stare the other friends present.

BY ME RICHARD PEARCE.

was still farther in the circle-not four feet from those on each blaish colour, and also moved up and down, and from left to right. At the same time I saw the margin of accepthing white, as if some drapery were beneath his cost, but the fro he began to breathe heavily, and apparently was distrossed He then took up a position at the end of the room, between the curtained autrance to the cabinet and the end sitter (Mrs. Everitt) opposite that entrance. I then saw him pulling with court are a some material from beneath his coal, drawing it out as one might a measuring-tape out of a red. This material in conclusion, it may be stated that throughout these settings fell over his left leg, and he appeared for a little while to be both Mr. Eginton and his guides have done all that lay in the , supporting it with his raised knee; it was opaque, and slightly power to affund us a proof positive of those autounding phenomens. Fellow in colour. As this drapery reached the floor, Mr. heamter coates give any support to it, and stansumed the shape of a small our also a unvertent could be seen within, as if some five thing were there. The nuterful gradually rose to a height of about three feet. and the outline then gave me the improviou that some one was beneath, in a stropping posture, with arms somewhat extended. Gradually, out of this mass of yellowish-white material, there arose the full form of a man. As he rose the drapery (which and apparently formed a screen whilst the encomprehensible to a contaction was got only or warrante but remained give the as a part of the gar next, and one portion one timued to be connected with Mr Eglinton, the connection being. not beneath the cost from whence the material seemed to have been pulled, but through the coat just over the heart. This form," which in every respect appointed to be a portectly developed man, full of life, grace, and dignity, was clothed in what looked like pure white assails, with a band of the came around the waist. He appeared to be many yours older than Mr. Eglinton, and was quite three inches taller ; was well built, had dark hair, moustache, and board. I was not so placed that I could plainly see the features, but I noted a brend square forehead and deeply set eyes. After passing mear the medium, the " form" passed around the ment, shik or hands = h nearly every sitter. He appeared gratified at his success and showed much azimation of manner, but did not speak. He gave me his left hand, while Mr. Parmer was shaking the right. His hoad was warm and the group a pleasant and friendly one. The "form" then returned to the end of the room, where Mr. Estimton was being supported by some of the sitters, and after greeting the friends there he went to the medium, and partly supporting and partly dragging him, they both retired to the Mr. Egiliaton, after walking restlessly about for a few casemet the "form" being by far the stronger and more lifelike monarces, shoul will vary mear too, and began pulling out of . If the two. The conditions under which this are fest storn of any an apprently soft sort of drapery which full a he took piece are ne comfor sound as the entire generalies. floor. In a short to so here a speace, the form of a head very of the phenomenon. Mr. Eglinton and his contract the aighest near the ground while gradiently because surger are more learly, the series of spittings, of which this was the last, aboved every letined, until at last, a fully decrease over approved before disposition to meet any reasonable wish of the sitters, and I feet m, standing spart from Mr. Egienton, The measure one highly gratified that I had the privilege of being one of those

By Mr. D. YOUNGER.

The conditions and what took place are m follows. There were fourteen persons assembled. Mr. Eglaston walked out whiskers, and black eyes. The again from the gas was sufficient from the and rison, apparently in a trance, and came towards value the exters on the opposite sole t see the bane by me, making several passes over my head and towards the exhaust. He then stood about on feet away from the curament any ing away from the oner reconnect a view of all propert. This wall. Bomothopy light a species to but twice which expended or the second time I have seed one form any horse from the same and foll down in a kind of dense cloud towards the floor, spread of Mr. Egl aton. I very gladly add my testimony to that of the larger and larger, until it opened sounder at the top. when a fully formed "figure" of a man, standing, I should judge, two inches taller than the medium, was visible. It was well made and perfectly developed, with black monstache and board. He then stepped away from the medium, beginning on On the evening of the 17th February, I was one of fourteen one side of the oresic, and shook have with nearly every on eithern at a scance for "form materialisation," with Mr | compound it. The grasp of his hand, as I felt it, was fire, Eglinton as the measure. The sitting was hold in a light solid, and moderately warm, but I thought a little classray. His strong enough for each person to clearly one all objects in the face was within aix inches of my own, and I critically emmined From I was some twelve feet from the gas-light, but I read the hat features, which were well formed and handsome, and totally I me by my watch, and could distinctly see the features of those mailte bloom of the medium. When opposite see he would be setting "presite to me. After two materiaused "forms" and about nine or ten feet away from the medium, who was staggerconto not from the roots which served as the campet and recircling and monthing, and hald by one of the sitters, to prevent his again while Mr. Eglinton was invide the same, Mr Eglinton falling. One peculiar feature I noticed was a connection game into the sitting-room and paded restlessly up and down like a band between the medium and the form, and attached to between the sitters, with every appearance of being ill at ease. both. This band appeared to be about two inches in dismoser, As he did so, I noticed a bright light at his left side .. and of a deme, cloudy nature, giving it the appearance of a long

the amount of gas-light at that ever-to-be-contembered adonce

February 28, 1885.]

By Mas. PEARN

I having been present at the scance with Mr. Egunton, beg to hour witness to the truth of the above-mentioned statements made by Mr D. Younger

By Ma. E. DAWSON ROGERS.

to the scance with Mr. Eglunton on Tuesday ovening, the 17th inst. ! I do not propose to offer anything like a detailed report of the phenomena which occurred. That, I have no doubt you, as one of the observers, will supply My object is rather to supplement your report of the chief event of the evening, by placing on record my awa observa tions, in the belief that my position (No. 2) was particularly favourable for correctly noting what occurred. As to the general facts I take it for granted that all the members of the sircle will be in complete accord; but it is quite possible that, in regard to some minor points, those who sat at q much greater distance from the medium than I did, may have formed superfect conclusions in consequence of their less perfect facilities for exact observation light, though subdued, was quite sufficient to enable use to both passed backward beyond the curtan see him very distinctly and to note overy movement with

of what was coming I miw Mr. Eglinton's fingors draw a profusion of fine white drapery reaching from his shoulders small portion of a light-coloured material from under the left to the door. (I did not see his maked feet, though I ante of his buttoned coat. Some one at the other end of heard others my that they did.) Round his walst he were the room called attention to it as a "luminous vapour It a broad band of similar material. He had a time head of was, however, neither laminous nor vapoury, though to a ourly hair, very dark-his head being otherwise uncovered person of defective vision, or sitting somewhat in the shade, broad forehead dark eyes and eyebrows, dark mountach at a distance of tou or twelve feet, and seeing it in contrast | and long dark divided upard. His eyes were full of anima with Mr. Eglinton's dark coat, that mi, it professly be a fair tion, his complexion was somewhat florid, and his face had description of its appearance. But it was, as I have said, a a kindly expression. I saw him so well that I can recal. lubt-coloured textile falcio-and by no means no white, has features custmetly transparent, and governor-like as that in which the figure that Having thus given an exact record of my observations subsequently appeared was clothed. Using the fingers of I leave the facts, without comment, to speak for themselves. both hands Mr. Relinton gradually "paid-out" this material tall it reached his knees. Then, drawing towards him a to ledge, so that his left thigh assumed a nearly horizontal position, and the material, as it gradually descended, fell over these thinks and the material, as it gradually descended, fell over these thinks on the trace where the same the range of as they appear as when a story and the range of as they appear a court of a story leave the special over the ball over the same than a story leave to the special over the ball over the same than a story leave to specially descended. The leavest of as they appear to the same than a story leaves to specially descended to the special over the same than a story leaves the power as a leavest power. small chair which stood near, he placed his left foot on the of the leg thus covered, Mr. Eglinton all this time was disunctly visible.

direction. Just at this time Mr. Egintum withdraw his leg from under its covering, and stood clearly distinct from the material, except that with his hands against his left side he still held the other end of it. Meanwhile—the life to the greatest numbers? Let the widespread misery of the tike motion beneath still continuing—the mass grew in greatest numbers? Let the windpend massy of the height and volume till, when it had reached a height of If her have a much to learn, at hem care of their art of another three feet from the floor, Mr. Eglinton staggered a Let aquiry be free Let us reany have free thought F J little backwards. By this action he drew off a portion of hwary roll of gommer. The "form" did not speak. The commonon the covering material, revealing beneath a fully formed ment of this phenomenon was at 5.45 p.m. precisely, as a gentle living human head, surmounting a large mass of fine man sitting next to me pulled out his watch, and we both naw white drapery. From its then height of about three the time distinctly, and this will give your renders an idea of fact the figure gradually cose in a few seconds till there stood before us amost within reach of me-a tali handsomo living man, about three mehes taller than Mr. Eglinton, who was standing by his side, the only connection between them being the material first seen, one end of which was still attached to Mr. Eghnton's side, the rest hanging in folds from the shoulders of the figure. At first Mr. Egunton clutched with one hand the end of this connection," but left hold of it as he staggared towards need beared his hands to support him, but the "connec-

Will you kindly allow use to say a few words in regard tor was still out manufed for a manufe, as the figure walked off to the other end of the room. While the figure was thus sugaged in passing from one to another of the company I was too much occupied with Mr. Eglinton, in haling to support him, to see what became of the " connection to which I have referred, but I afterwards noticed that it had disappeared.

When the figure returned to my end of the room, I had another opportunity of perfect observation. Having shaken hands with the lady on my left, I took his hand and drew him towards me, asking him at the same time to shake hands with the lady on my right. Kis face showed an in telugant recognition of my request, and he at once complicit

For some two or three mumbes both Mr Egitaton and the figure had been standing before me, when the force of The medium, breathing heavily and apparently in a deep began to stagger backwards towards the curtained door of trance, pased several times up and down between the the side room, and I seized him by the hand to prevent his sectors, a very bright, bluish white light, about the size of a tang. Finding that he stall gravitated in the same balf-grown piece, glittering at his left side, just below the direction, I rose from my sent (afraid to loosen my hole. region of the heart. He then took up his position in an asked our "strange visitor" whether I should help the mediately between me and the curtained decreasy of the medium to the other room. The figure thereupon methoded side room-about six feet from the doorway and four feet me to my seat with his hand, and going behind the medium from myself. The gas lamp was close behind me, and the put his arm round his shouldors and, thus sustaining him,

In conclusion I give a brief description of the " figure Re was a man of middle age, about lift, Din. or fift, 10in White thus narrowly watching him, and having no greet in height, and stoutly built. He was elethed with a

THE DAVISER ROY The rate Prof. Denton quites his Passo

FREE THOUGHT - The Materianit scores the Rengional and Almost us soon as the material reached the floor I the Space and another from the Rengioust and the Space and another from the recent and the floor thought a small corn. These centes who processes to prove all the second trying animal were there, turning its head about in a circular of from all lange not the wind the processes of the same they come the second trying animal were there, turning its head about in a circular

PHENOMENA.

Measures, who are the instruments of an external agency, of trackery or sleight of hand." have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who decove by sleight of hand, and in the same manner that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly investigated the phenomena has failed to become convinced of their reality, so no conjurer who has been confronted with the mine facts has been able to explain their occurrence by prexhdigitation. Houdan, Jacobs, Bellackini, Hermann, Kellar, and others have already confessed their powerlessness to produce under the more conditions what accurs without haman intervention in the presence of

Testimony of Robert Housia.

The Marquis Ender de Mirville published during the lefetune of Houden two letters from the latter, in his Me notre addresso a 3aM. les membres de l'Academie des Sciences Moraies et Politiques, sur un grand nombre de properties mervilleux interesant egalement la Rel gion, la Science, et les hommes du Monde," in which the conjurer confesses his inshifty to explain the phenomena ha wrtnested in the presence of Alexa, the clairvoyant. A circum stantial account is given of M. de Mirvilie a visit to Houdin for the purpose of engaging blin in this investigation, of the attors confidence in his own ability to detrot the trick, and of what took place of the seance, the conditions of which tens a we two to pages, and its necuracy is confirmed by Housen in the first of the documents now translated :-

"Although very far from accopting the subogies which M is a good anough or service of an air, and reservely near the list's an not at all country od to by long, either in favour a magne and a negative. I cam, revertly ess, not relia. In an decine a rest the facts shows reported are entirely correct. see de to place complete expetitude), and that, the more I reflect upon them, the more impossible I find it to reak them among those which belong to my art and profession.

CROSSES HOUSE.

44 4th May, 1847

A fortinght later, M. de Mirvillo received another etter, in which the following, referring to mother stance, occities -

"I have, therefore, returned from this mance as asternahed as it is possible to be, and permaded that it is efferly impossible (fetranan merreillene). -1 um, Monmour, &c.,

(Signed), Joseph Rocots

14 May 13th, 1847 Testimony of Earry Kellar-

Harry Kellar, a distinguished professor of logordomain, investigated the slate-writing phononous which occurred an the protonce of Mr. Eginton, at Calcutta, in January, 1883, and on the 25th of that month he addressed a letter to the editor of the Indian Dails News, in which he and -

" In your issue of the 13th January I stand that I should be glad of an opportunity of participating in a seauca or the a view of giving an unbiasied amon as to wee her in my expecity of a profosmound prestaligation. I would give a natural explanation of offects and to be produced by spiritual and.

"I am indebted to the courtony of Mr. Eghuton, the appritualistic medium now in Calcutta, and of his heat, Mr J. Meugens, for affording me the opportunity I graved.

It is needless to say I want as a sceptic, but I must own that I have some away utterly mable to explain, by any natural means, the menoment but I solvened in Thesay evening. I will give a brief description of what took place."

After describing several successful experiments, Mr Kellar proceeds

"In respect to the above manifestations, I can only my cumstances. I still romain a scoptic as regards Spiritualism, but | 1877."

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL. I repeat my inability to explain or account for what must have been an intelligent force that produced the writing on the slate, which. If my senses are to be relied on, was in no way the result

> On the 30th of the same month Mr. Kellar addressed mother letter to the Indian Daily News, reporting some experiences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regard ing which he said :--

> "In conclusion, let me state that after a most stringent trial and strict scruting of these wonderful experiences I can arrive at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trackers' in any form, nor was there in the room my mechanism of an among by which could be produced the phonomena which had sen once The a mary nesse by which Maskelyne and other a . . . not to levitation or the floating test could not possibly he is the my tip group in which we were assumbled."

The Tunkiment of Professor Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Lacht, make icht, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which occurred in Paris through the Brothers Davenport, and :-

Spate of the americans, more or less trustworthy, of the Pronch and English journalists, and spate of the foolish pealousies normal conjurers, I feel it my duty to show up the adhad me party up. the charactery of the other. A the conbeen can of more advotes to those American mediums in absolutely untrustworthy. If we would rightly judge of a three we must understand it, and neither the journalists nor the con arers personed the most elementary kn was a dathe to whee that governs there phenomena. As a sent dig stea of report were or are y under House as control. This account on, and a unear Spiritualist, I affect that the media we to to man newfeel by the family the wire select feller we and octonigen to the Sp. of an ata upder of the against very expect Mesons. It an and R oc t Howard when attempt by to no tate news one for a to are presented to the public anything boyons on infantine and almost grotesque parody of the said priesomers, and it would be only ignorant and obstinate persons who could regard the next and neglectally an not forch in these gentlemen. If (as I have every reason to hope) the wy theal studies, to which I am applying myself at this time, see sel, I shail to able to establish clearly, and that by public dense stration, the many we my discontraction which reparates in various he phenomena from conjuring proper, and then enconcention ad be no longer possible, and persons will have to yield to evidence, or deny through predoternumation to deny . .

"Following the data of the learned chemist and natural philosopher, Mr W Crookes, of London, I am new in a posia to prove namely and by purely amontific methods, the vistories of a may be force in incumorium, and also the indirithat chance or skill could ever produce effects so remoderful (but a quality of the spirit "in spiritual manifestation." I authorise full impossible que la haured on l'adressa pittone jamana producer des you, dans un le moest tres letter en your next mamber, il agree ablo to you," Ac Ac.

Testimony of Samuel Bellachini.

Samuel Bel'action, Court Conjurer at Berin, made the following declaration in December, 1877

"I hereby declare it to be a rash action to give declare judgment upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Stade, after only one sitting and the observations so usade. After I had, at the wish of several nightly extendes gentlemen of rank and position, and again for my own interest, tested the physical medium ship of Mr. Same a species of attings by full daylight, as well as in the avening n her best seem. I must, for the sales of truth, hereby certify that the then-menal occurrences with Mr. Stade have been the roughly examined by me with the minutest observation, and in restigation of his surroundings, meloding the table, and that I cave not on the am to a shoreer some anything to be produced by means of prestic gital we man certainers, or by mechanical apparatus, that art any explanation of the experiments which took place under the circumstances and conditions then obtained by any reference to prestidigitation remiseletely largoussible. It must rest with such men of science as Crookes and Wallace, in London Perty in Berne Butlend, in St. Petersburg to search for the expansition of this phenomena power, and to prove its reality. I declars, moreover the publishes, principle of laymen as to the How of this subject to be premature, and, that I do not expect my account of them to guin general according to my riew and experience, falte and one-sided. Thu, credence. Forty-eight hours before I abould not have believed my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and witanyone who described such manifestations ander similar cir- nosses. - (Segued) SAMUEL BELLACHES, Berlin, December 6th,

Night:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

"Light? More again. Gorde ... " Westerer both ware mayorers of clott. "Paul

No. 218, -Vol. V

SATURDAY, MARCH 7, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS.

Appearitants formed by Splittle 6, 8, 6, on other should be Splittle 6, 8, 6, on other should be	1 1	The mass called spiritual the mass called spiritual that also up otherwise interest
--	-----	---

The Editor of "Lique desires it to be distinctly understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the tribution towards thus desirable object. The seance at symmetre expressed by Contributors and Correspondents, which the phonomena occurred took place on the 11th Fire and courteurs discussion is in tid, but tereters are February, 1885. It was hold in London , the paychic was alone responsible for the articles to which their names are Mr. W Eginton, whose character in highly extremed

"APPARITIONS" FORMED IN PULL VIEW Agan jet was kept barring during the scance,

BY JOHN S. FARNER.

"LEGIT" I have received a letter of which the following completely actisfactory or worthy to be recorded at an is an extract :--

"I consider the aridence of Materialisation of the Human Form complete, as given in ' Liour,' 26th February, 1885.

of But for the estisfaction of orders of a cortain annual the floor and were establed there was no trapeness which purported to be the spiritual body of a deceased school it would have been as well to have added, We all exa we the publishment, and we are also intended that to member of Parliament, wrote his initials, E. M., on a slate human " " could have crept along the floor under cover of at the room. After the departure of this 'spirit,' the vagaries of the imagination.

along the floor under cover of the "drapery," unseen by both in volume and density. As it commenced to those present, I consider it an empossibility. I should most essume the outline of a human form, it was ourtainly have observed such an occurrence, and some of the watehold by all with close attention, and absorbing other sitters were even more favourably placed.

this phenomenon of the presentation of an apparition in the of his hand. As the spectators continued gazing, the vapour light with the medium in fall view. My observation on the ... i vapour it can be called-condensed, or if it were a governing and underlying Occultism would be greatly sensitive stambed backwards into his chair which had been advanced, the facts better understood, and the difficulties 122 dimnushed, if competent and accurate observers would systematically report any unumal psycho phenomena 114 coming under their notice. Besides furnishing matter of the interest to readers, such accounts would provide a record available for future reference and comparison.

"The following narrative is intended as a humble conamongst us. The sircle comprised sight persons, exclusive of the musitive or medium , four laties and four gentlemen.

With the first four visitors who materialised on this occasion, no incidents occurred beyond such as have frequently been described in 'LIGHT' Only ous 'form' was able to articulate, and one only was recognised. Moreover, Since the publication of the narrative in last wook's the recognition in question can scarcely be considered matanes of identification. Of the members of the circle, only two were sufficiently familiar with the features and figure of the deceased to be able to speak with any degree of conviction. At the request of these friends the form, the mid pile of smalle from the inner room unobserved."-W. control of the sensitive addressed the circle, and indicated In roply, I have to state that I had not lost night of his intention of 'doing something in the room.' By request, these plans, nor had others of the witnesses done to. But the the gas was slightly lowered, and, shortly afterwards, the aboutdity of each explanations of the phenomenon must have medium—or actuative, or I prefer calling hun—came into the so impressed everyone that some thought them worthy of room where we were seated, and, in a state of apparent trance, oven a have montion. As regards the trap-door, there were marched backwards and forwards in front of the action. I many little incidents in the sience incompatible with such a few munutes, an appearance recombing a white handkera suggestion. I satisfied sayself, however, that none existed, chief was seen to hang from his side, as from the trousers' and so can envous who cares to take the trouble to visit the pooket. The sensitive then person in front of me room. The fact is, the trap-doors, and "fishing-rocks," and (I cocupied a chair at one end of the circle), and seizing "broom-sticks" are invented by those who do not know, my hand, retained it in his own with a convulsive grip and those who write from experience only laugh at such during the progress of the phonomenon that followed Meanwhole the white suprar continued to come forth from As regards the possibility of a luman being crooping the left side of the semitare, momentarily increasing interest. The consitive struggled, as if to disengage his This was not the only occasion on which I had observed arm from me, yet never relaxing the death-like grap first occasion was, however, far from perfect, and so I substance, it contracted, gradually assuming the shape of abits sed from a publication of the details. Others, how a human being until the complete figure of a tall, handsomeerer had been more fortunate and only a day or two looking man, with a dark board, was materialised before the previous to the senior described in last weeks " Li Jit " I eyes of the eight persons composing the circle. When fully received an account of a summar experience from a gentice developed the 'spirit' was several inches tallor than the senman, whose matters, J. H. M., wal but the ally veil has sitive. For several moments, "spirit" and sensitive stood identity to many renders of "Louis". His account is very side by side—the sensitive being supported by the sateresting, as corroborating in many respects the reports outstrotched arm of the 'spirit' placed lovingly around given last week. He desired me, if I published it, to state him. At this point the sensitive released my hand, and that he has simply narrated facts as he observed them, and withdrawing from the 'spirit' a distance of from three to that the account has not been submitted to the other sitters. four feet, revealed a white band, about four inches in width, connecting the side of the sensitive with that of the spirit, "Our knowledge of the scientific and ethical principles. The cord of spiritual partarition was then severed. The placed behand the curt an, leaving the sitters alone with the spant. Our ansectanced friend then walked before the circle, shook hands with no and with one or two others. His hand was warm, and as firm to the touch, and as powerful in the grap as that of any human bein-

'spirit,' in consequence of the prinful exhaustion of the sensitive, to break up the circle, and abruptly terminate to

I descend the above our none nor of the material sotion of a sapir t form. the good the prospect of again catelligent and educated persons, and a to the seas to e a the circle, I have used the terms spirit and figure. . wall not quarrel about terms. On a subject of which w the r s was a spenge is necessarily indefinite. Even the term undergolisation serves nather to conceal our agnorance than to roved our knowledge. Those who think it desirable curs, for such expressions, substitute the words apportion.

J. H. M."

A NOTE ON PHENOMENA

(Prom a letter in the Religio-Philosophical Journal, 11 113 1111

dogmatian have, however repailed by them, to abserve ment of the discovery of a new planet or a new metal. suchen or bear the stigme of being "infidel." Such has A word as to my point of view. I am no "Spiritualist they said that they themselves had, through a certain our eyes and demounting their our meters as "axunas the distance of metalled "Psychography" are study in recogmisable form, I thought they must have been either the start, and will need here morely the barout recapitalation. victims of some deception or of their own disturbed Two persons meet a any ordinary room, one of them, the magnation. But they argently invited me to accompany so-called me tomakes worth in a chair, generally near a already been invited to examine. Then the company to found were down as if it had been used. go ged in singing a julatee metody. In about afteen minutes The features of the experiment have been much modified the door of the cabinet opened, and a lady, robed in white, on different occasions. The states used are sometimes taken band upon his shoulder. He addressed her in affectionate medium, and before being used are carefully eleaned by the the same way fifteen other various forms successively cloth. Not unfrequently the observer brings with him a appeared, the medium always visible. I recognised on an pair of new slates which he has Lought on his way to the that of a young man who died six years ago at Jamestown, medjum's house. In some cases a double folding-state has NY He noticed to me, and made motions habitual to him been used, secured by a lock. as I know him. Another form was that of a young lady with regularit, smilling face and earling golden hair, whose I strange that the people show the armee the one smalar he holds the hand of the spectator. Again, the spectator denision. I no trast that a son-time avestigation, was be has held their upon his own head with one hand, whost assituted for avestigating phenome is so stronge and won-with the other hele asps that of the medium. Or they may Pleasantville, Penn.

O. W BEXEDICY.

El Grano de Arona is the title of another Spiritist journal the medium sits, is a matter of indifference. Both have in Spain , it is published in Valoutia,

PSYCHOGRAPHY

By R. M. N.

From the Jon out of Same for March 1-30;

" It was necessary, amunchately on the retirement of the [" Let honour be paid where honour m due !" The Journal of Serence has courageously threed to lank an unpopular fact in a cuta un enclor a ar mosted wh or Eng. Other the subject, but the least breath of an adverse opinion. has produced a wonderfully blinding effect. The tone of this article is almost an alcal one in these days of "blatant truth" and "infallible knowledge"; it discusses the me eren a compe arele and judicially We congratulate n. content agony an amount y matter had that we and all and also the his sample to the local band and not in a made beign . I down you had not be deather if a thursticle. The is, the most of shoot it manes he or Lieux

The remarkable phenomenon known at Psychography, ghast, regulared phanton, telepathus automaton, or asked is exciting very general attents a. The question of its genuineness, and, if genuine, of its nature, is being "The unexplaced -not understood-fact still remains. | acrimonously discussed. One distinguished around, taking lumwitteners a loaf out of the book of the Bestiarians, wishes to suppress research on this direction by the blundering arms of the Law. Even the edime ratio stationen, the formaappeal to Plutas, has been duly invoked. Surely, there fore, it is turns that these alleged facts should be studied in the same colm, cold manner, and with the mane to there or Truth-sackers who five in surroundings of bigotry and as to possible results, as are enstonery on the automos-

been my experience. But lately, while visiting some Certain of the doctrines of Spiritualism, as I apprehend friends in Ohio, I have been refreshed by reading the them, would be to me highly unwelcome; but to refuse the Religio-Fladouphical Journal. In it I found investigation of novel or unexplained phenomena on such which much impressed me, especially as they were sup- grounds is assuredly assertly of a man of scretce. We ported by others communicated by my friends. But when cannot dispose of truths by the sample process of smatters; thous to thus medium, in order that I might judge for mys of an least or mary construction. The other person, whom I A few clays afterwards they took me to beautic chao. I will call the investigator, takes two clean slates, binds there found the modern was the wife of a farer one of a under sirally together with waxed thread, having left between them. from the town, Mr Coth. Mr. and Mrs. 1 ads gave us a la fragment of slate-pencil or of red chalk, and lays them on cordial sujecture, the same that a same was to sale at the table. The medium places his hand upon those and or the versus, but he red to a runs. As we en a look a gabort time, supposing the experiment accountal, a sound e as my of ten were amenaded. The coops was regimed like that of writing is heard. On untying the slates one of sufficiently to exable one to read. The medium entered a their liner surfaces, or sometimes both, is found covered small enclosure, called a counct, which I, as a stranger, had with writing, whilst the slate-pencil or other material is stepped out, approached one of those present, and laid her by the observer from a heap kept for the purpose by the turns as " Mary." She replied by node and gestures. In observer with a sponge and water, and rabbed dry with a

The position in which the sketes are land after being secured together has also greatly varied. Sometimes they racey, seed as a schoolwate and friend, who died a faw years are laid on the table, the medium touching them with one hand. Sometimes the medium holds them against the under Ad this seemed meomprehensiale. If delusion, how surface of the table with one hand, whilst with the other be laid apon the table, and never touched by the mountain at all. All these experiments, it is well to remember, are performed in full, open daylight.

The nature of the table used, and of the chair in which or concealed applicances whatever. Other tables and chairs then, with a show of reason, refer this matter to jugglery have also been substituted; but the phenomena are unaffected.

March 7, 1885.]

matter of the writing. Yeary frequently the observer writes some question upon the slates before closing them up, and rectures a definite answer-occasionally touchang one ters thing. This hypothesis is not easily reconciled with the known to no living person but himself, and of which a circumstance that, even when the slates are the property of need un cannot we supposed to have any knowledge. Such the medians, they are selected by the observer at hapasswers may even wigo in a suggrages water worch the hazard from a heap, and are well eleaned and carefully amounts unnerganized. Nor musi the forgoste that the operact is sometimes asked after putting with a broof pencil and a piece of red chalk between the slaves, with are often brought by the intending observer, and have which shall the expected writing be produced? And the never even been seen by the medium or by any possible result comes out accordingly.

It is not, I think, necessary to go more closely into the details of psychographic experiments, since they may be found given with considerable manateness in various works. and journals. But the question is, How are these recorded phenomena to be explained !

The first attempted solution is, if nothing class remark able for its ewceping character and for its supplicity. The spectators, we are told, are all conscious and intentional ltars. Such an explanation recreely admits of discussion. To most minds it will be utterly inconcervable that a num ber of persons, of different ages, nationalities, prepossessions, from which they could reap no manner of advantage. Most upheld while the medium is writing. I roply that the a dewitness, at least, would have come forward to expose the found. But how about these cases where the slates lie all tourids will conclude that were such the case some one fraud-on exposure which, in not a few quarters, would be exceedingly welcome. How, then, on the hypothesis of falschood, do Spiritualists contrive to seal the lips of each succeeding spectator !

The wext hypothesis is that the spectators, though not intentional decrivers, are self-decrived, and fancy that they we occurrences which nover took place. Or they are prononneed to be incompetent, untrained observers. A moment a In the first place must be noted the extreme simplicity of view, and are never handled by the medium. It also fates the phenomens. There is nothing to excite any passion or to account for the fact that slates brought by inquirers, emotion, nathing to engage our and oye, and thus draw off and marked privately without the knowledge of the medium, the attention of those present from what is being done, or are expressly found not to have been changed. rather from the manner in which it is effected. There is nothing that requires the trained observer or the scientific semulting being, I will charitally suppose, some other put specialist. Were it a question turning on delicate spectro- sibly as yet unknown form of energy. That electricity on scopic or microscopic classivations, I should not for a produce strange effects I shall not question. Nor shall I mement accept the evidence of a non-specialist, however dupute that there may be forms of energy still more wen habity educated, intelligent, and apright. But this is not derival. But the table and the seat of the medium cortain the case may same man of common sense and fair moral no hidden batteries, no secret conductors. They may, as I character can decide as well as Professor E. Ray Lankester have already pointed out, be exchanged for others. They whether the dates used were clean before being tied may also be removed to any other part of the room, or to together, whether the medium had, or had not, the another room, -a step by which any physica arrangements opportunity of tempering with them, and whether, when would necessarily be frustrated. Nor has any spectator deuntied, they were found covered with written matter. I bested the presence of electric or magnetic currents on or repeat it that, to my apprehension, the most illustrious near the table huan of science would have no advantage in making such assert that their power has its limits.

"Psychography " as above described, and under test conds motion passing over a telegraphic system will comotiones tions. If Maskelyne and Cooke will, like Eglinton, sit down set the materiments at work, but the messages thus sent at an ordinary table, and, without apparatus of any are mere random combinations of letters, which neverkind, produce intelligible writing between two locked save by rere chance—form even a word, and never certainly dates, which mover pass into their hands at all, and which an intelligible combination of words. Should such a thing been carefully examined without disclosing any mechanism they thus have no opportunity of manipulating, we may

But let us examine this part of the subject a little more closely. How can jugglery be conceived as possibly pro-Something must also be said concerning the subject during the results described! It may be saidthat the writng pro-axists on the slates before they are used together, AIM becomes visible in consequence of the sicane of -a some examined by him before being tied together. But at a put completely out of court by the fact that the slates confederate.

The next supposition is that the medium unites or unfactors the slates ofter they have been fixed together, exe cutes the writing, and fastens them up again as before. We will take the case most favourable for this view, -that, namely, where the medium holds the slates against the ander side of the table with one hand, his other hand and all the rest of his person being full in the view of those present. Are we to admit that with that one hand he unties the slates, supports them and the sternes or tapes, performs the writing, and too the slates together again? If so, great is our faith. It may be urged that there are supports beneath the table, by which the slates, a way do not line been examined, and that no such contrivances are to be the time open to view, upon the table or on the head of the observer, the madium not touching them at all 1 Such are eracial matanoes which completely everthrow this unfastening and writing supposition.

I have also beard it insignated that the slates upon which the writing is found are not the same pair which have been formally prepared, these latter having been dex terously conveyed away and others substituted. This hyper thesis is negatived by the cases where the slates remain in "The effects are due to electricity or semething,"-the

We may go further electricity, magnetism are not in telligences. By their means it is indeed possible to transmit But I may be told that it is all elever jugglery. Jug. memages, questions, or answers from one place to another, Skers can curtainly do very surprising things, and they are and to reproduce them in speech or in writing , but there in these thys a presperous and informatial class, whose must be an intelligence at the other and of the line. It is honour and reputation the law appraises at a high figure. utterly inconsciendly that electricity or any physical force But I may, at least, without four of an action for libel, should of steelf combine letters into words, and words into one good sentencia, conveying often a precise and accurate No juggler has an yet reproduced the phenomena of reply to a question pat. It was now that an example con-feel sure that some trick had been played, and that the years has made possible what before was impossible? How massage was not and could not be the outcome of an of the little "tap, tap" of Spantualism has not merely meetric storm.

F B. DOVETON.

by a man , for, in mildition to the fact that the crumit, or that the refutation of Materialism has cost as far too dear. pener, or chalk is generally too small to be grasped by homen fincers, we have invariably the testimony that it. person has or could have in any way interfered with the shees. No ly we are hus ar ve, from south pular a da. we have but one afternative rome and, the assumption that there must exist around as intelligences a saile and faith I capable of interiors g with the yourse of e casts, with what; we are accustomed to ear the order of Nature. What these intelligences are, what is the extent of their power, and under what conditions it is exerted, I am uttorly ignorant. They may be, as the Spantachata hold, the "aparita" of departed human beings or they may be the "spooks" or 'shulls" of the Theorophists, the " elemental spirits" of the belong is still an unsolved problem. The Spiritualists allege that the prinate nequalatance which these intelligencer show with family secrets, with private convenations formerly ald between the investigator and the deceased friend, provsheir identity with such friends. But it is replied by other persons, believers all the same in the reality of Payellothus easily assume the part of some friend when we have host of is an expected that they arrived at a empalde of acting in four or five dimensional space, as exposseries in this last issue of the Journal of Seconds, and criticism, abundance of which is to be found in the sold " Prowhich one or all ordinary cocumitances escape our per-

Hence it seems to me promoture to pronounce these and probably still more premature to infer from anch phenomena the continued existence of man after what is ordinarily appear to give any definitive pararance.

But the concour on seems to me apayordable that if untoring play mean, -- can interfers with the cause of Nature. we have no longer any assurance that like couses will be followed by like effects.

To give an instance overy must who knows that fuel commutey of the human comminer. A staff is quickly found to have seen had in a stove, and who some hours afterwards bust a day, and reasons are quickly found for sharking a decithe a t biaz | g. will conclude sperlings I must say " would suot one did ken. Increase a ed until artery to the one amon being had with an fire. Not we have a coverded in " facing that a cert an faun's were regularly accustomed, on rising in the nor mg to find their kitchen the had been kindled by some neves if a 2 New for apirits," or four-demonstrated beings, Wyst and Mr. Husk. To examine, and, if accountry, crosseaset as atterfere what confidence can we have in the wsults which we obtain in our chemical and physica-Inbovatories? In fact it is hard to my what least remains from and vague style. "Dr. Wykl lays stress on certain on which Science can be built.

I read, in a recent article in the Journal of Science, how an emment clear ast points out the necessity of perform- look like impossible spertures, and as the degree in which this 1.3g toxicological 1 vestigations in a laboratory to which no power is possessed cannot be ascertained except with the load one but the operator can have access, lest some interference, Adv maistance of the person to be tested, the test is one which intentional or accidental, might take piece. But if avisible can never have my real value agencies can interfere, how are they to be excluded !

Dearing in much these consmerations, Spiritualists might wall speak in a milder tone of the reluctance of scientific men to accept their results. Of course an unpleasant fruth large and hard hand." If it was a small, soft, agreezeable and Is not the less true if we close our eyes to its evidences and ; formains hand a ring might pass over it, which would have been over happen every experienced telegraph operator would to its existence. But what if the activity of the last forty shattered the marble image of Materialism," but broken The writing at seems to me, must includatably be pro- down a partition-wall which barred out invisible agencies duced by some untelligence. But what intelligence ! Not from interference in our world? In that case it strikes me

CORRESPONDENCE.

(It is professible that correspondents should append their taines and addresses to communications. In any cuto, however, these must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good

The Society for Psychical Research and Mr. Egilaton

To the Easter of "Lange."

Sen,-I am one of those who think it high thee that "the Somety for Psychical Research, as a result of its investigations, aboutld make more distanct statement as regards Spiritualism. I adopt your own terms, but I should be sorry to believe that the Boulety, of which I am a member, is one of those bodies Resignacians, or the fiends and familiars of medieval who are always learning but mover able to arrive at a knowsorcery. To which of these classes the agents in question wide of the truth , always investigating, but never able to areas at any result of their investigations.

The public are apparently expected to riow the phenomena almost entirely through the eyes of Mosses. Myers and Gursey, as the "Proceedings" of the Society testify. Now, these two gentlemen are, no doubt, very abic and excellent persons, but naturally they are adapta as the art of " How not to do it." Then, in Part VII, of the "Proceedings," Mr Garney treats graphy and of kindred phenomena, that if we are terrounded the party of their he canale was at a needle-material by favisible intelligences they may know our past careers, (an elar in if price less bear a la solar in if a French per netro, s, our words per maps - in our thoughts, and may mathematican from the section as in which he Paye heal ociety personnes to neek a neltrion. In it not a d. a. ry den. to distract attention and postpone a recilict? We want them to come to the point, and this they apparently stoodfastly refuse generations not be spirits at all, but strictly material beings, to do. I selecte autome cauties, and have a horser of moduc precipitation; but nurther do 1 like trivial and microscopes coolings." Mr. Myets has, Indeed, announced his belief in telepathy, but he still cannot believe that a spirit is at one of polos, though telepathy between two mortals is just as similar manifestations a redutation of Materialism. It is saysterious and unexplainable, and even more so, for a spirit may be naturally supposed to exert a subtle agency like that more por at effect and at longer distances then a more mortal. Btill he stands shavering on the bank, and dare not cathed death. On these points Psychogenphy does not take the label plungo-fatal as it night be to his reputation for good sense-at least, among materialists.

His yako-fallow, Mr. Gurney, appears to me in much the seem sough, at they are study or material whatever these some slight. In proof of $6, I refer to his dealing with the Matter shrough Matter mote. Her commont on this year suggest now me to give min the mea of a man inward y prese termined not to find any amount of estimory infficient. I say wardly instactions in that not cause outry so such in the

> Am I too severe in making this remark ! Not in the least. Mr. Gurney profouct to subject Dr. Wyhl's evidence to the very change and knowest accurring, and yet he all the while neglects to take the most obvious mothed of finding the truth, which surely was to go to the fountain-head and interview both Dr examine them both, to bring together the ring and Mr. Hunk a hand and wrist. Instead of which he writes in the following measurements whereby he thinks he proved that the ring was too small to be passed over the motium's hand. But as there undoubtedly are persons who can get their hands through what > it is obvious to remark that random writing like this can mover have any real value, when the writer had avery opportenity of verifying the facts. Everything depended on the size and muscularity of the medium's hand. Dr. Wyld calls it "a Gurney examine it for himself?

March 7 1865 ]

a society which professes to investigate the claims of Spiritualism, who diently, pet neglects (may we my refuses!) to test the pretensions of Mr. Eglinton? He is a mediant of world-wide celebrity. He is in London, and Monra. Myers and Gurnoy, the two oyes through which the Society sees, are also in London. Mr. Eglinton challenges investigation, and is willing to meet them for the purpose Why do they refered t They may may their hands are full at prosent. But this is a more decisive test, and a more courpondieus one, then say they are orgaged on. Moroster, delays are dangerous. The medium may not live, or the power may depart from him, or he may remove to a distant entity There is no time like the present. Test him forthwith. Here are two cases of an extraordinary kind-those of Eglinton and Heak-which the Society is bound to investigate, and then to deliver an opinion. By falling to do this are they not wandering in smoked paths when they might take a direct one?

What is the reason! I believe there is nothing they dread so seach as to be forced to decide and to proclaim their documen Therefore they invent a number of dilatory plans why they should not take these two cases in land. The Society by so acting frustrates the very object of its existence. Meanwhile they publish the abtrum calculations of M. Richet.

G. D. HAUGHTON

[Our correspondent line alightly mistaken our meating,  $\langle W_{C}\rangle$  to not wish to invisore that the Society feared to investigate spiritual phonomena and report apon them. All we wished to my was, that we believed the time was now at least whom, willingly or not, they would be compelled to answer the question. What are the points of difference and agreement between your Society and its conclusions and Spiritualism ! And we expressed a kept that when this question was put to them, and they were oldiged return an answer favourable to the phonomous of Spiritualism, as we believe they must, their experience would be different to that of other counsittees and investigators, similarly placed in the past That, surely, is quite another thing to suggesting fear of possible result as a factor in their present attitude.—En. or "Licer"]

instruction in Measuration. To the Bottor of " Lacint

Dana Sta. -- For the benefit of others who, like myself, are beginners in mounteries, I am auxious to my that I have recorred become of Mr. Canarin, of 3, Buintrode-street, Walbookstreet, W, and I am desirous of expressing my gratitude Friend, 10s., "Lily," 5s., Mrs. Matthy, 2s. 1cl. -- Yours towards him for the kind and countersto way in which he has instructed use. I would advise all beginners to take a few leasons of him. There are several things which, if followed out from instructions given in many books, cannot but fail to do toors been then good. I especially refer to reversed passes med in waking the subject, and I out thankful that Mr. Omerin has taught me the advisability of not using those. Mr Omerin gives each sound instruction on so many points that I think it would be well for all learners to pay him a visit. I shall fool greatly obliged if you will kindly insert this letter in "Liour," so that others may benefit thereby .- 1 am, dear sir G. SEYMOUR, A.C.P.

41, St. Augustino's road, Cambon Town, N W. February 20th, 1685.

The Taction of "Truth." To the Editor of " Leavy

Sur,-Will you allow me a word in reference to a well-known contemporary of pouts? The editor of Touth is never wearled of ridicaling the proved phenomena of chirroyance, thought read. You mee con. 'M. A. (Oxox).' ing, authenticated apparitions, de., and in a recent issue he inserted an importance note from some stopid person, who had who was progressing very favourably, and even rapidly, has which I belong) as a guest, and then ridiculed his entertainers in Mr. Labouchere's columns 1 Not very good trusts this, you will way of an offset of nature to rid the system of the possen that minutes on the part of the so-called champion of freedom illness are unassuageable and very wearying impossible in a hand of opposite qualities. Why did not Mr. | and justice is singular, is it not? This morning an incportinent eard has reached me from his heutement-" IFact is And now about Mr. Eglinton. In it not passing strange that Truth?" Answer A one-sales and untruthful periodical !-- Yours

Eastbourne, Politicary 18th, 1885.

Miracles.

To the Editor of " Licity."

Sm,-Your correspondent's, "Tridunt e," confusion of thought appears to become worse confounded.

Instead, it is difficult to realise the incornequential conductor of the mind that seem parallel between one man helping another along a road and angels hosping a man to walk on water

The angels would find the water as corviceable in the latter case as the ground would be in the former

That is, the upter would help to support the man's weight Reductio ad abour him.

In "Tradent a" first letter he stated the contations of a superhuman not, which he classified as meraculous. I pointed out at his generalisations of those conditions were also precisely applicable to any human set; they, therefore, afford no definition of the unture of miracle, and we are left alone with " Trident's " spinion that an act is mirroulous simply because it is supernatural, which, I repeat, to not omightoning

"Tritiont" contends that miracle conveys to him "an alex nuite distinct from anything governed by law." He, however, appears to admit that the "two surrence" of matter and spirit are the domains of law, and must, therefore, I promine, postslate a third uncome for the " roug of miracles.

Is not one universe sufficient? It is deficult to believe in "all things" and " many others

Your correspondent a lotter, and (may I add i) his thoughts too, far from being too elementary, might with advantage be very much more to. - Your obedient servent,

A Concreting Case To the Editor of " Lacur."

Sea - Knowly admowledge the following amounts for meand at the same time thank the friends for their on some my appeal. I am still asking for more help. If some the among your numerous readons could up a vert of em lor most for Mr. Police I shall fool greatly obliger Mrs. Parisch, 10s. : Mrs. A., 10s. ; Mrs. Tobb, 10s. ; Mr. Hankins. 10s. a Lilian Villa, Heislen, N.W., Max.) M. A. Eccurt March 3rd, 1885.

Mess Lorris Fowlan is, we believe, now in London

ANEGUNCEMENTS of soveral new bushs appear it our advertisement column devoted to much trothess.

Mas. HARDING BRITTEN is expected to return to Engineer in April noxt. She is now speaking overy Sunday in New York.

A TRANSLATION into Spanish of Hor Majosty's last work. entitled, "More Leaves from the Journal of a Life in the Highlands from 1802 to 1882," is in progress. Mr. F Omerin, an accomplished Spanish scholar, whose name is known to our readors in another especity, has been entrusted with the timesolation.

"M. A. (Oxox)" downers us to insert the following an-nouncement: -- "Thruks for the kind thought that prompted you to send the flowers. I will try and find out as to the matter

" M A. (Oxos),"-We regret to learn that "M A. (Oxon)" apparently attenued a meeting of the Psychool Society (to boon cast back by another relapso, which has again confined him to bed. It would seem, however, that this is inther in the may, but quite in hosping with the end editor's traditions. He still resustance it. It may, therefore, he hoped that when this persudently refused inscribes to an article of mine proving the relapse is overcome, recovery will go on rapidly. We are retruth of certain abnormal phenomena, and not only has he taken quested to sek any persons who have any matters of business no notice of my necompanying letter, but he will not return my that they wish to bring before " M. A. (Oxor)," to refram from article, though I wast a stamped directed soveleps. In a fee-, doing so until recuperation is complete. While friendly letters mer letter to me he stated contributions would be returned he also that do not necessitate a long answer are very welcome, business author without it. This grow narrow-mindedness, bigotry, and naturals to a weak persons hardly recovering from a very long All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LICKY" 4. AVE MARIA LAME.

The Annual Subscription for "Latter," post free to any address or in the Latter at the griden or to places estimatively within the Protei Lague, as using all are of 1 maps, the United States, must Dettich Not do amorpion to co. 10 per annual forwarden to cut office in

NOTICE TO THE 14 PLIC "Litter" may also be notatized from b. W. Atlant, 4, Ave Maria-line, and with what object, these plates were prepared.

Leading, and all Bookedlers.

Light:

SATURDAY, MARCH 7tm, 188-

EDITORIAL NOTES

we now tender our host thanks to these gontlemen. Mr will be continued by other friends equally generous.

requisite application on or before the 31st January last. limightened by the movelty of the subject necessitating away Plat 1 "tint-stones." As, therefore, the plates were offered as a grit to require subscribers, the least we could expect was to be put in possession, in good time, of certain details necessary to encolo un to decido who were entitled to them Ample and repeated notice was given, and although, as we have said, we regret the necessity which compels us to adopt such a course, we have no alternative but to adhere to the regulations explicitly said down.

A favr copies have been printed in excess of our estimated domand. These may be obtained of the manager of the Paychologica, Press, 4, Ave Marsulane, at the rate of 2s. the set of faur plates. Parcel postage ba-

While on this subject of delayed application, we may mention in reference to last week's "Litent" (which we take to accomplish. promised to reprint if sufficient orders to warming our doing so were received by Monthly mornings post), that it was not until Tuesday, when the type had been " cast down," that the bulk of the requests for extra copies arrived. If and ourselves considerable nanecessary correspondence.

teresting and useful matter until our next issue. Amongst Landon Spiritualist Alliance, The Spiritual Outlook, Mr Society, and other communications.

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY

By J. G. KEELEMANS.

Before entering into an explanation of the different figures represented in these four illustrations, I consider it necessary to make a few introductory remarks as to how,

As will be seen, the four plates now issued are chromolithographic impressions representing some of the phenomena usually called "sparitual." They will, as such, be readily recognized by those who have personally investigated the subject. They are reproductions of original pencil sketches, water-colour, and erayon drawings, prepared immediately lafter the scances, and the originals are, in their turn, as nearly as possible, faithful representations of the visible objects, &c., which can be witnessed in the presence of We counct allow the kine geft of Mr. Keulemann and his physical mediums. Of these original designs I possess a large to-donor to pass without a public acknowledgment, and number, all of which, I hope, streamstances permitting, to reproduce in this journal. The four plates now published Komemans has, we know, spared no pains to make the were selected for two reasons: firstly, because, by their plates of scientific and artistic value. The result speaks nature and colour, the four could be printed together, for itself, and we trust the good work so admirably began, accordly, because they were pre-examently suited to illustrate facts of a spiritual or occult autore

It has been often remarked that photography would be These parter are being went to every subscriber who the best method to give life-like and trustworthy represents receives his or her capy of "Lie or " threet from the tions of these mysterious scance-room occurrences. I have, manager, also to those who, obtaining their supplies through together with some friends, tried the experiment and found Mr. Allon, our publisher, or other agents, made the fit to fail. Small or moving objects, as can be imagined, never come not at all. Materialised forms do not invariably During the past work, we have received many applications present themselves within the proper focus of the camera and for these plates. Al these were too late. We exceedingly in the cases where they actually do so, they prove nothing, regret lawing to reliase, but our friends, if they will give a same the merely represent a "human being" quite lamoment's thought to the matter, will at once see that we but on he from a cost any more as, and the method could not possibly work in the dark as to the number of was nest white at in the representation of coloured objects. copies required. Chromo-lithography is at all times very How for "colour" has any direct importance in these matters expensive work, and in this case the cost was considerably I will attempt to explain when idealing with Spirit Lights, > forms exafficio, accustomed to aketelizing from life moving his) and from memory, I found little delices to in tupe- o, toy drawings. In such cases, when moving special supporting careful observation, or when faces were whenter a apatheant light, I only sketched as much as memory would allow, and corrected this first attempt on the next occasion, when the conditions were more favourable. Some of the sketches had to be altered over and over again, or the object had to be studied thoroughly, by close observation, scance after scance, before it became possible to produce anything resembling the real thing. I must certainly thank several of my "sparit freends" for the pationen and willingness they exhibited in thus assisting me in my work , without their co-operation I should certainly have failed to even produce as little as I have up to the present been

My object in reproducing these sketches is to spread "knowledge," for what contributes so much to the happiness of man as the assurance that he is an emmorial entity? Spiritualism claims to practically demonstrate that our friends will kindly be a little more prompt a feture there is enother life, and it does demonstrate this to, they will often save themselves and others disappointment, unfortunately, a comparatively few. What is wanted in to make the world aware that Spiritualism is tree, its phenomena real, and that in this respect it makes no illusory We are compelled to hold over a large amount of in chains. I, therefore, confine my contributions to the representation of such facts as will tend to prove, by their mature, articles and correspondence so treated may be included that they are due to preter-human agency, and caused be Report of Miss Bosamond Dala Owen's Address before the accounted for on any other hypotheses; such facts as could not be counterferted, or produced by either frand, Podmore's Reply to Mr. Morell Theobold, "A Vision of a brickery, hidden machinery, or by the effect of chemical Great Mystery," by "Lily", Report of a Discussion on combinations, such as are demonstrally neither ocalar dela-Apparitions and Occultain at the Laucaster Philosophical store, pur the mere results of a disordered imagination, above al., such facts or phenomena as can be witnessed circumstances that leave no doubt as to their genumeness, degree of temperature peculiar to the substance. By what convince the unbelieving world, at least to encourage a I can may is this. It does not appear gradually, but more universal disposition to investigate these occult, saddenly, and from over the head of the medium. It does phenomens. Several sketches, though as yet incomplete, not develop or increase in size after becoming visible, but are intended to represent the process of a materialization, viz., seems to become spontaneously ignited, on each occasion the gradual transition of a nebulous massinto a splid human when thus spontaneous apparation was witnessed in my form, clad in drapery. (The "spirit hand" enveloped in presence, I noticed a movement, like a sudden sideward "drapery," Plate IL, is a fragment of one of these sketches.) >> ng of the "spirit's" arm, the hand of which hold the Any of the originals out be reproduced by lithography, light. On some occasions a second "form" could be faintly and I am ready gratuatously to offer my time and labour discerned directly behind the medium, and discort to further the publication, in this journal, of another invariably some conversation between the "spirits," anont the series, if some one will defray the cost of printing, which operation, may be heard by those present. After lasting a is not my department. In the present case them expenses certain time, it gradually but quickly lades away are borne by a friend who wishes to remain anonyments. But I feel at the same time constrained to inform eventual compounds, I must recapitaliste the most important and contributors that in no case can I sacrifice my time in the peculiar features of this strange luminous substance. reproduction of the merely sensational, or the portraiture Apparition sudden. Duration variable. Power of luon of materialised faces, except when such representations are only variable, and depending on certain conditions. Extincof psychological and direct scientific importance.

March 7, 1885.]

Description of Plate L-"Spirit Lights."

Fig. 1 represents the so-called "apard's own tight which I believe means a light, or a substance radia on " aghr and which term is used in contradistinction to the cloudy luminosities frequently witnessed near the median's person. and which appear to be connected with, or to indicate the presence of, the non-materialised spirit.

Fig. let is the name luminous aubitance norm from the side. I must now ask my residers first to compare these two figures with Figs 2 and 3n. Fig. 2a is also a aids view of Fig. 2, and represents the same light under different conditions. The cause of these enormous variations in power of lum nosity is, I believe, principally atmorpheric. The (hoplann f) still retains its vitality. brighter lights were invariably co-existent with a clear sky easterly or north-easterly winds, a cold room, and, as a rule, a mur ted number of persons present. In most cases these brighter lights rested on, and were adjusted partly as ... kind of receptacio of a reddish colour, which I have never been able to examine, although I have seen a series of photographs in the possession of Mr T T vitus, of some what miniter objects were much resemble the a cover amost receptacio both in size and shape. It is I have been a formed by the "spirits" themselves, sice the substance pro | mid tional ovidence. (1) It has been found that out of the during the light, manufactured for the purpose, and or the spot, out of the elements present in the sinuco-room.

Fig. 2. Thu light varies from a bright greenish blue to a palo greenish yallow, and is at times transparent like crystal, but more often opaque or semi-opaque, and a finger held behind it can be but faintly discerned. The power of luminosity is equal to that of a peace of white-bot iron of double that seconds to half a minute. It can be revivified by the "spirit" breathing over it, yet, when it is touched by a "spirit finger there immediately appears, where the contact takes piace, a very powerful and permanent. Thesizo and thickness of this leaunous substance also varios; sometimes it is a little larger, but generally of the size as represented in Fig. 3.

As regards its weight, I can best compare it to that of a passe of because of the same dimensions, for I never was of one's physical body to similar operations as little short of enabled to place it in the scales, and can only judge from it surende, and that, if these manifestations are true, they are having rested on my fingers.

by every intelligent inquirer, and be produced under tion at my disposal, I could not possibly accertain the actual There are amongst the original designs in my collection means it is produced, I am unable to state, and am almost at least a dozen subjects, of sufficient interest, if not to as ignorant with respect to its chemical composition. All

Before entering into speculations as regards its chemical tion gradual, but far quicker than that of white-heated from enoting down Temperature blood warm. Weight and appearance to the touch, hard wax. Now lot us return to Fig. 1.On the right side an extensive blood-coloured patch is visible. From the point of the thumb there are seen to proceed two to all private dotted ramifications joining the door like apper. They two wer are of a pule greyoth red, exactly the e long of ying brain matte. The rid spot is of the cor on of human blood, and us besides, a substance in a liquid sta of for, in most cases, when the light is carried, thus upus sinks deeper into the "disc," and can be seen to namene a globular form, like a big drop of oil in a glass of mater. I have also unticed slight, but rapid, vibrations in the pair heat our referred to, as though the substance

From these appearances, and from the fact that the light is seen to proceed directly from over the entranced mes um shead it seems that the substance composing the no is very matter abstracted by accult means from the serson. Here, and a rough what laws, a righter organic matter, can be made to radiate light is a question I must leave to others of greater physiological and physical know ledge than myself to decide. That it is, nevertheless, against matter seems to be also indicated by other amount brain smaller light can be produced, (2) that when produced in the launan being-not the medium exhaustion and bradache are the result, and that, also, the medium feels exhausted after the seance, (3) that phosphorus is proven to exist in living matter and more abundantly in the brain than in any other part of the frame. How this light-forming " biopiasm " can be removed nize, but is far more permanent, lasting from four or five from the internal being into the external work. rea question I cannot answer, and which I be seve cannot be explained by our present knowledge of physics. To use an expression of a familiar manifesting "spirit,"—the process reddish spot, of all defined outline, which gradually drappears of obtaining the light in " spiritual alchemy—the effect of by farther "breathing," or even without this if the light be superior force over matter, nating upon the properties of matter." The compounds: "condonsed aving substance." The light "emence of vitality." It may be observed by our opponents, more especially by those who regard these phenomena as being of "Satanie" origin, that the submission simply "shocking." So they are if indulged in recklessly To the touch, it feels not unlike hard wax or spermacets, or extravagantly. But one should always distinguish without, however, sticking to the finger. Its temperature between use and abuse, and moreover, the amount is blood-warm, for when I had it on my hand, which was of vital force so abstracted may not be always, normally warm, no sensation of either cold or best could be if ever, in excess of what a robust, healthy person felt. I am aware that the human skin is a very bed may be able to spare. (Were this paper devoted thermometer; bowever, with no other means of examina- to physiology, anatomy, or pathology, instead of to occult to either measure or circle sere ice, a far better comparison could be propounded by way of illustration and justification.) Again, the quantity of vital matter absorbed by the light is, perhaps, not altogether and invariably derived from the med um alone. The (FROM A CORRESPONDENT.) aghts represented in Fig. 1 and Fig. are, besides, the extremes, and not actual types, for, in the majority of cases, Ulveraton is a delegistfully picturesque spot in the north nest ier a spotless nor a blood-and-brain marked subs and is exhibited. Fig. 1 is a specimen of inferiorly manufactured light. The conditions were that night unfavourable... De cember and foggy weather Sometimes, when, for mistance, Figs. 3 and 4 are apparently of the mano chemical compos tion as Figs, I and 2. Figs. 5 and 6 appear to be less soud. In the square light Fig. 4, as a the demostraped Fig. 5, two adjecting erops of earther are visible, indicating that probably their of not all the solid sammous bother, were likewise heard in the first stages of their formation. In Fig. 4 the adjacent drop had become hardened, that or Fig. 5 was still anulid and shivoring like a drop of quick silver. Another pecu arity in both Figs. 5 and 6 is that they have a tendency of contracting into a more solid state, in which case the top becomes detached, and remains sover I g will-o-the-wisp-rike above the dome.

the nunesphere is charged with electricity, or the tempera-

duced, but the smaller ones, Figs. 3, 4, 5, and 6, are substi

We now come to a different close of " lights " I go 7, 8, and 9 Fig. 7 is a somewhat condensed open paterns, and aghts of this nature are apparently mover careced by the "spirition out hover about space, expanding and contenuing continuously during the short time of their duration. Like the first series, they are first noticed near the medium's head, and from thence traver away at distances varying from a few feet to appearal yards. Whother they are so carried by a "spirit," or are moved by the letter's will, is a question which, like many others, I am not la a position to namer, but judging from the fact that a "spirit voice" is usually acard to be in close proximity to the moving light, it may be anguested that the latter is located somewhere near the head of the "spirit" (or near what we should discover to be the head if it suddenly assumed a solul concetton). These lights, viz. those belonging to the group of which Fig. 7 or a typical representation, may assume any shape or form. Sometimes they are more clongated or take the form of a ring, a cross (X,) or a crucifix. Their power of lambouty, s.s., of radiancy is, comparatively speaking, very inferior, and the strongest I ever witnessed did not even enable me to tell the time by my watch, although the light was mine diatory against the glass. They are, however, more permanent than the massive lights before noticed, and will last asveral manutes without losing power or brilliancy.

Fig. 8 is another example of a floating luminosity, but presenting the strange peculiarity of going out with a dolonation. Only on a single occusion have I witnessed this particular form of "spirit light," a.c., over the hands of a lady medium during tranco. First one aight appeared as a star-gloud(somewhat like those one sees through the telescope in several of the constellations of our universe) near her head, and slowly descended towards her left hand, gradually becoming brighter in its centre until it presented the appear onee of a bright bluersh star. Then it would explode with a short, but audible "click," leaving a mass of blue vapour barring over it, which, in the turn, quickly disappeared from view. Several appeared in succession, until the medium recovered consciousness, when they totally ceased.

Fig. 9 is a similar light, often soon near the medium's person, but of a more permanent nature.

(To be continued.)

MR. EGLINTON AT ULVERSTON EXTRAORDINARY MANIFESTATIONS.

of Lancashire, and lyng some ten muces from that resplendent queen of the lakes-Winderwere, and about an equal distance from that workl-famed marvel of industrial enterprise-florrow-in-Purness. Although it is a place of but 10.000 he tants, and has never t recently contained ture very low, or when the medium is fatigued, and the non-than from on to a doze: Spiritualists, it has nevertorcircle, perhaps, a little out of sorts, no large I gats are proless played a comparatively prominent part in the spiritual movement, and distinguished cheef more in the advancetut a. These soing an after in volume, require less substance ment of the cause than many a large town can be said to for their formation, and hence will prouder less exhaustion have done. Many years ago, Mr. Thomas Edward Jones, whose transition we recorded some time times, was, while editor of the Ulcerston Murror, a devoted champion of Spiriturdism, and was the means, through the agency of some mediums, whom he brought from London, of giving some seances, and of making several converts. The present editor of the Mirror, Mr J G, Speed, is also a Spiritualist, and be has been instrumental is enlightening the Ulverston public still more on the subject by bringing Mrs. Britten, Mr. Mahony, and other actiones, to the town. Ho was the means of bringing about the three nights' ducumon on Spiritualism between Mr. Maliony and Dy. Anderson there some years ago, and also of bringing Mes. Britten to attend a performance of "Steart the servered s, expending Spiritualine," and to expect Comso are in self the fe wing right. Last sommer Mr. Speed laid a source with Mr Egimton in London, and obtained, under the most absolute test conditions, a communention which is considered by and to be in the landwriting of the late Mr T E Jones, whom we mention 200ve, and who was a boson friend of his. The handwriting was a not field by Mr Jones' son as his father's, and a Mr Joseph Dodd, a printer and bookseller at Ulventon, who was well acquainted with Mr. Jones and his handwriting, immeanitely be new tout or the slatt pronounced it to be that of the decemed gettle nan, and after comparing at excefully with some manuscript in the possession, which had belonged to Mr. Jones, was confirmed in the opinion. Other persons whose business made them experts in the conpurson of handwriting, compared the caligraphy on the slate with letters written while in cartillife by Mr. Jones, and came to the same conclusion. Mr. Speed was so impressed we a the rosu to of haratting with Mr Eq. aton, and he had experienced so much opposition and reache from those who duaredited Spiritualism, including a public denunciation by that blustering and protontions vapourer, Mr Cumberland, on the occasion of his viol to the town, that he resolved to induce Mr. Eglanton, if possible, to visit. Ulversion with a view to furnish such overwhelming proof of the truth of Spiritualism as would silence some of the most aggressive sceptics. Mr. Eglinton, to the great delegat of the Spiritealists of Ulverston, and endeed to the satisfaction of many others who were anxious to test has powers, consented to pay Ulverston a visit, and last week he held a terror of eight assuces there, seven at the County Hotel, and one at a private house.

The result has been that they have for the most part proved successful, the phenomena transcending in importance and in variety the most sanguine expectations of the sitters, and even of Mr. Egiinton himself. The sittings commenced on Wednesday evening week, and were continued during Thursday and Friday, the number of persons present at one sitting varying from three to five persons, and the circles comprising a clergyman of the Church of England, representatives of the Press, and some of the principal gentry of the district. Mr. Estinton brought with him a table of peculiar construction, but its only peculiarity consisted in this, that it was ingeniously manufactured so that it could be converted into an oldony was not that of the person appended, he admitted that it box in which Mr. Eglinton carried his slates, &c., in was like it in style. In two or three instances the medium because most of the tables he mot with were so made that while thus sustained it were those or the subject -- that I enrolally and thoroughly examined the table brought by Mr En an arrest amona to esten and that it was in every respect to the many I embroke table except that it was outs acruetos a pa to she te like a box for travelling convocatorios I declare that there is in deceptive comment went it, and that it appears to house we to be unlikely description to be selected by a conjurer for this purpose. I may also state that I am not a Spiritualist,---

March 7, 1985.]

29, Kurgatroot, Tivernton February 23rd, 1883.

Mr. Eglorion, moreover, expressed his readiness in case the sitters were dissituated with his use of his own table, to use another belonging to the hotel, but all were so convinced that the former was a perfectly bond fide article that none thought it necessary to suggest that he should employ another. The manufestateons which were produced in the prosesses of the various sitters were of the most astounding character, indeed, were of such a marvellous description that Mr. Eglinton declared he had never before had such an extraordinary acries of successes. Almost every individual who not obtained a direct answer to a question written in the colebrated Bramah-locked slate. The sitters in many instances carried the slate, to the door, and there, where nobody could possibly observe what was written, wrote the question in the slate and locked it before approaching the table, then writing next to him, a fact which rendered doubly sure the mediocres condenument d'ordinaire tout ce que passe leur-James Hamer, obtained an answer to a question addressed to | down all which passes their comprehension." the spirit of his late employer, the reply being signed in his | Of all the scances only one proved a failure, that at the name, and though Mr. Hamer stated that the handwriting private house, and even that was but a comparative one,

travelling. This table Mr Eglinton took to pieces in the laid a single slate on the table, and while he and another presence of every circle before the commencement of each placed their hands on the top of it, writing came on the seasce, and satisfied all present that there was nothing aus- under side of it. Three somewhat engine concentrations pictous or artial in its construction. He explained that the were obtained under startling conditions. Two single autes, occasion of his visit to Ulversion was the first on which placed one shove another, were held by the medium and all, the table had been said, and that he had had it constructed or most, of the members of the circle, above the table, and they did not admit of the slate being pressed close up hands were outside of them, and the slates were kept against the under side of the top of thesis, there being a firmly closed by the united pressure of those present, there certain space between, which was, of course, unsatisfactory come the unmistakable sound of writing within them. On to the sitters, whereas in the case of his own table the slate the three taps being given which always come at the con could be pressed close against the flap so as to obviate all clusion of a communication, the top slate was removed, and possibility of a hand being introduced to write on the upper the upper side of the nider one was found covered with side of the slate, on which the writing always comes. The writing by one of Mr. Eglinton's guides, in the midst of truth of this explanation was manifest to all, and the which occurred two Greek lines, which were correctly transforces as a cortificate which ought to dispot all doubt on lated by one of the circle as "concerning spiritual gifts, brothron, I would not have you agnorant." The following was the communication: "We are glad to be in a position this morning to give to you this overwhelm-I heroby certify that I have been a practical cabinet maker, ing proof of our power to write under conditions that are ordinarily haposable. We should not have been mistled to do this had we not been buoyed up by your sympathy. That more do not carry out the injunction of Paul is couse for much surprise on our part, but we do not base our pretentions upon what we may tell you so much as we do upon the power of setting the losewin laws of defeated, by which means only will men think. Another communication was obtained between two slates host to the nie by the medium and several of the sitters, which was given in a manner that was most remarkable, and which Mr. Eglinton stated was unprecedented in his experience. It was written in the form of a circle, line a turn line, the three last words filling crosswise the small space in the centre of the circle, the Inst word being written below the previous two, and upsale down in relation to thou. The following was the communication: "It is unnecessary for us to say that this writing is produced under conditions that are the despair of science. Surely, granting that your dost friends can roturn to the carth-sphere again, there is nothing opposed to precenceived ideas. Rend your Bible." This communication, notwithstandng the form in which it appeared, was written with the atmost rapidity, indeed, the colority with which this and all the other more lengthy messages were handed it to the medium, who would hold it under the table | written was such that the featest perman could nothing for a short turn; then place it apon the table in full view of like equal such a speed. But one of the most amazing all the atters, and the pencil was distinctly heard by every. manifestations that were given was the following. Two one present, writing the reply. A large number of communica. single slates, one upon the other, were placed on the clinic tions were obtained upon single slates or upon the sixler of a scheiter who was present, and he sat upon them, heldour of two slates held under the table, one above another, my the slate by the edges with the medium. Immediately he by the medium, who always present them close up against set down the pencil commenced to write, with a marvellous the under side of the table top. In some cases the sinter rapidity and a leadings of sound that were most remarkable were thus held by one of the sirele, and by the medium. On the solicitor rising, the upper side of the under slate together. It was remarked in every instance that the was filled with the following communication 1, is, unwriting came on the upper sale of the slate, and was written fortunately, too often the case that men attempt to dery at the end of it furthest from the medium a hand, and was that of which they have never had previous experience, written upude down, looked at from that and which he however much the intellect of the generation may be held. This fact of itself was considered by most of those against them. Those phonomena are not produced solely present m conclusive proof that life Eglinton could not with a view to convince you that we are what we profess be the wrster. Moreover, while he thus held the slate, his to be, so much as with a desire to prove there may be forces right hand was invariably joined to that of the person in existence of which you know nothing. Les caprite assurance that it was impossible for him to execute the and is not this the case with those who deny the possibility writing. In several instances messages were obtained of your communing with those you have level and lost. between two single slates placed on the table, with the T.E.J." The dash is put in place of a word which is undehands of the medium and those of one of the cipherable, but from the translation of the other words the sitters placed upon them. One gentleman, Mr. sentence obviously means, "Medicere maids usually con-for rose to was ablance. The spine a fine water or a santo had under the table-not the medium's, it may In beeved a on belonging to the house-that there was no wown, and make a would be useless to proceed. Mr. Eglinton under the circumstances emphatically declined to accept any fee, but on a reduced amount being pressed upon him consented to do so.

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

It ought to be mentioned that the seances were all of course in the broad light of day, or of gas burning to the almost Reight that the clates were always seen to be perfectly black before burg held for the messages, that the pencil was frequently observed to be immediately under the last action of the last word when the writing was shown, and that in many cases the communications were obtained on the sitters' own slates, some of which were previously ante Hed by them to ensure that no changing of the slates should take place. At some of the circles the pencil was marked by the sittern before the phones as a consecutive and after writing had been executed was identified, and the peneil was frequently examine Land found to have been wore exactly as it would be if used in writing to order to convince the circles that there could be no chanced proporation of the slates, sitters were, inserveral instances, obliged with the test of the writing on the state of worsh dictated by them while it was hold by the medium. It may be mentioned further that the Branch-locked slate was for half an bour in the bands of the Mr. Gowland whose certificate appears above, and is and another person thoroughly examined it and are prepared to corfily that as ments are nest of a ardinary folding sinte, and that here was a water a combont it. The most of the results of Mr. Eglinton's sennces has prented an extra ordinary excitement and an unmento amount of discussion in the town. Of the twenty two persons who sat only some it is were Speritualists, but at least four converts have been made by Mr. Eglipton's wonderful exhibitions, and the impority of those who witnessed them, and a mac of the acutest and most inte ligent mon in the town, appear to to conviaced that the phenomena were produced under such could troug on precluded all possibility of conjuring or trickery. The Spiritualists of Ulversion and the sitters generally express the high approxiation of the exceptional privings which less been conferred upon them by Mr highston in their being favoured by him with so deeply magresting and so amazing an exposition of his powers, and it is parmostly trusted that he will repeat his vant at no consumt there.

BLANCON ASSOCIATION OF MERKET CURTS. HALL, 2, CARLYON. PLACE, S.S. AT 0.30 P.M .- Sanday Lectures March Lot, Mr. E. W. Wallet, Answord to Wristen Question A. J. Mr. F. W. Wallin, "Thron Curson, and Host to Re .. March 15th, Mr. E. W. Wallis, "Man's Three Saviours March 2004, Mr. J. J. Morse, "The Gospel of Rest Why was no made?" March 20th, Mr. E. W. Wallis, "Sceptiemsi. Free-thoughs, and Spreualina

The Foldariton Sparite Belge has formed a secrety for assuring to its manubors the execution of their last wishes , the funda of the society to acome from a moderate annual subscription and (drap morticoire), letters of invitation to the funeral, and depute a compotent friend to spork at the interment in same of Spirituate. - Lo Mesonger.

Observior (f). A boy aged nine years and a half was staying the an adult of Namur. Wherever he was, furniture used in with an adult of Kanner Wherever he was, furniture used to be upon and another the structure. The structure is a sake to speciate, much current at here, was a Coars. This the test course who is the first of the company of the state of the st State a where with account. The case is the wint so as we spirit or on friend it took to doy of the control of the down to bring him here to Ladge, in the hope of being able to render service in the case, some of whom could not speak their native torgoe correctly, the or on proposing to rear all charges. Le Monoger and others who fearfully mutilated the Queen's Eachah.

Mr. Pater Lee on Rochdale Spiritualism. On Some ay February 22nd, Mr. Peter Lee delivered a brief ctors on The Past and Present of Speritualism," in the rac noty Rospi of the Conservative Stores, Oldbest-road. Rochilale. It had been advertised in both local papers that he would make a statement affecting Spiritualism in Rochdale, and several persons were amough the audience from both societies in the town. Having reviewed the history of the movement, he said that the spirit of inquiry was nover keener than now, and pointed out that in such control as Liverpool and Blackourn new halls were to be opened mesospection with the spiritual movement. Referring to the statement he had to make, Mr. Lou and that, unfortunately, an attempt had been made to gag hun, but he was not to be gagged. He appeared a free individual on a free plutform, and should express such sontimente se he doemed fit in regard to Spiritualism in Rochdale. He but been connected with the spartful movement about four years; ho had observed and studied a good deal during that period, and presumed that he could speak with some little authority on the subject. Many before him would remember list not very long age a fraud was discovered in the neighbourhood in connection with the movement. It was known to be such at the time , the medium referred to was closely surrounded by devotees, and by this means was enabled, for a time, to perpetrate his found. At length the bubble burst, and brought on the limiting of the Spiritualist Society in the lown. The moremost did not die out, and mediana were brought from time to one who were competent, such as Mrs. Britten and Mr. Johnand others. Eventually there got up to the platform a tories of modulum not altogother mitable for representations Spiritualism, and it became accessary for them to set their faces gripet it. This caused another speet, soul the founding of an aquaction acciety. Consequently, there had been two societies politing at the various mechanis obtainable, whilst, if there were not two pocieties, but only one, there would be sufficient Spiritunious in the town to form a society so strong that they would be able to procure a series of competent repreentatives of Sparitualism every Smaley throughout the year As things were now the platform was found cupty at one place on a Sanday are the discretility and it is therently sumption. The result was a Square was In the survey at present in a rather sorry plight in connection with this branch of the necessions. In the face of all thus, he was present that orning to state, candidly and fearloady, that as long as he had the power to being other medium into the town, whether the two mediation continued to exist or not, he should do by he had no was he had a such a same a Firstly of the man the contract ho has drawn around him nemons a thouse a conjust on overy way who would amint in lifting the sparation may ment not much a position as it had been lifted into in Liverpool, Blackburn. Clasgor, and London. Orthodox preschert delivered struous to their listeners, intolligently, and the latter found the money to say buy at the man can be and the same mort of thing with it years are of no shearen or massaul, but very meagre interregence, and yet many was first out a with which to pay them fairly renumerative solution. But, as surely as Spiritualists had grown to its present condition under the adhence of the All-Wise, if they liked, then so surely would M ch " ad Monday, at S p.m.), Mr J J Morse, "Man I the All Wise, or that power which was wiser than themselves, provide that with which to put the spiritual philosophy before the public in a proper manner. He had at one time rather narrow riews in regard to paying for religious teaching; but about three years ago Mrs. Britten in a letter to him and "I will not make our class of labour secred and another professe, by soluntary dominate. The society is to formule a mortuary cloth | taking pay for one and refusing it for the other, but will make all labour mered by taking adequate pay for it." On consideratoon, this proposition would be found to contain reason and sound lovie in it, and would be found to be incontrarestible What did they pay for mediuma? Mrs. Britten's charge was abor a greater the same of a vice same of Mr. Corolle Mr. Muse, and others. A society of therty or forty mem sen could my in easily assured to the congregations of from 300 to 400 a to in Supercya would furn on to hear such a class of me ms About a penny pur head would do it, and leave a surplus in hand. In the Press and on the platform he should use his pen and voice against the condition of things they had had of late. Mediums had been put on to the two platforms,

Ho spoke in dispurging terms of some as empty on no be movements of tables. Man is an aprelual now as after such mediums. It was a method of procedure which was don the new and Min for our close describe sparts also exercised more harm thus good, such mediums sught to be used in counses squritual gifts while in the body. I Some mediums can see into the such averlagation circles, and not be dragged before the fire sames of a new as easily as we can see through a glass public in a scarcely fedf-deceloped condition. To past that tumbler. Others can see the light flowing from a magnet, and clam of mediums on spiretual restrans of the kind referred to describe it as like the nervous find that flows from the fingers was a hear on common-some, and so long us the necessity or human horige, the negret, of course, laving no volition existed he aboutd protest against such a line of procedure. -In Sparitualism investigates the relation of good and ord to man a the afternoon and evening Mr Johnson, of Hyde, spoke on future if e, and finds that as he have here so he will continue suitable topics, and imported some useful information and advice there. Fifty years ago physical developments, which are the to some present who were, is a series, strangers to Spirites, commonplator of to-day, would have been decided. Spiritualing Philosophy

March 7, 1885.

best Sanday, what has for some time been looked upon by a pumber of the Society's members as an unpleasant and unecently development in connection with these services, " cause to a bend," and it is now foundly hoped, was expelled, as wall buy he a sure should but. The pravilege of addressing questions to the guides of the medium, Mr. or Mrs. Wallis as the case might be, having been freely extended to those who chose to frequent the Sunday morning meetings, ad Ghibs in question ing soon changed into ad injustion deliatings and contraversy so that the spiritual munistrations of the intelligeness control ling the medium were aftentimes avershadowed by the "cloud; and are thus engendered in the mands of the amountary their firsts to be of service as teachers in a two services higher side of life thwarted, and their impactors to be At length, however, a seet of clinax has been reached. The dentity at Savayy morning having bosome more tonusually discursive, and the efforts of everybody to contince overybody also more than morally impotent, the differe was enforce as a vote taken on the question or to whether such practices were to continue or no , whether, in short, as a mentas, some a functions y but not not put a second to be against that well are read to be small your result of no discount to practifying now that end of to the good sense, not to my good manners, of the narcting, for by a arronging impurity it was resolved that it was more seculy to myite instruction from the invisibles and hearken to them with respect, then to expect that they should submit to the promuentous harangeon of every one who might have a pet philosophy or a "new blos" to rentalate. It is to be keped, therefore, that the strly popularity of those clairvoyant, powers of both Mr. and Mrs. Walks, whilst under control of their respective guides, will be more actively called into play for the benefit alike of inquirous and mousborn. In the evening, it being "Question Night," the guides of Mr Wallis disposed of a variety of questions submitted in writing, more regiment as well their mend abouty and to the orident extinfaction of the asseting, which was a protty fair one in point of numbers. Having accomplished their task before the usual there for making up, the guides took occasion to refer to their personal work what their intentions and domes were in connection with Speritualism, and especially with the morement m Changor ; and in the course of their remarks, delivered a sever ful and etirring appeal to Spiritualists to be up a did ... in the discharge of saving and beneficent duties, as belitted those who possessed a truth of infinite importance to their fellows-accordistly impatient of the disposition that would debuse Spir-tualum into an intellectualism to wrangle over and splibairs shout. Those who now knew somowhat of the true meaning of life, death, and immeriality could surely afford to abstract from the cowardly reliabness involved in the consuming desire to get "calvation for their souls," and that only, and he propared to do battle for the right, the true, and the good, letting "their nouls" roup what henofit might be derived from such manly and elevating effort. Noxt Sanday evening, Mr. Wallis' subject m" Three Carses, and How to Care Thou."-Sr. MUNCO attended a conference in the morning, when the position of Spireculation the form and the means of extending its modul. and "muculn &c &c ness, were discussed. Several suggestions were more. In the ereging he addressed a crow educationed is arge may tray if them strangers on Sociotatorn. Hodescribed the Apertonia Special Tomple, recently erected as a free oft, at a cost of made by scientists to be phenomena, and souted one now 130,000 a that c y. Townson his a jest the fare is held me they fasted to expense them. He showen how science could geto emanate his neque for a 200 or which versus attributed explain the succements of a telegraph need to but fasted to 1.000 or aget. Spartmatists in Great Britain must surely severy explain what execuseity was. So Sparatualists find intelligence poor teaches man how to sentral the conditions of his lower natura, Quancow .- At the morning specting of the Spiritualists here which to day puzzles the sociologists," He went on to comment on the singular hestility of religionasts and sejentists to Spiritualism. But it as easy to see that many beaks have long both developing a spiritualist feeling and doctrins without knowing it. To all must must come the questions. Who as we as I forgoon a capta are furnishes the roply, first negatively by accorpang away theological conceptions; ascendly, the a positive way, by giving a theory which answered those questions. Mr. a not was lost sed to with deep interest, and produced a great impromion.-Mrs. Groom followed with spirit delineations, which Effects were recognized, three persons only of those to homethe spants with them were described faring in recognise the minute descriptions given of their friends in spirit life-There is a growing interest in the subject in the town. - Cor-

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA

The following is a flat of emissast persons who, after personal investigation, have extended thousandoor of the reality of some of the phonomena generally known as Poychical or Spiritualistic

N. II.—An asterisk is prefixed to those who have exchanged hellet for knowledge

SCIENCE -The Earl of Conviord and Balcarron, F.R.S. Provident It A.S. ; W Crooker, Fellow and Gold Medallist of the Royal Society; C. Varley, F. R.S., C.E.; A. R. Wallace, the enduced Naturalist; W. F. Barrett, F. R.S.E. Professor of Physics n he le pal College of Science, Dublin ; Dr. Lockmert Robertson Dr. J Ellisteen, F R.K. nometime President of the Royal Media no Chirargical Society of London | Professor de Morgan, summing President of the Mathematical Society of London ( *Dr Wm regary, F.R.S.K., sanietinja Professor of Chainstry in the

have a b Zohner, of Leipzig, number of Transcendenta. Physic, &c Professors G. T. Pochner Schellengs, and a H Flante, of Leinzig : Professor W & Wober, of Göttingen Professor Rollings, of Warsharg ; Professor Porty, of Berne ; Professors Wagner and Butteroff, of Petersburg Professors Bare to Verpes, of U.S.A. | Dr. Robert Priese, of Breslan | Mons

the Heat region Ass. some Ass. As. As. Tellaps., S. t. Hall. Go the Viscon Captain Il. Burton; Professor Cook, 14 O Tura of them "and Lytton; "Lord Lyndon; "A third which will be above the William Cook, and "Naccon School of the period of the State Howltt | *Serjeant Cos *Mrs. drowning Hon. Koden Noc. See de

Birhop Clarke, Rhodo Island, U S.A., Davine Leman, U.S.A. r. Professor W. Donton ; Professor Alex. Wilder 1 o fessor Hiram Comen , Professor George Bush , and twenty-four andges and ex-Judges of the U.S. Courts ; Victor II up. Paren and Baronosa von Vay ; * W. Lioyd Carrison, U.S.A * Co. , Pace C. R. I. S. Y. Hon, J. W. Edmonds, U.S.A. , per La casta c'ote: "Count A. de dissentin "sincon de Castenat ale de de Son al Pisar 1 1. 11 Nieholas, Daka of Louchtenberg,

S. H. the Prince of Solms , et S. H. Prance Albrecht of Solu E. S. H. Prince Rudo of Saya Wittgenstein. Hon. Alexander Akankof, Imperial Councillor of Russia, the Hun. J L. O'Sellivan, sometime Minuter of U.S.A. at the Court of Lisbon Benatikuman. - On Sunday, March 1st, Mr. J Burna N Pavre-Clavairos, late Consul-General of France at Trieste , to oute Emperors of "Bassia and "France , Presidents "Thiorn

An appeal was masses to Boston Startical sets to furnish the

p-______

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL PITENON ENA.

Mediums, who are the instruments of an external agency have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who decrees by sleight of hand, and in the same manner that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly investigated the phenomena has faned to become conrunced of their reality, so no con, aver who has been confronted with the mino facts has been able to explain their occurrence by prestidigitation. Houd in, Jacobs, Belacking, Hermann, Kuliar, and others have already confessed their powerlessness to produce under the same conditions what occurs without human intervention in the presence of at medicina.

Testimony of Robort Houdin.

The Marquis Enges de Marcillo published during the bfetune of Houden two letters from the latter, in his * Monor e note visa a MM non triembren du l'Academie des Serences Moraces et 1 toques, ace un grand nombre de prest thre sex spervice ox stereought is import to ave give la Science, et les hommes du Monde," in which the commerce on lesses his mahility to explain the phenomena he wit nessed in the presence of Alexis, the clearvoyant. A circum Mantial account in given of M. do I in he saws the Hands for the purpose of engaging wan in this investigation, of a Intter's confidence in his own ability to detect the trick, and of what took place at the segme, the conditions of which were entirely under Hendin's control. This account ox touch over twelve pages, and its accuracy is confirmed by Houd, on the first of the documents now translated .-

"Although very far from accepting the cub less who M - in good bireligh to bostor upon up, and appear years. ang that I am not at an committed to apinions, at ser for an of magnitude or age out It, I am, nevertailed, for a man 6 at e surar, that the facts above reported are entirely entrust (and ste to prove come to a cornel/finite), and that, the many I regises as them, the nine of my core I find it to read; them maning those reke of being to pigned, and programmen

* Renew House

A for a caller, M is March reported another letter, in which the following, referring to another senses,

"I have, therefore, returned from this occurs as accommos are it to possible to be, and po sende. There is no all a my and fail impassible que la humarl ou l'adresse puisse januale produire des effete attor mercellete) .- I nm, Monneur, da,

"(Signal), Rounty Harais.

" May 10th, 1847."

Testimony of Harry Editor

Harry Kellur, a distinguished professor of logerdemain. investigated the slate-writing phenomena which occurred in the presence of Mr. Eghaton, at Calcutte, in January, 1884 am on the 35th of that month he andressed a letter to the editor of the Indian Dady Notes, in which he soul --

"In your issue of the 13th January I stated that I should be glad of an opportunity of participating in a sounce with a view of giving an unblasted opinion as to whotiser, in a especity of a professional prostaligitator, I could give a natural explanation of offeets and to be produced by spiritual aid.

"I me indebted to the courtery of Mr. Eglinton, the spiritualistic moment now in Calcutta, and of his host, big. J. Mangana, for affording me the opportunity I craved.

"It is noonless to my I want as a couptie, but I must own that I have come away utterly analis to explain, by any natural means, the their mena text I was tested to Tuesday evening. I with give a brief description of what took place."

After describing several successful experiments, Mr. Kellar proceeds :--

"In respect to the above manifestations, I can only say that I do not expect my account of them to gain general anyone who described such manifestations under sunder circumstances. I still remain a sceptic as regards Spiritualism, but | 1877 "

I consist my make by to explain or account for what must have are not not cont force that produced the writing on he state, at job I may seemen are to be relied on, was in no way the result of trickery of areignt of hare.

C tue 30 of the same month Mr Kellar addressed another letter to the Inches Daily Been, reporting some experiences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regarda where it saw

I may be a secure and after a most strong to trul and a let wont to see womenful of appendix I can arrive police of the control from the grade or to track of ten herry in any form, not was there in the new any necessaris of machinery by which could be produced the phenomena which had taken place. The erdinary mode by which Maskelyne and other conjugers imminto loritation or the theating test could not possibly be done in the room in which we were assembled

The Tastimony of Prolessor Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Licht, mohr April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which occurred in Paris through the Brothers Daveuport, said :-- holte of the amortanes, more or less trustworthy, of the Frenchand English journalists, and spate of the foulish jealocator in cant conjugers, I feel it my duty to show up the had faith of one party and the chiesnery of the other. All that has been and or dono adverse to these American mediums is absolutely nateustmorthy. If we would readly parge of a thing we must understand it, and neither the , use a ste her the conjuyure presumed the arest slomentary knowledge of the science that governs those phonomens. As a prestidigitator of repute, and a sincery Spiritualist, I affirm that the mobiliouse facts and admitted by the tern brothers were abuduledly last, and belonged to the Specificalistic order of there in every respect

M san, It in an Rober Alexan, we o attempting to in acts there are facts, level resent I be the for the anything beyond an infa include across grates no pared, if the ania ment ten come of a or documents were and destructe presents who would expect to question as many as not fort by haso cent act. If any have a system of to hope the payments e positive to I am apply to swift at their time, sure est, I small be able to establish clearly, and that by public dominants. tion, the immense knowl demoration which reparator sunformers is the opens from conjuning peoper, and then equivocation will so no langer possible, and possess will have to yield to onthere or you was prosperentment to dony harmon or day of the principle of the national distributed Mr. W. Crasken, of Contident Land Bear 18 a point can be a samely and by pure y second fic mesheds, the ex stepper sea, pega is to be an apesmoproun, and somether and upthat chance or skill and lever produce effects as counterful (last it duanty of the spirit in agricular manifestation." I authorise you, dear sir, to most this letter in your next number, if agreeubla ta you," Ac., &c.

Testimony of Samuel Bellachial.

Sannel Bellachul, Court Conjurer at Berlin, made the following declaration in December, 1877 :-

"I hereby declare it to be a mah action to give decisive indiquent upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Slade, after only one sitting and the observations so neale. After I had, at the wish of several haptive experience, with the of rough mint sentions, and also for my burn interest, tested the physical mean amount of Mr. Savie, m a series of sittings by full daylight as we as in the evening miles among I must, for the same of true hereby certdy in it made a secretory with Mr State have been this how, if the term to the one the man test concernation and inest as or if its to rote titings, ording a lie value, and that I have not in the smallest degree found anything to be produced by means of prestingulative manifestations, or by mechanical apparatus, and that any explanation of the experiments which tink place under the circumstances and conditions then obtaining by any reference to prestudigitation or absolutely ampossible. It must real with such men of acconce sa Cruokes and Wallace, in London , Porty, in Berne ; Butlerof, in St. Petersburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published opinions of laying a to the 'How' of this subject to be premature, and, according to my view and experience, false and one-aided. This, creduces. Forty-eight hours before I abould not have believed , my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and witnesses. - (Signed) SAMURE BRILLICHING, Berlin, December 6th,

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

"Weatever love make manifest in light.-Fred.

No. 210 .- Vot. V

SATURDAY, MARCH 14, 1884.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

the prompts liepties through a La Physical of very idealted for an artist depth of the property of the propert Notes of the State of State of State of the State of Stat

The Editor of "Least" desires it to be districted understand that he can necept us responsibility as to the operations expressed by Contributors and Correspondents. Free and constrains discussion is encited, but writers are of apparition an hour after flouth as one of telepublic brain alone responsible for the articles to which their names are

THE TELEPATRIC THEORY

Telepathy is a word adopted by the leaders of the Society for Psychical Research as one which expresses expense of their readers, in gravely informing them that a the view they take of almost all spiritualistic phenomena brain could not telepathically an hour after the one was so-called, so far as the experiments and observatious of the dead. Surely this was pushing the far-feeling theory a little Society have been recorded.

The word means far-feering, or feering at a distance of ments of the bruin.

telepathic theory, and the apparitions of ghosts occurring a named the Society for Tolo-Corebral Research, or the at the time of death are explained as instances of the minds of the dying so operating as to cause cerebrations. which act on others at a distance or telepathically.

Parther, in the February number of the Confessporary Recent there is an article by Mr. Myers, the inventor of the numer organization , but has given us a telepathic theory term, in which he "believes that he has shown that in the which virtually says-mind, soul, spirit, are, so far as we year majority of cases where Spiritualists are prose to refer know, only matter in antiautomatic writing to some unseen Intelligence there is really no valid ground for such an assumption.

his hypothesis as to automatic writing are very few, wrote verses in a language unknown to the children or to and by no means warrant the conclusious he has arrived their mother, but which the father, when he returned home, at , and, especially, his theory that automatic writing is discovered to be taken from one of the Roman poets." sometimes produced by the cerebration of brains at a Now it is conceivable that the father, if he had trained distance from the automatic writer, is one which at his children meamerically, might have been able, to some most must be of very rare occurrence.

automatic writing may arise out of unconscious brain cere, it is to me inconsciously that the father's orain, or any bration, and they will also admit that as man is a sparitual other brain, could have unconsciously controlled those being while in the fieth, a considerable proportion of auto-children to write Latin verses. matic writings may be dictated by his own spiritual nature, unknown to his carthly reason, but all Spiritualists writing can be produced within locked slates or cabinets. believe in inspiration by spiritual beings outside themselves, but such writing is entirely beyond explanation by the and that, therefore, automatic writing must sometimes pro- telepathic theory, unless, indeed, the advocates of that theory ceed from this source. However, it is well that the would may tain that brain corebrations could penetrate scepticism of Mr. Myers should be brought to bear on woods ad sixte, and, seezing on oramics of pencil, sould wrate Spiritualists in this matter, and that the subject should with nies gence, and at a speed ten times greater than is be reconsidered, and it is to be desired that those who can possible to any human being give instances in which automatic writing must have come different kind (to unconscious cerebration) are alleged to does, control human hands to produce automatic writing. exist—cases where automatic writing has communicated In the presence of Napoleon III., a detached hand was present. How far these cases can satisfy the very rigid immediately under inspection, and this hand was kissed by scrutiny to which they ought obviously to be subjected is a question which I may perhaps find some other opportunity are of permanage

Now surely it was Mr. Myem' obvious duty as an investigator of psychio facts, to subject the statements of Spiritualists to " a very rigorous scrutiny " before committing himself to a thoory which would dispense with all spiritualistic agency, and reduce spiritualistic phenomena no-called, to the operation of physical movements only,

In the July number of the Nineteenth Century, Mr. Myers and Mr Gurney actually attempt to exhibit a case action on the part of the deceased !

Subsequent investigation proved that the instance referred to had been most incorrectly reported to those gentlemen, and the theory in this instance collapsed with the case. But really one sould not at the time resist the impression that the writers were aimining themselves at the too far

One naturally would conclude that the heads of a society for Psychical Research would believe in the Psycho, For anstance, Thought-transference is explained on the but if the telepathic theory is true, then the Society should Some y for Occult Physiological Research.

It is well, I think, that we should all take it to heart that the Bocsety, no far as it has proceeded, has not ad acres may belief in mind, soul, or spirit, apart from a

With regard to automatio writing, a friend narrated to me as follows, "Three children known to me, ages six to The facts which Mr. Myers puts forward as proof of 100 100, some years ago were playing with planchotte, when it extent, to control his children from a distance. But in the Most Spiritualists will admit that a large proportion of present instance no such training had been practiced, and

We nearly all know, as a matter of fact, that direct

Now, if it is admitted that direct slate-writing is beyond from external sources, should record them in " Light," the telepathic explanation, and is produced by an intelli-Mr. Myers certainly qualifies his sweeping assertion gence without a visible organization, how infinitely easier it when he adds . "I am, indeed, aware that some cases of a is to believe that this same outside intelligence could, and facts demonstrably not known to the writer or to any one seen by all present to write in the light and on the table the Emperor Was all this the result of the telepathic cere ration of Mr. Home?

Mr Haughton to east weeks Lieux is alignment with the members of the Society for Psychical Research for not experimenting with Mr hgh on at the pretty widely known that they have not with him, but that in in only r who holds the telepathic theory has ever had any proof of state-writing.

This has caused wouder and mortification, but the failure is easily explainable on the telepathic theory. The sensitive and his controls, feeling that they were surrounded by a hostile prejudging influence, were thus paralysed

Mr. Myers expresses his opinion in his article in the Contemporary, p. 243, that " the proceedings of the Society for Psychient Research must for a long time be largely occupied with telepatine researches," If so, I fear the subscribers to the Society may begin at last to feel that they do not get much for their money

The Society has done admirable week in bringing rate some order the " willing game," so long the amusement of society; and the Society has further enjoyed the great ad vantage of being presided over by a gentleman of high the ractor and position, and has thus obtained an autlet for its records in the public Press.

But I have this against the managers of the Society, that, while meeting discussions at its public meetings, they most carsfully withhold from their printed reports, the names and the thoughts of the few thinkers who venture to call the telepathic and other conclusions in question. This locious exclusiveness is surely not justifiable in an open acquety avowing shalf to be one of research.

Those who believe in the Spiritualities view and have united themselves into the London Spirituanist Alliance can produce abundant proof of-(1) True dairvoyance as distinguished from thought-reading. (2) Direct psychia or spirit writing within closed slates or columetz. (3) The "passage of matter through matter." (4) The materialisation of the human form. And those who prefer spiritual facts to physiciogient theories are invited to join this Society

If telepathy be true, it it not stronge that those who believe in it are totally impervious to its influence, and those only can receive " thought-tremference" who are psychics, or mediums—that is, those who believe in sparit communication !

Further, if ghosts at the time of death are caused by brain corebration, how is it that not one dying brain in a mi lion can telepathically corebrate a ghost

In conclusion, it is a remarkable and very serious matter for consideration, that a society carefully inaugurated under the auspices of "all the talents" for the purposes of Psychical Research, should, after three years' labour, find steelf, as it were, deliberately and laboriously strauded in a form of agnosticism ; and, while ignoring the spiratualistic attempt, under the disguise of a Greek synonym, to insinuate into the inquiring mind a quasi-scientific form of [Letters frequently reach as regarding the attitude of the Society for Psychical Research to Spiritualism. We meet the above in the interests of free discussion, and with no desire in the world to encourage any disparagement of the useful work which this Society is doing .- Ro, or " LEGET."]

To Cornerouseests. Severa communications stand over until next week, amongst others, letters-from "M. D. Edin"

TRANSITION OF PROFESSOR CASSAIL.—At the moment of It we going to press we learn the sad news that Professor Cassail.

LL.D. of the manus College, a member of the Council of the LSA, passes to the higher life at 1.15 on the marring of force LSA, posses to the higher life at 1.15 on the measuring Wednesday We shall hope to give more details next week.

Le Sparitume (Paris) gives a translation of the opening address of the Society for Paycheal Research, and the Review Spirite translates the report of its Literary Committee.

" STIRITUALISM AT HOME."

By FRANK PODMORE, M.A.

Mr Theobald 11, an doubt, within his rights in deferring the discussion of the poems of Snadi and the life-history of "Wainik " until such time as he can demonstrate that my account of these matters is inaccurate. But I must demor to his passing over my challenge on another question. In " Legare" of the 31st January Mr Theobald stated that he had submitted the Greek quotation and my comments to a Spiritualist and competent Greek scholar of my acquaintance, who had pronounced my criticum of the Greek untrustworthy. In "LIGHT" of February 14th I stated that I had received a letter from a Spiritualist friend of mine, who had been consulted by Mr. Theobald on the Greek, and I quoted the following sentence from my correspondent's letter, "I could have no decaled opinion, for my knowsearce of threek is searcely beyond the alphabet." And I have since learnt, at a personal interview, that Mr Theolahl was given to understand this very clearly. Now, I want to know if my correspondent is identical with the "Greek scholar" referred to by Mr Theobold, For if they are identical—on we may assume in the absence of an express denial-it is hardly possible to characterise Mr. Theolald's version of the matter in too strong language. "Absolutely dishonest" is the description given of it in my learing by two several persons cognuest of the circumstances, I do not myself think it necessary to impute dishonosty here, nor did I, as Mr. Throbald asserts, but in my previous latter that he had been a party to fraud of any kind. I see no reason to assume dishonesty on his part, I have large fatth in his capacity for unconscious misrepresentation. But unty he shall have answered my question about the "trees schoor" and until he shall have rendered some satisfactory account of his perversion of thefacts in regard to the Person poetry, it is clear that the value of his ere dence on any subject is an unknown quantity

As regards his reply to me in "Least" of February 28th, It is important to note, in the first place, that his amertions have hitherto been made on his own sole authority, whereas every statement of mine which he questions is supported and corroborated by my colleague, Mr. Hughes. Mr. Theobald has omitted not intentionally, I think, but from sheer carpiersness—to take this fact into account, and low thereby garned a dislectical advantage to which he is not entitled yet I constantly referred to Mr. Hughes' collaboration throughout my letter, and Mr. Hughes added his own confirmation of any dependent offer | a attention again to the fact, because in ma ters of this kind, which involve a see discernment and balancing of probabilities, and the exercise of accurate observation, it is of importance that theory, should expend about $1,000 a-year in a subtle every detail should be established in the mouth of more than one witness. I have now, as on the former occasion, descussed the whole matter with Mr. Hughes before writing my letter, and I shall in this instance also submit the finished letter in manuscript for his ravision.

In the next place, I would point out that Mr Theobald in the first part of the letter which bears his signature has allowed the pan of a ready writer to run away with the discretion of a critic. I wrote that I went down to Blackheath "in my capacity as a member of the Society for Psychical Research." I did not state that I wrote to " LIGHT" in that capacity; still less did I say or imply that in writing to "Liont" I was "presenting my report." It would have been extremely informal and indecorous to do Mr. Theobold's strictures on my proceedings are, therefore, based on an entirely false assumption. If he is a member of the Society referred to be would, of course, have a right to inquire what report had been presented, and how it had been received, but even so it would clearly be out at all in a public journal.

March 14, 1985.]

vistual, I went down to Mr. Theorems house in an official not venture to propound any conclusions of my own as to capacity, and I stated that fact in my letter, certainly not to the means by which the writings and other phenomena are gain so adventitions importance to my remarks, but for two produced. My sole conclusion was—and, I may add, that valid reasons. I wished it, in the first place, to be clearly remains now my sole conclusion on the matter-that Mr understood that I am guilty of no breach of social obliga. Theobald had not brought forward sufficient ovidence for tion in making public what I had observed. And in the his hypothesis of almormal agency. And, in the second second place I thought it right to show that my investigat place, that conclusion of mine is not overthrown by Mr. tion was not the casual result of an alternoon call, but was Theobald's elaborate demonstration that he was in of the nature of a deliberate and carefully prepared inspect possession all the time of much better evidence, tion. Whether it was "superficial" or not depends entirely which he did not bring forward. What he has on the accuracy of our observation, and not all on the done in effect in this. He has published from actual length of time occupied. If Mr. Hughes and I new time to time detailed contemporary records of certain in an hour and a-half all that there was to see, and saw it occurrences, and he has pointed out certain facts which, in his correctly, our investigation was less superficial than Mr opinion, prove that these occurrences were due to abnormal Theobald's twelve months' study of the phenomena. And causes It is now shown to hun that the facts which he has Mr. Theolaid certainly was well aware at the time that our described prove nothing of the kind, and that the presence visit was of this official character, for he accepted my pro- of certain other facts, or the observance of certain other possil to bring with me, as my colleague, the secretary precontions, are essential to the proof, and he thereupon of one of the Society's committees of investigation as the "character" of the writing is a matter of opinion, we precautions. Such a method of argument is calculated have Mr. Theobald's unsupported statement on the one meither to strengthen his original position, nor to enhance hand, against that of Mr. Hughes and myself on the the value of the additional testimony which he now additions. other. If Mr Theoladd withoute bring the matter to a For out of his own mouth he is convicted of the gressest documes test he should state exactly how many words or | manually - either in not stating at the time the precautions letter are contained in a given space of the writing, and which he did take, or in imagining new that he took prelet the readers of " Lacrer" endeavour to comprom a like matters which he did not take. But I will go through the number of words into a similar space. Mr. Thoubald has facts one by one. challenged me, as an " educated person," to see what I can do. In the matter of writing I fear that I should certainly he classed by most of my correspondents as a very imperfeetly educated person.

But I have succeeded beyond my anticipation-and no doubt others could command an equal measure of success-In rivaling the "spirit writing." If Mr. Hughes and 1 at the teno of our visit. If it did not exact then, he has no are accurate in our recollection, ten lines in an inch, or right to accuse me of inaccuracy. seventy lines in a half-sheet of ordinary notepaper, is the maximum fineness of the spirit writing. Mr Theolald we correct us if we are wrong. At my first attempt in day light, I succeeded in writing the whole of the trut twe tv ines of Mr. Theobald's reply to me in 'Libert' of February 28th-201 words in all-in a space that broad general level of the ceiling. If Mr. Theobald means that the average length of the lines being about $4in. But as this special portion of the coiling is 9ft. 4in. from the floor, my lines were not quite even and some of the words were , he should state this. But if, as I magnin, he men is that indistinct, owing to the softness of the pencil, I made a the general level of the cethig is 9ft 4m from the floor, second attempt, subsequently with a hard ripence. At his remark is not to the point, for I referred solely to that this second attempt I succeeded in compressing my lines part which is lower than the rest (by reason of an archway within exactly the same space as before-twenty lines in or other structural irregularity), and which bears the Fin. , but the average length of the lines is somewhat loss ... smaller writing referred to. not exceeding lin. The lines are perfectly even, and the writing possesses a clearness and regularity of which my there was no writing beyond the "solitary B" before the normal writing can carely boast. Mr Hughes concurs with source, a careful and prolonged search was requisite. Mr me in thinking it entirely legible, and I will submit it to Theobald now assures us that he conducted a search of this the impection of Mr Theobald, or any one class who cares to nature. It is unfortunate that he did not state this in his apply to me. Its production occupied me just under ten contemporary account of the occurrence, and that the words minutes. Now this writing of mine can be read without the help of a magnifying glass, which Mr. Theoladd tells us it necessary in the case of the spirit writing. As that writing is certainly not more minute than mine, I am constrained to believe that it is more industract, since it capnot be deciphered without such artificial aid. The only exceptional quality, therefore, which this spirit writing possesses would appear to be its superior illegibility. If Mr. Theolald challenges competition on that ground, there will, I think, he no difficulty in demonstrating that illegibility of the most supreme kind is not incompatable with the conditions of this assumptions, (1) that I said in my former letter what I manner that no person could have had surreptitious access of place to make such an inquiry or to discuss the matter did not say, (2) and that his alleged private knowledge of certain facts is equivalent, for evidential purposes, to a But though I wrote to "Liour" as a private indi public statement of them. For, in the first place, I did declares, some months after the events, that he dat observe To pass to Mr Theobald's comments in detail. So far these other facts at the time, and did take these further

I stated that "all the writings" on the collings of the rooms are large and straggling. Mr. Thoobald now tells us that my statement is incorrate, because in at least one materios the writing on the colony is small and regular. It is unfortunate that Mr. Theolaid should have neglected to show this writing to Mr. Hughes and myself, if it exuted

Mr. Theoladd states that the coiling in the hall le Oft. Jin. in height, and, therefore, out of reach of suyone standing on a chair. Now the "inscribed portion of the ceiling "-the only portion, that is, which bore any writing at the time of our visit-is considerably lower than the

I posited out that, in order to render it pertain that which he used on that occasion would not, without his subsecuret commentary, lead us to suppose that any such search was made

As regards the writing thrust out of the cabinet during the sennee, Mr Theobald now states that, in addition to looking into the box in order to see if there was some paper there, he had secretly marked the paper beforehand. How unfortunate that he did not mention this most obvious and necessary precaution when questioned by Mr. Hughes and myself within a few weeks of the occurrence.

And if his statement, " the paper in the box had already been secretly marked," is intended to mean that the paper The rest of Mr Theobald's letter is based upon two false had been marked and introduced into the box in such that interpretation obvious.

frequently varied, as to reader fraudulent mutation un state of unstable equilibrium. possible, it is unfortunate that Mr. Theolald has not said so.

(3) That my conclusion was a heaty one.

more satisfactory tests, it is to be regretted that he has ing the strictures made by Mr. Podmore and endorsed by published no account of them in "Legit," but that, in order to make the tests complete, a very thorough investigation of the piece of furnitore is necessary, and a very explicit and apologise for the entirely unwarrantable remarks that statement as to the whereabouts of Mr Theobard s keys, and as to various other matters. (2) That he does describe the test on "Litting " of June 14th as if he believed it to have ya to | Cf That if to so further occurrences took place since our visit, the justice of my conclusion, which was avowedly founded sotely on the evidence which Mr. Theohald had brought forward, as by no means impugned.

Of the new manifestations recorded in Mr. Theobald's letter it is not necessary at present to take any account There are persons who would testify, in all good faith, to having seen the cow jump over the moon, if their preposessions happened to jump that way, and would quote secorrelecative testimony to the fact the aursery rhyma in quality, w t m recorded. Until Mr Theoladd—in his own good t ne, and at his own convenience, if he so please-has expanned his allesions to the Person poetry, and the Greek

But there is our remark of his which I feel bound to notice. He has insinuated that I am one of those who think that the phonomena called spiritua. Intio are impossible That insignation is a most unwarrantable one, and, if I believed it to have been made maliorously, I should call it by a harshor name. If I had not held phenomena such as these to be at least possible, I should not have secepted the effectually as Mr. Theobald has done-appeared in "Light" of the 28th February, and while fully agreeing with all that he has said, I do not think he has laid sufficient stress on the indications of Mr Throbald a in the Salvation Army and the Bethshan of Liverpool or Isling incapacity for the scientific investigation of this class of ton, that record and comment upon Mr. Gladetone's elete http://doi.org/10.000

Before paying our visit to Mr. Theobald last May.--Mr. Theobald's innecuracy appears in his mis-statement of the inquiry and examination those manifestations which, as re- World, and Troth, The Spectator, and Salarday Review corded, appeared to furnish the most conclusive tests.

Your renders will, on comparing these letters with Mr. Podmore's exposition of the result of our inquiry, perceive says use of the largest Bible printers in the United States; how maccurate and misleading Mr. Theobald has been in wherefore he does not care to print other books. And what is his description of the phenomeno.

our visit. Mr. Theolaid told us, in his daughter's absence, intions. The curious thing is that people who returnally read that she had seen a breakfast tray going upstairs without about the plagues of Egypt, and the mirecles of the forty years human agency. Miss Theobald, however, subsequently in the Wildaruss are the bitterest persecutors of those who give stated, in answer to our inquiry, that all the had seen, on , as visible proofs that "miracles" de lappen.

to it in the interval between the marking and the sennee, it turning her head at the servant's exclamation of surprise, s anfortunate that the words used are not such as to make was the tray balanced on a star, and swaying slightly, a movement which, I need hardly point out, might have been And if the marks used were of such nature, and so due to its having been hastly deposited on the stains in a

The minute writing is, I think, a most fadacious and un-In regard to the locked secretaire, Bir. Theobold makes satisfactory test. Both Mr Podmors and myself have three distinct statements (1) That since our visit he has written with case and rapidity over twelve lines to found thicker proces of paper introduced into the secretaire an inch, and Mr. Podmore has legibly written the first (2) That in re-publishing the account in "Liour" of June twenty lines of Mr. Theebald's letter in "Liour" 14th, he know that the test he described had no real value on a let of paper 15in. in breadth, 2jm. in length. When Mr. Thoobald can produce spirit writing of To which I onswer (1) That if he has had these equal clearness and faceness he will be justified in sugments. myself, as inaccurate. But anless he can do this, I are, I think, justified in calling upon him to publicly withdraw he has made on our criticum.

Mr Theobald's argument in column 2, page 98 of "Light," on the publication in "Legar" of June 11th of the test of the locked secretairs, ignores altogether that the "publication" spoken of was a "ngooblication," in identical language, of the account given in a number of Legar" usued before our visit. If the word "republication" is substituted in Mr. Theobold's argument, the argu-

The strength of Mr. Thoobald's reply to our criticaent consists not so much in the defence of the evidence assailed, as in the production of further evidence of the same

The obvious as sweet to this line of argument is, that when Mr Theore originally stated his case, and an investigation was made, the case entirely broke down, and that until schaue and certain other matters, I see no reason why his opportunities have been given of a similar examination of testimony should not a ranked to the same rategory with the additional evidence which he has now brought forward, we can hardly regard that evidence as having any value.

PRANK S. HOOMES. Staple Inn. W.C. Morch 6th, 1895.

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK. XIX

The facth cures of Major Person, of the Salvation Army, in myr ation to vestigate in this sature. And I should the Potteries, have, for a wonder, been published in sourly all not low think I worth while to write this letter if I the nevertupors. This very much enlarges our outlook. The thought that all spiritualistic phonomens had occurred see shr kets and we may expect that other facts of an extraunder conditions such as these, and that all reporters of the energy character will have similar publicity. It is not in them had avoided a tendency to crude realism, and the contamination of too near an approach to vargar fact, as from Vienna. Why not try for amessage from General Gordon in his own handwriting, to be produced in the Pell Mall Genetic? Mr Podmore has shown me Mr Theobald's letter which The public is quite ready for more enterprise in this direction.

Newspapers that chromele the miracles of heating wrought writing investigations, have prepared the public for more striking and important intelligence in the mane direction. Why may not a waskly newspaper have its column of spiritual phenomena ? One of the largest and best, Mr. Cowen's Fredly date—we carefully went through Mr. Theoladd's letters to Chronide, makes supra-mundano facts an almost constant "LIGHT" of March and April, and selected for particular feature. We do not despair of seeing them discussed in The

"There is more money in Bibles than in anything elec," the charmof the Bible but its miracles - its Spiritualism? There is We had a further illustration of this maccuracy during the real function of the book in in the Prophets and Pathus; but the real function of the book in in the record of spirit manifest the real function of the book in in the record of spirit manifest the real function of the book in in the record of spirit manifest the real function of the book in in the record of spirit manifest the real function of the book in in the record of spirit manifest the real function of the book in in the record of spirit manifest the real function of the book in in the record of the book in the real function of the book in the record of the book in the real function of the book in the record of the book in the real function of the book in the record of the book in the real function of the book in the The black trappings are thrown saide, and we cover our coffins with flowers. We think loss of the decaying body , more of the freed spirit that lives more shire because of the transition to a danger is that we shall be too ready to welcome it, and too unwilling to bide our time and do our work in this world and for it. We are too carelous of health. We do not make enough of of or lives to come through the gate that is ready to silest us. Beyond it is joy stone! You, renerable F R S. s. Why sorrow here ! Why not rejuce with three who do rejuce Way and a son, of triumph for the departing weal, matead of the Day, March a San any Christian really he sorry that a saick to his really marrellous prestidenation. I agree with friend has gone to the visit to take a born and some regret that one we say, saying so a dear space - life

March 14, 1885.

Mas Da c Owen, who have us a real a ferrent adverse as he convertantions at St. James's Hall the other was total Tip, tricks go far to explain the incamerians Development of Mediumship," made are elequed appear f. health, purity, and all the Christian tirtues. The area seek the laptice of the most reference to the delication of the and the same. Dr. W. d. and the high and the up that choose but not mobilates" in moderate of a way W. A. A. Watta, as doparty provident, and sunced that the refresh monta were ready, the crowd around the ten and coffee urns was searcely complimentary to Miss Owen!

It must be said, however that Mass twen as not and early an her theory and practice. One of the best mediums I have over known, with remarkable charvoyant and healing powers. religiously refrosted from mercetics and fiesh. At one period during his development and when he was exhibiting his highest power as a medium, Mr. E. Eglunton was held by his guides to as other ascete are, and loud raps came upon the table when he yielded to any temptation to break the rule.

That a pure, healthy, unexhausted budy is favourable to spirit influence and central there can be no question. The hron and works of sacction in all ages have given shandant proof of this. The John Saptests have worn careed's hair and colon "lucusts and wild honey." Beef, brandy, and tubacco are not pocumeries of life, nor specially invourable to the development of spiritual gifts and graces. Vegetarious. leutotallers, and anti-naroutisers have a good deal to say for thouselves, but they have also an up-full work in fighting against the customs and habits of civilization.

If Miss Owen were the ferrout apastle of health and purity, holding her audience spell-bound, and constraining many to say "thou almost personalest me," the bero of the gathering was Mr Hosk, the wonderful blind medians, who went all ever the Banqueting Hall, surrounded by anger groups, who examined the solid iron ring placed upon his wrist by the spirits some wooks before, which every mo could see had mover passed over his hand. There is no mistake about the fact. Surgeons and engineers are agreed that it never passed his hand, and could not be wolded where it is. Either the iron passed through the wrut or the wrist through the rost. There the ring, made for and marked by Dr. Wyld, remained, and was examined by

It is no new fact. The " passing of matter through matter" has been one of the eldest facts in spirit manufactation. It is recorded in the Cospela. It occurs at every adapte with a good physical medium. In date-writing it is force acting through nutter, or within the space between two slates exveloped and firmly bound togother. "The well-known laws of nature " are constantly violated. I who write these words have tested these careful observation.

There are forces in nature which we know very little about, said Mr. Gladstone, and then has attention was called off by the "Hero of Herom" propering for his martyrdom at Khartones-a Spiritualist in his way, who was so assured of the Sparitualism will reform our Ismarals. It is doing so already. I resisty of a life to come, that death had for him no terrorseverything to hope and nothing to fear. And those who examined the iron ring on Mr. Hunk's wrist the other night came to the mane conviction as that of Mr Gladstone, who a higher plane of being. So far from death being dreadful, our little further on, with no Malidi to bother him, may find time to make further investigations.

And what has that venerable Royal Society to my about this stage of being. There can be no doubt that a good life the forces a nature or the dimensions of space, by means of here, which is naturally also a long life, renders us ripor for the which a clear can be threaded on my arm, or an fron ring placed upon the wrist or neck of a medium, by which a human form, visible, polpable, walking, talking, as real as you yoursul Death is no different a thing to Spiritualists. All the terror are real, is formed in your presence, before your eyes, from a has left it—all the herror? Our friends have only possed little reperous cloud? "Forces in nature?" Yes, Mr. Chad-

> Penck thinks the meanersm in the programme of Me. Po of this time. When a man apends an hour in showing how admitty he can deceive you, what is to harder you from thinking he is still ougsgod in the same occupation? No, the measurement does not explain the sheight of hand tricks, but the

to The Occult World ' appears to be looking up just new, mys the magnatumens Patt Mall Cutette, and it suggests that the Prime Munister, after declaring his open-mindeducas as to Spire Builten, some years age in the Brighton letter, and then recently witnessing the phenomenon of slate-writing with Mr. Eglinton, should do what is needful to prevent honort mediums from being prosecuted as " regues and vagation da-

Look at it! It may be a small matter in comparison with the pages of Egypt, and the horrors of a summer in the Souther no at er committency of the thing is worthy of he att a of not only the Prime Minister, but both Il succe Parliament, several mombers of which are noted Spiritualists for Mr Eglinton, & paid his customary honocartum for that renderful scence, could have been prosecuted next day, and on Mr. a salatone a ovidence sent to prison for three mourhs

Several members of the Royal Family, it is well known, have lad someon with different mediums and thereby become confisherance on the requery and ragabonings of Spiritualism another good reason why the law should be enforced or repealed. Se sente a statement as Mr Chaistene should see in a twonk and that if the Prince of Wales, or even the Home Secretary, apould commit a burglary, it would be necessary either to punnel the effender, or to report the law

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Society for Psychloid Research and Mr. Eglinton. To the Editor of "Lieux"

Man,-I do not desire to enter into a centrarersy about Mr Egipton, but I think it desimble to inform your various corre symplects that I, and some other mambers of the Secrety for Psychical Research, arranged a series of scances with him about a year age, which we finally discentinged because we obtained practically no phenomena of any nort. The circle was not themaly a pour od by the Society, but it was arranged at the ner me with the assistance of the leading members of it. consistions of any sort were premius, on Mr. Egunton, may auring in layer or migs, he could wise varied in accuration with or suggestions. I am mr, yours &c., EDW R. PEASE

Miracins. To the Editor of " Light

London, March 5th, 1885.

Six .- I am sure that any further protraction of the discussion miracles between "W N" such me would be profitless. We evidently more in different argumentative orbits. There are, however, in his latter two smentific points raised which are so "miraclet" scores of times through more than thurly years of outcody new to me that I am anxious to obtain further sulightenment respecting them. It appears from your correspondent's diele that (1) Water is no assistance in supporting a man's weight, and (2) that " a zone" may be properly torsied a universe

Loudon, March 7th, 1886. [This correspondence must now come.-Ep. or "Lagar."] All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT"

4, AVE MARIA LANG. LONDON, E.C.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Append Subscription for Licent," push free to any address within the United Kongdom, or to places consprised within the Postal Union, he is mig an party of Europe, the United States, and British Nove America is 10s. 10d for annual, forwarded to our office in ADVERTISEMENT CHARGES.

Banyes, a be Cinel Office, received or appoints talor 10a.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Lights" may also be obtained from E. W. Albert, J. Ave Marackine. Loudon, and all the leaders.

NOTICE TO STUSCHINERS.

Subservitions for 1885 are now the Subscribers will abilize by forwarding besent success The Manager of Likelit Ave Maria-lane, Et Post Office fleders may be made physible to Benry Barnes - til Editorial Correspondence to be addressed to "The Editor."

Light.

SATURDAY, MARCH 14th, 1885.

THE REAL AND THE IMITATION

If my person unacquainted with gons, who had seen the diamonds of some lady, and had been told that these were worth many thousands of pounds, were taken to Paris and shown the imitation diamonds so ploutifully displayed In the shops of that city, he would undoubtedly my that there was no difference between the two. Having come to statement would probably muse this person to assert that evidence is, when you object to allow see to decide the the English lady, who countiered her dismonds of such value, was cither on unposter or a fool. This perion would dis none probably, if somewhat serfouthment, declare that there was no d ferrace whatever between the Enginh and Paris charter s, and even if placed ando by sade one could not tell one from the other. To a more apperficial and casual observer, there would probably be no difference. The person who could at a glance tell the difference would be a man who had dealt with precious atones during many years. We should not select as a judge on such a matter a great mathematican, or a skilful jockey, or an oble astronomer, any one of these would probably make as great a mistake as would the most ignorant examiner. Even admitting that a person has a powerful mand and large perception, yet he except after long teaming and experience. This principle holds good in overy matter. Men who have long studied and examined a subject become fitted to judge of at, but their experience on one subject does not qualify them to at once decide on another, of which they have no knowledge It would be considered great audacaty if the transer of a race-horse, who could tell to a day when this horse was erstem of accentific examination. fit to run, were to renture an opinion on the truth or falsity of an astronomical problem, and it would be equally as preaumintuous for the astronomer to offer an opinion about the condition of a horse, or to assert that certain brilliant stones were all alike. There is one subject, however, which requires probably longer and more careful study than any which has ever been presented to human beings, but, which which nearly avery individual assumes he is capable of matter, as exhibited in various ways, and other similar giving a positive opinion, even ofthand, and with little or phenomena. On them facts being mentioned to another no examination. This subject is spiritual phenomena. No matter who or what the individual may be, or what his previous training may have been, he yet considers he is capable of giving an infallible judgment. We have an orthodox Churchman asserting that the phenomena are the work of the devil, that it is the object of the devil to convince men there is a second state of existence. Certain men of so-called science assert that when tables rise in the air, and manusate Fig. measured under 3c. In mich, to be, Column, 13 2a. Fage 14.

A resultate path for a stress of portions.

Priors for 1 a way on a selections may be addressed to the Editor of the a fig. 1 a way on a selection may be addressed to the Chours and Path Sinc Colors may be made payable to Hazar Banata, a be Charles for the landon. Hallpemy Portage Stamps of all present are reveral feet from the moving objects. Other and to mounts note the. Other individuals, who are neither elerical nor scientific, and who are equally as innocent of ever having examined the subjects, amort, with the holdness of ignorance, that a cardsharper who performs the three-card trick, or a thimblerigger, does exactly the most things as are said to occur in the presence of a medium.

"I will prove to you that they are not the same," says the person who has investigated, and he would be making a statement similar to that which a jeweller would make who wanted to prove that diamonds and pasts were not the

"How will you prove to me that these two stones are not the same ! " inquires the scapue.

" By the difference in specific gravity and cleavage," raplies the jeweller.

" That will be no proof to me," replies the sceptic.

"Then I will take at random a dozen pawellers, and test the stones in their presence and before you.

"That, of course, I could not allow," says the sceptic. All these jewellers are prejudiced, and of course could not givenn unknamed opinion. Lot me eslect twelve men who have over before seen a diamond, and then see if you can prove to them, by your specific gravity and cleavage, that the two atones are different. What can you prove by the difference this conclusion, he might be informed that the Paris in weight? Many things exactly able in every other respect diamonds might be purchased for half as many france as the differ in weight, and as to cleavage, why the way things break English dismonds were said to be worth pounds. Such a lisa more accident or conculence. It proves how weak your question by the said of twelve men who have never som a

Now what do these facts proved They prove that the montal powers of all such persons are of a very feeble

Here is one man who ameria that when solid objects rise in the air, or more without contact, the cause is unconscious pressure of the hands. Another informs us that the absolute proof of an existence after death is the work of the devil. Another person claums that the facts occurring with meditum are exactly the same as those produced by a conjurer. Another man attends a sianconominally to investigate, he breaks all the conditions necessary to obtain results, ignores the few facts which in spito could not tel the difference setweet the real and are tation, of everything do occur, and from this one superficial examountion writes an account of his assumed investigation, and arrogantly asserts that every our present except himself was a fool, or a trickstor. This person has toldly stated his opinion of those who were present, it might be interesting to lum to know the opinion formed of his mental capacity by those who were witnesses of his capposed

There are a few facts stated on the best evidence to occur, such as inanumate objects moving without contact. The formation of fruit, flowers, human hands, human bodies, &c. from apparently nothing. The production of writing between closed states, of writing produced on a sheet of paper in a locked box, of noises in vacious parts of a room, giving, by a system of signalling, the lustory of the last two score years proves, as one on intelligent messages, the passage of matter through worthy of attention. Even if they were all true, they description of this process on a future occasion. would possess no interest for him.

March 14, 1885.]

grand subjects be must be studying to be able to feel that may be obtained by friction from a glass-tube rubbed over a these possess no interest for him. What can be the cat's back However, such electric sparks can only be obtained subjects which pursues so anch more interest than those from certain persons present. They possess nothing referred to above !

But what do these things teach us? They teach us that the minds of certain men are in all ages very similar. The men who reduculed and abused Galileo , who hooted at Bruce when he americal there was an annual termed a giraffe, though guided by intelligent power, in a direction towards with a neck seven feet long , who sneered at the telegraph the medium, and, once arrived at their destination, being ever likely to supersode the old semsphere, who disappear. called Stephenson a vistouary, Messner an impostor, Jennor a quack, and chloriform a smelty, are now as busy as over denying facts, refusing to investigate, except under their own conditions, vannting their opinions as more valuable than evidence, and yet setting themselves before the public as the great authorities and impired teachers of all truth, and all Nature's laws. Surely it is time that their special subjects and theories should be examined by minds of a more able and philosophical type

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY *

> By J G. KROLENANS (Continued from page 114.)

II SPIRIT-Lio-tis

The light represented in Fig. 9 is, in most cases, of a whitish blue, sometimes it is of a brighter blue, with a tendency to purple. Summar aghts may be noticen suddenly in the vicinity of the medium's head, where they remain stationary for several seconds, leaving, when fading away, a short after-glow of a very intense, often fierce, red colour Such an after-glow, by its reddish vapour, is not at all anlike some kinds of artificial light seem at a distance; and often it is bright enough to make perrounding objects faintly visible. But the strange characteristic of this afterglow in that, and luminary, it is far more powerful than the original "spark " itself, for the latter never outs any light of sufficient strength to render even the nearest object visible. It is probable that in this brilliant spark (like Fig. 8) we observe in reality but the radiation of a very minute point of an exceedingly powerful nort of light, part as in the heavens we see but the radiation of the luminaries called stars, and not their real surface , for the refractory action of the telescope reduces them to mere points. And the fact that the after-glow is the more luminous of the two, may be attributed to the differion of its luminiferous properties in space. The luminous crystal like object placed inside the hand in Plate II. will be described when dealing with that subject.

In addition to the spirit-lights figured, there remain several others to which, pending overtest representation, I will now briefly allude.

(1) Yellow-coloured, globular lights, apparently taken by the "sperite" from the heads of the sitters. Unlike the former, which proceed, if not from the medium's organism, at least from his or her direct vicinity, they, on the contrary, move from a distance towards the medium. This I have witnessed occusionally at stances with Mr. Hark. These lights, once liberated, travel directly in a direction towards, and seem to be absorbed by, the medium. The "spirits," who abstract and guide these lights, inform as that this is the process of col-

"A few sets of these chrome drawings still remain, and may be obtained of the Munager of the Psychological Press, 6 Are Maris-land, E.C., price In St. the act packed on roller for safe transmission by parcel post.

tencher of science, he states that he does not consider them | lecting " power " visibly. I will give a more elaborate

(2) Small Sparks produced by snerely rubbing the What a vast mind must this man possess, and what kands, which are, in all appearance, like the sparks that "spiritual" in their nature, but are said to serve as a supply of "power" to assist the "invisibles" in their various manifestations. After appearing over the hands, they begin to hover like little flying misests, and proceed as

(3) Malacric Lights .- These are always even overhead, and move in a orcular or some circular line. When exploiting, or burstang, whole showers of little sparks of different colours

(4) Lunctuons Flance, resembling phosphorescent quantions; but of a more intense blush hac. They are either stationary or move slowly in different-mostly upward-directions. At tames, they will expand late large, faintly luminous clouds or inista-

(5) Lumenous Clouds,-These appear in close preximity to the medium, are more volumnious, and less phospher escent or flame-like than the former (4). They are seen to develop from a family discernible must into a large cloudy man, which, after amuining certain dimensions, disappears

These clouds may have some analogy with the supposed incipient stages of a "insterie mation," visible in a subdued light. They may be a still more primitive stage of this same phonomenon, and cannot be seen except in total darkness.

(6) Glove and Paponer.—Amongst other mysterious occurrences in the flark scance-room, one may, at times, witness strange glows or mists which appear unexpectedly and in some very unaccountable manner. No actual luminary asn be discovered, yet, objects or even whole parts of the room will become visible, i.e., dimly Blummated as though unveloped in whited vapours. Sometimes these glows will travel forward and return to their starting point They often precede the appearance of a ' form' carrying the own light.

Magnetic Plantes.-Some persons whom we will for the occasion call "clairsoyants" sec, or profess to see, bluish flames surrounding the medians s head or hands, or to move ever the table, a.e., the centre of the circle. I have no personal experience of similar magnetic (f) phonomena, but do not consider it an impossibility for some peculiar organisations to be affected by certain forces in operation, which to them produce the impression of a light being actually present. Porhaps the light is actually there in which case a photographic experiment might be introduced with advantage. Beichenbach's experiments, repeated by the Society for Psychical Research, tend to prove that to some "sensitives" the poles around the electro-magnet Lappear like blush flames. It is not unlikely that analogous forces may be in active operation during a senace, and if so, that to some highly sensitive persons these "famors" are as much a reality as the sun or moonlight is to us.

(To be continued.)

LONDON SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE,-At the Council Meeting hold March 6th, Mr A. A. Watts in the chair, the secretary reported eight applications for membership. The treasurer reported that he had received a considerable number of the sunnasubscriptions, but that there were still about 70 members who had not yet remitted. He thought they would probably actual their subscriptions without a second application. A few members. in response to the president's announcement that subscriptions were not limited to a guinea, had increased the amount of their subscription, but he regretted to say that they were very few

PSYCHIC OF VERY LIMITED EDUCATION

1.1

BY T P. BARKAS, F G S (Continued from page 85.)

Seamer No. 5, held on Monday overlang, August 16th, but of the numbers I cannot my positively. S. . Present-the medium and an gentlemen.

QUESTION. What we the difference between the harmouses of an eight feet open organ pipe and a four feet stopped

ANSWER. In open pipes the first node is found at the centre of the pipe, the first larmonic overtone is thus found & between the first node and the mouthpiece, others following 4, in he are In closed pipes the mid forms the exactly at half laugth, what effect would be produced Yuntil the pitch of the pipe he attered? and have?

A. As pitch depends on the rapidity of the vibr-I do not see that it would so in any way affected

Q. If in a stopped pape the hole be made at half length, moveled it affort the pitch, and to what extent?

A. The pitch would not be affected, but the length of the wave would be shortened by half to thee I

A. Because in organ pipes the sound is made to, or I mean the air is made to, wheate, by moving from a small alit and striking on a sharp cutting edge. This should be done in every case. I don't know why in read organs alone, since it would be an adventinge in every as-

Q. There are some pipes that require a hole in the Loot in order to bring them auto harmony or time. Will you please to state the memos of the paper that require this hole in order to their being in proper time?

A. This is what I never heard before, if one pape require a help borsel in it to bring toute harmony with the others, it shows a fault in the mechanism of the whole

Q. How is it that when O and B of the trible elef are sounded there is a resilient note board which is the lower C of the base clef?

A. Breause the resultant sound heard in the harmonic t is the C of the lower troule clef and its overtone, which, traveling over a greater distance, and sound varying in versaly as the square of the distance increase the ave. he ear, it being too familito be properly judged.

Q. What in your opinion is the origin of harmony?

A. I will revert the question. What is the difference between harmony and noise! Will that do, seeing that the other question is varue! The difference between harmony and noise is this : that the waves of sound reach the cars in isochronous vibrations, masic or harmony is the result. When, however, the vibrations are not sufficiently rapid, the ear is only conscious of noise. When again the Abritions are too mond, the our is not conscious of any sound at all.

Q. I have an impression that the present recognised and 32,000 for the highest. You will be aware that there is play upon any musical distributent on instrument called a syren, which gives vibrations that are

IMPROMPTU REPLIES THROUGH A LADY both below and above the power of the human car to hear, the loscest is, I think, existen, and the highest 32,000 per

> A. You are speaking of Do la Tours' experiments, are you not? Now I prefer the experiments with Severt's whoel, but unless the punctures in the syren are perfectly regular, which I doubt very much, as I have never seen one that could be trusted, the vibrations will be very irregular,

> Q. You and me are much interested in the information you have a very use or ner party to the a remate snow relather Humaur Stafford is your real eases, or only a nowde-plane, and we are decrose of knowing to what country action may be an all the sign about the distance of the terminated

A. Hummur Scafford are my two models colored as profer not to give any others. I was been and brought up to brid to the years o America, came over to Europe, n ered a university to Germany; wont buck to corresponding node to the first one in the centre of the America in my twenty-first year, and was an invalid from open one, the reflected wave forms the first node at a that time from an accident I received by being thrown from distance of I from the end, and the others followers my horse. I studied quietly during the next ame years of Q. If a small hole be made in an eight fast open paper with the table beare over here when just completing

Q Will you oblige by informing we what your feelings toers in changing from this world to that you now inhabit, and if you have discovered that the openious commonly held a this world as to the conclition of your world, or the specifical world, are correct, and if not correct in what way do they differ from those commonly hold !

. These questions require answert that would occupy the whole evening, and I shall be happy to tall you more of Q. In making real organ pipes there are single notes the sales were an in by the an expect, that the that cannot be until to speak correctly enthous having a only for the week of the work out anual half bored in count is toward the boot of the pape. Why we were a finite are true a phoson freed on from pain, and rostfulness, that I tell you it was worth a lifetime of pain to experience.

> Q W. I you be a nel one with to appeared a wight for the purpose of greing un the information which you have promised in the above paragraph, and if you have time and are disposed to answer the following question we should feel obliged to you. It is in relation to light, a subject with schick, I infer from your precious remarks, you are very familiar. What so mount by chromatic and spherical aberration, and have are those two difficulties in the construction at again the first to returned the end the A. on the energies

> A I will neet you at any time you appoint. I am not so wait acquainted with optics as you imagine and war have to study a little, or rather rake my memory over, to be able to answer your question, but I love no doubt I shall be able to give you every natisfaction, nines I certainly studied that branch of science, but have let it go down since,

. 10 no further me for it. It is only since I have been acquainted with you that the thoughts of these sciences have occurred to me. I will most you on Monday next, and will tell you of our state here as much as I may, but you of both G and E blanded, but you are mistaken in think of most not expect too much, for our state here is beyond At the Cof the bass clef; it may partake of that sound, but description. Such words as can best explain our condition I will use, but as far as I can judge, the English language is not in such a state of perfection that one can describe things celestial

> The next seauce was held on Monday evening, August " and as and many to what confittous of life in the future world. The report of the season is too long for assertion this week, but the MS, will be forwarded for your next > desire to remaid your readers that the foregoing answers are written answers in reply to questions which, before being naked, were unknown to anyone but myself, at may of them were marriaged questions which occurred to me at the ista of asking that the lacy red an wrote the riples stantly after the questions were asked, and that I have the original MSS.

my further remark that the adv medium has no unimber of appreciable vibrations is mistace for the lowest, practical or theoretical know is go of mosts, and does not

(To be continued)

SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE

Thursday, February 26th, ISSi.

March 14, 1885.]

made no spology on account of the personal character of the the histories of some of our best mediums. address, for the reason that the experiences she was about to gire were such as might come to any man or woman , honce mediamship is confined only to a few , why cannot all have they were of a typical rather than of a personal character

She also stated that she had neglected to send a synopsis ( the Council of the Alliance , and, on hearing of the nature of the address she had intended giving, called "Where Spiritualism has Lad Mo," the committee preferred that another should be pubstituted, entitled speritual undex came to me, such as comes to many at some period of their lives. The spirit friends told me that they wished to impart cortain deeper traths, which they were comble to do unless the body was prepared by hygienic living for the transmission of these revelations to the unior woman As . . | every man must have spiritual eyes and care as well as physical tentative period extended over a number of tiper on the action of sable to give more than a few salient points in a half-hour's talk The voice which speaks to 100, such a voice se spoke to Secrete. and such as has spoken to many from that day to the presentthis voice proceeded to explain in detail the proparation which to throw off the lethingy which has liek us in threat, blind, and was required. An onlire change of dress was not one? For true the veice. The big of a the constant of a get an arrange freely, the body cannot be classed from impurity, and truth undefiled manot be transmitted through an unclean conductor Walking and daily exercise within doses were also advised. Then it was urged that I must abstain from all narcotics or eliminate, such as ten, coffee, and most, so that the nervous system could become perfectly natural. It is impossible to cravey a message to the spirit with subtle accessory, so my vesce avorred, except the perves be absolutely healthful in setton . and it is impossible for those to be normal mader the system of whe so conger to me and a remember rust we should not atimulation areal in the present day. That it is a false stanulation, and not true energy, may be realised from the fact that enough a long way before us. The longer one is here the energy uses tes, coffee, tobacco, or liquor habitually in restlues or disspirited when these are discontinued. There is a reaction which does not occur when an article of unstimulating food is withdrawn-when a ment is aerrod without potatoes, for matance. This constant vibration between an artificially created exhibitation and the comequent depression, slight though it may be, is destructure to accurate transfer of thought between the two worlds, -as destructive as a seemingly triling defect in a telegraph wire. We realise how perfect are the conditions required in the physical world when dealing with the finer. The din-warn ear is scothed far more by the fulness of all excet forces, but we do not so alsorly see how much more subtly to doguation, and declars that all must do processly as I have done; but I would like to give my testimony that, after three years' experience, I have found the salvice good; not only less it opabled my guides to illumine my spirit more clearly, but my beddy boulth is much improved, as I am now eachied to sleep eight or tilne hours as soundly as a skild, without waking, and I have known the happiness of living for more living's sake as exactler country on large on our next, and have enough to spare I have never done before. We have shoot forgotten, in are for an island or two, the consequence is that the very air is over-strained civilization, what it is to be glad of life , the loy of surcharged with it. This is so wrought into one's system that being alive is fast becoming one of the lost arts.

midering the subject of mediumship we should clearly define the usual limits, when I had finished I sat down quite out of breath. difference between what may be called normal and abnormal 'This is all wrong,' said my voice; 'begin again and we will mediumship. Many emaitives belong to the second class the present day. Calvin is indirectly responsible for the fact result of my labour as I put back each passe of furniture. 'You that Charles Foster is in the means asylum. The rebound from have driven life before you; learn now to take it into your the intolerance of the popular theology, from that dogmatian heart and live it lavingly Heaven shelf would become held which required that a man should profess to believe that which filled with the unrest of heate, said my guide. the best instinct within him rejected—this rebound has no constated the modern phase of mediumship.

"Men have some to doubt everything except that which they can touch, and hear, and see ; hence a religion is needed known as ' the little church around the corner.' This church, which rests, not on faith, but on experiment; and this requirement can cody be mot in one way ; manuly, through the various to all , wasfe and strays find an warm a walcome as the outphases of mediumship common in the present day. But true wardly respectable, the doors stand wals open during the week religion makes us besitties in body and happies in mind, and as well as on Sundays. I gradually fall into the habit of spending if these results are not brought about, the religion is not one half-an-hour there between daylight and dark. which can endure, for only the creative can be eternal, the "One evening, as I sat alone, a strange vision appeared to

MISS ROSAMOND DALE OWEN AT THE LONDON destructive must of necessity bring about nothingness. We are aware that the present phores of mediumship are often harmful to those possessing them, the least fatal effect being a temporary deplotion of vital force. There are other results far Miss R. Dale Owen introduced the lecture by saying that ahe more serious than this, as many know who are acquainted with

" Many object to Spiritunian on the ground that the gift of this power I My answer is that all may have it in its normal phase if they are willing to accept the conditions the 5 % re quisite being to porservers in the physical proparation are described, and the second, that we shall never forget to sapire, fervently and prayerfully, turning neither to the right nor left for worldly fame, or wealth, but stoudily persevering until we see the light aboung clear upon the heights. God has never yet "Some three years ago," said Miss Owen, " an unusual clogged foot that were climbing upward , He has never threat a possing hands reaching after the Infinite. He has never dear d lips which yearned for truth, nor has He refused to dlarvae eyes which sought for clear vision

Every mun has a spiritual as well as a natural body , honce eyes and cars. Therefore, claurauditation and claurveyance must be numbble to every human being ; and it rests with each of us haston the day when we shall see and hear that which is lics. invisible to the senses of flesh We have power, new suit here. deal. We have clogged the conduits to the soul , let us remove the encondension and let in the light of the full day. If the answer does not come, then we may know that we have not as yet done our utterment that is noted, in partials of our usen development, that we shall do one ulterment. If there be avon so touch as a lunr's breadth soft untraversed, which we have the arrest, he was, we have not carried the right to ask for

The more form or aredomiches a rown in the present is a specially the noon a special research its behaves those of an larger over this elementary, experiments phase for web a reaches into eternity. This way is one we must a fall a sooner or later, for it leads it tend of Whom we are a part.

The next lamen to be fearned was of a semewhat different character. My voles and that one of the radical defects of this world was that scarcely anyone had as yet contact how to work Motion is the underlying principle not only of earth but of Heaven. To spread the broad pintons of our strength, stid sweep the skine with untiring energy-that is bliss. Not acquirecence, but harmonized activity brings overlesting peace second than through the emptiness of allence. The tired heart stellagons are the demands of spiritual actiones. I do not wish in weary not because of the fulness of the bucause of its can stones. Hence no constition of living, no inertia, can bring

Our labour wearies us because we work injudiciously. If we bring more energy or loss energy to bear upon a given work than is needed to produce a given result, there must be more or roun friction. We in America expend enough force to build I, for one, shall have to live to be an old woman, I fear, before "It may be objected that there are many who become good I can work so my guides with me to work. Their advice took a mediums without such great care. This is true, but in con- most practical slaps. One day I was custing a room with my show you how to dust'; than I was told how to handle each Mediums at a rule are martyre suffering for the materialism of article deftly but not hurriedly, stopping an instant to sujey the

" Many thoughts have been unforded to me on these n portant medioct, but upon those I connect linger at present

"About this time my guides bade me go to schurch familiarly

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

me. A chitting form approached, advancing down the aute. I have seen many ewest faces and pure forms, but mone so illumined as was this angel: my heart filled with joy at the beautiful vision, but as the presence approached, I discerned a sharp knife in one hand, and I know it was a nyn o showing one that I was to kneeled, and over me bent the angel. I have heard that drawn life that is passed no was it with noo, from my earliest child that I had ever thought, was laid bore, not only my actions but rese and confronted me. The ordeal was almost more than ?

prewored, the line dicking the finite from the minute must be and Heaven's law must be received upon earth. In the days of savings life men level almost entirely in the objects of a some were responsible only to loss in the such a for the resistor's But na we rise higher and agree the of these or a setransparent, and the subjective has more forceful expression His Wine some from ground campo a small country may be a least responsible to the last and of your answer on y second waste to his follow must for how or me, as not being constrained extension being perceived unless expressed by word or set. But no his any no unexpressed apasis of late, if directed towards a semestry, may have the force of a blow. The nurftment and austicty of transfer in the external world through the telegraph hings on this might of my probability a man or with an armone of the might of my probability as man or with may in the or beautiful or a man of a man or a m becomes more effective as it grows more intangiale. The per denote a species of the impositionable in the interesting the first tensor consists of the interesting tensor consists of the interesting tensor consists of the interest of the interest

*The list proparation asked of one was that a should go out every day and sourch every face that I mut until I found a again he can like seem duried overs with a wave diluter over the same of many manager. I would I role -110 VIII

This I found to be the most difficult offert I had been asked to ninke. When I would release my one dw he he to a non-the groups of fracted groups, has one are new gold to like passes to stray. When the action is properly thing as deferent from our present one, and of they afford our reconstructed at the action of the earliest of of the earli As I an of my much feeding very despondent at my to me. The revigence can give an earborate definition ery for heap were in to my Father of meen. The cry was of the philosophy and professor to were of the Theosophists, nearly, and answered I and those my otherwise I and not with no my strength was not sufficient, and so feet set my help, recently and fully in those columns, for us new to recapitulate. When that grand suthem rolled through the thursh, Peace on Mr Riley concluded thus Was there saything in this occult

The Bubjects of "Apparitions" and "Oscaltisms," discussed before the Lagranter Philosophical Society

On Thursday evening, February 26th, Mr. Thos. Gibson, of Castle Park, read before the Lancaster Philosophical Society suffer and not rejoice. The eight in the eight outsite might I a highly-interesting paper on Apparitions." The Rev Canon then, D.D., presided. Mr. Gibson quoted the operators of Dr. mg men remember with vividness the amount details of the Johnson and Addison as to the importance of the study of the question of ghosts, as some reason for his asking the audience head up to that night, not only all that I led over more, but all to spend a abort time is a consideration of the subject. The reason why so interesting a topic had met with so little my mutires, doop-inddon from myself as well as from others, investigation was, that there was, in the minds of most of our great scientific memirers, a not unustami tendency to meterialsun, could near. I know in that hour what it will be to stand with and they had, therefore, passed by as foolish and superstittons uncovered soul, stripped of all outward duquise, asked and anything which can not well be explained from a materialistic may smooth searched by the write light of truth. I had believed | point of view. List in 1851 a morety, called the Ghest Club, that I but tried to be a good woman, but in the face of this new was metablished in Cambridge, which formed an extensive requirement, my must express endonyour sounced provide indeed. collection of authoriticated cases as well of remarkable dreams I realise if for the first time how great is the responsibility as of apparitions, and their researches resulted in the conviction of this generators. Thought-termsference is made that a night by the members that there was simple evidence to prove school tile fact, it is a trumoutlous moral requirement. If the the existence, from time to time, at about the time of prayor, 'Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven, is to be death or after it, of the apparations of decreased persons. The Poyetical Research Society, astablished some three shifted again and again, and at each remove more of Howell yours ago, went a good deal further than this. That Society had entered into a systematic study of apparitions, had collected many hundrods of cases, but sifted the evidence is an ipport of time or sea, and have a way the results to the public More as a some up to a car and point doing to a conclumon and given its verdiet, and had declared and beilt up a The spirit a long the case and the ever a or do well one of though which, though not altogather new, had never before been the effect of any come it is not to the early a rich made in to put forward in no prominent a manner. Mr. Gibson ested several of the cases advanced by the Psychical Society, includng to a 4 Mr. Richard Scarle, burrister, of Home Lodge, Herno Hill, who, while sitting to the Tomple working at some papers, my the apparition of his living wife, who was at that non-cut lunching in Gloucester-guelens. Mr Gibson said that he had, a fortinght ago, called upon Mr. Scarle, and erosseva much him upon the subject. Mr. Searle told him that the telephotic. &c., is but the reflection of a change for more account was perfectly true, and that without a shadow of a doubt more centeris in the psychical sphere. As was shown me by the he saw the apparition. Taking the evidence collected by the Psychietis Research Somet- and a doe to it that alrea y tost into an assessment by other capeful me even, no their concinwest could be come to. He Calson and than that A was now an ostabioused fact that at different times apart tors of living persons did appear to others, and frequently when these living persons were at great distances from those a whom the report is in were appended. Mr. a mon-concended that the openions of Sir D. Browstor, Aburerombia, and others. to the effect that such apparitions were solely the abnormal creations of the mind that received them, must fall to the ground, for, in many cases, the person who asw the shantasm had his mind intent on something quite different, and the apporition was, as it were, forced open his attention. Mr. Gibson considered that the Psychical Somety's theory that a great number of those phenomena were exceed by telepathic the law is might a see fraction property from the mind of the about agent to the mind of the about the mind of the ab Transcer ye hat the most are not reported to the new of an early which appeared, and enabled the presence of a person at a feet but the next are not a When I have rearried has leaven, a first or other was corporate dress. I the cutan extension was what we thought required of not. My young and "We wish you to consider who it to be, it would have no difficulty in materialising itself—in is the person you think has wronged you most, and when you assuming such as appearance as to best attract the attention of have decided, we wish you to learn to here that person. the person to whom it wished to appear. And if it was saked, "Cui bono?" it was strough to reply that they undeshtedly gave as come idea of an existence

Occude World The revigence can give an emborate definition Earth and Wil, to Moth, my soul was lifted appeared or place of the could be admitted in abswer that it was proper been accessed to one our friends, out or with the found out that ound had more infinitely more breased to the tenderty to take into surnearts power over manner than we were writing to admit, But those whom we have lated as circums. may that he thought very little of their meacity; for if these men had possessed this wonderful knowledge of nature and the great power which thus knowledge gave them, was it likely that they would not, in all three conturies, have used this power either for themselves, or for their country, or, in the time of paraetation, for their lath, or for humanity at large.

March 14, 1882.]

There was a large attendance of members at this tenumally interesting meeting of the Society, and much discussion took place on the two papers. -- Correspondent.

Glassow,-On the subject of "Three Curses and how to last, one of the most vigorous and telling discourses they have given in Glasgow. Applying themselves first to the commideration whether municitial, discuse, and double were really the curses they were commonly supposed to be, the guides succeeded in showing that these were rather blemings in disguine; not punitive disponsitions of an offended Duty, but speritual purifices, means for human development, helps to the achievement of "a happen goal." The real curses were Irnorance, Jatousperance, and Selfahness, Regarding this unboly trinity as the source and more of all unbappiness, discord, and crime in the world of human life and relationship, the guides expetiated at longth on the direful influence and effects of each of these cursos in turn, denouncing the orth which abound in the midst of the most cherished institutions of our civilization, the sins of our beasted professions, and the tricks of our dishenest trade. The cure was personal rightnessesses, a pure and firm dearer on the part of such individual member of the body corporate of human accesty to maintain the integrit; of his own soul, doing his best to right the wrong his better nature directed him to cope with. Thus, by and bye, the orth which were the parents of misery and distress would do appear one by one, and hausen program become an accomplished fact. The discourse was elequent throughout, and abounded in well selected illustrations and striking parages.-A mooting of members of the association was hold at the close of the evening service to consider the important question of re-engaging Mr. and Mrs. Wallis for another un mouths. From the chair, Mr Robertson (president) moved that the re-engagement of those unuful workers was describle. Mr. Munra accorded the motion, to which the meeting agreed manimously. The matter of " ways and mosts" was then contemplated, and it was resolved to send a circular to members and friends soliciting support to the undertaking in the form of a definite promise of a sam, fixed by each radicalual according to his toman or his inclination, and to be paid either week your monelest which some to from a gravatitee field any sementary to the old any occurs of he Society. It is care may hoped that members, and a way affected the meives in the came of Spir ranhon in Case we we generously respond to this appeal. On March 20th the Society was bolk a sorred and social meeting in commenscration of the following objects, vis. : The Thirty-seventh Americancy of Modern Spiritualism, Mr. Morne's Farowell Visit, and the termination of the first six months' engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Wallis. -Sr. Muxco.

A stronger of measurering residing in Courden Town desires to meet with one or two gentlemen interested in the subject for mutual study and practice

As myestigator unto Spiritualina rasidang la Pintico desires to correspond with others with a view to forming a regular experimental circle.

It may not be generally known in this country that Baron Hellenbach, who has been instrumental in doing so much good for the came of Spiritualism to Austria, has published several worse upon psychological subjects, the principal of which are enticles. The Philosophy of Common-sense," " The Prejudices of Mankind," " The Magic of Numbers the Batis of all Natural Variations," and "Birth and Death as Forest of Sensibility. We are in hope that some of these works will shortly be rendered into English.

A connecrousive informs us that Mr. W Eglinton gave A connectional informs its that Mr. W Eginton gave bis first season in Visuna at the home of the Baron Drasche. Wurtemburg, when there were present, in addition to his bost, the Baroness Drasche, Prince Auersperg, Baron Hellenbach, Baron Du Prel, and Prince Transmanders. Great satisfaction was expressed by the members of the circle at the remarkable phenomenon of psychography obtained in full light. We understand that Buron Du P who is an author of considerable repute, intends to treat of his experiments with Mr Eglinton in a work he is now preparing for the mess.

A VISION BY "LILT" ON A GREAT MYSTERY

In the micros of my chamber, in the stalmon of the night, When the fever of life a struggles no larger data the sight, Then my soul its power grasping and my spirit taking wing I poors to hife Superial, and to thoughts that round it thing

And thus in meditation, one night not long gone by, On that mystery of mysteries, "The Holy Trimity." Unrolled before my vision was a new translation given In words that glowed as dismonds in the stay-lit vanit of Heaven

Createre Energy and Power, pourtrayed in 'God the Son.

From Love Ahaughty, Love Supresse, conjoined with Wisdom

The state Wagest, opening forth Creative Energy (The state and once the myriad worlds that meet the gree The state and once the myriad worlds that meet the gree That power that people. Durin with forms if life at parm my 1

In these set old. The Tr. by of Factor Marker Same Of Wintern, have any Pox a continued in Trop. Three-m-

One perfect Whole thus stands revealed to our adoring eye, And thus interpret we to thee. The Holy Trinity is swe I gazed whou gradually they feded from my view, These words of startling unpert, giving rise to thought name Then orders. The Holy Spirit. of the amount These is to be He from His high place dethroned. His mane and glary gone and others "The Joses" of our love? In He dethrough too? A myth, a symbol only, to He now proclaimed to view? He last to us for avarance, round whom our heart-strings sling Our proclaim Lord and Master, our Brother and our King?

"It cannot be, forbid it, God," in angush doop I cried, When to I ngentle Voice in whapsring accents by my side East, "Four not, Child, but listen while we yet expound to

Our second lesson gathered from ' The Holy Trinity

"The Father-Mother-San, the perfect Wisdom, Love, and Power, Know well their children's needs from day to day, from hour to hour . Know won they need a loving tende, a Guardian to watch o or the rite ening steps, and lead them on from Share to brighter

" And such a Jeans cared "The Chem. in Amount times as

The Expression of he Three in Care, on asked here below As Christian, Budha, Jens, born once h lead, town; To over dozuz, bright hight a come adam day

Van such The Flory Space is "The vonforter foretold by Joses whom on earth Ho lived some thirty years, of old I'was of H quell He prophesied, that He would ever be, Scarer one ever more recaves to our humanity

And both He not His word folfilled ? 'The Comforter bath

In every hour of road to all who draw noar outo Him? Whether as Chrishna, Buddha, Christ, 'tis still God's 'Holy Sou. God's 'Holy Spirit' sent to carth from God the 'Three-in-

Tis He, the Comforter and Guide, dear Guardian, tender

Frond,
Who from all time the Mission had, thy Planet, 'Earth,' to tend
'The He. 'The Expression' of our God, incornate for Earth's In earthly robes of differing forms, but the same Spirit still,

" Know, then, oh child, and understand the lessons taught thes-

Of grand and mighty Truths, and may thy Soul and Spirit bow In deep humility before that Windom, Love, and Power, That deeps thee knowledge so sublime, a precious, praceless

In awe these wondrous words I heard, fisshed to me from above As living Truths upon my Soul, vouchusfed to me in love, And with deep gratitude in puryer and praise, my Soul o'erflowed To Him, The Almighty "Three-in-One," Love, Wisdom, Power, —" Got,"

January 24th, 1880.

PHENOMENA.

Mediums, who are the instruments of an external agency, have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who doesive by sleight of hand; and in the same manner vestiga ed the phenomena has found to become con the which he said vineral of their reality, so un conjurer who has been confronted with the mans facts has been able to explain their congressed by prestidigitation. Houdin, Jacobs, Bell at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trickery lachun, Hermann, Keslar, and others have already confessed in any form, nor was there in the room any mechanism or their powerlessness to produce under the same conditions machinery by which could be produced the phenomena which had what occurs without human intervention in the presence of taken place. The ordinary mode by which Maskelyne and other

Testimony of Bobert Houdin.

The Maryun Endea do M. Is parameter during the lifetime of Houdin two letters from the latter, a "Mumorro addressé a MM. 100 mon res. de l'Academia des / 1 cut, April 10th, 1881, la reference to phenomena which Second Moraces of Politiques, and an agrant no are to occurred in Paris through the Brothers Davenport, and ,the norm west and a property of the contract of the tell of the contract of la Semnes, et lui bonnnes du Monde, la white de califier newed in the presence of Alex s. t.a. a. yast. A manstantial account is given of M. de Micville's visit to Houdle for the purpose of engaging him in this investigation, of the were entirely under Houd a's control. This account extands over twolve pages, and its accuracy is confirmed by Housem to the first of the documents now translated -

"Asthough very far from accepting the sulegies which M in good enough often wingous me and specially seat ing that I am not at all commerces or spine a street is as an of tongrettem or against at car toos not see on the from declaring that the facts above reported are entirely current (soul de in plus complete essectibule), and that the owner I reflect upon them, the more impossible I find it to week them among those which belong to my set and professor -

* ROBERT HALOIN

135 May, 1847

A furnight after M to Mirvilla received another etta i si which the following, referring to another senice effets amas merceittene) .- I am, Marani &c.

" Nignest, Rooger Hounty

'May 10th, 1847

Testimony of Harry Keller

Harry Ke lar, a distinguished professor of jegordemain. investigated the slate-writing phenomena which occurred in the presence of Mir. Eglinton, at Cascutta, in January, 1883. and on the 25th of that mont he addressed a letter to the editor of the Indian Daily News, in which he mid :-

" In your issue of the 13th January I stated that I should be glad of an opportunity of participating in a stones with a vew of giving air unbiased opinion as to whether, it are especity of a professional providignator. I confugive a matural explanation of effects into to be pro-tent by spiritian and

I am indubted to the courtesy of Mr. E., on, the a approximation appearance now in Carp tan, and of the Book, Mr. J. Mougens, for affording me the opportunity I craved.

It is moddless to my I want as a scoptic, but I must own that I have come away atterly unable to explain, by any natural present, the phonomena that I witnessed on Tuesday evening. I will give a brief description of what took place.

Kellar proceeds .-

cumptancest. I still remain a sceptic su regards Spiritualism, but | 1877 "

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL, I repeat my inability to explain or account for what must have been an intelligent force that produced the writing on the state, which if my senses are to be relied on, was in no way the result of trickery or sleight of hand."

On the 30th of the same month Mr. Kellar addressed another letter to the Indian Daily News, reporting some that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly experiences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regard-> an canclusion, let me atate that after a most stringent trial and strict accuracy of these wonderful experiences I can arrive or mers mutate levitation or the floating test could not possibly we were in the room in which we were assembled,"

The Testimony of Professor Jacobs

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Lecht, such

" Spite of the amortoous, more or been tenate of the French and English purrouluin, and spite of the feelish justomics e of secs is right to to a significant many of agreement conjugaces, I feel it may duty to show up the bad faith of one party and the chicatery of the other. All that has hoon and or done adverse to these American mediums is absolutely untrustworthy. If we would rightly judge of a thing we must understand it, and perther the corrected nor the conatter's confidence in his own shift to detect the trick, and migra possessed the most elementary knowledge of the science of what took place at the scance, the conditions of which that governs these phonomens. As a prestrugitator of repuand a sincere Spiritualist, I after that the medianimic facts mount to to the time the successes abadelely true, and belonged

A the Specific are independent one of every respect.

Mosan Residue and Rose of House of section attempting to notate these said facts, never presented to the public anything beyond an infantine and simost grotesque parody of the mid phenomena, and it would be only ignorant and obstinate persons who could regard the questions seriously as set forth by those gentlemen. If (as I have every reason to hope) the psychical atadies, to which I am applying myself at this time, success. I shall be able to establish clearly, and that by public demonstration, the immense loss of departmention which reparates mediumistic phenomena from conjuring proper, and then equivocation will be no larger penados, and persons will have to yield to evi ice or - y hrong presery nonation to deny.

" Following the data of the loarned chemist and natural philosopher, Mr. W. Crookes, of London, I am now in a post-I have, therefore, returned from this seemes as asterialised that to prove plainly, and by parely scientific methods, the my tim mentile to be, and persuaded that it is offerly empossible axistence of a psychic faces in inconcertan, and about the indirethat it were countried as a representation of the special in appritual manifestation." I authorise first empossible que le howers ou a se pou en pour e pa seu ce des you, door sir, to insert this lettre in your next number, if agreeable to you," &u., &c.

Testimony of Semuel Bellechini.

Samuel Bellachun, Court Copjurer at Berlin, made the following declaration in December, 1877

"I hereby declare it to be a rash action to give decisive for greent upon the objective medial performance of the timer can medium, Mr. Honry Slade, after only one nitting and the observations so made. After I had, at the wish of several highly extremed gentlemen of rank and position, and also for jay own interest, leated the physical mediumship of Mr. Slade, a series of aithorys by full daylight, as well as in the evening in his bedroom, I must, for the make of truth, hereby certify that the phenomenal occurrences with Mr. Shale have been the roughly examined by me with the minutest observation, and investigation of his surroundings, including the table, and that I have not to the smallest degree found anything to be produced by means of prestaligitative manifestations, or by mechanical I apporatus , and that may explanation of the experiments whick ok place under the circumstances and conditions then obtaining by any reference to proceedingitation as absolutely impossible. It must rest with such men of science as Crookes and Wallace, in London , Perty, in Berne , Butlerof, in St. Petersburg, to After describing several successful experiments, Mr scarch for the explanation of this phonomenal power, and to more its reality. I declare, moreover, the published omnious of "In respect to the above manifestations, I can only my laymen as to the How of this subject to be premature, and, that I do not expect my account of thom to gain general according to my view and experience, false and one-sided. This, credence. Forty-eight hours before I should not have believed my declaration, as signed and executed before a notary and witanyons who described such manifestations under similar cir- nesses.-(Signed) Saxunt Battacarre, Berlin, December 6th,

Night:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

WHATEVER 1972 MADE MANIFEST IN LIGHT & PART

No. 220,-Vol. V.

SATURDAY, MARCH 21, 1885.

PRICE TWO PENCE.

CONTENTS

The activity for Pry hirm Errenarch and transfer of vigintian. Photometric payethern Forward in Fig. 127

The illustration of vigintial properties of the more allegeness of the constant of t Wire to consider and reperfequence of the constitution of the cons

THE SOCIETY FOR PSYCHICAL RESEARCH AND SPIRITUALISM.

BY EDUCYD GUNNEY

number of "Learry" seems to call for a few words of | workers for generations has been before new expended. comment. These will relate exclusively to his criticism and worthly expended—in catablishing facts of incomof our past work with his view as to the importance of parally less scientific importance than the smallest genuine other and further investigations, I confishly concur.

a spiritualistic phonomena so-called, so far as the reperi for Psychical Research in that direction will be incomplete. ments and observations of the Society have been recorded." If the task morely consisted, as "X." seems to think, "the But the first phenomenon which he address as an authors, bringing some order of a the willing group—so long the of this is natomatic writing, and whatever the retionale amusement of society," his position would be intelligible of automatic writing may be, telepathy less heror been, but the relation of our work to the results of the will g and hever could be, represented as having anything game" has been a purely aspatice one; we have simply to go with it unless want is notomatically writte discussed here and all other results where contact was used has distinct reference to the incutar content of some or physical signs of a provide as has up a date to the accord person, whose hands are not in contact name of thought-transference at all. Of our positive with the writing materimetr. In these cases, it seems results, however a at rooting the records of them may be, reasonable to unfer that the mind of the writer is we can only express a hope that they are still in then unconsciously influenced by the other person. The infancy. il the alty that may be felt in the fact that the occupie in id. To the next criticism -that we withher from our is not conscious of the "transferred improteon," as not in primes reports the views of the few to skeer who venture our view a formidable one, but such as it is, it may be to call the telepathic and other conclusions in question -. relieved by noting that assertions similar seems often to can only reply that no paper embodying these views has the place on more of spents a sectoring by A. e out over been subspected to the Council for presentation of the happers to the agen of which no prossion of some Society. If such a paper were so writed, it would be adjudwirt is surveyed to the percipient. But he impression it on a nor which may other the manuer is an unconscious one, and does not become. Finally, A. severious our view of thepaty as a conscious tel, perhaps, some hours afterwards, when physiological theory, and identifies it with materialism must, or darkness, or some other condition, farours As to this, it will perhaps be enough to refer your readers its emergence. This view of the matter was help to to the Percentings, Part VI up 134, 35, where the remove "X s" next difficulty as to the accurrence of an analogues of physical explanations are analogues a vers apporition on hour after death." A further criticism which strong you forth an it. 184 of the world last where be maken-hamely, that "those only convective thought it is expressly said that only in some form of Josephson transference who are psychics or ned outs, that is those can the long controversy between Science and Pa th fina who be several spirit communication — is not an accompance, a crose." The c scussion in which these words occur and with the oridence. Among the perceptents whose records of which treats of the relation of psychical rescords to human telepatine experience are in the Society's possession, there in the and orges, may be undergrate enough but it are a very large number who have not held the belief in marcaly seems accurate to describe at as "a form of " X proceeds to mention some more of the affected marrels of Speritualism, and asks whether we consider telepathy to be the explanation of these. I reply, ordinally not; nor do we see any more likelihood of being prejudiced in judging of such phenomena by a he ief in the reality of to my friendly critic "X." whose letter appears in your tereparing than by a benef in the reality of hypnotism, or of successue. any other order of psychological facts. And even is respect | As regards the practical navice which " \ " gives to of them are of identical majore, or that because thought "Light "It is to be respect" he says, "that those who transference explains some of a read must need sieve aup

(Proceedings, Part VI p. 18 " goes on to regret, in the interest of subscribers to Sandy for Parchical Research, that the Proceedings of the Society must for a long time be largely occupied with telepathle researches. They have been and will continue - largely occupied with other topics as well. But Visiting soggests a unimport light-hearted view than we can at all share, as to what telepathy a + to proof of it really maply. Has he carefully considered the relation of even the hambler forms of though transference to recognised accessed. Has be apprelised the weight of the presumption that there is against them? The letter of your correspondent "X." in the current Can be deny that the lifelong devotion of hundreds of instance of the direct notion of mind on mind? And till He begins by saying that the word talapatay is one the resignation of got an the glit transference has become which we have adopted an expressing our view of "almost a part of orthodox scientific belief, the task of the Society agaosticism."

March , 6th , 885

To the Editor of "Lions

Six,—I hope that you will allow me a few lines in roply of phantasma, mucations of death, as I may remind your your readers, I am most thoroughly in accord with him, and readers, "We are far from dogmatically easerting tost all am glad to see the request put prominently forward in

March 21 1855 1

hounts tarted

against a the same of a the pure alsome has abbee to title

a may come by the influencement and appropriate portraining remarks, as a separate of many of a material set may set but can give instances in which automatic writing must have more proof, but that Spiritualism is still an open question, come from external sources, should record them in -still mode more proof to convince not only the outer Limit." To this I would only add that if, as I hope may world but the careful inquirer. We are open to any mach he the case, these instances should be too numerous and proof, and are especially anxious to receive it from percase detailed to admit of the reception of all of them in the sources. Professor Sidgwick and others have felt that columns of "LEGIT," I shall be most grateful for any which there were grave objections to the employment of the maty se sent to me at my private address, or to the Secretary, funds of the Secrety for Psychonic Research in paying fees Society for Psychical Research, as 14, Desir's yare, S.W. to pulled to due to been an accorded I must ask in all cases for first-hand testimony, and felt for that purpose and many sittings held, though not as yet details, with nature and dates , not, of course, to be published | with conclusive results. Will not private circles offer us without express authorisation. The interesting case which apportunities of inquiry? In a world where it is hard to please overyone there is "X." montions, where shildren are said to have written Latin verses automatically, would be specially welcome if a melancholy comfort in feeling that at any rate one does thus authenticated. At present it as shrouled behind a not give more disminstanceion to one side than to the other triple voit of anonymity, being "X,'s" account of what When next I see myself described as " a wild mystic, who been my data a subject to state ounts of a returnment of a basic super a cost. I show the tree cost case if with reflect very vigorous scruttary optore communiting impact to a theory troublet X conserve was a remember A. At a sec and which would dispense with all sparitualistic agency, and reduce Mr. Haughton as an adept in the art of "How not to

Lockbampton House, Casabradge,

nomena, and secondly, that I have, in fact, accustinised almost. [If our readers will kindly formule as with records of phenomena ones of apretion stic literature. I am not bring up a stand of the reading plan graphers of Reim and the same of the standard of the same Reignny; but only pointing out that there is still a real used publicly offers any photographer 500 frames to produce a for more evidence, and full score for the appropriate of all these for more evidence, and full scope for the energies of all those photograph of a deceased person mader similar conditions, the who are it is post to attain it. For my part I want at work to be appeal of a complete to be consulty appealated ten thousand families would try experiments with pian. However in the characterist a difficult of the part of a spirit chette, and carefully and minutely report the results. As form while are many we yieldness to begra or art. The

I must not trespose much further on your space. But I Meanings has received three thousand france for its share, and he should like to refer "X" and your request generally to Orrespe La Paix one thousand france. These sums have been put should like to refer "X" and your reasons generally to country, and was as toucher, and was so touch the pure man and do not of Professor Sugments presidentian addresses, as showing how books, do, under the supervision of a committee appointed by for from bostic how for from preparaced, the art tode of the Society for Paychice. Research towards Specialism of the society for the window for paychice, the writer of the society for Paychice. Research towards Specialism of the window for force, the writer of the society for a dark that the writer of the society for paychice, the writer of the society for a stabilism of the writer of the society for a stabilism of the writer of the society for a stabilism of the writer of the society for paych that received one the society for paych that the writer of the society for paych the writer of the writer of must inevitably take the fatal plange into the pix of S orsterd on, with All its stuffed bands, beness, and named may description, we will gladly tabulate those that appear And the said of the property of the said not four that we shall be presented as regards quantity . we can find room for all accurate narrations of fact. In quast where it is desired that mames and addresses shall not be published, we will arrange accordingly, but we hope our friends will not allow this consideration to stand in the way of formariling their records to us. In any case, we have little sloulst that we shall be able profitably to use term are we will gate a triangle who was a finite corresponsibilities within the constitution and a similar or addivised on beat or of Tour 4 the Maria pane Logon, Et Es v Lieux 1

March 14th, 1895

At Nice, Spiritims is one of the standing topics of conversaon the ansaturing prevents the early as and a successful that he many treatises, how many observations, are found necessary had seen his decessed sister satisfurgly beckening to him. At rompared with existing reports of cases of typhon that much results would still be faw; and yet how much more com-allow, stonly remains to search the bath-room carefully, very "APPARITIONS" FORMED IN FULL VIEW carofully, remembering it is his own bounc. Assuming all this Ш to have been done by abrewd, and at the same time by known to a w the wrache, and better still if they were outsiders not By Jour S. FARMER o amortes with the circle—then, if no truce of the mysteriotal visitent were discovered, I cannot conceive of but me opinion in Since the publication of the report of our Committee in

"Liour" for February 38th, I have received a commun-I do not think, Sir, the theory of materialisation will remive cation in respect to the phenomena then recorded from any additional confirmation, at least not in the sym of unballovers Mr S. W Watson, of Birkby, Hoddersfield. This letter or honest doubters, from this scance. is a representative one; therefore I quote the relevant

Although in some cases the fact of the seance having passages to extense, and I will then dust with the several taken place at the residence of the medium might properly be consucred as detrimental to the value of the ovidence, I should like, with your permusion, to make a few yet in this instance the argument cannot fairly be held as remarks on the mance reported at such length in "Laurer," applicable. The strength of the testimony for the phenomenon February 28th a stance which one of the witnesses claims to recorded in " Littur" for February 38th, hea in the fact of be one of the most remarkable that ever occurred. Prosuming. its being entirely independent of such precautions. to that this stance, and the published account of it, were Diligent and careful search was made, both previous meant not merely for Symptodicts only-us which one my kater would be prelocant-but, from the prominence ..... and subsequent to the sense, of the adjaceing room, and all nominary of detail, and the avident ameerity of the witnesses. means of access for a possible confederate were excelully that it was intended also for general readers, I think my barred. Even, however, if these precautions had not been remarks muy not be entirely out of place, particularly as I observed, the value of the evidence would not have been, in portion that from the letters that appear from time to time to the least degree, vitiated. If Mr. Watson will carefully La art. You have mighty been globe the principle to the latter and read the testimeny again, he will observe that (1) Mr. Eglinton came alose from the inner room; (2) that his N w w we as to see that the source, when riewed either every movement was plainly discornible, and (3) that the by the animalical and unregenerate for puller, or by these who, like psyself, accupy that burder lime where we "kep between light was sufficient for careful observation. How, then, even amuning, for the mke of argument, that a confederate the major of an or common at call to seek the spin contr. guned access to the inner room, could be (the confederate) will appear most mentalectory and meanchaire and hen her interesting it may be to those who have been fortunate enough have passed into the room in which the "apportion" was the second programme of appetent and the second second formed, unknown to one or two at least of the fourteen enemy to he for the xis not so considered by witnesses? Such an idea is the more manifestly absued if it is remembered that all testify that the light was The first week point that occurs to me a-that the water gove quite sufficient indeed to enable everyone to see what show here taken place at the house of the medium. Thus, t was toking place, and enough to enable most of those may the least, was unfortunate , for it opens, at the very entact, a time for an C and Aperican for T the kills a generally present to observe in dotail the various stages of the admitted that, on his own graced, a clover conjugar is more than phenomenon. Moreover, from the position occupied by Mr. Eginton during the process, the gase of all the observers The next point of with egon of an light of think end was directed to that portion of the room in which, to take singlet ask -lat, Was the light such cent y give made he part in what occurred, a confederate must have made his scarnet sittors, notably No. 1 and No. 14, to dutinguish the or her appearance. I am personally perfectly satisfied that curtain in front of the bath-room door, and, as a matter of nearm, the space between the curtain and the speciments. It is no man, woman, or child, could possibly have passed through the plant fieldy, Amanon, there was a sufficiency of the was the cloor leading from the anner room to the seamer room ater was to a distant law as of the same presents to be without my instantly having become aware of it, this also is the testimony of all my fellow witnesses. In addition to appearance of the figure are most performing the Latthis, it must be rensombered I carefully secured the only a woll-known plan of conjurous to distruct the attention of these mount of ragress, searched the room both before and after authories an em on state uson and extrement of 5 ments of some dominated by-play, and this can they do in the the seases, and found overything to my antisfaction. I have fullest light, and with the largest authence. How much suner, also matically myself that the door in question is not " a trick then, will it be in a darkened room, and with a small audience. door," as someone has suggested, nor is there a trap door chessing the I think I am a large to a nature of of not entired, at, or note, the spot at which the apparation was developed. nor indeed in any part of the two rooms. This has been principally of devout Spiratualists. I can conceive it perfectly ascertained by the most careful scrutley. But-that may to a skilful hand to introduce his spirit, or rather for the sparit be introduce himself, while all eyes and attentions were mevitable "but"-I did not look up the chimnoy (the circle directed to that mystical manufacture of number, which latter was between it and the "form"), and possibly someone got when plied in a burge heap, as it appears to have been, would hamself tied to the end of the apparatus of some channey afferd a convenient shield while the figure was approaching Mind, I do not say that it was so . I only state the doubts and sweeper, and in that way gained access to the room, and then-why, all would be very easy ! In answer to Mr. Wetson's question about the light, But, to my mind, the weakest part, by far, in the whole I must refer him to the account already given. sience is this, that when the figure and the psychic desepposed was, as a matter of fact - the description given is through he curtain, there ap wars to be in second dury proupt and eccurate scratiny of the bulk-room. Of course I can magine under rather than over-stated,-anficiently good to apeaking as a losshess. One witness alone mys something on smalle every person present to observe the curtains the suspect use "that after more measures Mr Eginton was in question, and I have already said strict watch was found we "but that the visite had disappeared or had become kept. No smount of by-play would have so distracted my attention (nor, I am assured, did at distract the attention New after some minutes" so very vague, and on the of other witnesses to whom I have mentioned this point)

> Mr. Watson's third question has already been answered in dealing with the other points he raises.

The whom matter really resolves itself into these alternatives Either fourteen persons have united to per-nyimble " supposition that the seance was a test one, there ought not to us to have rendered possible what Mr Watson suggests. he coopera marter or a nomice allowed to a me before examining that closet. What ought to have been done is this someone should have been placed at the door leading into the bath-room, then the monion the moneum and the form had retared through the curtain, another person should have stationed himself there . after that, it does not matter how many minutes you jure themselves, or they were, one and al., simultaneously

 $^{\circ}$  Y  $^{\circ}$  and to like as regards the children of  $^{\circ}$  Z." I may continued and agrees with " X that twould have spiritualistic phenomena so-called to the operation of do lt." I am, Sir, yours obedienely, physical movements altogether." But I may remark in reply, first, that I have explicitly and totaless revise guarded mysolf against being supposed to assert that the telepathro theory can be made to cover all alward spiritualistic phoad spiritualistic statements necessible to me with very guart care in mough at random your most of the compact only observe thing at once, and that where all is so strange and povel is manfest to begin at the and which is least remote from established knowledge, and recognized methods of experimontation. As regards the cases of automatic writing sheged to have some from external sources, I may say frankly, as I am thus directly appealed to, that I have no prepareston against the theory and that I thook some of the cases M. A. Oxon s. Spirit Identity very striking and impressive but that it because to me, and thurs, a me of to most people; that there is not as yet ar v stough evice in of this kind to compol the ament of the scientific world. I do not think that any one who realises how slowly and cautiously any new generalisation in the exter shee sere ices is out to a how mit your low In order to establish any valid natural law, can maintain a scance here the medium saked a sceptic to correctly call some that the syldence hitherto offered for spiritualistic monifer one to mind whom he had, when living, loved. He mid he had intions has been at all in proportion to the startling magni- slow so. Presently her hand wrote in characters she skid not tude of the canclusions founded thereon. The question of understand, but the couplie did, it was, he said, Russan, and communication with an invisible world is an energiously it was a Russian of whom he thought. At his further request more important thing (for instance) than the stickey and what he were under his vest was accountely described -a talitreatment of typhoid-fever, yet the literature of typhoul. man, -Rerne Sperite fover alone would be found, I think, greatly to outweigh, it its accumulation of observation and reasoning, the whole

piex is the spiritual than the menical problem

LIGHT.

or whether it is more likely that the fourteen witnesses possessed just sufficient every-day common-sesse to observe accurately, and to record faithfully, what they may, I leave to others to judge. Navortheless, it cannot be denied that to some minds, " projecting teeth," " brocanticks," " fishing rods, and chance, sweet, strickle are form latof fact! As to the investigators tong Spiritualists. I pass by the question as to whether they are " devost" or notsuch as the case. But that fact is no disqual-fication, provided they are, in addition, careful and patient mokers for truth, and eater's parities, their experience in research of this kind would undoubtedly stand their in good stead, compared with the facilities for observation and judgment at the command of those who are conferredly should prove deserving of a pince in its annals ! to see the antiquies will represent to subject all results to the soverest scrutmy and if my remarks move to maisly the amountedly onest rains or receiving to a surof Mr. Wetson, I shall be very pleased

CORRESPONDENCE

Little professible that surpemper dense should append their names and addresses to communications. In any case to a exthose must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good fulth.]

Mr Podmere and "Spiritualism at Rome." To the Eddyc of " Limits"

Sm With approus indifference to all Mr. Podmore a er resear to-day, of plane a ma which accurred in my house two months ago, these wonders still good Tests accumulate, brea are lighter at all hours of the day ; proceedes are written which are though hands and open named inclute or read on the without help other physicinomeshe who hill have to be desired are developing, and if he, and Mr. Hughes, after an hour's examination, can lake upon themselves to a me once opening that these things are equilibrate attribute and natural explanation, there are many other persons cognizant of these, who have stayed my none who enhaly and menostly protest against the monitrous and indictors insufficiency of these explanations. M changing will not one in a way a accuse in if unmonesty. I should think better of his frankness if he would instead of duing so through his dischory authority-his " Mrs. Harris, which her mano ho does not give" ! My rime is the I have referred to a person as a Greek selector knowledge" (according to his own profession) is see . ) beyond the alphabet," He. Pudmere will saction to . decling to accept the medical self-depreciation of a person, with an longth from Size to Itim, and the size of letters ranges from high idiads of culture, as a fair description of actual attainments. Was Hamlet a regue stall persont-stare, -a dull and muday Was St. Paul the Bughos asw them a year ago metric rascal, a ugest averal way and of somers. And, if Mr. Podan a some sophy and an exponent are uncount to the tack of interpr in, so son, so case of self-detraction, is he, therefore, settiled to bring " Mrs. Harris" to tostely that I am "absolutely dishenest," when it is possibly only in ovidence that he himself and " Mrs Harris" are both stall ! Clearly, Mr Podmore is not fauthlias with that type of noble humility which shrinks from praise, and is ready to chargest thrown accomplishments when appreciation becomes too warm. But even apart from this shumers of detactive who never worked himself into a framer over a manufa perception, it seems to me that Mr. Pedmore is certainly and in at. generous, and, I am disposed to my, sourcely just, nither to me the unition very little whether the Greek is accurate or not. The face ity for five week apparent inquiries to a satisfactory issue is not bail, but it might be better ! official and forms: character is claimed for his report, tions in future.

decsived. Whether either of these hypotheses is credible, than that which I supposed his a ginar investigation possessed. I do not wish to make more of these point than it deserves , but if Mr. Podmore does not appear through out the whole business as an authorized and presumably depensed representative of the Society for Psychical Research, I have a difficulty in qualitationaling the varied emphasis which he pute upon his official standing and his association with Mr. If they Yet I'k now U. a. ther cases a warm of crossed for the obstacles to the acceptance of plain unvarnished statements accretary of the Secrety writes, in answer to an inquiry, The subject of the phenomena at your lease never before the corneil (otherwise than in localental allusions) and no deputation was over made by the council to investigate them." For the mice of the Secrety, of which I ant a bieniber. I am glad to learn it was in no seems am official business, though the Society is naturally willing that its faithful mens should take every opportunity of doing its work, and would routily give its work an ex post facto recognition if such reports

I do not think Mr. Postmore's additional greateness are of any importance. He satisfactes the whole of the phonousing unker, and reblently believes that I am beforded by my servant (probably also by my ours children filteen years of age ", I can only call attention to the large soam of work parelyad, as totally measurateant with this very crude, I am almost disposed to think vulgar, explanation. In reference to this point, a friend who has been pursuing those inconsect for many years, makes this actuable remark. "It is often only the Anexplanatum by some cumbrons, difficult, and laborates process of deception, which would account for one strange fact, and, if that fact about alone, such explanation would be accepted as the loss meprelative. But when the fash are multiplied, as yours are, the explanation fails, and the spiritual explanation becomes is a concy, because it is not in human making to devote assumption and manying behave and great skill to carry in a deciption for mounts and years with an object whatever to gain

Mr. Podnioro's alst assess to be, throughout, to reduce the phonomena within the limits of ordinary events, and I submit that he agnally fulls to do see.

He is necessar over measurements, thend shout off, direroups major an archivery, and if I persist in going to the toscreenes ont, like a suspicious achoulboy, "That ion't fair "
(Dfc. 416, is currect.) He is another over his fast of condensing 201 words man a space of fine by light, , he mounts his broomstick and rides across the onling, and is entremely anxious that all the water, a to see about he large and stooding and avidently very disappointed because they are not. I have only referred to one that is not, whereas I might have completed his disconficture by saying there is not one which would bear that beld description , so at least all of the many friends who came at response to the invitation given in "Lane" to judge for thouselves, have decided. (The writings on the onlings vary very much came to round and text band, as known in copybooks.) Parhaps they have shrunk since Messes. Podmers and

His explanations strike me and others as laboured, struggling forced, artificial, and navielay. If they feely suggest how the carries might be done, they are utterly manifested to explain how they were, and are, done; and, if entreet, my most rusive handmarden as a predigg of fraudatont elevernose. n me poor I am estaur a perjural accomplice or credalous victins, capable of finding authority fact in a numery rhyme, holpless in her hands, more builted than the most bewildered

Mr. Podmore and Mr. Hughan,a year ago, had a magnificent or to our mutual friend, when he steaders a collateral point of opportunity of investigating some of the most remarkable this kind with the sample view of features a well-stead of some appreciation phenomena of the day, and, had they been a little kant of conjunctly a son me. For he wever Mr. Por house may more as well, they would not have settled such peoplexing should be class under a vector on the of conventional problems after one current processor dan nour a man of our with a hudable desire to prove all things, to prevent imstakes So far as the more and the Greek are concerned, I do not and areal heaty conclusions, would have fraulty told me of their rely on the judgment of this one friend only. For my purpose difficulties, and I would have not them, and given them area? phenomenal observator remains the same, whether the worth recording an assertive themselves and an excepted language is Attic Greek or Pourth Form Greek I onk that They wamps the assessment of the authorized the authorized to authorize the subsequent contained the opinions of competent critics appearing to this—the Greek went which angers been now as further expenses. As it is, bey ave effectually about the door upon thouseives by hear heaty Thave no objection to Mr. Poumere's corresponding and suscendific behaviour and made it more becaut for the double. Mr Hughes he strangthous my allegation that a more Secrety they came to represent to undertake better investigathem and not with a view to amentific accuracy, though I do not testimony is at last appeared, and the "sieve" is estisfied with skrink from that at any time. If I do not at present reply to its ofting. Faithfully yours. Mr. Podmere on the difficult question of electity, I may remaid theta that I have already partly done to in a letter which Mr. [In justice to Mr. Eglinton it must be stated that although com-Pedmore, doubtless for good remeats, everlooks (see "Light, September 15th, 1884); which contains a key which may panishly help Spiratualists to solve many questions on this very interesting, but complicated subject. - Yours faithfully, Morgan THEORALD

March 14th, 1865.

March 21, 18A-1

P.S. Mr Podusore no doubt thinks his case strenghthened by adding Mr Hughes's letter after his own. Let us see Mr Hughes writes "Before paying our visit to Mr Theobald last May . . . , we want carefully through Mr Theohald's letters to 'Louer' of March and April." Indeed ' As their visit was made on Tuesday, the 18th March, how could they possibly rend letters written in March and dyell? I will suggest that Mr. Hughes should keep a distry (as we do), and that he should apologise for each a ridiculously inaccurate statement. He did not read my two letters in April. Your resultant, after this, will be perfectly able to judge on which side are the insocuracies complained of I have not another word to say to such critics the reduction of elemedism out to

[This correspondence must now close. It is obvious that is good purpose can be served in continuing it. Speaking giving Means. Fultmore and Hughes credit for the keenest the testimony given for positive ones? This may be a good rule powers of observation, and the wisest and most neste especity in Bodian, but assuredly newhere outside of it for sitting in Judgment on these matters, we must also remand them that history is full of recents of the noon this point Mr. Theobald is wise in deferring a reply. -ED OF LEAST 1

The Somety for Poysbian Roomech and Hr Egitaton. To the Easter of Linter.

Sta, -Mr. Peans is by no means accorate in his letter which appears in your lest muo. In January of 1884 (not having my diary for that year with me I see uncertain as to dates), he arranged for a serior of six sources, three of which were, I thruk, held at his residence, and three at the chumbers of another gentleman. At the second sitting most marked phonemena took place, but probably owing to the change of circle, and the removal elsewhere, we obtained absolutely nothing at the remaining four concess. Boung anxious to secure resolts—for although it was understood the members of the circle were not un official committee of the Psychical Society, yet they were, as Mr. Peans confesses, amisted by the leading morabors of that body-I offered to give six more afanous without a fee. This offer was accepted, and those mitings took place on the premises of the borsety in Dont's-yard, and we certainly obtained minor phonomern, suck as the movements of objects, lights, &c. Mr. Pence's statement that they "obtained proctically no pice necessar of any sort" is, therefore, not in accordance with the actual facts, although those facts may have been explained away by the "projecting tooth" theory of one of their mucher, and so not counted at a " roralt " -I am, Sir, yours truly,

W. Echana Hotel Bauor, Youlon.

To the Editor of " LEORY

Sut,-I am glad to think that my letter of me not has at hat elicited two very definite unwerses, one from Mr Eglinton, the other from Mr. Poses. From those it appears that Mr. Egipton a perfectly willing to be investigated by the Society for Paychical Resourch, and is able to yield their medical representatives "practically no phononeus of any sort. Nothing, in its peculiar way, can be more straightforward, conclusive, and generally articlastory. Doubtlom, it was to factory, and generally articlastory. Doubtlom, it was to factory, withere are spiritualist societies with 800 oncolled this that "C.C. If" referred when, in his reply to me, he members and thrice as many ununrolled, and they are on the mourned over "the people who sak for testimony and more increase. There is also a Theoretical Society. Of course I testimony and still let it all flow through their minds like water

Just one word to your renders. I wrote these accounts for through a sieve. Let him be comforted my graving for printingly unsuccessful with Mr. Pease and his friends, yet other members of the Psychood floorety obtained thursughly satisfactory results-for example, Mr. C. C. Massey, Hon. Porcy Wyndians, the Hon. Roden Nocl. Mr E. Dawson Rogers, and other prominent members. Es. of "Light"]

To the Editor of " Lague.

Sp.,-In reply to my remarks in your number of the 7th unit. Mr. E. B. Posse informs on that the Society have already tested Mr Eghaton, if not quite formally, yet substantially through the writer himself and some other munibers, and with a most abortive result. " We obtained practically no phenomena of any acet." Those, therefore, were what we may call segut or sources. Now, since then, especially in the present year, many scances have been held with him, and if the sitters are to be believed, they have obtained the most positive and astounding results. Among those present there were Mr. C. C. Massey, Mr. Roden Noel, and others for aught I know quite as honest, intelligent, and reliable as Mr Posse himself and his associates.

Now the question is, are the abortive assumes utterly to outwere as positive and successful once ! It would be reversing about from personal investigation, we are inclined to the every rule of equity to say so, unless we have good reason belief, already expressed, that Mr Podmore's difficulties for afterning that the sitters in the first materior were undernably arise, wholly and solely, from the Incomplete, and, on the superior, both in honesty and intelligence, to those in the second face of 6, hasty investigation which he assorted the instance, and that the latter were notoriously wanting in both phonomena occurring in Mr. Theolaid's household. While respects. Are negative results to be accepted as unhifying all

Now I want to know whether the Psychical Society dismisses the same of Mr. Eglinton on that of a proved impostor, and if wouldn't of variation expressed under a men at a same too why do they delay to test him? This is more stronge, as to the question of identity, that rests on an entirely different Moure, Gurney and Myers have said in the May number of bank, and in the present mostsplote state of our knowledge the Nunclosule Century, speaking of Telepathy ' The testing or confidention of much opeculations as these must be left for a later stage of this inquiry. The achievement which we claim for our Society is not a theory of causes, but a colligation of facts," In flat contradiction of this, the Society turns away from the testing of credibly seaerted facts, while it uptus telepathic theories and uttors assumptance which seem likely to develop into the

I may add that if Mr Eglinton is not a true man, the Society can do no botter service than to cupose him. Why should they hastated Again, if he is a true man and no deceiver, they are bound to throw their shield over him. To refuse to do this one, he is seniolly and hone

He mys in a short note which appeared in your sens of February 21st, I school of it to see bet I have not with many of the most prominent manbers of that Society, with what results only these who have had the experience out say The seems to point to a different result has that authorized by Mr. Pease. Be this as it may, we want Mr. Egintes a retonasous tosted anow, and that officially, by the Society itself, not in the third, soul-official way they reserted to before, which looks evasiyu.

I wish also to say that " the Matter through Matter " once must be left where it is. Dr. Wyld has beaten Mr Gurney at every point, and has shown how abullow and ownive are all the objectious raised. They were the remarks of one who would not use the best available means of agreetaning the fruth. Some would say that he did not want to find it

I therefore submit that the Egiliaten and Hunk cases cought to be subjected to a fresh scrutiny on the part of the Society, otherwise they will most the charge of wasting time, wasting opportunities, and westing means entrusted to their disposal.

G. D. HACORTON.

WE are requested to announce that Mr W Eglinton has secured the copyright of the translation of Baron Hellombach a Both and Death," and all his future works

In Saxony, mays Dr. Cyriax, in the Religio-Philosophical

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT & AVE MARIA TAKE LONDON E.C.

SUPSIGNATION ANTI-S.

The Annual Subsection for Literas post free to may address setting the Linte & nguien or a pitages comprised within the Postas Pricon, metaling to be of For one, the Linted States, and British Note, America, also be ser annual forwarded to our office in

A ACPUTED MENT CHARGES.

For line, and dopp 3. One may be 64. domin for 5. Page 2. sectofron made or a dopp of more than the property of more than the property of more than the property of the proper

Virginity and only or x or post of more one.

Options for have some x or a mental may be nontreased to the zollor of six by x x May a now he have a may be made payable to Haratter the some of the other one working. I always by stage Main a solution of the other of the solution.

P. BNO of the Chie 10th soliding received or appropriate and to 10. NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

NOTICE TO ALGACHINERS.

Aubertations for tails are now due, andoorthers will oblide hy increaseling these at owners "The Manager of T them't "
A har Mac a-lane, F C - Bust entire treders may be made payable to Benry Barnes - til Falinela, Correspondence to be addressed to - The Editor

Trant .

SATURDAY, MARCH. 1st 1885.

"THERE ARE HIDDEN FORCES IN NATURE --- "

present century are steam and electricity. Both these well-authenticated cose of a table rising in the air without powers existed in a latent form thousands of years ago, contact of ony kind, thus proving an invisible power which but the minds of the min at that remote date were not overcomes gravity, or let us have but one clearly established subtle and delicate enough to discover, from the sum | cow d we my a arrang between closed states, and without I id extinus given, that two such powers were really in ex 1 e and of a turnent hand, and to the mind capable of istence. Kets ex and saucepans contained water which was venturing on these and graspolig the mar of the facts, made to bol. and the lide of these vessels probably jumped there is evidence of a discovery which may exceed in up wher the sexua was general domains entought as it as, importance all that we know of steam or exciticity power.

an effect which surprised the inexperienced, and a loodstone supposed to produce its young in the egg form, was found rang's flash, and yet the coarse minds of former ages could a power is now being manifested and developed in England, find nothing in these indications worthy of their attention. France, Germany, and America, as well as in many other is ruled by mostle and deheate laws, requires a mental thousand times the indications given by a kettle comtaught. The rarriy of minds capable of dealing with deli and denied. Facts, to these men, are of no significance. only in modern times that steam and electricity have been to. Why does this slagular state of affairs exist? may be been intherto discorned by the minds of men of the past, far more important field for the labours and energies of

When we come to the physical phenomena appertaining to Spiritualism, we have to deal with exactly such a power We find that phenomena occur butherto unknown, or only recorded as mir chioux. These phenomena have been rare, an seening to occur only under exceptional conditions, Had they not been rare, they would have been recognised and placed on the record of exact science, hundreds of years ago. But the laws which govern these manifestations are most subtle and delicate, and to invertigate these we require, not the mere brute force type of mind, but the delicate, yet t se nam power possesses by so few men. Manufestatrons take place under certain conditions, and with certain persons, lest not always, and why not? Because the whole of the conditions which existed on one occasion, Lights and all Bookellers. those conditions? It may be that the physical state of the medium was not the same, that the atmosphere was damp, that the electric state of the atmosphere was different, that the physical condition of those present was offerent, that those who were present had lately been in the society of persons whose atmosphere was of what may e termed an antagonutes type, and a hundred other con ditions night prevail, of which conditions we have as yet act a cory | perfect knowlenge

That a certain remarkable and named effect occurs, say fulf-a-dozen times in succession, and then fails to occur, is considered by the coarse much to indicate that there is note at to examine, but, to the mind of power and high to a general the proves that there is an effect produced under est a transit for a wage to perform out of always he The Right Hon, W. E. Gloddont becared, e on granting that we know what all these con-It has been and that the two great giants of the distions should be. Let us have but one thoroughly but them agardient manifests one were overlock and. At a late gathering of so-called acceptific men, it was so, for thousands of years, steam remained an unknown amon col that one of the nost in portant and sa nable con agricultures, ver received by the Association had just Rundreds of years ago the rubbing of amber produced been announced, viz., that some little creature intherto was known to possess a power which was considered not to a so. Truly this is an actionable example of the wenderful. Nature exh ated her latent force in the light expansiveness of the minch which claim infallibility. That To investigate any new subject, especially when this subject countries, which power exceeds in its carliest indications a organisation of a very high order. When any person has taning boiling water, or a piece of amber when rubbed, is gono before, and established certain laws and facts, it is considered by the present popular teachers in science a easy enough for a mere average much to follow and to be matter not only of no supertance, but one to be ridiculed cuto laws in nature is shown by the fact that it is Their opinions are the only valuable subjects to be listened brought into general use. Had sither of these rebjects been asked. The answer is simple. The phenomena connected more rough and coarse matters, they would have been dis- with so-called spiritual manifestations are ruled by laws covered, and worked, centuries ago. Any problems in and conditions of so delicate a nature that the minds capanature, which are not generally known, must naturally be ble of accurately examining these are rare in the extreme. those governed by even more deficate and subtle laws To be, as some enthusiasts are, endeavouring to convince than those which regulate steam, or electricity, and there- such minds of the truth and importance of the phenomena for there will a force a adv capable of comprehending, is, perhaps, interesting, but not profitable. We may have or even perceiving these awa. We might show to a more a very clover member of the canine race in our house, but savage a small electric battery, and sak him what use might of we endearoused to prove to him by geometry that two be made of it, and he would certainly fail to perceive that any sides of a triangle were greater than the third side, we use would result , his mind could not group the probable should not probably succeed. The animal's mind could offects. This would be due to the fact that the subject was not grasp the proof or demonstration, simply because its beyond him. Any force in nature not hitherto discovered mind was not sabtle enough to comprehend the svidence. must be a force which is of too descate a nature to have. Why then waste time on such endeavours? There is a those whose mands are of the nature suitable for comprehending delicate proofs, and approciating the value of

March 31, 1885.]

Men whose mines are of the rough kind, though they may have succeeded in graning a reputation as scient to men, cannot be correct, except by chance, when they decide on questions requiring sabtle reasoning. Consequently there must be, and are, many problems, yet unsolved, or at least not generally accepted as solved, connected with all the higher sciences, which could be more readily unravelled by such minds as those which have been accustomed to deal carrying its own light; the whole being enveloped in partly with spiritual phenomens, than by the brate-force class of solidified drapery. The subject forming this illustration minds which have hitherto dealt with such subjects. Here has been obtained at a scance with Mr. Eguaton , and la a wide opening, and one likely to be more fruitful of although intended to represent a combination of phenomena. results than endoavouring to convince unwilling and uses, it is but a fragment of a larger sketch prepared the day public minds that certain facts exist, and which facts the after the source. My object in making a series of aketeless communest powers of observation would be capable of a to illustrate the gradual formation of a "substantial perceiving if there were not the insuperable obstacles of spirit," as seen in a reduced light, or, in other words, to arrogance, pregadice, and preconceived opinion, or vested construct a series of illustrations representing some of the interests, standing in the way.

THE ILLUSTRATION OF SPIRITUAL

of the value of the presentation made by Mr. Keulemans light, render such an attempt exceedingly difficult. Still, and his co-donor. These chromo-lithographic it at store if I can only "supplement" memory by the observation of of "spiritual" phenomena have, we learn, surpossed ex additional facts, and be allowed to writings the same process posintion; indeed, we believe that the chief cause of so once more, I trust my aketohes may be completed, and a series many of our readers failing to make the necessary applies of representations given that will fairly show by what modes tion for them in due time arose from a conviction that, as operandi an invisible being makes another entrie into this so many attempts in the mane direction had signally fails musterial world, and becomes temporarily a uniterial "man" no also would thus last effort.

We regrot the natural desprointment thus caused, and intimetion from us that payment is required.

to well began.

TRANSITION

Mrs. Crowther, Sherburn, Bournsmouth, pamed, neur what auddenly, to the higher life on Priday last, the 13th met Sho was a devoted Spiritualist, and an appreciative student of the works of Swedenborg and Jacob Boline. She peacessed has intellectual powers, and, though of an empressiming and even returning disposition, those who empoyed her untimate friend ship radued it highly.

Mr. Janes Rusy, of 11, Altono-street, Blackburn, an inquirer into Spiritualism, desires to meet with others interested. with a view to mutua, benefit. We shall esteem it as a personal favour if any Spiritualist in or near Blackburn can help Mr Riley in his investigation.

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY .

By J. G. KEULEMANS.

(Continued from page 121)

PLATE II

I have here attempted to represent a materiansed hand, various stages of the gradual development of a " form." It will be obvious to those who have witnessed thus process, that the del neatton of a similar subject almost amounts to PHENOMENA BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY an impossibility. The constant change of appearance in the subject itself, the perpetual and irregular movements Our readers have now had a fair opportunity of judging of the objects descendible, and the absence of requisite

The hand represented in Plate 11 is, I believe, that of m order to minumum it as much as possible, and to popularise M. Eg. at a s. to was to man Joey " Norman agents were Joey " in such means of information as far as lies in our power, it can that I am a rable to test by to have so but, or to every how has been suggested that the four plates already insued should the identical hand. All I can state is, that "Joey's" voice be reproduced on a smaller scale, and be published in was used an ve accumulating mass of dispery developing separate form, together with Mr. Keulemane' valuable staelf over the medium's sap. The medium, resting its an series of papers descriptive of them. To thus might be saided easy-clustr, could be seen by the yellowish I ght emanating the report of the fourteen witnesses on the formation of an from this drapery. I aught to have stated that the room apparition in full view (from "Lanur," Fol. 28th), and the on thus occusion was dark, the gas having, on request, been whole would form a very important and valuable addition turned out, and that soon after the medium had retired into to the evidence for materialisation. We are raidy to adopt his chair, clouds of light were noticed over the region of his this suggestion if we are placed in a position to do so. To cliest, and large quantities of this substance were seen to minimise the estimated expense we have arranged to keep form and condense themselves into a small-solid mass of these articles in type, and the cost of production would a mething like drapery falling in soft pleats on his laprepresent £20. Will any friend undertake thus re. After a wort while some dark object could be observed mo sponsibility? Meanwhile we shall be pleased to receive side this heap of firmsy substance, turning and twisting it orders for the book at is 6d. per copy, or eight copies for in a lateral and circular direction. Up to that time. £1, if republished as suggested. Friends will, however, no other light but the phosphorescent glow emanating oblige us by not remitting money until they receive an from the medium's cheet had been noticed (unless the cloudy mans of some solid drapery was, perhaps, to a certain We know that, could this be accomplished, Mr extent, self-lummous). But now, a most brilliant light Kenlemans and his friend would regard it as a ling! suddenly appeared in front of the medium, inside the whi sale compliment, and the less return that could be made to them man. At first the movements were too agitated to emble to recognition of their generous initiation of a new method me to observe the nature of the light Itself, but, after a few of presentation of spiritual phenomena, and it would, we seconds, it became more trougual, and . Den notices, that it believe, materially aid in the continuation of the good work was carried by a hand. It had the appearance of a rounded crystal, and was not unlike the semi-transparent waxy discs (Figs. 1 and 2), though more perfectly clear, and of a light blush colour. I could now distinctly see the upper portion of the medium's body, and afterwards his right hand resting upon his knee. The hand holding the light was also "right" one, which proved that it could not have been ming and that of the medium. However, the brilliancy gordenby dimmished, and then little drops were seen to proceed from the inside of the hand, and fall into the drapery. It seemed that the luminous crystal had now been changed into a large, somewhat triangular shaped, phosphorescent

A few sees of those chrome drawings still remain, and may be obtained of the Hannaw of the Psychological Free, 4. Are Maris-lune, E.C. price in 64, the set, paried on roller law and transmission by purcel post, -3EE ADVI.

hight, out of which smaller sporks were projected, these into account the generally admitted though not faily projections becoming accelerated until a regular "throbbing" demonstrated) fact, that fregments of this spirit-drapery movement was a same. As a cops of glawing a one occasion once a manuel have been found to variath away either quickly, out of a glass tube, and inflaming when in contact with the viz, in a few minutes, or slowly—in a few days. This, if a. This continued for about two minutes, when the correct, would prove beyond a doubt that the substance is throbbing movements mercased to a rapid "pulsation" of intrinsically different from the ordinary product of the about 130 to 140 per munte, and which was besides loom. But in it correct? Has its slow disappearance been has ble. It still increased in packages of anyonical not watches throughout? In the absence of adultional testimarks a flowing stream or somering waves of light, which | many of reliable eye-witnesses, or direct experiment, the gradually become calmed, and then died away. By this tomethe assertion has little or no value, for the disappearance pin tity if internal craptry had considerably increased of a very small piece of cottor stuff can be explained but the light having " gone out," and not being able to see in many other less in race out, ways. Even if what was taking place, I bent a little forward in expertation after repeater and patient aper nentation the foregoing these of a "subsequent as regretion, she the presumed that another light would be forthcoming, and accidentally distinctiveness of this "spirit-drapery, were found to be touched the still flowing mass with my head. As far as I have been sport fact, we should still be confirmed with the outed second theory was still a front in a mostly either behind some upon fact, we should still be confirmed with the outpury, or the latter was augustly self a moust an improve a product of which Certainly something was moving between the modulus and "spirits" bound their drapmy and which they (the "spirits") myself, causing me to anticipate the apparition of a "form." my is brought with them? And it is this very question of

Unfortunately, the contact with my head produced such an "origin" that requires to be settled before any attempt can be made to explain the mystery of its appearance and disf ther operations, and the whole worderfu fabra d says may be well to first consider the several prevailing peared wit the societies of thought. As far as the rocess, theories proposeded by the agency of monera Surretue staof machinestion was province only the minds were a and which are knowledged y apon macron ion of facts and inhited. Yet, I led the great satisfaction of social under partly upon information derived from the manifesting " spirits " themselves. It will also be necessary to compare my very eyes the gradual formation of spirit-dropery from its primitive cloudy stage late what seemed solid material.

observed through the mes another of Mr. Eghaton.

(To be continued)

SPIRIT DUAPERY

It must not be expected that in an illustration of this kind (Plate II.), a faithful reproduction of this enrious substance can be given. To obtain a faultious copy of the real thing, would necessitate the application of photography. Not a small piece, but a large shoot should be obtained; part of it reproduced full size, and additional illustrations should be given of the texture of this nestern, on a great v magnified scale. To complete a strictly scient has vestigation, part of a semi-solid, viz., " unfinished," mass should ness he to focus some idea as to its cent lature. It is to be from he up the surforme of a cabinet which the searched. From this rapid development of the " form," appraise."

Feagments or ama a pieces of drapery are in some exceptions, cases, seen cut on, by the forms, note this tributed amongs, the circle for espection, or left as a remembrance. Such pieces, of which I have examined three examples, seem, as far as the material is concerned, in every respect amiliar to ordinary cotton stuff obtained at | Sincerely yours, the linendraper's slop. These three pieces-mid to have been cut out of the drapery of an many incontent ably genuino materialised forms-did not, even when microscopically magnified, appear, in the slightest, different from marked calico, Some Spiritudists have masured me, notwithstanding, that "spirit-drapery" is or at least of the woof is the threat. They say, is the old of suppression to the unit of the woof is the threat. They say, is the old of suppression to the threat. They say, is the old of suppression that they say, is the old of suppression to the threat. They say, is the old of suppression to the suppression of the suppression to the suppression of the suppressio line, a certain cases, been found to be, cast-againstdoes not, or that ac ount prove the "appritual" nature or Nesworthy was well known to many Spiri anosts. For many origin of the manufacture. Besides, the thread of which years she was in acress and most such argular worker in the ordinary muslin is woven in equally smooth and even, most since it is spun from nettle-flax. We have also to take Spiritualist press.

THE LATE PROFESSOR CASSAL

To the Lades of Licente.

is a I have just heard with the deepest concern that Dr. Court Cassal, of Large's y Cologe one of the most agree us a my subglitenes. Spir malaifa. for how much tagacity and enlighteen ent is not Spir to their metited to that man and passed away at an early hour on Wednesday

Having made his acquaintence only in recent years, and be studied under the meroscope, and only then would it be on loved the opportunity of intercomme with him only occasionally, I can advance no claim to do any public justice to In a than so bith know sign has been, or can be, obtained his memory, but a poor stone on his cases I may seek perhaps it two mutters. Every investigator has observed "spirit in cost. He was a mar I have bree and sumpliedy of character forms" clad in white material of various degrees of thickness, He possessed great accommod of nature, and a lively and delicate sense of humour. His was a large and was condensation. "Clothed full forms" have been seen to energe | paths a said seet can an og the was I believe an thatean) so builty of the Frenchman and do not remember to have mes our had but just taken his seat, one this has supported in et a person, where the combinator out of which surely in cases when both medians and cabinet had been previously is to be born the new life of the future,—was so marked, so enroly on its way to the follost development. He was a and its garments, it may be intered that the slow and valued sumber of the Council of the Spiritualists Alliance, gractual procedure is not investmely followed by the and will be deeply mixed by his collectives as a converter and a friend, but I can imagine no person more capable, in another consistent, of being arrescentio to the cause of Spiritualism bere. They is a poor a susciation to floore who have to mouro him, and t for that they can be mutamed in their work by his many sympachy and repriness of judgment and experience no but a maconrelation, nevertocless.

May God be with him, and he, sometimes, with us .-

19, Cheyno-walk, Chalson, March 14th. A. A. Wavns.

TRANSPION OF MES. NOSCOUTHY An inquest was held on Thursday as the me Sanda Lacerson on Mrs Frederick L. Namenthy the wife of a Lacerson increases and ridest Name of the trace of a Li ergord in relative and ridest and evident and eviden rained Our Liverpool frictions will onse her valuable assentance most. She was also a frequent contributor in past years to the

March 41, 1865 ]

The Reene Spirets of February translates a verbation report of a sermon by Bithop Risando, in the Protestant Cathedral of Mexico, last November. The doctrines to which the Bishop refers are, no doubt, those expressed in the books of Allan Karden, who preferred the term by millions, unite in working as one man. Let us learn to Spiritisia to Spirituacion, and they are much read in South America. The Bishop's text in "The Kingdom of God. It will be seen that in our translation we have oundersed.

He mays: "Im all parts of the world, and in all times, voices from Heaven have made themselves board among [This is cortainly as remarkable a discourse as was ever-delivered mankind, and in these latter days, when institutions that were thought ever-coduring are crumbling away, such votces are again heard with power. These vecces have ex horted men to raise themselves above the engrossments of earth, and have told those of a life beyond the preacht.

"The idea of life is sternity in the fundamental basis of the Revolation that has come to us in these days, and which solves obscure problems of life, past, present, and future in a mode harmonious with religious faith and reason, presents a to as not only a system of philosophico-religious neetrine, but the recoma measuredup between us in the body and the denuess of the spirit-world

I have said New Revolution. When a truth revealed long since is sguin enforced upon mankind it may justly be spoken of at new; as was Christianity when it cases late the world, although the doctrines it taught were not new.

"When He Whom the nations expected, the pressued Messiah, came, men had sunk into a deprayed state, and few were found to comprehend Him. The words of the Master provoked in these anger and derision. So is it also with this new trath. Old Churches deal table, standing near the window look upon it as herory. They my the Christian | Church was Samhed in the time of the Apostles. They friend for in hum and I being on his right do not comprehend the progressive abstractor of treth in humanity. They forget that Josus could not speak to the purblind and deaf measure as He could to His disciples; that fragment of pare con it, and held it with his left hand-He could not even to them reveal some reputeries, for Mc his right being in mine-against the under surface of the said that He had many things to tell them which they table, the state being partly visible to incould not comprehend, but that He would wend to them the Spirit of Trath Who would make things plant to them among us now, in divers ways, in all parts of the world of the slate, the word "Yes." It seemed written from the where the Christian revelation's primitive character has side opposite to the medium, and it was on the part of the become purverted and obscured. The New Revelation is slate remote from his hand not, therefore, a new ovangel. The Spirit comes now only to quicken us to receive the Gospel of Jesus by a new Hereare the results .-prosentation and exposition of it.

these into action, and all doctrines transform themselves frames. The medium and I hold them between us, he into institutions, so a great transformation will be fruitfully with his right hand, I with my left. I saked if a spirit realized by the New Revelation. Its origin being from the friend was with un. We heard movements of the pencil, Divine Spirit, its object being God with men, its end I dutinguished the counds of marking stope and dote, then eternal happeness, the means spiritual, it must be regarded three taps. On separating the slates I read upon the as a continuation of the Messac work in catabilating the upper surface of the under one "Madame C s guide. Dr Kingdom of God on earth. So the social institution in P., is present and solutes you." Neither the medium nor a Church, truly outholic, free and universal, a Church in them. Dr F, was the name of one of our old friends. harmony with the Gaspel of Jossa, a Church of which He 2. My friend, holding a state out of sight of the medium not be turned to gain there will be to presentance of one fee their presents? over another, al soing brethren and servants each of the special places, but wherever we meet for mutual edification, here, " in French, and in English. Your father is here. and encouragement, and for receiving instruction and cop- and many others with him." solation from the Divine Spirit, we shall open and close our 4. Upon a fourth slate I wrote, " Could my father give

A PROTESTANT BISHOP ON SPIRITUALISM. I meetings by asking the blessing of our Riemal Father, Cause of a.l.

"To the children of God temples will be symbols, more ments of their union with the Eternal through Faith, Hope, and Chavity

"My brothren Spiritists, profess openly your faith , the faith destined to save the world. Let us, who are numbered know each other, let us, in frequent meetings, prepare ourselves for the realisation of the ules presented to us in the New Revolation—the 'Kingdom of ' od "

in a cathedral, and the mure remarkable from the fact, according to Gonzal Conzelves - who forwarded the report to the Reese Sperife-that the regular peater of the congregation, in dismunity it, expressed ontire consucrence and sympathy with the Budnep's ultorances.-Ep, or "Leour ]

A SEANCE WITH MR. EGLINTON. (From the Rocks Spirite.)

Professor Charles Cassal, formerly a representative of the people from 1848 to 1851, has had a psychogenphic scance with Mr. Eglinton, and his imprative of the seases we think worthy to be placed before our readors. It is as follows .-

I had long been desirous to witness the fact of direct eriting; at last I found myself able, and went to Mr. Eglinton, accompanied by a scientific friend, purchasing on our way several ordinary framed slates,

We found Mr. Eglinton a sympathetic, intelligent, gentlemently young man, and he received us in a nentlyfurnished room, the most striking article in which was a

At the same we took our soots with the modium, my

After trying my new slates, with feeble results, the and a a took one of his own, cleaned it carefully, laid a

In answer to the question whether a spirit could commanacate, we heard the sound of pencil-writing, then three "The Spirit thus promised is that which is working little taps. We then found written, on the upper surface

Thinking the loc broken, we returned to my own slates

I. Two were placed together with a morsel of pencil "As all ideas transform themselves into sentiments, and between, loose in the space formed by the appointment of the which the doctrines are to take form must be what is called I had left hold of the slates, and I looked fixedly upon was to the head, His law of love our rule, His promised and myself, wrote upon it. I then held it against the under Spirit of Truto our guide. In this Church there will be an surface of the table. After sometime of writing and three separate order of priesthood, the service of reagon will be taps, I withorew it, and reach Yes, she is now. We rewithout pixer. the exercise of the pits of the Spirit will gret however that she is not a de to write. De you not

3 In any turn I wrote apon a date, using the same precaution. Is my friend W present " " Is my father 'In the Kingdom of God we shall not make prayers in here! The answers were "Your from W is not

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK.

XX

no his signature, or a few words of his writing. The reply was, " We are sorry that your father cannot write. He wil probably be able another time." Neither the medium nor my friend could have seen what I had written. My will forward us, for use in this column, my attrakens to Spiritualism questions were in French the replies, as all were, except, and Psychlesi Remarch they may come across to the course of their the one about my friend W., in English

5. The medium handed to my friend a pair of langed folding-slates, furnished with look and key. My friend wrote, on one of the clean slates, a question, locked tha slates together, put the key in his pocket, and had thum on the table. The medium and I laid a hand each open the slates, writing was heard, then three taps. On my friend onlocking the slates he found an answer apposits to the question he had written, of a private personal nature.

6. Lastly, the medium placed two large states together apon the table. The live seared sources of were ag for about a name. On separating them we found the lower one to brea with writing entirely a Wirent in character to Mr. En atoms. A few concluding lines were above the body of the westing and written inversely to it. It was thus

We have long desired to have this opportunity. The writing which you have under your eye is produced under conditions which under ordinary circumstances, would be impossible. It consequently goes to prove the truth of what we are endsavouring to premalgate. What is the agent or acting cause in the phenomena! That does not much matter. The fact is here. Cartain clover, lynx-eyed persons, who pretond to explain what they have never seen, will one day have to admit their ignorance. But to those who, like you, enjoy the consolation and advantage of knowing this truth, I say that the knowledge they acquire and are able to import, should compensate for what they endure in an unpopular cause. Farewell.-Envert

In conclusion, it is mediets to my that my friend and I took every presention which mon with their eyes open, souking for truth could take, and we affirm that deception was simply impossible. All took place to full daylight, and, when that began to fade, in the light of a large lamp.

I only record irrefragable facts. I leave others to draw esting discolus-

1 ARLES CASSAGE

"J. C. D." wester in subspirite terms of the result of his investigations with Mr. J. Thomas, of Fredsham, and Miss Pawley, 39, Bayston-read, Stoke Newington

In The Mounth's Adequate, Unknown, California, H. D. Irwin writes "Spiritualism Suda converts not may among mondels but making church members. This ought not surprise for Spiritualism demonstrates absolutely the fact, which shurch members hold in the abstract or only more or less vaguely, of consenue quiritual existence after death. It is, therefore augmently a considerated to their own had

Ix A setralm werald Manney has appled much an australiasting idental ment sene ally He has been well received everywhere He has just opderfacen a series of sparitualest lectures in Queensland. In New South Wales the area of apiritualism is extending. At Sydney the Theatre Royal has arounded audichess every Sunday evening, to listen to spritualist recturers. Numerous circles are formed in the city, and medium of every kind are burng developed. In New Zewland progress as marked, the editor of an important journal, Mr Bright, has, with his wife, boon mateumental in this extension and and severe

Les Notes La. (The New Light), published by the Spiritist Society of Chracus, the empital of the South American Republic of Vanozuela, informs in that a society has been formed at Sombrero, " for the exercise of medianship, and the study of the works of Alsen Kardee and that another has seen formed with excommunication; but finding this of no effect, expelled he was supported by the Government.-Lo Messager

[We shall esteem it a favour on the part of our readers of they reading. We see a great many of these caracters, but it is obvious that there must be many references to the subject which do not meet our ever.-En. of "LIGHT

The Christian Million by the same more or low"-has sublished a long article entitled "Two Nights with the Spiritualists," a title I consider unfair, since there are varieties in Spiritualists as in other character so that the automateur of one for the, would be more fair. What the writer my was one of Mr. Duguid's pictures and some photographs, what he hourd was supposed to be trance-speaking, the mulium's controls being the spirit of a very unorthodox Quaker and a North American man Not very antifactory

But at the second scance the oversex-prient met with some skloubted and very wenderful chisvoyance, which it was imconible to attribute to feaud, but which he besitates to attribute to sperits. What troubles him as that "these millions of Spiritualists are not orthodox Christians." Comequently the more wonderful their facts the worse for them and the works, and he comes to the ex registrary conduction that the whole long a a fraud, a metake-and one Satana and extremely Well sound may to be tenths from and only one-tenth united son. This was free new of the Christian Million - if there is really so an y-must settle the proportions be suithouse-ees. We who give the phenomena a serious and inmany cases, a scientific concennation, a row how little there is or can be of fraud. As to the dasbolism, it matters very little.

and how much of fraud and diabeline might one imagine to with a stone supported and soven religious scots ! What opposite have Paperts of Protestants, and new road ? What do Printeriors frank if Unitaria is, the the reverse legan Como cent am a of the Christian Million. The you not see that the energes of front and dades on more layer a wide application? has a never sees infamates for easin de, that our chirches and convent clea were blick with hypocrates and photo-of in diamer terms, with knower and feels?

The true thing to do in all matters of doubt is to follow the plain words of inspiration and commensusons . " Prove all things-hold fast to that which is good"; the good being the true. To reject a fact bearing it teaches us something we did not know, or did not wish to know, would be the greatest conenivable folly.

It is a great mistake of Christianity," mys the writer in the Christian Million, "to ignore this modern superstition"-Spiritualism. " It is slaying its thousands and tens of thousands by its 'aeducing spirits and doctrine of devils," Well' Christianity makes " mistakes," and even "great mistakes," It seents, or else this writer does. But how a true religion, with its inspired Gospels, can make mistakes, the Christian Million has forgotten to inform us.

Specifusling has had at marters. Some have been hantabed, omo amprisonted. Mrs. Weldon just escaped a lumntic anyluse. to become the terror and attraction of the Law Courts. But our greatest martyr, perhaps, was poor Thackeray, who dared pub ish an account of a stance with House in the Corodill Marga or Linage in he aguntes of an editor, one of the most popular of our time, who, by the sole indiscretion of printing a few pages of spirit phenomens, knocked off some thornands of his eirculation.

The Daily Telegraph, in one of its learned leading articles, explants faith-healing, which has broken out in the Salvation Army, and resalls the marvellous cures performed two centures ago by at La Victoria, " for promotigrang the doctrine, and for her Valentine Greatrakes, who, it says, " in reported to have scientific study of poychological phenomena." But the Speritists | deceived a huge number of people in every rank and class of most with active clorical opposition , for instance at Barbacas - life. His simple method of curing discount by means of a town remote from the great centrus - the cure threatened them stroking - a form of the imposition of hands." Greatenkon may have been a measurerist, he may have been a healing medium, those with the aid of the fountien peasants personaling from that but hearing by the laying on of hands was for containes exercised by the Kines and Queens of England, and the facts of un immense number of cures performed by their have the festimony of the best men and the wisest physicisms down to the reign of Queen Anne.

March 21, 1885 ,

A edmont fact in that one of the most popular and successful of these R yas healing measures was that least moved of modern as distributed, the Secondar Charles - Henry V. H., who cared great numbers, and his apareta, exception one up, not a maple, the paperar for " his a were of hearing. The Sa region form how percent taken a real out of the Curch of England Book of Common Prayer which a few years ago contained the form of service used by the Bushop who accended the searing mapus in when he cured he. King s Fell cure usry so counter, semane the king or quoch had this power of healing it. So eminont a man and moralist as Dr. Johnson was touched by Queen Anne, after the prayers were solvently read which were after | boluif the descriptions of spirit friends were given. In the wards torn from the book

Speaking of prayers, there seems to be a growing, rather thus a disamohing faith in their officery—which is a form of Speritualism. The Archheshop of Canterbury and the Bishop of Rochester, perhaps other Bishops, have published forms of prayers for our Array in Egypt and the Soudan-prayers that God may be pleased to help our soldiers kill more of the Malali's soldiers than they can kill of ours. Of course the hely Melali. whe he as himself a we could be be tree ashor of Canterbury 1 Sr Mt Suc. in fercently praying on the other side. When he get in our lest of in their efforts to kill each other they full to praying.

And, really, if God, in shaver to the prayers of either the Archbushop or the Mands, helps men to bill each other, why should He not, in answer to General Booth or Major Pierson, help these to ettre ?

And the high anthorities of the Church, we are told, are adopting the tactios of the Salvation Army. Have we not just had a special mission in the West End Churches, which have been craisined with worshippers ! Certainly there is a growing faith in voice a city of spar-taneous. Who can say how for it has been influenced by our manifestations ( Who can tell hear much effect the knowledge of a few may have upon the faith of Wis. Gregory, F. R.S.E., semetime Professor of Chandstry in the 6.

It is quite true that we are told in the Holy Scrip ones that persons having or consulting sparits incorred the punishment of death, and hat Kang Saul was heavily punished for talking with a materialised spirit, when he had a scence with that emissent medians, the "Witch" of Endor. But it is suppresented that any fraud was practiced, or that Sounted did not appear. In fact, if the Bible, Old Testament or New, is a record of facts, Speritualism was well known from Adam to St. Paul

The ghosts in Shakespeare's plays and the horrid persons. laone for witcheraft in Europe and America, up to a recent period, show how prevalent and all but universal was the belief in Spiritualism over the civilized world. As to glosts, enough of the faith remains to enable our all est audiences to enjoy " Brehard III.," " Machoth," or " Hamlet," Twenty years ago I saw a drama in the theatre in Tottenham Court-road, in which there were eleven ghosts, who came to denounce and punish that reverend wretch whom Charles 11, had whipped and nälloried.

I have it on good authority that a certain Prince in Austria. in a splendid physical medium of the highest order. His manifestations are cheffy spontaneous; that is lo say, he only aits when he is impressed to do so-when the moromonts of objects in the light and sasterialisations in the dark frequently occur. He has been instrumental in deing great good by converting many pronument persons in society. When will some of those mediums who are well-known members of our and "Lucoln, &c &c aristocracy do the same thing for Spiritualism in this country !

"Versant z Loz" (Truth and Light)in the title of a hand nome book of 382 pages, Sro., by M. Manuel Nicolan da Costs, whose literary and scientific works are appreciated wherever the Portuguese language in spoken. The author unforms his readers that in Lesbon a society is formed, called the "Portuguete Spiritual Centre," for the promulgation of magnetism and Scititism, .- Foulders Spirite et Magnetique

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

Glascow .- The appeal on behalf of the Guarantee Fund for ensuring the re-ongagement of Mr. and Mrs. Wallis for a further six months, and to which reference was made last wook, has already produced very encouraging results. It is hoped these whom the appeal has reached, and who feel included to about in the alteriment of no desirable an object as the one in ow has mee not get responded, we specially make up than minutes as combine the containing to craning this in partia t outrer of minness with an possion respacely. Last Sun my a processings at the han, 2 Carlton-place were memoratous, matricure and ironotive of the came if Surrigalium. At the moroning senarce the one demations of clariford are through Mr Walls, under control of less fam on my dig object were lucid, and in several instances convincing to those on whose e sinnig Mr. Wa 's guides discoursed on the subject of ' Mon's Three Saviours", and were successful in giving expression to some aloquest and suggestive thoughts on false and true education, &c. On Friday, 20th inst., a scirbe will be held mere, when Mr. Morse will be in our natist for the last time prior to his intended trip alread. Next Sunday and Monday avanings Mr Morse will occupy the platform ; his subjects "The Gregol of Rost," and "Man Why was he made?

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA

The following is a list of eminent persons who, after personal investigation, have satisfied themselves of the reality of some of the phonomena generally known as Psychien or Hybritantistic.

N IL-An asterisk is prefixed to those who have exchanged which for kine wherever

St. 180. The Earl of Crawford and Balcares, F.R.S. President R.A.S. W. Crookee, Fellow and Gold Medallist of the Royal Somety C. Andley F.R.S. C.E. A. H. Wannes, the comment Naturalist. W. F. garre t.F. a. S.p. Performer of Terrors he lee as Catlege of Science, Dualin | Dr. Lockie et l'obe fron Dr. D. Effiction, F R.S., nomether President of the Royal Medical and Chirargical Sectory of Loudon; "Professor de Morgan sometime President of the Mathematical Rociety of London ; "Dr In versa, of Calmin gli, to Ashim nor, "Mr Rutter, "Dr. Beroert Xayo, b E S &c &c

"Professor Zorner or Letping no hor of "I'mnecessor at Physics, &c. Professors G T Feelmer Rehedings and J H Pirhle, of Lahadge Professor W. E. Weber, of Göttingen Professor Bollman, of Wursburg : Professor Porty, at Horne Professors Wagner and Butlevell, of Petersburg : Professors Have and Mapse, of U.S.A.; Dr. Robert Friese, of Breslan | Mona, fin it is ion morron Astronomet, &c., &c.

I. TARACT RE.- The Earl of Dunmon; T. A. Trollope : S 1 at cerald Massay; Captain R. Burton; Professor tassa . 1 D "Lord Brongham, "Lord Lytton; "Lord Lynd-buret "Arch descrip Wonders" "Dr. R. Chambers, F.R.S. "W M Theckerny; "Namus Schor; "George Thousean; "W Hawrit; "Reviews! Cox; "Mes. Browning; Hon. Rosel Noc!

Dishup Clarke, Blade Island 1 S & Daron Lyman I S A. Professor W. Lenton, Professor Alex Wikary, Profewer Humin aroun Professor searge Bush and twent four Judges and ex-Judges of the U.S. Curts Victor Lugo Based and Baroness von Vay; "W. Lloyd Garrison, U.S.A. "Lon R. Dale Owen, U.S.A.; "Hon. J. W. Edmonds, U.S.A.; "Epec Sargent; "Baron du Potet; "Count A. du Casparia; "Baron L. de Guidentable, &a. &c.

SOCIAL POSITION. -H. J. H. Nicholas, Duke of Lauchtenberg; H S. H. the Prince of Solma; H. S. H. Prince Athrecht of Solma 14. S. H. Prince Emile of Saya Wittgenstoin | Hon. Alexander Aguakef, Imperial Councillor of Russia, the Hon. J. L. O'Sallivan, countine Minister of U S.A. at the Court of Liabon , M. Favre-Clavairot, late Consul-Linnaral of Prance at Trieste the late Emperors of "Russia and "France; Presidents "Thiers

Another medium for the direct writing has appeared in the person of C. B. West, of Syracuse, N.Y., tests through whom of spirit identity have given great intinfaction to the editor of Facts

APRAMAN JAMES, once a prominent resident in Chicago, has present Jines, once a prominent resident in Chicago, has present of spirit-life in Orogon, aged seventy-seven. Years ago, in Pennsylvania, he discovered through his neckniship he said, a spot for oil. He got up a company, who sunk a well which yielded 150 gallons daily for a considerable time.

PHENOMENA

Mediums, who are the instruments of an external agency, have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who deceive by sieight of hand, and in the same manner that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly investigated the phenomena has failed to become convinced of their reality, so no conjurer who has been confronted with the same facts has been able to expanin their occurrence by prestubgitation. Houdin, Jacobs, Beltuclo I encates, Kellar, and others have already confessed their powerlessness to produce under the asing conditions what occurs without human intervention in the presence of

Tretimony of Robert Mondin.

The Marquit Ender do Marvillo published during the fetune of Houdan two letters from the latter, <sup>9</sup> Mémoiro addresse a M.M. los membres, de l'Académie des. Scionces Moralos et Pontiques, sur un grand nombre de | occurred in Paris through the Brothers Davenport, and :phénomères mervilleux intersuant également la Religion, in Seignes, of les hommes du Monde," In which the conjurer confesses his finality to expend the demanders to wit nessed in the presence of Alexa, the classoyant. A circusstantia, account is given of M. de Mirville's visit to Houdin for the purpose of ongaging him in this investigation, of the latter's couldence in his own ability to detect the trick, and of what took place at the secure, the conditions of which were extiraly major Houdin's control. This account extends over twelve pages, and its accuracy is confirmed by Housing in the first of the documents now translated :-

"Although very far from accepting the subegies which M "Is good emough to heatens upon mo, and especially a sist mg cat I a a not at all comes or o appropriate other favor of tangentian or against it, I can, advorthences, not refron from declaring that the facts above reported are entirely corner forces de in plus compiles accretitude), and that, the more I reflect upon them, the sauce impossible I fluid it to mak them among them which belown to any act and profession

" ROBERT HOUSES.

· 4th May, 181*

A fortuight later, M. de Mirville received another letter, in which the following referring to another scance,

" I have, therefore, returned from this stones as assembled no it is possible to be, and personaled that it is effectly empossible that chance or skill could very produce effects an wooderful fund a duality of the spect o upon oil manufestation. I as home first asspanible que le haserdon l'adresse passes possess producre des Cyens, deux sir to seet thas letter in your next number of agreeeffete anne merreitene) .- I am, Monmour, 200.

4 (Signed), Runtur II- ors.

9 36ay 10th, 1845 "

Testimony of Harry Relier

Harry Kellar, a distinguished professor of legerdemain. investigated the slate-writing phenomena which occurred in the presence of Mr Eglinton, at Calcutta, in January, 1883, and on the 25th of that month he addressed a lotter to the editor of the Indian Daily News, in which he said

In your issue of the 19th January I stated that I should be glad of an opport nety of participating it a scance with a view of giving an unbrowed a month as to whether, in my capacity of a profunitual prestaligatator, I could give a natural explanation of offsets said to be produced by spiritual aid.

I am inachted to the courtesy of Mr. Eguaton, the adritualismo medium new in Calcutte, and of his host, Mr. J. Mengers, for affording me the opportunity I eraved.

. It is needless to say I went as a sceptic, but I must own that I have come away utterly unable to explain, by any natural means, the phenomena that I witnessed on Tuesday evening. will give a brief description of what took place."

After describing several successful experiments, Mr. Kellar proceeds -

"In respect to the above manufestations, I can only my that I do not expect my account of them to gain general guisstances. I shill rounds a sceptic as regards Spiritualism, but 1877

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL. I report my inability to explain or account for what sanet have been an intelligent force that produced the writing on the slate, which, if my senses are to be relied on, was in no way the result of trickery or sleight of hand."

On the 30th of the same month Mr Kellar addressed mother letter to the Indian Darly Resca, reporting tome experiences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regarding which he said :-

In conclusion, let me state that after a most stringent trul and strict screting of those wonderful experiences I can arrive at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trickery in any form, nor was there in the room any mechanisms each many by which could be produced the phenomena which had taken place. The or analy mode by which Maskelyno and other con mercon tate execution in the floating test could not possibly be done in the room in which we were assembled."

The Testimony of Protesser Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Licht suchr Licht, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which

"Spite of the assertions, more or less trantmorthy, of the French and he is not journalists, and spite of the fordah joulouses of ignorant con pieces I feel a my uty to show u the bad fact of one party and the chicanery of the other. All that has been said or done adverse to these the races own man in absolutely untrustworthy. If we would rightly judge of a thing re a cut a deretand it, and nother the journalists nor the conjuters personned the most elementary knowledge of the science t no governa these phanomena. As a presidigitator of repute, and a smarre Spiritualist, I office that the medianime facts toman touted by the two brothers were abudutely true, and belonged but is Spiritum do order is a nga mesery respect

Messaw. He are age. Robert. House in where afterapting to metaco meso sand facto, mesos presente de las publica any theng beyond no a factore and almost grotespte paredy of the said phonomera, and it would be only ignorant and obstenate persons. who could regard the questions seriously as set forth by these ge lemen. If (an I have every retacts to hope) the psychical is a cut to which I are a paying aspectf at this time, succoid, I shall be able to establish clearly, and that by public demonstration, the immense line of domercution which apparates mediumistie phonomena from conjuring proper, and then equivocation will be no longer possible, and parsons will have to yield to evidistoropher, Mr. W. Crookes, of London, I am now in a postseen to preve plannly, and by purely attention methods, the existence of a "payebic force" in monitorism, and also the indiviable to you, Ar, Ac

Testimony of Summer Beliashini.

Sarage Be laction, Court Conjurer at Berlin, made the for owning declaration in December, 1877

'I hereby declare it to be a rack action to give declaive national upon the objective medial performance of the Uncerean meson in Mr. Henry Slade, after only one sitting and the observancement made. After I had, at one wash of severa, highly extremes gentlemen of tank an position, and also for may own interest, tested the proyectl more unisher of Mr. Slade in a sories of aittings by full daylight, as well as in the evening in his bedroom, I must, for the sake of truth, hereby certify that the phonomenal occurrences with Mr. Slade have been thoroughly examined by me with the minutest observation and inrestigation of his surroundings, including the table, and that I have not in the smallest degree found anything to be produced by means of prestaligitative manifestations, or by mechanical apparatus , and that any explanation of the experiments which took pines under the coverageness and conditions then obtaining by any reference to prestaligitation a conductely impossible. It is not rest with such men, of science as Crooker and Wallace, in Loudon , Perty in Borne , Butlerof, in St. Petersburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published opinious of laymen as to the ' How ' of this subject to be premature, and, according to say view and experience, false and one-sided. This, credence. Forty-eight hours before I should not have believed my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and witanyone who described such manifestations under similar cir- names. - (Signed) SANOEL BELLACAUM, Berlin, December 6th,

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

No. 221-Vol. V.

SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS

Fallares serves Successes in Psychoore, 57
Nr. F., include white Writing, Nr. F., include well to bookely for the tiens Knowen
The Special and it sole AAA
In the death harden book
There can be sole purious
Restrictable by Chryshological
gra, (c) JV The Telequiditi. Divery Implements Resilies through a in cap in of tury mindred, Indee struct. 1.
Contents o dedicates a clust a fluman Catholic View of Spirit The late harles l'artifice Spall design 22 on Procupres

[The Editor of "Laguer" desires it to be distinctly understood that he can necest no responsibility at to the up nous expressed by Contributors and Correspondents. Free and courteous discussion is invited, but writers are ottoched 1

FAILURES PERSUS SUCCESSES IN PSYCHOGRAPHY

By C. C. Masses

mental failures audity successes finds favour chewhere than Bastian's affirmative results. And why ! Because in that sincerely believe himself to be actuated? case the only conditions of the experiment, (1) that the onutions had been defective.

be that of a will shich is neither our own nor the medium's, conditions are not such as a conjurer requires to deceive a

and of the nature or motives of which we know noth, og, its 165 design or its captions must be quite beyond our me control. We can equally conceive a purpose regulat. na these phonomena with a wisdom and foresight comprehending, as we cannot comprehend, the conditions of human progress, and a tricky, or sportive, spirit, amening itself with our perplexition, and giving or withholding purposely to increase them. I am far, indeed, from advancing either of these suggestions as my own hypothesis to explain failures. They are merely among the possible conditions below the surface which we can conceive. The real once are probably such as our psychology is still too alone responsible for the articles to schick their names are immature to apprehend. But the fallacy be question supposes that our psychology is exhaustave, whereas, to a se of the man, it should be evident that if these phenomena are genuine, a new and deeper psychology is required to explain them when they occur, and, therefore, to account for their non-occurrence when the apparent physical conditions are the same. We are beginning now to understand how Mr. Haughton will have observed from the lotter of small a part of real mental action and disposition belongs another of your correspondents, that the rate that experi- to the surface consciousness. That these phonomena depend argely on sub-conscious psychological conditions of the in Bedians. And granting the assumption on which it rests, medium may be inferred from the apparent fact that to it is perfectly reasonable. That assumption is not, in the first some extent they depend on his conscious condition. It is instance, that one set of investigators were competent and quite possible and probable that dispositions, emotional when that thouther were not, but that all the conditions of a genuine conscious, may sink below the threshold, and thence impel recelt, if such a result were possible, were equally present or restrain occult agencies which either belong to, or are th in the one cute as in the other. That being so, the meaning adminite sympathy with, the meaning. If, for instance, Mr. touce of the apparently successful observers, and the fallacy Eglinton had over received the impression that the Society of their results, are not at all assumed, but are rigorously for Psychical Research were going to sit in suspicious proved, upon the principle of the uniform operation of judgment on him, or if (to suppose a case) he had over been naturallaws. Given a perfect similarity of conditions, thosamo treated dictatorially by one of its prominent representatives, result must follow. To take an instance from recent account who can say that resentment, even after it had peased to be Professor Tyndall's acquirve results in the experiments a conscious emotion, inight not remain as an adverse relating to the origin of life effectually nullified Dr. Charlton disposition in direct variance with that by which he might Unfortunately, all suggestions of this sort ours be too germs in the regetable infusion should be effectually urade and conjectural to do any justice to the principle of destroyed, (2) that the bottles should be effectually scaled, judgment they are intended to illustrate. All we out were exactly known. When Professor Tyndalt's bottles my in, that the very undertaking to investigate this subject, were found, or being opened, to contain no life, it was as or profession of interest in it, should imply recognition of clear a proof as could be afforded that Dr. Bastian's pre-our ignorance of the most important conditions. That, I am confident, is the disposition with which the Were it simply a question of the competence of investi-leaders of the Society for Psychial Research approach the gators I should certainly remonstrate against being put question, and we shall probably not find these gantlemen forward myself as a representative of the affirmative side, attaching undue importance to their indures with Mr. because my intelligence is to the general public an unknown Eglinton, the impression of which I hope may be effected by quantity. If the failure of certain distinguished members future success. I have set with Mr. Eglinton in company of the Society for Psychical Research is thought impor- with some of them on several occasions, with completely tant on account of their known intellectual competence, negative results under apparent conditions precisely the we have merely to set off the successes, some after prolonged same as those which had formerly been attended with the investigation, of such men as Zöliner, Fechner, Weber, most remarkable success. The demand for "scientific" Wallace, and, parliags, we may now add Richet and Ribot. investigation, put forward in ignorance, apparently of the But that is really not the question. The failney we have to usual course of proceeding at the scances, and the supposmeet is the assumption about conditions. We are here in a tion that only persons of very superior acumen, or of new and profoundly obscure field of research, and yet it is trained habits of minute observation, are competent assumed that the apparent conditions are the only essential witnesses, would not servive a single experience of the slateones, or that any others must be present equally on all writing under ordinary conditions. I do not, of course, mean occasions, or at least with every fairly-disposed "sitter. by this that the investigator would not require to repeat To begin with, this absolutely excludes, à priore, two the experiment, probably often, before committing himself spiritualistic explanations, or hypotheses. For if the agency to a final judgment. But it would be seen at once that the fairly intelligent spectator. If, when Mr. Eglinton returns, any conjurer will go with me to his rooms, and after taking note of all the conditions of a scance, will write on a slate, or change a slate (of the size of those used by the medium), under similar conditions before my eyes, without "Linse," to the genuineness of Mr. Eginton's slate-writing

phaseving it, I will give him a hundred pounds.

whole general question of the spiritualistic phenomena, it moderately observant witness, origin in defects of interlocated limit or temperament.

the general recognition of these facts as much from the dots and accents correctly piaced (one of the messages operation of larger intellectual causes as from actual demon being in French), and each handwriting kept consistently atration. Mr. Locky has shown that the tendency to throughout the message. One sentence was written with meredulity which set in towards the close of the saventim the safe state-pencil, the others had the appearance of being century, and which is now, perhaps, passing its climax, was written with a blunt metallic point. The morsels of alatecharacter that some of the most ocute and powerful minds pencil that had been put in rawly broken, had plainly been quite irrespective of ovidence, and was so automatic in of the age would do no more than maintain their own Indo- worn as if with writing. One of the sentences seemed to pendence in presence of it." It seems to me that the be in answer to my remark on the effort it appeared to cost reaction is a ready observable, and that with the granual Mr Eglinton "We managed to produce what you require, an mress on of an exoperable presumption against career but with great difficulty and stress upon the medium." agencies, the mass of test clony to them will recover its relative went to Its cannot be force is still practically ignored but we may say with Le Ma stee, "Le dischuittene further than that of writing in the empty space inclosed specie dure encora mais il ca finir

Mr. J G. Mougens, who is well known to many of our

"ARGELIE REVELATIONS."- The fifth volume of this work is now ready for privace arculation. Any if those friends who have the four preceding common and would want to have one fifth will please communicate with William Oxley, 06, Bury New

* " History of Fatheostism," Yel, 2., ohan, L.

MR. EGLINTON'S SLATE-WRITING. By H. WEDGWOOD, VICE-PRESIDENT S.P.R.

So many writers have borne witness, in the columns of that I have thought it needless to add my vosco, although Mr. Eghnton is aware, by means of a very curious com- my experiences have, I think, not been less decisive than touncestion, that I went to him at first for this state-writing any of those proviously published. But now I am induced in anything but a confiding disposition. And that fact to come forward by seeing that stress has been laid on his makes me more anxious to testify publicly to his perfectly want of success when sitting with a party of members of tample and straightforward conduct at all these seances I the Society for Psychical Research, as if any amount of have attended with lum. I do so again, leaving my negative evidence could derogate from the weight of facts testimony to be taken for what it may be considered worth. souldly established on positive testimony. The Society for One word more us to the relation of the Secrety for Psychical Research have no potent for accurate observation. Psychical Research to Mr. Eghaton, and to "Spiritoolism Their testimony should have just as much and no greater generally. I do not see how the Society can adopt author of weight than that of any other trustworthy witnesses. The Mr. Haughton's alternatives at present, unless it is to fall peculiar value of the slate-writing test depends upon the nto the very error be se sources, of treat og morely negative a conselv on pre contact ons under which it is exhibited to ross, to as justifying an adverse judgment. As regards the as to render fraud conspicuously inquestic in the case of a must, I think, he sufficiently apparent from the letter you - The first expenses to that I shall potent took place some publish from Mr. Myers, that the Somety is prepared to years ago, when Mr. Eglinton was staying with Dr. Nichols consider affirmative testimony to them, past, present, and in Populous road. I took with me a pair of my own slates future, just as it considers testimony to the other phonomena which I had tend up with string passing twice screen the already engaging its attention. When the time comes, I long and once across the abort side of the slates, scaling have no doubt that my own evidence, and that of more them on the edges at the six points where they were crossed important witnesses, will be duly weighed. I hope, indeed, by the string. We mt in the dark, but on this occasion that the Society will not proceed too slowly, so as unknowled did not succeed in getting anything written on my clates. to find itself in the somewhat ludicrous position of assuring Two or three months later I took the same shaus at I had a world that is already convinced. Meanwhile, I am able tied them, and gummed the edges all round with postage to declare most confidently, from full opportunity of judg- paper, so as to exclude the possibility of inserting a tool, ment during the past three years, that suggestions of however fine, at any point. We now out under the guaprojudice in the minds of the most active leaders of the light with the gas turned low, but with light enough to see Society against these phenomena, are utterly unfounded. In each other clearly, as well as the states laid flat on the ordinary cases I should naturally and be will us, to assessate table between us and severed by our four hands, Mr. myself with mer who could not implicitly accept my Eglinton's as well as mine, which were never removed from testimony upon matters of fact within my persons them. After a while, the well-known sound of slate-writing experience. But in this region no smalle person would began to be heard, and putting down my car to the slates droup of making such a demand upon his friends. The and withdrawing it again there could be no doubt that it question must be narrowed to one of more veracity before was from them that the mound proceeded. I remarked to that will be possible. And we must remember that of Mr. Eginton on the painful amount of bodily effort he unverselly there are all shades, the faintest of which con seemed to be exerting, which appeared strange to me, as I sistent, purhaps, with a rough measure of honesty for all thought that whatever influence he could exert in the could purposes, may invalidate testimony of this peculiar matter must be purely the result of mental effect. When character, It is always difficult to say where moral the clates were opened, the seals and gumined paper unverserty shades off into the inaccuracy which has its remained unbroken. Three separate messages were written on both sides, containing seventy-fire words in all, in three And so we must be patient. For my own part, I expect disterent hands, neatly written in even lines, with all the

My next instance is a quee of writing between the leaves of a closed book, where the difficulty is carried one degree between the rims of a pair of slates. It was in the autumn of 1883, noon after Mr. Egimton had moved to Old Quobecreaders as a warm and devoted Spiritualist, has just arrived in England from India. We are glad to hear that he purposes take, with the gas full on. Mr Eginton gave me a blank making a stay of a few months before returning to Calcutta. card, from which I tore off a corner and kept it in my pocket. He put the card in a book, together with a mornel of black lend, and, turning to a sitter on his right, laud the book on the table, with both their hands on it. As nothing road. Higher Broughton Manchester. The end sure of suspence in stamps for postage will save time, and an acknowledgment of receipt is requisited.

Shortly after. having had the usual notice of three little taps that the card I had placed there blank a few minutes before, I found a short letter addressed to me in a well-known and very peculiar handwriting, " Did you get my letter !" In fact, I had received the letter alluded to only just before starting "X," in last week's "Lacur," shows that he possesses a from my house for the sitting, and so had it in my pocket candid mind and one willing to admit a demonstrated to show my fellow-sitters. There could not be a doubt of truth. the identity of the two handwritings and signatures. I had not montioned nor shown the letter to anyone, nor was the a false analogy when he like at the researches which have person through whose hand it was written (unconsciously taken place is regard to the etiology and treatment of ax I believe) aware of my intention to ait with Mr. typhoid fever, to those which have been made to demon-Estanten. Now, convertely, did the latter know anything of atrate whether there are, or are not, means of communication toy communications with my mysterious correspondent of the book opposite to the card, although, of course, the jurn whether there does, or does not, exist an assemblage of fragment used in writing the eard must have rebbed with equal force on the opposite page. I have still the card with the fragment I tore off; the corner accurately fitted on to it. The last instance that I will mention was one in which Mr | times facts in all their bearings. Estimaton's famous pear of locked slates was made use of. We nat as usual at the corner of his table, in full light. After are refused behelf, they are asserted to be fruids. thowing me the very nest contrivance in question, shutting with a mering lock. Mr Echinton gave me a blank card, on newly introduced into England, and which had only been one corner of which I wrote my initials, and shut the card up observed by a very fractional part of the medical profes between the slates putting the key in my pocket. The frame sion, and if when this fractional part published their was then laid on the table between us, each of uspiceing one observations the remainder refused to listen to their statehand some the frame while our other two hands were prests told them that when they stated the temperature of classed together over the table. In a short time, on receiv the patient was so and so, the thermometer must have been ing notice that the task was accomplished. I unlocked out of order, or that it had previously been deliberately the slates, and found drawn upon the ourd, which I had put held to the fire , when they described certain rose-coloured, in five or ten minutes before, quite a graceful sketch of a particular shaped spots as appearing on the patient's skin, with both hands, with shading enough to show the foreshortened himbs. It was drawn on the same face of the nature, and when invited to examine the cases for thempard with my imitals, so that I could not possibly have selves, indignantly refused to waste their time about such everlooked it if the drawing had really been on the card nonsense. when I shut it up in the frame, unless undeed (as sousa may perhaps suppose) I was biologised into partial blandness, opportunity of alluding to another ! whatever minifaction may be found in such an expla-

March 58, 1883.

HARRY KELLAR.-The Religio-Philosophical Journal states that Harry Keller, whose statement we have repeatedly published, is now endeavouring to make money by " expening what he once declared that he was "unable to explain by any natural means" phenomena in the production of which " there was no trickery in any form." This was his opinion while he was in the presence of Mr Egianton, the medium in whose presence these things occurred. This was his voluntary statement. Since then he has seen "money in it," and has "rathed" accordingly. New, he will "duplicate any performance given by mediums of whatever nature, after he lue been allowed tosse it done three times." Philip sober and Philip drunk-which shall we believe? Probably it would depend on circumstances on what line of action would pay best. Of one thing our readers may rast assured Harry Kellar cannot drapticule one single phenomenen that occurs in the presence of an houset modram-unles a he is a medium himself

" to destroy faith in the superpatural, but in seperatition." the receeding number it had a communication of two columns exceptionous, I would suggest that writers in fature should on Basic shouts and the phenomena of Monter. Spire names and a caser denounce up as a nark and dust not we executed mout." a back art furbalises in the Bibbs at now with whe dece to with whe dece to with a have convent no model as a comber into minorality. Tracilly, this mous Assertables to a us that I have ket after free name festations and we a forgali engerness place in selven is at a rose of most one and bys orical a trutes to determ herit, will may each us more fearful regions on the Man or Spiritwill may ead as more fearful regions a cut. Many Spiritanians is distinct to me service to humanity. Our Lord analytic that here may an appare and would not even construct or E.G.S., of Newcoulde-on-Type, will deliver an address, his are and the rath fire on the same if her hear most the Prophots, neather will they be because though one rise from the dead.* And yet the same women things on the fire the from the dead.* And yet the same women things on the fire of its our philosophy. We hope though one rise from the dead.* And yet the same women things on the fire of its our philosophy. We hope the poers and in that these strange themselves destroyed the existence of mind and God!

writing was accomplished. I opened the book and on the SPIRITUALISM AND THE SOCIETY FOR PSYCHICAL RESEARCH

The letter of Mr. F W H. Myers, in reply to that of

But he will pardon me when I say that he makes use of potween the visible and the inviable worlds. In the case There was no truce whatever of black lead on the page of the disease, there has never been any question from the symptoms which it has been agreed to call typhold feverthe facts are more erally admitted, and the whole object of research is to gain more and more accurate knowledge as to

But in the case of Spiritualism, all the elementary facts

The analogy would hold if typhold fever worse disease fermale figure floating in the mir, and holding back her have declared that such a thing had never been heard of before, was nuite impossible and totally opposed to the laws of

Whilst addressing you on this subject may I take the

I refer to the phrase now so frequently met with in spiritual periodicals, "Matter passing through matter."

This is really a very unscientific use of terms Innamed as matter is recognised by al. physicists as of three forms, solid, liquid and gasoons, it is evident on slight reflection that matter is constantly pessing through matter in the ordinary source of nature, or more strickly speaking between the particles of it; in every movement of our own bodies we are passing through the matter of the air, os the fish does through the matter of the water. Of course, what is meant to be implied by the term to which I refer is the phenomenon of solid matter possing between the particles of other sould matter, without learning any visite

As it is better not to give any bandle of offence that can be avoided, to hostile scientists, say of the Lankesterian school, could not some of our Greek scholars coin us a single word to express this phenomenon, just as psychography The Christian Messager, an Australian journal, published expresses a particular manifestation ! Mr. Podmore's recently to article on "Ghosts," not intended, the oditor mays. learned friend might be appealed to , but supposing no one In to be equal to the task, or that the term might prove too speak of " Solids possing through solids."-I am, sir, M. D. (Loyp.)

> ERRATON.-" LIGHT, March 21st, p. 136, second column. twenty-two lines down, for "age," real "age."

> THE LONDON SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE. The ext conversa zione of the Alliance will be neld on Friday, April 20th, in the Banquoting Hall, St. James's Hall, when Mr. T P. Barkas,

THE TELEPATHIC THEORY

By G. WYLD, M.D.

It appears to me that the general argument in "X s letter is sound, and that the telepathic theory has been because it is in harmony with spiritualistic facts.

meant by the term telepathic.

I understand it to signify, that mental operations produce cortain brain waves, the result of central vibrations, the July number of the Nineteenth Century, could possibly and that those vibrations, independently of the organs of be explanable on that theory, the senses, can convey mental pictures to other brains, by there exciting identical vibrations.

We believe that vision is the result of vibrations the author of the ghost had died. impinging on the pupil of the oye, being by the lans concentrated on the rotans and thus convoyed to the brain. So the outer cavity of the car, the hearing is reduced to a con- friend. friend from, and if notion wool is hald over the eyes, night is reduced to a dim electricy

The popular observation on this is, that apaque and dense substances intercept light and sound, but the scientific explanation is, that them interposed substances obliterate sight and hearing, by refracting, breaking up, and teathering hearing.

These facts agon to me to offer considerations of much importance in relation to the theory of brain waves and telepathic netion.

Auto the brain, we find that it is, except through the orifice. of the senses and nervous system, separated from the external world by nine coverings of various textures and densities. 1. A fine membrane which adheres to its surface. 2. A thick the telepathic theory is presented in a refined psychostrong monitorand which runloses it. S. The skull, which is physical attitude; but one may sak why the term telepathic composed of three layers, viz., a dense inner layer, a apongy a preferred to the term tele-payched! And I still say that form middle layer, which is full of blood vottols, and an the accepted term has a physiological origin, and therefore outer bene case. 4. A strong filrous covering external to logically louds to materialistic conclusions. the skull. S. The scalp, which has two layers. G. The hair of the head.

If then, we with cotton wood close v bratory access to, also comstances the clarroyant and thought-reader know the condition of external things.

It would seem us if Nature took claborate point, to in order that it could the better, as an autometic power, budden in its camera obscura, secretly concoct, and mountly | research. transmit and receive, independently of physical vibrations, its aparitual telegroms.

If so, then it comes to me, excluding the senses, there can be no necessity for, or possibility of, tole-parker thought transfere set:

courteous replies to my letter in "LIGHT

A soft answer not only turns away weath, but it almost disarms criticism, still I hope I may be permitted to say respondents.

My position virtually was, that the telepathic theory had been adopted without sufficient proof, that it had been pushed to an unreasonable length, and that it logically led

In agreement with Mr Gurney I admitted that some automatic writing might be the product of an external adopted more of deference to materialistic prejudices, than haman impalse, but my opinion was that Mr. Myers had not given sufficient data for his belief that the real proper-I think so should have a precise definition of what is took of automatic writing could be accounted for on his telepathic theory, and I cannot follow Mr. Gurney when he indicates that a ghostly visitor, such as is described in

> A ghost is there described as entering the chamber of a judge while he lay in bed beside his wife; an hour after

The radge held with this ghost a persustent and engry alterestion, and finally drove the ghost out of the room, also hearing is the result of vibrations, acting on the inner and I am asked to believe that all this might have been membrane of the car, being mechanically conveyed to the the result of certain cerebrations, operating an hour after the brain which corebrated was dead. I could not force We find, however, that if cotton wool he panked into myself to believe in such a thing, even to obliga my best

I made a mutake in saying that all thought-readers believed in the spiritualistic theory, but I still think I am right in saying that test thought-readers are all more or less sensitives, med.mastle, and clairvoyant.

I repeat-the Society for Paychical Research has done great service in solidifying the scattered results of the the rhythmical vibrations, necessary to clear night and willing-game, much of which is now worked without

When I said that the Society for Psychical Research carefully excluded from its printed reports the names and opinions of these expressing opinions at variance with the telepatine theory, I did not allude to written matter, but to ora re early offered at the meetings of the Society

It is true that in Part VI. of the Society's transactions

Mr. Myers would advocate a prolonged experimentation on the lines of the telepathic theory, because he finds There are thus none layers of various densities on , of, unumerable volumes have been written on the far less therefore, various refract og sowers, protect og the brun important subject, typhoid forer. But when we know that against all minor vibrations from w thout and scattering and clove are about 200,000 medical men in Europe and obliterating all internal vi maticus, arising at it brain ets. [ America all struggling to distinguish themselves, we can which might escape otherwise than by the prifices of the find an excuse for impunerable rechanges in the form of medical monographs; although all that is known regarding typhoid fever can be given within thirty octave pages, or exit from, the eyes, the ears, the ness, and the face, it would within the tan large pages of one of the latest scientific seem impossible for any definite vibrations or brain waves to works.... "Quain's Medical Dictionary." Therefore I think escape from or to outer the beam, and yet under these car immeasurable medical literature should be regarded rather as a warring than an example.

The Society must have in its drawers an immense collection of ghost stories—authenticated first-hand. Why not asolate the brain as a silent house, for the mind to occupy, give us a volume of these! The book would be most interesting, and would be a solid contribution to psychical

We do not, however, require more telepathic ghosts, but real, objective, and persistent ghostly identities.

Ar the Convention at Waterbury, Versions, October, 1884, Dr. Preve related the case of Mr. Curtis Turner, prosounced by I must thank Mr. Gurney and Mr. Myers for their neveral physicians to be beyond recovery from chronic bronobepneumonia but who did recover thoroughly under spiritcontrol and prescription. Since then he has been a healing ancel un for the same controlling spirit, who says he was a French physician named Hanibal. Under his inflance Curio Turior that I do not find my views unterially answered by the lalks French, and plays the violin, neither of which can be do in his ordinary state. - Facts.

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK.

March "5 156. "

[We shall exteem it a favour on the part of our readers if they will forward us, for use in this column any allusions to Spiritualism and Psychical Research they may come across in the course of their reading. We see a great many of those estudious but it is christs that there must be many references to the subject which do not most our eyes.-En. or "Light"]

The spirited Spiritualists of Blackborn have built, opened, and consecrated a new hall for their meetings and services. As usual Lancashire is well to the front, and the amailer towns are much easier to move than the congeries of towns which we call the Meteopolis-mother of cities; which, guing on as how threatens to become the largest densely peopled area in the world. In all ther area with its five millions, soon to become ten millions, the first Spiritualist temple is yet to be built.

Larerpool will follow Blackburn, and spirited Newcastle, with such a solid, downright, thorough-going scientific Spiritualist as Mr. Burkas, may not be far behind. His contributions to the healy of facts are above all perios—because they prove one thing of two cather that a most estimable, learned, and respected gentleman is an idjot or a raceal-a known or a fool-or that Spiritualizat is a fast, and a most stopendous reality

Socularists, in some ways, are more likely to become Spiritualiste than ordinary Christants are. Those who take a prominent and active part in teaching Materialism tie themselves of m donot and may be an indeb bounce and bloods use onne Christmus are-but they profess free inquiry and bout of free thought, many Christians denounce both as the sankest harmy Then it is often emier to all an empty resed than to empty a

We have little to hope for from the subghtenment of bigots of any creed or no croed. We have no doctrines to teach—no thirty-nine or other magic number of satisfies to sign. All w have in a body of facts and immunerable testamenion to their reality-dacts which may be almorred from day to day, proving to all open-minded men the greatest of all facts—that there is life beyond the grave.

This one fact, hold by the great main of the human race in all known agos, is Spiritualism. The phonomena of what we call "Modora Spiritualians" octso as an answor to the materialism which demon the possibility of sparit-life and agency The timest rap upon a table—the amaliest movement of any praterial object—may be proof of spirit-existence and evidence of spirit-power. One same, written in a familiar handwriting, which we how and fool, but which no one but a spirit could possibly inscribe, may be all we need to perfectly convince us of the great facts of spirit-life and spirit-power.

The atterances of the Rev W. H. Black, A.M., of St. Louis, U.B.A., on "Modern Spiritualism" have been copied in the Cumberland Presbyteream. He mys that " according to the estimates of the loss test investigators, there are from seven to pleren millione of Spiritualists-more devotors of this long of the night than there are followers of the Pope in America." "Hag of the night" is rather a nice spithet to fling in the face of a fact you want to disparage. Mr Black is hysterical to which we have not the least objectsoit.

The cause is confessed in the next sentence. Spiritualists "are differed through all circles and seriously menages the Church"— __this "postilent harmy " ! It is " an unalterable conviction whatever that, in the view of a Presbyterian, may be. Pro- of the reality of mind." It is that " Materialism can give no differed through all circles and seriously menace the Church'femor Phelps says the pulpit ought not to agnore Speritualism Professor Christlieb, on the banks of the Rhine, mys the same The most commanding voice of recent times, mys " Boware.

"Breate !" also is good, if this revocend denotator of the Science of Immortality could understand it-but he doesn't and But if mind be conceded, then the supernatural is involved, and he goes ou to ky down the law. Ho mys :-

be home in mind :--

1. Speritualism is underlaid with many indisputable facts. It is not all fraud.

2. All as not fact that is alleged as such in the basic of bad beginning comes to a good ending

Spiritualism. Much is perpetrated in its name which leading Spiritualista themselves denounce

3. All facts are not wholesome-

Here we take usue. There is no fact in the nurverse which. duly considered and rightly used, a not wholesome. The misobiof of all accturianism is to pack out such facts as smit them, and stantily to reject all others. Ignoring facts keeps mun in ignorance and false doctrines. " Prove off things" is as much a communicate " hold fast to that which is good

Then the Rev Mr Black tells in his way the story of the Fox girls and the materialising of spirit forms. as a the case of Mr Lavarmore, the New York banker, and others, who saw their deceased wives." He gives a case in 1854 of C. B. Sanders.

He wrote wite mace tals on if night (though not out of reach). exactly fallow on the lines on the power. He foresteld over to most at hand. He new though for away, and out of reach of maura vacon. He bears some aux work were seeing weached a lexdistant. He wrote and interpreted languages unknown to him n un personi state. He always acted in these trance spells of sleeps on her were ex loc. as a different person from C B. Sanders, invariably signing himself 'X + Y = %.' He had powers of hosting, as that he was ultimately called ' Dr. Samers. These facts are cartified by many witnesses of social, medical, and theory consideral

Mr. Sanders, however, was not a Spiritualist, says Mr. Black, but had all his communications from persons still in the flesh, "therefore-1. Proternatural mental photomena are not to be taken as evidence of Spiritualism. It does not require the lovery to explain mind-reading, telepathy, and many other mexposured mental phonomens | and 2, Communication with avie we pursons does not prove that thuse persons are disest ashest. Mr Sanders got information from those who ware for busine but never, as we are informed, from the spirits of

Also all that is alleged of Spiritualism is not fraudulent at loss cannot be proved to be. Careful scientific investigators like Zöllner, Crookes, and Wallace have affirmed that there are facts in Spiritualism yet to be accounted for We now he discovered of the law of evolution, classifies the phenomena of Spiritualism as physical and meeta. He amore ax analy d physical phonomena: 1. Simple physical manifestations. sta o as tups, moving bodies, releasing mediums from bonds, & 2 Chemical phonomena-such as preserving from effects of lire Writing phenomens—such as inditing mosanges with materials out of routh of the medium, &c. 4. Musica, phonomena-as whom instruments are played without human hands. Spiritum torney as sparks, globes of light, hands, faces, &c., which are made to oppear an perform unusual deeds. 0, Spiritual photographs—as when apirit-forms have appeared in pactures taken in the presence of a medium

Of mental phonomens, Mr. Wallnes says there are five kinds 1. Automatic writing—as when the medium writes involuntarily, and often on thouse and in languages to him unintelligible. 2. Clairvoyance and clairaudience-as seeing and hearing things impercoptible to the natural organs. 3. Transco-speaking—as when the medium, in a more or loss unconscious state, sponks of things often beyond his own expecity. 4. Impersonation—that is, amouning the character of other beings. 5. Henring.

And after this testimony, unimpeached and unimpeachable, what is the result? What is the outcome of this ' hag of the night' explanation of those strange phenomena. No mero otomic aggregations can account for these wonders. Only mind furnishes the data for the solution of such problems. They must be referred to semathing which overleaps the limitations of matter and performs deeds which are miracles to Materiadan that which involves the supernatural involves God. The With reference to this gigantic heresy, three things should conclusion of the whole matter, then, is God is."

> Balana again. He begins to curse and goes on to bless. The "hag" and the ' heresy" prove mind and God. And so a

An Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT." LONDON E.C.

SUBSCRIPTION BATES.

The Annual Subscription for "Ligars," not free to any address within the United Kingdom, or to places comprised within the Postal United States, and British North America, is 10s. 10d. per annual, forwarded to our office in advented to our office in ALVERTISEN AT CHAR ES.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Sobseriations for table are now due. Aubereibers will oblige by forwarding these at our reo "The Manager of LIGHT" 4 Ave Upric lane L.C. Past office Orders may be unde against in Henry Harney Al Editorial Correspondence payoute to Henry unreceded to be addressed to "The Editor "

Light:

SATURDAY, MARCH 2810, 1865.

En Memoriam.

CHARLES CASSAL By " M. A. (Oxon)"

each of which seems approclably shortened, the friends with any interests Français on Angusterre whom the profession of a common fattle has associated me in the many-sided man whose name heads this not ex-the conege at Aithireh he communiced his studies, and con-newly-founded Victoria University, at Manchester. t nucl. them in Dijon, where, in the year 1836, he took his Degree of Bacheller es Lettres.

in 1810 (Université de France).

Holyestor

interest, by a large majority of votes.

saturfaction of the Jewish community, which subsequently his interlect showed him many marks of gratitude which may be mentioned a speech and series of articles in the Press demanding a Communition of Imputry into the Practice of Usury in Rural Duttricts. Politically he belonged · to the Republican Left. His sont in the Assembly was next to that of Lamartine, but Lamartine was not of exactly the same political confear

In 1851, at the Coup d'Etat, several unsuccessful attempts were made to arrest him. He was tracked during From new notes of the Chicago, the first tendence of the Chicago downs, $2.25. Page $1. A reclassed packs and advertisements may be addressed to the Router of the first tendence and Advertisements may be addressed to the Router of the first tendence and Part Office Unders may be made parable to Henry tendence and Part Office Unders may be made parable to Henry tendence and Part Office Unders may be made parable to Henry tendence and the disort the rouse the people. With these eminent received for amounts under the first tendence and others less completions, he was exiled by special decree. In the lat of prescription his name came next to "Libert may also be included from h. W. V. ex. t. Are Maria-lane. Victor Hugo's. He always regarded it at an honour to himself to be prescribed in such company

He came, almost of course, to England, on January 28th, 1852, without resources of any kind, without even a knowledge of the language. This he picked up at first by reading the Times. He gave lessons, everywhere making friends, and finally was introduced to University College School, in 1856-7, by the late Professor Key, F.R.S., for whom he always outertained the greatest affection and respect. He was shown to the Professorship of French in University College, in 1880. Before this important event in his career, he had already obtained the coveted post of Examiner in French to the University of London.

From that time his success was natured, and his progrow raped. It is pleasant to think that he was not forgotten in his own country, which he had always loved with undiminished affection. On July 12th, 1880, he was created Chavaster de la Légion d Hondour, by decree of the President of the Republic "comme récompense de devoue-One by one, with increasing rapidity, and at not was ment eprouvé à la cause republicame et des services randus

He accumulated, during the three and thirty years that are being gathered into their places in that state of life he spent in London, many are againsted posts, which are to which we are all travelling. The mat-one of those whom hever filled except by men of the highest eminence in their we could least spare, as it seems to our clouded judgment- profession. In advition to the post of Examiner to the to raity of London as examined also for the Civil It is not generally known to my routers of what Service Communion, and for the Indian Cara, Service , for emmence in various walks of life was the man whose the Staff College, the Admiralty, the War Office, and the modest simplicity of character caused him often to take Rayal Military Academy. His name and fame had resched a lowly place in a company where he was facile princeps. the Colonies, for he was appointed Examiner for the Hugues Charles Standalar Casual was born in the year University of New Zealand. And, hat, but by no means 1818 at Altkirds, Departement du Hout-Rhin, Almos. At least, he had very recently been appointed Examiner in the

Thus is not the place to recount the long list of his works, chiefly educational, nor to extend, as I might readily He then proceeded to Strasbourg, where he took his do, my narration of his public services. He was far more Degree of LLB (Bachoner on Drott) in 18.0 and LLD than I have been able to depict him in one of the walks of life which he adorned. He was admitted by common con-Down to the year 1845 he practised at the Bar. In that sent, as I can testify, to be one of the ablest teachers that year he lost his fither, and found hinself at the head of a University College can produce, and his weight of character, family of eight chikiren, four of whom were sistors, and his directness of speech, his downrightness of purpose, was thus compelled to take up his father's practice as a were of inestimable value in the government of that nstitution

He was unconservely elected number of the Conseil | A passing word only on his domestic relations, lest I General du Département du Haut-Rhin, Mayor of Altkirch seem to intrude, however respectfully, where a sacred privacy (1848); Representant du Peuple for the Département du should prevail. No family ever mourned a parent whose Haut-Rhin in the Assemblee Nationale in the Republican love and devotion to them were more touchingly manifested throughout a long life, the friction of which might be held to Shortly before his mayoralty of A.tkirck, advantage excuse some variation of temper. His deeply religious had been taken of the troubled time of the revolution of mind-no man was ever, in the tracst sense of the word, .848 to oppress the Jove in some districts, and to wreck and more religious his high sense of honour, causing him to pillage their houses. He was chosen to proceed to the dis- reader to each his day, his generosity to any fellow-man in turbed districts for the purpose of quelting the disturbances. need, made his private life as striking by the display of moral This he did successfully at great personal risk, and to the quanties as his public life was striking by the superiority of

It is, however, as a Spiritualist that we are must con-While a momber of the Assemblee Nationale he lived corned with him. He was, here as chewhere, simple, in Paris, and spoke and wrote on various subjects, among sincare, and carnest in his belief. He was a Spuritualist of a type that is becoming perhaps a little old-fashioned. His mental faculties did not stand in the way of a simplicity of belief that experience had not availed to modify. Perhaps he had not had time to climb up to the farmonable Agnostic platform. He knew, or he thought he knew, by evidence that satisfied his keenly critical mind, that those whom death hides from us are "not lost, but gone before", that they live as really as they ever did, and that their power of commenson with earth is a demonstrated fact. In that faith he rested content, leaving curious questionings to those who, as he mid to me, "had more time to vex themselves with them." Yet he was anxious to "judge righteous judgment," for he borrowed from me all the printed particulars that I could lend him about the Theosophical Society, and was equally anxious to know of the Hermetic Society, and the distinctive professions of Thomas Lake Harris. Hardly a day passed, for we met daily except during recation, but he came to me with some difficulty to settle, some problem that disturbed him, something in his reading of speritualistic literature on which he thought I could throw light, for his own experience had been comparatively recent, and he was always learning and coming daily nearer to the knowledge of the truth. We agreed repeatedly that a study of every form of the Occult was a duty to ourselves, and a necessary preliminary to the expression of any opinion on a subject so perplexing and full of mystery as is that which we call Spiritualism.

March 28, 1885.]

He was a member of the Council of the London Spiritual. int Alimnos, where his genial presence and weighty counsel will be mally missed.

I have now narrated such facts in my friend's life as will show by their bare recital what manner of man he was. I have given the skeleton , but who, even among those who knew him bost, can reproduce the spirit that animated it, can show the man as he was, and fix by feeble words-the more freble in my case that they are penned by one who has himself long been cast on a bed of sickness and extreme pain-the whole many-sidedness of Charles Cassal ? To him as to few also apply the words :-

" He was a MAN, take him for all in all I shall not look upon he like again." "M. A. (Oxox.) " held on Tuesday. March 24th, a vote of sympathy and con was originally derived. For it is evident that, in order to doleron with the family of the late Professor Camal was obtain such particular counterpart of an object, the object enancementaly passed on behalf of the President, Council, steelf must, at one time or other, have been in the possession and members of the Alliance. Mr. A. A. Watts, the of the operator ; unless it be assumed that the production deputy-president, reported that, anticipating the wishes of of the material is a "creation." This, we know, is beyond the the Council, he had sent a wreath of flowers, for use at the power of the "spirits," and has, besides, never been claimed funeral, as a slight token of the esteem in which their by them. But for the absence of information respecting co-worker was hold by all who know him. A vote of thanks the origin of the counterpart, the theory is acceptable was passed to Mr. Watts for his action in the matter.

CAVENDISH ROOMS.

A spirce in commemoration of the thirty-seventh anniversary of Spiritualism was held at the Cavendish Rooms on Wednesday, March 18th, 1885.

After tea the business of the meeting was commenced by Mr. J Hurns, and, in the course of the evening, addresses were delivered by A. T. T. P., Mr. T. Eventt, Dr. J. power is sufficient to explain the fermation, not of some Commodore Street, Mr. T. Shorter, and Mr. E. Dawson Rogers, the various speeches being interspersed by a well- secret cloth! But we cannot be expected to believe that privaged musical programme.

Through the courtesy of Mr. J. Burns, of the Medinos and Daybreak, we have been favoured with advance proofs of the report of the proceedings. In making out acknow ledgments, we have to express regret at our imbility to use it, but have much pleasure in referring those who wish to read the various speeches to the current assue of our contemporary

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY IV

> By J G KEULENANK (Continued from page 140.)

PLATE II .- SPIRIT DRAPKIN

The information I have obtained from various scance rooms (or otherwise manifesting) "apprita," is thinky to the effect that they possess this counterpart "naturally" Pressed to state, as far as their recollection cambles them, how they became possessed of it "automily," all invariably broak down," and tell me they do not know, or they (as is usually the case) evade further interrogation by putting counter-questions. They do not know, eannot explain, or have quite forgutten, when it was, or under what circuin stances, they first found themselves endowed with the "counterpart." To them the mystery appears as great as it does to us. All they are aware of in that they possess it, and that, although it is visible or real to them, it is not perceivable to our senses. As to its transformation, the information given is that a (to us) solid solutance can be produced out of this casental part by certain processes of which we cannot form any conception.

They further state that in their condition as " sparitual beings" they have the faculty of working out such a process, but cannot, because it is not natural to us, explain that faculty otherwise than by terming it "will-power" Mortals can, they say, only observe the results which, as we (mortals) are aware, fully demonstrate the reality of that power. The process followed is said to be that of "agglemention" of the atoms present lu this earthry atmosphere. These atoms being attracted to, or absorbed by, the apiritual bams, the latter can be seen gradually to assume the different pluses of sombification (semetimes observed in the dim light at seances for physical manifestations) until the whole of the previously invisible bests or spiritual counterpart in transformed into the solid aubite we known as "drapory." Now, all this is conceivable and has, moreover, been partially witnessed by scores of investigators; At a Council mosting of the London Spiritualist Alliance but we have still to learn whence that spiritual counterpart

> We now come to a somewhat different hypothesis, also based upon spirit-communications, which leaves the essential basis or spiritual counterpart out of the question altogether. According to it, the material of which the dispery a "formed," is produced by will-power, on the spot and out of the atoms collected in the medium's surrounding atmosphere, -some may the medium's "magnetism", the process being likewise that of slow and gradual transition from the invisible to the substantial. Here we are obliged to infer that willsolid substance merely, but of a manufactured product, viz., atoms, molecules, or what else one may consider these things to represent, will shape thousalves in long-spun threads, each thread twisted round hundreds of times and intercrossing other ginnlar threads thousands of times, following a strictly mechanical armagement of the most complicated nature, and all this without mechanical compulsion. Are we to ascribe a similar result simply to the superior power over matter with which these "spirits" are ondowed? If the "aparit's" products were only a substance, in composition wallike the stall we are able to manufacture, the above theory would seem more readily acceptable. Strange to my, the material worn by the "spirits" is, after caruful examination, found to be intrinsically the same as the material we wear, and, what looks more mysterious, It not more surreptitions, is, that sometimes the edges are other out star glit or even hemmed.

A less sots of these chrones drawings will remain and may be obtained of the Manager of the Phychological From, 4, Ann Marta-sage, R.C., price in 66, the set, packed on roller for safe transmission by parcel post. -dip; Aptr.

Hot it may be asked whether the question as to Ita origin is worthy of the attention directed to it, or, whether it would not be preferable to abandon further research for the present, considering the inapperable characles that stand in promised to us on Monday evening had, as to your condition the way of direct experiment, and also the comparatively and the general errangement of affairs, in the sphere in secondary importance of the question to be settled. For it which you near discill? That statement would be of great may be, and has been, argued that it matters little haw, and | interest to all of me. when, the drapery was procured, provided the meoutestable genumeness of a materialisation be proved. Certainly, if entering my new life the "forms" were seen to materialise spart from the drapory , but the question is, do "forms" build up until fully developed and then go in search of some calico to cover " afe were yours of pure, and agony, and suffering so thouselves! From what has been witnessed, they do not . excruciating that I looked and longed for death as the only but appear either after, or simultaneously with, the dispery means of relief from my sufferings. ag the rapory is seen to develop or proceed, as a filmy the seek of what to many will be eight about to proped preparation I advise tated fraud. There is another didiculty enent this drapery ; production to which I wish to call special attention. The languish, and toy mother was once sitting at my side, and student of these mysterious "form" munifestations will have when I made a mean of complaint, she cheered me by experienced that not all such " forms " are duranct materialiautions, but they are often (some opine nearly always) " transfigurations " or " transformations." In these latter | her words or manner made me afraid to dis. I remember, manifestations we are not believing a "form" or "spirit," after this, sinking into a staper, but I can still feel the kim ladicidually distinct and existing apart from the medium, on my brow, and the words, " He is going." Directly after but the medium houself transformed. And, these trans , that the pain crewed, and I felt-how can I describe the formed medium appear blewise in drapery ! Granted that exequalte pleasure, the intexicating delirium, that took In such cases the "spirit" is compelled to ammate the medican's pomession of my whole body ! I can only like it to the body to avoid an exhausting materialization, or an course. quenes of some other cause that would prevent the operator from successfully carrying out that object. Thus at least is the , come, and then I know for the first time that I had died. adopted explanation of those enigmatical occurrences; but what explanation con begiven of the presence of drapary and I wrote.) in such particular case? Are we to suppose that if a "apirit" lacks the power to build lumself a body, it entrance sute the other state, will you please to give us some is yet able to construct a large quantity of worm cloth? of year experiences when there? Why, if it be true that "spirits" manifesting on earth can, by will-power, transform a spiritual counterpart into a solid formations are known to have occurred outside the seance seemed to give me life, strength, and happiness. room, as in some mrer cases of costacy—these manifestsputing any blame on the medium's part, can the same be the architect's ideas. taid of the "spirit" amounting the medium's body by trying to mass him off as some one clast New as to the drapery. Does origin of spirit drapery is worthy, may, most argently de unvoluntarily bowed myself before them. markle, the most serious attention of all those suterested in the subject.

(To be continued.)

IMPROMPTU REPLIES THROUGH A LADY PSYCHIC

OF YERY LIMITED EDUCATION III

> By T. P. BARKAE, FG S. (Continued from page 128.)

(Scance August 23rd, 1875. Present : Two ladies and six gentlemen.)

While we were in convenuence the hand of the medium wrote, "I have arrived, what can I do for you first ?"

Ourstion. Will you kindly give us the sufermetion you

Assway, I will commence with my experience on first

Q. Thanks, we shall be glad to learn it

A. I told you before that the last nine years of my Notwithstanding my German education, I had never substance, on, or near, the modium's person, the "form" taken kindly to passumation or metaphysics, and had really arrang from inside or underscenth; or, dropery and "form" troubled myself not at all about the future. To my appear together by the gradual solidification of a seemingly mother and sister I owe all the good in my nature, and cloudy must. Hence there is no need for either the sup- when I once spoke to my mother as to the preparation position, or the deductions made from it , furthermore, as a necessary for the future, she mad, "Lave, my son, so that when protect to account for the protence of the drapery, it you leave the marth, you may leave nothing to regret wome whice f not compe one to suspect the medium or nelimal. Be honest, truthful, and courageous; this is the

> During the last few days of my life I suffered externe mying, "You will soon be free.

I blessed her then, as I have done since, that nothing in heatific trance of the opium rater.

I was proused from this trance by a form, which hade my

(At this stage the hand of the medium cessed writing,

Q. You have now favoured us with your account of your

A. I remember wishing that my mother knew that the suffering was all over, but when I turned to tell her I substance, why does not the transfigurator avail himself of found that I was in a strange place, with an old man that power? If some car, and others can not, why do those | standing, looking pityingly, beade me. I said, "I want to that are deficient to perform that work, come at all or speak to my mother," but he replied," Not yet, come?" so I exhibit themselves at all ? Would it not be better to turn fellowed him over hills, and through valleys, the while drawout the medium as they find hand Were it not that trans-ing such breaths of pure air that every drought I inhaled

We came to a city, a city not built with hands, and tions reight be considered a fraud. However, without im- such as I cannot describe. It was the very perfection of

We wantlered through it, and I saw a group of men liscussing some weighty matter, and when I came nearer I not its origin—especially in the present case—directly point recognised some of the grand old become whom I had to " carth." ? I therefore subunt that the question as to the 'thought and spoke of with reverence during my life, and I

I enjoyed some exchange of words and ideas with them, and I found that they inhabited this beautiful place, not for the decis for which the world remembered them, but for the self-dema, and self-sacrifice for which they had received no thunks while on earth.

March 28, 1883.]

will, and we saw hundreds of little children. "Thu," and my through space than electricity guide, "is the children's village, and these women are the mothers who have left their own on earth, and who under- and hells, and do those toke leave thus rearld go at once to take the care of the little ones. You see how great the either the one or the other? If not, what is their state? sympathy between them, how foully each loves the other These children will grow in wardom and understanding, and will take their places among men."

painters, writers they had been, but these great masters of the multitudes I have mentioned might be the hell, but I the carth, how low have they fallon, when compared with no not surv those who starving (Istarved) on earth for want of patronage. We spoke to all, and I recall with pleasure how each had some kindly word for the stranger.

"Where," I asked my gaide, "are the philanthropata, those men whose names stand high for their works of charity!"

"This way" mad my goods, so we turned and came lower, restorn us. and lower, and lower, and mw a great moltatude of men listening to the teachings of one who, when I came nearer, I recognised as one of England's greatest philanthropists there continuing the work to raise those who on earth had not tried to raise themselves.

"Thom," mid my guide, pointing out to my notice some of the multitude, " are your kings, your rulers, your statesmen, how low they are, see there in the rank above them are the poor, the beggar, who, by reason of his greater aspiration after good, is higher than kings or princes. Those, again, are those who were idiots and instant, those are among the most promising of that vast multitude, see how eagerly they devour the knowledge that was denied benefit ag others. them on earth, they come among us pure as the veriest infant."

(Horn the writing ceased, and I wrote.)

Q. We shall be glad if you would proceed with your description (to which the following roply was written through the hand of the modern) :--

A. I would rather, now that I have introduced the subject, that you would ask what questions you wish information upon. This is a difficult subject to deal with, since I must use a metaphor all through, but I keep to the truth in every particular

Q. Have you and your companions in the spiritual world resible argumesed human forme!

A. We have visible organised forms, but such forms as you, in your present form, would not recognise. You see your friend and know him to be your friend, and so do we, when we see the spirit of our friend, know him to be our friend in the same manner that you recognise yourselves. Yes, If you were to see us, you, with your material eyes, you would not recognise us. I can like it only to this the butterfly would not recognise in the chrysalis a fellow-creature, we do not see the form but the spirit, and recognise our friends from a distance?

you see, by some kind of other, as we are supposed to do !

convey inspremient to the brain in many ways.

every paracolar that you have; but as to the other the danger of interference is done away with particles, I cannot tell. I never thought about the matter, but I will inquire and tell you more.

the requirements of your spiritual bodies !

would, digest it, and cast away the more worthless.

Q. Do you more rapidly from place to place, and how !

A. We move from place to place rapidly or otherwise After a while my guide beckoned me to fellow him by the mere exercise of what you call will power. We again, and we proceeded over more hills, fertile plant, and with to be in a place, and, if circumstances permit, we can by streams sparkling as they flowed through the rich be there with the wish we, as it were, rid ourselves from verdure, and we came to another city, village, what you the mountrance of the body, and can travel even quicker

Q. Is there a Heaven or a hell, or are there heavens

A. I have never heard of the hell since coming here, but of Heaven I have, and that seems still above us. I think that the real meaning of the word (hell) is a pit or a grave; Then we passed on and stood in a company of men; if that is so, then I imagine that the condition of some of

Q. Have you anything in your ophere equivalent to our time, and do you over feel ennie or languor?

A. We have days, nights, and seasons statuar to your own. We thre sometimes, but take rest, perhaps not in the same way as you, but in a way as well calculated to

Q. What is your made of social intercourse !

A. Wa visit when we wish to interchange ideas, and get our friends to visit us. We spend much time in debating and organising schemes for raising the status of the lower in condition to ourselves.

Q. Haveyou any mode of worship, and, if so, what are your leading forms of worship !

A. We have as many, no, almost as many forms of worship as yearselves. It is the employment of very many but to greater use thun on earth, by worshipping the Derty truly, we raise ourselves, and to do so truly, we must raise others, thus by our own doeds crowning currelyes and

Q. Do you meet with any beings designated angele? Have they any direct relationship to markind, that is seen angels

ORCE BICK !

A. There are angels, but they belong to a much higher sphere than I am acquainted with , they are sent at thurs with meanings to be, oven as they have been to yourselves, but as to your question, were they once men, I believe that if they were, they never lived on earth; at least, such is the opinion of many here

Q. Will you please to inform the what sciences and with robut languages you are acquainted, in order that we may nal questions in relation to those subjects with which you are more fam har t

A. Acoustics, light, heat, magnetism, electricity, principally, but of a few more. But of languages I know but little more than English. I certainly once know German as well, but during my illness I let it go down. Still I might be able to recollect it if necessary.

Q. Is it necessary that Humner Stafford should be here present in order to control the medium, or can be control her

A. Either , from a distance so the conditions permit, if Q. Are our organs of vision the same as yours, and do every condition is not purfect, we can control from a distance but the communications are not to be A. It does not require eyes to see even on earth , sight depended implicitly upon. Frequently the aura or is independent of the eye even there, I believe. You can odic force, whatever you like to call it, is interrupted, so the control is not absolute but when everything is You, we have organs enswering the same purpose in harmonious and we control from the porson to person, then

Q. We shall be glad to know if it be agreeable to you to west Mr. - , a celebrated numbers, need Monday Q. Do you partable of food for the purpose of supplying ovening, as he is desirons of making your acquaintance, and he furnished use with several of the musical questions which A. Do you give your brain food! We feed our bodies I neked you to anneer. If you agree to meet him, please to on the same food as you do your brain. We cat it as you say of the conversation shall be on minuted tustraments, and of so, on which special unstrument. Also please to inform us of you are presty well acquainted with the most celebrated MHOSTORY CHIPPINASSOS

A. I have no objection to meeting any friend. My musical knowledge is limited, but what I know I am willing to impart. I best understand the organ, prano, and harmonium, the conversation can be on these or optics. I have been getting up that, so if you have any questions, I shall be glad to answer them.

I have not met with many musical composers, but with | Mayerheer and one or two others

Q. Will you please to enform us as bruefly as you feel disposed the difference between chromatic and apherical observation?

A. By spherical aborration we mean the distortion of the figures or objects looked at through a spherical lans , by chromatic, the ring of colour round the object. (End of

Readers will please to remember that the replies to the questions were written by the lady medium with very great speed, a speed about double that of ordinary writing. The answers were written without hesilation or evalure of any kind. I have copied them verbatim from the original MS. book. Some of your marvallously-clover unhaltering roaders, Messrs. Propter and Laukester to wit, may suppose they are nuestions that may easily be answered by normal means and that the medium is clover, and well acquainted with the topics introduced. I have already stated that the medium is only a very partially-educated woman. In order to test the aloged case of the replies, let every sceptical reader first tost his own powers on the questions in the three seamers already given, by writing rapid imprompts answers to the questions, and when he has failed-as fail he probably wil -iet han test the skill and knowledge of a few hundreds of his well-educated friends, and he will speedily find that in l comparison with the controlled band of the partiallyeducated automatic medium, they will miscrably fail. (To be continued.)

CONTENTS OF HELLENBACH'S "GEBURT

UND TOD " (VIEXXA, 1885)."

FRIST PART

The Manifestations of the Transcendental Basis of Eq. in an Consequential con-

11 Curve Through Perception

III City The oab Operator at a Distinct IV City Through Unconscious Woung and Speak og.

Squaresto Pages

V Char. Complete Liberation or Severance of the Second.

Form.

VI Ch r Incom, lete Kevernaco VII Ch r Apparent Scores tec VIII Char The Evidence of Butery.

Turko Part

The Three Hypethones.

Year The Explanation of the Phenomena by Fraud
Year The Explanation of the Phenomena by Paychic

XI CHAP Through the Intervent on of other Bourge.

FOURTH PART

The Solution of the Problem.

XII. CHAP .- What m, and how to be, a Fakir (The Sciution of the Phenomenal Side of the Problem).

Mystery of our Existence solved.

XIV CHAP, --My Metaphysic in Relation to Popular Beliefs.
Natural Science, and Philosophy.

XV CHAP. - My Metaphysic and Returor 1. - The Historical Personality of Christ.

Chreat an a Fak r. 3. Christ as a Rengious Founder.

XVI CHAP Concusson

* A literal translation of the contents page has been forwarded to do for publication. The terminology, however being to part energy needlectic with, out a play alone amounting to a review of the book for which we have not space at present, we insert a loss distinct, abouth the ways, remissing supplied by a correspondent who is separated with the book.—En. or " Locate."

A ROMAN CATHOLIC VIEW OF SPIRITUALISM.

March 28, 1883.

The following is translated from a recent number of the Vienna Tagblatt, a democratic daily,

" Although Pope Pies IX, notoriously condemned Spiritualism in a solemn declaration, it now finds a remarkable advocate in the Papal paper, Civilla Cattolies. This journal deals at length with the Archduke John's pamphlet on the exposure of Bartine, and with Spiritualism generally, and very decidedly opposes the proposition that that is not true of which one cannot be convinced by one's own eyes. The conclusions of the Archduke, founded on a single case with Bastian, this believing paper thinks, are not valid agreest Spiritualism in general. Plato speaks of the intervention of good and evil demons, quite like Alban Karden, Du Potet, Flammarion, Baron Hellenbach, and the Spiritusta of to-day. So, likewise, the Neo-Platonuta Plotenus, Joinbirchus, and others, speak of the art of obtaining intercourse with spirits, and of effecting the pretent so-called spiritistic phenomena. Every one knows the functions of the old Oracles (the Pythia being a men un. The Fathers of the Church, also accepted spirit phonomena as generally known, and that in which Tertullian and Augustine believed can sot be described as simple freed. Nor would mere charlatency have convinced Anselm, Thomas Aquinas, Albertus Magnus, and Scotus. Spirit phenomena occur also among the heathers, as parsonnaries testify The Civilla Cattolica promises to continue its certainly very interesting discussion of Spirituanen "

THE LATE MR. CHARLES PARTRIDGE

The American Strictualist Alleange convened a secuting in the Republican Hall, New York, for a service, February 8th, in communication of Mr. Charles Partridge, who passed to the higher life in January, in his seventy-second year. Mr. Newton provident of the First Society of Spiritualists, presided

After the singing and invacation and the president a open ag speech, the assembly was addressed by Judge Cross.

He said that it was in the early days of the medium ship of the Fox girls, our of whom-Mrs. Lash Fox Underhill-own on the platform, that Charles Partridge first witnessed medora sparitualest phenomena. Feeling it a duty to make them known, with the philosophy deducible from them, he founded, with the late Dr. B. B. Brittan's editorial and, the Specifical Telegraph, and supported it through stanine volumes. Under the same impulsion he originated the Spiritual Conferences, which have been continuous to the present time The Dopoles now of the Human Bury (The | Charles Partridge ballored in the power of organisation, and was the first to myo and help forward the organising of the American Spiritualist Alliance. It was his constantly expressed empriction that the religion of Spiritualism would bring about an end to the strife about erosis, and draw men together in fraternal concord.

Whenever an alovating charitable work was in hand, one might always expect to find Charles Partridge in it , he wasamong other societies for good-one of the first in ferming that for the Prevention of Crime , and he was the originator of our noble Orphan Agricus of both of them he was on the Board of

A few days before his departure he wrote to Judge Cross that he wished to convey to the American Speritualist Alliance his books, and his estate on the shores of a beautiful lake in Lewis County, N.Y The Judge wont to take instructions for the necessary dead, but buildy workmen compelled its being deferred till next day. Then it was too late the next day be ontered the mirit world

Mrs. Hardinge-Britten, said the departed had been her constant friend from the commencement of her mediumship, and Concluded with an impromptin poors.

Judge Dailey followed. He hald up the character of Charles Judge Dailey followed. He hald up the character of Charles Partridge as worthy of the contemplation of the fixing generation of Spiritualists.

After Birs Brighans had recited a beautiful poem, which—like that of Mrs. Hardings Britton—could not be represented, the proceedings were terminated by the angula of the Doxology and a final invocation.—Relayor Philosophical Journal.

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

GLASGOW .- Source of the Glasgoro Association of Spiritualists on Friday, 20th March, 1885 .- This source was held on the date given, for the three-fold purpose of commemorating the thirty-seventh amoverney of Modern Spiritualism, Mr. Blorso's farewell visit to Glasgow, and the termination of the first six months' ongagement by the Somety of Hr and Mrs. Wallia. The proceedings were of the most enthasiastic description, and the occasion may well be remembered as a Referring to Mr. Morse's quitting London, the speaker soil.

Mr. Jan. Robertson, president, compared the chair, and around him on the platform were scated Mr. Morse (the guest at times as if Spiritualism exclude and the around him on the platform were scated Mr. Morse (the guest of the evening), Mr. and Mrs. Wallis, Mr. T.F. Calder (of Dundon), the speaker will less to appreciate it. It would not the platform were scated Mr. Morse (the guest of the movement were supported of the evening), Mr. and Mrs. Wallis, Mr. T.F. Calder (of Dundon), the speaker will less to appreciate it. It would not the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis, Mr. T.F. Calder (of Dundon), the speaker will less to appreciate it. It would not the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Means and the control of the movement of the movement of the movement of the complete of the second of the movement Griffin, Anderson, Duguel, and Mutto. Tea having been perrod, and a piano dust gracefully rendered by Misses Wilson and Freebasse. Mr. Wallis, in normal especity, read a linel, earnost, and stirring address in reference to the anniversary of Spiritualism, in the course of which he ably vindouted the minion of Spiritualism, advocated the cause of medianulap. and exhorted has feliow-labourem in the spiritual cause to abruted purpose and zealous effort. He said "The reshection of the nearpoon of the spirit world, the presence and influence of the loved of our hours, the certainty which, beyons person venture, is known to us that there is no death, the conscious which, to my way of thinking, are would discover on the first hornest and horse of brightness of love, condert, source and thought the first horness was badly supported, simply because healing, of onnobling inspiration, and non-attracting reventuelts. The guides fold the whole truth, concentring nothing. If that he of Truth and Right-these should knidle in its answering fire of anjaration and enthusians, prompt us to mobile purposes, purer lives, and more current efforts for the spread of appritual referen. For it is not enough to have a foundation we must build upon it and each working Spirroun at major operator the building of that tomple of the and beauty whose project and plan have their source in the ingher life," He characterised , mediumskip as "the central fact of Modern Spiritualism Without mediums there could be no phenomena, neither mesrage, nor vision, nor trusce, nor love-light from the University Spiritualum without the spirits would be like Hamlet without the ghest, and Sparitualum without mediums would be ake Hamlet without the Prince, e.c., the instrument to execute the ghast's desires." In regard to Spiritualism, the need of the hour is for men and women who will recognise principles and devote thennelves to them bearing their individual erom the while wen fortheade fearloss of consequences. The world pools worker whole-socied, strong and resulate, not more prearewell visit. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Munro took . occasion to acknowledge the peculiar indebtedness he felt towards the labours of Mr. Morse and the teachings of his guides He conjessed that when he first beard of friend Mome a intention, and understood that he mount it seriously, he felt not a little dismayed, not to my distressed. It seemed to him that in the departure of Mr. Moras for far-off lands, the cause of Spiritualism in this country would be seriously crippled. Ho trouted each weak-kneed faith in the noble gospel they so nobly preached might be fergiven by Mr Moree and those who guide and mapire him. Yet it was hardly possible to overestimate the value of the kind of utterance which they conjointly have given to the unperishable things pertaining to Spiritualism. speaker supported this contention by relating his own experience, somewhat as follows - When, time and time again, "the cause" went under a cloud; when contumely and alander wrought their utmon to disfigure its fair escatcheon with their ugly but apparer, when discord within the movement and hostile claimours without, threatened to overwhelm it adogether, when, in hours of wearness and damppointmen, the influence of specious sophistries is scalled acres the argumen had almost understand the retailed of wife fact which secured and guaranteed the speaker's mea, therefied convictions, I was with the deepest grantede he had to acknow reage the austaining efficacy of that steady white my of appround acreion, a general business meeting of the Society will be teaching which was over associated with the labours of Mr. Morae. I to consider ways and means for future work.—Sr. Muxoo.

Again and again, when Spiritualism as a copunication of truth regain and again, when Spiritualism is a dependation of truth from the high r aferappeared to be atterly discretified by meaker was a size of the inspirate and take a of those shop around the approximation of Mr. Maise a di id. Spiritua content spiritual of the weakers of this phenotes and the major size of the december of the utility to the content of humanity. Not along some lefter attended to the content to humanity. Not alone some lefty afternmen of brave and "Tien," but also some soutentness saying or fash of kindly and revealing latinour from the "Strolling Player" was found at

Society to Psychical Research and II where to suffer jung central analysis of the Lorent Scandards who can be suppressed think of the Lorent Scandards who can be suppressed with the Kort Home so altern, as extracaganly wild over the subject of "Moster through Macter," or so abundanced in regard to "Moster through Macter," or so abundanced in regard to "Moster through and most element the subject of the Gospel of the Spirit and most element minuters of the Gospel of the Spirit True in to depart from their midst, includes in builty health and dejected in april, because of their sublines audifference 1. A recent contrain old of bocause of their sublune audifference ! A recent corresp. to the journal, "Least," referring to our friend now with us, and that 'He the openion of many our a test judges he the the finest trance-speak on the word, are not to be for owing so, it seems to me that the conversion of as many Laboucheres as there were pounds sterling in the dullangued Signer Dantan could hardly atome for it. But enough on that topic, I my pray with all my heart that the end in this instance may just y meens, and that our friend may return to us by and we are even end represented and as at the me include the agency for reader inspirance is an er of I tombe the accuracy for reader inspirance is an even I tombe I to be inspired at the Burries at the best court of his Glasgian friends and full well-principality. m all his doings in foreign hands , for we shall watch has a green and rejutes in the success we fervently hope may of one habours. To have said no loss to his revered when a the aprit, I say on behalf of the Glasgow Association of Sectualists with the most corded ferrous. Farewell and and special." Mr Morae, who on rising to roply was received with a man enthus and spoke the east, conversational style comportments of he pix our speaker good has movedly dis-ferales. M sopehta Speakers, escribing its bearings on a words be phenomenal outly but the majorational which of course was a very in outside has so to be productive of in observation. Due of honorest he must work said abundle futtors and continental follow. The colours exhortation of a ske hase in he is also week and about the first say that to do.

Let there wheneved be to your Do it.

If you've anything to any.

True and record - you are negro flag it.

If you've anything to beek.

As a message force a see Love it.

If you've anything to beek.

As a message force a see Love it.

The address was received with much applicate. After a brief second much and included in the characters and the control of the message of the first opinion of the man the condition of the first opinion of the message of the first opinion opinion of the first opinion for the common cause. The remainder of the process age what he briefly summarised in accordance with limited space. With respect to the Wallis engagement, it need only se said that the favourable remarks on that subject by Mr. Griffin were cordially endersed by the needing, which fact suggests well in the continuance of the labours of Mr. and Mrs. Wallis, in a suggest Brief trained addresses were delivered in the course of the evening by the guiles of Mr. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis, Mr. D. Andersen (e. local medium, of considerable promise). Measured ing by the gaules of Mr Morse, Mr and Mrs. Wallis, Mr. D. Anderson (a local medium of considerable promise). Bluewag short speeches by Rev. Mr. Taylor, Mr. Calder, and the clusirman. The musical portion of the programme was charmingly mustained throughout. A ball followed under the direction of Mr. De Banzis, who kindly provided the music and "the fun was kept a wit vigour till well in a the aeronig. Sunday March 22nd grawdes and carea assembled to listen to the guides of Mr. M. me, who spoke a the foremost on the ambject of "The Spirita and the use to put the man," and in the evening on "The Grapet of Rest" on head recommon, he after more graphs to the oest of these both occasions the attenueers were equal to the cent of these elequent spirit teachers. The oreging's effort was, in the enimion of the writer, to whom Mr Morae is no stranger, simuet the finest piece of sustained reasoning and impossioned oratory combined it has ever been his privilege to laten to. Surely the combined it has ever been his privilege to listen to. Surely the Gangow Association will soon begin it show he good results of the recent high time they may been enjoy of in the form of efforts more rigorous then ever to further the cause of Spiritualizer in this quarter. Next Sunday, after morning service, a general business meeting of the Society will be held to consider water and meanly for future work. See Musco.

156

Mediums, who are the instruments of an external agency. have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who occurs to song I of hand, and is the same manner that no ma of some or who has thoroughly and fairly investigated the phonomena has failed to become convinced of their reality, so no conjurer who has been confronted with the same facts has been able to explain their and strict scrutiny of these wonderful experiences I can arrive occurrence by prestidigitation. Hundin Jacobs, Bel. at no other sonshmen than that there was no trace of trickery lachini, Hermann, Keliar, and others have already confessed their powerlessness to produce under the mine conditions. what accours without human intervention in the presence of taken place. The ordinary mode by which Maskelyne and other

Testimony of Robert Mondia.

The Marquis Lades de Marvi le published during the | for a of los in two letters from the latter, in his No ma uddresso a MM ses membres da l'Acadente des Sciences Morales et Politiques, est un grand nombre de phénomenes morvi leux interessant également la Religion, a Soumer, of his hommes de Monde," in which the conjurer on fewer his inability to explain the phenomena he witnesses in the presence of Aloxis, the clairvoyant. A circumstantial account is given of M. de Marville's visit to Houdin for the purpose of ongaging him in this investigation, of the latter's confidence in his own ability to detect the trick, and of what took place at the scance, the conditions of which were outlined under Houdin's control. This account ex. tends over twelve pages, and its accuracy is confirmed by Hondin is the first of the documents now translated .-

the sough very far from accepting the enlogin which M. | suggested enough the environment of the property of the proper the that I am not at an committed to up at me, other in farour of magnetum or against it, I can, nevertheless, not refrain from declaring that the facts above reported are entirely correct was eta la plus complete secretitude), and that, the more I reflect upon them, the wors impossible I flad it to reak them among those telech

" Rongur Houpes

"4th May, 1847

A fortnight later, M. de Morville received another letter, in which the following, referring to mother scance, deare a deny the age predetorn nation to deny

"I have, therefore, returned from this esames as automished ne it is possible to be, and personded that it is setterly impossible that chance or skill could seer produce effects so wonderful (lost a fuil Impossible que la bounrel pa l'adresse jouisse janeaus produire des effete mum merreiffune) .- 1 mm, Manufeur, &c.

Signed. Repair Horors.

* May 10th, 1847

Testimony of Harry Kellar.

Harry Kelker, a distinguished professor of logerdeman investigated the slate-writing phenomena which occurred a the presence of Mr. Eglinton, at Calcutta, in January, 1882, and on the 25th of that mouth he addressed a letter to the editor of the Indian Daily Nace, in which he said :-

In your issue of the 13th January I stated that I should be glad of an opportunity of participating in a scance with a view of giving an unbiasted opinion as to whether, in my enjucity of a profusional prosteligitator, I could give a natural explanation of effects and to be produced by spiritual and.

I am indebted to the courtesy of Mr Eghaton, the approximate medium now in Cascutta, and of his book, Mr. J. Mengens, for affore og me the opportunity I craved.

"It is needless to say I want as a sceptic, but I must own that I have come away stortly minute to explain any any natural mes is, the phenomeno that I witnesses on Tuesday evening. I will give a mef description of what to k , mee "

After describing several successful experiments, Mr. Kallar proceeds -

" In respect to the above manufestations, I can only say that I do not expect my account of them to gain general troduce. Forty-eight hours before I should not have believed anyone who described such manifestations under similar circonstances. I still remain a scoptic as regards Sportualism, but 1877

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL | I repeat my anability to explain or account for what must have seen an intelligent force that produced the writing on the slate, which, if my aspace are to be relied on, was in no way the result of trickery or abught of hand."

On the 30th of the same month Mr. Kellar addressed another letter to the Indian Darly Bence reporting some expensences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regardnig which he said -

In conclusion, let me state that after a most stringent trial in any form, nor was there in the room any mechanism or mechinery by which could be prealneed the phonomena which had conjurous instale levitation or the fonting test could not possibly be done in the room in which we were sessembled."

The Testimony of Pretment Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Licht, mehr Licht, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which occurred in Paris through the Brothers Davesport, and :-

Spite of the assertions, more or loss trustworthy, of the French of English journalists, and spite of the foolish jealouses I to commit conjurers, I feel it my duty to show up the bad forth of an party and the chamnery of the other. All that has been said or done adverse to these American medicus to absolutely untrustworthy. If we would rightly judge of a thing we must unders and I am norther the journalists nor the conjurges passessed the most slowentary knowledge of the science that governs these phonomens. As a prestidigitator of repute, and a sincere Sparitipanest I off as that the section we demand to be hother tone other cores become all we and belonged to the No about of an er of an age to every respect

Mesors Robon and Robert Housan, when attempting to imitate these said facts, never presented to the public anythm, buyond an infantine and almost grotosque paredy of the stud phonomens, and it would be only ignorant and obstante persons who could regard the questions seriously as not forth by these gentlemen. If (as I have every reason to hope) the psychical studios, to which I am applying asyself at this time, succeed, I shall be able to establish clearly, and that by public demonstration, the immensoline of demarcation which separates mediumes se parenomeros from conjuring proper, and then equivocation will be so larger possible, and persons will have to yield to orl-

F howing the outs of the car ion chemist and majoral of hosopher Mr. W. Craskin, of Landon Lane now it is assior to prove standy and by pure y scientific methods the A strong of its present force on meaning one, and most the only deality of the spirit 'in spiriture inconfession's I medicion you, durr sir, to maget this letter in your next number, if agreeable to you," &c., &c.

Testiatony of Samuel Bellachini.

Samuel Bellachini, Court Conjurer at Berlin, made the following declaration in December, 1877 . .

"I hereby declare it to be a mak action to give decisive judgment upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Slade, after only one sitting and the observations to made. After I had, at the wish of several lookly sufcomed gentlemen of rank and position, and also for my own interest, tasted the physical mediumship of Mr. Slade, In a series of settings by full daylight, as well as in the arening in his bodroom, I must, for the make of troth, hereby curtify that the phenomenal occurrences with Mr. Stade have been theroughly examined by me with the minutest observation, and investigation of his surroundings, including the table, and that I have not in the smallest degree found anything to be produced by means of prestadigulative manifestations, or by mechanical apparatus, and that any explanation of the experiments which took place under the caresmateness and conditions then obtaining by any reference to prostaligitation is also istoly impossible. It must rest with such men of science as Crooken and Wallaco, in London , Perty, in Burne , Butlerof, la St. Petersburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published opinions of laymen as to the ' How ' of this subject to be presentare, and, according to my view and experience, false and one-sided. This, my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and witnomes. -(Signed) SAMUEL BELLACHING, Berlin, Doormber 6th,

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

"LOURT MORE LINES - Gambe. "WHATEVER LOOK MAKE MANUFEST IN LIGHT. - Paul

No. 222.-Vol. V

SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1865.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

The Triespalling Thinary
Liables Accessfully band Research to Affrica
The Research to Affrica
The Research to all
The Research to all
Teplinements to all Teplinements to all Pings Abstra Trada Presiden understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the en with and agreed that "Their opinion was that opinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents, though the ring in its present shape could certainly not be Free and courteous discussion is incited, but versions are drawn off without considerable violence, if at all, yet if it nione responsible for the articles to school their names are were launusred or forced into a more convenient form, the attacked \

THE TELEPATHIC THEORY By EDNUND GURNEY

us to all effects produced by one mind on another observoise and I have just demonstrated it to be so. another, for telemeans desired. But it seems worth while stretched in an ovid-chaped wooden block, 180 by 2.75 eight appears, for distance is relative; and the two parties hand in a bond felt thought-transference experiment have this It is, therefore, shown that Mr Gurney and Professor in common with two persons who are infler apart, that they Barrett have not passed a correct judgment on this are precluded from communicating with one another by matter, and I now call on the Society for Psychical physical signs.

scarce. Personally, I am no special friend to that hypothesis, anxious for the establishment of truth. and am not concerned to defend it, but it certainly will not be refuted by the observation that the integuments of the brum are impervious to light and sound. Forms of matter which are opaque to the action of one physical force may he perfectly transparent to another. A sheet of plate glass excludes sound, but not light, a windowless chamber of thin wooden boards would exclude light, but not sound . and other substances which would oppose the transmission of both light and sound may be no obstacles at all to cancer rendered patients intensible to the surgeon a kinds and magnetic or electric action. It is in the latter form of force to the sufferings of particition, and had raised patients from its nearest analogy

March 28th.

Ma. W Eccustor -Just as we go to press we learn that change of air and scene.

Mixp-READLYO .- M. Prosper Van Velsen, aged twentytwo, student of medicine at Mažines, on holding the wrist, as in

"MATTER THROUGH MATTER."

"MATTER THROUGH MATTER,"

AND THE SOCIETY FOR PSYCHICAL RESEARCH

Bit of the content lentations and the Provinces into investigate and report on my ring as now on Hunk's A committee of the above Society leaving been appointed to investigate and report on my ring as now on Hunk's wrist, and supposed to have been placed there by occult The Editor of Lieux" descent to be distinctly feator Barrett, noting as mid committee, examined my ring means (see "Liont," 7th Pebruary), Mr Ourney and Proinsertion or withdrawal of the hand might be possible."

> This ring has been seen on Huck's wrist by several hundred people, and with the all but universal belief that to suppose such a ring could be removed intact from Mr. Husk's wrist, without more or less destruction of his hand, would be a manifest aboundity

Dr. Wyld asks for a precess definition of our torm | I have examined the ring and Mr Huth's houd very " telepathic," and good on to say what he understands it to ! many times, and have always said, it was manifestly signify. Our own definition, which we have given up a ridiculous to suppose it could, without destructive violence. good many occasions, is, I venture to think, precise, and be removed, and I now say that the verdiet published by differs completely from Dr. Wyld's. The term is appured by Professor Barrett and Mr. Gurney is a self-ovident absurdaty, then through the recognised channels of sense. It no more I took the trouble this afternoon to go all the way to implies any sort of physical affection than does the word Peckham Rye to see Hunk, and I took with me a ring I "sympathy." In the first half of the word there at no had made of strong twine, contiderably larger than the iron doubt, a certain philological inaccuracy, in respect of the ring in question; the iron ring having an internal dismeter cases where the two persons concerned are near to one of 180m, by 2.635, the twine ring measuring as to water this objection, for the sake of obtaining a com. This twing ring, although it of course fits into every minute mon term for all cases which have the fundamenta, surface of Hunk's hand, cannot possibly be forced over his characteristic that I have mentioned. (See Proceedings hand, and therefore, of course, my fron ring, however VI., p. 118.) The maccuracy is, after all, less than at first haramered or shaped, could not possibly be forced over his Research to appoint a fuller committee, and to make some Dr. Wyld proceeds to criticise the hypothesis of brane- attempt to deal with this problem like men of sound sense,

> GEORGE WYLE, M.D. 29th March.

Settercutter Lycrum are now established in all the Australianian Colonies, and they have an organ called the Lycens. Leader, which is so much sought for by the public that it has reached a third edition .- Harbinger of Light.

Coxes by Human Mannerman.-Dr. Ashburner, physician to a London hospital, wrote thirty years ago, that in his own experience magnetism has exted agenting suffering cured that nervous induction, if it exists, would probably find typhus favor, that his own life had been saved by it after medical friends had, in consultation, pronounced him beyond REMURERATING MEDIUMS.—A correspondent in La Lumière writes - "The reasons given against remunerating mediums are Mr. Eglinton has returned to England. He has met with com. noble and clorated, and would command my agreement in plete success during his tour and has much benefited by the practice, if the phenomena I desire, as an investigator, to witness, were adequately accessible through mediums in private life. Until they are, I shoul, for my part, he always roudy with my contributions to those mediums who give up their time and two, student of medicine at Maines, on holding the wrist, as in strength to anable me and other inquirers to witness and study feeling the pulse, of a person, can tall his thoughts or where he injectical phenomena, to say nothing of the educa they mean may have helden anything.—Le Messeger.

EXALTED SENSIBILITY

158

"In company with Dr. Newton, of Honey Creek, German explorer in Africa -Oglo Co., Ill., I visited Mr. and Mrs. Collins, about two ago their son, James, then ten years old, had typhoid fever, and he lay unconscious for twenty-one days. On his conversation. They had with there a great bundle, which we were house who said they were in scarck of thieves who had, his dream he heard one of them my they had better hide he a deserted cabin at the foot of Peaked Mountain. They were apprehended there with the goods.

over since his illness he was surrounded by an atmosphere heavily. Presently he got up, and Levashs told the man to extending to an uncertain distance, within which every gently draw him to the tent from whence the garments were thing and person is as clear to him as if close at hand.

Dr. Newton, and the parents were willing.

"So, while I sat by the boy the Doctor went out, to the letter. Dr. Newton then went into another room The boy reported his comparing his watch with the tempiece there, that he took up a statuette, examined it, and replaced it, all which the Doctor, on coming in, stated was quite correct boy's side, with the clock in front of them, and penetl and saving him, when he found it, similar siage. He further said paper. I got into the laggy, drove a distance of 500 yards, turned about, backed the home, drove on again, and returned, my own account I purposely omitted the details of one part of my experiment, but the boy had them written down. He onte satusfied with my test."

The correspondent says "The operations of psychelogical laws have been observed in overy age, out only by tho light of falso theology and reperstition. I am therefore them."

SPAIN,-La Universidad (Madrid) is an organ of freethought -which in Spain really moone Anti-cloriculum-recognises Spectualism as the besis for fresh reforms, holding that, however good Materialism may be in overteening, it cannot build up. Everywhere in Spain Sprittet circles, journals, and schools are being organised. The same may be mid of all Spanishspeaking countries In Carthagens the Spirmsta have non, seen aufforers from the late earthquake. - Le Spor issue.

" MIND READING " IN AFRICA.

A correspondent of the Sunday Mercury, New York, | Under this title we have been favoured, by Dr Blocde, with a translation of the following from Anton Stocker, the

"On the countion of the war between Shoa and Tochkam, I rades from Dr Newton's residence. Dr Newton and that returned from the Galla country to the Emperor Johannes they had resided there for about ten years, that five years camp, and there met again my old acquaintance, Mediciok, the Shoa King, whom the Emperor had automored to arrange peace with Todaham

At one of my visits to Medelek I hourd exercising things recovery it was found that he had hyperesthesin or exalts- about one of his officers, Lorsales, the third-finder, which to me tion of the source. Among the instances Mr. Collins gave were succeptubenable. A few days afterwards, one of my of his son's excessive sonsibility was this A month ago servants complained of some of his paramete having been he had what are more dream, in which he porceived two stolen. I went to Medelak, and requested that his thirdmen go by the house, may them distinctly and heard their finder might exercise his office in the matter. He willingly

Levisha came my teat, bringing with him a young they were going to hide. He thought the dream strange, alla boy. After coroniomes compliments he questioned the and told it at breakfast. At more some men came to the robbed servant. Then he called for a small remaind of palk and a sargilleh-a water-sanding pipe. He seated himself with meen a during the night, broken into a store of the village and except in front of my tent, all my servants being ranged before carried off goods and money. The boy said he had dreamt him, placing the boy between him and the emophitisms. He of two mon going by with a countle as it stolen, and his that took from his peach two little powders, mitted them in the description of them pointed to two men who had been seen with bade the large drink mans, and poured the rest into the about the place in the evening. He then remembered that water-receptable of the nargitish, he then hade the boy make at this , he took a few whife, while, at Lorseha's orders, the subbed servant held the boy's head between his hands. Levashe got the robbed man to take off his girdle, and held one and of it while he bound the other and to the trembling buy's " The boy's own account of his singular faculty is that hand, the boy mak to the ground with closed eyes, brunthing stolas. There, the boy wont directly to the spet where the "My desire was to test it for myself, with my friend man slept, acted as if taking up something, stackfully came out, went to a hollow about a hundred paces off, and seemed to hide connecting then returned to us, and laid down; presently be true and west through the metions of bread-tesking; from leaving the boy with me, and moment by menuent he which formula inferred that the third was one of the female contribut what Dr. Newton did. He said that he saw han servants, so it is they who make bread. Then he went back to get into his buggy, and drive off to a certain apot, water his the bellow and acted so if taking semething up, and from thence horse, take a case from his pocket and place it under the to one of the buts in front of my test. Retarning to us he outhion, gut into the buggy again and drive back. Here darted at one of the female servants, and gave her some claim Or. Newton stepped in and confirmed the boy's perceptions on the nock , then he fell as if in a second. The startled weman's confemious confirmed the boy's vision as denoted by his acting. He slept for a couple of hours, and on waking said he remembered nothing from the time of drinking Levishan

Medsick was delighted with the result. He told me that, to prove the faculty, he once hid a valuable, and that Lersaha and "I then took a turn, Dr. Newton taking his sent by the the boy discovered the place where he had concealed it, the boy ant they once tracked a man for three days who had stolen a mule, and found him with the animal

"Bo it sooms," concludes Anton Stocker that even on the having been gone seventeen minutes. A time record had "dark continent" the 'mind-reading enigne, is not waknown."

Our friend Christian Reimers continues his activity in anid, But you got down where the cart road enters the wood, Spiritualism. In Adobude he presides over and reports seasons. tied the limiter to the old stump, walked up to the rock, and Hie has also written a pumphlet for circulation among Cormans, then back to the buggy. This was strictly correct. I was demonstrating removed the Archdake John of Austria of false logic in his published comments upon his single stance with the medium Harry Bactian, to be present at which he shows him to have been unfitted or unprepared. - Harberger of Americance whom Botan Food,-The Rerne Spirite quotes pleased at the prospect of a scientific committee investigating from the Bies Public (Mostagna), March 8th :- Last year we recorded the fact of a teacher at St. Jean la Foret having lain five months without solid food, and then, after resuming her previous diet for a fortnight, returned to her duties. We have pow to report that, after continuing in fair health for another fortnight, she again fell into a similar condition, the oreiting cause having been some disturbence of her narrous system. She lies passive, breathing almost insperceptibly, with a planmat expression of the countenance and occasional transform movement of the cyclids. Nothing can be taken by her beyond making efforts to mentente our philosophy among the unhappy and sips of broth, milk, or wine and water, and these with impacts of the prisons. From these prison-disciples the Parc difficulty. The course of the present attack is being watched Esperation acknowledges the receipt of a small sum in and of the and compared with the previous. We shall report the result,

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK.

April 4, 1885.7

we forward as for use in this column any allusions to Specialization four of death—they cargody sook it as the prespect to eternal red up. We see a great pasts of these carsolves has a convenient of their red up. We see a great pasts of these carsolves has a convenient of the up. There a for some faith and a square red up. There are some faith and a square red up. There are no seen faith and a square red up. that there must be many refer the to the success which do not. Chosa and Japan in fact no or the 'e of some low are more meet our eyes. Etc. of Li HT

the strongest openess of Spaintaneous, a company to the Lor had process of the reality of contactous existence, or more as parial Court Circle, have freely admitted the reality of the manifestation belief from those who, in some former ago, had such ra sala. I assectely congraturate Mr. Egitimore or has need to our property of record de north Chi as or again as tramphant success, which places him very distinctly at the head probably manageptible of proof. The Chinese of the present day, of European accounts at the hear of the statement a selected however, are and t have independed, ayunography, but he by the spart work to assure the materialism of seage that whote manager or on a manager of us to best. Chan, Thebut there is such a thing as Spiritualism -- that it is a living, domost. Japan, India, deserves therough investigation strated fact.

arrangements to publish as negraday which we december spirit of necessinguises has been of great acreers the rath algive a for any available not forgetting his experiment with No doubt it has prived themselve t and and headreds the late Processor Zolmer of Le prog. An unit is wouldn't be an in I said on among resonated by an me maps wer, the completion and pitulantion of time unique begraphy as a said open-mindedness in his fair way to become a fashionable subscription list for 500 copies, to guarantee the printer's accomplishment. One result is an index to many. The Weekly bin Surely that should be forthcoming 4 4

Paith in a miritaal existence after the decay of the material Pressier and the Spiritualism." body has been instinctive in the highest order of minds from the remotest errolls. It are not produce that this natural belief as been confirmed from tune to time w Rulers an one case going the oran active seem to have somable manuscrations of spirale single single some letters which can be a supplied to the case of any that the inherence of the injury spheres of the nest noise and appearance on De lin, it is time the receibble to be groved by those of no ones. Mere early non-dense of the gallet Chiral Alla being neighboring disposits one with the in and even to mone extent the endute empty it was as on or soon in new or a joined. I was quiet N smuden change of thought and feeting is provable. Our exception costain nights to week a ion he discrimere all as from the come to me age therefore exist to more than the pure immercial extraps heard with the more apparature agent from an agent from the pure from the pu

Even the wars and runnours of wars which cat ag the nones of a gentleman, who longhed at he nove of gloods, took it in he tamphtful arch, and it car darkened at weta with a particle and the above some for a biglion of upon at because in account of vegalated non-source receiving from the alamphter upon the able to be a first a quart. The trough cast he taken by sanish of men to other works realities. Every smallen death some many who could ext frought has the presence would fixes the eyes of a group of reins, a seed friend a upon that come more not no micros, amount. But her were mismaked trada turns of the rife of come, and strices a nearest with some gay come on, and help high reven on the riscentioned organic lettings to our old theologies predestined from all eternity, to be speared by a dusky Arab in an African distort, at his country's call but so we get better nequalated with the realities of apart 1 to we see up a management and a more quite and a see query has a seen material see dictant to believe that find has fore-ordained the forments of a speaks at are a west make and unamake, what econod textile hotter Somesman the new this lesting of any of this children is men to night an it in higher humacives from appracent to all eternity 4 4

When the reality of contamod existence is domenatrated in the felt their muscles, and experienced the force, they exercise. persons of those we have known and loved, we recognize the pecessity that the conditions of the spirit-world boust conform to the characters and requirements of its mhabitants. There must be fisting place and conditions for every kind, grade, and Mr. Eghaton e friend -has good jaws and teeth, for I have seen development. Show me an animal and I know its conditions, and heard han bits off a state pencil, a fast which the shadowy It is exited to its world. The spirit-world must correspond in conventional ghost suight find difficult. every way to the character of its mhabitants. Swedenberg was estlur a remarkable medium or a great philosopher. Possibly, condition of every one will be just what his nature and actions message could be witnessed by all present. He says. Thave -his character and culture make it. So far as we know this offer seen he mer am take he more and man by a light only is our primary school, and we shall find our proper places or mining of sy the tips of his higgers while some one one held the the higher grades upon which we must soon enter. Whether other side and long messages would come there is full view We are destined to a repetition of earthly experiences need not | Progress here, as elsewhere, which makes the also of a long stay concurs un. If re-incarnation be a fact, it has its object. The in this world the more interesting! Australian savage expects to "jump up white men." "Up-ward," "Onward," "Excelsior," are the metters of humanity.

The Pull Mall Gazette, of late the most spirited of newspapers, is also the most spiritual. It finds the cause of the [We shall extens it a favour on the part of our renders if they Male! in their earnest belief in innortality. They have no dauntless courage, the utter devotion of the followers of the selled a future existence are natar belong and joint viva pares

Mr. Eglinton writes from Vienna in high spirits. Some of . Whether the so-called regain who believe in immortality have testations, and he is hoping for equal success in other European i proofs, may be uncertain, but the assertion that any poorle came to

On his rotom to England Mr. Eglinton hopes to make Sidrika tom and also of one our ledness and a children die Fig. 6, and to be the special organ of this Engineers, Cardinal Manning, gives more than a solumn to "The

.

Tradi ghosts are one to be no pertoneous as the Rome will be a paragraph of a process of the process of a supersymmetry pany of the period of the North was ever and thought The Chattering of Spirit value is not a second to provide a matches constant. The nation has be evant and tell, as a set resource the many was pulse now and the In the wave We may be here in some anhappy sengegrace using given depart a cut of the Psychola R sound See ety

9 9 But in what respect does an old fashionest ghost differ from not omigness and daniely chate again. These glosts are no solid and strong as may living must be weenen, and possess the It is quite true that Spiritualism is modifying theology. I more organic, and perform many of the same functions. I have Whon a materialised apprit walks and talks he must have been, muscles, lungs, tengen, and all thousand organs of speech. For example, the materialised spirit who calls hanself "Joey"-6

A gentleman of St. Louis, U.S.A., gives, in the Beligio-Philosophical Journal, an account of slate-writing in the light in which persons not only hear the writing but see the words as he any case, there is no reason to doubt that the fature they are written -so that the progressive production of a long Materialism is said to meresso the proportion of smeades, rare-parhage because some spirits have given a bull account of present outside those who have voluntarily gone to the other world before they were wanted. As a rule it seems to be best that people should live in this world as long as they can, and special horsonics are of the Archbishop of Canterbury, for example, or Mr. Ghelgiven to extreme collage. Juries, however, in almost every case stems investigating Speritualism. They are quite emissic the sh wa tender sympathy for smeldes. Fels de se is a very rare province of a comis paper. An houset man cooking proofs of Mrs. Hooker, the very claver notes of flex. II. Ward Beecher, cand atherstic noighbours. finds so meny interested in her ideas of philanthropy and facts of Spiritualism, that her rooms, during her residence in Boston. have been erowded they after day, by persons who wished to being flight, " have seammed such dimensions that she has thoughts of taking rooms where also may hold frequent conver-And a good thing to do by other gifted ladges, who might easily in emberty make their weekly At Homes useful as well as agreeable.

160

Mohamat Tawilk, the Mahomadan Khodive of Egypt, by the gince of Mr. Gladatono, has written a very nios latter to the states of General Gordon, in which he ages : " The whole world resounds with the mane of the Englishman whose in all has nature offerled it for many years its brightest and most powerful the natural or magnetic method. - Le Speritume can opto-an example which, I believe, will fatheries thousands Conton's character the disappointment of hopes he decined so the man tance. In his new words, he full 'separinous for perfect perce. Our mounting for him is very true and real, an woner hous, but we have a sure hope that it life and firth such or Appropria are not artinguishable by what we will double . Now, I do not see that a good Christian, or even a Spiritualist, could have done better, but General Gordon sald that he was himself n sweet Makemedan.

The Northern Daily Repress, Newspatte, gives a friendly and appreciative notice of the "Psychical Marvels" communicated to "Liner" by Mr. Barless, in which it says : "The first and second papers lave appeared, and if the remainder are no loss wonderful than those already published, they are likely to excite great interest in the minds of physicists and prychologoda

It is on the early that before many years are over every pagaday mewayaper will have its department of psychology, filled with interesting facts and carlous speculations.

For a good beginning, Word and Work, a popular religious periodical of March 13th, spens with an article on "The Occult Work which is followed by one on " A Noval Spirituaisms. while the third article is on "Blodern Miracles certainly the ion is broken. It does not matter that the writers tall us it is all of the dovid who is at his old work of decerring seas, by offering man hidden knowledge and eaying, " Ye shall be an grade.

Then we have the process of the manufacture of a new Buddha by the old one taking possession of an infant four mouths uld, so effectively described by an uncertain " Mr. K." in "Isis Unveiled." The modern "miracies" are the Farth Cures of Major Pierson of the Salvation Army-which, whatever they may be, should certainly be carefully examined, matered of bong ignorantly denumend-because if people can be deceaved as to marades of healing, how are wo to be sure that the bland were naide to see, the deaf to hear, the dumb to speak, devile cast out, and the dead reasod to life at any trace anywhere ?

Assuredly the last person to denounce muscles should be tall us that they are unpossible to-day or to-morrow-and the Unseen" in Blackwood's Magazine "-which is reviewed | some hughter

Among Speritualists in Europe and America suicide is extremely with a supermeteral extract, in the Library World ! Such is the

There are imbjects not open to competrestment-the prayers immortality is high above all the din of Fleet street. In may cess Panck is not up to it, and had better leave it to his agnostic

Mr. Bradlaugh, leader of the materialistic and, of course, athorstic wing of the Secular party, has been compelled to passe enjoy her rare conversational gifts. "These gatherings" says the a new pronunciamento against Spiritealism. Posling and thought being results of corebral development, some course with the paralysts or distategration of the brain, all the phonomens sations, similar to those once sentained by Margaret Fuller" in the world to the contrary netwithstanding. Talk about Papel

> Manxerte Heatren, Harr V Zimmermann, councillor of Chemnits, Germany, has bequesthed to the municipality half a n or I make a monastron that it authorizes the foundation if a preference of with a siens school actioner of the the cry and practice of magnetic therapouties, or treatment a microsc by MADANE BURLLY. - In a private family at Brussels, at a scance, of persons for good through all time. To a man of General the usual phenomena were witnessed with this medium. She called upon them next day, and while seated with them in their year I notion, and the sudgest resumer of his death, were of garden, described five spirits, with their sadiridual traits, all of whom were recognised. At the next stance, among other phenomens, a hand was laid upon that of one of the sitters next the medium , he acoptically saked himself-could the hand be one of here? As if his thought had been spoken the hand rused his and laid it upon those of the medium joined together in her lap. - La Lumiere.

Groupe CHARREY.-A correspondent in the Muchager of Light, Robert White, mys :- "After lecturing eight years on secular platforms, with no belief in anything beyond this world, George Cluttery became convinced, through Spiritualism, that this life is continued into a spiritual state in which there is continual programmen. Such conviction is incompatible with Atheists. It will become to hun a rational religion. I sayself once stood apon the same platform. I was a Materialist. When through spirsteal phenomens, I learns that there is no duath, my Atheism went. The more I know of the phenomena of Spiritualism, and learn of its teachings, the more religious 1 feel myself to be, the more I adore God in Whom we all "live and more and have our being." The science of Spiritualism entisties the intellect, and its religion the beart."

THE MANNETSKE, M. DONATO.-In 1876 there was on the staff of the Brusels Chronoper, an honest, ecoptical gentleman us and D'Honds, who used to attend the meetings of the Univer-Spirite and argue against the possibility of psychic action. He was induced by a friend to investigate the facts of moving fables, and then of entual megnotiers. He found that tables moved by some force, not muscular, proceeding from hymnelf, and that he could induce, apparently by the same force, the magnetic come. Such, but yours ago, was the consumencement of the career of M. Donato, by which name M. d'Hondt chose to introduce himself to audiences as a toagnetiser. He is portly, has a sympathetic tenor voice, and bright sparkling eyes. He is now giving his astomahing demonstrations in magnetism to compact growds in the Théatre du Gyamese, Liége.-Le

NEW ZEALAND. - A correspondent of the Harboger of Light writes "In Graytown there are now mediums for various phenomena. When the manifestations book place in Mr. Nation's family, a year and a half ago, he published the fact at his own newspaper. They first ourse through the mediumehip of one of his daughters, thirtom years old. While a visitor one who is trying to induce men to believe in a book full of would watch the writing through her hand, it was comotimes them. We expect materialists to deny spiritual qualifestations written, 'Let the visitor try'; and in many cases he was an impossible while refusing to ascertain whether they may not convinced through his own hand so the mercusant spend. be true but the man who sake us to believe a host of miracles. But the opposed equally by dengy and secularists. In a secture which were wrought two or three thousand years ago must not recently by one of three he ventured the explanation that a sale or not three he refer not do not not an action of the sale of the connection of the sale of the s experie cause himself, but the result to aim had been bee. A And the day has dawned when Mrs. Ohphant, a first-class Spiritualist in the accience asked f he was sure the table was novalist, begins a supernatural story, entitled "The Seen fully charged with his own magnetime?" At which there was

CORRESPONDENCE.

[It is preferable that correspondents should append their nunce and addresses to communications. In any case, however these must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good

The Recurrection Body. To the Editor of " Links "

Six Some months ago I read with deep interest Mr. Haughton while letter recorded in "Liourr" on the first qualification of Apparitions," which also appeared in your journal, and it has aince given me supch foud for thought, the result of which at this season you may be mape not sounder out diposes allow measure for may be made

That I had under the question must be a groupenform one of Wax sering of our Lor a new It was not found in the sepalchro mor afterwards discovered elsewhere . and if I reptage to suggest a possible solution of this difficulty, I trust I shall not be charged with presumpto a

We know that the hunsan body out be resolved into its primutes and invarible elements, for I think I am righdating that the great chemist Larbig absolutely access that fast in the presence of a number of his pupils, whom he had purposely exsembled to without it, and so thoroughly was it accomplished that of the human body laid out before them to particle finally remained rimble, the whole being volatilised into its original elements and gases, and, mingling with the atmosphere, became, like it, invisible

Now, suck a fact having been demonstrated to be possible by An ear 15's chemist, does it require an impossible stretch of the imagination-to Spiritualists at all events-to suppose that as neuch at least could be done by a spirit operator, to whom the analysis of the human body would be as an open book before him , or that these speritual beings who, under the Divino com tound, watched over and granded our Lord attenb, would have any difficulty in separating and disintegrating the elementary of posing the body, which thus liberated would, se a natural consequence, return to their primitive invisible state ?

That the form our Lord subsequently appeared in was not that laid in the tomb, we have clear evidence of , as these who had best known Him before His crucifixion did not roong site Hun-not became that body was no spiritualised as to be beyond recognition, or He would not have been thought to have been a person feer spiritual than Humself when living via, the gardener | but other that He purposely assumed another form, or that the atmosphere did not, at the moment, yield the exact elements needful to the perfect restoration of Hu previous bodily appearance, and which, from the New Testament records, we may assume it subsequently did.

That this resorrection body was only a transient one there also seems sample deductory orbitation (as Mr. Haughton has se ably shows), specially from our Lord's auddenly appearing and duappearing in the midst of like followers when the decre were

As Spiritualists, we have no difficulties on this head (quite independently of our Lord's exceptional powers), having personal from keeping the paper on sale, a course we could not expectknowledge of the contamual recurrence of this phenomenon at the prosent day,

Then, as we four that aparitual beings of this day of an ordmany type, one and de clothe thousaften with a body so material for the tune being to the sight, and to the touch, and to every setue. se complete us new our own bodies, and one and do afterwards desolve that body into nothingness before our very eyes, surely we may well believe that He-God a well-believed Son-could do so watern, its potency is increased and circeted by the will of

And havin we have such an unuscus advantage over those Who, not having investigated, cannot realize the marvellous powers possessed by the spirit world, and which they are allowed in that var day to demonstrate to their follow beings in the flesh, for the purpose of carrying out the great and gracious designs of the Almighty-once more through His wall beloved. Son their London-for the regularation of our race , a work begun by Hun but merely two thousand years ago, as in generally received, but from all time as time commences for us.

I feel painfully my insbility to adequately express my thoughts on this numeratous subject, but laving given a dim outline of them, perhaps a more able penman amongst your residers may take up the subject, and elucidate it more fully -I beg to remain, dr, faithfully yours,

March 19th, 1885.

Testimony to Mr. Egitalou's Fower.

To the States of "Lague."

Six. - I think I ought to let your readers judge for me as to whether I am right or not in accopting without question "alatowriting" as done in Mr Eghaton's presence. I have been at eight sinners with Mr Eginton-one in public, the others in private with one other person and myself. At two out of the toron private ones absolutely assisting occurred. At one other only the word "No" was written to my verbal question as to whether "they" would write. The "No" was very fashly written, but I felt and heard the poncil moving about inside the slates on the table motor my hands. At the four remaining scances I had ample writing. At three of the acances I had replica given to questions which no human eye had seen. I had writing in the hand of a deceased relative. I had slate after slate written on, held in the ser between Mr. Eghuten and myself, and while I was realthing the slates, I had a stateful written in this way in a few seconds. I had writing and replies to private questions on the locked slate, with my hand on the top of it while the writing was going on mode. I had writing on ow slatos, sever chancel. At one source I had thirteen or four cen if ent giat a wat different writings. One piece of form some was quit true I was told, "There is somewhe here who know you in -..... a place I have never visited. Ad the private scances took place in the day and in full light. I was full possession of my senses. I have seven or eight slates by me to prove that the phenomena really recurred. I can effer no explanation, but only state forts. Am I, after evidence like this, to say I do not believe? I cannot. I have given slate writing a fair and ample trial, and it to a wonder of wonders, and worthy of the deepest and treest investigation, -- | am, ar

AN ASSOCIATE OF THE SOCIETY

FOR PAYORICAL RESEARCH.

Abourd Trade Projection

To the Editor of " LIGHT

Sen,-le is difficult to realise the reality of the following about trade projudice. I order of Mours, W. H. Smith and Son yearly apwards of £200 worth of papers and periodicals, for which I pay full rotail price. A few days ago I requested one copy of " Liour" to be added to the weekly parcel, and received in roply "We do not supply the paper." As the journals I now obtain range from Agreeticism to Roman Cathonesias I should like to know from you why Mesers, Smith and Son do not supply your paper. Is it because you will not supply them? Is the paper too sonsible and orthodox, or what is the reason?-- I

Amerch 20th, 1885. T P BARKAR

This is not the first time a complaint of the kind his reached us. It is, however, impounded to get redress or explanation of my kind from Mesire. Smith and Son. Mr. White, the manager, at a personal interview absolutely refused to supply "Louis" to the order of their quaterpore-a different thing or to give any reason for his action .- Eb. or " Light."

A paror for the sale of spiritualist books has been opened by Kastasun Brothers, in Pophsia's Broadway, Madras

Ma NETE HEAL NO. The brain of magnetic or meamone bearing to an supponderable auta given off by the nervous the operator nomet mea with the co-perator of a spirit. This one or erable, called human or vital magnetism, is received and againflated by the nervous system of patients, as is proved by their reaction to it, into some and health.

PAYCHONDERY AND OCCULE SCIENCE. Dr. J. Commodoro Street, of Boston, who has just arrived in London, writes from 16. York-street, Portman-square, W, to my that, having reextred matructions from Dr. J. Rhodes Buchanan, he is propared to give lessons in psychonistry, as bught by Dr. Buchanas he said. He has also been a student, under the Japanese Occultud, You Lang Poonetingon, of the power of mind over matter, and is really to impart his knowledge to earpost in quarers. He would also like, if suitable members our befound, to form a "Delphia Circle" after the manner of the Greek Oracle. Communications may be sent to him at the above

ne to be addressed to
THE EDITOR OF LIGHT."
4, AVE MARIA LAME.
LOWDON, E.G. All Communications to be addressed to

A AVERTISE DESIT CHARGES.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

P. Liberty may also be decorated from E. W. Alexist, 4, Ann. Machellane, London, and all Books flora.

NOTICE TO ALBECT BERRY.

Subscriptions for this are new that Aubicrhiers will oblice by formaciling these at one etc. "The Aubicrial of ACAT."

Dight:

SATURDAY, APRIL COR 1885.

TRACES OF SPIRITUALISM IN RECENT WORKS.

By "M. A. (Oxos ")

1 GEORGE ELECT'S LETTERS.

George Elect, as appears from the letters recently published by her hudgard, had no litting for what the world knows na Spiritualism. Men. Bescher Store, a Spiritualist, as her humband also was brought the subject under her notice with some ways of test, mad the result was not ; patenfactory. George Eliot's was not the type of mind to be impressed with the external aspects of Spiritualises, though It must be said that also be too severely critical of them They were indeed repulsive to see, as her enswers to Mrs. Stowe's letters prove. These letters are, parliags, worth preserving, and I append them.

Letter to Mrs. Blows. L.

Both Mr. Laws and I are doubly interested in the sufficitions which is Proposed great a result specific to a first neeand we should feel as great printed to the moch are of the from his ton. It is a case him to have surlean upon tenof atodying exceptional experience in the testimony of a truthful and in every way distinguished mind. He will, I am rare, accept the brief thanks which I can give in this letter for all that he has generously written to me. He ears "I have has to competings with any of the modern nortonouts, except so father confessor", and I can well believe that he must be pocularly sympleted to the regulary aspects which those movements present. Your view as to the cause of that " great wave of Spiritumpun " which is runlong over Amorten-pancely, that it is a tort of Rachel-cry of borosvenient towards the invisible existence of the loved once-- is deeply affecting. But, so far as Spectralism. To which I done if course upon con micafrom by rapping, give a nee of the period &c. year come withour reach of or pulyment or our side I the water to has appeared to me other or egrading folly income in the estimate of evidence, ir eise as apudent importure. So for its my observation and experience have believed gone, it has even seemed to me an ampacty to withdraw from the more connect methods of studying the open secret of the universe any large mount of attention to alloged manifestations which are a defined by low adventurum and their palpable trickeries, as hopeically involved in all the doubtfulness of individual testimonius are before the formation witnessed, which testimonius are before the operate where take that decrease of the specific of the operate of the specific of than the Ptolemaio system is true because it seemed to Tycho Brahe a botter explanation of the housefully morements than the Copertness. This is a brief statement of my position on the are ject which your letter shows me to have an aspect much more compulsory on serious attention in America than I can S. DSCRIPTON L.CT. 4 more compalsory on actions attention in America than I can within the Leited Kingdom, or to place enterprised within the Petial Union, including all parts of Europe, the Union, and British as my deep respect for you demands if I did not tell North America, is 10s. 10d. per annum, forwarded to our office in t which as my deep respect for you demands if I did not tell you exactly what is any mouth? attitude it recution . the Five lines and under 3. One in it to Commun, 25 ha Page 22, and will send in I share we in a community of the following state of the same and the sa Prive lines and under 3. One is in 1- to Commun, 18 22. Page 22.

A reduction made for a sortice of insurance.
Orders for Papers and Attentionments may be addressed to the Commun. Attention of Theory, 4. Aver Marindane, E.C.
Choques and Prove Office Hodges may be made payable to Hexart Banney, at the Commun. Relicency Postage Stamps to the Community made 10.

Latter to Mrs. Eleve. 2.

When I am more at liberty, I will containly read Mr. [Dale]

Owon's books, if he is good enough to send them to use. I desire on all subjects to keep an open talkel, but hitherto the various phenome is reported or attented in connection with ideas of of the erastics have come before are note in the painful form of the best to pt . Take Mr. H. as an example of where a mean I could not choose to enter a room where he hard 4, Are Knew lines L. T. Fact Office Greier may be utuate a strace. He is an object of stoud diagont home and building payable to Mency Barnes. $11 for including an indicate of interespondence of interesp curries conviction to my mind that Mr II is not one sy an impostor, whose innfessedly abnormal manufestations have arrest their fashing in order to create a new market just as if they wer papers sidelif warm or passades for the idlo rich. But apart con mesonal contact with people who get money by protect tradelings as need along of with nonce-pliets, such as those was nake a car for a Mr. I pp or after home or personage of that kind, I would not willingly place any barriers between my mind and any possible describe of tests officers the business

> The space or which you have written in the paper you kindly sent no is heav to tank others, to rouse thom at least to att marin a case where you have now do pay in pressed ?

Letter to Mrs. Stows. 3.

I was much ingreened with the fact—which you had told me that he was the original of the a course, my or the serr Folk," and it next be deeply interesting to alk with him his experience

Perhaps I am neture under no others of the facts depression of any posterior of the base to be authorise of into yours, to give larger one I the out rectained if y new oning as artheriver than the livelessor with approximate tenesure. efficiely to Built at least to Smit with any prochoon the months of a fine ling sense by impromions, derived from west windstone, with to me which are directly dependent in external attenuitus. In fact, the devision between wither and without a time some some to become every your a more subto-and beguldering problem.

Your experience with the pleachette is amazing that hat the words which you found it to have written were dictated by the spirit of Charlotte Bronto is to me (whether rightly or not) so mornously superbable, that I could only agreet it if every meation were laid here, and every explanation demonstrated to su mye and leaff of work and district to agong Carbotte He at Foreign for at it specially a morning seque of a certain temperament, or oron at many spore and an it a scopio of all temperaments, trickey species are hable to vice as a sort d cardi-bubbles, and set farmture in movement, and tell though which we called a should be as well without knowing. I men trankly content there not a feeble in signate. From no again focus, my of a cry short for the supremoand an a ve characters of a more marrly are untill gride kinwhich a such that with an interfect will wholey of . If there wars miserable spirits whom we could bely, then I think we should prome and have pationed with their trivial-mindedness but otherwise I don't feel bound to study those more than I am bound to study the special follow of a particular phase of human society. Others, who feel differently, and are attracted towards this study, are unking an experiment for me as to whether saything better than be wilderment can come of it. At present it scenia to me that to rest any fundamental part of religion on such a basis is a malancholy sunguidance of men's minds from the true nources of high and pure emotion.

George Elfot's safe is be-

I am comforted to think that you partly agree with me there.

Ancil 4, 1883 1

This is the not unreasonable attitude of a mind had George Eliot's to what presented itself to her in her very slender knowledge of the subject-if knowledge it can properly be called at all-as crude, valgar, and repellent when it was what it pretended to be, and doubly repulsive when, as too often seemed to be the case, the alleged spiritaalistic phenomena were but counterfelt imitations of the true. Here was a deeply introspective mind, one that concerned itself with the meetics before quoted, with the results of our personal observations. of philosophical abstractions, rather than with the external and try to arrive at some more definite conclusion. In the presentation of curious phenomens, which the nearest con., first place let it be premised (1) that matter, as we know it, juver would show more neatly, and which she would not is but a phase of aprit, or, in other words, that certain care to differentiate from the gentine phenomena of substances, which (because of their invisibility) are termed

Yet she was not altogether unamenable to sparst-power No one can read her letters, written in the abandonment of perfect confidence, to her intimate friends, without drawing a marked contrast between George Eliot the woman and George Eliot the authoress. As a woman her letters show her commonplace and dull. There is not in the three large volumes that contain her letters one that rises above the common same until one correspondent touches her lower and causes nor to revea, the seems of its religious changes From Puntan she are passes through sections phoses of below, through a vague Agnostreren to what must be described, for want of a botter term, as Positivian.

In the history of those religious changes we seem to trace the influence of semething beyond and outside of the custom. First of all we have the permanent, time-remating. woman; something that lifts her above the hundron monotony of her ordinary correspondence, and touches her soul with fire

But it is not until we come to the authoress that we discorn the full difference between George Emplan. Marian Evans. When she comes to pen "Adam heele" she a to this on a future occasion). (3) The condition in which veritably inspired. She lives in the seeses that she is is seen during the latter stages of its procreating. She is wrapped up in the characters whose lines. duction, when it is sufficiently solid to fold or ments she truces. She is an far removed from her ordinary fall in pleats, but still liable to be stretched, diffused, and self as light is from darkness. And why ! Her Imagination, that Divino creative faculty, has been aroused, and tion. (4) As it appears in thick clouds, slowly continuing for the time she is a new woman. There her Spiritualism tate a short, or steip, or definable quantity ; a stage in which is shown. There is the pisce where Mrs. Stowe might the indication of broad folds is already visible, and which, have appealed to her on the ground of philosophical and an a mass, will cost a shadow. (5) The stage when the religious Spantualism, for the would have claimed part and cloud is opaque, il-defined, and amorphous, (6) When it lot in it, and would have needed no external demonstration appears as a thin, transparent, whitish, nebulosity. (7) When of its usuate truth, of its munite possibilities. There she seem (which is possible in total darkness only), as a family had care to hear. Mrs. Stowe approached has where she lummons must. Here our power of observation ends, and was stone deaf.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

behind with our correspondence. We intended to make a apparent. We have also to consider how for the "verifical clean sweep of it all, and start afresh, by answers gut phantom" or the equally abstrace "visible astral-body" briefly in these columns, but, however good the intention, may be material for, if there are demonstrable gradations we have utterly facied to accomplish it. A few replies, from the material to the spiritual, these must unavoidably however, will be found in another column, and we ask find their phon amongst some class or other. It cannot be any reader of "Leour" or private correspondent to whom denied that photography reproduces them. When the we owe a letter to look down the page and see whether the portraits so obtained are faithful likenesses of the departed, answer appears there. We shall try and complete the task when they are recognised as friends or relatives, whose next week. It is from no want of courtesy that we adopt presence, as spirits, was not even a tier and nor, perhaps, this method of clearing of arrears, it is simply the sheer wished for, and when it is known that many of the so impossibility of becoming 2000 with the many demands upon recognised "spirits" had, in their earthly existence, never been us. These remarks apply to all who have addressed letters portrayed, there a no ground for further doubt or mubelief. either to the Editor of "Light," the Manager of the Hence, we find in those reproductions a most conclusive proof Psychological Press, or Mr. J. S. Farmer personally.

it over he earth. he the dance, specified with tears, or all wing in the sun, even as He piaces he crocks and the March frosts together, and beautifully imagics into and death

* George Ellot's Life, p. 180

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY .

> BY J G. KEPLEMANS. (Continued from page 151.)

Let us compare the various facts and theories

spiratual, are but refined phases of matter , (2) that as we find degrees of substantiality in what to our cognisance is matter, so there are also degrees of attenuation in what, for want of a better term, we will call spirit-substance. It seems also that the sparit-substance that comes into operation at sounces, is (like the majority of spirit manifestations we are able to witness) of the crudest kend, and belongs to that degreeor phase which is nearest to the most refined plantes of this earthly matter. In the presence of the physical medium the two worlds, spiritual and material, may be said to meet. To illustrate our proposition, let us see in what order we are to arrange a series of transitions from the palpable and visible to the spiritual or invisible, and confine ourselves exclusively to the "drapery" now under disand somewhat massive meterial of orlicovike texture samples or specimens of which, have been given to us at the material and "aparts." (2) Somewhat signific deapery, but in a condition recembling gauge or government. I have wit reposed the formation of the second out of the first are was refer again amalgamated with other masses in process of formsit might be supposed that no further attenuation can be unagened or be possible. So it would seem; but "photography sees what man's mortal eyes do not percure, and depicts a still further stage of what is still materiality " Again, through an enormous press of work, we are far Even in these mysterious products, they're of sinterials a in that there is an after-life, and that spiritual beings, in their actual condition, either possess, or can assume, tem Porray 'ke truth, a a common figure that has some porordy, an appearance in so far object to as to reflect the actions rays on the sensitised photographic plate. Anyother

* A few sets of these chrome drawings still remain, and may be obtained of it is Manager of the hypicological Prise, 9. Are Variatione EC price 2s, 84. the best, particular on colder for each transformation by partical post, Agit, Aliv 7.

such tremendous as then we show a season previous, spirit-faces," the bands and sometimes other characest mona to the real to of man a creat cherishe thehef. To teristics, or even malformations, are, without exception, like reason away such generals facts would be equal to receiving what they used to be in earth-life (a haby returns as a baby experies support of our slown case before a part of tax

un evolved in the presence of physical nice and Mant many What must be converge a very remarkable assumed that balies remain babies into startity, and that feature is time in in at cases white the drap-ty super and no further progress towards higher spiritual conditions raporous mere a not on wa larger quartery that would awaits humanity in the future. It is far more probable then, he occasary to cover he whole seed but part of the flow- that the human form, like the garments covering it, is ing substance a placed r dieer contact with the person reassumed perhaps unconsciously, by entering into direct near whom the spirit appears. I ther part of a touries to son with earthly surroundings, or by votition, and for his show her head or knees or sometimes the after a the occasion only. Now, if there is a re-assumption of the part y enterpole . the amorous man that have the re objective appearance, that objectivity must have been promention sortion of the space of the source as part on dien a need out of see derived from some authorizes or other action by exist. The destruction to be more from this fact. Whether that material addition be ever so refined matters won . If they to make the substance of pertive, control I tile it must need come from somewhere. with the human's magnetism, by which is near to certain that or surround; ours of a laborto a cetter he are it prevents to in the stine manner is the many net sup of a post of me pain a see qual me for the proc ton of the matery on the forms b obkerses a the source esons. Now the draggery operations bewar a merchant of Liverpool, who departed this life hat 1 these protographs occurred the very spine for area, tath Suscender and quotes his letter to the Liverpool Daily Fast, rades lop nent are its some state as we intro in the January 20th, 1883 which the Messager reproduced at . pur sents were by the funter a see forms. There are the time In that letter, Mr. Fowler related some of his . here to distinct marks of hemmed edges sometimes under experiences. He said: "To mental questions I have tions of emberidary and not in its next a spices or any received prompt answers written on the inner side of clutes pecuan to pe ted cotton ston. I ad etunates these laid upon each other, while held is one own hands. The photographs, he ag on poper do not abow any manuring a mavers here the aignature of a brother who died years before photographs, he ag on paper do not show any manustrate in Australia, and related to mattern known only to him and magnification without at the same time one garder factor. I have had pictures pointed in a darkened room, between the expression and the su set see of the paper. stee f It must be welt to towar passessing an original and taking away with me the pictures wet. I have seen negative to try the experiment micro a powerful micro, tables that free from the floor without contact of enyone. I scope to detect (1) whether the apparently more solid have heard mediums speak under the influence or control dyapery is also really when, and 25 how far the vaporous of sport friends, by the hour together, referring to flowing substance shows an inheritant of the inter-manage of or trie ices a their marthly life known to me, and also to threads. Pechaps from these photographs we might learn. Mr. Forme, was at the Church Course. concerning formation of despery what we ice name castle-on-Type, in October, 1881. He there urged investi-The content with not from us. However we may reasonably gration into the well-attested facts of Spiritualism, some of I for that where material schemenes, or where embronery or which be addited; but the majority of the Congress dots and ignored are present to astrone a consequence to come have a Bishop, who had assumed the catching name of "Staart combetands" He told the Congress that the so-called facts were become upon the garments were to extend different water described and allusions and allusions are he bisself model above At all events the substance, whether wever or not would This protegi of the Bishop was applanded. A few days at he carthly in its origin, no matter in what organized afterwards the Bishop took the chair at an advertised we see t, and whether it be composed of threads, dakes exhibition by this *8. O." of imitations of spiritual plush or any or see same procust. But now a further phenomena. sparst drupery) as data are by photography that of the much that there apprehing constitution to the ease and again of which sould grapmy is produced in the senior room or. The challenge, like all other similar challenges, was not these the photographic reproduction represent a suo accepted. stance made for the occasion, and to which there exists still another precedenceds source or fundament! I derest anguages as was the case with Mr W. higherton in It seems there must be, because in these photographs a recent interview with Mr Gladstone. Imagine a conjurer a degree of substantiality is noticeable. Then, the cloudy Victor de la Hesbaya, editor of the Chronique, with Deflowing masses are more voluminous than would be requisite share when he was at the Hote Wireless at Brusse's after to cover a "form," which would suggest the probability of the Lankester affair in London. The editor of the a subsequent contraction of the su states. Also, the almost Checargue reported on that necessor. "The Slade on y mention he contact of these amounts masses with he vital and I sat together in full light. I placed a mustel of pencil element human, magnetism, or the human soils ment to between two slates, which we held together by their frames, the desired accretion or so shiftestion. With these im each in a inferent handwriting. Dr Siede speaks English portant data sefore us, it is obvious that the arapery as only. He did not move his ingers. Let those explain who reproduced in these photographs, must be equally derived our attempt to account for the facts would be as unconsonable from a still anterior source or a still more refined plane of as I would se at wise and uncreateful, for a specularly of natter. Besides, the highly significant fact that these after a lapse of thirty or more years) and must be regarded as As will be autored on these mysterious productions, the conclusive evidence that these "spirits" so reproduced, do "spirits appear a loose company area god after the same not exhibit themselves as they could be " auturally " in their fashion as is a opted by the corporadised apparitions that present state of existence, but appear as a self-constructed temporary "double" of what they some when mortals. If I have examined genry 100 of these photograps at they are to approach us, with intent to be photographed and and an the empery to be if fierest degrees of auto recognised, no other course is conceivable, unless it be

(To be continued.)

ON CONJURERS EMITATIONS.

The Measurer makes allusion to the estimable Mr. John

Mr Force was at the Church Congress, held at New were deceptions and illusions, as he himself could show

On this Mr Fowler publicly offered a large sem to this position presents treff viz. Is the represe tation of the "Stuart Comberland," to any or every conference, if they could produce the same phenomera, under the same conditions as those produced in the presence of mediums.

Imagine a conjurer obtaining snewers to questions in elemen huma, nagmentan, or the human and some to and, presently, I found written on the inner surface of one denote the and spensals y of some such we ten to obtain of them three sentences—in Dutch, English, and in French,

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

April 4, 1885.]

Expectation of Hate Writing by Conjuring, at Diversion.

occasion of his recent rant to that town, gave there, before the amjorsty of those who had eat with Mr Egisaton during his 1 in which he said, "I declare that there is no deceptave contridescription to be selected by a conjurer for his purpose. Not show that the whole of the manifestations at the surgle scance he had attended were dependent upon a certain feature in the · construction of the table. Mr. Goviand claimed that he proanced his results under precisely the same consist one exhibited a table countracted by houself, which was pronounced Mr. En com to Secretor and a circle was figures a com-Me one and and the next at or a new joining their last campo exposer her names conversation, are a justice on a new maof the conthereupon proportions. The potential a house the hans hold a perfectly said single siste shoot he is it premitty t time against the flag at hint but process y wirele the air. here were absorbed in one representation, and in insulpsu I has right arm being senten by the left arm is of himself are his next sitter, he slipped the slate into the openity, or all a which a left master the calde when he has a neb an pairta the day is drawn out. Her right hand being thou free, to scently wrote on the upper side of the slate the word "You," which annelet the pone of convenution be could sawly do the a boy for their turned he away the and so that when exhibited he word would be at the coul furthest from hisself, and spaids down. Then, withdrawing the slate Mr. Gowland as to his certificate, declaring that it was intended from the aperture, he again pressed it alose up against or be describe the table as really acts factory. Mr. Gowland having flap, his hand being once more exposed to view. In a few pronounced it, in the presence of the speaker and three other minutes he or ter the andience to only the the wome of westing. and immediately a count became audible which was uttorly unlike that heard at Mr. Eglinton's seasons, and was roully Spood) that Mr. Gowland had, the morning after his season produced by the "exposer" acratching with his rail on the with Mr. Eglinton, expressed his conviction that the manifests under so face of he wave. Then he traditionally amount he twom word spiritual, bir Spool cited the facia that at a sounce apparess decine, and he securion of divers, extramed he at a private house in the word where a chiefe is not any aper writing which he had oxecutes is in time before. He repeated not beneath it was used, rough a were obtained and has Mr. the process with another single state, writing so a the words beginned at many one of his state sources had of see in the fact that at one of M By ones a scanned the acutence became Mr. Speed additional the experience of the German with a screw for a catch. Mr. Robert Casson, nuction cer on obtainment of writing on blank slates on Mr. Eglin-The exponer surrest totally a product into the aperiate describing Mr. Gowlond's stance as a crude, claimsy, and in sight, and presently laid it upon the table, remarking that had not witnessed one of Mr. Eglinton's conditions in Mr there was no micross. After another experiment was a single Gorland's stance. Mr. Eginton always grasped the top of the being opened the words, "There is no light," which had been manifestations that be (Mr. Hamer) had witnessed were written under the table, were found was to Mr. Cassen produced upon the table. Mr. Hauser nited some remarkable complained that this sentence was no appear to his question, and instances in which writing had been obtained in closed lalates Mr. Gowland, the agis he had a large tire behind hate to sea . It moves taken off the table, and one case in which they had never in reaching the query sum, as he afterwards explained, states, that been oftler on or under the table-when writing was obtained Mr Eginton always out with his back to the fire presumably in the sir. Mr. Hamer expressed has surprise that Mr. with the same object, and though he had a stronger gaslight Gowland should think that ethnible mon could be guiled by than Mr Eginton had replied that his light was not equal t such could and clumsy tricks into thinking they were an Mr Egypton a Severa of the audience, calleding the writer exposure of Mr. Eglinton. Mr. J. S. Sykos, clerk to the of this report, expressed the opinion that it was botter. We Ulversten Board of Guardians, and he believed that Spiritualism may mention that in the course of the proceedings a gentionary was imposture and wicked, but expressed the conviction that pressor called our that he saw Mr. Cow and acrassing a cir. Mr. Eglinton's manifestations were no jugglery, but the result on astance which has certainly hover occurred at a scance of Wr of some injuterious, not yet comprehended, force of nature. Eg orion a. Mr Gowland then gave an explanation of how his Mr. H. W. Hope, lay-annatant in connection with an Ultrarston phenomena were produced. Afterwards Mr Robert Casson Episcopal church, also bere testimony in favour of Mr was appointed chairman to preserve order, and Mr. Gowland Eglinton, declaring that he had obtained, in the air, between proceeded to deliver a further address, of such duration that two slates, which he could awar were blank when put together, those who had to reply to him had not helf the time he had occupied in which to make their observations. He characteriood Mr. Echnton's locked slate mainfestation as rather a On Monday evening week, Mr Thomas W. Gowland, harefaced sort of thing, and stated that though he allowed the manager for Messts. Tyler Brothers, boot and shoe dealers, of writer of a question in it to lock it, and retain the key, he Twenten, and who was one of Mr. Eglinton's nitters on the [Mr Eglinton must have a deplicate key with which he species to a area more the lable. Mr. to relain knie, maintier eras in generation had, simultaneously with himself, but upon stay, and a number of others, an exhibition of slate-will my 'Y his idea of how slate-writing was done. If Mr. Eglinton would conjuring. Mr. Gowland after Mr. Egimton's visit gave a produce answers to questions in the dark, in which he could certificate, which was published by us, so to Mr. Eglinton's table, and read the questions, it would be much more satisfactory. He (Mr. Gowland) only undertook to expose what he saw at the vance about it, and that it appears to be one of the most our a y scance he himself attended. He left it for others to explain the remainder. He wished it to be understood that he did not call withstanding this certificate, the object of his exhibition was to Mr. Eglinton an impostor. He was not generalt of the tartimoney given by mon of science and high social per tion in that gentlemen's favour. Mr. Gowland proceeded to comment on the fact of Mr. Egiliaton bringing his own table to Ulverston as susperious, also complianted that he objected to people looking under the table when the sound as of writing was going on, by several to be identical in construction with that brought by and that he could not always get manifestations, alloging that this was just what would be the case with a conjurer, who would have to watch his opportunity to deceive. He also mid to and their arms by ig across the table come to the cope. The could not conceive how there could be more difficulty in gotting writing in scaled slates than in others if it was expected by spirate. He further objected that the writing was never consmencal at the top of the slate. This, he said, seemed to be due to this, that Mr Eglinton could not reach the top because of the sporture in which the elete rested prevent , it is Mr. Cowland then endowenced to explain away his certificate by caying that it only declared the table to be apparently sainfactory, and said he had given it for a purpose-to some aw people could be deceived by relying on the testimony of there Mr. J G. Speed, editor of the factor of the water matraments in in a Mr. Egimeon to Unerstain led his present to H decire has be east tout were the same. appealing to Mr Eghuton's eithers to prove this, and attacked personn at the house of a Mr. Martindale, to be so, and Mr. J. S. Sykos, who was present, having declared to him (Mr. There is power this being of and as an in-mind of ments to suggested that another table should be substituted for There is the power was written. The Branch school scientists with Dr Shale, and of Professor Cassall and others manifestation was imitated thus. The slate used was not with Mr. Eghuton, in obtaining writing on blank slates, a become at all but was simply fastened by meson of a look mover placed under the table a also the speaker's own of Mr trowiands in electric y we to a lengthy quintous the bon's table in London, and the opinions of conjurers alate, fastened I, and menter it, pents, mobile, to Mr. fremails in so of Messra Eghinton and South. He concluded by beneath the table, opened, and works to it has favered strongly inadequate attempt to applican the marrollous phonomona and held a age and the under sade of the day as before the hard of Mr. Egunton. Mr. James Hause followed. He said he slate, he died the cheen state from the table are tele it in the table with his thumb in holding the slate under the table, and ear. Instantly the would of scratching was again heard, who he kept the slate close up against the flap, but Mr Clowland put he was producing with his finger nail under the alate, and on this hand completely out of sight. Most of Mr Egilnt me an audible answer to an oral question just while he and Mr. Eglinton hold the clates. Mr. A. H. Sykes, solicitor, and others, also deposed to nurvellous expenences with Mr. Egi vin wood though we go it elien supported Mr. Gowland, the map av if non present a a vite of those who had not with the prince showed an arrival the Contract security was a signal mid an error of the lace more for M. Review as phenomens. Mr. Gowland replied on the discussion, and seclared that Mr Speed's amertion that he (Mr. Gowland) had, at Mr Mart adalog house, said the construction of the table had nothing to do with the manifestations, was untrue, and forther, that he had never met Mr. Martindale or mentioned the subject to land. Mr Martindale asserted that Mr Speed's statement was true. A withdrawal of Mr Chwland's denial that he mot Mr. Martindale has since been published, Mr. speciand declaring that he had forgetten the streamstance, but he still maintains that he never made the assertion about the table. We can confidently assert that Mr. Gowland's sounce was to a complete exposite, but morely we are only with markety to produce even the least of Mr Eglint mann be and of the J Printing. - The pumphint you meaned was printed for private

[We have also received other communication on the subject -one from Mr Gowland-with which we will deal next work, making also a few remarks on the question ourselves. -En of " Limit, "1 massion.-On Monday, 23rd alt. M. M. as again been aed the platform of the Spiritualists while he gas expressed or the subject. " Man, why was he sende?" The state over conveyed was that man within blinned contains the only saturfactory answer that could be obtained, and that answer us to bear by Spirit tolland, was compared and comeliative at Cionar is autoresting and of sissipators artists on the approximate (st no asy sy or has make great all in the are was granulour of expression, which are possibility characterist c + h. gine exist Mr. Mars. A see g , a stop the last more appearance of Mr. Morse in Ulegeer prior to his departure by a more one by a line a case and most against over and great for a sweet meson, so yet meet a won. Mr Mose gratofully admirately summer a book sweet at book sw me begod the Obergow Association was held in the formero, who carrows may else if no eligibles aportance were assumed. chiefly the quick in a stoward means to a section further engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Wallie. The tropautor's fluctual report revealed the significant and escentraging fact that not witnesseding the corressed outley consequent upon the mean Mr. and Mrs. Wallis sa resident locturers and turminda of modernes, the funds of the Association at the end of the exmounting and interest of one recovered in our mount of and of an applicable were in a best of a one for that at the one mount one of the first and one of th house much! The authors from a of the Wolf Constituted house is not a receive on a fit time a sum of the comparison of time a sum of the comparison of time and of the comparison of the compari the receipt at a time of a second of an attention have sever in their discussion. Their discussions to see a work research the members and servants of the spirit a conclusion as a secthe mentions and servathe in this spirite is the reason there and mention and if up to make a winds and live more and more in the case or is the callings from the inglier life. During the last are moreticable or had fall that their meanmanlip had developed considers as a manufacture of the case. their attempt hilly surround, but with this moreous the mod-became more argent for harmony in automating conditions and evening times argent for the fuller and more successful events. of a me bu make give. He cancladed by expressing a that hearty one committees a peration might characterise the source of the Association in a future over more than in the past of the tase atom? The little over those than the the past of her should be not be war in deritable of the tester as in mate and seed follows: work is rise to blowing, if and high cross her efform. It has avoing southing the guides of Mr. Wollia spake on the subject of Scortions, Prooffunght, Spiritablem, and delivered as able and substantial address. Fr McMo.

Our norms. Many the theological notices have certainly begin a norms by Modern Sporgan son on an old or loss s at note northing as a time farage his seyons an opening factor. basist on he reported restricted or an assectation of the characters are Savience. When Sport masses went present their with a me me bt bank cough of the among bases also be actual enjought of of continues spiritual exists me. hey rope, bein an call ben a sorte of bar carrest. Can this be because he revenuents of a Spir timber not include the orthodox hell. Rev. G. Walters, Undarian. Hertroge of

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Separts. Nation. The Editor of "Liviet" cannot, save m exceptions; cases, undertake to answer correspondence shrough the post A requires reaching this other not later than We nest at normal, will as far as practicable, be answered in the ensuing number of the fire

W NUTTALL. Your kind words are fully appreciated.

L. ALLEY. Plates were sent. We hope they came to hand all right. W SHARPS,-You have been duly entered as a subscriber to Present Day Problems."

G. Stoppaker —The cheanes were duly disputched. We denot know the book you member.

HAVEE. -The number of "Liner" you saked for was out of print before your letter came to hand.

d. H. Frey en Park).—Fire " Mound Magic " have been sout to the probables named as requested by the Please seming in steams of news enries in the week. We will dien goe the niplane with pleasure.

elreplation only, and they are now entired, but of print J. ATKINSON.-Thanks for narrative. It will be used in due course. Though silent we have not forgetten the matter

J. G. Street. Thanks. Though unable to write, we have been vary glad of the advices you seek. Please keep us we convent. Dr. J. C. Synery. Card and pamplifet received with thanks. We hape an opportunity will occur for a personal interchange Weeks for him not gen forgotton. You should have made the requisite approxima a good time

Can We have a hour nave been entered as a subscriber to be seen bax of blems." There is no need to count dottle the make or plant start

E kinn "A copy of "Larry" has been sent to the address
g on We are glind you like the plates. It is quite refresh ME to get some thanks.

ng to get some thanks.

Note: New New -- You did not comply with the very clearly expressed regulations three times published in " Linux." The Annual Company of the way to regret detay on the state of to directly their other inches agold? y in . We know of Spec (unlists in Brighton, but are not at both to men in the new barrs aportugates are since to you fently us for the one or a user me.

In the sory one participate the same to you set a men picture except. We in the late of set the same on refer in a units you not have the paper posters to so when ART OFFICE

July with Not an India title all such information is only the rather with real, all a second order to be second or the rather with real, all a second order, and real are a second order to the rather with real and the rather to the rather than the r

Plank of Thanks We shall be very glad to receive items of news I pleas to appear of a re-light operer of precious can not fine force for continue as some of the home you went as one or minute of a real part of continue as a calculate of continue.

If I are the hard are noted in the heart con it has been as it is nearly a continue to go cany note in one of the matter. The lab kess are returned and if no care to send their back to a slote one we age to make took new.

May Bea to You petic new Mess not esset to Mr E. Dawson, Engages to need model as William appareturate needs whose two another to a on the surject. We have no such of our li copies is come also each has been ear by to take its turn

P Conservation. The plates parked as promised were written the Friday and crossed year letter. On in-mire we found that a new hard new hard new hore were her a new hore where here has a new hore were here.

the start.—Your MS, rune stilly to hand, but we have not have the more yet. Mr there shape dead be a field a fall of agonts we are preparing, and which will also be no published. Your action in the matter has been very acceptable.

The plates were sent in used course, your nicrpe facion of the net of treats noting on a current on they reach you safety? I see P get a see of the early more than therefore is, let us your credit. Please say how this shall be

Weymouth. The "in tractions, as printed in catalogue

R. WATSON (Birkhy, Ruddersfield, 1—The major portion of your latter was answered in "Likint" for March 21st. Your remarks with reference to Mr. Harkas' articles will be dealt with by that grathenian if you will inform him whether your crucism on New J. 8 and 7 refers to the first or the second section of questions. Please any

W WILL s. Menso shall be sent should "Lacite" to published on from the "accurate and, although occasionally copies are protect on Thorse by evening, we do not bend our solvesto do this, especially with packages sent by parcel pool. At the same time was may depend upon it that not a moment a detail is incurred. We are in a too glad to complete out work. These there came do 3 to bank.

LERLY COL. D. I have rules for Present Bay Problems." has been entered. We do not make a practice of near hieror by praying the meaning Wh. not experience private. There are a number of Spiritua at a and inquire a near Alderstot and I you wished we highly post only to able to arrange an lastoduction. If you we see a gater we wish to pleased to render you further near acre of necessary. These thowever excuse a private effer the time

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA

The following is a set of our cent persons who, after personal Investigation have satisfies the one yes of the reasty of some of the phenomena generally known as Psychical or Substitualistic.

N. H.--An asterisk is prefixed to those who have exchanged

belief for knowledge

'Professor F. Zóliner, of Leipzig, author of "Transcondental Physics," &c. ; Protesses to T Fechner, Scheibner, and J R Flebte, of Leipzig; Professor W. B. Weber, of Göttingen Professor Roffman, of Warsburg, Professor Perty, of Borne Professors Wagner and Butlevoll, of Petersburg, Professors Hare and Mason, of U.S.A. ; Dr. Robert Frienc, of Breshen ; Motor, Camille Flammarine, Astronomet, &c., &c.

I TREATERS The Part of Businesses T A Trolloge B. C. Hall | Gordd Massey Capta o le storton Cases 11 D. Local Longinus. "Land Ly ton ; "Land Lynd-"A dismany Whate "IN R. Canadiers 1 181 *W. M. Thackeray, "Nassan Sentor, "George Fannipson, "W. Hawritt : "Serjenat Cox "Mrs. browning Hon Rosca Norl,

Bishop Clarke, Rhede Island, U.S.A.; Durint Lyman, U.S.A. 1 Professor W. Dentett, Professor Alex, Wilder; Pro- inharmonious richards, and or on the adurts. An inhal should be favore Hiram Corsen, Professor George Bash and twent four the about of an universidal sentice Judges and ex-Judges of the U.S. Courts. Vir. or Hugo. Barou. and Baroness von Vay; *W Linyd Garrison, U.S.A. *Hon | over the hands, with involuntary reliching of the latada and arms R. Dale Owen, U.S.A. *Ron a. W. Farnonde, i.S.A. *Tipes of some or the safety and a senset on of in during in the table. Servent: "Baron du Potet "Count & on Casporne "Garon L. de l'abdensiable Ar de

Soc. of Posttick R. J. H. Nicholas, Duke of Leuchtenberg. R. S. H. the Prince a Sounce. H. S. L. Le nee Allicecht of Sollies *If S. H. Prince Emple of Saya, Wattgous e.o., on Alexanors Assakof, Imperial Councillor of Russia; the Hon. J. L. O'Sullivan, sometime Minister of U.S.A. at the Court of Lisbon , M. Payre-Chymrus, late Courtl-General of France at Truesto the safe hosperses of "Toursan and France Presidence Thiera and "Lincoln Ac &c.

IN IT AND BINGS

It is consistent to said at a a legad that no lease are many should deal upon which the training about the least of the most about any least one of the most and upon the least of the most and upon the least of the most and upon the least of the most and upon any deal of the most and upon and the real upon unitarity that the upon and the real upon unitarity that and the real upon upon the part of the most production.

how then accord the strategy of the strategy of the most surface, and it whom have described in a strategy of the most strategy of the strateg the expectative of a set the set in the interior of a sent able the involuditantly of the special in special in artificial or.

Note in The absence of Court of Security A. The investment of the three sects are interior in the object of the section of the Security of the Absence of the Ab

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

LIGHT.

The Conduct of Circles .- By M. S. (Oxon.)

If you wish to see whether Sportialism is righly only jugglery and in acqueetry it by ersonal experiment

if you can get an in maturation to some expendenced Spiritualist whose good faith you can rely, ask him for advice, and, it he as holding private circum, seek permission to attenu one to see how to conduct somes, and what to expect

There is, however difficulty to comming across to in the elimination and, in november A in intial cely enable on experiences in your own many rocks or knots, a sing our ries. A same gets waity excluded. The black of Spitzynlands have garged cop or son tour

Form a circle of from four to eight persons, half at at least two of negative, pussive temperament, and preferably of the female sex the rost of a more positive type.

5it, positive and atentive alternately, score against disturb ance, in subdued tgirt, and in comfortable and unconstrained positions, round an uncovered table of convenient size. Place the palms of the bands flat upon its upper surface. The hands of cava-or to present our tour house of his are garrous, hough the practice is fres mently no opted. I so not a moral rate after my no fixelly on the expected muniter ations. Pregago in elegated but not frivolune convenience Avoid dispute or argument. Beepties a line in meter but often as no er parto er often nik e son d'determied e mry torady stop or er der e misele cam estracors. If concernation thags, music in a great to the agreement on a man and in all as k or to are late the school see that the transfer is secretary which is may a necessary a oreliter of wester are at short atervals, be been thing and a laster such in our stone for its form a form, and the stone is the waster digner in the stone in the be The first indications of success notally are a cold brease passing

These tementions, at first no should as to entire doubt as to their reality, will usually develop with more or less rapidity

If the table mayou, let your pressure be so got le un an enrince hat my are surn you are not adding its motions. Ther same time on will probably find that the movement will can mur to ur bands are held seed, but not in concact with it. The not howe extry this notif the movement is assured, and so to an harry or get

When you think that the time has come, let some one take command of the circle and not as spokerman. Explain to the unseen Intelligence that an agreed code of signals is desirable, and ask that a tilt may be given as the alphanet is alowly repeated at the several letters which form the word that the Intelligence whiles to spell. It is convenient to use a single tilt for Nu, three for Yes, and two to express doubt or uncertainty desortes your attention, it probably has something to say to you, and will tesent being humpered by useless interference. It rests greatly with the attens to make the manifestations elevating or frivations, and even tricky.

Should am attempt be made to entrace the medium or to

Should an attempt be made to entrace the medium or to manufact by any violent methods, or by morals of four manufact, care, ask that the attempt may be deferred to care can enter the presence a some specienced Spirituals. If he council is not leased, a score line he sat my. The process of movies may a mace medium a one that mogh a some ert no case seriences occurred. In reaser, hather these pour got by the light of Reason Manufact a level head and a clear judgment. Do not believe each high you are told, for though the great absence of decentions many a wise and discerning spirit, it also has made the accumulation of human folly vanity and error, that this the macer to the confined than that which is wise and good. District the free use antince than that which is wise and good. Distrust the free use of great names. Never for a monical abandon the use of your reason. Do not cater into a very solutin investigation in a spirit of idio carbosity or frivolity. Cultivate a reverent desire for what per pare, good and true. You will be repaid if you gain only a well grounded conviction that there is a die after dualit, for which a pure and good life before doubt in the best and wheat preparation.

PHENOMENA

Mediums, who are the instruments of an external agency, of trickery or sleight of hand." have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who deceive by skight of hand, and in the same manner tint no man of science who has thorough y and fairly investigated the phenomena has failed to become convinced of their reality, so no conjurer who has been confronted with the same facts has been able to explain their occurrence by prestidigitation. Roudin, Jacobs, Belmehini, Hermann, Keslar, and others have already confessed their powerlessness to produce under the same contations a med aut.

Testimony of Robert Houdin.

The Marquin Endes de Mirville published during the I ferme of Roudin two letters from the latter, in his " Memojro addreste a MM des membres de l'Acaden e des-Sciences Moralia et Politiques, sur un grand nombre de phonomènes mervilleux interessant eguloment la Religion, la Science, of les homines de Monde," in which the conjurer nessed in the presence of Alexis, the shirvoyant. A circumstantial account is given of M. de Mivville's visit to Hondan for the purpose of engaging him in this investigation, of the latter's confidence in his own mainty to detect the trick, and of what took place at the assure, the conditions of which were antirely under Houdan's control. This account extends over twelve pages, and its occuracy is confirmed by Houdin in the first of the documents now translated :-

"Although very far from accepting the salingles which M is good enough to bestow upon our, and especially musting deat I am not at all connected to upleasas, either in favour of magnetism or against it, I can nevertheless, not refrain from declaring that the facts above reported are entirely correct (and de la plus complète exactitude), and that, the more I reflect upon there, the more impossible I find it to rank them manny those which belong to my art and profession.

" Rozent Haubin.

A fortnight later, M. de Mirville received another lotter, in which the following, referring to another senace, | dones, or deny through predatormination to deny

"I have, therefore, returned from this system as astombled effete unge umrreillene) .- 1 au. Magutour, Sc.,

(Signed) Roman II work

1 May 10th, 2847

Testimony of Earry Reliar

Harry Keiler, a distinguished professor of legerdemain, investigated the slate-writing phenomena which occurred in the presence of Mr Eginton, at Calcutta, in January, 1881. and on the 25th of that month he addressed a letter to the editor of the Indian Daily News, in which he mad

"In your laste of the 13th January I stated that I should be glad of an opportunity of participating in a sience with a view if giving an unbiassed opiniou as to whether, in my councity of a professional prestidigitator, I could give a natural explanation of offects sold to be produced by spiritual aid

I am milebted to the courtery of Mr Eglinton, the spiritualistic medium now in Calcutta, and of his hust, Mr. J. Mougons, for affording me the opportunity I craved.

"It is needless to say I went as a sceptic, but I must own that I have come away attorly unable to explain, by any natural means, the phonomena that I witnessed on Tuesday evening. I will give a brief description of what took place."

After describing several successful experiments, Mr Kellar proceeds :-

"in respect to the above manifestations, I can only my that I do not expect my account of them to gain general erodence. Forty-eight hours before I should not have believed anyone who described such manifestations under similar ciroutpatances. I still remain a scoptic as regards Spiritususm, but 1877

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL I repeat my mability to explain or account for what must have been an intalligent force that produced the writing on the slate, which, if my senses are to be relied on, was in no way the result

On the 30th of the same month Mr Kellar addressed another latter to the Indian Daily News, reporting some experiences of another kind with Mr Egiuton, and regarding which he mid -

"In conclusion, let me state that after a most stringent trial and strict scrubiny of these wonderful experiences I can arrive at no other concionion than that there was no trace of trickery any form, ner was there in the room any mechanism or anchinery by which could be produced the phonomena which had what occurs without human intervention in the presence of taken date. The ordinary mode by which Markelyne and other constrors motate levitation or the floating test could not possibly be done in the room in which we were assembled."

The Testimony of Preisoner Jacobs.

Professor Jacous, writing to the editor of Licht, mehr Light April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which occurred in Paris through the Brothers Durenport, mid

"Spite of the assertions, more or less trustworthy, of the Prench and English journalists, and spite of the foolish jealousies confesses his analility to explain the phenomena he wit, of agreement conjurers, I feel it my duty to show up the lad faith of one party and the chicanery of the other. All that has been mid or done adverse to these American mediums is absolutely untrustworthy. If we would rightly judge of a thing we must understand it, and neither the journalists nor the conjurses possessed the most elementary knowledge of the science. that governs these phenomens. As a prestidigitalor of rejute, a amound Spiritualist, I all in that the meeting mee forfadesign if all the factor to the avere absorbed from and belonged to the Sp. chan the trace of things theevery ten sect.

" Means, Room and R best Houden, when attempting to in this there and facts hever processes to the public anything beyone an arreste and almost grotes us par sly of the east phonomona, and it would be only ignorant and obstinate persons who could regard the questions acriously as set forth by these gentlemen. If (as I have every reuses to hope) the psychical studies, to which I am applying myself at this time, succeed, I shal, be able to ostablah clearly, and that by public demonstration the apprense line of denarration which asparates mediumisin phenomena from conjuring proper, and then equirocation was so to outger possible, also persons will have to yield to eri-

"Following the data of the learned chouset and natural thilosopher, Mr W Crookes, of Landon, I am now in a position to prove plainly, and by purely scientific motheds, the as it is bossibly to be, and personaled that it is atterfy expossibly exact then of a "paychic force" in measurism, and also the indivithat chained or skill could easy preduce effects as wonderfor (loud it doubley of the spirit in appritual manifestation." I authorise fuit suppossible que le houard un l'adresse putase jameire presideire des you, dear sir, la insert this letter in your next number, il egreea no to you. See Se

Testimony of Samuel Bellachint.

Samuel Beliachins, Court Conjurer at Berlin, made the following declaration in December, 1877:-

"I heroby doclare it to be a rask action to give decisive judgment upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Slade, after only one sitting and the observations so made. After I had, at the wish of several highly esteemed gentlemen of rank and position, and also for my own interest, tested the physical mediumship of Mr. Slade, th a series of esttings by full daylight, so well as in the evening in his bedroom. I must, for the sake of truth, hereby cartify that the atomorphica occurrences with Mr Shale have been thoroughly examined by me with the minutest observation, and inrestigation of his surroundings, including the table, and that I have not in the smallest degree found anything to be produced by means of prestidigitative manifestations, or by mechanical apparates , and that any explanation of the experiments which took place under the circumstances and conditions then obtaining by any reference to prestudigitation as absolutely impossible. It must root with such men of science as Crookes and Wallace, in London , Perty, in Berns , Butlerof, in St. Petersburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published opinions of laymen as to the ' How ' of this ambject to be premature, and according to my view and experience, false and one-sided. This, my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and witnomm. - (Sugned) Sample Breakeners, Berlin, December 6th,

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

" WHATEVER 1070 MAKE MARRIED IS ABOUT .- Paul

No. 223 .- Vol. V

SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS

" Matter through Matter" and the Matter through Matter Teach of Spiritualism in Record Works II. The Statement of Materialisation For Recording and Teach Statement of Materialisation For Recording and Teach Statement that Provinces Asserted to Correspondents Teach Statement than Parties. 170 170 170 170 170 170 A reserving am Truth histograph than Piction understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the conteur in the opinion expressed by Dr. Wyld as to the opinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents. Free and courteous discussion is surified, but writers are

AND MR. MASKELYNE.

My rang No. 3 has now been on Mr. Husk's wrist since the 28th January, and has been examined by about 500 propte, including doctors, engineers, and practical to mains the man whose opinion would be most valuable on any we had carefully examined before sitting down, lying this subject.

you so important on opinion on Mr Markelyna, for he is which it is not escential to my present purpose to mention, the most expert mechanician in Loudon."

As this opinion coincided with my own, I wrote to Mr. Mankelyne, and he immediately replied, that my statements much interested him, and he would be happy to see the ring the course of which a ring was withdrawn by abnormal in its present position.

Accordingly we wanted on him at the Egyptian Hall on Saturday, at two o'clock, when he, assisted by two other before the sitting, and advised the medium to have it filed gentlemen, carefully inquired into the case, and minutely off if he wanted to get rid of it. There is no doubt in my examined the ring with a tanguifying glass.

from what he said to me, I believe he will have no objection examined a thoroughly. It was a sound iron ring, through to my giving the salatance of his words thus formulated.

- I The ring as solid and without joint.
- 2. Apparently it could not be removed from the wrist intact without injury to the hand.
- 3. It could not have been hot welded in its present position
- 4. Possibly it might have been cold welded, but this would be a process requiring a long time.
- 5. The fact of the ring being in its present position, was certainly the most puzzling thing he had seen in Sparatualism.

As to cold welding, I have consulted with an expert. who said, "I have seen your rung, and it has not been coul welded, and if it were, it could easily be severed, as cold welding does not bite like hot welding."

The reader will perceive that these admissions are very important, considering the quarter from which they come, and are equivalent to a reverse judgment on the verdict evaluate as good as would be responded to assume a criminal passed by the Committee of the Society for Psychical of spars and manifestations would be considered good enough to Research.

Surely that Society cannot refuse to re-investigate the matter, unless, indeed, it is determined not to recognise may sparitualistic phenomena which transcend the powers of the telepathic theory to explain.

GRORGE WYLD, M.D.

I beg to my that the result of a careful examination of [The Editor of "Leave" desires it to be distinctly the ring upon Mr. Hosk's wrist enables me entirely to verdict of Monra Barrett and Gurney, respecting the phenomenos in question.

May I add that some years ego I, is compary with alone responsible for the articles to solved their names are "M. A. (Oxon.)," paid an imprompty visit to one of the then best known mediums in London! Ho showed as a ring upon has wrist, similar in all respects to that on Mr. Hunk's. To "MATTER THROUGH MATTER" attempt to remove it by natural means was clearly an absolute impossibility, as it could not even be forced over the carpal extremities of the radius and alua. The medium expressed his determination not to have it removed, except by the mane means by which he avecred that it had been placed there. We proposed to try a seence, and, sitting down, we each grasped a hand of the medium, I mysoif hole ag the hand above which the ring was placed with a grip which As yet, no natural explanation of any weight has been would have done credit to a drowning man. While doing attempted; but being anxious to get the most scientific so I heard the sound of metal falling on the table below my opinion I would obtain on the matter, I applied to a hand, and on requesting "M. A. (Oxon.)" to turn up the grawith distinguished origines on the staff of one of our railways, his disengaged hand, we found the ring, which I need scarcely upon the table. No other ring was to be found upon the His reply was, "I know of no engineer who could give arm from wrist to shoulder, Other phonomena occurred

St. Leouards on Son. B. T. Beken, M.D., EDIN.

Dr Speer has read to me his account of the scance, in means from the arm of a medium. My memory entirely corroborates his account. I examined the ring carefully my mind that the ring was withdrawn by abnormal means. Of course, he expressed his views with reticence, but I tested it by ringing after the sitting was over, and which the meanings hand could not paid, -- " M. A. (Oxox )"

> " Average Revalutions - The fifth volume of this work is now ready for provide corculation. Any of those friends who inve the four precising venues and would wish to now the fifth we present communicate we he Waliam Ox ey 65. Jury New result Il gher Are ugheen, Manchester The enclosure of expense in accopy for postage wil save time, and an acknow-ledgment of receipt is requested.

> Song of the American secontific periodicals are giving articles on spiritual phenomens which remind ut of the truly philosophical researches of our own scientists. Crookes, Wallaco, Zellnor, Barrett, and the other eminent men whose names are a tower of strength and a reluge from ridicule. It may be a pity to need such a refuge—but when feels are throwing mud, a wise man may want a off w b has omorette

> Farm honour stappears from a other in the Standard, occurs among the Budainsts. A girl, whose foot had been twisted in childhood so that one could not walk upon the sore was cared by a use tot be Pagake Bettishan and a Engast officer sent to investigate the marter reported that the cure was established on hang a man by any jury.

TELEPATHY AND THE SOCIETY FOR PSYCHICAL RESEARCH.

I beg to thank Mr Gurney for his brief and clear statement of what he considers the Society he represents implies ! by the term "telepathic."

Ho says, "The term is applied by us to all effects produced by one mind on another, otherwise than through the recognised channel of seuse. It no more implies any sort of physical affection than does the word sympathy."

On this I would remark that the word sympathy as popularly used to express mental or spiritual affection, but the word telepathy has been framed to express an occult theory , and it seems to me, after reading the article, "A Theory of Apparitions," in Part VI. of the Proceedings of the Society, that the word and theory have a physiological rather than a psychological busis and import.

When it is said the word telepathy is applied to the action of much on much, it is signified that mode in the flesh are meant, and that the Society has not yet recognised the notion of spirits on mind, and still less the action of sparets on matter-

It is quite legitimate that the Society, in deference to the materialism of the age, should progress by careful stops, but, on the other hand, members of the Secrety should not, without prudence, attack the evidence for spiritualistic

They should not, for instance, rashly volunteer to imstate a thousand marks produced by the and hummers of a conring, with a pin in a few hours; nor should they offer to puntate spirit-writing on a coiling, with the assistance of a pencil at the end of a broom-stick, nor to remove an iron ring measuring, say 8, without rupture, over an impediment | twenty-eight years of age. tuensuring, my 0, if some one would total them a base see

With reference to Mr. Garney's oralicina on my retarries as to the suppossibility of brain waves produced by brain ribertions ponetrating the same coverings of the brain and then creating like vibrations and thoughts by ponetrating the nine coverings of another benus, namely, eight an substances of various densition and various refracting powers, I would roply

True-light passes through glass, but not through wood. and sound passes through wood, but not so well through glass, and electricity power through other substances. But even electricity has a difficulty in passing through the various textures of the body, as a shown by the shocks res med, and as towns vibrations sout he physical, they must submit to physical law and be refracted and disjointed in maning through the various coverings of the brain.

But mind, in its spirit condition, can pass through all even at that distance create the objective forms of its mingangtion.

GRORDE WYLD, M.D.

The presentiment of approaching death is not uncommon-Cateaville, New York, wrate on a piece of paper "Within to her and her grandmother, and bowing a farewell to the twolve days after to-day, on Friday, at three e-clock in the afternoon, senething remarkable will happen." He was in pariest health when this was written—but his luneral took place on the day and hour. but it is often raggio and unre-table. A boy, ten years old, at day and hour.

work to the afforts of a Mr. nawren to energy the zero staff Egine to a work at the ratio. On zero are in the whole matter it seems to a Mr. to whale so it will be work. ms and He gives cartificates, and who awar to been convenies alleging as an oxense for such as extraordinary course that he did it for a purpose. In another quarter homes he did to to show "how easy it as to guil people in the an, Well, if a man likes to tell a lie he can hardly be aur - se . the character stake i out. As we as Mr common only, and thereupon scake a little notoricty by professing to about the purpose of forming a free Spiritualist library. We shall thought it is all done." We simply remind Mr. Gowland of the old adage about the fools and the angels.

PHENOMENA OF MATERIALISATION

We extract the following from a letter bearing the ognature of Hiram Gregg, an old Spiritualist, in the Religio-Philosophical Journal :-

I have just returned from a visit to John Campbell, a wealthy farmer near Winchester. I met old friends under has hospitable roof, partly with the view of being present at a scouce with Mrs. Mondenhall, the medium of Winchester. A goodly number assembled, nearly filing the spacious parlour. A little adjoining room was converted into a cobinet by suspending thick, dark curtains over the door-way. In this the medium, Mrs. Mendeuhall, took her seat alone, and the light in our parlour was subdeed to a bland twilight.

The friends then engaged in singing. After a little the ourtains parted, revealing the form of a man after several attempts, as if against the action of the light, he came before the curtains, and was recognised as the sou of a lody present, who was much affected !

Upon his retiring, another male form, of different sta ture, appeared, after similar hesitancy. He was also re-

After more singing, a vosce called out from within the cabinet. "Mann Gregg's son." The curtains parted, and the form of my dear son, Clayton, was well recognised by several who knew litts.

At his withdrawing, the mass voice called out "Massa Ground's daughter is coming out." We continued site and presently a female form emerges from outs as the eartains, armyed in a flowing role of dazzling white, her angelic men thrilled all. My daughter would be now

Other murits, male and female, seven in all, of various ages and forms, came out and were recognized.

Next evening the same friends met, with some additional pues, bringing with them a musical accourion in the form of two harps and a violin. After the preliminary hymn, several spirits came out accessively, with less hesitancy. Among them was Lydie, daughter of my friend Mrs. Haynes, present with her mother. Lydia passed away three years ago just on sho, a bad of promise, was blomousing mow match sol. She appeared in flowing gostamer drage v of silvery where, with a dark sear of lace-like material, richly embroidered. She looked bright and gay, with angelic bands she threw back her golden tresses, and moved with graceful stope to lively music from the instruments. She threw kenes to her mother, and, as she withdrew, gave farewell waves of the hand to the friends. Her mother, overcome with emotion, saked, " Is little Gertie spostances without shock, and travelling, possibly, by a ligret" A roice behind the curtain and, "She is trying magnetic wire, can convey its thoughts to a distance, and to materialise." Gertie was another daughter, who passed away in her minth year. The curtains parted, and there stood a little angel, radiant with grant and levelment, standing at the curtains as if waiting for and to emblo her to reach her. She gazed fundly at her mother. Thus seemed impossible. At length she retired, throwing kimes another, all being recognised except one, a brawny form in Ms Eccesson's Visit to Lucasson We referred has regimentals, until ten had appeared, making, with those of the previous evening, a total of seventeen.

These seances have marked an era in my life, fraught with more exalted revelations and tangible demonstrations of the indestructibility of the human coul, and the return of our loved ones, than any before in my provious tearty years of

, be glad if any of our readers can help him in his endeavour

STUPNECUATA OR, EVOLUTIONARY FORCES NOW ACTIVE IN MAN Price 10s. 6d. Edited by Lawrence Oliphant, Edinburgh Blackwood and Som, London, may be obtained of the Psychological Press, 4, Ave Maria-lane, E.C.

The poculiar character of the colebrity achieved by the author of "Piccodilly," will cause this book to be received with no small curiouty. After being-according to "Kosmon," in the World for July 4th, 1883- in great part simultaneously member of Parliament, diplomatest, mystic, and votary of fashion, Pinca Paracorrespondent. financial expert and coligious on thusing - in which two last-named capacities he started a company to assist the furfiment of Divine prophecy by enabling Jews to return to the Holy Eand, and cherting from Lord Houghton the remark that he was future, the path to which it describes as consisting in the halutefully in doubt so to whom he ought to serve, God or Manmon, Harris or Delaze,-Ifr Ohphant has at length soltled down in the haunts of the Prophet Elijah, namely, upon the slope of Monte! Carnel in Palestine, there to formulate, and thence to promplate one can ful to sympathics with the thome of the book, and to the results of a thirty years' study of Specitualism, or, to use his own words, of those forces in rature which have their countratation | them, as well as to respect the courage involved in its publication in psychic phenomena, analy twolve years of which period were and in the avoid of its nuthorship. We specially passed in the United States under the apartual direction of the and dualso this last point, since the book really does contain, arch-mystagogue of the Pacific slope, Mr. Thomas Lake Harris as stated in the proface and introduction, "much to exerte Not that Mr Oliphant is himself the immediate author of the criticana, ridicale, and eventor," and even present book, or professor to enumerate in it Mr. Harrie's doctrine the continued from the west majority of possons. Even HI a wears but as its oction, having accord as amanusonous to take a sursolves, although awarding it a mood of prane, are at white capacition of the source from the the six of the company of the distribution of the company of the

to the step type is Not to him made to Mr. Harris, saving only to indicate him as a co-behavior with Swedenberg in the fundamental torot of the book, a retr think its grounds or mintaken its nature. This is because cenes for which an motore is assigned. We have rea wever, that it embodies, with a few and not very important differences, the teaching of the Western prophet in which asso indispensable to the correction of error and asses animetr of that which we have before us may be defined as the system of truth; and lastly, that the prevalent crass synemics, concerning If there are no by M. On a new expressed by him man's nature and destroy, in manily due to the intelerant Michigan wardene w we also be a finite to will notice the term of the state of a color for the concerned in the production of this book. Its real source is maintain an attitude of sympathy and respect for the transcendental, as its enters understand the term , and its first waters, and where we find them mataken regard them object is to expound the nature of that source and exalt the not as the authors, but as the victims of their error outlines concerned. These belong to no entogery recognises, not as the misleaders, but as the misled. And we shall do this other by Spiritualists or by Theosophists, since they are neither all the more readily that we recognise the reality of their departed souls nor living Maintenna. Norther are they experiences, and believe their error to be one only of judgment as elementale or elementarios. Nor are they, again, the interior to the nature of those experiences, and due to a too restricted and higher Egra musted on by "The Perfect Way" so the only range of study and the lack of a sufficiently fine sense for the skannals of Divine communication, although on this point and apprehension of spiritual things. on certain others the language and the dectrins bear a verbal resemblance to those of that book. The differences between in the surveyes but matter and God the former subsisting them are, nevertheless, radical and fundamental, as will be seen under two broad divisions, the solid and the fluid , and the reminding man of the spectral nature of existence, the "presence men." "Its absorption into itself, by note of its free-will, of behind the present times, since they are incompatible "with any mering of he had beeven that an influence righted by which we describe as symphomestic," and in which it is " in- his out remain became on a second possible to stand without being aware that in time the universal of the inner processes of his life became closed, while his unuing from the sub-surface degrees to the broad daylight, and an arreal in 1 act wer ying system, by which the lower creation its experiences will pivet upon a more solid and deeper females quantum ( for a remety, cruelty, joulousy, stapidity, tem "(pp. 200-13). When much has robuilt husself upon this fifth, and scortation, whose foul funce then occan to percelate foundation, he will "open the doors of moral sensation to the the fine spaces of human beings" (p. 113). And "so the higher regions of active force," and " obey the fundamental law reproduction of the coarse lesis-form followed, after the fushion of all the world." "A finer quality of nature broads above the (not in the binne man" (p. 111). earth at this fresh crisis hour, and penetrates the race. The The fault, however, was neither that of the animals, who his increasing faculty for deeponing and onlarging the field of consciousness, until it opens up the spaces where the cost delights. I launo entity make play and inspiration " (p. 216). " The whole hustoric life of our planet thus resolves itself into inspirason the charge is complete one on the through hat work in est man assessed in and through their earth-horrowed outer organism" (p. 220).

Not to multiply citations, this book indicates a keets appreciation of the fact that the world is entering upon a new ore, and of the change as consisting in a vost unhancoment of the appritual consequences. It classes to be written from a at and point at once ethical, philosophical, and religious, and is redundant of passionate lamontation over the world a unhappy condition in the present, and of aspiration towards a bilesful regeneration of the race by means of mick equal development of the autouline and feminine qualities, as will make each indiridual a representative of the whole humanity. Thus far no recognise the high qualities which have concurred in its produccompelled to restrict this to but certain features of good to and the root with condengation. But the last thing we would the or to specify in the popular property and of their sol was manufact convertion." however mad bein we night we believe, first, that men ought to have the courses of their optimons, next, that freedom of opinion and expresse a are repression of personal testimony by the dominant orthodoxies, religious or sciontific, whorever the experiences concerned linear by a scuniture of a legitly refined and probably femanine organism, been considered akely to conflict with vested interests. Hence Such, however, is only the human and accordary agency in framing our radictment on this occasion we shall be excelled to The doctrine, briefly stated, a na follows. There is nothing intter, who is the actuating energy of master, being personal Respecting the class of experiences upon which this book in and bisexual, or the payers give some of the tire and based it is, we are told, the normal phase " of which we have had generating man directly in His own large. Where we have ear from tune memorial abnormal antitype in magic, mediumahip. of representing the roturn of spirit from metter by excerly and Spiritime, and cognate phonomena,", and which, " like physical gradual ascent through the unfoldment of his notestimities from makedy, is a makedy of the specific presenting the effect of nature, the lowest forms of life, "the original human creature was a to mempe the greater harm, while at the name time its character pure and creative form of the Divine human by if foot, a once has been distinctly that of discass." But since it has its one or a dress notes are therefore a west up of we women and women. of small accounts in the part of regarded with lemancy, and dog clonests from the subordinate annual world, caused the initial matic radgment is not passed upon them accomming wholly either distarbance of pure order on the planet, by "precritating the of magnitude or of infestation." They are, however, altogether men of reproduction, through the "wifful and conscious advanced degree of the new vulnate and quality of consciousness in the ever annual degrees of the new trace in the consummation of this development will aspect every mystery dominant consciousness began to reside in the activities leave the wholorunge of the spirit, or sub-surface, world as an now rea nest atti- y with him, and "he drow into honce of the open book, old and dismed. For the life of the future in all forces of brut sexua (pp. 4-7), and all "these positive de and of seek og on always negocid of the lower creation, and resulted in ranks and females, and sensible segn of this life infiltration lies for each individual in wore but passive agents in couring it , nor was it altogether part of the original individuality-consciousness of he vace sax, but also from all external activities. Sibs must resource but approached it from without, as from regions boyond its own the "and career" upon which in the present age the has entered, proper sphere of activity, and through areness which it had by withdrawing "from the stage-boards of publicity, indepeninalvertantly opened " (p. 54), and it is probable that "the denos, and self-gratification, upon which she has scrambled, and, intelligent beings, who, from the outside, first established a shrinking slike from the immedesty and the auxiety of a false quantrous influence on this earth a infant humanity, were summe position, sink back into the home of her samer saif, into the of those whose perverted will-activity had brought about a sweet questude of absorption there" (p. 15). Such is the "first physical dissolution of that previously existing globe in our solar call of the Mother-Pather new to the earth-daughters' aystem, whose untenanted orbit scionce has varily enduavoured (p 157). Doing this she will lose maked the estimated orbit scionce has varily enduavoured (p 157). to account for " (p. 51).

earth's humanity, the change" occurred which resulted in the already in case of those " men and women who begin to know inpas of mankind from a "floort" to a "enjul" state, and the thornacives as binne, and who rate their lives by the clear inthe credit of the man that he was not the one to blance, since will soul demicess. humanity was so constituted that its fail could occur only by the | first failure of its formouse sine. aquation of binnity lost, "there is no manuer of uniting the separation between men and women would be complete. many and famale forms of beings externalised as halves after he fashion of the earth's inhabitants, must to produce a conditiontion the case. In yet select the masses and the that will be blune, and that can abasels the bounty of full life currents. The external contact of two mutilated mages, derosi of the faculty by which particles mutually billow, qua neither produce nor reproduce the binne human form, . . . Men despite the solid spitation of numbered that they make in their garb of floch, are empty throughout the fine spaces that pervade thout. Women, beneath their fanciful army of unlasting charms, are stude of the enveloping strongth that should complete them This is a state of though during where he not give had not -based upon the *sex-nature of brutes - bless a second of the ventige of a ground of hope, for a estudying compact of even a stances among the Divine children here " (pp. 13 t Th tokens of the advent of the being, through whose instrumentality the man in the reconverted of a power equation of the any and anapoganoity, are inplin may greeted and the native of the process and advantages of the change profusely expounded. its organic and physical character, and the sommoneous of its one the age on the earth as compared sertect compared to offects being strennously anintained. Termed by Mr. Harris the counterpart or counterpartal angul, it is termed by Mr. Or plant the Bympacoma-an equivalent compounded from the Growk. And whereas according to Mr. Harris it is separated from man by difference of place, and waits, in its paralimies? home, the time when by his regeneration man shall be fitted for reservon with it; according to Mr. Obphant it loss, latent and of manate, in sum himself, being constituted of the final premient not liquid but othereal-matter which occupies the spaces between the greener particles of his body, being in virtue of its interiornem of place and medicity of substance, the immediate residence of Divinity. Its rounion with man " is effected solely by verse of his organic reception of the Symptomus's organism within his own," and brings to him " new power and nutgrowing from pure and perfect emeational delight of eax" (pp. 145, 147). " He owers not now the commerce of the dissovered sexus, nor the production of fresh peopeng in their forms for he even now in the expanding chambers of his own sub-surfaces, where the Sympionals a prescuce pervades and satisfies sometion" (p. 140). And when a man "has once experienced by rapetition the unarring totalency of delight, mteme, consultrent to visit him moutaneously, the painfullyacquired appropriants that he know before, of body, intellect, or spirit, fade and grow valueless" (p. 273). As if in order that there may be no metake about the material nature of the exportences thus described, it is further stated that "the intmanence of God in mut now because a physical fact, as physical as marital affections, as maternal emotions, but more absolutely and unmistakably physical; and acting upon the surface with an intensity superior to that of any other known sensation." For " what imprens when . the man opens kanself, purified, to the reception of the Divine elemental fire of semestion, m, that he finds its quality as of eax " (p. 26). And "he who feels God thus . . . . Sads that this quality is of sex dunity" (p. 20).

that of the brane man himself. For the first rituences of The condition of attnimment of her proper completeness evil to which the mee fell a proy in its infancy, dal not form a by woman involves not only her total separation from the other wishood and matherbood, but she will be freed from the But " when or how, or in what individuals or moss of this auxioties and self-sacrifices attendant upon them, and swen " severance of the external form into appearances exclusively tentions that arise in their biunity. . . no provision is made male or femule" (p. 105), such fault as there was on the for the continuance of earth-peopung after the fashion of the busing side, by with the woman, for it consisted in the " solf | past, the instinct for it having tallen utterly away." But albannshment of the woman part of man from her own place and though there will thus be a " partial sespension of most producfunction. Her defection of old was in truth the beginning of teen," to human beings will have the power of greatly extending sorrows, as her abnormal position remains to this day the pivot the length of the terrestrial cursor" (p. 181-2), by continuing to of the world's distress" (p. 107). It was, however, nothing to inhabit the earth as finent, androgymous entities unseem of its

It would naturally be supposed that having thus last all attruction for and need of such other, through the expulsive power Thus parted into two and become solutified, and the con- of the new affection for their respective Sympacumata, the We are secured, however, that the contrary will be to among contract could be each other in alread principatelian se or more a min acted only by their mutual desergion are for services or for entertainment. Even among the augher specimens of either sex, it requires on one side or the other, a staying of confidence that is not often upheld in long experience, for them to risk devotion to one another's existence." under the new conditions, when instead of men and women there are men-women and women-men, and each individual is being and complete in their off, we are told, " men "-by which is mount those whose interior eax is featurine, " will not fear to treat in women "-or those whose interior sex is mesculinewhen their impotuous impulses spring forth at the call of the human need, woman will no longer four to give an absolute durotion to the encours of men, when those cleave by their lives he ways to the whole human happingen." But they will be and where the follows of the mice than have come, 'by joining grow abresat into the full revenopment of their time (p. ,59). (To be continued)

METATION By Mr. W. O. Wills. London: Macmillan and Co., or may be obtained of the Psychological Prem, 4, Ave Maria-

The strat poems of which a very distinctive feature is its impleto originality in almost every respect. It is in blank 750 if the beauty and chathin as has rarely been written nee he ayand Shakespeare of whom Mrs Browning winte, He is the most winderful a risk in blank terms of all Ringland, who a dead the sar jest We do not even my that we might, that his hand first proved the compass and on one production of the new matrionent. But we do say that it tever answered another hand as I answered him. Wed- my that this fingering was never learned of himself by enother." Whether Mr. Wills has loamed from Shakespears or not annot be mid here, but indebtably, not only in this posts, out in many if his arrana we have this fingering " if such excellence se nous since Shakespeure have displayed. Moreover, the canguage and the wonderin, joint ug in every me show the have a gift such as beents has shown in Endymon. and the "Eve of St. Agnes." The peem opens with the description of a quant old town on the Rhine, of which the following lines may serve se a specimen -

The rim co, walls much from the over reak. Beyon, the indge ower of the Unper Town. And as us no note the fleet by water. The red do walls are doubled down again. here we not the watering wear one and twent it have it have a writing to me the indicate off.

Any den it was a an ite petra wall. It was die err carton of the town. Sar e to a desert gamen neath its stade. Encurried by a frace of week grown rubble Hore basked and rocated neek conventual heirs. And appeal at the green coul after each sip. I pturming properly a grateful beak.

In the description of Melchor's garden is the following

April 11, 1883.]

Tail queenly ses towered in scented muce. We be troops of spirits lossed bey mid and waiting. For some disciple of he observable Or martyred sunt to come and muse, he byton Which she oberes on their curies and marble po Now fix query on a flowers, on ant whom Now gast hip, on the whith which a goal Hannies the place, and a strick knew cach flower."

These are by no means the best examples of such delicious word painting an has previously been seen only in the poetry of Kests, who, had he lived in this world for half a century, might have given us, out of his ripo expensence, joined to the postic gift, such a poom as "Melchior"

What will, however, be of greater interest to the readers of "Leavy" is the remarkable spiritualism of the poom. Melchior, who for years had been righted by rimons of boly mants, as recaused to eartify life at length by he are of a woman and seeing her die, is almost instantly comforted by the pulpalite presence of her spirit, who continues to be near him during the brief remainder of his earth life. His friend who comes to sympathine with him finds that-

"His again approved were stilled to a total. To juvial weeding rout that passed his road, In selemn faith a funeral went by

" But Melebor's secret heart was in a summer. My emplification summer or young in norths. A row so is made that asserts and Far environmental in itself complete.

And when Melchior gives back to his friend the portrait he had painted, his friend says :--

" How can I take It " 'tie thy last memorial. * Nay, friend.' said Melchtor, sake in with me still, And bids me give it back, and say to thee, Be constituted—shed no more tears for mu.

Ak, Hams, she is more lovely—leveller far

When the prior urgan him to pray for deliverance from these delunions, Melchioc mys-

I am at nears.

But call not fantasy this vis tation Of one abow I abow, an I have seen Dady since her release as on, allly As then send and the deaped as my hand chasps thine. He send does step I feel when the glides in, Her gare, the pretty wistful gant, I greet Wish bulled delight, all yesterday twas on ma."

To extract yet finer passages than are here given, and there are many each, or to give here an outline of the story told in the poors, would be to do the mimors tajustice to the author and to his week. Beautaful as the jewels are, they must be admired in the harmony of their setting, and the web of silk and gold which binds them, exquisitely true and lovely as it is, cannot be hald been of rich and necessary growth of adorament so defuly intersection. Enough to my that the web of life displayed in the posts is wonderfully true, and conveys deep instruction to those who will neek benoath a corfuce, which is of itself of such beauty as to allow oven the chance gazer

There is a completeness in the work which would have been wanting had the writer stopped short at the earth-life of homseity. But while he puts before us humanity in various phone he goes beneath the entrace, as few can do, and propresting further he takes us beyond the grave to the absolute reality of the after-phase of our existence, and of the commumou of the freed spirit with those yet in the feeh. Probably few books on Sparitualism will do so much to spread its truths among cultured readers as is likely to be accomplished by

THE TREUMPS OF TIME. Mystical Poem. By Ella Dietz. A Seguel. to "The Triumph of Love." London E. W Allen, 4, Ave. Maria-lane. 1884. Price 4s. Gd.

Many who remember with pleasure "The Triumph of Love" will turn with interest to the present rolume by the same writer. intended to run through the book, nor can we criticise to any gentleman help, sassant correspondent, or travelling companion great extent the way in which the authoress has carried it out. ) There is no more deficult task to the artist, whether in word, abilities and educational gifts. in colour or in form, them to take the symbols of the earthly, the ( sensuous, and so to sufere them with the sperit that no trace of discord or incongruity remains. The difficulty is perhaps greatest when the symbolism chosen introduces the highest truths of the Christian faith

We do not wish to quote spoual poems and verses in which the writer appears to have failed in her endeavour; and in which the result seems deficient in that dignity and power which justify the attempt

The charm of the book lies in the exquisite songwinterspersed through its pages, and in verses here and there, which are in thomselves beautiful little pictures. The following lines from an Inter use entitled "Winged Sleep," are almost perfect, both in concent on and in execution -

"Lo" is the night with my arms wound around thee.

I carry thee facto wome start lin to esteam,
There where my more hath recaptured and noting thee, I k is thee at we can the deep myster dream,

"Child of the lotes, and pearl of the ocean, Queen of my boson, and queen of the air, I call thy deep soul to receive my devotion. And whatper dulight to thy spirit most fair

Day may divide us, no night-time united us. I readile shall restore us to music and love A dream in enclantions. that area and in these are To groves of a see, spaces, the home of the love What though our feet transi the entill on the process.

To night we are notices, to night we are free Let me drink deep of joy forget earth and lis sorrow, And back in the lovel-right of Academ and thee."

Decampled y but invery a more become strain is attended In the "Valediction, at the close of the vocame, the muse swells upon the aumortal theme of all true poets. "The yourning for the boautiful denied them, as Mrs. Barrett Browning describes it !-

Who oughts he Temple of F crest tiene/v Whenhat is man we premay stones, Laya down his his before the best of duty and caree not where shall rest his weary son To neck and has that kingdom of great worth, With serip and staff content he fares him forth. He feels not pain he feels not hady's faultur, His juyful spirit heavenly visions some, Engraped is he of the averlant ng. And wants on he sen a type has known. On more deer a his min' a fixed offent In frequent prayer are head and body heat "

Such a book as this will, of course, strike different minds very differently, according as it harmonises more or loss with their own feelags, but to ourselves "The Triumph of Love" would seem to have deserved a more agreem, and if we may use a nominouplace word, a loss continuental "sequel."

CORRESPONDENCE.

[It is preferable that correspondents should append their names and addresses to communications. In any case, however. these must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good

The Resurrection Body To the Editor of " Liour

Six -The statement made by "Lily" as to the resolution of a human body into its original olomonia and grass in one that are marting that I think it would be well to have chapter. and verse for it. If true it is a most important fact in its bearing on the investigations of Spiritualists. It is obvious that the statement, as made at present, has no value as exact evalence. Can "Lily" put us in the way of verifying what she alledes to ! April 6th, 1885. A SPIRITUALIST

A Deserving Case. To the Edstor of " Laurer

Sir,-Through your columns I beg to tender my eincoze thanks to those philanthropic and benevolently minded friends who, at Mrs. Everitt's appeal on my behalf, have forwarded contributions towards my support. I can assure then that these have proved an important relial in my circumstances. But it is employment that I am roully standing in argent meed of and most respectfully, but not less semestly, I implore the many friends who may be able to assist me in that way, to try and rescuo me from the painful position in which I have found We shall not attempt to explain the "mystical" idea which is myself placed for those last three months. Confidential servent, any one of these positions would be in harmony with my

I have life 8, C. Hall's authority to mention my being personally known to him, and I can show excellent testimonials. I am, sir, yours respectfully,

JOHN H POLLEN.

145. New North-road, London, N

At Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT," 6, AVE MARIA LAME, LONDOX, E.C.

SUBSCRIPTION RATEM.

The Annual Subscripton, for "Easter," put free to pay arkitems within the United Kingdom, de to places comprised within the Postas Union, including all parts of Europe, the United States, and British North America, is 10a. 10d. per annual, forwarded to our office in

ADVERTISEMENT CHARGES.

ADVERTISEMENT CHARGES,
Five lines and under Sa. One toch, 4a. 6d. Colours, 62.2a. Page &a. reduction made for a series of intertions.
Onders for Papers and Advertisements may be addressed to the Editor of Late of A vice Maria and 2. S. Colours and P. S. Others have be made passented to the Bahara, at the linef Black, Laminon. Hadpening a stage Standard Represent or appointed in a 10-2.

A STATE TO THE PUBLIC "Leadity" may also be seen and from AV KY 3, two Maria into-

NOTICE TO SESSENTERNS.

Subscriptions for 1885 are now due. Expectibers will oblige by formarshing have at one ers. The Mulloger of LIGHT 4 Are Marin-lane, E.C. Pass Miller theters may be made payable to Henry Barnes - Act beforeint Correspondence to be addressed to "The Editor."

Hight .

SATURDAY, APRIL Den. 1884.

TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION

In August, 1860, there appeared in the Cornkill Magazine an electrical written by the wel-known well-accepted facts fairly in the face. They constitute a littleratour Robert Bell, cutatled, "Stranger than Fiction The article consisted of minute and escelady-prepared worse, which need not a constdetails of a series of phenomena witnessed by the writer, and vouched for by him on a hald statement of incontrovertifacts. So marvellous were the records that Tlackerny, who was editor of the magazine at the time appended with proper caution the following note -- the above astounding parrative owns that he "would refuse to henove much though upon the evidence of other people's eyes. his readors are therefore free to give or withhold

Spiritual phenomena in their modern form had been and prominently for twelve years at the time of the not continue to do as herotofore, but we hope some one publication of the Cornhill article. Since that date a clos will undertake this service. As such work concerquarter of a contury has passed away, and during the whole rightly within the sphere of the London Spiritanlist of that period the strange phenomena of modern Spiritualism have been urging their claims for recognition on a retoctant and Sudducean world. Facts similar to those experience, promise hun plenty of work. recorded by Robert Hell have been over and over aga a investigated by some of the most critical and adicial minds of the civilized workl, and by all who have fully and enrefully examined them they have been acknowledged to be gramme. There is, certainly, not un absolute conscious of opinion as to their origin, but there is complete conformity of opinion as to their objective reality and grammeness.

The following names of sceptical investigators who Epot Sargent, Charles Beecher, President Lincoln.

of scorn and virulent almse, do not some representative organizations, my the Royal Society, or some other learned and recognized society, depute intelligent and representative investigators to examine, and ascertain the facts, as committees of the House of Commons search for facts, through the examination of competent witnesses 1 There are hundreds of esses in which the facts are accepted though they have not been investigated and proved by a twentieth part of the competent witnesses who have for many years tested and proved the reality and genuineness of what are termed spiritual phenomena.

It may be freely admitted that, with the opinions respecting natural laws that are at present generally held, it would be in the last degree absord to accept the alleged phenomena of modern Spiritualism without overwhelming evidence from numerous competent, and credible witnesses, or the personal evidence which is the result of long and patient investigation. To accept the generally recorded phenomena of Spiritualism without one or both these phenos of eridence would be indicative of considerable credulity, whilst, on the other hand, to reject them without examination, notwithstanding the abundance and quality of the avidence offered in their favour, would be indicative of a conservative bigotry and projudice not excelled by the theological preposessions of the Maldle Ages.

We affirm with Huxley that the "amertions that outstrip avidence are not merely blunders, but crimes," and that the lettersteure who contribute to their respective papers the absurdly ignorant distribus against spiritual phenomena and Spurtualists, are simply ignorant, prominent or me al blunderers who dare not honestly look on the forward and ignorant agotry, or something

SPECIAL NOT, A TO INQUIRERS AND INVESTIGATORS.

For a long period we have devoted a considerable As editor of this magnetic, I can rough for the good amount of time and trouble to answering the inquiries, and faith and honourable character of our correspondent, a ordenvouring to set at rest the difficulties, of investigafriend of twenty-five yours' standing out a to war and tors. We can do so no longer. There has come a limit when it is impossible for in to keep pace with all the demands upon our time, and we must now rigulty confine our attention to the editorial duties connected with this journal. These, to tell the truth, are in themselves more than enough, withbefore the world for examination about twenty-five years, out clerkly help, for one pair of hands. We regret we can Alliance, we have little doubt that the secretary of that body will cheerfully do what is necessary. We can, from

> THE LONDON SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE. - The next convenamone of the Alliance will be held on Finday, April 24th, in the Society for Psy no at the east it A general meeting of The following names of sceptical investigators who become finally believers ought to command respect over from mon so prejudiced and Boheman as are Dr. Lankester and Mr Labouchere—Prof. Have, Judge Edmonds, Dr. Dexter, B. S. w. Lake the classical state of the Secret o Epot Sargent, Charles Beecher, Fremdent Lincoln, and amounts, who are at aborty to note in an Parent to Libyd Garrison, Wm. Howitt, Benj. Coleman, Dr. Ash burner, Dr. Elliotson, Frol. de Morgan, R. Chambers, by the Society for Phantana of the Dead. Part II (2) Robert Stephenson, Andrew Leighton, Prof. Grookes, Higher Aspects of Meanerism. Note. Members and associates Afred Russel Wallace, Dr. G. Wilk pson, S. C. Hall, C. will be admitted on writing their names at the door. Persons Varloy, Profs. W. F. Borrett, Zöllner, Weber, and Butterof, and handreds of well-known literary and scientific men.

Many of those names are yet living on earth. Why, instead.

Who do not belong to the Society will be admitted on the production of an invitation eard, duly filled in and signed by a member or associate.—Enward, T. Benner, Secretary, M., Dean's-yard, Westminster, S. W.

TRACES OF SPIRITUALISM IN BECENT WORKS.

April 11, 1865.

Br " M. A. (Oxox,")

11

PAGANINI'S GHOST

In Karoline Baner's Memoirs the following story of meet our eyes. Lt. at L ar Pagantai and his ghostly violen is gravely told.

Pagazine died in Nima on the 27th of May, 1840, after hang and fearful sufferings but the restless when sive was not to had rest aron in death. The dergy refused him a Christian burial became he had not received the last Sagrament. The unhappy son had to take his father's body by sea to Villafrauca, then to his country house, Polcovers, near Gence, but the Bishop of Gence also refused his consent to the interment, and the other was for your expectation of the me. O'. There, of the second state of the measurement of the four arranged for a x- y measure of the spectrum tout, and made large bequests to the obstrets. Then the spectrum wailings of the violin were no longer heard at the cultin of Pagamini, and the limbou of Parasa at last parasited the body, after the years' wanderings, to be taken to Parms and buried the neighbourhood of the wills Gapons in May, 1848." ["Mamours of Karoline Bauer," Vol. 1., pp. 219-20.]

THE COLDSMID FAMILY

Lucy, in his most amusing " Diary of Two Parliaments, gives the following account of Kablamsto influence on the Goldsund family, which many a living Occultust would readily accept as true -

I heard a word story in connection with the private history of the Goldanid family. It is a tradition in the family and generally with the Jews sottled in England, that for nearly 100 years a latel spoil has eventhang the Goldanida, and facts show that in a manner, doubtless due to coincidence, but never tholess remarkable, the spoil has particles to the spoil of the spoil has particles and the spoil of the spoi tury there lived in London a Jewale Stable, allwith magned powers. This near was known as the limbs do for When he deed he left to Auron Goldanid, great-grandfather ad that Sir Francia who was killed in a railway accident at Waterloo Station, a sealed jacket, with strict injunctions that it should be carefully reserved, but never opened. By my of outcomes the required the red Dutch storchast who founded the Goldsmid family in England, that if his instructions were obeyed he and he descendants would back in the sun of presperity till the coming of the Mesmal. If his instructions were disregarded, ill fortune would finally evertake each encountry representative of the race."

Old Astron Goldstand kept the packet, holding it ascred for some years (the story is too long for exact quotation, and I give in my own words the emportant facts), but his surjointy overcains him, and he opened the pucket. A few hours afterwards he was found doud. Near him were the contents of the packet-a mual piece of parchinent covered with Kabbalistic characters.

divided amongst his children. Two of his some Beginnen and for us, with General door of the course in Lemma Ob and Abraham—entered futo business as money-brokers, and the whole, we profer knowledge to faith. Doubtiess it is a gethered together a colound fortune. But the Kabbalist's curse worked, and on April 15th, 1808, being then fifty-five years of age-rich, bencured, powerful, and estermed—be continued existence should not be more established than here died by his own hand.

Abraham now carried on the business, and in 1810 vacillated; hentated, and blundered. He became despondent, and finally, a sum of half-a-million being due on a partacular day, he knew not were to put his hand on the money. Abraham Goldsmid was draid.

was a great financier, amazzed a large fortune, and was one of the ready to swallow the British Museum. the principal founders of University College, London. He retired at sixty years of age with an English barouetey and a "About fifteen yours age, rading on herseback, I plantly as "About fifteen years of his Joseph Phelps, some eighty years old, whom I well know, at life in childishness and vacuity sendent at Waterloo Station.

[Luoy's " Diary of Two Parlistments," pp. 393-k.]

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK.

SAMI

I We skull esteem it a layour on the part of our readers if they will forward us, for use in this column, any allusions to Spiritualism and Psychical Research they may come scross in the course of their reading. We see a great many of these ourselves, but it is obvious that there must be many references to the saujest which do not

I see but one colliculty in the vary remarkable statement of Mr Backna, of Nowcastle. It is a possible theory of throughre enoug. Did Mr. Barkas know the answers to his questions f. Were they photographed, so to say, on his team, where, though unconscious to him, a chirvoyant night road them?

Naturally, as any stock is good enough to beat a dog with, I my hold of what I did not believe in yesterday, with which I belabour what I am anwilling to believe to-day. So mosmering was abourd data we found it could explain some things m Speritualism, while the monneric hearings of the Bothsham

What we have to recognize as a living fact is, that the on hodred spirit can acoustimes display the same powers that it comesson when frond from the body. Must of us are tied up too tightly m matter for that, but a clear varion comes to some, and sparits can make good use of others

The iron ring on the wrist of Mr. Hosk, though seen and examined with more or less care by hundreds, has not, I am torry to learn, been entirfactorily authenticated. If it still can upon his wrist, there should be secured the sworn toric may a surge or and sugmoon. We are carelett of words a when they become fanding. Then few persons our trust the onths any more than the words of the witness of a fact that somes merchible. The Americans say "I would not behave a if you swore it on a stack of Bibles !"

People with large "approbativenous" and "canther" shrink ron telling what they know to be true. They "keep probability in view." It required moral courage and conscience in Crooken, Zollner, and Wallace to give public testimony to the acts. S area on Many a man would rather fight Amor in the Soudan than mean risticule by telling what he knows to be

And telling the truth is not always a safe operation. A man a a mant be not suide after his death, or he might be put into a unu is so him. These perils, as well as the lighter ones of recould and sugarious, swell the marshers of the Sucodenius Cast.

* Faith has be I migh permited among us, and we are reaping the results in all the ords that are thickening around un," anys-Aaron Goldsmud had amossod a large fortune which he the Pall Matt Goodle. Faith as lighting against as in the Southan, comfort to many to believe in immortality, but it is scarcely conscivable that an absolute knowledge of the fact of a

The vote of the whole Beach of Busheps for keeping the joined the home of Baring in contracting for a Ministerial public picture galderies and museums closed on Sundays was loan of fourteen millions. On him the caree seemed to rest. He quite ex-offices, and a matter of course. Lucking at the works of God might interfere with " the facilihnous of preaching." But the Bench of Bullops only made a tie, which leaves a handsome majority in favour of science and art. In the nonopincopul, unconsecrates Lorda, Wall, Hampton Court and Kow At the hour when the sum was due it was found that Gardons are open on Sundays to everybody and the Crystal Palaco and Zoological Gardens to a great many Whou the After an interval arose Isaac, a nephew of Benjamin, He Bishops have digosted the Wife's Sister Bill they may, perlaps, my side on foot, keeping up with my horse whother he went His heir it was Sir Frances who was lalled in the fast or slow. He told the when a to where he has deed and soon damppoared. In about ten days I got news of his reathwhich occurred just before the hour of the day on which a saw him." In a similar case Mr. Paine was told of the death of an old friend, and also who had preached his funeral sermon.

Sarrow the most famous of French draumtistaster V ctor Hogo. HA Spiritualist, and holteves that he writes his plays under spirit gustance. This may be a delusion, but what can be said of the following account of the production of an exquisite engraving of Muliere's house on copper? " Sested one day at my table, ho mys, "I fell into a reverie. Unconsciously I took up the graver, and, impolled by secret influence, let my hand follow result of several lours of purely mechanical toil. I could not of my own will make such a picture to save my life."

4 4 4 Hero is a bit from an account of a materialising acance w Indiana, U.S.A. : " The medium having taken her young son into the cabinet for better manifestations, the doors were auddenly thrown open by some unseen power, displaying an amondily of seven persons, large and amail. They were all dressed in garmente that shows like burnshed silver, set with gons , while a most brilliant light chone upon them abore. It formed the most belliant and beautiful speciasis I ever responed and the medium and her son were found extirely alone vessel with Madamo Blavatsky, he landed at Colombo to con summate his conversion to Buddham, An eye-witness saw him sected at the feet of the yellow-robed musisters of Buddha, repeating after them, "I take my refuge in Buddha, in the Law, and in the Order." "The Panell was administered by the Why not intitate the open-emidedness of the Printe Minister, Righ Priost, the Rav. H. Sumangala, Principal of the Vidyodaya College, sasteted by the Roy, T. Amaramoll. There were presont many of the prominent native citizens of Caylon."

When our English manipuries go to convert the Bundhada to Christianity what will they do with the Roy, Londbester ! Or is then even chance that they got ploked off by Madame Biavaosky 2

Twenty-three years ago, March 22nd 1802, the for wing delightful paragraph appeared in the Riviented London Never, "We regret to see any implied encouragement extended, in any influential quarter, to the ridiculous quacks who call them solven spirit mediums. Burely such impostors and their folios may be left to the patronage of some-hystorical fadies with more money than brance, and who, weary of the ordinary disapations of a silly life, and not able to find sensation in visiting be committing some folly, and, except that the medium scance le a mixture of vulgarity and profanity, we do not know that a allly woman is doing much harm in spolling the alphabet she ought to be teaching. This nothing should be written that intimates any approbation of those wrotched jugglers. They do their work exceedingly III, blunder eight times out of ten, and are 'sold with the most perfect one, and their only success a obtained in a darkened room, and among persons from whom diabelievers-that is, people of sense-have been excelully rentored. We send the gipty to the House of Correctionthese quacks may keep beyond the letter of the law but their rocation is not at all more respectable three that of the brown beggar who wheedles the servant girl to steal the speen in order to rame money to race the sinnets."

The world does move, after all-slowly if you please, but it really moves; and the cry is now that men of actonec should investigate Spiritualism-as many have done and are doing. . .

My friend, Mr. E. T. Bannott, sends a capital ghost story to the Richmond and Treathenham Times. A haly, walking with her husband, in an avenue on the Surrey side of the Thomes, ago. Both saw hus, and spoke of his queer way of designing about as if apying on thom-thou, as if he had been shot from a gun, both saw him at a considerable distance. He then gradually why don't they !

became transparent so that they could see treet and river through the spectra form—then completely rapialed. A very good old-fashioned ghost, but how account, on the illumon theory, for face persons accong it?

A correspondent of the Methodist Recorder, considering that the facts of Spiritualism are proven to be true by many competent amentific witnesses, believes that it is a revised form of witchcraft and a device of our great spiritual adversary. He says if witcheraft did not exist, why the command to slay wazards its own direction over that plate. The engraving you see is the and witches? The editor bepar the phenomena can be explained as either trickery or some occult force pretending to he a departed human being. If not, then it is Satania. He admits, however, "certain appearances, especially those occurring at the moment of, or immediately after, the departure of the spirit from the body, of which the instances are too numerous and well attented for them to be wholly unreal." Now, why not do one of two things find out by personal examination what is real, or set it all down as humber, practised by knarms on fools !

And why is it that Christian editors who believe in a devil behold. When the dions were cleard, they were innecessally created by God, who foreknew that he would lead men to perdition, find it so difficult to believe in a ghost or other spirit manifestation? The writers of the Pentateach and of the Acts of the Apostles had no such difficulty. Why go on blindly Madama Blavateky has converted an English clorgyman, the loading the blind, when a few hours' acrious investigation would Ray C.W Leadboater, to Buddhum, After rayaging in the same settle the case as to the facts, and enable the able editor to have some idea of what he is writing about?

> The case of the Witch of Erdor is carriers and interesting, no doubt-but it happened a good way off and a long time ago. and have a school or two with Mr Eglinton, Mr. Husk, or any reputable and accepted medium? Why preach or write of what one knows nothing about and will not have the farmers to in-

> The IFA totall Recoverat A subsection a jury of conjurers for the trial of Spiritualism. Individual conjurars, such as three whose testimony is published in every number of " Licht," do not satisfy it. Empanul a round down and it will be estimfed with their verdict. But would Professor Huxley or Professor Ray Lankotter be estudied ! Not one atom. They would my ronpurcruare professional mercentary liets, and the jury has been nacked and bribed.

But in what way is a conjurer a better judge of what he manut do then any man of sense ! For example, I hold the hand of Mr. Eglinton, and one of my chairs in found threaded their poorer neighbours or other works of charity, resort to the on my arm. All in the room examine it. No conjurer can de 'apirite as a misens of excitoment. Such persons will always such a trick, and no one, of course, can tell how it is done. Muskelyna and Verbock are equally empotent. One clever conjurer, in such a case, would be as good as a down. Rewards of from £50 to £500 have been offered for years to any conjurer who would do one of a dozen things commonly done in apiritualist someon, and no one has ever classed such rewards. Conjugara, indeed

> The Whitehell wants to know why spirits prefer to see state pencils for writing, and whether they are prepared to write their answers on a sheet of paper sews in between two folds of curpet? Wall, I can show this auxious inquirer spirit writings with lead pencile and with pen and ink, done in closed books, closed boxes, between two slates firmly fastened together, and other seemingly impossible situations. In sinc cases out of ten no conjurer in the world could tall how it was done botter than the simplest of clodhoppers.

Mr Cook, in the prolude to his 172nd lecture, says the notorious Mr. Slade, whom Professor Zölfner employed, has been before the Seybert Committee and has conserred puzzled them. Nevertheless, Mr. Kellar, the didney-used magician, has agreed to parallel whatever Mr. Slade has done, and to explain how he from Richmond to Twickenham, mw a man, dressed as if he did "it." Of course he did. When did a professional conjurer had stopped out of an old picture, in a costume of two contaries | ever full to give himself a good advertisement or to boast of what he could do? It is his trade, and he works at it. If conjurers can do what is done daily in spiritualist stances,

DISSENT AT ROME FROM Le Messager (LIEGE).

April 11, 1685.]

soon to affect the entirety of old Christendom, is just now the Dissent in the Church. It furnishes an additional proof that Pio None, by his Syllabus, his dogmas of Impurculate Conception and Papal Infallibility, dealt a fatal blow to Cethonerson.

logicos

degradation in the midst of progressive civilisation. We icalth hold that harmony between the Papacy and progressive divilization is impossible, at the mine time, we maintain the possibility of harmonising such progress with the Church as founded by Jesus Christ.' They say, ' The Romish Church, according to St. Paul, is not, as he thought in the carly time of his conversion, the root, but a branch ; and although the complaints were often of long standing this branch, not even a natural one, is sustained by the sole trunk, the Redressor, and which, when injurious to the tree, He may cut off.

"Among the many points in their encyclesal in their insistence that the prayers of the Church should be in the language of the people, and not in obsolete Letin. It concludes : "Our watchwords, as pricets of religion, and as citizens, are, to honour the august head of the nation, and to cherish love of our country, in which, by God's provdence, we were born men and estizens before being children of the Church.'

" The describents—the orthodox call them sometics -thus openly declars war against the Vatious; so we may expect to hear its thursder rolling over their bold heads Monalgnor Lavarèse announces as being in the press a book entitled The Excorrasumeation of Ideas a reply to the Cardinal Viene of Rome; ' intended, no doubt, to be another arm in the conflict."

We have been asked to insect the following .- Dr. J. Commodern Street (recently strived from Borton, Mass., U.S.A.) has kindly consented to give a discourse at Cavendish Rooms, 51. Mortimer-street, Langham-place, W , on Sunday evening, April 12th, at seven welock. His remarks will bear on the recent spiritual and psychical researches, now so popular amongst the educated classes in Boston, embracing psychomotry, and "metaphysics" or the powers of the mind over the body. The steps that have been taken in these investigations will be pointed out, also the general results arrived at, with such practical hints as may be gathered from the dangers and advantages attending the investigation. This lecture will be a general introduction to a course of private classes about to be instituted, in which students will be introduced to a knowledge of the nature and properties of their psychical nerroundings, and the spiritual relations to which these give rise. Instruction will be given in such individual case, how to control these unseen conditions so as to improve their quality, leading to the spiritual elevation of the individual, and the development of his lateral mediamentic gifts. It is that form of psychical resourch which trables man to knew Amuelf, as the basis whereon to investigate the manifold wonders that surround him. Private clauses will be formed, for a course of seven lessons, when twenty stedents come forward. Address 16, York-street, Portman

MESMERISM AS A CURATIVE AGENT

(Translated from the Londoner Zeitung Harmann.)

There are extraordinary phonomena exceedingly difficult to In Italy the most prominent topic in home offers, and explain, but which admit of proof beyond doubt or refutation Amongst these may be reckened the surative methods of the colchrated Spanish speciment, Mr. F. Omerin, who, by the application of his system of vital force unaided by modicine, has cared diseases which have baffled the skill of some of the most segment motherl mon. That this statement is no alle assertion in proved by the tentimony of monorous persons of undoubted We extract the following comments upon the subject, so integrity, who have been cured by him after having brief every exciting to Catholics throughout Europe, from our Spanials other remody in valu-persons who reside in Lentine, and whose Spiritualist contemporary, the Berista de Estador Perco-social position precludes all doubt as to the perfect remains of their statements. And to these testimonies we can add our nun experience, for Mr. Omerin has not only cured us of "The excommunicated founders of the dissentient' Italian rhounstian in the right shoulder, but has also sured one of our Catholic Church have issued an encyclical in reply to that intimate friends of a liver complaint of many years standing, of the Vatican. It is signed by the dissentient Church which none of the doctors whom he consulted were able to dignitaries and priests-Monaignor Lavarine, Monaignor (accomplish, whilst the complaint, as well as a throat disease of the Count Campobello, and the priests Luciano and Capue. [ teng standing, from which he suffered, yielded to Mr. Omerin's special treatment within a very few days. The diseases which "In their encyclical, which separates them definitely Mr. Omeria so successfully treats, comprise, mainly, affections of from the Orthodox Church, they say, ' If the hearts and | the herrous system, and darangements of the digestive organs, the much of Rahans are to be eternally oppressed by the Vatt- | duturbed function of which he rustores, importing to the can superstation, they must renounce reason, smence, liberty, justient renowed life and strength, and thus re-codowing him and all evolution of political life, and they must wink onto l with nature's most procious gift, which makes life done to man-

> According to the testamonics before as Mr Omerin has cared cases of nouralgla, noution, gout, rhounnting, epitepsy. readarbo, mana it the back one in the joints, failure of muscular where parts year. It chickens, and cumprism other discover, some if which he we trea er it wan by experienced medical map. and an most cases the cures were affected in a very short time,

We jushish those facts soluly in the interest of suffering burganity and are convinced that Mr Omerin's method want in the source of time, be more and more appreciated, sithough doubtless he, like all imporators who have to strike out a path for themselves, will have to struggle against opposition, to overcome many projudices, and to disprove all kinds of antiquated theories. Truth is, however, stronger than propulies, and facts appeal more alequently to the senses than theories, and there is so doubt that he will ultimously succeed in overcoming all obstacles, and continue to relieve the afficted, in quite of any opposition he may encounter, however powerful such opposition

AN INQUIRY To the Bilder of "Lione."

Stm.—And I right in concluding that there is no place at London (is there in England I) where I can find files of the various Spiritualist newspapers and magnaines published in forent parts of the world?

I am troutently away from this city, and upon my return I desire to look up what has been taking place during my absence, yet I am given to understand there is no possibility of reference of any bind content that the same possibility of reference of any kind owing to the want of a spiritualistic library. I am informed there is a society in London called the London Spiritualist Alliance, but that it has not a house nor even an address, and is consequently uselsss for the purpose I, and deabtless many others, desire. There used to be, I believe, a very fine library in Great Russell-street, to which, I understand, it was possible to get admittance upon the payment of a small fee. In that library still in existence? for I have failed to find it at the old andress. In the large towns of the United States I have always found Spiritualistic Forance, where files of newspapers are kept for reference, and it seems where nies of newspapers are kept for received, and it seems entraordinary that here in the west City of London there is no matitude of the kind, despite the continued sasurances of Spiritments I must that their movement is making rest hundreny. There must be many others (I cortainly knew some) who have similarly to complain, and their impression must be as once at that if between them the Spiritualists example support a o stary of readings soon, they must be a very poor community or else a very spa hetic one

I write air to or the spirit of flance, but with a desire to obtain the information I seek, and if this effect case we tention the mater of course, supposing I am correct in my of directions the Spiritualists will have reason to thank Charm, Cross Hotel Ax Ingeniting Strangert

A will 4th.

PS I am nothing if not innersea, and or not wish it to be understood I am need of an indicatage at the expense of others. If there is a roway I will jum it atmediately, and pay double the annual subscription, as an avidence of my contrition in having troubled you with this letter.

SPIRITUALISM IN THE PROVINCES.

EMERURAH. -- Spiritualium, as far as public advocacy is concorned, has been at a standatal in this city for some years past But the recent valits of Mass Ressmont Dale Owen, to lecture to the Secular party. Imagives a little stir to the subject, also on her last visit having advocated the cause in a lecture, and Mr. Logi, an applyo member of the social the triggiven the or wiadarouses on it from a Socular standpoint. On Bunday Ware. 20th, Mr. Cilmour, of Glaugow, also lactured on "Modern Speritualism, prefacing his address by remarking that a man who stated that he investigated may subject with a perfectly understand mind did not, to say the losst, tell the whole truth , and the freely configured that on the present subject, he was not free from projuntee. Still he would be no fair as he could, me began by giving a short description of the disturbaneous in the Westey family, and in compositon with the Fox girts of America He then, in some detail, enticised the "Distrectical report and sports photos, which, augustely, were always very nametines, he would like to know more about how they were taken. Rapolly passing over the "Ketie King" affair America, and Mr. Crooken' work, he finished up with comments or ' Hafed "and Mr. Dagaid's drawings, which he described as addition and in after violation of all ridge of art. "If spirits would save children from doubt by burning, and mineral [ from exploitons, and come and poor some accept celestial most uto the house and hands of humanity, it would be more practical than saving the heads of bulk-boared old governofrom fire and strumming on banjos and guitars or Bowie, in roply, statud that he did not mak there wan may probability of convincing the lecturer in . supplied as with an extraordinary unaber of fac- as confement to an authors intuligance on the part of the J mad mindip of the Fox girls, the semice attented by fourtoes witnesses was quotee from "Linter." Yes because the lecturer had not been such though they were met by denial, and it was percented that they could have no examines outside the brain of a monitotin. What right had the lecturer to speak for the W rest of the world? Surely, the teatment of such men as Crookes, Zöllner, Wallace, and many others who be in at g to the at ject is worthy of credence? Of all men W See data are too a rock trader to be need to be at a contract of the contract over a period of some years. After a few remarks had to a l.J. posted by others, the lectures amound up by observing the atwhich be described performed by the tensor of the second a long brought in the made of all diversity we show the following the second section of the way said the remains the said Warter to the Committee of One to Mr. Rhodes that the Society Society have three Sunday evnigs vicent during the next three months, and that the be glid to mre a lecture on the subject from the Sparish as side of the question Option the grange of Mr. R. W. W. S. M. W. S. ar arytical trademation of the account in in the month, answers to written questions took the place of the rates by descented at the evening meeting. The massive some of a wide range of athlects, theological series in the should be one the guides of Mr. Wolf solicer stock as oversoming from M. Her or of other to beauty desired, the fine marriage and except the form of his specific for a few section. M. I've for each were one of his observed mean and who went transers, aims to a ones which exist in to see a and commercial in the same resolution of the large a rich wire of the same discoultance as one congressions. from the amnunes. A new experiment by way of extending the by tuthrouse of the association through master of the services My and Mrs. Wasse and their government to a contract the services has been arranged that do more most its of the min sept of the monety shall be a recommon week in weak as we have a constraint seed the south or an indicate and a remark a remark to an economic terms and the plan was not easy and the plan was not easy and the plan was not easy and the season. The mean seed week of the plan was not easy and the armone the season of the plan was not th of more against the new more endeaded to the most heist toss as na id. The first diese son, according to being field thus reck Weam stay every at east look in the base of Mr. Deat contains and it or in the same large the as me above and mourors in the East End are cordially invited to hear ton guides of Mr. Wallis and put questions to them, with a view to diciting counsel and matriction in matters pertaining generally to the analyses of Spiritualism. Next Sunday Mrs. Walls will occupy the platform. Subject: "Practical Thoughts for Daily Life." Sr. Monus.

VASWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Signey Notice The Finer of Televisionment, ware to exc. So i.e. 1100 is the first 1 to be cannot, were to exc. shows make another axis considered the ghouse is 1 to most over 1 and 50 the first be not over 1 and Westnesday morning, will, as far as practicable to answered in the ensuing samples of "Lieux".

W OxLEY - Thanks. The notice is repeated. MRS. WESTERS. Letter was forwarded as requested.

R H + An. Not admissible except as an advertmement the type. Your many has been entered as a subscriber 10 . . .

our request will have been etempored with by to may

P. OMEREN, "Glad to ablige you; the publication of such facts is Iso vuluable

C B. HANKEY -The crystal is massld. The terms you mention are quite agreeable. A. Dantako, Apply to Secretary of Lamon Sporture of V. ance, 62, teranville-park, Lewishum, 5. F.

Cit with a " Note communication is hardly suitable for ar " Do you with the MS, returned " appear in this sent. We before the cing to studies Mr.

to hand too late, however, and now the matter to which it refers in out of stace.

that . As the as we can remember, the poem of Peofessor Brittan's to which you refer was returned to him It was not to see table for our columns.

I LANKEN We intend to have shortly a series of at the current of the model investigation in their researches.

S. C. No. a general next woods. You have been entered no want of the You need not result the unbarription.

The findings of controllers for the state of the state of

Now at home and worth of the first of some they it have a a direct of earlier Fig. 1. If a not a non-app are at or largues with, 1882. Kindly excused a see on reco.

to a Farth Radient Ages to majored in Linder We would you a copy if after reading that you wish for the book, we will send it, but we think in in not worth any a cray excuse an above to this column instead of writing a sect and I Postory - Your letter appears in this logar. We went to prose mady last week in consequence of build, a Tence its exclusion. Why, however, duald you going to the conclusion tink we seny " you its insertion? You could not have been extration! It, after what you wrote, we had consigned it to the waste-paper basker L. S. Brows. The Ms. en and Ev l. s. Britains. The Alberta life of the west of the and the fact that the most of the section of th

he for an please of No. 8. In the man or of onely an obseque question an historina on the correctal spaces gates with these which ex-know to what the term of know that does be to other upon to can be the a major of a fill water or a the term's important. con- tions you would improve have neen observed and and just records

Volt is not one use arguing tipes removed freques. Describe voir experience is a size of a military and a few discrepance in a size of a military and a few discrepance in the contract of the the contrac the fight is more time to a state or the first show the first show grains. It is not a state for the soft time from from the race or become for the country of the first show and time the country of the soft time for the country of common. Write again if here is anything rou do not under

Stated

Just 4 I Have. We commonwood up the style of making you mention but we never se influed to lover an artis of the added influent fear that the discussion discretizers, fear or many 116 the specifically a preparation of any man or set of men. But we are no my see a color of which we steer to meet the demands for joint or or of the various sedemon of thought of we has seem in plants of the various schemes of though, if we has seem in plants into the states of the recult are the receipt in his country. It is take we do not aways succeed a pleasing everyone and every now and then receive letters threatening all sorts of panalities. These, however, we can afford to pass by

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

The following is a list of eminent persons who, after personal Investigation, have naturied themselves of the reality of some of the phenomena generally known as Psychical or Spiritualistic,

N B -An asterisk is prefixed to those who have exchanged

belief for knowledge.

April 11, 1883.]

Scrence -The Earl of Crawford and Balearres, F.R S. President R.A.S.; W. Crookes, Petlow and Gold Medallist of the Hoyal Society, C. Varley, P.R.S., C.F. A. Sausce the entrest Name of W. F. Barret, F.L.S. F. Dr. assert of T. Co. in the action of the of Sevence Authors The assessment Telephone "40" J. L. et at F. L.S. senset me, breaderst at the Lynah Neuroran and the sea Novice of a one on "I refer sor to Millerian sametime President of the Mathematical Society of Landon ; "Dr Was, Gregory, F.R.S.E., sometime Professor of Chemistry in the of I wough; "De Aditorner, "Mr. Rutter, "Dr. He se Mr , F.R.S., &c. &c *Professor P Zöllour, of Leipzig, author of "Transcendental Professional Communication of Government W. R. Weber, of Göttingen Professor Hadinan, of Whisbury, Professor Porty, of Berno ( Professors Wagner and Butlerel, of Potencharg; Professors Hard and Majon, of U.S.A. Dr. Rubert Friese, of Bressen , Mons. Camille Planamarion, Astronomor, &c., &c.

LITERATURE.-The Earl of Duncaven; T. A. Trollope; S. C. Hall; Gerald Massey; Captain R. Burton , Profess Caseal, LL D.; "Lord Brougham; "Lord Lytton; "Lord Lynd harst "Vice on Ware "Fig. at Landers "V. M. Tea et al. "Nassau School "Goorge Thompson," Hourt Serman Cox "Mrs. formum, r Hop. Roden Nool.

her son Clarke, Observ Island, U.S.A. r. During Lyman, I to san W Den an Professor Alex, Wilder, Profree of He in this is the loss time, I was und prenty-four Judget and ex-Judges of the L' S. Courts Victor Huge as an and Baroness von Yay ; "W Lloyd Garrison, I. S.A. It Dale Owen, U.S.A. ("Hote a W. Le nonde a N.Y. "Lees." Sargent; "Dares du Potet ' oun A de Gaspana ' sares L. a denstubbe, &c., &

If. S. H. the Primo of Solans, H. S. H. Prince Alberelit of Solant 2 you will prove by tend that the increment we contrade to one *H S. H. Prince Emile of Sayn Wlugen-tola; Hon. Alexander Akuskof, Imperial Councillor of Ru-sta ; the Hon. J. L. Observant assumption Masse of USA at the last or London M. Fairle Bayanist sale Construented of Emoce at Trees e-

IS TRONJ BING!

It is wonderness onto the angle of that or one are only recover the several latters which form the word that the intelligence wishes a task of the several latter which form the word that the intelligence wishes a task of the several latter which form the word that the intelligence wishes to spell. It is convenient to use a single this for No, three for Yes, and Sheet has do that the manufactures are after young two is supposed to spell. It is convenient to use a single this for No, three for Yes, and Sheet has do that the manufactures are after youngelies to several and the manufactures are after youngelies to use a single this for No, three for Yes, and Sheet has a single this form the world that the intelligence wishes a special several and the several latter which form the world that the intelligence wishes a special several The second state of the second Roper b

The state of the state of Liebt, Mode Liebt, Africance of the content of the state of the content of the conten duality of the april on a part to manufest account

San in the open of a part is manufacturious.

San in the court of the M. So a hare even in the design of the wind and the state of the state in Berner, Buttered in St. Petersburg, o heard for the evidantial of this phonomera, over and to around at reastly I declare moreover, the published quantum of layings as to the Hoa of this studiest to be pretent are and according to the new and experience, false and ones sed. This, has distinction, is agreed and insecured before a notary and withouter (Signed) Santuit Butterest, Bertin, December 6th, 1877

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS.

The Conduct of Circles,-By M.A. (Drop.)

If you wish to oce whether Spiritnamen is really only jugglery ans imposture, try it by personal experiment.

If you can get an introducton to some experienced Spiritual st. whose good faith you can rely, ask aim for advice; and, if he is holding private circles, seek permission to attend one to see how to consinct sinners, and what to expect

There is, however, difficulty in ablaining access to private circles, and, in any case, you must rely clitefly on experiences in your own fa ally circle, or amongst your own friends, all strangers being execused. The sulk of Strainage to have entired conviction thus botto a cur to or tola fout so eigh persons, sub-or account two of angative, passive temperament, and preferably of the femule sex, the real of a post time to a later

Sit, positive and negative alternately secure again to your ance, in subdued light, and in comfortable and unconstrained positions, round an uncovered table of convenient size. Place the palies of the hands flat upon its upper surface. The hands of each ter need not touch those of his neighbour, though the practice is freq reatly autopited

No not concentrate attention too fixedly on the expected manifestations. Engage is electful but not frivance on er a non Avoid dispute of argument. Sceptician has a seterior effect but a ble except to depend on the server of decement with may totally stop or decidedly impode manifestations. If conveniation sings, music is a great help, if it be agreeable to ask and not of a and to irritate the sensitive car. Patience is essential and it may be necessary to meet ten or twelve times, at short Intervals, before anything occurs. If after such trial you still fall, form a fresh electe. Grow at the reason of your failure, eliminate the inharmonious elements, and introduce others. An hour should be he in dual may en stall scatters.

the transfer and a distriction fields the first of these photositis. over the made, with a dunier or train of the many without these or some of the lot a so after it we exclude of contents, or the day do The property as het says in as a course due of as to their the at made many a designing with printed it the entirelies.

If the table moves, let your pressure be so gentle on its surface Social Position .- II. I. Nicholas, Duke of Leuchtenberg; that you are sure you are not adding its motions. After solve and annula are held ever, but not in contact with it. Do not, however, try this until the movement is awared, and he is no hurry to get

When he thank that the time has come let some one take the age En perors of Trusten and France Presidents Thiers commune or there de man get as an electronic Explain to the unyear intelligence that as agreed code of signals is desirable, and saik that a tilt may be given as the alphabet is slowly repeated at nose a court in the copy of private a discounted on the king of configuration in the correction of the interference of the configuration of the manufacture of the configuration of the configuration frivious and even tricky.

Some an attempt be made to entrance the medium, or to mantest of any violent methods, or by means of form manifestations ask that the nevertipl may be deforced till you can secure be presence of some experienced Spiritualist. If this request is not heeded, discontinue the sitting. The process of developing a transcentedium is one that might disconcert an inexperienced inquirer. Increased light will check askey manifestations, reason. At sing enter the a very softenin investign on its a sport of alle curses by or frivor by their are a reverent come for what per pure took and frue. You will also a reverent come for what is promoted come into that there is a fit after don't, for which a pure and good life before death is the best and wheat preparation.

PHENOMENA.

Mediums, who are the instruments of an external agency, of trickery or sleight of hand." have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who deceive by aleight of hand, and in the same innuner that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly investigated the phenomena has failed to become convinced of their reauty, so no conjurer who has been comoccurrence by prestal gitation. Eoudin, Jacobs, Bel. lachini, Remanni, Keliar, and others have already confessed

Testimony of Robert Headle.

The Marquia Ender de Mirville published during the lifetime of Houslin two letters from the latter, in his Monouro addressé a MM, les membres de l'Academie des Sciences Morales et Politiques, sar un grand nombre de phenomènes morvilleux interessant égulement la Religion. ia Science, et les homines du Monde," in which the conjucer confesses his inability to explain the phenomena he witnossed in the presence of Alexis, the clairvoyant. A circum stantial account to given of M. do Marville's visit to Houdin for the purpose of engaging a man, that investigation, of the latter's confidence in his own ability to detect the trick, and of what took place of the somes the could to wor which ware entirely under Houdin's control. The account extends over twolve pages, and its accuracy is confirmed by demandrated by the two brothers were absolutely tree, and belonged House in in the first of the documents new translated :---

"Although very far from need sing the subspector with M in good or light some in order and make on leasily halfet ing that I am not at all committee to operions, e there is farour of magnetism or against it, I can never release not refer a from declaring that the facts above reported are entirely correct (sent de in place complite conciliude), and that, the more I reflect upon them, the more impossible I fail it to rank them among those which belong to my art and profession. " Rosent Houses

"4th May, 1847 "

A fortnight later, M. de Mirville received another etter in which the following, referring to another stance,

" I have, therefore, returned from this seames as astonished as it is possible to be, and persuaded that it is entirely impossible that chance or skill could ever produce effects so wonderful front à fait impunible que la heantil on l'advent parter no producer des

* May 15th, 1847

(Signed), Ronner House

Testamony of Harry Evillar.

Harry Ketlar, a astraguished professor of legerdenain. investigated the slate-writing phenomena which occurred in the presence of Mr. Egimton, at Calcutte, in January, 1882, and on the 25th of that month he addressed a letter to the editor of the Indian Daily Nove, in which he said .-

" In your lane of the 13th January I stated that I should be glad of an opportunity of participating in a stance with a ries of giving an unbiassed opinion as to whether, in my espacity of a profoudoual prestidigitator, I could give a natural explanation of offects mid to be produced by spiritual aid.

'I am undebted to the courtery of Mr. Eghaton, the epiritualistic medium new in Calcutte, and of his host, Mr. J. Mougens, for affording me the opportunity I craved.

"It is needless to my I went as a sceptio, but I must own that I have come away utterly unable to explain, by any natural means, the phononous that I witnessed on Tuesday ovening. I will give a brief description of what took place."

After describing accoral exceessful experiments, Mr. Kellar proceeds :-

"In respect to the above manifestations, I can only say that I do not expect my account of them to gain general credence. Forty-eight hours before I should not have believed complances. I still remain a scoptie as regards Spiritmann, but 1877

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL I repeat my mahility to explain or account for what must have seen an intelligent force that produced the writing on the state, which, if my conses are to be relied on, was in no way the result

'April 11. 1882.

On the 30th of the same month Mr Kesar addressed another letter to the Indian Daily Ross, reporting some experiences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regarding which he said :-

In conclusion, let me state that after a most stringent trial fronted with the same facts has been able to explain their and strict scrutiny of these wonderful experiences I can service at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trickery in any form, nor was there in the room any mechanism or their powerlessness to produce under the same conditions machinery by which could be produced the phenomena which had what occurs without human intervention in the presence of a taken cases. The relinary of the average which Markelyne and other conjurers anitate levitation or the floating cut could not passably be done in the room in which we were assembled.

The Testimony of Professor Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Licht, maker Lockt, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which occurred in Paris through the Brothers Davesport, and :-

"Spite of the amertions, more or less trustworthy, of the Fronch and English journalists, and spite of the foolish realousio of ignorant conjuctes, I feel it my duty to show up the bad fauth of one party and the chicagory of the other. All that has large and or done adverse to those American modulate in absolutely untrastworthy. If we would rightly judge of a thing we must one retand it, and neither the journalists nor the conparers prosessed the most plementary knowledge of the science hat go error these phonomena. As a prestid-guater of repute. and a sincere Spiritualist, I after that the medianence facts to the Specialistic order of things in every respect,

M m s R ben and Robert II and a while attempting to in tate these and facus never presented to the public anything beyond an infantine and almost grotesque paredy of the said phonomena, and it would be only ignorant and obstinate persons who could regard the questions seriously as set forth by these gentlemen. If (se I have every reason to hope) the psychical atudise, to which I am applying payaelf at this time, succeed, I small be able to establish elearly, and that by public demonstration, the immunes line of demarcation which asparates mediumstic phenomena from conjuring proper, and then equiversion will be no longer possible, and persons will have to yield to eviacore - r very through predetermination to delig * Fillowing he data of the learned chemist and natural discomplier Mr W Crookes, of Leisson, I am now n'a gent tion to prove plainly, and by purely scientific methods, the existence of a "psychot force" in mountains, and also the indivianality of the spirit 'in appritual manifestation.' I authorise you, dear sir, to insert this lotter in your next number, if sgreealde to you," &c., &c.

Traciment of Summel Bellachini.

Samuel Bellachini, Court Conjurer at Berlin, made the following declaration in December, 1877 :-

"I heroby declare it to be a reak action to give decisive udgment upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Slade, after only one setting and the observations so made. After I had, at the wah of several highly estumul gentlemen of rank and position, and also for my own interest, tested the physical mediumskip of Mr. Slade, in a series of cittings by full daylight, as well as in the evening in his bedroom, I must, for the mke of truth, hereby certify that the phonomenal occurrences with Mr. Slade have been theroughly examined by me with the minutest observation and invertigation of his augroundings, suchdang the table, and that I have not us the smallest degree found anything to be produced by means of prestidigitative manifestations, or by mechanical apparatus; and that any explanation of the experiments which took place under the circumstances and conditions then obtaining by any reference to practidigitation is absolutely impossible. It must rest with such men of science se Crookes and Wallace, in London , Perty, in Berne ; Butlerof, in St. Petersburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published opinions of laymen as to the ' How' of this subject to be premature, and, according to my view and experience, false and one-sided. This, my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and witanyone who described such manifestations under similar cir- nesses .- (Signed) Samuel Britishner, Berlin, December 6th,

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

"LIGHT MORE LIGHT " - Could. " WHATEVER DOTH MAKE MANIFEST IS LIGHT. - Pend,

No. 224.-- Vot. V.

SATURDAY, APRIL 18, 1886.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS

Matter through Hatter" and the Mr. Masketrne the Free Cu. is adjusted in Medical 200 account the Medical 200 Personena called "Spiritual"
Hitterated by Chrome althogits. V. Combail du né bacome priéphédant Restron
The Fartheoming Sectors
The Fartheoming Sectors
In the Power
In home part Machetine
Underson of Medicine The state of the standard which the Protection of the standard of the standard which the standard of the Protection of the standard of the standard opinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents. Free and courteous discussion is invited, but toritors are perfectly sound. alone responsible for the articles to which their names are attached |

AND MR. MASKELYNE.

To the Editor of " LIGHT

Siz,-Dr. Wyld took an obviously sensible course in consulting Mr. Maskelyne as to the ring question, and thinking it important that Mr Maskelyno's opinion should be given in an authoritative form, I sent him Dr Wyld's report of what he had suid, with a request that he would let me know how far his view was accurately represented. He kindly allows me to publish the following reply. I am not at liberty to quote here, for comparison, the report on the same subject made by Professor Barrett and myself, since mortal hand can come in contact with it, and experts in telethe journal in which it appeared has only a private circu graphy are establed with the genuineness of the phenomenous. lation. But members of the Society for Psychinal Research. will see that, so far from Mr. Maskelyno's verdict reversing ours as Dr. Wyld asserted, the two are entirely concordent .... I am, yours faithfully,

April 13th, 1885.

EDMUND GUILDEY.

Duan Str. - Dr. Wyld's description of his interview with me, as published in "Liour," is substantially true as Bashop Elisando in the Protestant Cathedral of Mexico, a far as it goes, but it does not go far enough to convey my translation of which appeared in "Learn." It says that he opinion of the matter correctly. The following is the demonstrated that the time of the coming of the Spirit of Truth, substance of the interview. After carefully examining the prephenied by Joses, in the present that old dogmes are fading ring I said, "I believe it to be perfectly sound and properly welded, it could not have been hot welded in its present position, but it might have been cold welded, that, however, is a process requiring great pressure and afterwards became Alexander II., says the Moscote Gazette, his considerable time. In its present form I believe it would hereecope was cut by a predictor of events, much consulted he a very paneful, if not impossible, operation to get it over at that time by the Russian aristocracy. Of the new y born the the hand, but whether by well making the hand in hot ilrediction was, "He will be good, he will be great he will me water and bending the ring into a pear-chape it could be in red boots." The last enigmatical part of it was solved whou, got on, is a question rather for a surgeon than a as will se remembered, the bomb whose explusion caused the tacchaniciati.

Dr. Wyld then produced a loop of soft wire, which he stated was exactly the size of the ring. The medium tried left a margin for trickery. I have often suggested tests is put on as you describe it, surely the spirits could as treatment by hasing mediums. Among the patients recently easily put a ring round the medium's neck. If you will there were four, quite cured of diseases which had builted the try the experiment I will construct a ring in such a manner skill of Bordesax physicians.

that there could be no possibility of joining it round the nock. In my opinion, such a manifestation would do more to advance your doctrine than all the literature over published." us Dr. Wyld replied that he behaved such a thing had been twice accomplished in America, but it was a dangerous experiment. the ring having to pass through the spine, and the spirits (or whatever power it was) did not like to attempt it. In [The Editor of "Liour" deriver it to be distinctly conclusion Dr Wyld mid, "Will you permit me to sante understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the that a year opinion the ring could not have been put where it is by natural means !" I said, "No, I cannot state that, but you may my that I believe the ring to be

I must say that from Dr. Wydfs lefter I quite exprected to see a ring of much stouter note, and at lone's toring the wrist that there could have been no question "MATTER THROUGH MATTER" as to its passing over the hand. I may remark that it is casior to get a rung over the hand than to get it off again. I am, done alr, yours very truly,

J N MARRIEVER

Novil House, Albert-road, Battersea Park, S.W. 13th April, 1885.

THE Bosner of Light reports that Mr and Mrs. Rowley, Claveland, members of a church, have become developed, saddenly and reluctantly, into mediums, one place of their mediumship being for communications by telegraphic signals. These come upon a slate enclosed in such a manner that no

ROME.-Le Liberte, Romo, mourte an article from the nant point of M. Hoffmann and Baron Lavine, we only up 8 distant against the attacks of certain guarant written are false a route, say on by them, ademies of all progress. The appearance of such an article in a Roman dady paper shows that truth is well advancing where kitherte it has moved only with steps, paralul and alon. - Le Sparitione.

Le Spiritions comments upon the sormon preached by away before the light now boing diffused. Le Spiritions africe putes that the Bushop's sermon will have a grout effect on the American condingna

A Presterion .- Soon after the birth of the child who Cenr's double shattered his lower extremities

FRANCE.-Le Spiritume gives a list of twenty groupes someties, or circles, in Paris, with their times of meeting. It some of these there are conferences on experience, rengages in a to get his hand through the loop, but appeared unable to do spiritual journals, &c.; at others marratives of facts and dismasses thereupon at others communications through various I said, "It is a pary that in this manifestation, as with meaning as atheresistings for development as others comall others I have investigated, the spirits appear to have munications through mediums about health, and magnetic hoaling. Its correspondent at Bordeaux writes that the which, if accomplished, would have conclusively proved the Spiritists there have legally enrolled themselves as a society, existence of supernatural power. For instance, if this ring increasing numbers, as well as for the numerous applicants for and have taken larger promises for the accommodation of their [April 18, 1883.

A PLEA FOR UNBELIEVERS.

182

gation at the hands of the various writers, many of whom are residing in a large town in the North of England, where doubtless able and accompanied evities. Now, it occurred to there is not a vertige of anything spiritual to be beard of, and this arises, I think, not from any desire on the part of no difficulty in witnessing them. Nor is my case solitary or the writers to be unnecessarily severe in their attacks on exceptional. I have met with many who bewail the same unbelief, but from the fact that they fail to realise the dearth of evidence, and I think that, not long since, a correinvestigators find themselves with regard to this subject, comparing notes with a friend who had been investigating, Of course, I do not pretend to ignore the fact that there and he remarked that his experience was, "Out goes the not so numerous assome suppose, and that the majority of the victim of delusion or deception. unhelievers are so, not wilfully, but because they cannot help being so. Mon do not, and cannot, refuse to believe, simply because belief and unbelief are constions of the condition of the great majority in this practical world of ours. an all utterly beyond the centrel of the was and I am unable to conceive that any one is responsible for either the one or the other. This fact is thoroughly recognized by In one respect, at least, all parallel fails; I mean with regard some religious seats, who, in order to evade the difficulty, to the facility for observation. If anyone were anxious to make belief or faith to be a Divine gift

Now, I have only one conception of belief, and that is, that it is a perfect senviction derived from avidence; and when the ovidence is sufficient, it is inevitable, irrevocable, and entirely andependent of either our wishes or our volition. so that one counce, an the one hand, believe what one chooses of appeal which I addressed to the readers for help. Now to believe, or disbelieve what one chooses to dishelieve,

Now, I venture to maintain that if the phenomenal evidence of Spiritualism were sufferent, no rational being could avoid believing: this may, perimps, be objected to se a to? Either that there were no phenomena to be seen, or petitio principal; but I think this is only apparent, for the there is very scant courtesy among Spiritualists. causative link between syldence and belief is thoroughly Well I know upon which hors of that dilemma I got coive of a man being traiter to himself, and enying his bellef, though I am at a loss to account for his doing so.

find, when they approach the subject assiously and carnestly, unknown future had been drawn aside, that the horrid I speak from experience. By evidence I mean, of bridged over, and that the awful eilence which broods over these are exceptions. I feel certain that the world frauds. and but for whose kindness and courtesy I should never violation of all known scientific laws, are brought under their have seen anything at all; and I trust that that gentleman wall not feel hurt or offended if he should read this, when Unbelievers in Spiritualism are accustomed to receive, I my that the little which I may, though it certainly arrested from time to time, in this journal, somewhat severe casti my attention, was insufficient to induce belief. Now I am me, in thinking over the subject, that these criticisms are very much less seem , and yet, in read what some writers my about often, may generally, rather unfair, and always one-sided, these phenomena, one would suppose there could possibly be exact position and circumstances in which outsiders and spondent in this journal made the same complaint. I was are a sort of men whom bigotry, conceit, or prejudice, have light, and in comes the conjurer." The fact is that it is of totally unfitted to form any just opinions on the matter no earthly use for a gentleman to tell people that his first For example, mon who attribute the accredited phenomena are lighted and his breakfast laid, together with other to diabelical influence, or those who, like Tyndall, profess phenomenal wonders, by anseen powers. No one will believe to have no interest in them, even though they may be true . ! for the reason I have given above—that they cannot. Nor with such I have no sympathy, nor are they to be defended, will the highest position and authority of the amerter save for a moment, but I am inclined to believe that these are him from the anspicion, if not of fraud, at least of being

This Thomas-like attitude of nead, if not consistent with the highest conceptions of faith, is, at any rate, the

Spiritualists are very prone to draw parallels between the phenomena of Spiritualism and those of physical science. witness some amentale phenomena-a.g., the polarisation of ight-why, in a large town there would be desens, if not hundreds, ready and delighted to exhibit them. When I wanted to investigate Spiritualism with a view to conviction, the editor of this paper very kindly inserted a long letter mark I got about three repues to that setter out not a particle of help of any sort. I therefore ask, in all carnest ness, what conclusion would an unbeliever naturally come recognised to all the affairs of daily life. I can quite con- respected. I do most exmestly believe that, in spite of the bigotry begotten by creeds, and the materialism which seems to slog the footsteps of science, there are thousands The position, then, I wish to assume is this, that the upon thousands who would gladly believe, if they could, that vant majority of inquirers upon the subject of Spiritum and the dark well which separates the known present from the as I have done, that there is little or no ovidence to be got. abyes that yawns between the seen and the unseen had been course, personal observation. Right or wrong, people the hereafter had been broken by words of joy and peace will not appopt such a stortling theory morely on the oper from the spirits of our departed friends. Oh! it is a grand dixit of others, however truthful and trustworthy they may idea, but the belief in it can never come from the occasional be. There may possibly be some who would be unconvinced records by a few persons of phenomena which are at the by evidence which, to the great majority, is conclusive, but best very questionable, and alas, too often grees and palpable at large would not, noy, could not, heritate to believe. I am aware that it is often argued that the greater what Spiritualists profess to believe, could they part of our belief is based on the evidence of others, and but fairly see what Spiritualists deciare they have that if we only believed what we could correctes me seen. But they cannot do so. I will take myself-if the and verily, we should believe comparatively nothing. egoism may be perdoned—as a typical example. For two It is not my wish, even if I had the ability, to discuss years I made the most streamous endeavours to obtain this question as to why it should be so; but it is manapersonal evidence of the phenomena; and I feel sure that feetly the fact, that either from the nature of the subject, had I but seen the hundredth part of what I was told, I or the nature of the phenomena on which the inductions should have been an carnest believer .-- I could not are founded, people cannot apply the same canons of belief have helped myself. I cannot say that I had no to this subject as they do to the more indifferent matters evidence whatever; but I do my that what I did of life. I suppose it may be partially explained by the got was very trivial and maignificant compared with what fact that a great deal of what is called belief is merely a I ought to have had, seeing that I was in London, a sort of passive assent. In the casual matters of life, people member of the Spiritualists' Society, and a per- rarely question themselves or others as to the ground of their sonal friend of one of the most distinguished and so-called belief, but when such vital questions as the rewell-known leaders of the movement in the Metropolis, appearance of departed spirits, or phenomena involving a consideration, even careless people become careful, and thoughtful people rigid in their reasoning, and mucting in the conditions of the phenomena. In conclusion, I repeat, that if it be an acknowledged fact that the world cannot accept the americal phenomena of Spiritualisms except on their own personal observation, and that under chrome of Spiritua.son, by an earnost and onthomatic writer, will stances exceptionally free from all suspicion, there is but be welcomed by our readers. Miss Theobald reproduces from her little chance of increased below while the evidence, if it extensive journal of automatic messages, given through her own exuits, is so sepremely difficult to be obtained.

Birkby, Huddersfield S. W. Werson

Watson.-Bo. or " Ltour."}

ANCIENT WRITING THROUGH A MEDIUM history, or his position in life

The Religio-Philosophical Journal quotes the following from the Northern Budget, Troy :- "Mrs. Newton Reynolds, of Troy, is an inspirational speaker and a writing-test medium. Her gifts have been progressively developed during the last seven years. Writing has occasionally come through her hand in a character unknown to all until facts on which Spiritualism rosts ; and furnish material for the lately. Last year the manuscripts were submitted to were in an Eastern tongue of 6,000 years ago, alled to the Holvew and Assyrian. Professor Kelke, from Europe, settled in Troy last October. He had been a student of the languages of the East, Hebrew, Arabic, Syrio-Chaldaic, and Samerit. He was invited to a same with Mrs. Roynolds, and receiving some remarkable tests through her hand, continued to attend her afances for investigation. Three antique writings being shown to him, he pronounced there Syrio-Chaldale, but could not make out any sense from them While talking about them, the medium's hand was controlled, and wrote in similar characters from right to left. Her hand had proviously always moved in the ordinary way, from left to right. The writing now was intelligible to him. Although Mrs. Reynolds is a lady of great intelligence, she has received no more than an ordinary English education. She is a medium in private life, and, having no need, receives no fore."

Tax idea that a certain belief is essential for extration unsheathed the established lighted the faguts of persecution. So long an Heaven is held to be the reward of oreed instead of deeds, just so long will every orthodox church be a bestille. every obwech mentber a princeer, and every priest a turnbay -

Da. Assertant used to relate to Spiritualist friends that when he was in full practice, he was one in forming the Life Insurance Company of which he was one of the directors, the qualification for which was his subscribing for a cortain number of shares, quite compatible with the means derivable from his extensive practice. The het call upon his shares, & thousand pounds, came after he had become impoverished by his practice having very much dwindled through the personating machinetions against him, by pen and speech, as a inconstrict, by the orthodox. His wife would have raised the money upon her own property, but being vested in trustees it was transmitable. He tried to sell the lease of his house at meant. In the morning, very early, his servent round him, telling him that a mounted messenger was below who would not eey what his business was, only that it was orgent and that he must see Dr. Ashburner himself. Berridered, he hestily drossed and went down. The messenger, without getting from his home, held out a brown paper packet and beckened ham. He told the servant to go and take it of him. The man, and the doctor, asked if I was Dr. Ashburner, and so telling him that I was, axid that his orders were to deliver the packet only into Dr Ashburner's hands. Seeing his referentiation, I stepped initiand recoved it from him and, without hecoing my neutron as to whisent him he surrein a proof off. That packet cours is new Bank of England notes to the amount of my need, unaccount paried by the mast scrap of writing, and with them I saved my

REVIEWS.

Homes and Work in the Forons Life. By F J. Theobald. Price Is, 1d. post free. The Psychological Press, 4, Ava Maria-lane, E.C.

Thu, the latest contribution to the literature and theology hand, some of a most interesting character, and such as are adapted to fix and rivot the attention of all devout and serious investigators. They are rendered especially attractive by a [Perhaps some of our correspondents will reply to Mr. number received from a young Independent minister, who passed to the higher life many years ago, and of whom the persons could have known nothing, either as to his person, his

> It is not a book to criticise, but to commend-us boartily do-to the perusal and judgment of our readers

The messages throughout are broad and stimulating, and imprise answers to questions of higher import than are usually proposed at mixed scances. They controvers very satisfactorily the hypothesis that all such information is supplied by thoughtreading, give additional stimules to the investigation of the clearer recognition of its baneficant truths, so full as they are of a medium, through whom hand it was written that they vital interest to humanity. They will do much also to absolve Spiritualism from the frequent charge that its revelations are shadowy where they are not silly, and will be found to provide satisfactory answers to the querelous sai boso of the scopled and the materianat.

We also be glad to see further extracts from bloss Theobard's surnal In the portions already published the highest morality and the noblest principles are inculeated.

Every such book is a mission from the unsoon-a send which, in spite of mental aridness and theological cavilling, can hardly fail to find fit soil whorsts to thrive and bring forth fruit

Sympheumata on, Evolutionary Porces now Active in Man Price 10s. 0d. Edited by Lawrence Oliphant. Edurburge. Blackwood and Sons, London | may be obtained of the Psychological Press, 4, Ave Marin-lane, E.O.

(Continued from p. 17) ]

In forming our estimate of this singular-no less than dual production, we have not been unmindful of the duality also of the aspects under which its editor and sponsor has been wont to present himself in his writings, nanoly, as a humorist and a mystle; but have carefully kept in view, as a problem requiring solution, the question in what character he appears on this occasion, whether as humorist, or as mystic, or, as on some former occasions, both together. With his recent anti-Thousanhin ien d'espré, "The Tibetan Sisters," so frosh in the public mind, it seemed to us an invincible a priori improbability that Mr Oliphant should venture, by putting forth a boad side conform or of his own fasth, to afford the anthor of "Esotoric Buddhum the opportunity of retalingues, the desire for which must have caused him fervently to exclaim of his critic, with the sorelytried patriarch of old, "O, that mine enemy would write a

Not has our person of the votume served at oppo to resaure us of its serious intent, so numerous and apparent in it are the touches of that subtle and caustic hungour of which Mr. Obphant has the command. For such, in our view, are the subatitution of the terms solid and fluid for material and spiritual; Hyde Park Corner, but this required time. So on the evening interdependent, with the stanoguent escription of spiritual impurity to solid matter on the ground of its physical density, and of spuritoal purity to tenuous matter on the ground of its physical rarity, the conception of man as an hermaphroditical july-fish, you zevertheloss mus. and becoming separated into man and wiman, and sequiring a body-at if it were a comagious assesse-through contact with the animals, the ascreton of many visible presence on earth, not to the divinely appointed order of things, but to an accidental and preventible violation of that order, and the introduction of evil into this planet by importation from another, after Sir William Thompson's grotesque notion of the introduction of ale by a meteorite, with the like avoidance of the real problem involved—that of the existence at all of evil or of life , the assumption that men and women will be better friends and more closely united to each other when they

LIGHT.

those which have always been in operation; the patronising tractics, along up with a the man is has be thereof regenerate, and reference to the Kabbala as possessing a "diregular ering" of made "in the intege of God in virtue of his attacordent of all rolegious truth , the presentation of the natural relations of the the mental and spiritual qualities, meanding and femining, coxes as pure and body, or as foul and sinful according as the which appertuin to the Divine-human , and unstead also of seaparties concerned inhabit the same or different bodies , and - ing in the terms "Fall," "Redemption," and other allied exas a closing clinian to our by no means exhaustive list—the pressions, the various spiritual sets of the Soul necessary to daring, rather than humorous, association, so cause and effect, be accomplished by and in every posson, it regards them as of divine unitax and reluptuous physical sensations.

space, we are enturied that the book is intended in all actions makes a certain act committed by certain individuals at a cermen, and constitutes a bond for expression of its writer's con tain time the muse of all echospoint human superfection and victions. This is to say that it is integraled to be, not misery—the set itself being of a specific and physical nature humorous, but mystical. To decide this, however, is still to and accounts for the presence of oril on this planet by supposlunyo something undocided, and this is the important question mg at to be imported from another, namely, that of which the in which supposed the term revelation it is meant. For revels. Asteroids are supposed to represent the disreption, the idea of don to of two kinds, an enveiling, and a reveiling or clothing what we call evil being the accessive result of a creation involvthis some, and an allegory of which, according to mystical usage, antertained. It interprets the Pauline expression, "spiritual the real and the apparent significations are dismetrically opposed to each other, much of our objection to it would probably fall the puncity of the Fall, no less than the Fall itself, or physical to the ground since, however injudicious might seem the form and consisting in a physical change in man's constitution and solution, the import night then be altogather different to that, structure, whereby from being finid he became solid, and from which appears on the surface.

oniguas, but to solve old once. Wherefore, there is no also it represents as a physical process, having physical results ing and in no way allegorical

Spiritual verities are of accounty expressed in terms detical roud back unchanged into original and substantial Being. from the physical plane, once it is to has dare at language. It is true that the divine-human Spirit, when disclosing religious. It was denounced as children by several Fathers of the 'or contracts that manifestation and eignition can occur Church , and Swedenborg but restored the amoient canon when are three beings which disappear from the sense of the letter larged from not it we date its authority. The book before on a qualities of both sexus and establish perfect equilibrium between fullows blue only in his failure.

Scripturo itself, moreover, engatently affirms its own para-VIII., par 24, see also App. 1, &c.)

mont, whether in macrocount or in interceous, in the universal or mone of the half douen instances in which the term soul occurs the individual, in the world or in man, from its first descent, | -- for in all its 300 pages it does not occur oftener -- is the sense have become outirely separated from and indifferent to each unush radiated, into not the place—but the residion of matter, other , the supposition of forces now active in man, other than and of oreturn thence by relerly unfoldment of the Divine potendenoting events occurring in time and place and to persons, and Nevertheless, for reasons, for the recital of which we have no as altegether physical and histories! in their nature. Thus, it wickedness in high places," to moun wicked spirits, it regards being bisexual he became unsexual; it wrests the term Chal so we should have been to accept this explanation, if " Woman" from the proper signification unfremally accorded only for the sake of the writers, sate a regard the sack as an to it at all mystical scriptures, samely, the Soul-whether in allogory, having a spiritual agradiention and rolling lofty truths, man or woman or any living entity—to make it mean we find no grounds for so doing. On the contrary, it is given, a woman, and the term man from its proper use not to a select few who may be promised to have the key to it, as denoting the outer personality, whather of man or woman, but to the world, and it professes, not to propound new to mean, and it makes the condition of mivation which alternative but to accept it as intended literally, as plain-speak not the regeneration of the man and the attainment of his wonlconsciousness and the knowledge of God, by means of inward Not that it is in the true sense mystest, although doubtiess and spiritual purification, but his conversion into an androgyne by intended and colleved to be so by its writers. For the regation incorporation with a second personality of the opposite sex, refers yet in things, or persons, or events, or aught that is and his ultimate findification—the supreme aus and result of the material and somethe, of time or of place, even though they be process being an indefinite enhancement of physical sometion fluidic instead of soud; but to principles, and processes, and And as the basis and justification for this doctrine, a physical would as a new greater or an a new und atornal and universal application in given to the Kabbalistic terms employed to and the keys to the apprehense to of which are the words now denote the duality, under smallestation, of the Divine sature, and that which is but an ultimated and symbolical expression is itself belongs , but the choice of expression is determined by itself to the spiriteal perception of the sear, appears as possessed correspondence, and the thing said is not the thing meant, but of both forms complete, the masculine and feminine. The is only a symbol for it. And, according to all instructed expensions of to-day in this respect is that of all ages, and conin all times from the sarbest, in sacred Scripture, and in figure the Hobers and other scriptures cited in the book. antelligent communitary, to ignore the spiritual signification for But this does not mean that divinity actually is of such, or of the material representation, is to miss or pervert the morning, any, form. It means only that the human dualies is the not t commute herry Such literalism was altogether exchanged, divinely appointed symbol of the divine foundity, and other by antistm of those mysteries which, under the name of attributes, functions, and qualities, all of which necessarily Hurmetic, constituted the core of all acceed Scriptures and become dual under activity, since it is only by means of opposites

So far, moreover, from the process of regeneration implying he insisted that " to take the literal meaning for the irue one is the addition to the individual of another personality of the to destroy the truth itself since overything in the Word relates opposite ear, the effect would, in numerous cases, he precisely to the hoavonly and spiritual, and bocomes falsifud when the opposite, taking the term ask in its spiritual sease. For the transferred to a lower plane by being taken literally." (T.C.H., change produced would be according to the change required to 208.) Fig. " in the internal sense there is no respect to any perfect the character. These summ deficient in respect of the person or avan any trang determined to a person. But there spiritual characteristics of the masculine kind, such as force, courage, intellect, would acquire completion by becoming yet of the Word when the internal seems is unfolded, namely, that more maguline in these respects , and a woman deficient in the which is of time, that which is discrete and but which is if distinctive qualities of her sex, such as tendernous, endurance, person, the et as That Sweet about faced egregorials intuition, would acquire completion by becoming yet more at these theree the rule he so wary serveyes and forms which y the function of regeneration being to develop all the the two halves of the spiritual humanity.

The necessity of repeated and manifold experiences, far belies, obsesseder, saying of its own apparently-historical narra- boyond those which can be obtained in a single earth-life, in tives, "These things are an allegory"; Watning against "the order to afford the requisite opportunities to this sud, is one of lotter that kills", and bentifying those who have the "care the grounds urged on behalf of re-incurrection, or repeated reto hear and eyes to see" the interior and hidden sense of the births of the personnent Ego into the body. According to this Worse , the reason being that, as stated in "The Perfect Way," doctrine, the Ego, which in itself is of no sex, but has the To grow is not reason to the some and not to the senses. L. potentially if our festation under either ser is here at one time as a male and at another as a female, in order to acquire the This book, on the centrary, sets at nought all established qualities belonging to both some. Concerning this doctrine, or, procedest, and matered of discerning in the Bible a dramatic indeed, concurring any soul at all which could, under any cirpilegory of the soul's history, as pospetually in course of exact commutances, be thus re-born, this book is altogether eilent. In that of an entity capable of subusting apart from the physical organism but on the contrary the Sympnouria is explicitly declared to be the " sex-comparisons, fore sparst anger and instering coul" of the real man. This elimination of the anguring and of the real man the continued in home or those in soci, in any of the senses commonly one cratical, is, however, [faith.] only what, on our hypotogen as to he derivation of the docume, was to be extrected

April 18, 1855.)

There is an other sense, besides that of character, in which much may be regarded as "brune" without lapsing into the Sympassicatic conception. This is in respect of substance or modes. One is when man is composed of matter and spirit, or form and reality, as in his ordinary terrestrial condition. The other as when, having subamasted and indrawn his outer and lower electoris, solid and fluid, he consists of two only, soul and spirit, and, transmuting his soul into spirit, has become "neither male nor female, but one creature." This is called the twofold state, and they who attain to it are termed, as in the Apocalypae, "virgin," on account of their exemption from any material admixture, whether solid or fluid. It is the highest state of the soul, and its full attainment involves the complete dissociation from matter in any mode, and the impossibility of reinvestment with a body. In giving a physical and physiological agnification to the above-cited attenues ascribed by Clement to Joses, and to numerous other symbolical expressions, this book ignores all established rules of mystical interpretation, and degrades to a low level that which belongs to a high one.

Not that anything is orll because it is material, however "coled "it may be. " Nor," to cite the words of Hormon to Asclepies, "to man debased because he has a mortal part. On the contrary, this mortality augments his aptitudes and his powers has double functions are possible to him only by his dual nature. he m constituted so that he can embrace alike the terrestrial and Was reliate, waste addressing to God aspraises and his acts of grace, man should renerate the Kosmos which is the isoage of God, remembering that he is himself the scond sauge of God for God has two similitades, the world and man . And man is compared if a lane just and a mortal part." (Discourse on Immation, Ba. V. VI., The same system, it may be noted, expressly restricts sex and its fund tions, in their physiological sonse, to the material or what Symposiumate calls the "solid " plane, -a doctrino universally accepted, we believe, by "Spiritualists," Wherefore in ascribtag them to the superior planes and, mutoad of deverang man from God mediately through the world, and allowing him to be properly andowed with a terrestrial or "solid" nature, deriving nan descriptions to dame strong to him any proper terrestrial nature (and thereby to the world any possibility of redemption in and through man as its highest pro-lact book asia itself in direct opposition to that Divine Green which constituted the motoric doctrine of all the world's great religious systems. We shall see presently on the strength of what authority at does this but first a reply in anheopation to a quottion which will undoubtedly occur to our roaders.

(To be concluded next week)

This Spanitualist Tomple, Boston, has a school for children ment) bells for mostings and scanous, and accommodation for the reception and treatment of the nick by healing mediums. The large half is growded at the services on Bundays .- Le

Tax orthodox hold nothing as to their future, beyond the hope based on the record of the resurrection and ascension of their Lard and Sarnour , yet when Spiritualists offer them what . one might think congeniel testimony and demonstration of a future life, they have nothing for them but ill-names. This ought not to be, surely, because their revolutions of a future his do not include the orthodox holl .-- Ray G. Walters.

Le Spiritique, which taken notice of what goes on abroad end among un quotes, as northy of observation, some recent and among us, quotes, as northy of observation, some recent safe to be considered. Their price on in enjody foll away moments of the Manchester Evening News on the Comberlands out the orthon x were an abed by account these comments. Labouchere challenges. That journal regrets as having fallen physicians starved, figuratively speaking, out of their algothe course of the combertand. House, once so through with fee-paying patients, Dr E reach, Labouchers party will go to the credit of Mr. Eginton, whose in poverty, was hospitably received by his friend Dr was course it considers, while disclaiming Spiritualism, to have an lar whose roof he died. Dr. Ashburner, under he as no been strictly correct. It of streets regret that M are, a reumstation, shared in his wife's income based to be as no larburchers and Lankouter could not appear of Spiritualism. Latauchers and Lankester could not apeak of Spiritan aim omites. He used, etween righty and notify can bear a boat appropriate and to mee use. It cates a few years ago. Buth Dr. E. a-faou and Dr. Ash urmor were some of the pull which or bear at he reason of the pull which as no the reason of the pull which as no the reason of the sum and Spiritan and mannersh had done

CORRESPONDENCE.

It is preferable that correspondents abould append their names and addresses to communications. In any case, however these must be supplied to the Easter as a guarantee of good

The Forthcoming Lecture. To the Editor of " LIGHT"

Siz, I am advortised to deliver an anti-rose at the conversomene to be hold in the Banquetang Hall, St. James's Hall, on nonstituent elements. Of this kind of biunity there are two Friday evening next, April 24th. Will yes permus me to recommend your roaders who propose to attend the conversazione, to read with carefulness the accounts of the remarkable scances given in " Liour," for February 21st, March 14th and 28th, April 18th, and such subtoquent numbers as may contain the reports My remarks will be based on those seamon, which, in my opinion, are unique, and at the place of the address I shall be prepared to reply to any number of relevant questions .- I am, &c., Newcastle-on-Tyne.

April 0th 1685.

Mr J H Pollen.

To the En for of " Launt

Srz,-In justice to myself, and those who have confidence in rue, I must my I know nothing of the antecedents of Mr. J. H. Pollen.

He has called upon me twice or Orrios, and so far is personally known " to me that is all.

I would by no means shock the generous charity of good Mrs. Everitt that has brought to Mr Pollen much serviceable at-But she must know, as I well know, there are a hundred young men able and willing to work who can get no work to do, and are circumstanced procisely as Mr. J. H. Pollen la discreption to result

Ho wants and socks confidential employment it would therefore be for those who affer it to him to obtain guarantees for the future by inquiry concerning the past.-Yours truly, 24, Stanford-road, St. Alban's-road, Victoria road. It forington, W.

A1eR 19th, 1885.

A Helice by " Lily " To the Beliter of " Las ut

"Lily" in extremely sorry that, in answer to "A Spiritualist's brest untural remarks she is nearly from home, and will be for a fortnight or three weeks , consequently she has not the necessary references with der

But in a note-book she has with her aire finds it stated that the body weighed 145th, and that Lachig reduced it to an in supe de s'omentary condition." The moment it is possible laly will give further information in " Liour

April 11th, 1985

ORTHODOXY AND MACRETION,-Dr. Elliotton and Dr. Ashburner were, forly years ago, lecturers in the medical echools of the University College and Muldiesez Hospitais, of which they were also, respectively, physicians. Becoming convinced of the truth of animal magnetism, they introduced it. as a curative agent, to the knowledge of their classes, under the name of measurems, after Measure. Thair colleagues, itstood of investigating a subject of importance, so commended to the a-for Ellotson and Ashburner were man of animowiedgedominance, depounced the annovation. The orthodox clamour they raised upded in the resignation of their posts. But, hold in their philanthropy and in the truth, they went on teaching measurithin orally and in print. One result of this was the extensive literature on measurerian which we have to-day, and the formation of a Measurerio Informacy. But there was another result the medical journals took sides with orthodoxy, they "do the thinking for general practi toners , and those orthodox journals held up Elliotson and Ashburner same was a who we can be a preAsl Communications to be addressed to THE ENITOR OF LIGHT. & AVE MARIA LAVE LONDON, E.C.

S DSCRIPT ON OTES.

The Arena Survey or for a fire is the feet to any subtree in the control of the point or a place common within the control of the point or as place common within the control of the control of the point of the poin ADVERT SEMENT CHAR ES

Five lines and under, 3a. One meh, 4a. dd. Column, Cl 2a. Page &t. A reduction made for a series of insertions.

Onlies for Papers and Advariants may be addressed to the Em at a 1. n 1. x 2 Maria at 2. x 2.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

NOTICE TO RUBACHIBERS.

Inductioning for 1842 are now due Saborelbers will ablige by lorward ng these a uncerto The Manager of LES-MT 4 Are Mach-lane & C. Post Office dedece may be stude arable to Henry Burnes Al. Editorial Correspondence to be addressed to " The Editor

Tight .

SATURDAY, APRIL 18vn, 1885.

VILIFICATION OF MEDIUMS.

All mediums who receive payment for the use of their faculty, and those also who do not, so far as we know, have uncerning precision, implying the accurate vision of the who assume that there are no spirits, and, therefore, that medicina are ofther trickstors or victims of a delization.

of Paris, will be remembered by the readers of "Lients, traposition to imitate by any chessical process. In your, This medium has had her share of vilification. Last year she paper the sulphurst of calcium was suggested as having was invited to give a series of séances at Brussels. She went, and manifestations were witnessed with satisfaction by a suggested, but that sulphuret requires re-exposure to etrole, or groupe, of inquirers. At her seventeenth siance, among the introduced veritors were some who came not to in dericaces; and I have yet to learn how the sudden inquire they were of those who have concluded before hand that there is nothing at a spiritualist scance to inquire nate but trickery and dupory. The account they wrote of thosy vasit was a welcome contribution to a Brussels newspaper, and it became one of the stock misrepresentations of Spiritualism in Bergium. Lately returning to the subject it named, among some of the so-called dupes at the season in question, M. Boyard, an investigator and a scientific chemist, who thought it well to address a latter to the pditor on the subject, in which he exposed the fadacies of the "exposure." As usual, with such letters, it was not manried , he, therefore, sent a copy to the Rente Spirite, and it appears in its number for March. Such cases being of general fatorest we give a translation of the main points of M Boyard's letter. He mys :--

"On the publication of the so-called 'exposure,' I by letter : delaberated as to how paychical phenomena might be witnessed without the possibility of the medium participateng, consciously ar unconsciously, in their production, and I concluded that the case would be met if she were asousted in a wire cage. I proposed this to Madame Bablin, and she consented at once. So I caused one to be made, through any part of which also could not pass more than a has made in furthermos of the rip an and body both, and also finger. If phenomena occurred with her enclosed in such a cage, they must manufestly be due to forces not her own, previously, the phenomena were feeble, not to our surprise, members and friends will make a point of bring present.

considering her shaken nervous boulth and the newwest of the conditions; but the hands of sitters, emeng them my own, were grasped in the same manner as at previous scances when the merium sat bound in her chair.

"At succeeding scances the phenomena manifested increasing power and facility; there were apports of flowers, direct writings, the fleating of a musical-box over our beads while playing, and the passage of the medium's jacket through the cage, the diameter of the openings of its meshes being from two to three centimetres an instance of matter passing through matter, of which Zöllner and others have Eater of the first officer of the phonomenon the apports from the first of the Officer and the Helfpenny Postage Stamps received for amounts under 10s.

Part of the first officer and the first officer of the phonomenon the apports for amounts under 10s.

"The question of Madame Bablin's mediumship being thus "Lights" may also be attached from h. W. Alzier, 4, Ava Maria-lane, notified beyond dispute, we could readily admit the possibility of other psychical phenomena, which the impaired state of her health forbade us looking for, such as the manifestation of materialised spirit forms, which we had previously witnessed , the incompatibility of such manufestations with the conceptions of materialists notwithstanding.

"From our present standpoint, are we able to account for the facts of the so-called 'exposure'! Yes, by the rational assumption that the articles 'exposed' upon the passive medium were appared. Do you say that this is impossible ! Then let me ask you to explain the passing of the medium's jacket from her arms and shoulders through the

Let me now draw attention to other facts which were not attempted to be 'exposed'-hands pessing with lightning velocity from one side of the groups to the opposite; tooching sitters on any spot asked for with been objects of vi ification, originating, usually, with those agent touching. I have yet to learn that anyone in the body can exercise accurate vision in darkness. Then the hights, visible to all, rising and falling, coming and going Dr. Chazarnin's reports of scances with Madaine Bables, enterging and diminishing in size and intensity, lights been possibly employed, by some impossible means not light for reviving its inminosity, lost gradually by exposure reviving of such luminosity could be effected in darkness.

" Spiritualists have, as well as materialists, much to loarn on the subject of psychical phenomena, but to loarn we have all to observe and study .-- ADDUSTIN BOYARD.

"102, Avenue de la Reine, Brussele."

Mr. Eglinton dusires se to ammounce that he less removed to it, Nottingham-place, W. (near Baker-street Station). He will not, however, be an a position to resume his seasons until consists. We have received a Prat Office Order from Cermany but no nevice accompanied at. We are therefore, the do so her to accrewibe go to recept or to cred tithe account. the subscriber by whom it was set I with the anvent.

Mr. E. Where S. of AO. West-brought terrace North, West-souther-square W errites. I am ear our of friming at its city on a West more of your restricts rounding in may neighborur hard wise would ske to pan in my inbours kindly let me hear Mas Riccione - We are informed that the committee who actor for Mrs. Brokesond during her rast ast year bare arrived her to report her vs. to London in May and June, and rimane the series of occurred given at the Kensington Town Hall on Sunday evenings.

"LILT" will feel obliged to the editor of " Liour" if he will amore nor in the columns to thank those Spiritualists who have advisesor to her their kind approximation of any little efforts she deeply regrets her inability to thank by a personal letter the

THE LONDON SPIRITUALIST VILLENCE. The next convenience and her part in their mainfestation could be due solely to minus the American be held on France Agent 24th, in the Banqueting Hall. St. James's Hall, when Mr. T. P. Barkas, "At our first scance, the medium being seated in this F G.S., of Noncastle on Type, will deliver an address, he eage, doubly padiocked, with the room darkened as Herrie than are dream of in your philosophy." We hope PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" | constituents. Hence, if this union, or rapport, be once es

April 18, 1883.1

By J. G. KEULENANS. (Continued from page 163.)

The fact that the word "matter" has been almost exclasively applied to "solids," or to those substances tional powers over matter, that, also, this spiritual property which are visible to the common eye, or can be demonstrated as existing by means of the microscope, has given rise to an endless confusion of thought. To limit the solidity of matter would be to determine the limits of "spirit," as far he able to fully comprehend, since its evolution is so the letter is a comprivable "something." When, for dependent upon faculties which belong to another stage of matance, we speak of matter as being composed of existence. We merely witness the result, and draw deduccorpuscules, particles, or atoms, united together, we are tions, to the best of our ability. Nor can we reasonably merely using generally adopted terms for objects or principles, expect the memfesting spirits to give us more detailed the actual existence of which remains still to be proven, matruction about the real nature of either spirit or matter, and which are, in fact, mere hypothetical necessities for or about their—to us—superior faculties, because they getting out of a difficulty. The luminiferous other, for do not understand their powers any more than we do ours. instance, is (as a medium for transmission of force) St.il, they do, occasionally, give us valuable information, material. The speculations of metaphysicians and satrone- which may, perhaps, at some future time, when our knowmere are not incompatible with the records of observa .edge has millicently increased, supply the key to many of tions of spiritualistic facts that have some under our the mysteries which now perplex us. notice. To quote one or two Laplace, in his theory of the origin of our solar-and all other- squareter y the synothesis of inguetic rapport, we are systems, presupposes a fluidic substance as represent still in the dark as regards the origin of the larger shoots of ing space, and the contractions of this substance calsos were by "spirits" appearing in atomos-rooms. to mebula, do. Flancournen (the celebrated autronomer and which are certainly not duplicates of the original and Kardechian Spiritest) remarks, that "if a quantity of garments worn by them in ourth-life. I am almost certain solid matter, be it only the size of a pas, may, or can, be that in nearly adeases, this particular original or "apiritanl obtained out of millions of cubic miles of this universal counterpart" must be looked for in the medicar's immediate other-easy if it can be imagined to be represented in this surroundings, not to mention the frequent instances when ether—the existence of all the worlds in the universe, no ordinary shoots, cloaks, pocket-handkerchiefs, &c., are matter what their masses might be, is accounted for, since directly borrowed for the occasion when a chance is afforded Ouce a infinite "

We are now compelled to refer to that particular phenomeyet, not been demonstrated by photography, but which has, sadet, be no setual harm done by abstracting the cusputal ages of man's existence. I refer to the traditional (not the I am positively certain that out of a material of thick various apparitions, with a few exceptions, however, the into a ton-fold quantity of gauso-like substance. This phantons in seen to wone the garmente or electing I have seen to occur under my own eyes. If spirite in which it was last, or usually, attired. I, when a boy, can after the texture of a substance, and, if a met with a similar occurrence, viz., the phantom of a fundamental spiritual counterpart can be explained gardener standing at my side, disappearing suddenly, and by the rapport theory, the appearance and subsequent re-appearing at some distance in front of me. Not only disappearance of the drapery presents nothing absolutely were the clothes exactly like those wern by that class of miraculoca. In the spiritual beings represented in the people, but there was a let of old clay pipe attribute on a photographs, a very similar process is likely to be followed, button-hole of its cont ! Amongst the multitudeness cases and to all appearance the same conditions are observed of apparitions recorded by the Society for Psychical Research, viz., there is an original "untural" spiritual garment premany are of a somewhat analogous nature, and I do not see served by magnetic contact during life, which is retained any extravagance in the assertion that these strange occur or re-assumed; or the "sitter" for the portraits note to rences are absolute realities, which one day or other will be these sports as a physical medium, the "contact" with the generally established as such. To account for the presence person sating supplying the power or magnetic fluid required of the wearing appared in the above quoted cases, we must for its further development into visible (photographically again refer to the often demonstrated truth that, between the living being and the objects in constant Juxtaposition with the body, there exists a certain rupport or "magnetic" form was seen to build up from underneath masses of a connection. It appears that inorganic matter absorbs, or magy white-looking enlatines drawn by the medium from emanating from the body but a spiritual substance or fluid satters and spirit-forms (in the vaporous, phantom-like permenting the body and its surroundings, which, when state) had been previously notwed to move near the medium s

ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY * tablished, it adheres to, and becomes mention, with, the death resisting principle in man, and again becomes the spiritual property to spiritual man. To the latter it would consequently appear "natural," and like a still more attenuated condition of matter, would have a proportionately similar value to beings of a still higher and more spiritual stage of existence (like those seen in the photographs). It is ovident from oft-repeated experiments that "spirits" possess addican be made to again re-emission the sould phase, when brought into fresh contact with what is generally termed the physical medium. By what process, we shall, perhaps, never

Although the stronge rounty of "dressed ghosts" is to this clear of "spirits." The medium may be cognisent or But to retern to the solution of the drapery problem agnorant of this fact—the question is of no great importance norwould it be fair to hold any medium responsible for autions non which cannot be produced at will, which has, at over which he or she has no direct control. There would be none the less, been observed and recorded from the earliest, granufaceur sarets of causes at the medium anonse or hedroom. conventional) ghost, e.s., the veridical phantom. In these texture, spirits can, by manipulation, change that texture reproducible) drapery.

In the ramarkable case recorded in "Light," where a becomes impregnated with, certain qualities or properties underneath his morning coat, it appears that the spiritual inherent self-existent in the organic, a.c., the living being counterpart must have been stored there for development, Probably this "magnetam" is not a force radiating or by the spirit so materialising. I have it from two of the connected with the morganic substance, causes a certain properties in its of personally assisting in the manifestation. Probably A few min of these chrome drawings still remain, and may be obtained at the was under the absolute control of the "spirit" present, and the Manager of the Psychological Fram. 4. Are Ministense, E.C., peter 3s. 6h.

was only automatically carrying out a process of usual occurrence, but which on that occasion seemed a novelty on account of the materialisation happening in the light. For whom, as is the rule, the same manifestations occur in the dark, there is no means of ascertaining what actually takes place. The hights which were noticed to Rutter all over his breast (a circumstance which I had previously policed with the same, and also with other mediums) appear to be the "magnetic

It should also to well borne in mind that there is no direct necessity for a "spirit" to get possession of a spiritual counterpart by entering hungelf in contact, or by having previously-a.e., in earth-life-been uncontact with the garments in which they now appear; it seems sufficient when the -sever that quantial counterpart during their medium's of the elements present in his surroundings (which in plant Paysegue, and the first meancrisers. lauguage would mean: we take it from his bedelother)

(To be continued.)

THE CONDITIONS OF SUCCESS IN SPIRITUAL INVESTIGATION

By S. E. De M

In lure, and success, in experiments on sparitur, pile tomena have induced no to offer a few adultions suggestions on the subject. I trust that its importance, and the obscurity In which it is involved, will save me from the charge of

My experience in this matter was gained, for much the most part, in the absence of any professional medium. But In saying this I have not the slightest intention to deprepinto those man and women who have given their services to enable sejentific men to establish facts of the highest value, and who certainly could not bestow their time, and as I believe, bodily strength, for the purpose, without any

In the very simple and unpretending order in which I learned what little I know of spiritual phenomena it soon became apparent that those friends who obtained the most convincing and unquestionable proofs were found to powers strong "moduments" (the word under protest) powers in their own persons. And, on the other hand, inquirers who contributed most power to the circle were often those who had, in the first instance, retarded or oven prevented the occurrence of the phenomens, until the assurance of some one whom they held in respect, or some slight indication of a movement or a sound, excited their interest and overcame their incredulity. In can such case the presence of a large-brained, intellectual Egypton at Vienna some years ago. He was military attached man, not opposed to the facts, but scoptical, in spite of hun- at Vienna, and recently precorded to Egypt on Lord Wolseley a self, as to their possibility, retorded the occurrence of the staff. "munifestation" for twenty minutes or more. He left the room and they began at oxee, the "spirits" saying by rape that he had " miconsciously repelled " them. On his return he obtained communications on subjects known to none of the party but himself, two of which involved details either not known to, or not remembered by, him. After this bla own mediumship became apparent.

After this time repeated experience led me to believe that just in the degree in which the enquirer possesses the faculty known as mediamship, will the treating person help, and the suspicious or sceptical one hinder, the occurrence of phenomena. This was repeatedly proved in the early times to which I refer, now thirty years ago, when some of those whose pressure at first delayed, but afterwards greatly atrengthoused the manifestations, became themselves strong mediams, and had a place among the "Pioneers of the Spiritual Reformation."

We all found that to engage in this inquiry with the object of detecting fraud was almost always either fatas to success or a great obstacle to it. To devise tests is not the way to obtain proofs. But, as I have heard such men as Dr. I obert Chambers, Professor Gregory, and others remark, " If you prescribe a fest you will not get it, but if you wait and take what comes, proof in abundance will be given fluo" which serves as the constructive power is these you". This is all a accordance with the assertions of the spirits" that "the intelligence at the other end of the wire." the sender of the message, passes a current of spiritua, fluid" through the mechani, whose capacity sures with his passion and with the character of his mind, or its material organ—his brain. The existence and operation of this saper toas fluid " are rendered probable by medium has done so. The spirits can—so they confess to me the experiments of Reichenbach, Gregory, and others, and receive some amount of confirmation from the statements of sleep and solidify it afterwards, through his magnetism, out clairvoyants, and of the early patients of Mesmer, Deleuic,

I believe that most intellectual men and wemen have, n one correction or another the receptive and transmissive capacity caded medianiship, but their minds are cultivated, active and generally disciplined in the direction which would lead them to look for physical causes alone in explanation of the phenomens. Hence they themselves, by repelling the corrent, probably fall in supplying the fit The excellent observations of Mr Carleton Massey on apparatus for the working of that power which finds a ready instrument in the passive and perhaps crudulous

Many mientific and thoughtful men are now engaged in psychical research, and it is not unlikely that in their experiments the apparatus offered to the entern worker may often prove rather a hindrance than a help to his opporations. At any rate the question is worth considering in discussing conditions of success or causes of

There are two verses of the Gospel narrative which caply that the conditions now found to contribute to failure or success were also required in that great outpouring of the Spirit described by the Evangelists -

" He did not many mighty works there decrees of their

And, before the wonderful manifestation at Pentecest, They were all saith one accord in one place."

Ax advertisement will be found on our front page of the re-issue of several standard works which have, for some time, been either out of print, or otherwise unobtainable.

We regret to announce the passing away, at Abu Fatesch, a April 3th, of Colonel Primmes, brother of Lord Rosebery. The decreed officer had been a Speritualist for many years peat, but we believe the last stones he attended was with Mr.

Ix France, many contributors to the spiritist journals are retired officers. Dr. Wahu, officer of the Legion of Honour, army physician, is one of them. He brought out, last year, a rolume entitled " Consolations et Ensesgaments," and this year one of 780 pages, "Specifisme dans l'Antiquité et dans lut

AT Peath there is on one of the quays a lofty home which has the aspect of a prison. The licensed guides always point out this dismal-looking house to visitors to the city as having a story, gen adar, us of that of the sentry box in which soldier after soldier committed anertde, and which was destroyed by order of Napoteon I. The story is this. Some years ago one of the inputes of the house committed suicids by throwing himself from one of the wordows. The example was followed by nother and then by severa; others. The landlord began to fuel prompted to us the same, as, before the expulse became too strong, he sout for workings and and overy window effectually burred against any such event to him or to unyone she in the future, - Reme Spirite.

IMPROMPTU REPLIES THROUGH A LADY PSYCHIC

April 18, 1864.]

OF VERY LIMITED EDUCATION

By T. P. BARRAS. F G.S.

(Continued from page 154.)

Scanco held August 30th, 1875. Present, two ladies and eight gentlemen.

Among the gentlemen at the seance was a learned professor of music, whom I took with me for the purpose of asking musical questions, to which a person with an ordinary knowledge of music would not be able to reply in an approximityo mannor, without special preparation-The questions, in the order in which they appear, were asked by the professor of mosic were written by me in the manuscript book and road aloud, and were very rapidly replied to in writing by the hand of the lady medium. The following is a perbatum copy of the questions and answers in the order in which they were given. Whether they are right or wrong I am quable to say, but they are certainly appreciative suswers to difficult questions, and probably could not, under similar circumstances, be given so well by one musician in five thousand. I have not yet met with a musician who can enswer them so well in an impromptu manner, and with very few who profess fully to understand them now that they are answered ;-

Q. Will you please to say how the rates between specific beats (I was not quite certain of the word, but I caught it as "bests," and wrote it to) of air for constant rolume and constant pressure may be calculated from the observed relocity of sound, and the velocity as calculated by Sir Isaac Newton's formula?

A. The ratio can only be calculated in this manner Buppose two churds to be struck, or two forks tuned at the sume time; if the intensity of the sound he the sume, or nearly the same, the beats will occur in this manner : Suppose one pulsation beats at the rate of 328 per second and the other at 220, the beats will reach the ear at the rate of 228-220-8 per second, this will give you eight beats E natural and F flat, and between E sharp and F per second, and is the utmost that can be carried to the nature !

Q. Will you plants to put base to the accompanying secondy which has just born written and road by Mr. (the professional musician)?

A. I am no composer and startely understand your English music. I should not suprove on you, were I to attempt it, so decline.

Q. Will you please to give us an explanation of the cause of boots of amperfect concords?

A. This question belongs to according proper. A best or palsation is caused by a sound-wave, and many sounds produce many waves. The sounds arraing from one part of a roots fill the air in proximity to them, and the waves exteriors with each other, thus producing imperfect bests or imperfect pulsations, and do not reach the ear in teochronous vibrations.

Q. When a sensecol note is ribrating at 300 per second, practical knowledge of that instrument. and another at 200 per second, they produce a fifth. If the note which some sounded at 200 be reused to 201, at what number will the best occur for the first time?

A. At exactly the same number as in the first case, but a bank over the original number would be sounded, but that let the question stand over , I am not quite clear beat would be one octave lower than the first ones.

d Linema !

A. I never heard of the word you last mention, but of in striking the H we get the major tone, and in the B the minor , but I am rather at a less, for I have always studied the German music, and our notes are differently named Please to explain to me the names of your English once 1

Here the musical professor present verbally explained the names of the English notes, and caked the following paéstion —

Q Will you kindly tell us whether G to D in the scale of C is a major tone or a minor tone, and also if D to E is the same interval as C to D, that is, is the latter a major or

A. From C to D is a major tone, and from D to E is what you would call a minor, but in rechty, the beats not occurring at the auto time, it is peither a major nor a minor, but one for which we have no name.

Q. Will you please to re-write between the words "fundamental and H," in the preceding answer, the MS being nearly illegible!

A. By major we understand the fundamental sound and by minor the complementary sound, slightly differing in tone to the major, but being of the same intendity

Q. What is the difference between a diatonec comitons and a chromatic semitone?

A. I am not quite sure I understand the question, at least I do not understand the terms you use.

Q. What is mount by enharmonic direct !

A. When two or more sounds are given, the waves carry the sound, and the waves impinging one on the other cause a disturbance, and the reflected waves carrying on the disturbanec cause the dieux

Q. Will you please to inform us what is meant by a еания !

A. That committee of all sound caused by the coincidence and interference of the sound waves.

Q. Will you please to inform us what is the difference between C sharp and D Act, or, as I believe they are called in German, but of ther I am not certain, Cis and Des 1.

A. C sharp bolongs to one disposon, and D flat to

Q. Would you kindly tell us the difference between

A. The same answer as under (above) applies to this question. E natural and F sharp are in the some dispason. but F flat and E sharp are not.

Q. Please to re-cerite the above answer, as the question is, What is the difference between E natural and F flat, and between B sharp and P natural?

A. The F flat is of course a semitone above the E natural, but is not in the same disposon. Substitute flat for sharp in the above answer and it will be found correct.

Q. Please to inform us if you understand that a crolin has four strings tuned at intervals of one-fifth from each other, as no desire to ask some questions that will require that knowlege on your part?

A. Ali I know of violens is that they are stringed instruments, and that different notes are formed by shortening or demping the strings. This is the sum total of my

Q. If we ascend by four perfect fifths, and descend by a major there and two perfect octaves, do no arrive at exactly the same point, and, if not, what is the difference !

A. I believe you arrive at exactly the same point, but

Q. Oblige by answering the following question: Start-Q. What is a major tone, what is a minor, and what is ing from C, and according by two major thirds, and descending a perfect fifth, on what note do not arrive?

A. This is almost the same question reversed, out I the major and minor we generally, in German mumo, take think if you start from C and ascend two major thirds, and as the fundamental. . . . (Here the MS. is illegible.) descend one-fifth, you will arrive at Des sharp, but I am not stall certain. I am better acquainted with the theories of music than the practice.

Q. Please to say what the word or latter as that precedes tharp !

A. I wrote Des, but I menn D

Q. If by necessing one octave, and descending a major third and perfect fifth, shall we arrane at the same note as in the last question, and if not what is the difference?

A. At D natura.

Q. The lowest string of a violin to G, the next to D, which is a perfect fifth above O, the most A, which is a perfect fifth forence. An organ and a violin, for example, you will inabove D, and the next to E, which to a perfect fifth above A, so that the strings of a vivien form three perfect fifths. Will G. produced upon the Estring, which is the highest string, and which will form a numer third to E, will this G be exactly two octaves above G of the first string, and if not what is the please to inform us who the others are, and if you are acdifference 1

A. It will give the same note as G on the lower string, but two octaves higher, and of a higher rate. Thus, if I mistako not, the E string must have a node formed at one had, and the lameter being out that of the to or lower

string -(MS. 1 combine)

note, judging by this role, (MS, again illegible) I length 2 race lugher puch, I diameter 2-rate higher, 4 times diapunter 1-rate lower pitch.

Q. Will you please to resorite the above answer from the Extring?

A The Estring wil mayo a node formed by damping it at one helf to produce the G, their giving the same note as the O string, but two cotaves higher and of a higher rate. Judging by this rule in stringed matraments & length 2 rate higher pitch, 2 length & rate lower pitch, I diameter rate higher pitch, 4 times diameter è rate lewer pitch.

Q. A string which is night feet long in, as you very well know, just an octave below one that is finer feet, and ceteris paribue. In the same way a pipe might feet land is an actues below one four fout in length. Will a tengue one luch in length be an octare higher than one tree inches long? Are the vibrations in inverse proportion to the length of the fanand ?

A. This is well known that it is inversely proportional to the length of the roud, but specify the particular pipes you inquire about, Oremons, hauthoy, or aboe; vox hamans, cornet, or trampet !

On Will the same land hold good with all reads, and Wilmonton Structure to the foreign the places to make some reads. While rith the same two and the make the land of the land of the make the land of the land o 1000 2

A. It would not haki good in the yex mornin and Oromona, but in the limithey, cornet and trum set it would I will got up my knowledge of those subjects, and will, perlusps, be able to speak planne and give you some people. instruction if you desire it.

Q. Please to any if a one-anch reed will give a lone on octron higher than a two-inch reed?

suversely proportioned to the square root of the roed, that is what I want to get at.

and if not whether the higher or lower noise travel more moi/Rly? A. High notes travel much more quickly than grave ones, as the intensity of the note depends on the amplitude of vibrations of air particles. The higher the note or the greater the force with which it is abruck, sends it more rapidly through space, but a grave note and a higher one rapidly through space, but a grave note and a higher one struck at the same time, the grave one will be heard first, and after that any accord to sound, the high one will still the perfectly and lite, thus proving that the high one will still the perfectly and lite, thus proving that the high one will still the perfectly and lite, thus proving that the high one will still the perfectly and lite, thus proving that the high one will still that Similar types 121. In the morning the way a perfectly and lite, thus proving that the high one will still that Similar types 121. In the morning that a morning that a high contracted in the morning that a morning that the high one will still that Similar types 121. In the morning that a morning that a morning that the high one will still that Similar types 121. In the morning that a morning that a morning that a morning that the high one will still that Similar types 121. In the morning that the morning that a morning that the high one will still that Similar types 121. In the morning that the morning that the high one will still the perfectly and the third morning that the high one will still that Similar types 121. In the morning that the morning that the high one will still the morning that the high one will still the similar types 121. In the morning that the morning that the high one will still the morning that the high one will still the morning that the high one will still the morning that the mornin the reflected wave is quito as audible as the original one.

Q. If high and loss notes, intense notes, and those that tre not so, travel at different rates, how is it that an andstor, standing at a counderable distance from the prohested or band, hears the mouse in the same minner as he would hear were he standing very much nearer ?

A. The intensity of a sound has nothing to do with the pitch of any buttenment, and it depends on the elasticity of the temperature which sound first reaches the car; but there is no perceptible difference in a large orchestra. But take two instruments together, you will find the difvariably find you hear the acute note of the violin before the grave one of the organ, and sice street.

Q. You mentioned the name of Mayerberr and one or two other composers in a previous compunication. Will you quanted with them in your present state, or made their acquirintance in the present world?

A. I knew the composer of "Les Huguenets," but have not seen onything of him here. I have seen Weber and Handel mace coming here, but have not frequently come

Q. Please to any of you are coiling or able to get an interessio with Hawlet or Weber before Monday exening need, or any other time you ploses to appeare, as we are desirate of each in questions into it relation or their mas oil works?

5. I am of wining, but I question my abinty I will do my best.

Q. We are very glad to have had so pleasant and endrection a conformation with you thus evening on the copiet of micro and musical indemments, and so shall be abel to know if it be your wish to continue this subject next Monkey evening, or take the other subject which you suggested but seek unitend of it, viz., option?

A. I would rather continue this subject, but if I am mable to peepare myself by that time, we will take the dioptics, if it suit you to be propared with both.

With the exception of the last question, all the questions were nabed by my inusical friend, who only attended this and the next someon of the serios, and was personally unacquainted with the medium and the visitors present No such thing therefore, as collection or preparation is (To be readment want received.)

SPIRITUALISM IN LONDON & THE PROVINCES.

Sign and any in the content a ray of construct we facts, in that he is facts opened in a new sign of his beyond the grave are in a character was also more in age industry with humaning principles than the do first me, year of amortality which he was imply to see was any to be diagon the minds of the people. Du Sunday overling next Miss Young will speak. It is expected that a large audience will be present to hear this

Q. Please to any if a one-ench reed will grown tone as Bust volunt - M to Ailen of Englanton, gave an investigator them a two-inch reed?

A. I am not quite zero whether or not the cound is might Marc 23th. She was stoned to many attentively as she were wedepites he sea a and power of faith, saying, "The work or it change its who compact if faith, autoad of miles of about miles." She spoke of he beal on through faith Q. Will you please to inform an relative notes of different who have a few to be some of the sower of a the purity the putch and intensity travel through the are not equal rapidity; must if not whether the higher or lower notes travel more won extra car where that Christ. Who did such must if not whether the higher or lower notes travel more won effect with which are now in His fuller coloried.

after not see a choose, where and more over therefore His desire must be to helt and each of the alterment those who call as a fine I was to teaching has a so greatly needed, and many regretted the the measurement of the weather has prevented a large manber actioning. The previous Sonicay Mass A. en has spiken a opprison resolutioned at Belper a Derbythere. has up to a oppose in senanteered a necessary and the morning sub-eet sening. Thoughts upon Cherat, and the seem up up are. The la sortance of Work -Mas Roses again asked and answored, and great interest was excited. Mass H VANOMINES. Thanks. We shall be glad to use the angraving Owen delicited all by her wise, quiet manner and clear, concise You name. We you send to use the angraving Owen delighted all by her wise, quiet manner and clear, concise style. As she gave her own remarkable experiences in physical manifestations there was much to scartle the nexperienced out her sample, natural way of relating these phenomena convinces the ment acceptant way to relating these phononical contracts the ment acceptant of her sincerity. If there were more and apparent Spiritablets would rapidly multiply. It is greatly to be deplored that through the bigotry of a few such an able exponent of the cause about to allenged.—F.E.

April 18, 1883.]

GLASCOW -Sunday, April 12th. - At the morning and evening services the guides of Mrs. Wallis minutered to the needs of both occasions. The subject of the brief address in the forescent was "The Sunshings of Lafe," the delivery of which was followed by conversation and charveyant descriptions of spirit friends by Year": these descriptions were generally recognised. The even of a discourse treated of "Practical Thoughts for Daily Late. The advictics was ful as its do see very was ful a rugorous, and we sustained. The six is content with were has pain is an educator to just a practical ordered in which makes every day a narror suchedly from most on to this and maken every day a nacree as back? good must call which and deeds to pre-a that or are which about to be about a moreal and national de are argely processed to the make of the electric a of confidence are fall an real first of all in the individual, then in the family of which he is a normal and a confidence are the family of which he is a member, and so on throughout the entire body corporate of humanity; and, finally, that man is not wholly a creature of circumstances, but our and must be a creater of them. Such themes afforded the guides supple scope for current appeal to the again the apprets more the continue interior and for a demo-with statements of the arms in their start to address the practical good remains in the section of the arms of the arms of the meeting that were as for the Northern Division and unit so held on W directly even up at eight one of the house off the form of the form of the first and the track W size. In we taken New castay Anna man say the annie hour at Mr. Centing v. If A cora as involutions in exception to all The union Tuesday one age to the his are control New Sunday Atra. Wallis was again occupy the platform. by

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

O MCREAT Notice is inserted.

J. E. F .- Thanks. We have sent for the book

W LOWESTHALL - Thanks. Will appear.
R. P. JOURNAL - Thoules. Will appear.
R. WOLSTEINGLE. - Thanks. Will be used in due course.
R. C. Man reserve. We have already deak sort. In matter
Mrs. 5. P. Arkinana. We will try and give a place to your letter.

J. C. An LEMANN. Tirkets have been next. Kindly send other information if you got to.
"Bibble S. ar MSS returned as requested. De not forget information if you get a "Miss returned as requested. Do not forget to let us know when you come to town.

James Vetter. We are glad to comply with your request. Can not you necoding the letter of the properties.

On the 197 Note that "at your precisings."

If we not not the form the note of the your attention to a paragraph reduce from the note consult Mr. Ly, also the will be a list new quarters by the 26 that In the meaning you can address a letter for an appending of the formation you can address a letter for an appending of the care.

Must Calon Parts 11, No and NI of Gregory a "Aminal Magnetism" are sent you as requested. Thanks for your kind worth about the otherwise that worth about the charges of altogether and mount them in cardboard with a name is sufficient for your purpose.

there is cardioard with a many battlerest for your purpose.

This is what we have some the array on we the places.

If are what we have some the array on we the places, the review you rection has how been sent you. We had not one in stock when your eard arrayed, and had to obtain one for you from a transit.

ax To Max his cannot have a better the action book han tregger a Private Instructions by Max Hunt price obe games, is also good, and pertups, would answer your

G. A. K. vo. Your Mis. has not yet been read. We will percee it Da. shortly and let you know Communications such as ours have to take their turn. It will receive careful attention in

If necessary Both notices appear this week. In making up last week we had, at the less momens, to once, your report, and the necessary for alteration of the "answer" introduct for

T R PATTINGS Babbit's Wonders of Light and Colour though written by a Sportualist, cannot us on oil a Sportualisate book. It death rather with new readings of the subjects R rith which it deals.

Will which it death of February 5th is just to hand, Many thanks for fibe of Harbarger. They have not ver come to land, but will doubtless do so shortly. Your order is being sent this week through Trübner.

G. Towns, -Your letter has now been attended to. Your previous communication had get misland, and only larged up after protonged nearth, for which it was difficult to find time. Please accept our apologies.

Mas. J. N. We fear we have overlooked your request, but now teetify it as soon as discovered. If we can in of any further service we begine not to be state to write again. We will then try and make some afonement.

Dixes. - Thanks, We and be guards the engineering you name. We you send in to us.

Dixes. - Your verbal message came duly to hand. But cannot you allow us perfect freedom of action? As you know, we have not only to take into account the question of space, but also to give, if possible, a varied bill of fare.

Woods. What has been your experience since you had write not well as wrote not We will give not an introduction to Mr. Ethichon now that he has returned to fown. We should like to know whether you have us befor success a hot country and the formal country of the success and the success and the success of the s but when we cannot find opports of the for developing but were the cannot find opports of the for developing Warten. Book sent as requested. It will be best not to publish reports of the affair you mention until faller information that the obtained. When this is possible will you send to a complete file of newspaper cuttings dealing with the matter? H. Clasterance.—Thanks for extract from "Enthon." Your French, eath rules symbolity do not admit of matter intended for a sheaton going attends the part at the took jest atte, as we not to pay a surcourge of So. It being wented as a letter.

letter V. Jerres, S.F. and J. S. Large and Officers. The secretary of on azondom spir uses A course, will be a defined each of a part of the second party for the second gentry for the called Succession as tweeks. The "Wassan's Book " how been out of print for a long time and I was in this sense that we areword your inquery if you and appeal for enjoying a fore he had become had as seen made with the abnouncement there would have seen to he was the second of the subscription. The rate for he was a subscription of the subscription. The rate for he was a subscription of the rate for he was a subscription of the was subscription of the was subscription. The rate for he was subscription of the was subscription.

The modes ages to be ment to the activess names.

Mr. Rt Malle. "We will give you an appointment as soon on we can find time. At present we have no opportunity. If you have another change of circulating "Light" let us know in better time no we we send on a part of facility dates have not a subgress of the way you do. We are good to active does not a subgress of the way you do. We are good to active does not a subgress of a way are will be work for Spat that had a service of a way ages.

 4. Anne ence Promote Your under runs to hand on Sava one after the office was count, we there one represent? or Monda manning. It was then executed and a cut-likely of the ast case on gave. You nest condumn atom or word the postered. In you since received by If not, we will adulyou the actionals again you the articolates again J. S.T. We do not desire that you should suffer through your agen a negl gence. As a not or of fact, we seen a special letter to one saving that I he would give us the necessary pure unitary or wants send in in the name or the through you are not send to be refused, and, of course, we could be nothing in the number. We send you a set here

W RIDERIA .- (1) There is no mystery in the method of witnesding apprical planeteen. 2 New and develop a distinguishing plate in the blacking stomatt. You would be well to read such books as "Psychopingly Around Industrial," "Researcher, Wa need A seem Spiritus in "Bringing it to Book, and of her. Write again, becomeny

HENSELDE A WEDOWGOD.—Your continuation, dealing as aldoes with a matter that appears in a private journal of the scorety of which you are a vice president, is for that zeroon readvises are to or columns of Litair." We regret that this about I be the case as we have not the slightest doubt uning tentional. It is, is prived in free questions of some questions tentional is not be parcel in freq appearable of some questions which are very important country Mickey Your name is entered as a subscriber to "I resent that Productive You need not bead the motion with all a pression in make for it. We are no aware of any work which death exerciseryly with I resentanced, but some evel brough the is no increased and present continuous, but a feed brough the is no increased in adjacent Gregory's Asian. Magnetism, serbages would be an insent a social asset of the subject Gregory's Asian. Magnetism, serbages would be an insent a social asset of the subject Gregory's Asian on the subject Gregory's Asian on the same against the country, but My My My Asian because a regiment against Dr Sadin were artisally true but the former out to to a new annual very were artisally true but the former out to to a new annual very has any other in were a confident has the constraint land in the summers har Wittengenn the country last Mr Nr. Mr. Assumblere as a consumeration against Dr. Statt were arrivally true but the former and the to a fix and a weight facts I in w. tind a true account of the occurrence in the star during NS a copy of which was w. ry to sold you. The account of the occurrence of The accountry during the confidence of which was w. ry to sold you. The accountry of which was expected from Stade things. presents of a breat of cromant processings, and not on account of his owing been enought manuscrib virialization. However, you will see be full story if we can find a copy of the number of "Lie III" in question to send

No.

- We have done as requested, but you will now, we feel no urea, appreciate the difficulties we experience in this marks.

Of course when quotations are made and the source marter. Of course when quotations are made and the source achieveledged we can and a do what is night in the matter but smooth communications in the HT occasionally comtain anni-knowledgest extracts from the magnitude you must please holo as he inters as even by courtesy we are not favoured methal copy. When members of your council and a vice president may 0 angle transgress the attict exquette of the question beautropies, by members of the Society can untilly be expected to keep the avoid at lower a given pity that the report with which you dear in your present letter cannot be in ay discussed in an open journal. Are your rules also hose of the Modes and Personal.

PHENOMENA

Mediums, who are the instruments of an external agency, have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who deceive by sleight of hand, and in the same manner that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly investigated the phenomena has failed to become convinced of their reality, so no conjurer who has been confronted with the same facts has been able to explain their occurrence by prestadgetation. Hondin, Jacobs, Beltheir powerlesaness to produce under the mome conditions what occurs without human intervention in the presence of a mediani.

Testimony of Robert Houdin.

The Marques Endes de Marville published during the lifetime of Houdin two letters from the latter, in his " Mémoire addressé a MM. les prombres de l'Academie des Sciences Morales et Politiques, sur un grand nombre de phénomines mervilleux interessant également le Religion, la Sorenco, at les hommes du Mande," In which the conjurer confesses his mability to explain the phenomena he witnessed in the presence of Alexis, the clairvoyant. A circumstantial account is given of M. de Murville's visit to Houdin for the purpose of ongaging him in this investigation, of the latter's couldence in his own smility to detect the trick, and of what took place at the seance, the conditions of which were entirely under Haudin's control. This account exbeids over twelve pages, and its accuracy is confirmed by Houdin in the first of the documents now translated ;---

Athough very far from accepting the outogles which M. is good anough to bostow upon me was especially must ing that I am not at all committed to come ma, enther in favour of magnetism or against it, I can, nevertheless, not refram from docharing that the facts above reported are entirely correct (sent de la plus complète escetificale), and that, the more I reflect upon them, the more impanible I find it to rank them among those which belong to my art and profession

O ROBBET HOUSE.

414th May, 1847,"

A fortught later, M. de Mirville received another letter, in which the following, referring to another senues, occurs -

"I have, thursfore, returned from this science as astenuabed pa it is possible to be, and persuaded that it is afterly empossible that chance or skill could ever produce effects so recorderful (food & duality of the spirit 'in spiritual manufactation.' I authorise full impossible que le hosard ou l'odresse purses jamale produire des effete unm mereiffene) - | um, Monnieur, de.

"(Signed), Rosner Horats.

14 May 16th, 1847."

Testimony of Earry Keller.

Harry Kollar, a distinguished professor of legerdemain, investigated the slate-writing phenomena which occurred in the presence of Mr. Eglinton, at Calcutta, in January, 1883, and on the 25th of that month he addressed a letter to the editor of the Indian Daily Name, in which he said :-

" In your famus of the 13th January I stated that I should be glad of an opportunity of participating in a seance with a view of giving an unbiased opunon as to whether, in my expectly of a professional prestaligitator, I could give a materal explanation of effects said to be produced by spiritual aid.

"I am indelited to the courtesy of Mr. Eglinton, the spiritualistic medium now in Calcutta, and of his host, Mr. J. Mongena, for affording too the opportunity I maved.

"It is needless to say I wont as a sceptic, but I must own ; that I have come away utterly anable to explain, by any natural means, the phenomena that I witnessed on Tuesday oroning. I with give a brief description of what took place.

After describing coveral successful experiments, Mr Kellar proceeds ;--- that I do not expect my account of them to gain general anyone who described such manifestations under similar cir- pusses. quantaneos. I still remain a aceptic as regards Sparitualism, but , 1877 "

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL I repeat my inability to explain or account for what must have boott an intelligent force that produced the writing on the slate, which, if my senses are to be relied on, was in no way the result of trickery or aleight of hand."

On the 30th of the same month Mr. Kellar addressed another letter to the Indian Daily Knos, reporting some experiences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regarding which he said :--

In conclusion, let me state that after a most stringent trial and strict occurring of these wonderful experiences I can exrive at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trickery sachna, Hermann, Kellar, and others have already confessed in any form, nor was there in the room any mechanism or machinery by which could be preduced the phenomena which had taken place. The ardinary mode by which Maskelyne and other conjurars unitate levitation or the floating test could not possibly be slone in the twom in which we were sesembled."

The Testimony of Professor Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Lield, make Licht, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which occurred in Paris through the Brothers Davenport, said -

"Spite of the amertions, more or less trustworthy, of the French and English journalists, and spite of the foolish juniouses of ignorant conjurers, I feel it my duty to show up the had faith of one party and the chicanory of the other. All that has en mid or done adverso to these American mediums is absolutely untrustworthy. If we would rightly judge of a thing we negt understand st, and neither the journalists nor the conunits personed the most elementary knowledge of the science that governs these phenomens. As a prestaligitator of repute, and a sincere Speritualist, I affirm that the medimental facts demonstrated by the tree brothers were absolutely true, and bolomgod to the Spiritualistic order of things in every respect

"Means. Robbs and Robert Hondin, when attempting to mutate these said facts, never presented to the public anything beyond an infantine and almost grotseque paredy of the said phenomera, and it would be only ignorant and obtimite persons who sould regard the questions arrivesly as set forth by these guntlemen. If (so I have every reason to hope) the psychical studies, to which I am applying myself at this time, succeed, I shall be able to establish clearly, and that by public demonstration, the immune line of department which separates readismintic phenomens from conjuring proper, and then equirocation will be no longer possible, and persons will have to yield to evidence, or deny through predetermination to deny . . . .

"Following the data of the lowned showist and natural philosopher, Mr. W Crockes, of London, I am now in a position to prove plainly, and by purely amentific methods, the existence of a 'paychic force' in mosasserism, and also the fadiviyou, dear sir, to insert this letter in your next number, if agreeable to you," de., de.

Testimony of Samuel Bullachial.

Samuel Bellachini, Court Conjurer at Berlin, made the following declaration in December, 1877 :-

'I hereby declare it to be a rush action to give decisive udgment upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Slade, after only one nitting and the observations so made. After I had, at the wish of several highly intermed gentlemen of rank and position, and also for my own interest, tested the physical medicuship of Mr. Slade, an a series of nittengs by full daylight, as well as in the evening in his bedroom, I nimit, for the sake of truth, hereby certify that the phenomenal occurrences with Mr. Slade have been the roughly examined by me with the minutest observation and investigation of his surroundings, including the table, and that I have not in the munitest degree found anything to be produced by means of practidigitative manifestations, or by mechanical apparatos , and that any explanation of the experiments which took place under the carcumstances and conditions then obtaining by any reference to prestudigitation is absolutely insponsible. It must rest with such men of science at Crookes and Wallaco, in London , Perty, in Berne , Betlerof, in St. Petersburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published opinions of "In respect to the above manifestations, I can only say laymen as to the ' How ' of this subject to be premature, and, according to my view and experience, take and one-aded. Thu, prodonee. Forty-ought hours before I should not have believed my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and wid-(Signed, Sauckt Brillachini, Berlin, December

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

- WHATEVER LOTH MAKE MAXIFEST IN LINET. -- Post

No. 225,-Vot. V.

SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS.

"Matter through Matter" and the supermatural and thing in to-called Spiritualism, as the supermatural, and thing in the supermatural spiritualism. to the latest the and Spatistic Paris of the Paris of the understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the count where it is, and all that he could suggest was, opanious expressed b Contrasitors and Correspondents Free and constant fiscustion is invited, but soriters are weight, as the still say it might, should prove their alone responsible for the articles to which their named are opinion by the operation on a mailur ring while on a attached history of Spiritualism, massely, an instance of the permanent possible cort of trick ' manifestation of this order of phenomena, for rot rings so bunity of investigation to thorounds.

"MATTER THROUGH MATTER" that my ring is not cold welled AND MR. MASKELYNE By G. Wyta, M D.

tizatore, ja amening as well as instruct:

I have always maintained that any man or woman of from the wrist than to place it there certinary especity, and especially anyone having an ope, Mr. Gurney, in the leat number of Liouv "says," So far hand, or judgment trained by mechanical man pulation from Mr. Maskelyne's verdict reversing ours, as Dr. Wy-m would at once my that this ring could not possibly be got asserts, the two are extrely coincident." over Mr. Husk's hand without senous agary a surgeon than a mechanician." He also says. I cannot mechanical admit that in my opinion it could not be put where it is by produced a loop of soft wire which he stated was exactly through the loop, but appeared unable to do m."

easily the shape of every surve in the hand, and I begged Mr. Maskelyne to try and pass it over Mr. Husk's hand, and that if he tried and failed I should score one.

Further, by means of a similar soft copper loop any one ran at once convince himself that it cannot possibly be forced over Mr. Husk's hand, either "pear-shaped" or in any other possible form.

I scarcely think I could have been so sly or so "green" be placed where it is by natural means. To admit this tend, - Reme Sparite.

would, of course, have been to admit that there was such a thing, in so-called Spiritualism, as the supernatural, and this, material. Mr. Maskelyne was to get the most appropriated The Editor of Lant's degree it to be distinctly opinion and most argumous suggestion as to how the ring cold sachling. But this, as I have already said, has no weight, as the ring can be shown not to have been cold

If they will do this I will undertake to prove to them

As to Mr Husk soaking his hand in hot water, and so softening it as to be able to squeeze the ring over the hand, I would remark that hot water generally swells almost all The continuous correspondence about my fron ring, bodies, including all hands. If Mr Hunk's hand were made which has now been on Mr. Husk's wrist accely towies of jety it might be thus softened, but het water does not weeks, and has been interviewed by many hundred investig soften bones. A solution of sulphuric sold should have been suggested, and who will be so bold as to say that Mr This correspondence has the great advantage of keeping. Hunk has not by this means dissolved all the honce of his the subject of " Matter through Matter" before the public, hand, and reduced it to a rely-poly substance and thus get and of drawing attention to a fact, I believe unique in the ring on ! For are not all these meaning up to every

Mr. Maskelyne says a ring can be got easier on than of placed are generally removed from the medium's wrist in a a hand. Perhaps he is thinking of tight finger rings, which few minutes or hours. A mismos may afford Spiritua intic certainly are major placed on the diagras than removed; but evidence to the few persons present, but in the austance of I have found it to be the contrary with my ring No. 1, this ring the persistency of the phonomonon affords an oppor- which many ladies can, by force, pass over their hands, and in all such cases they find it much caster to remove the ring

In reply, I am again obliged to complain of Mr. Gurney's Mr. Maskelyne, in " Leone," 18th April, mays that it rash assertions, for he delivered the opinion, that if the would be "in its present form a very painful if not unpor form of the ring were altered it might be removed from Mr sable operation to get it over the hand; but whether by Husk's hand, but Mr. Maskelyne is far too clover thus to well scaking the hand in hot water, and banding the ring implicate himself, and so he shifts the responsibility and into a pear shape, it could be got on is a prestion either for says, "that is a question for a surgeon rather than it

Well, I received a surgical as well as a medical education, natural means", further," It is caser to get a ring over the and as a surgeon I assert that the ring, alter its shape as you hand thus to get it off again"; and, finally, "Dr. Wykl, choose, could not possibly be forced over Mr. Husk's hand without serious fracture of the hand, and in " Liour," April the size of the ring, the medium tried to get his hand 11th, Dr. Speer, who likewise received a surgical education, mays, "I have carefully examined the ring upon Mr Husk's True, I produced a loop of soft copper wire which took wrist, and entirely agree with the opinion expressed by Dr Wyld as to the verdict of Messra. Barrett and Gurney."

In conclusion, Mr. Hunk will probably be at the but he very shrewdly declined to make the attempt, no doubt. Spiritual Alliance meeting at St. James Bonqueting Hall, seeing at a glance, that the operation would be impossible, on the 24th inst., at eight o'clock, to minist the ring to further examination.

GEORGE WYLD, M D

Althouse Canadatt, author of "Arcanes de la Vie Future Deroilés," and of other works, some of which were translated into other languages, and who founded the Société des Etudes, Swedenborgiens, departed this life April 10th, 1925, at seventy-six as to ask Mr. Markelyne to admit that the ring could not years of age. His remains are laid in the cometery at Argon-

INCREDULITY

"The Sin of Credulity" An apostle of human progress cannot serve it better than by insisting on the association of intellectual and moral responsibility. But the principle at of little value if resferred merely in the interests of a onesided tendency, and is of stall less value if the tendency thus powerfully recommended in that to which public aptonon is already sufficiently disposed. By public opinion, this case I a can that with place a sample, he work classes. It was to them cortains that Professor Clafford warrang was addressed. He spoke with the voice of the Zest-Geist, which necessarily regards stack as representing and conserving the best hopes of human civilention. Any apposition to this stream of tendency, so long, at least, as the latter rolls with unalated force, must struggle with that fact word partly need to a rentury or more sa actions. On the other hand, there is real danger to avelectual progress when an atmosphere of thought takes he pince of thinking on any given subjects, and when a an whefe are determined, not by nature and evidence, out or a subjective environment.

It would be unphilosophical, and contrary to many recognised analogies, not to admit that the same mental Labilities which expose man to error in one direction will assuredly pursue him in his reaction to the other We are upt to consider the first manifestation of a radical itself. The tendency to credulity, for instance, is not a fact of ustimate analysis. On the contenty, such a fact when recognized will be found to include the very opposite tendency. It is that the vast majority of minds are exceedingly limb, and plastic to the thought-atmosphere to the a pieness she affords one of the except schievements that of any other fact. of marvelmenty. And in this respect education makes no other tile wice than by lifting a man late another sircle of adlatences

No emputation on intellectual competence is more we at prevalue means, there is hardly a pretence of as any you we containly succeed. The tone of his sector vidual vanity more presumptuous than the clear to which the command our sympathy and respect, but while he exempt from it. Of course, if a man were consumus of stocks to his proposition that these facts are not projudice, it would have already but half as from if I be believed unless they are personally witnessed there a any psychole was fact which the present generator I think he will obtain some valuable lights us to the of thesking men might be expected to recognize, it is that mental conditions of a cross four a persons of the exter of influence, respect, estimation, and sympathy can fall to any come a upon which the facts were to him to require the minerice, respect, establishing and sympathy can into any produces of the way sympathy and the same of manuscript in intellectual intercourse. These advantages all the world accepted them except himself! If not, what de eru um te, their operation is far more subtle. Could proportion of the rece populi would be require! to me video occur to the meal as conscious motives w the question whother the presumptions of an educated class suppose that harring assent can be compelled by personal may not be radically wrong present itself to the average experience when the facts do not adapt themselves to the ep acts in it, these it stough of up a paid howesty to keep for it a hearing. But until thus questioned, those presumptions operate, unacknowledged and unrecognised, as a has gradually fieled, until now they are nearly as sceptical weight on one of the scales of judgment. Or rather the as eversenior thems ever are untrue

But as if it were not said enough that every piterlecture epoch should be unavoidably biassed by its proposessions, in our day these prepossessions have been actually exalted into a principle of judgment. That principle has been that "evidence should be proportioned to the probability of for noble occupation in the spirit spheres. After the address, the fact to be proved." I will not here repeat the argue the medium, in a semi-trunce state, told how she had claim ments by which I have formerly culenvoured to demonstrate witnessed the passing away of her sister some mouths strate its fallacy. * Enough to say that, on the contrary the value of evidence is just the improbability, according to experience, of its being forthcoming for that which is not a The late Professor Clifford published an article entitled fact, and that this value cannot be in the least affected by the unture of the fact to be proved, except so far as the atter may suggest position favories in the evidence. The ady rea meaning of probability a position experience. who is referred us that a certain given quarry and quart ty of a idence is rurely, or never consistent with the nonexistence of a corresponding fact.

They will be found in the appendix to pur translation of Zollass ander the title. "The Value of Textimony is Nation Example dialog."

The above remarks have been suggested by Mr. Watsum's article in last week's "Light" A Plea for Unbelievers." I find myself much at variance with Mr Wa son in the general conditions of level and universely He thinks that they are and music be determ sed by eve lence, whereas I submit that menta preconceptions of what is protoble or possible are the source of nearly overv erromeons estimate of evidence, whother on the side of redutity or of meredulity. Hear Mr. Watson hunself "let the cut nut of the ing " by mying, " By cridence I mean, of course, personal observation. Right or wrong, people will not accept such a startling theory merely on the or divit of others, however truthful or trustworthy they nay be Now the inability to accept unfamiliar facts, on testimony, springs from just that same intelsectual defect which, in another age of the world, would unduce, and has induced, a too facile credulity. In the one case evidence is alighted, in the other case it is supplementod, by predisposition to reject or to believe. That disposition objectifies itself in a wholly unaginary standard defect of character or judgment as if it were the defect of "probability." In Nature, of course, nothing is probable or improbable, only existent or non-existent. To say that a thing is improbable is merely to avow an indisposition to believe it. If, indeed, the thing conflicts with positive experience, then the indisposition in justified on the principle of the uniformity of nature. But its obsence from such experience only means that it has got to be proved, not about thom, making a true objective relation to nature and that the proof must be other in kind, or even in degree, then

I quite agree with Mr. Watson as to the difficulty of that _ meta_g ke one are e proof of these phe more than by personal operation. I have a self-size that elia k age is not now a party when two influent Spir busists. . I can bet be personal up at cation as an any invariant resented than that of projudice. And yet if we consider our true I wish we could say to Mr Watner on on.

I have only to add that it seems quite a mistake to not thus was has not been set a special reunstances to mental entegories. I know two persons, at least, of my own acquaintance, men of high intellectual culture accord ing to present standards, in whom the impression of these facts, once personally witnessed and declared inexplicable, Walworth Springulator Association (43, Manor-place, Walworth-read).—On Sanday evening last Miss Young visited us, and her instructors delivered through her as address touching on the power which spintful knowledge gives to formulated in the well-known and often repeated proposition hausin beings when they are boreft of friends and relatives, that "swidence should be proportioned to the probability of for noble proportion in the special properties to fit them the fact to be proportioned to the probability of for noble proportion in the special properties to fit them revenues. Many present expressed a hope that ere long she would occupy the platform again on Sunday next. Mr. Robson, of Peckham, was speak. South London Iriends are specially invited to be present,

THE DIFFICULTIES OF SPIRITUAL INVESTIGATION

April 25, 1885.]

extent the state of things which he lamente is an almost at will along the psychic wire meritable consequence of the past history and present. The need therefore for scientific investigation seems to position of the phenomena called " spiritual."

be mentions the case with which evidence of the reality of most advantage, by groups of individuals acting in union, it certain facts in physical science can be obtained by anyons is obvious that the difficulties will always be great, and that who wishes to witness them. A little consideration will the inquiry will need the exercise of long-continues potience show, it seems to me, that no sort of comparison of the and carknist your correspondent makes can reasonably be drawn.

ware thousands of miles long. Again, in photography, call, quently occur to us no he skall and patience and do note experimentawork which have resolved pothe advance which has semany since the earliest attempts fifty years ago. These the reality of occurrences which dely explanation on any illustrations might be multiplied.

is no libel on the respectly of those on whose statements the question altogether. Whatever may be the conclusion of reality of the phenomena rest, to say that they do not analyzedual manda, it is clear that no general consensus our belong to the class whose mental powers and training be arrived at until far greater progress has been made in qualify them for investigation. And it is no libel on the the systemates examination and classification of facts than nurgerity of those who possess these qualities, to my that has yet been accomplished. they have, wisely or unweetly, totally unored and tabooed. The best course to be pureged by such inquirers partition, in the spirit in which so many have ardently all of whom were at first unbelievers devoted themselves to physical actorics! It is not to be densed that the difficultion are great and poculiar. A whole world of other influences comes in, which have not to be taken into account in researches into the kingdom of way in which the alleged facts have been treated Difficulties should only incite the true seeker after knowlexige to greater exertion

A serious attempt at investigation, and, so far as the writer knows, almost the only one of its kind, was made by the Dialectical Society fifteen years ago. The facts, then the carefulness of the observers have never been the necessary of the observations. Nothing is to be gained by blaming scientific men, although we may think they have insujfested a great lack of the true scientific spirit.

It could not therefore be anticipated that the laws and conditions which govern "spiritual" phenomena should It may be worth widle insucially to roter the reader for certain perographs occurring us up. 7-12 of the report to published. London 18'2.

have been ascertained to the extent requisite to enable them to be exhibited to order, in the same way as physical experiments. Reverting to our sunlogy, and granting the There is anguestionably much truth in what Mr S. G. reality of a psychic movement or of a psychic rap, a was to Watson mys in his letter in last week's "Langer" On be expected that many years of patient study and experi the other hand, he does not, I think, see to how great an ment would be required before messages could be transmitted be paramount, and as the circumstances of the case appear I propose to refer only to one part of his letter in which to demand that this can be done only, or at all events to

It is exceedingly difficult for an inquirer to obtain satis-The present position of physical acience is due to the factory evidence by any amount of going about to miscalawvested patient investigation and thoughtful study of macous stances. The experiences of many will enable them numbers of minds trained to kabits of accurate observation fully to sympathize with Mr. Wetson, Whon, years and correct reasoning, extending over long periods of years. ego, diligoutly endeavouring, in concert with two friends, The results which have been attained have us most cases to obtain facts, the writer will remembers the repeated disfollowed long series of failures and abortive attempts. Let appointments and discouragements that were met with, us take two or three illustrations. How long at is since the But failures were not invariable. On one occasion in parelectric spark was discovered , and how short a time since beclar, at a private circle, with a medium who subsequently the light has been controlled and utilised for purposes of became well-known professionally, Striking and convinwas nation. What mental power and mechanical ingularity ling successes were obtained. A few facts thus established, are at this moment being expended in endeavours after when the conditions are unimpeachable, over-talance further successful development! Again, the simple facts not mades of failures, and it is not in accordance with my which telegraphy at based were known long, where it was sound reason to allow their intrinsic value to be depresented. possible to hold a convenation between the two roun of a pr to fade away in the mind, by anything that may subse

The number of persons is very small who, after a fair amount of investigation, have not convinced themselves of recognised hypothesis. This ought to be a great incentive Now let us turn to the phenomena called "speritual." It to personance. The cause of the phenomena is a different the inquiry, and have design the existence of the alleged would seem to be to find a few sincere minds who would work with him, and to commence a course of study How infinitesimally few and far between have been the (any the general lines pursued by the committee of the attempts to study or to develop the phenomena called Dialectical Society which has been referred to, all or marry

I ada resorts, in its April number, abenomena even r _ is the presence of Mrs. We may at Boston. Drs. Crockett and programs nature. But this is no unflicient reason for the Richardson, of that city, as commuttee, put up, in full light, a a more tion to of four allender power, each a book and a harfling. s are write was suspended in size foot with to hing but number much and downers process. The entermore was considered by entirely covers . But is the kirmital covered in the fine Be no this Mrs. Whereavy tack a real and was nest one torond, excepting her bean in a number on tarn, the since of it being fasterned to that covering the cultimat, leaving the upper part of testified to, stend upon record. The method purmed and I vinble over the medium a aboutlers, exciding the our ence see materia has caude noting about porting or times at &c. manuaged.4 If similar facts had been recorded in any Wa select the following from the phonomena which presente recognised branch of natural science, if, for instance, instead themselves. A tombler containing water was just over the of unexplained movements of tables, the problem to be solved medium's absulters into the cabinot, and was presently returned had been unexplained more ments of Jupiter's mitellites, the courty, there was nothing in the cabinet to receive or absorb attention of astronomers all over the world would have tumbler was put back into the cabinet, and was returned with been excited, and no pains would have been spared to test water in it. Again it was put back thus time it was returned ordaining water and a banch of panetre, the perfect freshness of which was conclud by the audience. Some towes, dutaches toto a new super end, a re to a like entour "to net or of anneal arm of a "the add assed a Mr. Wontack was lated "Spirit Land," and written in the name of a departed sister . in the corner wors a few words over her father's frittals writing on the other leaf was addressed to a widow lady, with her departed husband a full agreeture, and below it a few words with that of a departed rubtive.

REVIEWS.

Psychological Press, 4, Ave Marin-lane, E.C.

(Concludes from p. 185.)

This is the question whether we are to admit at all of the c out or if a psychic organism possessed of transcendent capabilities, as is intracted in this book. Assuredly the evolutheir of such an organism is a fact, but the symphotometic prescutation of it differs as wately from the true one as a travesty from a crainal. For, in the first place, the change of while it whe token and result has its initiation and procession in he soil he age to operator therein of the divine apart of the ardynamic and so to be sterior as a notice positi the d, can do towards it is to facilitate it by acquisecence in the I through their parth-borrowed outer organisa. come of onto antimation and conclust austed to its accomplishment Honos, the importance attached by nighties, among or or too, a to dust, a subject on which this book is silent, as worst a to a dying the incompatibility if a region involving dence and bloodshed and a brough of love, with the requirements of the rest to acres propose. But this by the way. some fallacy involved in the promutation before as is that, whereas the process takes place is and by steam of the soul, and only by mount of the soul can it occur, the soul finds no

The new creature? of mystical scanter, again, is not a flordic, but a spiritual bong, and represents the "great work. of the Hermatista, the redemption of sperit from matter altogether, whether polish or finalis, and not the reconstitution if the indicated of any articular kind of matter. If matter, whether in its said or its headic state, be employed at all m the separation of the number openionite, it will not constitute the pien homelf, but only his dianonanal especie, and this is not the function assigned to the Symposium. And so far, a great from the process of regeneration involving the conversion of the artivideal actors binexand untity in the party of gical some, the function consists is the stablement and perputantion of that in him which is possessed of as sex whatever in that some, namely, of his diviso and true lipo. And whother it is a man or a woman who at concerned, the method and the reads are the same for both. And so far from the governmentally and he are wrong in the other anger an developm to the mean of some as we as the Symmethia w leserood to be, meh a decommon of aspiration from an one of unly true source and contro would soriamly importative process.

This bank, on the contrary, maken regeneration altogether an error to and more ordent of, the worl, of which, or just sain, it takes to see and by result. The process in the fluidic region, and earlier it according to the physiological sex of the subject. For men are total, with the man the Symposium manifests theif interiorly. " by the inflow of pure feminine vitalities by the accomen of the Symphonica's personality", and with the woman, exteriorly, by " the embrane that steals upon heracuse, na hor Symphonica a form e natruets steel accum une act hor" (p. 145).

We have demorred to the term mystical as impedicable to the system before us, but we are not therefore reduced to the gamery extreme antiflutical term, materialistic, in order to characterise it. Statety speaking it is materia istic in that it ignores men a spiritual unture in factour of has flordie, which is but a mode of the natural, and which, netwithstanding its remutty, is an absolutely removed from the spiritual as the molegular from the non-molecular. It is true that it represents retensibly a revolt against the ground materialism now in vogge , but this does not constitute it an ally of specimality, for the revolt or not required meteriality, but against solidity. So thin is a new of Macerialism. To von from its outstocks, had taken up what it concerned to be a more defensible position on an innet I ne. This is to say that instead of representing an ascent to the real anotheris of the material and torrestrial, namely an appropriate. this book represents a balt after a single upward ate. in the turner a ruled the distribution and aurea, and the blade in here of mosther materialism differing from its producesor in respect only of shrueal donnity

We find ourselves, as fact, in the presence of a new sept, namely, Flandene, and the term is one which expresses exactly the system it denotes. For it indicates the nature at once of the region, or medium, it represents, of the antities it oxalts, and of the doctrine it mentertes, each alike being fluide and un-substantial. For the region is that of the vegue and tenuous natral other; the entition are those-not which, being real, Systemata on, Evolutionary Forces you Active to Max simply inhabit this medium—but which are actually constituted Price 10s. fcl. Edited by Lawrence Oliphans. Edenburgh of it, and the doctrine commas in the exattation of what are Blackwood and Sons, London, may be obtained of the plantasmal reflects in the place of aphstantial soul. For, in consisting, so the book tells us, of the fluidic material who h occupies the interspeess of the animal organism and being therefore but an emeration from the buly, the Sympnesus cannot at all be accounted as soul, which knows nothing of interspects of of place at all, being spiritual substance. And this peing so, as it amovedly is, and the Sympnesses being, also avowedly, the inspiring source of the book, we see no empe from the conclusion that the writers have fallen victims to very influences bey so can be a y dendence and an distinctly define any are the one at not under insultanton at all, which is of the soul, but under " observed to the This is to may that, not having with Rermot-the supremo Initiator into Secred Mysteries ranguished and sless the delunes Argus of the Astrol, or with Odymous stopped their mers against its siren atrains, they have taken the Sympasousa a specitions at its own valuation, and behaved that the leghest plane of the body is the highest plane of the sean , which is as such as to my that the body in the man, but we will not now follow out that aspect of the doctrine. The achite as we'ver is not without the compensations. Wherever a good and the in their book and it contains touch that is good and true-may on he accredited to themselves and not to thou Symposts binto, seeing that it must have amanated from thomselves in order to be reflected back to the latter Re-roating with reference to this book the account given in The Portect Way" of this region and its denizors, it seems to to that the account might have been written expressly of the bunk, so closely floor it describe the nature and characteristics of the entities concerned. We will specify sense of those characteristics as exhibited in the book before us, and leave the comasson to our renders. The list includes, among others, the the charge of the obscuring influences exclusively from the age in these of he is a small their come next ret piete went of sympathy with mything the sension analyconal interas shown by their antipothy to whetever is solid, the a news a gradule a mer a ar a nan sorter being for them, one and all, tailed with a list was not placed by all the ner unconverse make of the r war an action of a serving a simily as "sorved by the uniaminal loves" (of the flaider man), "for man kind and the creation honouth him" (p.26), while denouncing that greation as atterly foul and vile , their maintance on the repoduson by their button associates of any relationship which might avert into other channels the vitality on which the Sympacous subsists, this being the real cause of their abhorrence of the ordinary ext-relations, their alluring tones and lavub promises of entional compensations, with the same view, their indiscrimnate reflection of whatever is presented to them, and acceptance of the literal and apparent meanings, however grow, of expectstone really symbolical, and their failure to discern the true aigmifeance, their free use of the Divise mans without any exception of the Divine Nature , their meconicomous of the hunsensity of the interval which separates the extreme of existence, as shown by their making the bodily fluids the amusdiate residence of Deity , their (generates of the real mature and meaning of man, and commutent failure either to recognise han as a microcoma legitamately anaprising all regions of bring within hamself, or to recognize the world at reducated in time through the tiking up in him of all its ligher consciousnesses into the Divine, their assumption of an identity of meaning in terms when imployed on different planes, arrespectively of the nature of the plane, and the communent meription of physical attributes to speritual principles; their refusences in protestation and reguences in definition, their bellowness and instancenty as shown in their one of sadent benovolent expressions as a mask for selfish and cruel designs, such as in the attempt to marrifice the whole homen page in their own interests , the narrowness and exclusiveness of their sympathics, on shown in their contampt, and even loathing for human affections, marital and parental, when substitute between human bungs, as well as for the animals, and in their especial hatred of woman, as shown in their insistance on her practical suppression by being bunished from all sucful activities into acclusion and molation, and this under pretence of restoring and promoting her , their failure to recognise human relations on the physical practically my wer of he octobe on which he when he say to divide on the produce of a politic amon an anonal spic war unist, that of the countial humanity of Deity cor make my me one was But though varying with each new afterance garded to recognize the reality of the soul, or of any principle in make espable of subsisting undependently of the physical organism. burns striving to delay, daniel, turn back, or destroy, they are their cateuthfulness in claiming to be themselves the impirities sources of the ideas they mechanically reflect, and to close, but not to exhaust the list, their defect of others perception and purpose, and ignorance of the real sature of leve and of its therecanoliding effects, whether of love or of duty, as shown by the madious intension of man's excuption, under their rule, of known." But this is a process, it is necessary to point out, any call for self-merifics (p. 50).

* Sect. III. Para 23-33.

April 25, 1985.]

Though capable of so much eril, these influences, it is necessary to remark, are not in the musives ord, but are purely There do see a making one, And meteod of constituting an addition to the system in which they are present, as by accretion from without, they represent but a path- go d condition of that system, corresponding to that which occurs by the diversion of its vital forem from their section operation to the formshow of morbid activities. No actual entity parishes through the amountain of these astral reflects, any more than in the case of mone morbid outgrowth in a sets wort of the system, such as a business. The horse is a manustral a them is but returned into its proper channel, wherefore in - w rating and systematising these finide outgrowths in themselves the writers have, streems to us, commuted the very error they derevents, namely, that of spoking to normalize what is in itself

There are expressions in the book which seem to imply not unly extral, but elemental, influences as the agents of the exparteness described in which oute Symphenicals would represent, not merely what is morbid, but what is sumatural, naturaly, estarcourse with beings of a different order. The elemental by the assistance knows to be Bloke are not a one to know relationships, though they lower themselves by them say in they are able, through their extreme termity, to immuste them se ere into and personale the entire body, to require a monopoly of their associates, and to adapt their touching to the characters of those they containly do fulfil many of the conditions described This ornignation is one on which we forbear, for obvious research. to reced, but which the language used conders it necessary to auguest. Man, it is true, has a colonial affinity, but this is not to be found in the natio of the elementals. In conclusion, we reitende our assumance that not be vehave said concorning the authors of this book app. + to t strilers. but that we award to those the credit for all most that is good. The earnest desire to live the highest life themselves, and to enable others to do the mane; the perception of the fact the too week a special consequences went by at a new stage of its development, and that on bidevelopment to some sense, is related to and occurs through the witch has always, by mystics, been called "the women" and open he full realisation by humanity of its feminane principle , that by means of such advent num becomes in a sense a "busin of to dish resture the und received an all of the work consists in such respond and reconstitution of his being that from material he becomes spiritual, from being in a spiritual sense assection not say he did I only said I was known to him, and the >only he becomes in a spiritual sense maserime and fessining all these things they have done or discerned in virtue of their I showed to me are who a marriedly been to my me with a case interior opening and their own advance beyond the stage to give use supplyment. I hope that the venerable gentlement of the merely physical and some d. The various are has besupposing that the very first prates have reached the resecond from the lowest place of the material was the very sumport of the raret size of that stage for veritable angels of light, supply because the leftier ranges lying shore and beyond were not yet in view. The higher knowledge which comes of wider study and that faller unfoldment of the spiritual-not fluidio-conscionsnom, by which man discorns principles instead of persons, would have shown them that the " fisent" is, no less than the "solid," an integral part of the "earth-horrowed organism. ster a ne equally be transcended to reach the divine. For, the states on the threshold "of the supreme goal of man a aspiration in they would have beent-are manifold and various in their toutofestations as are the facets of man himself, and able to adult themselves to all his changes of growth and mood, until he has untirely outstripped them Hones, besides being terrible in their approaches, and appealing to must's fears, they can be winning and seductive, plane as among the appointed and indispensable means of human in how the built for their marce, by causing the wrong to appear education and development on all planes, and their florial, as duty, the false as truth, and, as he case where us, seeking been, by tarns aron, golden, ogro, or "chancers dire," and sy always but modes of the seeker's own outer and never self, and perceent but budesperate attempts of that self to withhold the me from his true goal, the Soul and the Con win dwell's

The present ere has been truly styled a "time of making which is dual, having two factors, the lesson and the learner and unless the latter be as a me comme of becomedy the most the previous education of his undust is a section can be demonstrated to him, but truth steel occomes error. Under the opinitual wave now advancing over the earth, a vant region of axistence, intherty concouled from all but a special few, has such donly been duclosed , and while they who have been made eogusent of its reality are many, they who are fitted to explore its depths and to expound its phonomens, are few. For there is no knowledge myebyexperience, even though the organon be the soul say he so per decar and experience means time. Meanwhile sa forms, the doctor is confidently based on them will be many and a con or a se, the world, or of old under analogous condion with new receleptors and schomes of bolief. And this will , a until, as also of old, at will require esempation councils of the elect to aggregate the wheat from the chaff, the gold from the as the true from the false, in a word, the divine from the and so to point infallfuly the way of salvation. But on and semethers permelous as will doubtless be the specification, a section a manager of by temporal agreent Church of the Future, there was, in on twent is more we descring of suntheam, because were a specimental to XI do. he was a had the mospition on the slope of the Rocky water would its formulation and promulgation on the slope of 3 and Carnol, Aware, as we are the salon as we as by in the world, we feel that we cannot be too thankful to no Providence which has withhold at from the world until there was knowledge in the world sufficient—as we finally believe and available for the judgment of it

CORRESPONDENCE

[16 is protorable that correspondents should append their ret and me senset is a manual was. In any cuto, however, ness and semperced to be Easter as a guarantee of good

Her J St. Pollan. To the Bollor of . Lante

Stn,- The letter of Mr. S. C. Hall in your last mate to likely (although I am auto without the venerable writer's intention) s place me in a false position towards your readers and tperson an abatuclo to my obtaining amployment.

Mr Hall may that he does not know my autocodents. I do at Mr Hall's own suggestion, after he had read the testimos are s a call tom to the arcumutances which led to my making the to not presume to ask a rectification from Mr. Hall on this of the " Mount of the Lord," and in taking the hours dwallers rebject after the great kindness shown me by him, but I shall descend to future on the written testimentals to my character, which I combow. - Yours respectfully

145, New North-road, N John H. Pollky April 18th, 1885

The Reme Source calls attention to a proof of cospect to the manager of a Spiritist, Vactor Vabra. His employer closed the factory on the flay of the burial, and at the head of his work men, 250 m number, poince the family and friends in the procession to the ownerty. Victor Value never made a secret of his Spirituan and of boing a writing medium. His wife was a Sparitual, the daughter of M. ann Madama Michal, the respected leaders of the Saint Antonio Spiritist Society. She has ere visit communications from him. He says ' During our life we del ing to must's fears, they can be winning and acquetive, not make troubles I pray you not to grave me by your great—appearing to his affections, and making even that which is best you who know what death really is

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT," & AVE MARIA LANE, LONDON E.C.

STASCIOPTION RATES.

ADVERTISEMENT OF VRCES.

Pire lines and under, $5. One meh, 4s, lid. Column, 12 5s. Page &1. ethertane paste of a retire of unorthous

Contour in Papers and Ac. to sense the may be addressed to the Erictor at a detect at Ac. March, since E(t)

Cheques and Post Office Unders may be tracke payable to Effectst Barries, at the Chief Office, London. Raffundry Postage Stamps received for amounts under Os.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

NOTICE TO STRUCKIBERS.

Aubscriptions for 1883 wer now due. Subscribers will oblige payable to Menry Marses. 45 Pd (nefal Correspondence to be addressed to The Editor

Light .

SATURDAY, APRIL 25tm, 1885.

PHENOMENA

We are being perpetually remaided by outsiders that we ought to paramula or convince minutale authorities of the truth or netural executive of the phenomena which it or stated occur under sertion could home. What do selectific notheritus say? is an oft repeated inquiry, and is merely the modern form of repeating the old sentence-What do the Chief Priests and Phoroces my? The suggestion is no which may, or may not, he of great value, and it is, there fore, one on which we may, and ought to meen.

Not so many years ago there was a form of authority which claused to possess a profound knowledge on all subjects, and which endeavoured to stop or sheek all inquiry to which it was opposed. This has been termed "priesteraft." If any usur were independent and bold a men or as, for he mand, and me convertions unused him to the from he suther the, he was servite the Bustile or the stake. Fortunately this electricle to the advancement in its place continue obstruction which may be termed Scientific Prestready of Scientific A there y

To question the infa libility of priesteraft was a dreadful crime, but to prove that this win libility was now he also, most certainly claused by curtain men, who have the would not have been difficult. The ignorant or those capable of investigation, were taken in by the pretentions not occur, in connection with the aultholiaws apperlianing chans of those who asserted they were mish ble, which to spirit and matter. reasoners who slid not secept such assumptions were removed. We have no fear in the present day of advancement of truth and it has been truly said, " That enthur the Bustile or the stake, so we may venture one of the most formulable obstacles to the anywherenest of to require as to the closus of some and viduals to be Science has ever been a band submission to Authority setent fic at thereties, and we may then be better able to form an opinion, as to the advantage or necessity of obtaining the judgment of these, on questions which they may have investigated only superficially or not at all

aucount of his being steady, or because he may have shown tolent, or a taste for some special sources or may he shown talent, or a taste for some special science, or may be the near relative of some man, who may hold on efficient post- his services in the respect we cannot but feel that Mr. Eglinton tion in some scientific department, is taken as an obsistant. | 20 was in his determination.

By here y working in a growe during many years, he by the mere effect of semonts at length becomes head of the department. Homey never have shown any examples of greatmental power, he may never have discovered anything, and all his life he has done nothing but try experiments, and then The Annia Sub-replace for "Laure," past free to any addition that I before the increasing public as a great scientific authority Ursen, for near gar parts of Europe, the United State and artists to whose opinion is supposed infalliable. Such a man is not always a loss 10d, per annua, forwarded to say other or lecture about and exhibit these, and forthwith he stands deficient in workly wisdom. He is not the one to state that he cannot venture to give a decision, as regards questions which he has not fully and carefully investigated, but on the majority of cases he will eagerly pronounce a verdict, and if the americal facts are beyond, or opposed to, his prevines experience, he rushes in and gives his decided op mon with all the confidence of authority.

Tubles, chairs, and other articles rise in the air, and "LOURT" may also be obtained from E. W. Atlies, 4, Are Maria-hate, thout about the room without contact, say thousands of witrecord I no inclous pressure, a year second for authority, wit account for it all-I proved it can, because once or twice I tried the experiment, and I found a table moved, and the sitters pushed it, but were unconscious of having by formar-directors at ourse to The Nanages of the MT done in. Then the ignorant and unthinking join in chorus are say, what idiots people are to believe that tables and comes, and other acticles move, or rise in the air, when a great setentific authority proved that unconscious pressure acconded for everything

Then, again, we may find a man who, having gathered together the discoveries of other people, starts as a popular locturer, and assumes the position of a teacher on some anbject. He may never have discovered anything, or exhibited any evidence of great mental power, but nevertheless SCIENTIFIC AUTHORITIES AND SPIRITUAL, no note up as an "authority" and pronounces a wordiet as though he were the competent judge of all difficult prodense. In too many instances these self-elected authorities not only exhibit a self-authorancy which is mover found in connection with great mental powers, but they also display an insolence and amogenee when their into ability is questioned and they are remainded that facts are stubuorn things, which is so like the priestoraft of old, that we feel thankful that the Bostile and the stake have been aboushed.

Who, then are the authorities who, it is so necessary, should be convinced of facts? Are they some of the men whose attention has been devoted to chemical experiments and lecturing, or those who have made up popular lectures, or who, having large incomes, start newspapers and circulate their ideas, and refuse to insert in those papers any facts which prove their opinions to be erroreous, and who, one and all, have never fairly examined the evidence for the phenomena ! Or are those authorities tosse specially gifted men whom powers of mind are so gigantic that they, without any investigation, can know more about a subject than of truth last to a great extent been removed, but we have others who have devoted years of examination to this same question. We cannot educt a mental priesteraft in the pronext day, and we acturally demand some proof of these wenderful powers, which, whether they admit it or not are audicity to assert that they know what can and what can-

Authorities have ever been stambling blocks to the

Mr. W. E. a viole has now entered upon his new sometile at Not inglean price W (near Bucer's reet Station where In very many instances, we find that some youth, on all a supram stress for him the alla be adaressed. We under give money for materialisation. While regretting the less of

THE ECLECTIC PUBLISHING COMPANY.

April 25, 1885.]

The Fifth Airmal Meeting of the members of this Company was held on the 14th may at 23, St. Swithm's lune, London, E.C. Mr More Throbald was roter to the chair. The Secretary having read the notice convening the meeting the minutes of the annual meeting last year were read, and signed an correct

The following Report of the Directors was then read, accompanied by a Financial Statement, comprising a tailance-sheet and a profit and loss account for the year ending 31st December, 1884 :--

The Directors are gird to be able to give an encouraging report of the progress which Libert has made since the conreconcentrated 1884. A considerable impotes was given to its excellation at the time of the Church Congress last year, mainly owing to the energy of Mr. J. S. Farmer, and it was gratifying to a some that the increase the games was permanent practical expenses of time without its first first Mr. E.W. Allen the subscorer. The amount received from taken by little in 1994 was £31 in 6dd, in oxeem of the previous year

Since the beginning of the present year a further strong expected appears to have been given to the eigenlation by the name of the chromo-lithographs, for the production of which the warm body requires covering at all, the materia, has to be derived that he is preprotors are due to Mr. J. G. Keulemans. It from that particular source to which they have direct access, to be get that they all successes will be personaunt

The result is that the present designed for "Light" is ever 400 week to in excess of what is was thin time last year. A few to see some at at pa forward would place the paper on a naturfac ory discussas feeding liberarity of fre all has again piaced in the maids of the Directors a Sestentation Fund to ment the losses of the sind vidual existence), the supposition that the median's prime it year

"The usual Statement of Accounts as presented to the meet n, made up to the 31st of December, 1884, and audited by Mosers. Theobald Bress, and Minil. Special must be knowle beusde of a generous done on if £50 from the Har Percy Wyne hand M.P. - warmethe Apended of not year.

"The final encouse of the paper depends on the interest taken and support gives both by contributors are account bern The Directors hope, therefore, that this will not only continue. but increase.

"The Directors who retire in relation are Messes D to FitzGorald and J. G. Mengene. Being eligible they offer themsalves for re-clocken

"On behalf of the Board

E. DANSON ROCKES.

" 14th April, 1885."

A considerable intervange of opinion took place as to the general conduct of "Liour," especially in regard to the protumence it was desirable to give to Thereophical articles, and to subjects allied to Spiritualism proper, and also relation to the unrestricted insertion of correspondence Sugar Duriam, Mr. E. Dawson Rogers, Mr. Younger, the Charmon, and others expressed their views on these autters. The adoption of the Report having were moved and seconded, was, after a free and interesting discussion, curricd unanimously

In reference to some remarks which had been made, the Secretary desired it to be clearly understood that the books were open to the full and free impection of any shareholder who desired to see them for their services and for the use of their offices for the meeting, closed the proceedings.

The retiring Directors, Messra Deamond D. FitzGernal and J. G. Mengens, were manimously re-elected

copy of the accounts on application to the Secretary

the testing cutified "Twire Two Worlds," has not yet require the requeste limit to justify publication. If all who extend to take copies of the book will make annualistic application to Mr. C. Mannay, G. Nottinghon-place, W. the statacles will, no coubt, be at once removed.

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY V11

> By J G. KEULEMANS. (Continued from page 188.)

To many the idea of "ghosts" or "spirits" being com pelled to abstract from the living a certain principle or element wherewith to construct for themselves a visible or soud body, and the garments required to cover it, must seem atterly preposterous. Spiritualists, linwever, take it to he, if not a demonstrated fact, at least the only sogical explanation of some observed phenomens. But there may be many amongst believers in these strange remittes to whom a theory of a more sublime or preteriatural origin (then that of the abstraction of the required element for the formation of drapery from the medium's clothes) would se for more welcome. But, if senteco-room "spirits" are notin themselves -and from a certain point of view - absurdities, why amile at the supposition that, if their temporary viz, the objects that are in contact with the modium's person and his " tongnetical?

Considering also that these fann are are presented 1. we may perhaps be allowed to my undoubtedly in constant That result has benever not yet been attained and he proximity to their medium (if not notice by partialing of and thus for, in some degree, identical with, the latter's sleep affords them some exten facilities for obtaining the necessary "end terport" is only reasonable. Sleep, if not in shelf a partial tranco, is cartal ly nilled to that state of come. Assuming trance to be a tem porary severation of the spiritual and physical bodies, and the letter to be, in that condition, little more than a living corpue, there is no reason why it may not be taken possession of and serve as a store for supplying the force, the se-called "power" necessary for the production of the various physical manifestations. During the medium's sleep, the abstraction of the counterpart is not only facts tated, but the unsterial by which he is surrounded, and which is charged with his magnetism, would, by its nature, shape, and dimensions, also simplify further operations. In fast, the lines may be considered " spirit-clothing ready made." The "familiars" with whom I am in the habit of conversing do not directly contradict my speculations. On the contrary, they confirm, indirectly, these conclusions. and have gone so far as to make a further concession oy stating that the reason of their reticence on the despery subject is due to a four of being ridiculad. The direct admission would tend to propardiso their reputation, for they seem to be perfectly aware that their actual state of existence, or the condition in which we observe them, is too human to satisfy the universally preconceived notions of what spirits abound be like. Hence their reticence and preparacutions when requested to expanse the real state of สกัดเร Allesion has already been made to the apparent anomaly of a transferred or transfigured medicin appearing to the A vote of thanks to Messes. Theolodd Bros. and Mad. carelo clad in drapery. To satisfactorily explain such a strange occurrence, or to explanauway its incongruity, as more than my experience allows me to undertake. Even valuerdors to Louis Sestentation Fund may see a the greater experience of many co-investigators fails to help me. There are some loose theories and speculations current to account for the occurrence, but as yet no ex-The sale-criptona list for Mr. W. Eglinton's forthcoming planation scenes acceptable or rutional. Under the still prevailing system of conducting sources (which is little more than wonder-seek against industring in the control of and a perfect paredy on really scientific experimentation) we cannot know what constitutes a transformation. We cannot, in fact, save with a few exceptions, determine the real auture of any appointment. The medium being invisible, or placed maide a columnt, there is no means left to castinguish between a real material sation, a transferint, in, or a so-called "ainmention by an extraneous telligence." Grunted the reality of the spiritual cause or meaning of these transformations, and, assuming that, under and three gentlemen, including my musical friend, who certain conditions, their reality man, none the less, be deter- attended the previous sensee. mitted, we should be still unable to account for the presence and meaning of the dispery in which such apparations are medians wrote, "The lady sitting next Mr. Barkas must exhibited. Moreover, if we adopt the theory that the take her place directly opposite. Mr. F --- opposite the have firsten of a spectual consterpart is due to contact medicus, Mr. R. in his own seat." with a magnetic fluid (the," power"), it would follow that such contact (since it is required to build up a materialism tion) alreadd also produce a sugilar effect upon the my is ne atelligence itself, unless spirits out arbitrarily hand, Mr. F- opposite the medium, Mr. P- at his tucher the formation of the me and check, or counteract, left the development of an ocast clowever, I fail to comprehend what object a spirit can have in view in canning his mediate to like a go and macon rate in Yes Weber or Handel and if you will be prepared to converse It is not at all impossible that the spirit so action may be mistaken as to the estual result ablas and. Some spirits may not know what it is to materialise on any he ignorest of the effects produced most our senses. It is more than probable that the ofermet men the susual prestions, set you may ask your inquirity of somes-room spirits, especially those who use the med and a body, have no idea whatsoever as regards? there Cuspen By so world go, and have cognised med um's type and features are still proserved.

&quot; A few acts of these chroms drawings still formin, and may be obtained of the Manager of the Psychological Francis, I Are Matta-Jahr TAC price L. Gd. the set, suched on relief for soil international by prices part, Sta. Livia

Moreover, our present knowledge of what constitutes a nictoria section in too apperfect—the subject too mexplicable, to permit, as yet, any positive assertions. Nor does it appear to be warrantable to limit a materialism on exclusively to the visible development of the "form." A tempsformation may, in some degree, represent a partial nateralisation, or is other words, there may be a certain amount of "form building" within a transformation, and to this may be due the often perceptable differen seaments in mecrosion of fourths, fifthe and cighthe dimenances imprebuse, and physiognomy between the normal and the trans- parel and accords preceding by degrees?

the feet that in most cases, even in a uniterialisation, the

(To be emissioned)

that but nothing a more thing was many and in his his Kew on Reportbat he may note was by the sour of some successful that we set not be set or he is. Do grand appropriate dwell no noar me. On keeper yet anch things from its in this dark."

the starty Specialists that the starting star Starter, April 1 the Again Mac Vallaction and maintain for the and serious of her guides at both foreigned and avening gatherings. The discourses—chiracoant description and responses or quotes in the forements—were, respectively clovated, convening, and naturalisetory, leaving an improposal on the sund of time well note profits dy species. Special time by the subject of the evening becomes one cools by a court in sevent, inthe wife west automost in right-noistly which are process to second the court of the form of the second the court of the second the development of humanity from its executly physical beginnings. the medic of the external or physical budy clamented for an electron also describes the results to greatly which the gray the field I distributed and seems on to show much in generally security to the field and seems on to show more results and seems of the field in the state of adien cally and adoctive v. In organy to accessity for per-tage endeavour after apparent growth an attenuate was made to return where or growt tree y such as any classic or myst a various variety resonant important growth industries. However, its the other side of these are han an times who have a so acted. The following in this life according to the protates of conseners, and agle reason, aspired by wisdom, justice, and goodness. The document weekly meetings are likely to become a successful and uneful institution in our midst. Next Sunday Mr Wallis, who will then have returned from the Newcastle district, will occupy the platform. Subject for the avening "Sacred Scriptures Their Origin and Value."—Sr Maxoo.

IMPROMPTU REPLIES THROUGH A LADY PSYCHIC

OF VERY LIMITED EDUCATION

By T. P. Blakes, P G S (Continued from page 100.)

Senner held September 6th, 1875. Present, three ladies

After watting for a few minutes the hand of the Having changed places I wrote:-Q. Are use now rightly placed?

A. No better. The lady is to sit at Mr B .-- 's left

The questions then proceeded

Q. Will you please to suferm me if you have met with us next Monday evening, or any evening you please to appoint, an the subject of their meetical compositions?

A. I have see more but Meyer eer, and him only for a short time. I am afrom that I me give ut atte more questions, and I'll do my best as ked up the following five questions from various musicia's doing the week, and reserved their to se asked

Q. What is the national bases upon which harmonic rates nra Joundad 1

A. I am not sure that I understand the drift of the question Please to explain.

No explanation was given, the suggester of the question and wing present.)

Q. Why does the our receive an ampletantal semantion by

A. They produce an unpleasant mond because they are not purely hurmonious sounds, they will make the announpleasant sensation that a discordant noise would, for no Baxren, in his "Cortainty of on World Spread, acre unpleasant sensation that a discordant noise would, for no 'A gentleman, formerly pinns, of ata bath fashen into dranken hes, and when he bath alone kinnell achievementing knocks on the reason that I know of. Perhaps my musical abilities need when he hath alone knocked on the watment. When

Q. In training a managorie why are the fifths made flat?

1 To bring them rate sarmony of course.

Q. How do you account for the fermation of sound in a thate, no the air is only blown over the embroachure and correly may passes down the finte !

A. The air acts in the same immuner as in an organ. ipe, reed organs, and the vibrations are taken hold of and carried through the hollow tube; the air contained in the pipe is made to vibrata and to produce the sound. I am not practically acquainted with that matrament, but the theory for flutes is the same as organ stops.

Q. How do you recount for the difference in the quality of tone in different players on the same instrument-

A. You had better put the flute out of the question, since the tone of that instrument depends on the breath of the player, the same man playing in ill health or good health materially differs. The force with which the air is

The following musical questions were then asked by my sception! musical friend .-

Q. Please to inform us in what proportion the length of the tongue of a reed organ pipe differs as the ailrections moreme, and if it be exactly in incurse proportion to their

A. Mayerbeer says in exactly inverse proportion to the tell you his opinion. I cannot my positively myself.

April 25, 1885.]

Q. You said that sibrations of our humans and | Q. Is from F to G a major or a minor lous? cremone differed from the trumpet and above, will you please to explain the difference on the modes of vibration of these German't I think I am puzzled by the culteration in it tion chance of reads !

A. In the you humans the vibrations are much quicker, and, therefore, more harmonies are counded, giving a clearer and more beli like tone to the sound. The trumpet is much slower than either the tremous or hautboy, fewer harmonics are sounded, and thus the tone is graver, fatter, and a purer sound. I wish to correct the answer I made last week. I said that acute sounds were heard sooner than grave once. I find this is a mustake. I will explain another time

Q. Suppose the tabe of a road pape were nearly closed at the tap, my three-fourths covered over or closed, would the reed vibrate so me to vive a material note!

A. The reed would vibrate, and a shrill, rasping sound would result, and, I should think, several netaves higher in

Q. Would you plouse to inform us what, in your approxito the best form of tube for the our himsens stop!

A. I am no judge. I have had bittle practical acquaintance with organs. My knowledge is, as I told you, almost purely theoretical four following notes ascending are always good, the fifth note F, and the such note F sharp, are inversably bad. How as thus, and one you suggest a remedy !

A. I should imagine it to be a fault in the construction of the organ. The generality of organ builders are for the most part ignorant of the scientific rules of music. Where can I see, or, rather, where can my medium see a good organ ! I may be able to tell you after then. Tell me the names of some well-known organ builders who have come over here, and I will got you the information. But if I were to see one, I may be able to suggest a remedy.

Q. In robat proportion does the entencity of sound dimension as the distance mercanes?

A. To the square root, precisely

Q. In a scarce of sound the cir above to condensed, and the air beneath is rarified, in the temperature thereby affected?

A. You are mustaken, the air above is rarified and the sound consequently ascends. The air near the earth is much warmer because of its proximity to the heat incident to the earth, the more rarified as we second, and the condensed are an its in proportion as the other ascends, and the sound waves second with its increase, and the sound travels much slower than in that which is more elastic.

Q. The question really intended sees, Do the vibrations of a string product heat?

A. I should say no, or in so slight a degree that it may be said to be not host, best being generated in the other, not in the air.

Q. You will, of concret, know that the distance of an petres into totales parts or semitones, as see have them on the keyboard of a piane or orone, is a very imperfect divinon of the octave. If, however, you divide an octave into fifty equal degrees, have many of them degrees well represent a major tone, how many a chromatic semitore, and how many a dietanic emitone?

A. This is a simple question. Divide the fifty notes by three and you gut the major notes, divide by twelve and you get the chrometic semitones, by eleven for the distoruc-I am not sure this is the answer you require, is it so !

Q. Please to inform us what the interval is from the tourth to the fifth degree of the major dictions scale, that u, M if a neasor or a menor tone!

A. There has been a mistake, take C for your key square root of the reed, another friend says in inverse pro- note, then E would be the major tone and O the minor portion to the length. I will try and see Weber and will and the rest of the diatome scale would be necessarily in the miner tone.

L A minor. What do you call a major and a for a

Q. World you kindly annear a surreat question put in German, your enmor to be in German ?

A. I have no doubt I could, always providing my medium understood the drift of the question

Q. Will you please to inform us what year you departed then bye, and entered the spiritual world?

Q. Would you kindly suform us where you made the acquaintance of Meyerbeer in this world and in what year?

A. In 1852, when I was spenning a vacation in Cologia-Q. Dal you ever hear performed in this world the opera

"L'Africaine," or any partial of it? A. Considering that I assisted in its production I say yes. Whether it quite suited the composer I nover knew, he always gave too credit for its production, and I took very little interest in it after my mane was not known, and pechaps the composition was faulty, at may rate it was not so well received as the generality of his works, perhaps on that account.

Q. B'ell you please to enform us in what city you Q. In a Bourdon formation of pipe the three C's and the assessed in the production of the opera "L'Africaine"!

A. When I my production, I wish you to understand the composition of the plot of the opens. It was first played under another name in Berke, but it dia not take, and the story of the opera was quite changes by me, with some limits from Meyerbeer, certainly under too committee that I was to receive some dure of the honour, but some minunderstanding arose, and I never heard more of it, and consequently took no interest in the opera from that time. These was personal questions, and w thout w shing to be rude. I hink it a waste of time to ok and answer them.

Q. If a note of a given interesty be produced at a height of 2,000 feet and heard in the calley below, and another anselly similar son and be produced in the ralley below and heard on the mountain top, would the counds heard be more intense on the mountain top or in the valley?

A. The sound is more intense in warmer sir, owing to is greater destroity, consequently as the air is more election nearer the mountain top, the set so there will be heard as ist nelly as in the valley. But if a pistol be fired from the ton of a mountain, the sound will considerably decrease. not only because of the difference of the density of the temperature, but because of the sound rising rather than sexcends g and the supplitude of vibration decreasing according to the square of the distance, you hear the sound faintly in the valley On the other hand, the pistel being fired in the valley, the sound rising out of the dense into the more clustre, the sound travels with increased rapid by reaching the car in about one-third the time as the reverse. Here the musical professor consed questioning, and 1

Q. What is light !

A Before answering any questions on this subject would it not be better for the annihinted to give an amotomical analysis of the structure of the eye, since without that the subject is but imperfectly understood? Either you or I will do this.

Q. I shall be very youd of you would give no your ideas of the anatomical structure of the human eye, and especially with reference to the recent discoveries of Holinholts in rela tion to the structure of the retina?

A. This gentleman you so often quote is quite strange to me. I will be glad if you will tell me of him.

I here explained to the controller the substance of what I knew respecting Helmholtz and his labours, and asked -

Q. Please to employ goverelf to a popular description of the husens one, onless you are acquainted with Helmholtz's theories?

A. I know nothing of either the gentleman, his theories, or his works. The human eye is convex, in front of which the spherical corner is placed. It is inclosed in three, or, as In not generally acknowledged, loar coats, the sclorotic, the choroid and the return, which is not really a coat, but murely an expansion of the optic nerve. On the outer side of the relevations a coat covering even the corner, which is known in medicate as the advata or conjunction. The choroid coat is within the scierotic, and is of a dark brown colour known as the pigmentam nigram, to absorb all Banocessary waves of light. First we will take the comes, or window of the eye, a humanted, transparent, tale-like substance within which enclosed in a tunio is the aqueous humor. behind that is the iris, which acts as a diaphragm, cutting off all the outer mys, which would otherwise enter the pupil The grystalling leng a sonvex lens, or a double convex lens, more convex in the part which is atouted in the vaterous humor, which files the large cavity of the eye, collects the rays of light which enter the pupis, and being foculised there are photographed on the retria, which being set in most miby the rays of I ght which eater the eye, -not those which reflect the of ject-nets as a standalus to the optic norve, which carries a same of feeling to the brain. The eye no more sees than does an instrument made by the optic anit only reflects and photographs the objects. I am not sure that this is a very clear asplanation. I can better answer your cuestions respecting the structure of that organ.

Q. I shall be plant to give the company an explanation of the structure of the eye, using surrous dayrams for the par poss. Your descript on is every clear as a merely carbal our but illustrations will be very sorverable. Il'all you please to inform its of it be your ilented to have option, driving, or elufreogenaticiter reading most week—that is if it be concerned for you to meet us!

A. For my own part, I profer these subjects to may wiew, but an willing to be guided by you. I have seen the wine, and have much in conclusion, of t ying to write m the fight. I could then give you many a agrains as trating the meaning of several things I mention. The dark is only necessary now to provent the thoughts of the medius being too active and interfering with me. I have some other pions for future proceedings, but will not mention their

Up to the time of this sense, all replies by the hand of the medium were written in darkness, the questions being thought and feeling. written and the replies read by me in light. During all sucsocuents somees, both the questions and unawers were written is the light

A PUZZIK TO JOURNALISTS. The Echo Rochett and the O4th March but, and appoint other journals, tell readers that at Especiation, the Savingous-father, mother, and two energy of rethe ether foreteen and always ading there been offerhed by tiones on walls are projections, one on the bolisteral of the rilary girl, and by discordant sounds as if made by a hourse parret, here he again trug you do to account for such somes, they have seen search every even up and tople for a month sast Bundzeda of curious people come to impuire. Scoptics go away venching for the facts, some had thought to have found out; treek to below money but no one knows of any being asker for Sportfata flare come who askee mestions in their way and have in their way reserved answers. Among the vantors were a con at of gross of a stee, built by the authorities, but the any result of horrooming was a builder on minuted of the ionset, and a party by some was as their expense of a appular song. Bl le Procurour du la lequidique, happoints, to a at Emandes, edied to need gate but which he was there esting transpared. Strongs that an easied upon the along angliter going for a few days to Saint-Owen, but thither the noises followed her! And how on her reterm to Essendes the noises there have come again.—Record Specific.

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK.

We shall esteem it a favour on the part of our readers if they will forward us, for use in this column any allusions to Spiritualism and Psychical Research they may come screes in the course of these realing. We see a great many of these conveyees but it is obvious that there must be many references to the subject which do not meet our eyes. En. or Lie Hy "

In the mouth of two or those witnesses every word shall be established." We do not hesitate to hang a fellow man, piously reading the burish service to him-not over him-when the drop is really to fall—on the testimony of three witnesses. In a recent case the hope of a certain resurrection was three times repeated to one, standing on a drop which refused by "launch him tobs eternity," and his blessed immertality was majorifully commuted to a not particularly blessed penal servitude The fact, bowever, remains that when the machine works, we do send one excing heathern to the blessed anamortality on the buildinging of " two or three w oceases.

Well, there is enough testimony in most assubers of Liour" to prove any fact on which life or death night depetal. In every number is given a last of naturalies whose word would not be doubted in any court of partice. The testmony a absolutery overwhelm on yes great numbers comest believe without personal anamination, and many will not even read their own senses.

In 2000 ring on a man's wrot-a solid ring which will not go over his hand-is a rather stabborn fact. Knots on an ordless cord are stubborn facts. Writing between sletus firmly fustomed to each other et a ataldeen fact. Materializations of recognized spirit friends, under last conditions, are stubborn facts. But them am bigots quito as stabborn as the facts, and there are " falsely so-called" men of ecience who refuse not only to accept, but even to examine them.

In this state of things-non shotting their eyes for four they my see something which tray change their opinions—what can we do but go on giring the testimory o those abo are walking to receive it. Naturally the number increases. Each wateren brings more. Each medians of the phenomena is the mount of convincing littuizeds, and in some cases thousands. Mr Eglinton, for ean apic, has given his with orbit session from the Cangra to the Meanings. Somblements to day a growing power from Car forms to Austreas

Not an appear have theory not a faith. Speed talten is a science based on facts-facts which men can see hear bee, and committee And noted facts lead to presentable conclument. The man who ence witnesses the common phonomera of Spiritualum searct the same man the day after that he was the day before. A new element has been aduled to his mentality. A new fact has mone into his life. Whatever his faith may have been, the towertake of a pontervial existence makes an unmones change in 46

Mrs. J. R. Newton, widow of the healing medium, wall known to many English Spiritualists, writen to Mrs. Williams, editron of the Now York Boson Light :- "I have seen in your eigness the materialisation and dematerialisation of spirit fortus. and on several occursons have seen and emovered with my husband, Dr. Nowton. Perfectly natural in form and feature. he could be readily recognized by any one who knew him ist earth-life and his identity ostablished beyond the lour shadow of doubt."

Wealth has its conveniences and its uses. It may be difficult to see the justice of boung a millionaire, with all the misery of outcost London agreend on but we are money hat reconciled to the meaning of money in the hands of mes who make a good me of it. A wealthy Bostoman has provided a spiritual temple, a rich Philodolphian left money to be expended in spiritual investigation by a learned university, and now one of the millionaires of San Prancisco proposes to build a store magnificout church or temple for the Golden City on the Pacific.

Lulu, the "Geotgia Wonder Cirl," is automaking scientific men in America by the extraordinary manifestations of force in her presence. A strong man holds a little red in his hands. She touckes the rod with her inger and it perks him all over the your with irrematable power. A man sits in a chair, and, when she takes his bands, man and chair are raised in the air. Throo or four men hold the chair, and, when she touches it with her fineer, it drags them shoot the room. Scientific examiners are paeful in testifying to the facts, but they are utterly at a loss as to how they are accomplahed.

April 25, 1882.j

That solid bodies rise into the air, float about, and pass A. C. W. Next week. through other solid leadies, contrary to what are called the laws I DELOG U. Will appear next week of gravitation and cohesion, are facts familiar to every invest- W gator of Spiritualism. A table, weighing a hundred pounds—a R J MISS. LIGHT " of April 4th, has been sent as requested paradorte weighing three hundred—rise from the floar and Dr. Muxeon.—Psychograph and as requested. We shall be pleased to read the account to which you refer remain ampended in the air with equal facility. The late Serjeant Cox testified that a quantity of freak flowers.-" a cart load," he said came into his library when every door and T W STANFORD,-Your letter has been forwarded to the proper wundow was fastened. In similar ways " the well-known laws of nature" are molated in every physical scance.

Where is Blastindge ! All I know of it is that there is a Blackade School Mogazone, and that the school has a debuting 'H. WELLS. We will make impuriou and answer you in this society, which discusses and decides by vote such propositions an . "That the Latin authors wrote the namence they did for the express purpose of annoying postersty." On this the House. divided. For the motion, mue, against, two majority for, seven. The emetions of the ghosts of the Latin authors may be

At a later meeting the motion was, "That this House recognises the existence of certain unexplained forces manifest ing themselves in the phononions called Spiritualing," Three muke for, and thereon against the motion, and all voted in the M negative-not one even admitting that there are occult forces in nature which accentific men ought to examine.

Occalt forces. Forces which can write answers to questions a Latin, Greek, Italian, and Spanish between two slates firmly locked together, while held in the hand! Just consider what such a fact, substantacted by adequate testimony, implies i The combination of such force, controlled by such intelligence, means. being, thought, sotion-the elements of individuality. Psychisgraphy is one of the best possible proofs of spirit existence and spirit power, and every thoughtful man who gets one axample of psychography-writing under proper test conditions -necessarily becomes a Spiritualist.

The future of Spiratualium depends upon the spirits and their power of finding or developing mediums. In some degree also it depends upon the fidelity and humanity of Sparitualpate. 3 What we truly value we wish others to onjoy. 4 4

It is natural to have some carioaity respecting the manners Mass to YES — Zölners Transcendents I'm saw has been at the spirit world, but spirits do not soom able to give us would as requested. Discount first applications With reference to your last question you had better spirit direct to Mr. of the marit world, but spirits do not seem able to give us muck information, because it had; not "cutered into the heart of man to conceive" any proper idea of its enjoyments One spirit said, "You have no words and no analogies, by which we can describe or picture the spirit life." An American medium is inspired by some spirit to my

"I had already learned that kindred spirits, those who truly love each other, do not used the language of ingues the conjung. I of mands, he embracing of forms to express or to satisfy their love But there is a designiful segmation of peace, of rest of satisfaction and of joy in the heart of a spirit when in the presence of its beloved that expresses more than any external maintestation ean do. There is a beging of oneneer a perfect blenuing of being Japan that is admentable and that is allocated ing "

Perhaps the best thing we can have at oresent is a sort of Secularian pro few. To make the best-truly the best- of this world may be an good a preparation as we can have for the next.

Missiouri. My son just arrived at manhood, was thrown from his horse and killed. It was an overwhelping blow to his mother as well as or one. I have always been an Universimpt but I resolved to inquire if there was truth in what I had bear averaged of Spar-tunnists. I went to New York and had sattings. with the median Manufield, from him I came here, and have had attings with Slade. I have been made happy that my son lives. I know that he can communicate with us

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Special North Editor of Liche country, save in exceptional cases, undertake to answer correspondence through he sest. All impurpos souch my this office not infor him. Wednesday morning, will as far as practicable, be quawered in the enaming number of fatetie

Nor Man. - The letter has been forwarded as requested.

J. G. Sperce.-Thanks for the papers. Shall be pleated to hear

nuarier

H. W. S. K. Vour latter was do vered the day we received it No doubt you will have beard direct by this time

WARTED, the adurem of J. Hardy, late of 60, Lavender-road, couplin next week. H. TERRY - Letter of March 10th to hand. It will receive attention this week 1 AK Your dorlar note nexted Sc. St. The sooks gave been to the nautees given, but we see "Light" goes to Boston Le hat rehit h G. Bucce.-The Psychological Review is dead. We send you a specimen copy of "La nr " in the pope that you will subscribe for that instead. THE PERFECT WAY "-This book is not, we are informed out of print, as stated last work. Communicate who wish to obtain the work can, therefore the so THEOLARD. We have again deferred your letter for a week

We will explain resear when we used, meanwhile, please accept this intimation. C. B. HANKEY We made every endeavour to comply with your Our letter, however making the arrangement with the vender was returned through the Dead Latter Utilco. WHYMARK -- We need you 200 copies of "Likele" for free distribution on some terms on those mentioned in the norwer in

J. M. We do not intens to wrate any more time over he You have our neknowledgment onlier You have also seen to test with as for the hast arreal of La arr " and the balance has been posted to you

Wood. We could not guarantee results, nor would M Eginton do so. Personally we think you would do well to pay gim a visit. Yery few do so who do not get good results. We will make the negary you wish.

To Some relations to Businesque—A gentiquan residing in lines fore described to join some good steels. We shad be pleased of any of our enterthern bere in that town will enable us to introduce our frend

R Main. The proper person to apply to for aid in the matter outmention with Secretary of the London Spiritualist Alliance, 02 term be lark, S.E. We have sent you another process of 200 captes of a RT for stribution

C. LOCKERBY - Our experience has always been that "ox C. LOCKERRY Our experience has always been tent "or posers" do much to intract attention to the subject, in annuals as, their own attentes being so lame, people are not thinking. If you could distribute lack numbers of "La ter" we will gladly send you a setected justeel.

NETCH.—We sould you a second purcel of 200 coulor of Little" on the understanding that they are wisely circuinted amongst those who are unxious to know something or Spiritualizat, and not thrust apon people indiscriminately. Many times for your kind ofter. We are only loc glad to help forward any judicious effort.

We have been red a Post office order from Judia for 10s 10a but no newes has yet received us with respect to t. If intended as a subscription to Let III." for one very him rate for that country is 15s, 2d per annual. With our foreign subscribers always kindly advise us of all remittances they may make, otherwise great confusion casaes.

The capacity of enjoyment is developed by exercise, as well as others.

Our thanks are due to some friend for solution the chronical of the Chronical form the Chronical Chronic not been for naught.

not been for anger.

E.—W.: be used next week. Your experiences are interesting, and will be useful to others. There is a undoubtedly, been a good deal of loose investigation, and many of the recomb have been looser still. Latterly however—say during the past two years—a marked improvement in these respects has been noticeable, and we think that you may take the records that have appeared in "LiGHZ" during that period without even the teadstona grain of salt. We are exceeningly careful as to what we adain.

Medianis, who are the instruments of an external agency, have, more than once, been confronted with conjugers who decore by sleight of hand; and in the same teamer that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly investigated the phenomena has failed to become conthere of their real y at no concern who lack seen confrom sed with he same fants has been able to explain their occurrence by prostedigitation. Houden, Jacobs, Ber Inchine, Hermann, Kedar, and others have already confessed

Testimony of Robert House.

The Marquis Lastes de Mirville published during the lifet,me of Houden two letters from the latter, in his Sciences Mornics et Politiques, sur un grand nombre de occurred in Paris through the Brothers Davenport, said nerements mervidang prierwagnt synlopent la Religion, a Scarner et les hommes du Monde," In which the conjurer curless he campy to explain the phenomena he witmested to the presence of Alexia, the charvoyant. A circumstantial account is given of M. de Mire lie a visit to Houdon for the purpose of mgaging him in this investigation, of the latter's confidence in his own shifty to detect the trick, and of white took place of the seance, the conditions of which war sarrely under Homan's control. This account on tends over twelve pages, and its accuracy as confirmed by Houdan is the first of the documents now translated :-- satisfies very his from accepting the subsgias which M. - to goes one og to ben a upon nor and as excelly arange age at language at all consists of the second at the second of magnetistic or against it I am ever references not be a februar declaring that the facts about reported are entirely correct (seat a place complete exact worte), and that, the more I reflect upon them, the space corposible I flor it is peak them unamy those which to any heavy aid and profession

* 4th May, 1847 setter, in which the following, referring to another source,

'I have, therefore, returned from the secure a satemaked as it is possible to be, and persended that it is effectly repossible that change or skill rankd very produce effects as completful (last a duality of the spirit 'in sportaal manufactation,' I authorise fail compossible que le henced on l'estreme parase jenutes penduire des you, donc sie, to mant this letter in your next number, il agrec-He are me often your, Marson A.

'(Signed), Router Houses

1 May 10th, 1847

Testimony of Barry Relian.

Harry Kellar, a distinguished professor of logerdemain, s vestigated the slate-writing phenomena which occurred in the presence of Mr Eglinton, at Calcutta, in January, 1882. and on the 25th of that month he addressed a letter to the editor of the Indian Daily News, in which so said :--

" In your page of the 13th January I stated that I should be glad of an opportunity of participating in a source with a riow of giving an unbounted opinion on to whether, in my expectly of a professional prestabilitator, I could give a natural explanation of effects said to be produced by spiritual aid.

"I am indebted to the courtery of Mr. Eghaton, the spectualistic medium now in Calcutta, and of his host, Mr. J. Mangana, for afforcing me the opportunity I eraved that I have come away atterly unable to explain, by any natural means, the phenomena that I witnessed on Tuesday ovening. I will give a beref description of what book place."

After descrioning several successful experiments, Mr. Kellar proceeds .-

cumptances. a sula remain a secutic as regards Spiritualism, but 1877

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL, I repeat my inability to explain or account for what must have been an intelligent force that produced the writing on the slate, which, if my somes are to be relied on, was in no way the result of trickery or aloight of hand."

On the 30th of the same month Mr. Kellar addressed another letter to the Indian Daily News, report og some experiences of another kind with Mr Eglinton, and regarding which he said "To conclusion, let me state that after a most stringent trial and strict sorutiny of those wonderful experiences I can arrive at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trickers in any form, nor was there in the room any mechanism of their powerlessness to produce under the same conditions machiners by which could be produced the phenomena which had what occurs without busins intervention in the presence of taken place. The ordinary mode by which Mankelyne and other est arone made to community in the fleating test is also and positively at gother a fige from the win we were assembled

The Testimeny of Projector Jacobe.

Professor Jacola, writing to the editor of Licht, make o Memorro aggeresté a M.M. les arembres do l'Academie des Licht, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which

> 14 Spite of the assertions, more or east care at a of the French and English junrousts, and spits of the foolish jenloomes degenerate conjugors, I feel it my duty to show up to a set of she party and the chicanery of the other. All that has was or bute advers to the Are as modulus in absolute units awarthy. If we would right hope it is thing by an a come it are neither the parameters nor the conjust a possessed the most observat by known and the economic that give a come to estimates. An a prevator of reporter are a material States special. I with no that the section in the sewith the time to the same and the second transfers to the borness order if thoughts very respect

Meant, Robin and Rober Housen, ween attempting to antato these and facts, no or presented to the palent any long organic un infantine and almost grotesque paredy of the said thousanns, and it would be only gnorant and obstracte persons who could regard the questions aeriously as set forth by these gottlemen. If (as I have every reason to hope) the psychical atudios, to which I am applying to solf at the me success. I shall be able to establish clearly, and that by reduce as moustration, the immense has of a maximum which repeated most union to phenomena from companing in per, and then equivocation A fort aght later, M. do Marvillo received another will be no longer possible, and persons will have to yield to evidense, or deny through prodetermination to dany . . .

"Following the data of the learned chemist and natural philosopher, Mr. W. Crooker, of London, I am now in a pour tuen to prove plainly, and by purely orientific methods, the axistance of a " juychie force" in monnerium, and also the indiriable to you," &c., &c.

Testimony of Samuel Belinchini.

Samuel Bedachai, Court Conjurer at Berlin, made the following declaration in December, 1877.

"I horoby declare it to be a rask action to give decisive ment you too directive medial performance of the Vacciona and una Mr. II by Suide after or your certain, and the senery asserts a made. Ster I may be the trust of several hig yestermed gention en of rank and conton, and also for my we of west testes the deviced med may of Mr. Slave. in a series of sittings by full daylight, as well as in the evening in his both a n. I must for the mike of irut thereby cortify that the monomerous occurrences in the Mr. Smile have been train roughly examined by he with the monutest inservation, and is vestigation of this sufficientlying, including the table, and that I have not ex the smallest degree found an thing to be produced. by means of presto getative mandestations, or by mechanical It is needless to say I went as a sceptic, but I must own apparatus, and that any explanation of the experiments which made place much their realization a most result has they wifer in my oy any reference to prostalapartion automates, income de l'Es must rest with side internal actions, as Crookes and Was ago, in London Perty in Berne, But end, in St. Peteribarg, to sourch for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published opinions of "In respect to the above manifestations, I can only say laymen as to the "Hose" of this subject to be premature, and, that I do not expect my account of them to gain general according to my view and experience, false and one-sided. This, erodotice. Forty-cight hours before I should not have believed my dorharation, is signed and executed before a notary and witsuryone who described such munifostations under annilar cir | nesses. - (Signed) Samuel Beatachter, Borlin, Documber 6th,

Night:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

- Williams and Make Maximum to signs.—Paul.

No. 226 -Vol. V

SATURDAY, MAY 2, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

A Racturel of a Private Science The Springer TroThe Sprintan Dublack, KAV 710

** There are more thomps in Harry and common of the year chundred-by Private and the Horses with use all there are by Chrome 18th a 18th a 18th and 18th are by Chrome 18th as 18th as 18th are The Praise of Our Lady of May., 205 A Measure Moon and Healt Depot April audient
And uniters of Jaqueers
Antonio and the Spiritual Beller bereiten bed Materialization 200

The Editor of "Laoue" desires it to be distinctly waster understood that he can accept no responsibility as to the opinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents Free and courteous discussion is sucited, but sorsters are plone remonsible for the articles to which their names are song that both its appointed pauses, only through the attacked.]

THE PRAISE OF OUR LADY OF MAY.

[From the supublished MSS, of the late Men. Howitt Watte.]

and to prouse our Lord, the Creator, for His Holy Virgin Process mg-the Spirit of Light and of Lave, the Holy Daughter, the Lady of Spring, whose He cach year sendedly Gloot, the Spirit, and the Bride to us upon earth.

tenderhands are metinet with magic of life, and whose every with saleing with mered cakes and with wire, and touch, whose every breath callath forth glory and beauty; with means and with troops of fair white-robed youths and whose breathing is odorous of Hoaven; whose deep bine, maidens into the litali, teening mentions, and fresh-leaved eyes gase out of the skees full of benediction , whose warm, and far spreading forests, there to worship Thee, with translucent tears make the earth to rejuce instead of to Lindsons, and offerings and joyous hymns—so do but let my mourn, as do the tears of mortals , whose soft, warm, sprit worship God Alunghty, thy Holy Parent, as spirit odornus boson holdeth within its recesses generations of within thee,-most foir, most fonder revolution of Divino yet unawakened life , whose light and dancing feet moving hountcourses and heavy. Let my white-robed and gar along harmonsonsly call forth myriads of gentle and fair maded thoughts make a merry sound of enjoying in thy children of the hours, birecome and buds, and green leaves, praise, and magnify to the glory of thy Creater thy soft for the customment, healing, and bloming of summals and of man; and whose shining brow is crowned with the heavy coronal of snowy and resente bloom until the breezes are overladen with fragrance from opal dawn until dewy eve.

Yes, my love towards this fair Angel of God, whose slowly throbbing heart of age, so drew me out of mys elf, bravery ! that I cried aloud unto my God, and unto hers, blessing Him with a threefold bluming for her presence amongst men , for that foretaste of the joys of eternal youth and of a beavenly paradese, which her sweet creation maketh evident unto man, and of which she bath ever from the; dawn of time been the current and sure promise. For whence whispering unto us the word—INNORTALITY she came must very many more like unto herself abide, making most joyous the blissful courts of the House "THE PASSAGE OF MATTER THROUGH of God, and preparing yet unborn awestness for the countless coming generations of men, be they inspired poets or unlettered clowns, for verily, she is no respecter of persons though she be so mighty an enchantress and daughter of the glorious Creator of the World. Yes, she is bountoons day's issue, of small importance but for the use which Dr. because she, in degree, as like unto her Creator

Thou golden-haired Lady of the May," I cried out, in my that of Professor Burrett and myself were "entirely coincident," capture, I would have the traces of thy virginal footsteps. What I did say was that they were "entirely concordant," whilst I plack handsful of the white, fragrant lilies-the which has the advantage of being English as well as symbols of thy fair self-which spring up beneath thy feet accurate,-Yours obediently, filled with the flame of vernal life.

What riches of heart and of imagination hast thou not for over been bestowing upon mankind at each joyous time of thy advent along the circling, conscious cycles of the ages! Who can contempate and compute the depths of I thy tendernous, of thy everyament splendours of blossoming promises of fruition? Thou passest away-yet only for a

Though thou witharawest thysuf within the voil of another kind of heauty, we know ful, well that thou grout but to return again in an eternal youthfulness, that thy festival may be a leating promise to the world. It is a communicate art of the Divine Artist, in order that we may yearn with tender langu shing for its recurrent sweetnoss; -- as a picture to be repainted in the imagination by Momory with even yet more boauty, because it is patiente, ONE OF THE SWEETERS OF THE ORILDREN OF THE ALMOSTY than was perceived in the brilingary of its bring prosonce.

Yea, thou dearly beloved and bounteensly dewored Daughter of the Sun, we yourn unto then and extel thy loveliness as sign and symbol given forth by the Divino Welking along the road of Life, my soul began to bloss. Artist of His yet more wonderful and gloriously translucent

Even, as in days of yore, thy votaries went forth, O The bright and gloriously arrayed Lady May, whose Spring with piper and with merry shawing with garlands white veil of clouds, thy coronal of blessoms of all fruitfu. and awest-scented trees and herbs, thy musical voice of all hirds, beasts and insects, of waters, of rustling and softly murmuring breezes, and of the pattering of showers-thy many coloured rement weren of the most glorious colours radiance reneweth the gladness of youth even within the of Heaven and of saith, and of the son, all thy bridal

> O vernal Messenger from on high, Iris of Heaven, Comforter of the heart of mortelity as thou leanest out of the windows of thy palace of Henven, smiling upon the grey gazmented mortals of earth, thou dost verily draw ever upwards, and cavish away our hearts from earthly though

MATTER'

To the Editor of " Laury "

Siz,- Will you allow me to correct an error in your to-Wyld has made of it? He quotes me as saying, with respect O, thou best beloved of the fair daughters of the Sun 1 to the ring-question, that the verdict of Mr Maskelyne and

April 25th,

EDMUND GURNET

A. G. W

CORRESPONDENCE.

[It is profemble that correspondents should append their names, and addresses to communications. In any case, however, these must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good

A Reading Room and Book Deput for Spiritualists. To the Edder of " Laury."

Six,-I am glad to hour there is some idea of establishing a donot for the sale of spiritualistic literature, for I feel certain there is a great want of such a place, as well as of other facilities for anabling those who feel an interest in the subject to obtain information with regard to Spiritation

When my attention was first called to this sabject, now about "gheers must in since, through accidentally meeting with " t Now Basis" left on the table in a drawing-room in a hydropathic catablishment, I was at a great less how to obtain any further mathing, and though a complete sceptic at the time, the anhanct seemed to me to be worth inquiry.

I was in London the following Christman, and seeing the addresses of 4, New Budge-street, and 4, Are Maria-lane, et a apiritualistic publication, I made an expedition into the City (1 well remainber it, on a cold wintry morning), hoping at least to be able to see some books and hay them if they looked worth the reading. I want first to New Bridge-street, expecting to find to bookseller's may but there was nothing but a calwhere formerly, I believe, the pubushing business had been carried on in an upper storoy. I then proceeded to the publishers in Ave Maris-lane, but could get no books or information shere, excepting that a book I inquired for was not yet published. Rather discouraged, I left Landon the next day, and sport the ensuing four months at St. Loosards and Bournemonth, but curiously enough the subject was not altogether allowed to drop out of my mind through accidental encounters wat people who were interested in it, and at the latter place I met a hely who was a Spiritualist and who lent me a copy of Light," in which I found a notice that books were to be bought and information given at 3, Great Jamesstreet. I wont again to London in the boginning of June, and the day after my arrival I called at the office of " Light" in Great James street. There I fortunately found the editor (yourself), and through following your advice, I became shortly after thoroughly convinced of the great, and I may may, blossed truths of Spiritualism. Had I, however, put cell my visit for another week or two I should have found this place likewise aloued, and should, I am convinced, have aboudened the search in disgust. Though very happy in my new belief, I found myself somewhat solitary I thought it my duty to inform my noncest relations and friends of my experioness, but was mot with such introdulity and Indifference that I determined never again to mention the subject to them about hey be in yet, as I was by a denre to kin w the truth they will know where to some for recomming and eye restry. In to a searth of spiroual state compares coup I determined to be come a member of the Long to Supress at A hance, where I aid. I knew nothing about its proceedings, but I thought there would be a place of masting for members, where they could exchange kloss and relate experiences, as well, perhaps, have an apportunity of seeing spiritualistic literature. I found, however, tothing of the sort, nor had I any opportunity for meeting Spiritualists except at the periodical convermationes given by the Altisuce at St. James's Hall. I hope semothing in the way I have hinted at may shortly be considered by the Society, It would be a great boon to many. I must apologise for troubling you with so long and egotistical a lotter, but my expersence is I feel sure only that if one among scores, and I hope that many to not give up the means after trute in consesome of the difficulty they find in blanca, atoratore and a formation. - With kind regards, believe me, dear Sir yours buthfully.

To the Editor of " LIGHT "

Brg,-In your issue of the 11th inst. I ventured to trouble your readers for information as to whether there was any public library, reading room, or depot for the sale of books in connection with Spiritualism in London, but I regret to find my query conclude that I was correct in my supposition. Such a state of causile upon them. affines is a diagrace to the movement, and is not warranted to inspire subscribers with the belief that it is a growing power.-I am, air yours fare ally

AN INCCIDENT STRANGER. That his Come For of April 20th, 1885

To the Editor of "Least."

Spa,-Personally, I am adverse to proselytising, but I think the weakest point in the cause in that those seeking to investigate the matter have great difficulty in obtaining information,or suitable literature. The latter will be met, I trust, by the proposed depôt, for which the " Disternmention Fund" wes started. I think it is a disgress to the cause that, at least in the Metropoles, they are not able to secure a good house in a central posttion, where these interested could meet to discuss, and where a good reference library and the current papers could be seen, and where strangers on introduction by a member could obtain in formation. When members are willing to wager their thousands a trans Labouchere could not some of them by personaled to their term for such an object! I do not belong to the London Spiritudist Alliance, as I do not quite understand what their and object is, but would gladly do so if they would turn their attention to some such scheme as I have roughly out-

[" As Inquiring Stranger " M.B., and W. ausoubtedly touch upon a great seed. We have often nurselves been pussed at the attitude of Spantachate is these matters. It seems be und complements on the site transver be unlaring an confidence when we amountee unadicall at present that the Longon surduant to passe have then the first step towards experiency attach the procession of the case. A single compliant been taken pose to the ag Cross where the History will be placed, council meetings held, and where strangers may occasionally, in the even ing, most with one or more of the officiale. This is all they can do at present. They have pledged themselves to live within their income, and a membership of 100 does not allow much mergia to: rest, gas, attendance, die, mitte providing for eight or ten conversationes a popular feature of the Alliance which the Conneil do not think it wise to cartall for any other purpose

The resum opened by the Psychological Prem in Great Jarant-street, ratered to by "M. B.," were closed became one individual could not keep them open longer at his own expense Small, and inconvenient of access though they were, they proved very meeful, and the daily attendance clearly showed the need which existed for such a central office. This was felt so imperiant that few morning ago " A skipting whatte a Prese a nation I and to prevente a personment days for the sale above. Toxand of appropriate given or CAN were end for second norw town $150 are up to min are a defer the surpose. The is discontinging but it has sen determ ner a carry one the proposal as fa as means will a low and a non-hearing of the organs, penn can been adopted, which in some temperar experiency as far as publicatly goes in some represented on he of the as hest proposes. In counse thin with the Tresented of Pana, name on the group thou of the same building in whom the conden Spirmanist A lance are for are more been wetters for the aven depot for the rate and disto an ional spiritual decarate

Data were moves are deposit the right direction, but nother the Assured our the Parchai speal. Press can up anything also the work that is welling to see one and a chough water beginning to any purpose using is good as far as a goes, it does not in a liter case, go far enough. In no other city in the world do Spratmanata I now the work to use carries, on under such craniped could from-Virially triefe are not a few lastqueen of generous Spiritualista are not convenient or the effective cause by on of spit trialistic work. One man ninne is Boston gave upwards of THE 100 for building a Spectual Temple and on an appearant being made for a fund of £5 000 to furnish the place, same vary ag in amount from $1,000 or $10 were at once freely subscribed. Now we learn that another friend of the cause is building in San Francisco a still more beautiful building for the use of the Spiritualists in the City of the Golden Horn. Nor are these munificent gifts confined to America. In Australia, and frequently on the Continent, large rates have been given for the in spiritualities work while in England alone, the active workers are expected to transact the business of the movement without even a tome or proper assistance. Let us make a offic confession. It is somewhat personal and although we have often been asked to state the facts we cave always shrunk from doing so. Possibly, however, the statement may awaken a few of our friends to a has been unarrawared, and this leaves me no choice but to sense of the responsibility which the pomesson of a great truth secret that the shareholders generally took up the shares more from a wish to benefit the cause than from any desire to receive div dends. From the commencement, as is usually the case, it has been uphill work, and had it not been that the directors and oficials were, one and all, thoroughly unbased with a deare to work heartily and diligently for Spiritualium, combined with the generality of a few freedom and well in the or subsection, a South tation Fund to cerer the loss, the company, and with it Liwould long since have been things of the past. Everyone connected with "Light" looked upon the work as a labour of love, and department after department of the business of the paper was voluntarily undertaken in that spirit. With all nowspapers the direction of affairs necessarily falls on one man, but is no other instance are no aware and a rogic order washings, event not on to take the core allows: - too new o go forthe the whole of he delay work on do. The payer or was life case to the time year 1884 with "LIGHT." In addition to chining the paper-a took in itself sufficient to occupy the energies of one man-the book keeping, correspondence, and numerous other duties connected with a newspaper [el] to our let. Such a work ordinarily finds employ breat for a staff of elecks, and the position of matters is only emphasized by the fact that we had no means of providing over a single room la which we could do our work, but we had to axecute It when, where, and how we could. The re-ait of he year a wark no was said a single-sweek and we are elime to agly glad that is was so encoura in. But we fee mine rained to may that it was attained by merifices and exertion on our part, the like of which neither we, a stown nor even three persons should be called upon to hear alone ; and, to tell the trath, considering the few facilities at command wherewith to work the paper, we are automished that it did so well. This year our friend and colleague, Mr. B. Dawson Hogers, at great personal sacrifice and inconyear open undertook a portion of the elevient work, but it is, we hold, unfair to him and ourselves that we should be obliged to perform more clark's work when our time could be more profitably employed in other directions.

Asthough "Light" is worked by a public company it is no

May 2, 1885.1

We wish it to be clearly anderstood that in making this state ment none of those extensions were until It is in type, that we (the editor) are alone responsible for R, and that our object is up to to draw attention to the fact that, to our personal know sed on the Lambing were assessed a between the a millarity in posted, and the late on of the way and was a sew where if him on white word anything or chouse to an quested or sample or a name his igarts. The same a the be say or the From French arises we say nothing. We are just to un be work, and will continue to perform it so long as strongth and opportunity will permit; but at the mana time we kepo those anomalies will not be permitted, by Spiritualists at large, to con times much on er a regard to other workers. One thing, how ever twee also for a to propose a decidence of the sea bout alraw," and, although the work or a portion of it may be done, yet the whole movement must and does enfor because of the in authorized all the mount provided.

There are a few who have loyally and generously contributed according to their mount. They have the satisfaction of knowing that to then is largely due the fact that this paper exists; that there is a society doing good work, and that the literature of the subject is not altogether neglected. But while rendering due arkness or many to them, we wish we could fire the hearts of the many water a little righteons until for their fellows. Open doors for work exist in abundance, there are workers willing to devote statement, we shall not refer to it again. En. of "LIGHT"]

What is the Use of Spiritualism? To the Editor of " Lante.

Sm .-- It was my intention some time ago, when the subject cropped up in your interesting paper, at the instigution of, I think, "Eber," to write to you to point out that, as far, at manor is a small village in the West of England, and passed to least, as I know, an answer has never been given to the question, "What, after all, is the me of Spiritualum !" There are many persons like myself who have taken up the subject caractly and, having come to a certain point, drop it, not from any carelearness, but from the fact that it access a metaphysical col-dewe. When it was asked, has anything not known by, and of general interest to, mankind ever been discovered by the told in that "R" was the name of a poor cripple in the village so-called spirite? two metamors, and those not of the most in whom her father had formerly taken great interest. The convincing type, were given by Ganzal Drayson , whale, on power, I suppose, being by this time stronger, the control, the religious side of Sportium into an far and have seen, tours has been no improvement of ather doctrine or morals, and indeed it surprised into to read in " Licent that the experiences of wished the money to be sent to this poor man for the purpose Judge Edmonds were now considered by Spuritaments to be of buying him a wheeled chair, the one he had previously had comewhat out of date I must say that for myself, his writings are much in its elevating than this community sciention about water along durant names of a degenerating the tempetrature of a " portrait figure" in a dark scance. It is consucered of naturfaction which makes many. like Mr Hawess, after having proved for thomselves that there is intelligence spart from matter, drop the subject for ever, or incline to the behal that we only have a new another that if were ellipse in a famourance sea and that a further pursuit of the aubject must be detrimental to mar, lept , c.r.

Lot me give an instance of the curious attitude of Spartandam. Whom first interested in the subject, I, with some other friends, paid a visit to a well-known and deserved y-respected Spartualist (Mr. Koulomans), and, in the course of a most interesting conversation, he told us, and I think I repromber perfectly what he said, for it struck on much at the time, and formed the subject for a long discussion, that "John King" was sent by him (or a friend, I forget which) to Australia to get an suswor to a question, and that he performed the double journey in twenty-four hours or so. Now, being perfectly convinced of the integrity of the relator of this fact, the question which naturally arises in one's mind is, why, when England, and indood the whole of the givilmed world yourned for tidings of the time fate of the me Minetoum, did not the Spiritualista once and for all place their belief beyond the reach of question, and tell a waiting world the nows !

But no, it was not because Spuritualism, as such, was a piece of trickery, but because the intelligence of most is higher than that to which we appeal in scances. Has ' John King enlightened us as regards the details of life in the reign of Elizabeth Has "Joey" or " Irrematible" ever told us one word which our really put ando our doubte so to the reality of terinimated earthly existence ?

It is a hard subject to treat of fully, but the main question may se par time. He may recreated at a balled in the reality of the so-called spiritual manifestations, is it worth white risking one's herith (for there is a risk, which I know too well to be the fact) and mour less of time considering a subject which can, as far as on our judge, never bring saturaction !- I am sir. Yours faith

5, Haro Court, The Temple

A Record of a Private Seamos.

To the Editor of " Light" Sta,-I was recently present at two scances in a private house, and I think some account of what took place at thou men interest your readers. One of the difficulties which meet se new ser a sparsingle phonomena is that of proving the identity of the spirit professing to communicate. This is not from any lack of evidence on the subject, but from the fact that such presols of identity are chiefly to be mot with at private siances, and are very soldom, therefore, numerousited to the general public. I was sponding a low days recently at the country souse of Mr W., in company with a Mr and Mrs S., like myself, Spiritualists, and we were juined by Mr high was the the worth and with the came on a vist of a couple again On the evening of the ten day be aske we never we wash the strength and time to it if embled to do so ; the one thing needful to have a short adange, a proposition which was gissily assented is a little more practical sympathy on the part of Spiritualists at to. We, therefore, want into the library, which has a parquet large. We treat our friends will boar with us in making this floor, and took our sexts round a large loo table. The company assumbled worn-Mr. and Mrs. W , Mr. and Mrs. S., Mr. Eghaton, and myself. We placed our hands on the table, and, the gas being turned out, rape were heard shortly after on different parts of the table. Mr W then inquired by manuof the alphabet, who wished to communicate, and received for suswer the mano of his wife's father, from whom she has often received messages. This gentleman was lord of the the other world about eight yours since. The first message was of an ordinary character hat the next was a very curious one It was as follows. "I wish you to soud five pounds to cripple B., " the alphabet being called over at every letter, three raps giving the aignal when the right one was named. Mrs. W. secured equally surprised with the rost of the company, and 'Jooy," was able to give the other messages by speaking, and told life. W that her father (whom he montioned by name) being completely worn out. Blany details followed, and "Jooy" spoke to the rost of us about private matters concorning ourselven. He then said he should like to very much to meet again evening, therefore, we assembled about nine o'clock in the same room, the only deference being that two of the gentlemen moved front the drawing-room a very large and handsome musical box on a stand. It had four nots of cylinders, and, when either of these was wound up, it continued playing all the times, I thruk, right on each cylinder till it had run down. We sat, as onfore, with our hands simply placed that on the large and heavy table, with the gas alight, Mr W wound up the musical-box, and in a few minutes the table began morning, first in one d rection and then mother, and even answered "Yes" and "No" to questions by filting as well us by tops. soon as one time was finished the meant-hest coased play- an satisfa to some private circle where a higher class of sund in ing, instead of going on as it ought to have done. Mr. W therefore, saked if the central wished to manage A bentalf, and received an answer in the affirmative or well so the matriction t put the gas ast. This he did, and during the remainder of the serince, "I say " not the music going whenever be felt in chared, Mr. Eglinton became entranced, and "Jooy" then hold a lung conversation with Mr. and Mrs. W concerning the money faction. The admission of a stranger would, I was informed, to be sent for the chair, and the people living in the village, the mountger coming from Mrs. W's father as before, speaking of them by name, and mentioning the most manate particulars make such a sacrifice of their time and patience for my make of their characters and appearance, which could have only been known by one on intimate turns with them. All those particulars in myself, and appealed to a lady of whose I had beard were confirmed by Mrs. W. later on. He also talked to the rest of us about personal matters, and I was favoured in a suggest manner. A figur spirit friend of mine, who I knew was present was able to make his presence known to me, not only by our rag too on the feedbad and hands to a way I were a ways it ees no, but over by speaking and bly to me an another no, wes then, whose torce it was I heard close to my our, he see his ow many supervised his where asked in somether, no This task place while "I say " was conversing with Mrs. 8 Several torus ogli a appeared moving about, not only a protty little flekering light semothing like a firefly, but a lancinous much as big us a man's hand, with another bright light on its left at he this more came close to my face and floated about a different directions. I often full the usual cool breests strome my hands, and Mr. S., who was sitting next me, and is strongly mediamentic, sain he could see a form between himself and an The service are of about on nour and ashalf, and was terminated you one from the massical text, which died slowly away as * Joe now good-bye to useb of un-

A few days later on I had a viset from Mrs. W., bringing a Is the mount too from Mrs. B., the mother of the pour cripple the any her in the most grateful terms for the generous gift which should was most opportunit, as the chair which the cripple was whosted about in was considered ween out, and it was dargerous for him to attempt to go out in the I append the mence course, for publication, and I remain, dear sir, yours faithfully.

The Difficulties of Inquirers. To the Billor of " Liant."

Sm,-When Mr Watson's first latter appeared in your cor provide was precited to ruply to that magning that he would receive thing offers of ablor ambitages the more 1 reframed. The time, however, I will not keep discuse for recomplete which, on taking the tremble to investigate, we found rescons. Firstly, because I was for a long period in the same frame of must as Mr. Watson now appears to be , secondly, because my experience of the difficulty of personally obtaining conclusive photometra, evidence in identical with him, thirdly, and chody, became I can point out to him a very simple way in represent a quick decided movement for the one, a slow which, by patience and persoverance (for here, as elecwhere, the goods of smother, but I think he will find this chough to dead man I del not know to a sister of his, of whom I had never strice for at the outset, and having achieved this will be able to heard, and it having been delivered through a mutant friend, work his way suwards unusated.

striking dark mance, I was then convinced that no human out me were informed of the death by an accident of an hands had produced what I saw, felt, and hourd, and that there acquaintance of mine, whose hame was quite unknown to was some hitherto unknown force present.

So it was that I began to make some progress in the

Being then in London, with Spiritualist friends around use, plenty of time at my disposal, an annuable desire to learn more of, and an intense longing to be able to believe in, the unspeak the following evening, when we should be more ex capport, and able bleasing of intercourse with dear ones beyond the voil, I hight hope for even more striking manifestations. The next yet went from mediane to medium, from circle to circle, for nearly three years without advancing a single step *

Wherever I heard of good scances to which money would admit me I went, only to find each and all atterly unastanlactory. Were they for physical manifestations, there were no precuttom taken against frand. Did they sit for psychola phenomena with elairyoyants, there was a vaguences and indefiniteness about all statements and descriptions, a glad sessing of trilling comedoness, a delighted enlarging on any small prophecy that had been fulfilled, a triumphant believe up of one tree thing to the oblivious of a dozen that were false, that finally so wearied me I gave up all such researches, and endeavoured to obtain the sitters would promise better things, and the suspenon of money suterests be eliminated. I heard of many such circles. T one the conditions of admission were strict, but I would glarily have accepted them had I not been told I should probably have to wait months until a vacuacy occurred. As to the others, they were formed by advanced Spiritoslists, for their own salesretard and perhaps prevent the development of the desired phenomena, and I could unither wish nor expect any one to

I therefore resolved to try and develop mediumship much any medican of the highest class, and possessing the power of suveroping mediumintic gifts in others. From her I received much sympathy and great encountegement. She told me of most blessed and wordrous " porelations" and man festacoos securron; by others, which might and probably would can security in I therefore just myself unreservedly under her a texas and remained to for mouths. Now, that this lady was one of the most study-patieted of women, that the believed, with an intensity of conviction nothing count above in the rown we storted gifts, and the importance of ad manifestations and revolutions given through her, as coming from the laghest sources. I am fully personaled, but I norther perseived in separal no funtest say of any abnormal power (though she continually per tox out to me wheel the police exprense of each), mor did [ receive from her monoto of anything that could be reasonably exiled evidence of the continued existence of those passed from antony us. In fact, the interference of any outside power appeared to me to be, in her case, not pouren. And now I come not park of my expuremen which I think may be uneful to Mr. Walson. Unable to obtain what I slewired from or through my meatures, I set to work without one. A relative of my own and two minimum friends, all interested in the investigation, and with me at a small round table onces week on the same day, and at nearly the same boar, for the greater part of one winter. For a time we got nothing but " tilts," in which I placed little faith, and sudresses of these who look part in these sources, not, of feeling sure they can be produced by encouncious morements when several pairs of hands are ongagod. But through those despised " tilts" came showly conviction, first, of some mitaligence possibly within currelyes, but of the action of which we were unconscious, secondly, of some intelligence wholly entaids ourselves, which foretold trivial, but an spected events, gave what we thought wrong answers to questions, but afterwards found were right; told us circumstaneos of which we could lave but no previous knowledge, and often in which we had so were extrect. An Ac-

Moreover, the " talte" were as various in kind as the persomalities supposed to be in converse with me, and singularly suggestive of the characteristics of the person they classed to motherinal movement for another, an populatent and irregular Fore is in royal road to knowledge), he can bring home to tilting for a third, and no on. Lastly came the final trainingh of homest the conviction that there is, beyond a doubt on our patience-raps book, weak, small sounds, but clear, distinct, to gence whosey and altogether outside ourselves. Further and unmatakable. Through them we held a conversation with han hot I have so yet myself scarcely attained, and cannot be the intelligences, I received an accomprehensible message from a was footal to be a most natural and apposite message under their I became personally acquainted with Sprittedism at a very circumstances. Stranger still, my friends sitting one day with study of Spiritualisms, and if hir Watson has time and patience enough to give this method a fair trial, he can conrince himself in like manner. I am, sir, yours obediently, ME.

Mr Estinton and Materialisation Seapons.

We have been requested to publish the following correenondence

DEAR MR EGUNTON

May 2, 1683.]

Will it be convenient for you to give a scance for materalisation, one evening between Fralay next and Wednes day week? A friend of mine, Dr. H., from the Cape of Good Hope, manxious to see some spirit manufestations before he leaves London, which he intends doing on Wednosday, and I would like very much if you could give him the opportunity. I shaw try and get one or two others to jum us, my daughter and myself would also be present, and Mr Younger has kindly consented to attend, and take charge of the circle. Others who may be present, know acarcaly anything of the subject, and are scoptical, but I do not think their presence would hinder the manifestations, as they are current in wishing to know the truth

I can make no arrangement, however, till I hear from you, whother you can give the sitting. Hoping to hear from you soon, with kindost regards, -I remain yours very succeedy.

AKKE DARLING

90, Ledbury-road, Bayswater. April 20th, 1883.

DEAR MED. DARRESO .--

I cogret that I cannot accode to your request to give you the desired consec for materialisation. Lost I should be minumderstood, I will state my reason for this refund. I hold that a medium is placed in a very responsible position, and has he has a right to entury, as for as he possibly can, those who come to but N we say experience which is a small one, leads in to the conclusion that or account awarer we intentioned or honest can be cone used by the cond-tone press in a conassecration as we are the result is attler accidental his part, and condemnation of the med up . It is diff to: who there is a hapipor our corn of Scarithanita, who are in ranced enough to writers such phenome a, and with whom shall a waya be dealer total to an buy a meophy or most be propared by other methods. If your friend cares to come to a state-writing manor I shall be happy to arrange an hour on Monday or Tonsday, otherwise I must decline to ait for the reasons stated above, and which must commend themselves to you as to all thinking Spiritualists.

Believe me, yours sincorely, 6, Nottinghau-plam, W April 23rd, 1886.

DEAR MR. EGLINTON,-

Although I fee sorry for my friend's sake, I quite approve of your sections. It is not right that outseless should be moved to understand too it y cannot se admission to the incred mysterials without in preparation. on their own just and that hey cannot have manifestations at their beck and call sception, but thought I would ask you, and now that I know your opinion, I shall in future be better able to advise others who wish to see these wonders. Two fites these scances are made too common, and more shows for the amusument of people who cannot appreciate or understand the accordance of spirit community. Tours smearely,

ANNE DARLING. April 24th, 1885

Chambertaken.—Roy. Dr. J. P. Nowman myn. "After medicin men has faned with me, my wife to a a set of my hir to a rady of New York, and to a cadowied with the array once for which she received in asyment. This lady my wfor till need held the hair to her hand, went into an apparent sleep and presently morniared. Confictions he must have sweet if and sending powering my wifer. Persuaded by my wife I away send a quantity of sweet on any sock sending powders with the effect of them as there is each wall stones. The same of my troublus his passing town yeight gall stones. This cause of my troubus his rever been disgreed by any of my dockers. I was soon well am an now a hearty nan. When the tady who brought me this good service bed dijection was raised by some elergence to just prompt the rites of ourselvent to performing the rites of ourselvent or the body. I gladly accorded the dolly and replied the daty and wer our coffin! publish acknowledges my liebt to ber. No man can explain such a mysterious montal power but that this woman had been given some force not possessed by most mortals I do not doubt." Ranges-Philosophics.

THE NATURAL AND THE SPIRITUAL BODIES.

(From the Spiritual Offering.)

The editor of the Smertual Offering (Ottomwa, lown) of March ?1st., calling the attention of a correspondent belong ing to one of the churches, to the words of St. Paul "There is a natural body and there is a spiritum body," reminds have that the text says that there is, not will be, a spiritual body, that numerous facts are on record demonstrative of the existence of the approtual body, that such records have increased in later times, and are now of frement occurrence. Such facts, he points out, demonstrate that the spiritual body may seave its material body without complete severance of the " silver cord," and return to it for a time, longer or shorter. He quotes instances, most recently

From the Des Mornes Register he takes this .- Mrs. Possett, of Portland, Me., died on March 10th, after a very short illness, and her body was laid out. Late the came evening a dear friend came to take a farewell look at her. Sitting by her side, weeping and gazing at her face, she said, "Ah! where are you now?" Mrs. Fossett moved, turned a little on her side, and finally sat up ! Her friend called in the family to hear her relate that it seemed to her that she had been in Henven, feering a happiness beyond expression, that she had not her mother and other departed friends. The voice here became faint, and, unking book, she died, to return no nore.

This from the Banner of Light :- On Monday, February 16th, John Wisholm, a Swode by birth, of Centre Townthip, Penny was taken suddenly ill and apparently deed. His family were everwhelmed with grief, his sen threw himself upon him, embraced or a, and implored him to speak, not to leave them without one word ! Presently the father's eyes opened, his lips moved, and he stail "Oh, why call me back ?" They administered restoratives, and when able he narrated what he had experienced. He said that after a first striking sensation he saw what was occurring in the room, but sould not speak, then all became dark, and he seemed to float between two forms : visible to him , then it grow lighter and lighter, until he new two beautiful bright boungs on either side of him, heard sweet music, and felt at peace. From this he was aroused by his son's voice, which seemed to draw him back through the onekness again and into his poinful body. He lay in a weak state for two days and then finally left that world.

Lastly, this from the Aubern Gardin; - Thirty-four years ago, John Hurelle, a youth of sixteen, in Anburn, was pronounced by doctors to be dead, and every preparation was made for the funeral. On the morning of the day I had my doubts about the produces of your atting for of burief, his mother, thinking she saw signs of life, bad him removed from the coffin Into bed. As this was being done he faintly said, "Let me - and then stopped. He lay unconscious, his mother giving him liquid food from time to time, for eight months. Consciousness then returned, the first word he attered being, "be," and then stopped, thus completing the sentence he began eight months before. This man is now fifty years of age. He is a shoomaker working in Reilly and McGaer's shoe stores in Auburn The coffin, of thirty-four years ago, is still kept by his brother. Questioned as to any experience he had during that eight months, he says that he seemed to be floating around when he thought of a place he was immediately there. He saw his collin, his mother, and his friends, but he coust settler hear nor speak to them. He now many deceased free ds. Everyving was be got and pleasary while he was out of his box y, but the coming into it ogs it was

The editor of the Spiritual Offering tells his corre spondent that he thinks such facts are now more frequently recorded because men are giving more heed than ever before to the relation between the spiritual and the material, and because the nearness of the spirit-world is more generally recognised than harctofore.

May 2, 1885.]

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT." A AVE MARIA LANE, LONDON, E.C.

SUBSCRIPTION KATES.

The Annual Subset done for Limits per receive any selection within the city to propose or example of the result Postal Proof, in money as parts of beings in a min State and Bottob Note Yuganese, a 10s follower ampling forwarded to our office of

ADVERT SEMENT CHARGES.

Five lines and under 2s. One meh, 4s. Gd. Column, $2 2s. Page $4. A reduction made for vivirses of more bus.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

** Light "may also be obtained from E. W. Attack, 4, Ave Maria-line, London, and all Businedilers.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Antescriptions for INNS are now due, Subscribers will oblige by forwarding these at utile to "The Wainger of 1.66M r 4 ker Murla-lane 6.4. Past biller Geiters may be made payable in Henry Carnes. All Editorial Correspondence in he indicessed to "The Editor.

Dight:

MATURDAY, MAY 280, 1863

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK

188

[Washall esteem it a layour on the part of our review if they will forward us, for use in this column, any a busines to Spiritualism stel Psychiath Research they may come coross in the course of their funding. We see a great many of these surveyees, but it is obvious that there must be many recerement to the subject which do not meet anneyes. - No. or | box at

I do not see that advertising an exponer of Spiritualism by the American method of interviewing amounts to much. Mr Moskulyna talks of expension Mr. Blade in Bow-street. What he really did was to mean that the table used was a trick table. which was false, as any one may see who chooses to examine it. As for the writing, neather Mr. Maskelyne nor any one also has ever told in how it in done

Agola, if Maskulyan can as dom or coproduce the mainfestations, why has he mover claimed the large rewards offered by the lete Mr Fowler, of Liverpool, by Signer Damians, and by Mr. S. C. Hall ! Not one challenge offered by Spiritualosts has ever been accupted not one researd has ever been alonged. So hing as this to the case, what confidence can be placed in the auro advertising brage of frewspaper interviewers?

No Speritualist, who has been a careful investigator, can be broubled for a moment by such attentions. Every such investgator has such scorus, purhaps huncireds, of manifestations, which no conjurer sould finitate. When Mr. Markelyne will and down with me at a table, lot me clean two slates and place a bit of pencil between them, and then place his two hards with adite upon the slates until we hear the second of writing, and I And the whole hade of one of their covered with a letter to me. in the handwriting of one I knew intenstely in this life, signed with the more proper to such handwriting, and stating facts uttorly unknown to Mr. Markelyne, then in such a cose, he might be worth interviewing -though, as a matter of business, A would be only in the attractest confidence that he would tell bow it was done.

Of course it is a folly to fancy that a professional conjurar known more about the matter than any man of common-sense. But when we have the caruful, continued, scientific investigations of two adopts in physical science like Crookes and Zöllner. and a dozen more, what do we want of a Maskelyne?

should have begun by investigating, and confirming or exposing, a commissional.

the best known phonomena of Spiritualism. Thought-reading, apparitions, haunted houses, Jee., might have followed. Of course it is a matter of taste or judgment-but I would have began the investigation with rappings, the moving of objects, psychography, and so on, up to materialization ormaining and fighting each fact, and mercileasly exposing every freed or lakehood. That, it seems to me, was what we wanted of such a society.

After all, the great obstacles to the reception of new facts used now ideas are montal mertia, habit, projudice, and the Cotters of Jacob and object sensets may be adarened to the latter wars. In note persons o ten, of a philosophic spirit, People latter of Living and Post Office Confers may be made payable of Having the major of th Arm close the shutters

> Next to a favourable presentation of the phenomena in hierature, and perhaps better in some ways for exciting curroutly and provoking discussion, is such an attack upon Spiritualism as that made last year by Robert Buchanan in his novel, "The New Abelard." Of course, Mr. Buchanen burlesques it stupidly. But attending a season, or even read ing a fair account of one, might have been a diendynatage. When a man sets immself to ample a creed of a philosophy, or a system bases on facts. No seas to known about either, the bases his scope for viteporation and manopresentation,

> But over the wildow misrepresentation or the most virulent attd batelost abust may have a good effect a son air mordest. open in cond inquirers after truth. Buch men my " Why is this doctrino everywhere spolem against? How is it that muchge cam even profoundly scientific men believe in what is to sounce as in ideatic supporture?" And the first impulse of every just time who hears any muse abused is to securisis whather the abuse is well founded.

So for as I man judge from the reports in spiritualist parmals in America, Europe, and the Colonies, the "Cause" of Spiritualism is very rapidly advancing, by which I mean that I've facts are becoming more widely known. Facts hardly constitute a cause or a creed. Spiritualizar is really a science to be investigated or studied, like astronomy or goology. It is not a faith, it is not a hope. Cortainty supersertes both. there is a world of spirits. We know that the friends who have left us as to the earthly life, still live, still are able to talk with the and amure us of their loving care. We are as sure of this as no are of our our, existence, and our " Course" is simply and only the benevolent wish to being this knowledge to all "whom it may concern,"

I freely admit that religious people of several denominations may have more argent motives for missionary efforts. It is untural that upon who believe that tracts or preaching may mys kumun souls from an otomol flory hell, should put spare shillings and even pounds into the contribution box. Of course a man who believes that the destroy of every human soul has been forcorded and from all othernity has no such motive. Why should a man try to myo a noul predestated by its Maker to sternal pordition? Or why spend money or affort for those productinated to elemal felicity !

A Spiritualist has, however, abundant motives to spread the knowledge of the truth. It is a cheerful science and helpful to humanity in many ways. It removes the terror of similals tion, and makes many welcome the change of doubt. The curtainty of immortality gives new motives to purity and justice, kindness and benerolence. Can there be a grander stimulus to the attainment of all wisdom and virtue than to know ourselves improvial? Can all the sciences of the universe committee with this one science of THE LIFE TO COME !

Mrs. General Booth, of the prosectional Salvation Army. late been preaching at the Town Hall, Kennington. She was announced in the War Cry, and on large raddy posters, borne by subdivich men. Of course the large betatiful New Town Hall, opposite the High-street Station, was crowded, and I agree with some of the critics of the Psychical Society. the shilling for reserved peats and the collection paid expenses. It seems to mu that their method has been wrong. I think they A good general keeps a sharp outlook on his military chost and I doubt, however, whether Mrs. General Booth can draw as large a crowd as Major Picroon, who has been the medium of miracles of healing in the Potterion and later at Sheffieldwhere, we are told in many newspapers, the blind were restored to sight, the door heard, and lepers, if any came, with faith enough, were cleaned. It is clear enough that there has been much excitoment but the reporters are not quite agreed as to the suracles of healing. And if the "meaner's" power of a decen forward Salvationists were anywhere gathered, ordered, and directed by a" heating medium" there is no doubt that autuelor would be produced. The cures wrought in Australia somo tente ago by a Speritualist were very remarkable. We had some instances in England, through Dr. Nowton. There seems to be no doubt that in the fervour and concentration of muted prayer at the Bothsham of Ithington and Liverpool, many have been oured.

It has long been suspected by many, and known to some that successful revivalists were sum and women who, perhaps exconsciously, exercised a strong momento power-that converts are as really "psychologized" as the measurised performers of Madamo Card. Of late this fact is being freely discussed in the American newspapers, and "revivalism" and its unchinery and mades operand are likely, like Speritualism, to be unknowed to acconting investigation,

For example, the Chicago Readd has an article on the measure power of a Mrs. Woodworth-a transatlante Mrs. Congral Booth, who is "conducting the great revival at Hartford City, Indiana." " Her subjects," It is said, " see not always paralysed at sight, but frequently go away and find thenmelres prestrated afterward. The wickedest man in the town entered the meeting the other night for the purpose of breaking it up As he strude up the siale curreng in a loud vesce, the revivalish fixed her eyes on him, and he list the power of speech for the rest of the commy. One you as a man went to an evaning service and returned bonne in a normal roud ion. The next more up she was found so my up bed, cell and stoff, with wide storing own and speechlass. It took three hours of hard work to bring her out of her trance."

That is pretty fair, but the case of Miss. Viola Me Dormet is even more interesting. She goes off into trances every time the attenda the revival, and in sparst visits the eternal world. "I know as well as anybody," she says, "when the lausons are coming My hands get cold and I can feel my arms stiffening. My eyes got hard and the inside of the church-coon gets smaller. The darkness begins at the outer edges of the room and comes toward me from all aides. Finally thought is gone and I am in two worlds. I can bear everything that is said liers, and there I can see the great white throng." There are pustly other people ! in that vicinity similarly affected.

Everyone who has read Professor Gregory's work on Mostherism, or juid any reasonable attention to psychological pagnomena can see how perfectly analogous are the operations of Moody and Surkey, the Salvation Army, the Bethalians, and the rude, but offectively pious, morenezicia of our mismons and revivals, to the currous and amusing unhibitions of Madame Card and the so-called Electro-Biologists-with this difference -Madame Card selects her subjects, and at the end of her experiments, takes off the spoll, and loaves them as some as usual. The revivalists let the spell remain to west off gradually. Sometimes it lasts a long time-perhaps a life-

"Kanna," a norel, by Mr. A. P. Sunnett, author of "Tho Occalt World" and "Raotorio Buddham," has just boon published. We understand the story is concerned with incidents of an 'occub character

Mas RICHMONA. It has been arranged, we are informed. that Mrs. Richmono will resume the series of ancourses given by her last year in Konsington Town Hall (opposite Metropolitan and Dustrict Station, High-street) on Sunday evenings, the 17th, 24th, 31st May, and the 7th, 14th June, at seven p.m.

Wnunderstand that Mr Hargyave Jeausings, author of "The Reservations," One of the Thirty "Lava Lights and Dead Lights, and other works, was made application for entry to Lian hony Monastery where he proposes to end his days o solute and by according to the rule of St Benedict. He will be received with the erromony after Father Ignatius

"THERE ARE MORE THINGS IN HEAVEN AND EARTH, HORATIO, THAN ARE DREAMT OF IN YOUR PHILOSOPHY

Appress Delivered at the Convenientions of the SPIRITUALINE ALLIANCE, HELD APRIL 24YH 1885, IN THE BAN-QUETING HALL OF ST. JAMES'S HALL RECENT-STREET.

By T P BARKAS, FGS

LAZORS AND GENTLEMEN

By the kind anythition of your Executive, before you as a provincial stranger for the purpose of occupying farty-five minutes of your time, with a vace to placing before you, in the concisest possible manner, iono of my psychological experiences, which come wriet y under the classification of facts that are more stronge than are dreamt of " in the photosophy of the unjority of manked

The phenomena of Medera Sparena are a very sarge field, extending from table-topping to the complete unitermose tion of ontire littmen forms, and from the most club of any commonplace traditio to the most profound scientific and

nazwej lucz, dwgraczona

The interpretations of these phenomena winely differ, extending from alloged trick, on the one hand, to the direct in a making against of intuitigant beings who have passed from the afe to another spages of exatence on the other

The holders of the trick theory are those who for the most part have not fully investigated the phenomens, and who are absorpally projudiced against the reception of new occult facts . the advocator of ab-extra spirit agency theory being these who have devoted much time and care to the critical examination of the phenomena.

As a stranger among you, I may state, prior to quoting facts which appear clearly to prove independent spirit agency, that I have enrefully investigated those phonomena for upwards of thirty years, that I am not conscious of being in the least degree mediumnatio, and that I have againfined the manufacts tions as a coal and an appalaive outside observer, being quite indifferent as to the conclusions arrived at, so long as those conclusions commended themselves to me as gonume

I propose this groung to pixes on one side all merely physical phonomens, the genuineness of which I have ascertained, and to explain some of the more striking psychological facts that have some under my observation.

I may state on present that the facts which took place at some of the sakureas to which I am about to refer have been published in consecutive order in the pages of "Light," a valuable journal meded weekly at a very mederate price.

The records of the first and second scances refer to music and acoustics, the third seance to the conditions of the future ife. and the fourth air lifth senness on bace replies to hypororitical sections on non-rose amusical laws. Those questions and convers pur same or "Literat probably have been, or, at reast, may be, read by all who are present. I shall not, therefore, quote them at sought, but after describing the mode it which the adapton were conducted, and the answers obtained, I shall give noveral typical questions and answers from the records of the subsequent seames attended by the same lady medium

The medium was twenty-six years of age. She attended as sobild a Wesleyan day-school, hor tuition was much interfered with by ill-health, she had a few months instruction when she was about fifteen years of age. She was the wife of an outdoor foreign over riverside labourers, with the weekly wage of an ordinary worksian. She and her littaband lived in a small threeroomed house, and she did all the cooking, cleaning, and work of the house herself. She had no taste for scientific studies , never attended a scientific lecture, nor read a scientific book, and was never known to converse on scientific subjects. Her reading consisted, for the most part, of novels, travels, and teles; and her education was, in a word, of a very ordinary kind. Her manners were quiet and refined for her station, and her general conversational power tolerably good, although she spoke little.

Her knowledge of science was, so far as I could ascertain, absolutely blank. She did not receive any remaneration for her mediumistic services, but gave them quite gratuitously, and the only exposes incurred was in the proporation of the MS books, in which the questions and snewers were written those I purchased and new keep

She was, during the scances, not in a trance, or mesmeric aloop, but was, to all appearance, in her normal condition, and are meaning of the tuplies.

kind. The number present at each someo varied from six to by any living man or woman. ton parsons. We not round a plain deal table, the top of which was about four feet by two feet. MS. books and poncils were any one who attended the scances , that is not because I do not placed on the table. I generally ask next to the possess them, for they are recorded in fall in the original MS. medium and wrote the questions in the MS, books as they were records of the scaness. The prejudices, however, against being asked, and turned the book to the medium, who instantly following investigations of this kind are so great, that I prefer wrote the repress to the questions. As such answer was written boaring the entire responsibility myself, rather than drug the I resent aloud, so had all present was non-near the next or manes of quiet, retiring persons into the public arounnto appropriately and read. The seas of the mission of trolled and guided by some invisible intolligence, or intelle them every facility for the fullest and most searching inquiry gences, who presented the sessitific knowledge that was com- The only exception is the name of the professor of music, whose municated. The theory of thought-reading is ruled out of mans I would not give without his direct consent. pourt by the fact that the asswers to the questions were many, probably the majority of cases, beyond the knowledge that any explanation of those phenomena will cover the entire of all those bresum case of this kind, all ours should be exercised. It may be in the spiritual world, who had for the next part acquired the

My reply to that is, that such a theory as at least morally | logically defenuible. angipulation, mounted, that several of the questions were maked as to myself, and were asked by others present, a har a though of deception in to be introduced they also must have were and think, therefore, we may come as a men upon the skill of he measure a me he theory hat her hame. was -- d y my a de interligences.

those statements, I shall be glad to test them with the minutal district questions.

questions and snawers somewhat resembling those which have already appeared in " Littury from February The to April 25th The subjects to which the questions referred comprised Light, Hest, Electricity, Magnetism, Galvaniam, Promination, or equived To next stroked manufer at in were by I Accounting, Physiology, Austriny. At other manon the otherwise as his talked we you great " Locale Western. subjects lengthaly discussed were the distribution and Commation of the Broophake Norves, Electricity, Mediumahap, Commation of the Bloos. Man spiritually, Automata, Functions of the Brain, Boat Natura Phenosphy of the Vicenta, the first Medium Brain Manuel Phenosphy of the Vicenta, that of the Manuel Ages, John Harroson's Cricism of Humanian Stafford's Energy in the Vicenta Ages, John Harroson's Cricism of Humanian Stafford's Energy in least Vegetoble Life Philosophy of search as the first and the Stafford's Paris of Medius Specialist Committee and Spirit Stafford's Paris of Medius Specialist Committee and Spirit Stafford's Paris of Medius Specialist Committee and Spirit functions of the Encephalic Norves, Electricity, Mediumahap, took part in the general convertation as did any one at the You will agree with me that a large and somewhat abstrace field was covered, and that the majority of the replica could not The only abnormal sometion she had was that of her hand be given by any woman of ordinary education. There are some rebeing invisibly directed, and she had not any consciousness of plan that might have been given by any one of average intelliwhat was being written. When I read the answers audibly she did gener, but, on the other hand, there are many that could not nornot understand the mosnings of many of the words, nor did she, anally have been given except by some one who had had the adfor the great majority of those present, understand the drift vantage of a severe effective training, and the area of inquiry is so extensive that it is very probable the whole of the questions The arrangements for the sceners were of the most simple could not have been answered so well make similar conditions

You will have observed that I have not given the name of f wever any accredited somety, my the Royal Succety or questionably replied to each question asked, and the problem the Source ( Psychical Research, please to appoint a committee for adultion is, did the mechani of her own known or were for investigation, I shall be glad to give them the names and the replies, or, as was persistently alleged, was her have so addresses of all who were present at the scances, and afford

Permit me to my briefly, in conclusion, that I fail to see ground, other than that which is channed by the ulleged To arrive at satisfactory conclusions in an occult and unique producers of them, viz., that the replies were given by persons affirmed that the medium and I consusted to deceive the other, were tife knowledge displayed in the report owing their residence on earth. That position, I believe, is the only one

Approx has been ASSIVEDUARY, - Many Spiritude tool Merca with, convened by the fluciety founded by ham, at the neverther may here as tostomable, and we are thrown buck to d the harms orange flowers, crowns, &c. Commajor of the more were from all our or and general more debrored. They are reported in un in the fire of the t separate relebration was organised by the Lunar Spirite for the postions so wall under similar conditions, it seems to be not 31st, reported in La Spiritume, and was attended by about 200 morely improbable, but impossible that she replied to them members of the thirty societies forming the Union. At this, from her own stores of knowledge, and we are therefore driven communications from the provinces were read, and orations were to the conclusion that makes being through her hard wrote convered by well-known disciples. Whatever difference, withe replies. If my persons saywhere doubt the accuracy of three to us here my be between the Societé and the Luien, it the mappear made was at all were evidently of one mind on successions, a minut no give to concerning with the open and in the cause with which has name in a standard to the give typical questions from the scances with advertised.

the answers recover. They cover a very large field of many Tag " Groots " of the past were regarded as emerging in of the fature life, nusseal encourses and their works, reading the parties of the fature life, nusseal composers and their works, reading the parties, biology, botany, anatomy, physiology, the brain, the open the composers and their works, reading the open the composers and their works, reading the open the composers and their works, reading the open the composers of the composers of the blood, the narrous system, almost and other autifulation of the blood, the narrous system, almost and other autifulation, and other autifulation by, or at the distance of the the reading within the range of their studies must be distanced and their studies and their world do to each other. The forestigations of Spiritualian bring within the range of their studies must be an about a composition world, who appear as natural and pleasant to im an we will be the processes of their studies must be such at their within the range of their studies and their within the range of their studies and their studies are the processes of a given the other and the range of the range of the range of the range of their studies are an accordance of the range of the range of their studies are an accordance of the range of the range of the range of the range of their studies are an accordance of the range of the range of their studies are an accordance of the range of their studies are the range of their studies but trace is quarte accession, musical mare no as the could be a form mirroulous way from some awful realin, but the apparitions

THE ED THE OF F to quites from Sp. 1 Fours the report of a means at Boaton Mrs. Bust the me and at which were made. Spr maste on v. Many is one sed spirits were recognised. The most striking manufacture in merce by I. d saed when empree who say, expusate y 3 Captain He west tail and briedsonic in unid an 4 d German Doctor, the Future and Methyrysism. Atoms, being and a long and philosophism esset in the annex with the medical.

I have now endeavoyees to does defer you some of the metry explaint of the medical.

I have now endeavoyees to does defer you some of the annex with the annex of the medical point of the medical point.

And the first with the medical point of the medical point of the annex of the annex of the approximately make the medical point of the medic

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY.*

May 2, 1863.]

By J C. KROLEWANS. (Continued from page 200.)

intended to reconcile the apparent incompleteness of ovidence, in such cases where the medium has been discovered apparalled in the "flowing garments." It is stated that the witnessed cases which induce me to behave that the invisible spirit first produces the drapery, then dresses the medium's double canbe projected and solicified, and that a medium, and, this finaled, takes possession, of or animates, similar occurrence presented itself in Colonel Otcott's case. his body. Some prefer the theory that the medium does But of this later on. Another strange fact may be observed the work under control and automatically. If we accept in such cases when a form is seen to dematerialise. It either view, the suspicious-looking merdent of mediums might be supposed that whereas it has been seen to appear by being discovered in the act of arraying themselves is accretion or agglemeration, it would have to disappear by a explained, for it would seem that in such cases the real actor is it does, in cases where its perfect solidity has not been the sperit, which, on account of its othercal nature, is invisible, established, and it is not unlikely that in the majority of and causes the blame to fall upon the medium. However, cases, when the manifestations occur in total darkness, the this generally admitted explanation of the somewhat awk perfectly solid vanishes also gradually. Yet in those cases ward position in which mediums have at times been found, where the form dematerialises in full view, the drapery requires for its acceptance more substantial evidence than has so yet been forthcoming. As it stands at present It seems a mere prolegomena intended to exouerate the time poster, and it hals to enlighten the majo rer way too draway | destance from my eyes.

(To be continued.) is arranged oper the medium's usual attire. for this would imply that the spirit acting as " costumer" is either unable to judge of the swful incongruity of the circumstance, or, premeditatedly consents it, which, in the latter case, would be equivalent to fraud. Nor can the subterfuge of "ovil a save as we should experienced an employee the median to assume the median the median to assume the be equivalent to fraud. Nor can the subterfuge of "evil ... and connering at introgers, not on the part of the median himself, but on that of corrupted demann from the outer world. It may be perfectly true that but too often reference, and their value may be judged and appreciated Unfortunately, under test conditions, they either never occur or have been entirely overlooked. An in such cases of supposed or preference transformations where no perceptions after the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the medium s features is discoverable, and a conditional latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not be conditionable in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not latter appears in the latter appears in "spirit" contains a not latter appears in the latter appears i excluding the cabinet and all other arrangements which a war as we are not be not he nell (Mr. Wood excluding the cabinet and all other arrangements which a war as we not be not not be not as a country would make deception possible. However, although the rank in a prior was of Mr. C. was a country may wish to hant at discrepancies, I consider it the duty of a real form the for war, quarter on from the country of the countr my wish to hint at discrepancies, I consider it the duty of note if in the for war, and then from he carefully avery Spiritualist to record the results derived from his to be there a very my gentleman and they me carefully personal investigations, no matter whether these are in an example in a first Equation a performance, and investigations, no matter whether these are in an example in a first Equation a performance a sentiment which harmony, or in direct contradiction, with previously accepted the an increase. And then are parallels even the conductions. The intex themselves remain, and may here of the same example in the deep conductions. The intex themselves remain, and may here of the same examples of the sam dealing with a real spectraal fact, for its gradual formation having written the sentence, "Several gentlemen gave conclusive and its model disappearance can be witnessed. Although the model of the sentence of Mr. Egintum's alabowriting," he Mr. Cowland; induced the editor to strike out the window that must be tearthly in its origin, it is nevertheless liable to clusive." We might mention that Mr. Gowlands method of changes and modifications which no earthly being could glate-writing, simple and anything but clover though it is in it possibly effect, hence it must in some respects possess a oven his own idea, but that of a Mr. Hainet, a guildoman of characteristic which is neither strictly earthly nor strictly some standing in Ulverston, who imparted it to him spiritual. The fact that by the superior power of "spirits suffice to indicate the strange peculiarity of its substance, because the same spirits could not cause a simular change in ordinary dropery, viz., such of which they do not possess the spiritual counterpart. There are, besides, some features connected with this substance which are so mysterious as to hoffle all attempts at further research. For instance, it has been observed that a female spirit appeared in a duplication of the male psychie's wearing appares, the latter We have still to weigh the somewhat vague assertions | differing only by its more subtle texture. Colonel Olcott mentions a case where the mechani were a black merine dress, and a hole cut from the "spirit's" drapery made a corresponding deficiency in the dress of the former. I have is stead of louing in aubstantiality, diminished in quantity. It does not accumulate in a heap, or fall in pleats, but appears to sink away together with the form. I have noticed this, perhaps, as many as fifty times and within two feet on Thursday on the week M. T. W. Cow and of I verdoctrines. The "facts" themselves remain, and may acree corress on The appears not withten again and made by as material for others to deal with. What is still to be Mr. command to the direct of magazine the day after his permitted in how far all the "facts" are maritial.

MR. GOWLAND, THE EXPOSER, AT BARROW-IN-FURNESS.

[An investment of the direct of the day after his permitted of the direct of the day after his permitted of the direct of the day after his permitted of the direct of the day after his permitted of the direct of the day after his permitted of the day af Now in the case of "spirit"-drupery we are undoubtedly he approhended would be given. He beasts that the reporter

It can be made to assume different degrees of solidity would see the case of these chrone drawing shift remain, and may be obtained of the Manager of the Paychological From 4, Are Maria-lane, E.C., price 2s. 95.

The Manager of the Paychological From 4, Are Maria-lane, E.C., price 2s. 95.

The Manager of the Paychological From 4, Are Maria-lane, E.C., price 2s. 95.

The Manager of the Paychological From 4 and transmission by parcel post.—382 Lpv2

INTELLIGENCE.

THE LONDON SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE.-Notwithstanding Spirital Notice.-The Editor of "Light" cannol, more in the fact that the constructions of he A name are a meet to of the S.P R. Jaul been fixed for the same evening, there was no approximate falling off in the attenuance at the former on Friday, April 24th, when a large audience assembled in St. James a Hallto hear Mr. T. P. Berkas, F.G.S., of Newcastle-on-Tyne. A report of his address will be found in another page, and when he finnihal speaking the somewhat lively questioning to which he Was subjected, showed how keen was the interest taken in his abstoments. We hope to see Mr. Barkas amongst as again

THE HERMSTIC SOCIETY tiols the ninual mosting on the 2' It finds, on which occasion a paper by the president, Dr Anna Kingsford, was read and discussed. The Society will hold weekly meetings throughout the onemng section, at the rooms of the Royal Asiatic Society, 22, Albamarle-street, W. Papers have been premised by Major Arthur Lame, the H as Rodon Noul, Mr C. C. Massey, Mr Edward Martland, and others. The Society will gladly hade invitations to visitors on application to Mr. Enward Matthaud, Oxford and Cambridge Club, Pall Mall, S. W., who will furnish inquirum with particulars as to dates of meeting, and subjects of papers, and terms of Society for Psychical Research - A general accoing of the Society for Psychical Research was held on the evening of the 3sth, at the Rooms of the Secrety for British Artists, Buffelkstreet, Pall Mull, and was attended by over 300 members and ! friends, Professor Balfour Stowart, F R.S., the president of the Society, occupied the charg. In his opening remarks he briefly akotoned the rise and progress of the Society. He mentioned the main features of the work in who or any ser course one spoke of the amount of evidence placed before (to own members, a large portion of which had been published in the Proceedings He paid a high tribute to the value of the services which the late producent, Professor Sidgmest, had rendered to the Scotety, in a variety of ways. Mrs. Sidgwick read the conshading parties of her paper "On the Evidence, collected by A the Society, for Phantonas of the Dual." It is intended to s whale the paper in full in the forthcoming Part of the Pro ozodniga. At its concurant, discussion was invited in whi-Mr F W H. Myors, Mr Buider, Q.O., the president, and others took part. Ow ag to the lateness of the hour it was agreed to defer the second paper by Meson. E. I armey an a F W H Myorn, on "Some II and Aspects Means on

WALWORTH Association or Spiritualism (Lamba School room, 43, Minner-place, Welworth) .- On Sunday ovening last Mr. Robson, of Pockham, was present, and his instructors Mr. Robion, of Pockhant, was present, and his instructors delivered through him an address on the instruction Land." The address was one of the analysis of a spare of the land of a spare of the land of a spare of the land of the control of the land of the control of the land of the Coverow. On Sum of Ann. Sits, the guides of Mr. E. W. Wallaces see a lost of second and second meetings. At the chees of the soul address in the forestoon the control changed, and "Lighthouse," after delivering an imprompto from a re-npm words promisenously suggested by the audience, gave a per connected deliversion of an elderly gentlement, a stronger, small turned out to be very true and successful. Bender the satisfit characteristics of this person being described to the Lightheart" was able to " some " his condition so as to inclicate; the influence upon the gentleman's past Life of certain occur-rences at, or about, certain times, to his satisfaction. It was i admitted that such experiences had been undergone and that such had been their effect upon his life. The charveyant description of a spirit frame followed, which was also interfac-

Socred Scriptures Their Nature and Use." Its deliverance was marked by exceptional rigour, and the treatment of the subject was full and complete.—On Monday overing, May 4th, As a lit of the conduct of a nuclear of the Hall to make arrange and track of the conduct of a nuclear of the Society and of sometic to arrange a sylician of a specta for the conduct of a great year of the Society and of sometic to arrange a sylician of a specta for the curve. The man of Tuesday even up teamer will not be interfered with -- Sr Maxon.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

the post. All requires reaching, it is not have through the post processing with as for a per masse of answered in the ensuing number of " Lines."

P. ATRINSON -- Proof shall be sent to you. ext x y fair ecx. Thanks, x x 1 10 - - - - - 5 with no desired

x M nxy We are prosen to make the amounterment

 $(1-\lambda)^{\frac{1}{2}} = 1$  , we cannot say  $(1-\lambda)^{\frac{1}{2}} > 1$  as seen, as copieds of early 1 S s - T - x - a this issue. Your continuant atom that!

I sie Pacts will partly supply what you want a past of the Pacts will partly supply what you want a past of the Pacts will partly supply what you want a past of the Pacts will partly reterior to past of the Pacts distribution.

YALSONE,—The reason you did not receive the plates is that you did not conform to the terms of the thrice or a connouncement. They can only be obtained now on payment.

to on W had seen by Monatorn a article. Thanks the ever we have a well-by the first in ever which the ever we had not been a week to be a few had no time to write to your local papers as you suggest, we fear there would be little cleaned of the latter being inserted. The posters would do good, no could, and would be effective Viging arrest these to the secretary of the Laurien Spirituation Villance, 10, Leaven-street, Straint, W.C.

Whaten, Id. Cravon street, Strand, W.C.

Teternality.—Your letter has been forwarded. Subjects anchors to be a few him to be because and and and entireless and he reads to be a few and to be a bound of less. for subdents at overy place of payenological rescarch. Bearing this in adad, we do not think you will flad united prominence given to any particular line of thought, and while we are Spiritualists, and write primarily for such, as a second one was the community of the second of the who are second on the second of the second of

for the state of t Psychological a state of all terms of the profit adde. I in the man of the book which forms the exceptions the rule is at all the more and the last transfer to the last transfer transfer to the last transfer t become the man and more than the second to be the second If personed, it is ant to get personal, and from the test we have secarily refused to allow personalities to creep the highest to allow by public necessity and or seems or and which therefore to the district notice of which are in the property of the pro and the Royal Family, and the alleged contradiction by the private secretary of the Queen the following cutting from the Pull Mail Grantic will, we think, thrown little light on the is harmon them for of the me words as the for the series of the series of 12 in a series on the following communication — In your restrict of histories day, the 25th met, you copied from the defende Eccatery January a letter, perperting to have been written by Sir Henry Potenthy, but Majordy's private accretary, asserting that it is not true that the mean bars of the Royal Family are believen in Mr. Egitaton's Suid value. Spiritualisms, and also a letter from the Hoa. Alexander Yorke, who was equerry to the late Duke Alexander Yorke, who was equerry to the late Poles of the state of the transformer linemak look look as a man of the late of the state of the late of so we have a gay bross and considerace.

These questions have nown mean accuracy. Authorize com-man maken in semi-copies of the sater to these concerned further we learn our he astally are of fight than the original statement witch do we have a larger I seembly a statement save at mighton. We have no septimation, on factions not need for his brane, to that the deman freenance, looks very like an eviation of the question. Our resource must have their over conclusions. draw their own conclusions.

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

May 2, 1005.7

The Conduct of Circles -- By M.A. (Octob.)

If you wish to see whether Spiritnaliam is really only jugglory and imposture, try it by personal experiment.

If you can got an introducion to some experienced Spiritualist. on whose good faith you can roly, sak him for advice , and, if he is bolding private circles, seek permission to altend one to see how to conduct scanoes, and what

There is, however, difficulty in obtaining access to private circles and, in any case, you must rely chiefly on experiences in your own family circle, or amongst your own friends, all strangers being axeluded. The bulk of Spiritualists have gamed conviction thus.

Form a circle of from four to circle persons, half, or at least two of per att a traver a terroterranent, and preferably of the female sex. the rest of a more ween early

Sit, positive and negative alternately, secure against disturb ance, in subjust light, and in comfortable and unconstrained positions, round an encovered table of convenient size. Place the patient of the hands flat upon its upper surface. The hands of each atter need not lough those of his neighbour, though the practice is

Do not concentrate attention too fixedly on the expected manfeetations. Engage in cheerful but not frivalous conversation Avoid dispute or argument. Scepticism has no deterrent effect, but a bitter spirit of opposition in a person of determined will may totally stop or decidedly impede manifestations. If conversation farm, music is a great belo, if it be agreeable to all, and not of a kind to britate the sensitive ear. Patience is openial, and it may be accoming to meet ten or twelve times, at short intervals, before anything occurs. If after such trial you still fall, form a fresh circle. Guess at the reason of your failure, eliminate the inharmenious alementa, and introduce others. An hour should be the Rmit of an ammores-ful states.

The first indications of success usually are a cold breeze passing ever the bands, with involuntary twitching of the hands and armof some of the sitters, and a sensation of throbbing in the table There and altered on a plant to rause doubt he to their reality, will usually develop with more or less rapidity.

If the fable moves, let your pressure he so gentle on its surface that you are such you are not asking its motions. After some time you will probably find that the movement will continue if your bands are held over, but not in contact with it. Do not, sowerer try this until the movement is named, and be in no hurry to get

When you think that the time has come, let some one take empanand of the circle and not an apolemunit. I speam of the unsoon Intelligence that an agreed code of signals is a social in Anask that a tilt may be given as the alphabet is alowly repeated at the neveral letters which form the word that the Intelligence wishes to spell. It is convenient to one a single tilt for No, three for You, and two to express doubt or encertainty.

When a satisfactory communication has been established, ask reason. To not rater into a very serious in rests a son to a spirit of the content of objects to the principles of above the put of the content of the spirit as the line of the spirit as the premature, and, according to my new and grounded convection that there is a life after too be not seen and one side. This, my declaration, is agreed grounded convection that there is a life after too by the state and seen and one side. This my declaration, is agreed pure and good afe before death is the seen and where preparation. Bullaction, Berlin, December 6th, 1877.

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

The following is a list of ominent persons who, after personal investigation, have satisfied themselves of the reality of some of the phenomena generally known as Psychical or Spiritualism

V E .- An asterick is prefixed to those who have exchanged belief for knowledge.

SCIENCE. -The Earl of Crawford and Balcarres, F.R.S., President R.A.S., W. Crookes, Fallow and hold Medallist of the Rayal Society; C. Varley, P.R.S. C.E., A. R. Wallace, the eminent Naturalist, W. F. Barrott, F. R.S. E. Professor of Physics on the I syal College of Science, Dublin ; Dr. Lockhart Robertson Dr J. Elliotson, F R.S., sometime President of the Royal Meda life to pera Section to London "Professor de Morgan, president of the Mathematical Society of London , "I'r Was, Gregory, F.R.S.R., sometime Professor of Chambery in Loc L niversity of Edinburgh; "Dr. Ashburner, "Mr. Rutter, "Dr. Rerbert Mayo, F R.S., &c. &c.

* 'rofessor F. Zöllast, of Leipzig, anthor of "Transcandental lyster," &c. | Professors G. T. Feelitter, Schelliner, as | 11 Pichts, of Lelpzig; Professor W E. Weber of Got mach Professor Hoffman, of Würdung Professor Perty, of her or Professors Wagner and Butlerof of Patersburg Professors Have and Mapes, of U.S.A. 5 Dr. Robert Prices, of Breslaw ; Mone Caustle Plantmerion, Astronomor &c., &c.

. ITERATURE -The Earl of Dunraveo . T. A. Trollope : Had ; Gerald Massey ; Captain R. Burton ; Professor 11 cor a name "cord byttm; "Lord Lym" A badaq Wilar Dr R. Chambers, FRS.R. "Lord Lytten : "Lord Lynn, W. M. Tongan "Various School "Goorge Thompson; "W how I 'my name that 'Yes a new manage How. Rules Novel, Bulling Carke Rhode Island, U.S.A. Da ne Lyman Processor W. Douton, Professor Alex Walne, Prolessor Haraco whom I have son beings I got pape went from a greand examples of the U.S. Carlos Aler of Ling controll and so mess was by "A law Carsons SA "For Salgest " amplify I dot "your, A do Caspano "Dacio sa Sa gent de Culdenniubbo, &c., & de Culdenniubbo, &c., & H. I. H. N. chouse. Dune of Lear neuberg "H S. H. Princo Emilo of Sayn Wittgenstein; Hon. Alexander Alexakof, Imperial Connector of Russia; the Hon. J t. O'Surayan, sometime Minister of U.S.A. at the Court of Lisbon; At laste meany mic ones from of more at There the late Emperors of "Russia and "France; Presidents "Thir . and "Lincoln, &c., &c.

18 IT CONJUR NO.

It is sometimes confidently subged that moditums are only elever conjuries, who samily deceive the elementum below in the quest accoun-less, then, about the conjurers themselves, some of the quest accoun-plished of whom have diclared that the "genericatations" are utterly the arevent section where forms mean time the interagence where to speel. It is conveniented to mee a mingle till for No, Lives for No, Lives

PHENOMENA

Mediums, who are the instruments of an external agency, of trickery or sleight of hand." have, more than once, been confronted with conjurers who deceive by shright of hand, and in the more manner that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly myest-galed the phenomena and failed to become conthread of their reastly, so no conjurer who has been confronted with the mine facts has been able to explain their accurrence by prestuligitation, Houdin, Jacobs, Rel. lashini, Hermann, Keltar, and others have already conferred their powerlessiess to produce under the same conditions

Testimony of Robert Houses.

The Marquis Endez de Mirville published during the lifetime of Housin two letters from the latter is Sterenger Mondes of Politicales, we me was not see depresoned a new leavistic exact garding to the month la Science, et les liminace du Monde, a sale de conquer confessos his mais sty to explain the phenomena he witnossed in the presence of Alexis, the slavyoyant. A sircusstantial account is given of M. d. Mrs hear so to How m for the purpose of engaging how in this investigation, of the latter a confidence in his own ab it, to detect the trick, and of what took place at the sounce, the conditions of which were entirely under Houden's control. This account on tends over twelve pages, and its accuracy is confirmed by Houdly in the first of the documents now translated ;-

"Although very for from accepting the oxlogies when M is good enought a nest which me is disknownly most ing that I ma not at all commutes to quantum, either favour if inaggratation of against 16, a call, serverality case not referently asdoclaring that the facts above reported are enterety curses and de to place complète exactitude), and that, the more I reflect square them. the more supposible I fluid it to root them among thom which factoring an analysis for one proofingwises.

* Romer Horsey

114th May, 1847

A fortagelt later, M. do Murville received another letter, in which the following, referring to another scenes,

"I have, therefore, returned from the senare as asterpaned as it is possible to bu, and personded that it is afterly consensed fait impossible que la hament en l'adresse passes jamese prendaire des effets and merceffents a and Mannet v. A. .

"(Signod), Ropear Houses

" May 10th, 1847 "

Testimony of Earry Kellar.

Harry Kellar, a distanguished professor of legerdomain, investigated the sinte-writing phenomena which occurred in the presence of Mr. Eguinton, at Calcutto, in January, 1882, editor of the Indian Daily News, in which he mid be glad of an apportunity of mathempating a secure with a view of giving as unconseed done in a t whether in my enpacity of a profusional prestdigitator I could , en natural explanation of offects add to be produced by sporttant aid.

I am inachted to the courtesy of Mr Eglinton, the questunlistic medium new in Calcutta, and of his host, Mr. J. Mougens, for affording me the opportunity I enved.

"It is needless to my I went as a sceptic, but I must own thus I have come away utterly unable to explain, by any natural means, the phenomena that I witnessed on Tuesday evening. 1 will give a mief description of what took place."

After describing several successful experiments, Mr. Keslar proceeds . -

"In respect to the above manufestations, I can only say that I do not expect my account of them to gain general eredence. Forty-eight hours before I should not have believed anyone who described such manifestations under similar cirquantament, I still remain a scoptic as regards Spiritualism, but , 1877

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL. I repeat my mability to explain or account for what name have wen an intelligent force that produced the writing on the slate, who it. If my senses are to be relied on, was so no way the result

> On the 30th of the same month Mr Kellar addressed another letter to the Inches Daily News, reporting some experiences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regard ing which he said - in conclusion, let me state that after a most stringent trial and strict scratiny of these wonderful experiences I cut strive at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trickery in any form, nor was there in the room any mechanism much pary by march could be produced the phenomena which had what poours without human intervention in the presence of takes place. The ordinary mode by which Maskelyne and other conjurers mutato levitation or the floating test could not passibly be done in the room in which we were amounted."

The Testimeny of Projector Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Licht, mehr " Mémoire addressé a MM. les membres de l'Academie des Lieht, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which received in Paris through the Brothers Davenport, said :-

Spite of the americans, more or less trustworthy, of the French are he a normal attention of the founth jouleumes of ignorant conjuncts, feel at went to also up the sale that I one say a to be attainery of the other A that has boots and or dole as we to have American measures as a so-totaly untrustworthy. If we would rightly judge of a thing we wast understand it, and neither the journalists nor the conjust the sense were to ment elementary are not open of the security to the proper phenomena. As a presto, dator of repute, new a top to begin mar at I sigh in that the medianistic facts the state of the fee of the same of absolutely free, and belonged to the San fear an apply of hings one's valent

Meson Rober and Robert Hope n, when attempting to in this perc and facts, hever presented to the public anything beyond an infantine and almost grotseque paredy of the said phenomena, and it would be only agnorant and obstructs persons who suited regard the questions seriously as set forth by those gentlessen. If (as I have every reason to hope) the psychical studios, to which I am applying myself at this time, succeed, I shall be able to establish clearly, and that by public demonstration, the immoned line of demorration which separates medanatetic phonomena from conjuring proper, and then equiroration will be no conger possible, and persons will have to yield to evisence a y through produtermination to dony hadrening the data of the learned chemist and natural philosopher, Mr W. Crookes, of London, I am now in a pusition to prove plainly, and by purely scientific methods, the ustures of a 'payelile force' in mountain, each also the makers that change or skill could ever practice effects in transferfa ("and a duality of the apirit "in apiritual manifestation." I matherine you done sir, to issuer this letter in your next number, if spreaable a you, Ac we

Testimony of Samuel Bellachini.

Samuel Bellachini, Court Conjurer at Borlin, made the following declaration in December, 18:7 -

"I hereby declare it to be a rush netion to give declairs pagment upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Slade, after only one sitting and and on the S5th of that month he addressed a letter to the | the observations so made. After I had, at the wish of several multiy esteemed gentleman of rank and position, and also for ' In your issue of the 13th January I stated that I should by own interest, tested the physical mediumship of Mr. Shale, as a series of attage by full daylight, as well as in the evening in his bedroom, I most, for the make of truth, hereby certify that the phenomenal occurrences with Mr. Slade have been thoroughly examined by me with the minutest observation, and inrestigation of his surroundings, including the table, and that I have not an the amplical degree found anything to be produced by means of prestidigitative manifestations, or by mechanical apparatus; and that any explanation of the experiments which trak place under the eirenmateness and conditions then obtaining by any reference to prestidigitation unitaritiely impossible. It must rest with such men of science as Crookes and Wallace, its London , Perty, in Berne , Butherof, in St. Peteraburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its resilty. I declare, moreover, the published opinione of laymen as to the ' How ' of this subject to be presenture, and, according to my view and experience, false and one sided. This, my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and witnesses.-(Signed) SAMUEL BELLACHDE, Borlin, December 6th,

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research. " Looks at an Light sparter " Williamen born when has there is lottly Paul

No. 227 - Vet. V

SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE-

The Society for Psychological Manual Republic and the Power of the Power of the Society for Psychological Manual Republic and the Society for Psyc Paychelined by M. Into the Forty Assert Age. In all the Forty Assert Age. In the Assert Age. In a second of the Assert Age. I have seen by Christian Little. Val. amin Khliona, y need understood that he can accept no responsibility as to to be of harvoter. It may be written in a language opinions expressed by Contributors and Correspondents, or whom a sefemation, or it may be matterned characters, Free and courteons discussion is unreled, but sensens are it was band, or the like. It is not necessary, appares tly, alone responsible for the articles to which their names are that any idea should be conveyed by the writing to the attached.

PSYCHOMETRY

By AM A ONES I

taslata Psychometry has received north less at a tion west a characteristics, that is, also assumes a state of than a deserves for less case at a sheet. Ame is a Proposition which some becomes one of abstraction. The fessor Denton's ' Sam of Things amount in warms he we mental concentration is, I take it, the precursor of a conducould a remarkable series of experiments with his wife. tion of passive abstraction which experience shows to be so drew marked attention to the broad subject of Psycho favourable a state for the production of the phenomena metry. Mrs. Denton's powers, it is true, were remark to fan iliar to the Spiritualist. She gets her results preferably in a high degree. The mere contact with some material alone and in accation; just as the automatic writing, I can object, a fragment chipped from the Great Pyramid or from conch, is most readily obtained under similar circumstances. the temples of Thebes or Karnae, an Indian rele a pres. The shape of the letters, the style of the handwriting, the of cloth, seemed to place her on rapport with the series and the next in the extract or letter, have little or and nurroundings from which these wants farments and making a water a reset. The are, though I am not also been reparated. She lived again through the same will see that a piece of plans paper, which was had occurred around them, and the records of her revelations spitably induced with the "atmosphere" of the person whose were, in cases that were verifiable, very often singularly character was to be delimented, would nesser equally well metriat were unique, and I believe I am right in saying successfully delineated by this lady that she always regarded them as purely natural, and that I have seen some score or more of these character the results obtained through them did not induce her to delineations. I tested the power myself, in the first loosely used, and I shrink from their rough-and-ready prominent produc position, who is quite unacquainted with application. It is so easy to use them as mere nicknames, this subject. Another was that of a man of marked that one desires to avoid anything but an exact application admiduality, a Spiritualist, but quite unknown to the of the terms, and certainly not to me either of them in medium personally, or by handwriting. The third was that such a connection as necessarily implying either praise or of a in v herself highly gifted with psychian powers. censure. But I be a sell do Mex. De tor no wrong a Tiles greens, sore entirely dustinilar-a Materialist, pure saying that her psychometric powers did not interfere with and a major a Spiritualist of ripe experience, a medium of her materialistic beliefs. She regarded what also did as the ___ highest development—could scarcely be conceived. The exercise of gifts that were natural, though perhaps highly nandwritings were totally dissimilar, and of well-defined ue vioped England. But there is another phase of what is a large of writing were merely numbered one, two, and three. carefully investigated, I allode to the degreeation of No. or to No. 3, and the promisent characteristics of character from handwriting. I do not mean class over each person were decidedly hit off If I might have been perperception, this is a gift by itself. The charvoyant mutted to cut out the generalities (which I can easily underbeing in an absormal condition, and sometimes need standatis difficult to avoid in the perpetual delineation of cotranced, will place a letter on the forehead or top of the character) and put down only the sharply-defined phrases bend, and so read its contents, or perhaps become on indicative of each character, I could have easily picked abnormal faculty may be developed to an extent which to at once strikingly true of the writer, and quite inapplicathe inexperienced investigator would seem incredible. No ble to the authors of the other writings sent by me, doubt among the vast number of communications sent to I was interested enough to recommend some friends to the Society for Psychica, Research there are many bearing

The special gift, however, to which I denie to direct tourn is of a different kind, or, at least, is exercised one - deferent conditions, and without any abnormal state of the Psychometrat. A scrap of writing, not necessarily The Editor of " I and necessary to be for the section as a use to the reader, is sent by post to the are of the Psychometrist. The method used probably varies with various delineators, but in one case that I have taken pants to look lute-that of a lady who does not authorise nie to publish her muno. Chough I am enabled to give an address which will flud her-the method is very simple. She placet her hand upon Among the subjects which invite not w from 5 a the paper and endeavours to concentrate her mind upon the Cortain it is that somes of writing, in an unknown language, So far as I know, Mrs. Deuton's powers as a Psycho- have formed the material from which character has been join the ranks of Spiritualists, or to abandon what I believe mixtanes, by sanding three scraps slipped from letters in my was always her standpoint of Materialum. The words are possession. One was that of an emment man, filling a individuality. The delineations were equally distinct, and We have no such gifted Psychometrist at hand a angularly happy. Of course I gave no name : the scrape and very important inquiry, which I should like to acc Yet, what was said of No. 1 was in no way applicable to repport with its writer and describe his sucroundings. This out half a dozen such specific statements in each, which were nake trial of this lidy's powers, and I have seen many of the results. The year mountly successful in hitting off a few salient points in the character; and sometimes they are enriously exact and true, when allowance has been made for the generalities which most of the dementions contain. I ady of whom I am writing offers material for at a ter vertigation. Obvious reasons prevent me Fole presisting her name, but I am permeted to say that a supplement a half-crown fee, to

218

3 155 C. R.

11. High-street, Smothwick,

Birmingham.

There must be others whe possess, or who could develop a m far poyons. A y we don't in mentioning this parties. surlindy is to the a steep on to a diese of a digital that affords matter of a set at a a a man per secure 1 large had personal expert or of her sever-

SPIRITUALISM FORTY YEARS AGO

Among odd volumes that I have chanced upon its the desultory reading which alone suits a sick chamber, is one by Horace Smith (of "Rejected Addresses fame called "Mesanerman a Mystory." The book bears date and deals in a rather high-flown and rhapsodical fashion with the phenomena of memorism, eldevoyance, an the sporting a school of a some. A highly sensitive girl having undergone meaneric treatment at the hands of a Landon physician, Dr. Peterson, develops evidences of any year among my clathe death of her twin stators, and to we must of her own departure by an apporition of one who appounded have fine "The Universal Friend," whose touch was try cold, but whose voice, "so much more musical than munic," promised her relief from all human suffering and wos. Death, under this gume of the great benefactor, whose voice so near and sweet, yet compling from so far a matance, composed all differences and smoothed away all pains, claims her according to his promise, and we invo a million atagoy ilenth-seems a govern were not a curlous speculations as to the whole at all whener of the haman spirit, and its power of communion with the uncorn word. The part well as habit as ins end Surety and and is notoworthy on account of its author and the early went which it was published. Here is a specimen of the speculations which till the pages. " If there be truth in the melada theory we said, as her eye fell upon an astronoarea were a to land to bery be as perme . If these don't Ment. In himous alouds wandering through space are but so many guscomembryon waiting to be condensed into works, in it not possible that the beings destined to mulabit those words may have a shadowy and analogous pre-existence? The fitting glesms and perfumes, the beauties and the music of nature, and the lightness thoughts that dash nerous the brain, coming we know not whence and going we know not whether, may not these be the wandering elements of souls wait ag to be embedied! May these not be appari tions of the urborn antennal as well as just her your physicians amendaded as we are comes ed a spets Forty years ago, it would seem, people who had after a corner of the veil perplaced themselves with much the same questionings that yex us now

" M. A. (Oxox.)"

A moon depôt in connection with the "Dissemination or burning, Scheme" has now been opened at 10, Conven-street, Strand, where the literature of Speritualism and cognite subjects may

UNDER the title of "Historic and other Doubts, or the Nonexistence of Napoleon Proved," Mr. E. W. Alton has name a translation of M. J. B. Pérés' calebrated jeu d'aquit. The reprint is enriched by an introduction by Dr Carnets, the assistant keeper of printed books in the British Museum.

MEDIUMSHIP, ORTHODOXY, AND LAW

(From the Rerne Spirite.)

History informs us how orthodoxy has ever been ready to repress now ideas and knowledge. How blindly and stoledly it, for example, denounced magnetism. This spirit of orthodoxy is still strong, not only in the churches, no matter of what denomination, but in our scadenies and ett . w. ach her, and receive attention if addressed, he of science. Magnetism, or messaerism, has been capecially obnoxious to both elericals and sevents, indicating and invading, as it does, spirituality. But as magnetism begins now, after a century of orthodox obloquy and persecution, to be generally acknowledged, mediumship and Spuritualism come next to pass through

Here in France the editor of the Revue Spirite, for taking part in, and publishing an account of the fact of, the photographing of spirit-forms, was, through the twisting of a law, condemned to impresonment, and even this did not content some, for the wile of a President of the French Republic would have had him hernt as a heretic!

Orthodoxy is the maio everywhere, even in the Umited States, if we may sudge from reports in the journals that come to us. From some of these, just to hand, we select

"One might think that America had by this time marged from the harbarum of the dark ages. But it has not. In the State of Outario a citizen has been had up before a judge for witcheraft! It appears that William Merritt, known as a 'modium,' whose peculiar faculty I had great man for the some the age that a fought woods in the trace of the Canada Southern rarend, and his prediction was recified. A little later he medicted a similar accident to a pamenger train, which was also accurately verified both as to time and locality. And no he acquired a reputation, upon the atrength of which he was aredited with a knowledge, which he did not claim, of other malroad consistion, and it became common for the stops on the use to consult him before their journeys snort not satisfied with his prognostication, they would be found, and the service was of course embarrassed "The managers asked whether Merritt might not, with confederates, baye contrived the accidents. Their survayors reported them to have resulted from strictly amiguable and preventible course. They then got the notion into their beads that as Merritt knew that the accidents would toke place, he must, by some unlawful means, have been at the bottom of them monehow; and as he was a 'medium. what means could they be but those of witchcraft! On this charge, therefore, they had max up before a judge, who romptly looked up the old laws relating thereto, and found dating from the time of one of the Georges, declared its applicability to the case, and sentenced William Merritt, the medium, to three months imprisonment if he did not at once clear out of the district.

make pretexts to svade their duty, then substitutes had to

This is, in reality, because William Merritt happens to be endowed with one of those care faculties now being studied by Societies for Paychical Research, the idea of whose existence has not yet penetrated orthodox heads. But still we progress, for the time has been when such a sharge us this against an American citizen would have been followed, not by imprisoning or lanuthing, but by lynching

THE Figure of Paris mys that the dramatist, Victories Sanloy, entrot of himself anker the least skotch, but that, under spiritual influence, he has executed masterpasses. Upon cupper plate he stehed a most complicated design, under "The House of Motart" was inscribed. The work is a proce of delicate and finished art which could not have been executed in less than a mouth by a professed cograrer.

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL"

May 9, 1883.]

By J. G. KEELENAN.

(Continued from page 313.)

From these facts, it would appear that the substance can in some incomprehensible manner, and by various processes, be made to essume the solid, and, conversely, the fluidic condition. Instantaneous reproduction of "spirit" drapery has been observed in cases when a " focus. after dematerialising, by what we will call the "sinking process," reappears, by succession, on the very spot whence, some moments before, it had vanished. In this by no means rare phonomenon, "form " and drapery are seen to return in exactly the same conditions, the garments arranged just as when first noticed. As there is no visible depository from whence the material may have been retaken. and as it is certain that there is no resurrection from out of the floor, the only acceptable theory to account for the mystery would be that the substance, or rather the " power," which served as a velocie to obtain the solidifica. tion, and which had been derived from or through the perlate, is, ristrac of song cast off or returned kert p suspension, i.e., is temporarily stored in the at repair between the med am and the invaded baper arrive at that conclusion in consequence of having, im two occasions, observed a cloudy, slightly-lummous stream to war in a downward currenture, from the "spirit" towards. to medium. I was so seated as to have the slowly decreasure form "a little in front and on my left, with the mer sum on my right-hand side. After the "form" had gone, this cloudy stream manned vasible—as a nums of smoke gently undulatmy over the carnot-for at least four seconds. On the "form" respieses in A could not further we not ced on account of the vivia, bulk of the unonons slate which the " murit " med for the exhibition of the phenomenon. I will give a more detailed account of these occurrences in the description

As regards the convertibility of the substance, or the possibility of the alteration of texture or shape of " spirit " drapery, my personal experience is acarcely sufficient oillier to support speculations accounting for the facts, or to come borate the evidence of other investigators. The wonderful manifestations of "spirits" repairing holes out out of their garments by simple manipulation, and of which many instances have been recorded, are more the less exceptions. observed, as yet, by but a comparative few. On the other hand, I have seen a materialised "form" drop some drapery (about a square foot) from his arm over a large laminous date, and increase the quantity by merely holding it inside and moving it slowly with the hand. Each time it was taken up, and shaken out again, the quantity had mercased considerably, and soon there was drapery enough on the luminous slate and the table, to clothe a small "spiritform"; there being then at least eight square feet of a very thus, frothy substance, which, when placed over the slate and carried over our boads, resembled a "spirit" floating through spaces. I believe this process, of increasing the sulmiance from an already solidified speet of despery, is resorted to in such cases when two "forms" appear together As far as my observation goes, the two " forms" differ nearly ways in size, and invariably the drapery covering the Smaller of the two is much more ethereal than that of the

But the simultaneous apparition of two "forms" is also a rare occurrence which, besides, requires further observation and especial's careful examination of the respective ap-

paritions. If, after repeated observation of this phono-ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY . Menon, the draptry is found invariably to differ in a sum or degree, we may, in default of direct experiment, assume the production of the thinner out of the thicker, or first-formed, quantity. Still, from what I have personally witnessed on many occasions, and with different measures, I am anclined to the belief that a subsquent abstraction of dispery already formed, occurs more often than men stancts anable as readily to observe. I save often noticethat the drapery of certain "forms," and sometimes also loose pieces enrelessly slung over the arms or shoulders, were, on re-exhibition some seconds afterwards, found to have been altered from a course into a fine texture, the arrangement and the abape of the loose pieces remaining the same as on the first appearance > Personal observation induces me also to surmusa that concludes a "spirit" wil lend his drapery to others in order to faci date their exhibition. I arrived at that conclusion in the following way A materialised "form," the "leader" of a band, appeared in drapery of thick texture, and same quently, five more oforms, ewhether all have named transformations I cannot tell, but they alterfered indivious as a followed, each in thick drapery, to all appearance of tor - ry some smooth paragraph in least of sample word. The days in or the first form the same is man who was not at the previous stance—exhibited houself in this drapery, and three more "forms" followed in a similar-looking garment "Burits" acknowledge the fact and further state they always asnet the "apprentices" when they can, either by supplying them with the material or the power. At times, they say, less honest beginners often try to appropriate these necessarios without even so much as asking leave.

I must now refer to another circumstance in which dropery plays a cortain part, and which involves a not altogether annaportant question, still unanswered because it has, perhaps, never been raised. It was only recently while pondering over this perplexing drapery proa or test I hit accelerably upon the subject. It is time. Wim, becomes of the "antural" spiritual garments of sin to who habitaally manifest at acance-rooms! The would avelve a second question, vis., What becomes of the same garments that were cases the property of the lower order of sperits haunting houses, infesting and obsessing human beings! Now, here we are, for information, etirely at the mercy of the manifesting "spirits," since direct experiment is, especially with regard to the latter class, hardly possible or advisable. The spritual garments, I am told, are usually diffused,-not destroyed, but returned to the elements. Semetimes they are preserved and made use of during subsequent materialisations, in which case they appear as in earth-life. At other times they are likewise preserved and sundgranuted with the sennor-room garments. Occasionally there are none, nor was there, in other cases, a direct necessity for any, because a particular kind of human ty, when passing away, actually " passes away," not in a cothingness, but into sometaling very analogous to it, viz a ioi _ continued state of lethargy, i.e., of spirituacome. In such cases, said my spirit informant, the spiritual garments wear out and gradually vanish because the spirit life principle required to maintain it is mert.

As regards the obsessing spirits' natural garb, no in formation could be given, but I was advised to " wait unit-I met a 'regular' one, and try and get the required evidence first-hand." However, pending this suggested mode of ascertamment, my spiritual teacher volunteered to formali me with his personal opinion of the case and surmised "diffusion" on the ground that obsessing spirits, being tenants on long lesse, are in no absolute want of any carly the less so since they consider their victim's property, like his body as he ongo g to and being actually a rowr self.

A though the leachings of seauce room "spirits eannor arways be maj meetly remeasupon, since they are out too often

&quot;A few sets of these chromo drawings will remain, and may be obtained of the Unimper of the Thydishpora, Peas, 6 Are Maris lane E. price A 6a. the me, parted on rules for this transmission by parcel pool. ACA Aber 9

LIGHT.

MATERIALISM RATIONALLY VIEWED.

m direct conflict with other statements, by the same or by other "spirits," there is still a certain amount of reasonableness in some of them. Besides, I have frequently noticed that their assertions are in perfect. Materialists assume that there is nothing in the surverse harmony with results obtained independently, and of but matter, that there is no intelligence outside of insterial which also the medium was ignorant. For this reason I organizations, that there is no intelligence in norganic domain of inquery, and which may be within their masses, round these masses into worlds, and evolve from expense on intricate scientific nature, the information given by ladatual through countless oges! Such powers transcend those senuo-roun, "apprita" should mover be accepted with attributed by any devotees to any decrees. No wonder on came, there are yet same very important subjects that students should sak "Whence is this wondrous to reference to their personal experience upon which they matter with its manifold powers and tendencies 1" An may be safely interrogated. If, as often happens, their atom of matter has never been seen by man, nor has be State agains to to a call agraphy there are well as been able to produce an instrument for revealing one to his somewhat meaniprehass and so a set was a senses. Herbert Spencer says, " Matter is known to us novelty of the communication, we should not the viconclude that their information is he as not stoor force? Dr. Attfield mys, " Chemical force, like every other and that they have no truth to tell at all. Header, the force, is only known by its effects." Professor Robert value of these statements can only be estimated by those flunt mays, "We have teaceely arrived at any satisfactory who, from acquired knowledge of the oracle was knowledge of the powers which regulate the interest conand of these phenomena, have been duly pre dition of matter." Then matter is americal to be "known pared to interchange likes with these beings from only by its resistance." What becomes of it, then, when the outer world. Speritualists who have likewise reastance is abstracted? Spencer says, "Matter in its studied memorism and its various brunches, who are patential exchanges absolutely incomprehensible nequalated with the astonoding discoveries obtained by psychometry and many other equally surprising realities in .... reaed its properties are under investigation, that it is psychology, must be aware of the fact that, not unfrequently, assertious made by "spirats" have precisied that actual discovery of tunny an Important truth, and that often a direct accounted experiment has demonstrated the correcnew of a previously-received "spirit" communication. The r formation as to the existence of a spiritual countries or had not a smerken, that there is no intelligence in inorganic In the same unamer, been continued by "age or not arrange and thousands of verideal phontons that he from tone to time been witnessed and recorded. As to to the flows. In either case at in evident that the universe was " contact " necessary for the production of that counterpart," its offlerency has been demonstrated by psychometric experiments

Further, the superhance powers possure as onlyw which these "spirits" are ended to all a que to be form the spiritual counterpart -in sheet, their power over substance of, no uniter what degree of, solidity, is a fact which every human bong gifted with ordinary source, may witness for himself. If, to support my speculations, I have at times deemed at advantale to consult the "aparita" themselves, I did so, knowing from long-continued pyrestigation what their powers are, and what their experience is likely to be. Asking their opinions on subjects which they must know is no more mexpedient than consulting, in matters of everyday occurrence, the elector, lawyer, and even the policemen. I do not presume to have settled the problem of "spirit "despery for mee and for ever. Further discoveries, new revelations, or other still anknown phenomena may present thenselves that may entire ) upset, or cast a totally different light upon, hitherto accepted facts, when other conclusions must be arrived at. But if I have not attained my object of explaining what I consider to be facts, and, if my argument rests upon false premises, I hope I have, at seast, drawn the attention of co-investigators to a highly important subject argently demanding an explanation.

(To be consumed.)

Mr. J. G. Migrouxishus left England for a version the St. on He is expected back in Lendon in the early etiminer

Mas Richnorp It has been arranged, we are informed. that Mrs. Richmond will resume the sornes of discourses given by her last year in Kennington Town Hall (opposite Metropolitan and District Station, High-street) on Sunday ovenings, the 17th. 24th, 31st May, and the 7th, 14th June, at seven p.m.

(Extenst from the Spiritual Offering.)

think it only fair to hear their explanations and accept forms. They present to us an emerciacional amort agent their information concerning matters which lie outside our substance, having forces enabling is to a turn rised into eself forces of cohenon, attraction, gravitation, &c., and Although, in matters of higher sign ficance, or of a more laws, under which it governs itself in coaseless activities only through the manifestation of force." Then what is

> So easily are its Proteon forms lost night of while what a question with many thinkers whether there is any such , an anatter at all. But, admitting the correctness of the atomic theory, how, and from what source do atoms merica their proporties-their tendencies! Their moving, as they do, with any and precision, disproves the materialmatter. If atoms manifest tendencies, they either possess grace or are weekstas through which intelligence set formed, and us not governed, without Interspence-

CORRESPONDENCE

He approve that determines gut about append their spending and optimized optimized and lighter to the spending of the spending o these must be supplied to be E- our as a guarantee of good Tourth, 1

The Limitation of the Power of Spirits. Total b dor of " Livery "

Sig An correspondent A to W wight y mointerprets my statements with respect to "John King's" journey to tustralia, and, I presume, must either have furgotten, or manualerstand, what was said on the occusion

If I recollect aright, the facts alluded to are as follows:-Yout two years ago Mr. S. Defries, from Sydney, being then in London, attended a scener with Mr. Husk on a Wednesday years. During the evening, and quite unexpectedly, the unbut of a certain soug or hymn, known to Mr. Defrior, but anknown to any one present, was played upon the piane. Mr Defries at once recognised it as one of the principal hypers sung at the sinness hold at Sydney, and of which he was (or need to be) a member. As the music was composed by an amateur and Amstralian gentleman, its reproduction at a scance held in Landon nonewhat startled us, and, needless to add, caused a certain amount of surprise to Mr. Defrice. This gentlement, anxious to know the mouning of it, requested one of Mr. Hock's familiars to sapply him with none further particulum. All the while the muste on the peans was kept up with a salotes vig our or all ground seems on though the propose numeron masted in heme hear and recognised. Mr. Defries was now interpreta that one is lost to a se friends made member of a erce of Spir habits on Spiney has since Mr. Defrice suppurn in England, passed away, and was then present. Later in the evening, some further evidence was given by the Anstralian spirit speaking in the Scottish dialect and mentioning-subjects only known to Mr. Defrace himself, leaving no doubt. with him an Sydney where the circle entembled and stain the direct as soon after my arrival as possible. that it depended entirely upon the conditions offered lim by this medium at the other end , that at all events, he would try and get of several persons he had not there

May 6, 1983.]

The next day a scance, again with Mr. Hink, was held, thus an devoted. I am, sir, very faithfully yours, time at the rooms of the late C. A. S., My Defries being also papers. Of course the convenuescen turned upon the remarkable nocurrence of the previous day, and all wore in great expectancy as to the results of " John's " supposed errand. On the latter s arrival, we were told that he had succendutly accomplished the font: that the usual circle had been present, with the exception of Mr. Defrice' friend and also has friend a daughter, u had likewise gone over to the spirit world. A lotter, and sequently received by Mr. Defrice, continue in lews of the

Now and a Main Known pourary to the Vergories. To asrepeats in the lad become receives so he that to want there to too equally memphesble running it. tainly the execution on the piane of a particular hymn, and the additional reference to some particular circumstance in the direct reece, proved that a strange visitor acquainted with the particulars, but now gone error to the other world, latel come to as were certain intentions. If "John" recoved any further potermation at the law been from test apartit, and the feat would virtually romain the mine. But "A,G W ... as to overlook the fact that we proved one they make I . esalism at the other coil ( the same to a second c ...) tenne or stick are do not excel (* not in on tense of and Jones cream come the a performe the pine analog which Gordon was placed in Khartoum were totally

Would it have surprised your correspondent if he had been told that an "apparition" of Gordon his way in it was then are at the the option of a second of a second had been transmitted, telepathoodly, by florden, and that by mich means the fate of the lamented General might have been known to certain persons with whom he improved to be inty of estancial compensation. Similar occurrences are sufficiently had been received otherwise than by sparit communications.

Been ea, the transfersion of pit ha are sets on or Been es, the transformation of int he account of the second of the second another, even the transportation of the so-called 1 powers and another, even the transportation of the so-called 1 powers and distant séance room, by apirits, is (at least, it in believed to rest upon appriment) an established fact. To prove their actual voyage through space or through the carte, other actual voyage through space or through the carte, other actual voyage through space or through the carte, other actual voyage through space or through the carte, other actual voyage through space or through the carte, other actual voyage through space or through the carte, other actual voyage through space or through the cartespart of regard and appreciation or or made by Mesers no one ever new or forecast be actual at a sparitual. The most fact for structure of the provention of the second of the sec on one ever new or followed the networth lit of a squritual

The remaining portion of your correspondent's letter, I must leave to othern with more time than myself at their deposal to answer. In fact the very reply to say moophyte's objections has been given over and over again in the columns of your valuable paper. "A.G.W" may with advantage read the cun and ante communication of M.E. (pp. 208-0 of the last attenber). I can only advise him to follow " M.E. a" example, in restigate, and have patience. - I can yours, &c.,

Emma Hardinge Britten to Eur Friends in England. To the Editor of " Linux."

Six. Will you favour me by secting a your paper in following amounteem of namely the we propose to sail the Marie replied in a saitable manner, and the proceedings England per E arrive some time about the instance of the month

To the Sparst of an Sources of water of an necessible shattance of in his mind that his friend, a Soutchman by burth, was actually my home. Ma own I shot so have coder service as a lecturer, on the some terms as when I was in England Before the close of the scenes, Mr. Defrice saked "John before, Applications can be addressed to use at The Lanes. King" whether it would be possible for him to go to the home. Humpling-street, Cheatham Hill, Manchester, and I will reply confirmation of his friend's decease. "John s" roply was that it | 1 beg to sold that my roturn to England has been induced night be done became there happened to be a medium there, but we've was and months reasons, and my stay will be ment of by the same causes hence, I may not have the next of seems to fir may extend to period of time there handelf, further adding that he had been there lately and with my externed English follow workers. In Spiritualism, an many previous consistent. "John "also mentioned the names and contequently, I am desir a of doing the utmost I can, whilst able, to premote the progress of the cause to which I

FARA H. BRITTEN.

"Twist two Worlds To the Eddor of " Linux "

Sta,-I shall be abliged if you will kindly allow me space to resume intending subscribers to the above work that it is impentive they should forward their names to me on or before the 30th mat. Owing to the unique classictor of the work, it carnot be assed unless the 500 copies are ordered in advance, and should that number not be misser and at the time stated, I and justificted to say the work will be abandoned, and cheques returned on the lat of June. It was not estanded from the a at to make the book a source of profit, and it was fest that the many friends of Mr. Eglinton would have taken the whole of the edition, which I am happy to my they have done, with the exception of a lances immisor.

It should be understood that no more than 200 copies of the book will be printed, therefore intending subscribers should court to me without delay -1 am, six, your obsdient servant,

CHARLES MANNING. , Nottingham-place, W.

Camarr. We have just received a factor? voit from our much extremed friend Mr. J. J. Morae. On Summy and Moracy, 20th and 27th A rd. he del veces three orations at the Town Hall on the form one make it in the received the Town Hall on the form one make it in the receiver; —"Religion his blues and Outcome," "Since a missing the Supers, or, who are the Gase t" and "Spiritures Hall Achievements." The mootings were exceedingly well attended. on Theolog ovening, at a subject meeting of Spiritus nits, we were privileged to listen to the lofty and ph longitud Tiet, and the "Strolling Player," who in lastions his with as to make a subserve the most exalted teachings.—On Thursday evening, a some was hold at the Castle-street Assembly Resona, at which Mass presided most ably, in his must impry styl-Was a Compar, Mr C. Compar, and M. Allard, readings by numerous, and may be said to be established facts. Now, if by impresentations perception, which is a apritted faculty, certain approximations perception, which is a apritted faculty, certain percent happening at a distance out he communicated by ning percent happening at a distance out he communicated by ning percent happening at a distance out he communicated by ning percent between described as a communicated by ning intercourse between discontinuous intercourse between discontinuous and percentage of the communication of the the new state of the evening was a sale, by the avening was a sale, by the second was a sale, by the sale of the avening was a sale, by the sale of the avenue of new but the sale of the m are some an is a the society, for the jurpose of providing W. Mes on a some mark of hor esteem and of their regret.

> the presentation, and "It is matter for stream and heart felt regret that Mr Morse's state of health and the depletion of vilal energy from which he has suffered, caused largely by look of support and the arrong popular pregulico against the cause which it has falled to be lot to capous, have compired to render an hometime for a lot to capouse, have compared to reside the latter to a time to fresh field, fields and pastaron now, desirable. We cannot but be deeply supressed by the foreible and elequent master in which the claims of Spiritualism upon the serious attention of the public have been through his instrumentality, from time come, set forth, and we therefore feel deeply that with Mr. Moreo departure from these shores a powerful all care a hower of strength, and a trusty friend is going from our midst. It is, however, some consolation that his labours will still be expended in the same cause, and that other hearts in other parts of the world will theill and ribrate to the world will theill and ribrate to the world of whiduse and exalted spiritual teachings on ably and in

May 3, 1885,

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT" LONDON, E.C.

SUPSCRIPTION ICVERS

ADVERTISEMENT CRAR- 68.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Tight :

SATURDAY, MAY 9mm 88

WHAT AFTER ALL IS THE USE OF SPILITUALISM 1

In a pumphlot, published some years ago by S. C. Hall,

P.S.A., an answer is given to the question, but there answer deals almost untirely with what may be termed the ruligious view of the impury, and does not treat of various other portions of the surject on which men's marks are unsettled. There is a tendency on the part of many, by so means foolah or unreasoning, people, to accept without any erations, that which is at the time orthodox and established, whilst if any novelty is susmitted to them they at once assail at with every objection, sound or unsound. We will venture now to mik what in the use of another subject which occupies the time and thoughts of thousands, and on which many additions of pounds are spent amunity-viz., the tescheng of the Church. We, at remaining beings, are anxious to know the actual details relative to our future for We wish to know whether, when we die, we remain. as it were, dormant during endless ages, or whether we asonon become conscious of a second state of existence. We with to know whether there are but two localities a the future life -viz., that termed heaven and that termes he If there be only two such localities, there must be mubetween whom there is not one millionth part of a gran of difference, the one such into eternal tortuze, the other placed somewhere in the locality called Heaven. Agum, we ask what occupation have we in the se-called Heaven! Are we merely idlers singing promes perpetually, or have we any real work to do! Do we, in our second state of existence most, recognise, and associate with those we lessow and loved on earth, or are we so changed that our and viduality is entirely lost? Now without wishing to under value the work of our two Archbahapa, our many hahapa, and our hundreds of thousands of clergy, we have never yet beard from any one of these a single satisfactory or convincing answer to any one of these questions. Pollow ing the example of "A. G. W.," n "Lie nr" of May 2nd. we night ask, What is the use, then, of all these ecclesastics if they cannot answer these apportant meations?

When we receive information relative to the conditions provating up a distant and unknown country, we must accept on forth that which we cannot prove, but we may much the same style of proceeding as though we declined often flud means of proof if we are careful and cautions, to have any communication with the former When Mungo Parke announced that in Northern Africa he and som an unusual called a giraffe, with a neck seven feet has taught more than the whole Beach of Bishops have ever song, he became the laughing stock of sception and book taught, or over drawned of, and has given proof of a second naturalists. If we are told of certain conditions prevailing state of existence, and revealed some details of it. This is in the next world, we may laugh at these, but as much beyond the teaching of the Church as our present are untrue; nor is it a philosophical proceeding to assert that occurse we mugh at these, and do not believe them, therefore nothing is taught by Spiritudism. "A. G. W" asserts that two geometrical proofs given by Spiritualism are not of the most obeyinging type-that is, The America Subscription or 'Limit' peet free to any auditors to his a nd they are not convincing. But this may be due within the United Stanlour, or hydron continuous within the United Stanlour, or hydron continuous within the United Stanlour, and Europe are noted Stanlour, and Beston.

North America. * 10s. On per commit, forwarded to our office in unxound, or his mind is not capable of comprehending a unxound, or his mind is not capable of comprehending a geometrical proof. The proof in Euclid of two sides of a Five lines and under 5a. One med. As the Column, $2.2a. Page C1.

A radiction made for a series of the storage.

Fiber a Laure 4, Are Mark the b.C.
Cheques and Post Office Orders may be under payable to Henny BARNER, at the Chief Office, London. Hadrenry Postage Shapes teceived for amounts under 10a.

We have been told that the individual spirit We have been told that the individual spirit LIGHT " may also be outs need from to W. Villers, 4. We Maria case, of a man freet itself from the body in from a few minutes.

Louising and the Revenuellets. to a week after so-called death. If the spiritual auture has been quitivated whilst on earth, the testisation is rapid, if the reverse, it is slow. We have communicated with relations and friends, a few hours after their death, such proofs of identity being given as to place the fact of the actual spirits being present boyond a doubt. We have been told that the two localities, Heaven and sen, no not exist, that the torture spoken of as practised in the last named place is a libel on the Creator. That the so-called Kangdom of Reaven is within us, is the experience which spirits state they have gained. We have been told that there is occupation for every spirit in the next world, and that theness exists nowhere in the universe, that any knowledge or wisdom that we acquire here we carry with me and never lose. That we meet, recognise and speak with our friends in our next state of existence is asserted by every sperit with whom we have communicates.

A traveller aught state that he had seen fish that could fly, and his hearers, if squorant and prejudiced, would probably assert that they did not believe him, but it would not be a sound remark to make, that this traveller had told them nothing they did not know proviously. To obtain information relative to a person in a distant part of the world, it is asuady necessary, as far as our experience goes, to establish request between the impurer and the person inquired after. We are not aware that any person, immediately connected with Gordon, ever visited a medium, with a view to obtaining information regarding him, but we do know that a few days before he was killed he was, through a medium, reported alive and well, but in extreme danger, and, it was addes, would never leave Khartoum above

To treat of the secretime information given by means of Spiritualism would occupy many pages, and this information is not always espable of proof, any more than a traveners account of a distant country is capable of it The last question taked by "A. C. W. is one more cashy replied to. He mys: "Having nerved at a belief in the reality of spiritual manifestations, is it worth, while ruking one's health, and to meur loss of time considering a subject which can, as far as one can judge, hever bring sut sheet on " Our experience as regards the damage to ealth differs from that of "A. G. W" We have known people in indifferent health prescribed for, and cared, by spiritual means. The abase, not the was, of any subject brings ovil. To trust entirely to spiritual government, or influence, would be as weak a proceeding as to follow the advice of every person one meets, but having discovered that a means exists of communicating not only with those on earth, but with those who have left it, and then to refuse to have anything to do with the latter, appears to us

That we learn nothing from Spiritualism is an error. It thus proceeding does not prove that the statements day science is beyond that of the Durk Ages .- A.

PACSIMILES OF DIRECT SPIRIT WRITINGS PRODUCED WITHOUT KNOWN HUMAN INTERVENTION.

A,

(For description, see next page).

A faller description of some of these remarkable direct Spirit Writings, and the conditions under which they have been given, will be found in " Spiritualism at Home," published by E. W. ALLEY, 4, Ave Maria Lane, price 6d.

FACSIMILES OF DIRECT SPIRIT WRITINGS PRODUCED WITHOUT KNOWN HUMAN INTERVENTION

I advisedly say "without snown human interention" because very frequently, if not always, when direct spirit writings are done in the house, whether in the room where I am or not, I feel indescribable sensations either of confused headache or drawing pairs in the lower part of the back, which cease as soon as the Psychogram accompleted. The two specimens here given have been re-produced with much care by the aid of photography and the electric light. I would have given many other and distinctly different styles of writing but for the fact that one of my best has been already spoilt in the process ! Some day, I may try again for another purpose.

A .- This is a facement of direct spirit writing in pencil to which I referred in Light on the 28rd August, 1684. It was written upon the blank fly leaf of a printed erronlar, of which I had several copies in my study at the time, to use for waste or rough copy. At the back of the printed circular was also another direct spirit writing signed by E. M., who very frequently thus communicates with us. The writings referred to were handed out of the cabinet in which the medium was sitting in deep trance, by a spirit hand, with fire other writings at the same time. These others were of family interest and referred to passing events, with advice thereon. By a reference to Light, 1884, p. 248, it will be seen that Jules Theobald, the spirit signing this writing "A," also signed his name upon the woodwork of the cabinet on the same evening with ten other spirits. This writing on the wood was done during our stance, and we distinctly heard it being done.

At the same scance we were told that the writing (A was a copy of the Lord's Prayer as used in the 12th contucy! With this cine I visited the British Museum, and, after four days' search, was shown a copy of Camden s. Britannia," published in 1067, wherein a similar copy of the Prayer is found with this introduction:—" In the time of King Henry the Second, I finde this rime sent from Boses by Pope Adrian, an Englishman, to be taught to the people." Since finding this it has been published in Screps, together with any other specimens of the Lord's Prayer at various dates, but the one recorded by Canden is as follows:—

Ure fadyr in heaven rich
Thy name be halved ever high
Thou bring us thy micholl bliss
Als hit in heaven y - doo,
Ever in yearth beens it also
That holy broad that histera ay,
Thou send it one this like day
Forgive one all that we have don,
As we forgive uch other mon
No let our fail into no founding,
As ahold one fro the fowle thing.

d max

I approhend the spirit wrate from memory, hence the dozen differences indicated by italies between the production A and that recorded by Caradan in 1657.

The phenomenon to be accounted for by the nonappritualist is the appearance of a writing with which no one present was acquainted upon recognised paper in the house; a house, moreover, in which no copy snisted.

B.—This is a facsimile of one of my spirit-daughter's latters (of which we have had a large number—frequently a dozen during the week—relating mostly to family matters transpiring at the time). This is by no means one of the smallest epecimens of her writing, for I have failed to get one of these transferred to an electro plate. This is chosen because it is clear to read and was written at Haslemers in relation to events passing at the time, upon marked paper we had with as there. The medium was also with us, but I need scarcely add that for such writing to be done by her would be an impossibility; and it would be very difficult for any one clear to preserve this character of writing through a hundred specimens written within three months, and to attend to daily avocations at the same time. The message B is an follows:—

My DEADON PA AND MARKA,

I know you are waiting and wanting to hear from me, but you know aren when I do not write yet still I am with you and can help you just the same.

Dear ones, I know how hard it is for you to bear the unkindness of the world, the enecre and justs at your expense, but you know if you would do as your Father in heaven wante of you, you must also take up your cross and fight the good fight of fath, and bear your cross manfully and bravely. And again we say unto you, he not decoraged at small failures, as others before you have had worse ones to bear. You will not make the world believe at once in us and in our powers. That will have to be left for time to do, as only time and faith, with prayer and trust in Christ your Sevieur will do that; so, dear once, go on in your good work, and things that seem in darkness now shall be made plain as daylight to you all.

Your loving spirit child, Louis.

62, GRANVILLE PARE, LEWISHAM, S.E

MORELL THEOBALD.

LONDON SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE.

Members of Council.

W. STAINTON MOSES, M.A., Prepdent.

MAJOR-GENERAL DRAYSON.

JOHN 8. FARMER.

DESHOND G. PITZ-GERALD.

WILLIAM PAICE, N.A.

B. DAWSON ROGERS.

May 2, 1885.]

STANHOPE T SPEER, M.D.
ALARIC A. WATTS.
GEO. WYLD, M.D.
MORELL THEOBALD, Hon. Secretary.
H. WITHALL, Treasurer.

THIS Alliance has been formed for the purpose of uniting professed Spiritualists and inquirors who are not represented by any existing society for providing them with opportunities of social intercourse and for offering them from time to time information respecting the facts and philosophy of Spiritualism by means of papers and discussions. It is also intended to cremate, or rather to aid in circulating the hierarure of the subject and especially the journal of the Alliance—"Light"—in districts where such help a needed.

At present it is deemed wise to confine the efforts of the Society to eccial and discussion meetings. Booms have been taken at 16. Craven Street, Strand, where Spiritualists and their friends can read the special journals and newspapers of the movement, and use the library of works on Psychical and Occult Science. This reading-room they hope to make a central meeting-place for Spiritualists visiting London, as well as a centre of work for the benefit of the cause, and they invite gifts of books and periodicals from their friends.

The subscription of members is fixed at a uniform rate of one games per annum. No appeals for money will be made beyond this amount but the Council will gradly take charge of, and administer, any donations entrasted to them for the garpeae of aiding poor districts with grants of biterature, or copies of "Light" Indeed the usofunces of the Alanaca in this and other directions will integrity depend on the amount of money, putside of that according from subscriptions, which may be placed to the hands of the Council.

Information will be gladly afforded by the President, W Stainton Moses, M. A. 21 Birchington Road N.W., by Moses, Toxonale, Hon. Sec., 62, Granville Park, Blackheath, B.E.; or by any member of Council.

Subscriptions, which are dec in January, should be paid to the Hop. Treasurer, Haray Wignall, Gravel Lane. Southwark.

Notices of all meetings appear regularly in " Light."

Offices: 16, CRAVEN STREET, STRAND.

Light:

A WEEKLY JOURNAL OF PSYCHICAL, OCCULT, AND MYSTICAL RESEARCH.

" Lange | More Lange t'-Gothe.

"LIGHT" proclaims a belief in the existence and life of the spirit apart from, and independent of, the material organism, and in the reality and value of intelligent intercourse between spirits embedded and spirits discussion. This position it firmly and connectently maintains. Beyond this it has no creed, and its columns are open to the fullest and freest discussion—conducted in a spirit of houset, courteons, and reverent inquiry—its only aim being, in the words of its motto, "Light I more Light I"

Mesmerism, Trance, Clairvoyance, Thought-Reading, Apparitions, The Human "Double," Presence at a Distance, Haunted Houses, Communion with the Departed, Materialised Spirit Forms, The Spirit Rap, The Spirit Voice, Spirit Writing, Automatic Writing, Movement of Material Objects without Physical Contact, Theosophic and Mystic Doctrines, &c., &c.,

To the educated thinker who concerns himself with any of those subjects, or with other questions of an occult character, "LIGHT" affords a special vehicle of information and discussion; and as the Editor has the co-operation of able contributors, of acknowledged experience and authority, whose opinions are deserving of permanent record, he confidently believes that the Journal is worthy of the cordial support of the most intelligent students of Psychological facts and phenoment.

Price 2d.; or 10s. 10d. per annum, Post Free.

Orders for the paper and for Advertisaments to be addressed to the "Manager of Laour," all other communications to the "Editor of Laour," 4, Ase Maria Lane, E.C.

"LIGHT" is sold by all Booksellers. The Trade supplied by E. W. Astan, 4, Ave Maria Lone, E.C.

TO ADVERTISERS.—"LIGHT" has the support of nearly all the leading minds engaged in psychical research in this country and abroad. It is read by zero of the highest social, literary, and examine eminence, who are interested in this and kindred subjects. It is, therefore, an exceptionally good medium for Advertisaments.

					- 50	CALE	OF	CHARGE.
One Page	-		u 		- 4	0	O	One Inch Five Lines and under		 0	4 3
				1	Contrac	te med	c for :	resonted uncertains

LONDON SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE.

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

To Mr. M. THEOBALD, Hon. Secretary, 16, Craven Street, Strand.

I desire to have my name enrolled as a Member of The London Spiritualist Alliance.

Name

Address

Reference to a Member or other well-known Spiritualistof the state of th

"Light."

A JOURNAL OF PSYCHICAL, OCCULT, AND MYSTICAL RESEARCH.

Please fill up and forward the subjoined order. Cheques and Post Office Orders should be made payable to HENRY BARNES. Post free, IOs. IOd. per annum, paid in advance.

FORM OF ORDER.

cap weekly, Please enter my name on the Last of Subscribers to "Leant," and forward to me ...

Name

Address

Date

To the Editor of " Lagar," 4, Ave Maria Lane, London, E.C.

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK. XXXI

May 9, 1885.7

(We shall esteem it a farmer on the part of our readers of they will forward us, for use in thes column, any allumous to Spiriteauron and Psychical Research they may come across in the course of their reading. We see a great many of those ourselves, but it is obvious that there must be many references to the subject which do not Spiritualut medicines, like Delplus practes, for mixica about meet our even-ED, or Lt hr"

Ghosts are in mercasing demand. Ghost stories are found in norels, magazines, and newspapers. It was a sign of the times when a nowspaper like the Dady Telegraph published, day after day, ghost stories from all parts of the country. Mrs. Crowe a "Night Side of Nature" was an early indication of the Spiritmost movement. The supply indicates the dominad, the rising and increasing interest in what, is our ignorance of nature, we call the augymnatural

An American newspaper says 44 Not a day passes without some such spectral appearance, or some wonderful fact in this inner realist of life, being duly chronicled and aproading from one newspaper to another. This is not sectional but national . it knows no North, no South, no East, no West, but reachon from the recky count of the Atlantic to the Mexican thilf, the Golden Gate of the far Pacific, and to those dutant woods where rolls the Orogon,' Where one such medent found place in our newspapers twenty years ago, twenty. are welcomed to-day and have twenty-fold the number of readers they had then

America has been and still as in advance of us in practical or demonstrateve psychology, partly because its Press is more free, more outstanden, less constrained than ours. Journals of the first rank nabitually publish authoritic accounts if sport dalnumerical) no as they do any other may errof science of news. someon is America, and it a receivable for given he forbit ing Georgia, was a great sufferer from asthma, and to all appearances deal several terms before the final dissolution took place. On more than one occasion his family made preparations for his funeral, and a day or two before his actual double he told a remarkable atory of how he watnessed the arrangements * Uncode to be down, I proved ail my min in an easy chart My body uned several times. I thus in my spirit, would go away from it and, stone og in an opposite corner of the room, worth look back at the flesh and door of the chair and a quier is will wantever connect to pass no many years in abscorr may *Poor old body,' I thought, 'your troubles are many ever They will soon just you away under the ground, where you will he at rest for ever, I am my family gather about my old frame so it loaned hack, dead, in the chur, and it have me pain to are them weep. Then I would feel comothing pulling me towers my budy again. I could not result it, I was a wertest, and a moment I had taken possession of it. Then there was no material of pain, and I opened my eyes and breathed. Each time this was repeated I was more reluctant to return to my body."

Spiritualism is giving an new ideas respecting inspiration For good or evil, as we are suspenses to one or the other, we my or untinenced, and on some cases controlled by human spirite-The Christian Chronicle publishes a normon in which it is od initied that Shakespeare was as ruly majored as Moses of Barch. "Christianity does not bring into assecute any agadicful sentence found anywhere as Hearen or in ourth."

The Christans Herald, which gives such wide publicity to the tetracles of healing constantly taking place at the London and Laverpool "Bethalama," also gives its renders an account of the yet more obvious "meracle " of he from rong on Mr. Hask a arm. It says I well-known West End physician, who head the hand of the measure when operated upor a new the ring came spot has wrist] has thoroughly examined the ring microscopically, tanguetically, and chemically, and the most sceptical of wit nonce are missied that nothing abort of a mituele has been accomplished by spiritualistic agency. The vastors are said to have meloded some persons in political, military, and scientific

But the old thing is that the Christian Herold is not bothered at all by it. It frankly accepts the fact and accounts for at-thusly. ' The above is past one of many Satome produgies that may be expected in these latter lays as manufastavents of the evil agents going forth from the davil working initiales (Roy, xvi. 13, 14). Many Speritualists in the United States advocate the abelition of marriage, and the dectrine of Socialism. Some leading business men there constantly consult their business enterprises. Satanic miracles are generally foolish, ascless produces, exerting gaping wonder, but not really beneficent and useful like Christ a surfactor."

There, that settles the matter! Mon who wish to aboush matriage have from rings put on their write, which no one can take off, while their hands are held fast. The Socialists will soon be going about with iron rings around their nocks. "This modern onro to says the arr clo. has been avest gazed by a massber of scientific men, who have varied the wearer of the iron bracelet at his residence at Peckham Rye, where, on Good Friday, quite a levée was hetd "

But the "Satanic prodigies, the man featations of the avil spiron going fort from the devit do not have a all a thenor was an to the Rechelor greening, 10, Drayton park, Holloway rose Anglibary may Scenary, Wednesday, or Friday, 3 gain 6.30, and you will see. There it it is no at Ber nough at 11 Greno recorge s-square, Liverpool And why not more of

At Highbury, we read in the Christian Hereld, after much prayer, Mrs. Baxter spoke from Hebrows iv. 3, 4, and then called for tostimony I soom to have read somewhere that scopic were not heave for these noun speaking, and that per and a who worp curs, were structly changes not to est. Other mes of ner min ters. " At the definition they are exhorter for ell, and here is the tentimeny atone manner. Neuralgia of cychall, Thus the N or York Technical whose familier was a Spirocachet, twenty-one months, entirely cared Man given up by doctors, curved published some of the best to sorta ever give of Mr. Egint-may of two years chronic extercts, and toothache matantly removed by prayer. Moudos and authors ditto. Woman prayed the Lord curious statement: Dr Leland, who recently died in to ours a scalded arm, and by down. When she rose the scald was gone and the arm on completely healed that the west on with her scrubbing. Another autor and, " The Lord haded me of an imagestion of fifteen mouths' standing, after I was annuates in August last." And so on, of cases of long standing paralysis, arternal areas, diseased liver, ecc. ecc.

> The Christian World is just a little too credulous. It is not true test. the only thing that ever halfled Mr. Marketyne in to do turning." It is not true that " he has been able to reproduce every other phonomena of Spiritualism." He is not said that "the table was not twested up by his grandfather's spirit. And what is the sense of saying, as the great Exposer does, that he said his friends "produced movements of a heavy table, which we could not accomplish afterwards " f There seen a heavy centry public with a man scated on it, two arout a first from he there are remain for some nearth automated in squee, while the persons around stood and only tourber its top will their four 6 igers, but how can I too who "produced" such a phenomony?

> The surious thing is that religious newspapers should claim that their superacturalism had the Lord and ours of the devil, when it is evident that there must be like causes for sike effects. The power of the human will over pure and discuse has been abundantly shown for a century in measurism. That thus controlling and curative force can be combined and concentrated in healing circles is well known. No Spiritualist can find any difficulty in accepting all the facts of the Bethalans, because the facts of spiritual manufestations are more varied and more

> Then we have the usual nonsouse about "psychic or nerve force which neutralized the laws of gravitation." When a ponderous body rises from the floor from some invisable intangible influence, and answers questions by its movements, we have a force guided by intelligence and will, and that is a pretty good definition of personality. If the autolingence, controlling such force, says it is the sperit of my grandfather, how am I to prove that it lies? It becomes only a question of personal identity. Intelligent force claims to be my grandfather, the Christian Herald says it is an map of Setan.

Bord and Fork is no when than the rest of them. A correspondent admits that there may be trickery us some cases, but that most of the manifoliations are genuine and due to Satamo influence. Well can orthodoxy do better for itself than to investigate and prove the existence and power of Satan I O'and and Work is not sure that the progicions of Egypt were anything more than elever conjurers the Markesynes and Cooks of the period who were able to give a colours home of a of authoral the numerical nut failer in orders, who if which they had no warrong. It allows also that the appearance of Samuel "could not be due to dischedio agency". What then t be well to read up a little Crookes, Wallace, Zollner, for lustance, and attend a few elances with reputable and accepted Tyle to abserone '

n : a 1 might to expose Mr. Eglinton's mychography. A discussion followed, in which a gentleman present said: "They had e utan y seen as a mont of a Mr. Egintop's performance but of Mr. Gowland's ignorance." Let un my that I have known Mr. Egins at a water to years years a iden the same roof and I have been a careful observer. of nearly a hundred of his senices with a great variety of numbered about he had a line red evidences of the reality of an array and as a suggestion ordered, and mover the singletest indication of didionesty

Mr. James Hames on the coasion thereof the Mr.C. with £8 if he would represent a some of M 1 tor's studer the some conditions. As I have possibly more than once observed-mailer offers of from £50 to £1.000 by remainable gentlemen have been made for yours-with takers. The deverest conjuce in the world would no in detake to re some one fittig night different manifestations described by Mr. S. C. Hall, for any reward that could be

This remains me that a computer or Anne a ser some through any procedurery to be represented a new memory and the memory of the second second of the memory of the second second of the second se fix at any lime for near the more programme or some warm men exproses. The last but as post of the post of hinter of the Because of Light I was a surely we have a will your We am Davon sort the room at M. Eve and Dr. Ergoson the mir couple, as I will as I says man few at one up at the mi private Mr P and was and we charge of high charact r. our main the alteration is not a feeting in force or became he had at a but a more upon and there exists if a r I are I have the action of a separate or a separate or the late. L. O'Sull a Wallow House and and poster of the leading the sea of Erward. The time is coming while those democra in the incremet will have assure tone trem

The work goes brooky in . If his a sound can is path a circ they certainly advertise States was not caused bush med Chare proces from 8t better as Samuel to the expense toron we ex a long letter coordin that Spirit majorin will grow a wattube which is best his only overstante. 4 4 4 to design across had a code one use process but as a manage se-The works of an aist and preciseing conferes, but of pure Satan goes a some excessing manch at a ritual scances. As no Your correspondent, in making asset a means for getting because it has not as yet shown as a means for getting ency naked being a swine langed, a burnt above

WHAT IS SPIRITUALISM?

· By P W THURSTAN, M A.

Your correspondent, "A. G. W.," asks despostingly Can bono? I do not think he quite knows what Spiritualism means. Considering how often the process of investigation into Spiritualista is mistaken, by beginners, for Spiritualism steelf, it would be no use arguing on this Wit hereift was jumsies with dear other, as a was a country question unless the term be thoroughly defined. For one may go to a thousand seances, and fancy himself thereby to ban Spiritualist, and yet not be one, and, on the other hand, To the subject of Spiritualism," an a 17 at the sec go to but one senuce, and no more, and yet be a thorough may call attention at another time. Tomas our of it we Sparrounds: For a man does not become a Spartualist u . he has realised fully the continued presence and aid medium i Or is any investigation resoliess-and possibly a of spiritual beings around him. Before that, he is only an to - doe or a curiosity hunter Spectualism may be defined as a method psychic A Me Gorbard has made a curious exhabition to 1 report in beings have communicating with physical beings, and the technical modern use of the term as a method of so communicating by special outward means, viz., to their physical bodies, by enumng effects in their physical environments, or to their mental worlds by eausing effects on their or a s, instead of by the normal inverse manner of franches g their spirits and ormang impressions and inpurses to rise apparently apostaneously.

Now, taking this definition of Spiritualism, its advantogot may be divided into two entegories. First, to the physical beings conceened (i.e. ourse we seems to the psychic beings (i.e., the "spirits") It y to oker must see many advantages to physical beings by the "outward" method of inter-communication. Let me name some. (a) Because our inward aportion natures are at present not developed enough, or class have fallen off too much to receive inward "quickening." (a) Because this method is more potent with many persons of a material or montal, rather than an tuitive, temperament. (c) Because this class of persons are largely predominant at certain epochs like the present, and netually deny the existence of a spiritual nature. (4) Because realisation of the power and presence of spiritual trange by the negles at more last or any potent in its effects, as it comes from definite knowledge founder on the rock of facts. (e) Because the human mind at present as as sluggish to perceive the powers over stack and others which It can ocquire by an intercourse with spiritual beings, and requires fact after fact, like blow after blow, you its consciousness, before it can be aroused to a vital realization that such an intercourse does unist. (f) Decause when, by this means, this realisation is once established, the circumstances of autovial life are completely altered, our environments are consciously extended, bringing thereby new faculties of mind and adaptation, discussion in journals are wently. A Mr. A for a view ites the friendless become conscious of a thousand new friends, been expensing at a 1st of Mon. A Mr. Lockechy west west west the homeless of a thousand new homes, and so forth. the for of Apon Trace ordered that the garager is read to $(a) Because when new light and extension is brought before more of a low or or and the a marry one from a creta the consciousness, a great stimulus is given to self-improvehe plane on a histories. Rev W. F. Howen, a regression he ment and new means with it of self-culture. Witness the many poor and educated persons who have developed high where the reality frequency as concerns in the laber of literary, oratorical, or artistic powers by the impulse and impressions of their spirit surroundings, realised as personal human friends, capable of impiring their own ideas into So he awars houself of he spectantly to post house forms another mind. The advantages of the modern spiritualistic performances. Not rest a general assument of the whole staged means of intercommunication to the spirits themselves do not offeet us so much. But, surely, unless we wish to be Exercise with our appointment, or destroiced theory is the solids, we ought not to ignore the certainty that all spirits, hose is many to make the of common sense shows that whether high or line, must get happeness from this method tricks the cluster. But some or to faces. Sature is of aiding us in our days of childhood and weakness, and An sheet say. He is feed an araphary If . . of a sale change that some undeveloped sparits must at any rate welcome a possibility, by these new physical means, of learning from immeture apparatus, with all the potentialities of the new discovery something like the short-righted persons who saked the cas boso of electric lighting when it was first discovered. He has no right to condemn circles and mediums for their unproductiveness until he has tried the effect of specially-exected circles and specially-trained mediums specially sitting for special results, and until he has dis- And in this report the moon is the Influstrix, Isla the en covered all the possible means and aids of communication with sperits, such as the arrangement of positive and penative poles and magnetisms, the use of subdued music, flowers, coloured light, moonlight, posture, vestments, as acting on the minds of sitters, and on their spirits, and thence on their spirit-attraction. His second mustake is in forgetting that there may be directing intelligences in the Unseen who forbid the revealment to mortals of parishable. The former are the spirit and soul, and the material discoveries as anadvisable, insumuch as stwoodd tend latter the lower mand or some body, and the physical to men neglecting their own inventive faculties and ignoring their powers of sparitual intustion

Now us, and amending the faults of their old physical existence.

May 9, 1865.]

[ will only add, in conclusion, that a long and carnest historical research has sonvinced as that the outward means of communicating with the inner world are not a now discovery of Modern Speritonlism, but have always existed side by side with the inner method, and that is an seen some advantage to be derived thereby

THE HERMETIC SOCIETY

The subject of the president a paper at the opening meet of of the Society or he Table it was the Hermotic fragment out to A or Know on Virginia the World. This mond of the Hermetic writings which, in conjunction with Mr. Edward Maitland, Dr. Anna Kingsford is odding for publication, by subscription, by Mr. B. H. Frysr, of Hath. The Egyptism element, she remarked, in more apparent in this book then in any other of the Hermetic writings. It consists of a dialogue between Jass, the Egyptian golden, and her non, Heron are to theme in the creation of the world, the genuen and measuration of the note, its meterages chains and desi-That the "virgin" intended is the soul is shown to be fact that the whole of the book turns on the soul's history, From its first association with motter, its orderth, and its final deliverance. This last event is due to the intervention of two Divine personages, Ostris, the Seviour, and Isia, the The account of the soul's descent—called also ta "apeatacy" and "fall "-is in close agreement with Platonic and Kabbalutie doctrine, as also with the Greek and Christon. incurrantion being represented as the result of an act of freewill on the part of the soul, which, moved by Dosire.-- the Tanker of the Boddhuts-reluntarily quite its appointed limits in the Divine apheres, and so entails on itself the ponalty of an earthly axistence. Empolocies, and others of the Pythagoroun School, taught the same neering and Macrobius, in his communitary on he Dream of Script als wants the search ing souls on their way to cartily conducton passen, see Persephone through the various abodes of Heaven, miss receiving peach some special faculty

The very title of this palebrated fragment is a revolution of the identity substating between the arcient window religion and the creed of Cathelic Christendons. In both alike the soul-or featimine element, because the substance and " mother" of the man-iz spoken of se a woman, and declared to be, in her women, pure and immeralate, and therefore " ever-virgin." Rence her emblem in water, merie, nince water, however termingly contaminated, is really pure, and only appears foul through that which it holds in solution. Called, in her descent, Eve, and subordirested to the anundance part, Adam, she becourse by her restoration Mary, and "Mother of God" in man. The Greek presentation gives, under the corresponding allegory of the " Rape of Persephone," or Prescrime, all the datails of the soul's history, on perfect accordance with the Bible and the Kabbala. The Hindus have the mano doctrine, and that which they call Kurmet, namely, the character and dusting The doors will be open at eight. Admission, Sd., front sents, contracted in the course of existence, coincides with the Greek Gd. Tickets for the course front seats, is., back seats, 6d., Hecute, or retributive justice, and the Christian "original sin." to be had at the Hall, and at $1, Wells-street, Camberwell.

material knowledge rapidly, is making two common mistakes. Until the soul falls into matter, the has no "Fate" or First, he is confounding the immatere attempts with an "Karma." This is the result of time and manifestation. It is represented by the moon, who has two aspects, the benign and the malignant. Under the benign aspect this moon is Arteinia, reflecting to the seed the Divine light of Phushus under the malign, she is Heesta the Avenger, hunting suilty souls from birth to birth, and outwitting death itself. To the innocent and chaste soul the soul undefined by traffic with matter-the moon is favourable. Hence Artemia in the justion of "virgins. a mener accuse throng a sensheent Karnin, he soul receives The Prey allocation to the Cree of Good and Red Line Good and Coll. The Prey of Good and And Evil Line Go root to Molekuth, the moon.

While by Persephone was denoted the soul, by Dionyses was denoted the spirit. Hermetic destrine teaches a fourfold nature, both of the world and of man. Of this nature two elements are Divine and permanent, and two mortal and organizan. The spirit and soul, respectively male and famale, in a mystical source-remain throughout all the changes of scroupsychosta, the same-indiasoluble and incorrept; but the body and lower intellect are renowed in each re-birth, $T^{1} < spara = \pm 1$  converse of a super  $\pm 3$   $T^{1} = 6$  general, single the kee or Zens by the annaconace marden, Is the Periode at a h sa the ta mer d Dente er at he parent and super consideration make a time state testion of the late them and argument that the psychoc beings have, at any rate, always "Mother." But although thus of heavenly origin, Kare participates more closely than her sen in an earthly nature. Bence," mys Process, "according to the divines who delivered e us the most buly mysteries, Percephone abides on high in those dwellings of the Mother, which she propared for her in places inaccemble and exempt from the senable world. But she blowise dwells below with Pluto, administering terrestrial concerns and anapitying the to the extremities of the Kosmos. Wherefore, while in one aspect Kore, the soul, is colested and numeriate, the daughter of Zous and Demeter, in the other also belongs to the lower world, and in the enjoyee and consort of Hades.

The sund's redocmer and captain of salvation, Carris-the Jones of the Christian prosentation—is represented as in all things matruoted and director by Hermos, whose special function is it to modiate between the funer and outer, and emploes souls from the 'dark aboutes He is the gentur of the understanding. or Divine reason, the new of Platonia destrines and was regarded as the messenger or angul of the gods, descending and associaling to all extremes of being, because the understanding must sourch alike the dopths and the heights, and know all things Honce his investment with the fourfold paneply of the red, the wings, the sword, and the cap, to denote respectively the eciance of the Magian, the counge of the adventurer, the will of the here, and the discretion of the sclept. The Grooks typified the starry or astral sphere (of which we hear so much in relation to things occult) by Argos, and represented Hurmes on his slayer. By this they denoted the necessity of a trained understanding to enable ment to escape delinatons and the bonds of late, to which all are subject so long as they remain beneath the power of the stors. Hence the function of Hermes as the duliverer of the soul.

The reading of the paper was followed by a discussion The Society proofs every Wednesday at 4 p. m., until July let, at 23. Albemarks-street, W. Visitors will be admitted on presenting their cards.

TRANSPITON,-We have to record the passing on of Marie Frederica has mer, the wide of J . Bodiner, who is well known te many Lenters Spir undate. In My Enther's house and

Ms. W R. Pater, medical measurerist, will deliver a course of three lectures on the "Marvels of Mesmerism," on Tuesday evenings, May 13th, 19th, and 26th, at the New Bocnier Hall, New Church-road, Cumburwell. This chair will be taken by Mr. Ramble, at half-peat eight, prompt. Amusing and interesting experiments upon subjects chosen from the audience, will follow at the close of each lecture. Afterwards, persons suffering from headache, toothache, or any other poin, will be intmediately relieved under meancris treasment, free of charge

MR. MASKELYNES ADMISSIONS CONCERNING PSYCRICAL PHENOMENA.

C C M." writes in a record number of the Pall Mail Gazette as follows....... The public have been repeatedly told that Mr. If you wish to see whether Spiritualism is Maskelyno in able to exhibit, by his own ingenuity, all the manifestations associated with the torm Spiritualism, and invegenmently

If you can get an introducion to some experiment. behared that he, at least, professes this ability. They are likely to befor non-struck now by his personal experience of facts of this nature which he declares to be quite beyond the resources of his p than well as by his cartier adminision that he had 'never doubted' is not army of facts ucladed to the reject of the Dialoctical s. b genume, than by the instaty of his adventures as a profess and exposer of mediana. I am glad to have slicted a reputition, at first hand, of testimony which will be very surprising and unneceptable in some quarters. I only to sea that Mr. Markeryan's twenty yours' experience in in- of segative, pseudos temperament testing the marker has bad, by his corn account, to be, the rest of a more positive type interfy conducted by deputy Otherwise has been a first positive and segative as Partial Brigopolies, Turns respect, other dist againsted experts of his profess; a. as 1 . 104 be reclarent to and the little known fact that the colu

ANSWERS TO COLUEESPONDENTS.

As a St. Mark. -The announcements are made-

e. C. M.—Thanks for MSS, Will appear next week

I M. We will look up the matter a question and send it on in a t already 28th, which you so kindly sout to.

4144443 Elthor mano would a grammatically correct. With mea a new than those so most by medical referent There might, however, he danger from the law of false bre ences, or provide from the Vagrant Act. It would not be its specific to me, nich to use a single tilt for No, three for Yes, to see more use of the word. "psychical" for description and two to express doubt or uncertainty but a tile were was used me a mark for a prefession to heal by the ald of "spirits" and a jury tor magistrate, as the case sight but could be get to presente that tile was not really grows against Jds dayles.

A Draces U. I then Morsh of 28 Secreto Vents.

Now York relative cut may come here out you can be a secretary to the state of the state Post of a hole on the question as a more of a second with the citizens to make the constructed some elevating or he can be an a second of the construction of the cons

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS.

The Conduct of Circles.-By M.A. (Grand.)

If you wish to see whether Spiritualism is really only jumplery

If you can get an introduction to some experienced Spintualist, haptered in section each bear country stress one posts sometons to conduct ware and what o exist t

There is there is nothing and the man, accept to term a correlation in an other, we must be the on chief on chief persons in a chief own fan La Te a acom a sa an fin from a grant or he exercise. The a k of Sa and sa sa Sa and sa constant of the same of the sa horm a circle of from four to eight persons, half, or at least two of negative, passive temperament, and preferably of the female sex, y dopatty Otherwise h w T Sit, positive and negative alternately, necure against disturb-sfored explanations, which I can affirm ance, in subdeed light, and in constructed and unconstrained sonitively to be entirely erronems, of such photometra as Slanes and Eglinton's alate writing. But it is enough for the positions, round an ancovered table of convenient size. Inco he palms of the hands flat upon its upper surface. The hands of each present that he has added his testimony to some facts of the gravest scientific importance, which have been systematically denied and decided. Mr Minskelyna is not singular in the sitter need not touch those of his neighbour, though the practice is test wildy prighted.

Do not concentrate attention (on fixedly on the expected many chire, if Revies, and Jacobs, of Paris, having given sunder festations. Lugage in cheerful but not frivolum conversation evidence—the former, by-the bye, to Sindou slate writing. It Avoid dispute or argument. Secreticism has no determine effect, but a hitter spirit of opposition in a person of determined will may to the existence of the interface of charge parameters of all the existence of the interface of the fact of the existence o must be necessary to need on or we as most at non-unterstate, before an line or . I after age to the your at the terms at the reason of your a up or upon a tind recurrences where it is the survey of several beautiful to the result of the several s

The it medications of success monthly are a cold breeze passing over the manner, with involuntary twitching of the leasts and arms W. M. a. v. p. Too late. Buch reports must reach us by Tues- of some of the sitters, and a sense me of terminal me the phase have assuming at attent.

By the place of th

he diplies as it I.

Ave. Name.—Therefore the displicate numbers of "Akille,"

Italy yet are easy you are not alding the medium. After some time. you will probably find that the movement will continue if your W J H XI washindd he very happy to comply a him a will probably find that the movement will continue if your with worse our distinguished so stooded. As a bia will be had not beld over, but not in contact with it. Do not, however, we have to contact with it. Do not however, but not in contact with it.

When you think that the time are come let some one take to our other liquidity, there is no law to percent any command of the circle and age as spokesman. I appear to the arm one out failedy professing to have a notices degree or diplomatic and the circle and age as spokesman. I appear to the arm one out failedy professing to have a notice of specific and age as spokesman. ask that a to make a consecute a major to object a pear that the several fetters which owns the wind the the no more winders

When a subfactory communication has been established, ask If you are rightly placed, and if not, what order you should take, thereties ask who the latellinenes purports to be, which of the believed in ity face a son in some it to me to be an included in the face of the control of the you. If you only satisfy yourself at first that it is possible to a mak in I an Intelligence se satate from that of any person pro-

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

May 9, 1885.]

The following is a list of equinout persons who, after personal payestication, have estimied themselves of the reality of some of the phenomona generally known as Psychical or Spiritualistic.

N.B.-An asterisk is prefixed to those who have exchanged belief for knowledge.

SCHENCE. The Earl of Crawford and Balcarres, F.R.S., Pressured I, VN W Crookes, Fellow and Gold Medellist of the and Source C. Varley, F.R.S., C ? A. R. Wallace, the coulon NA and W. F. Barrett, F.R.S.E., Professor of Physics. ah at an a votege o Science Dustin; Dr. Lockhart Robertson the a firmon F.R.S. manie and President of the area. A. of ear and turn has Societ of a princes. Underson the X organ Wis. Gregory, F.R.S.E., nomet me Protessor of Chemotry in the

Hordit; "Serjeant Cox; "Mrs. Browning, Hot. Roden Not., resitty of the acts ablailed to "

(act, &c.

(bishop Clarks, Bhodo Island, If S.A.; Darlon Lyman, If S.A.; Professor W Dectors; Professor Alex, Wildor; Professor Roman I Professor Roman I Victor Bugs; Baron I was an anti-phonomena to the use of the U.S. Courte; Victor Bugs; Baron I was not on a step per unit as much as such as an arrange of the U.S. Courte; Victor Bugs; Baron I was not on the first in the anti-phonomena to the plant dark with a first and the decident and Baronium van Vay; "W Lieyd Garrison, U.S.A., "I so the first in the second to a first in the anti-phonomena of the plant dark with the decident and the first in the second to plant dark with the decident with the second to be plant dark with the decident with the second to be plant dark with the decident with the second to the power of instantial residence of the power of the power of instantial residence of the power of the p

11 S. H. Driese Emile at Saya, Wittgenstein; Hon. Alexander Alcoalcel, Imperial Counciller of Russia; the Counters of Catthenn and Ducheme do Pemar; the Han, J. L. O'Sullivan, securiture Unister of U.S.A. at the Court of 1 and Y. Facre Co. Sano. late Consul General of France 44 Triests; the late Emperors of "Russia and "France : Presidents "Thiers and "Lincoln, &c., &c.

WHAT IS SAID OF PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA

J. H. P. SCER, THE E PARCE PROCESSION AND ALTHOR. Note belonding my age by and my richipf so from the contract of action of the bear resumming to the great fact of Neutralization. No some should acept sides.

Participated of Masses I have easily on the Mathematical Sun is a transfer which start on the Mathematical Sun is a transfer which start of high and in a maintent which start to high an interpretation of the start of the start

The to take their rise. "There has many years know that these phenomena approach a distinguished from me states in a section of year may that I concluded they were easies and to explain much has been doubtful in the past, and, when it is never to the amount of his minds frame of human strains in many important matters, Extract from a Letter to A. Rasso Walter.

PROTESTED HARE, ENGINEERS PROFESSION OF CHRISTER IN THE UNIVERSELY OF PERSELVENCE. —"For from admitting my confidence in the interests on precing the agencies of the apprica of decimed merials, to the manifestations of which I have given an abound a my work, I have, within the last place months (the way written in 1858), had more strilling swidgeson of that agency than these given in the work in tarretion.

the expansed Charters, The Late Turnish at Philosophy of Astronom of Court term. I have been unable to result the arguments of technology is such facta, which has come from today independent enteres and room a real patients of technology in the fact in the fact in up hat one in a section and consistences, that where it facts court to pointed to be only as any reported or the post of a court of post of a court of any or employ on actively human feelinging must be given by the Courter of Journal June 662.

clouding alone of suppliers I see a rain-cloud, if it be no bigger than a man's hard, it is modern Sperimalum."—Profess of Lord Broughton to "The Book of Nature"—By C. O. Groom Napire, F.O.S.

The largest Learner By C. O. Groom Nagier, F.O.S.

The largest Learner to the first of the office report. I That sounds of a sprey varie is between the same in secting from articles. Furnivorsalise they are in the count of the satura in an earthquety in, while solunds are officed by intercurat action in the change of the same without the count without being reclaimed by intercurat action in the change of the country of the

Win. Gregory, F.E.S.E., concer are Produced at the north of the north

I was a largery Professor V. E. Weber, of Gottingen
I was a largery Professor V. E. Weber, of Gottingen
I was a largery Professor V. E. Weber, of Gottingen
I was a largery Professor V. E. Weber, of Borne, Professor Nagher and Bullevil, of Petersburg; Professor Hure and Mappe, of U.B.A., Dr. Robert Friese, of Breslau; Ross, Limids Planspoaries, Astronomer, &c., &c.

**Trepropries.** The Earl of Denraves; T. A. Trollope;

**Trollope;

**Trollope

A sum the second of the meaning the sum of the second of t

NAMES WILLIAM SECRET STORY AND THE CAN CHOOSE THAT PROPOSED INTO SPACE AND DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPOSED AND Whether we can't by the name of meaning or by any other name the science which two twee to do product sequence and roan a wait number of witnesses. It is not be a fast or a part of the control of the contr

PHENOMENA

Mediums, who are the instruments of an external agency, of trickery or aloight of hand." have, more than once, been confronted with commers who deceive by sleight of hand, and in the same we were that no man of science who has thoroughly and fairly pavestigated the phenomena has failed to become cons need of their reality, so no conjucer who has been confronted with the same facts has been able to explain their occurrence by prestuligitation. Hamilin, Jacobs, Bel. at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trickery their powertesmess to produce under the same could have what occurs without human intervention in the presence of taken duce. The ordinary mode by which Maskelyne and other n totalin a.

Testimony of Robert Houdin.

The Maraum Endea do M criffo published during the bifetime of Houden two letters from the latter, in his Me nours adureuse a MM fee mombres de l'Academio des Licht, April 10th, 1881, in reference to phenomena which Superiors Mornies et Politiques, sur un grand nombre de physique per mervilleux i presso, en niment la red gues. on feetes his manifity to explain the phenomena howitnessed by the presence of Alexa, the classes and Alexanmantial account is greaf to de Mexilia visite flow in for the purpose of original g him to this west gestion of the tends over twelve pages, and is a cura a certain a Hondin in the first of the documents now transacred

Although very for from accepting the outries which M is good enough to bester upon to the special, or sideclaring that the facts above reported are entirely entreed (and de la plus complète exactitude), and that, the more I reflect upon them, the more supervible I find it to roul them moving those which belong to my act and profession,

* ROBERT HOTOIS.

14th May, 1845

retter, in which the following ofer my owner some desertion -

" I have, therefore, returned from this adapte as asternalied effety ones me a then y water Morener Ac.

" A great Rosper Houses

" May 10th, 1847 "

Testimony of Warry Zellar.

Harry Kellur, a distinguished professor of legerdemain, Investigated the slate-writing phenomena which occurred in the presence of Mr Eglinton, at Calcutta, in January, 188. and or the "oth of that with he are cover a letter to the exitor of the Indian Dady Keen, in which he said ;-

to your more of the 15th January I stated that I should be glad of an opportunity of participating in a seemes with a view of giving an unbrassed spuriou as to whether, in my repacity of a professional prestuligitator, I could give a natural explaination of offects and to be produced by approximation

I am undergot to the courtery of M. Egentson the apritanionic ager on now in Cascutta, and of his host, Mr. J. Mengens, or afforming me the opportunity I craves.

that I have come away afterly madde to expense by any mangel means, the honometa has I it theses in Tuesday evening will give a brief description of what took place."

After describing several accreasful experiments, Mr.

that I do not expect my account of them to gain general anyone who described such manufestations under marker circurustaneos. I stall remaja a scoptic as regards Spiritualism, but .877

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL. I repeat my inability to explain or account for what must have been an intelligent force that produced the writing on the slate, which, if my senses are to be relied on, was in no way the result

> On the 30th of the same month Mr. Kellar addressed another latter to the Indian Daily Kees, reporting some exponences of another kind with Mr. Egliaton, and regard ang which he said

In conclusion, let me state that after a most stringent trial and strict scrutiny of these wonderful experiences I can arrive o han, II run Ke ar, an supers ha a already confessed in any form, nor was those in the room any mechanism or anghinary by which could be produced the phenomena which had the purpose smithtle levitation or the floating test could not possibly be done in the room in which we were amountled."

The Textimony of Professor Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Licht, make scenar I is Par's through the Beathers Davenport, said

State of the amertions, more or less trustworthy, of the in Sommer et les hommes du Mande," in winch the conjurer. French and English parcialists, and spits of the feelish jeulembes. and any conjugate, I feel it my duty to show up the bad tarch of one surty and the chiennery of the other. All that has been and or done adverse to these American mediums is assolutely untrustweethy. If we would rightly judge of a thing we was understand it, and neither the journalists nor the conlatter's confidence in his own a utity to detect the track and in my means the most elementary knowledge of the science of what took place at the season, the conditions of which that , it was previously. As a revise, sator if repute, were outsrely under Hone d'a control. This account ex and a sincere Sprintialist, I after that the medianomic facts tel to be to the other of the or obstely true, and belonged o in S, and any of the conference respect.

Mass Larm and Robert Hondin, when attempting to m tate these mid facts, sever presented to the public saything t soyund an infanting and almost grotesque paredy of the said of magnetism or against it, I can, nevertheless, not refract from | Phenomena, and it would be only ignorant and obstructe persons. not cases. If (as I have every reason to hope) the psychocal stadies, to which I am applying myself at this tune, succeed, I , shall be able to establish clearly, said that by public demonstrathen, the manuscripe of description which asparates medicands the process come from continues of the same their come contains A fortight later, M do May le receives mosther a les alanger souble a se som will acre to yield to enwas reday through predstormination to deny . .

I want, the data of the learned chemist and materal prime, are Mr W Crunkry, of Landon, I am now is a pustthat to prove duraly, and by purely accountific methods, the not to possible to be, and personded that it is if the composite county see if a payeline is on in a new continuous that chance or skill could ever produce effects as econderful (that it limited on the april in april in april in april in april in a county of the county of the april in april in april in april in a county of the county of the april in april in april in a county of the county of the april in a principle of the county of the county of the april in a principle of the county o fact ampossible que le hantrel on l'adresse pastase gamain produire des you, dene ace le innert this letter in your next number, if agreeable to you. Ac. &c.

Testimony of Samuel Belluchtat.

Samue) Bellachim, Court Conjurer at Berlin, made the following declaration in December, 1877

"I horaby declare it to be a rash action to give decisive sudgment upon the objective medial performance of the American medium, Mr. Henry Stade, after only one sitting and the observations so made. After I had, at the wish of several highly entermed gentlemen of rank and position, and also for my own interest, tested the physical mediumship of Mr. Stade n a ser a if arrange y for ayes, as we as nothe evening mass bedroom. I must, for the mass of truth, hereby certify that the phonomena occurrences wit. Mr. Some have been they rough case we by me with the is liftest ductration and in yest action if his narround ups, the using the table, and that I have not in the multist degree found anything to be produced by means of presidegitative manifestations, or by muchanical It a receives to say I went as a sceptise but I must own (apparatus; and that may explanation of the experiments which took place under the circumstances and conditions then obtaining by any reference to prestidigitation is abudately impossible. In must rest with such men of science as Crookes and Wallace, 19 London ; Porty, in Berne , Butlerof, in St. Petersburg, to search for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published opinions of "In respect to the above manifestations, I can only my laymen as to the 'How' of this subject to be premature, and, according to my view and experience, false and one-eided. This, credence. Forty eight hours before I should not have be seven my doclaration, is algued and executed before a notary and watneren .- (Signed) Sauver Bettacuret, Borlin, December 6th,

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

Whatever lots have happen in high-Pool.

No 228 You V

SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1885.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

CONTENTS A Empiricable Proceds Scance A Matrix of the property applied to the P. The New Material of Landon Sportly and Allingues The Paners of Matter (k. 1925). Mark that disc discarding the principle of the particle parti Photo the body and be a second of the particular of the part of th

The Entitor of "Lights" decrees at to be distinctly would showl that he can not place up only a no to he specious expressed by Contributors and Correspondents. Free and constrone discussion is invited, but writers are alone responsible for the articles to which there now re are

MATTER," AND OTHER PHENOMENA By "M. D."

starr might, to have a better opportunity of impecting the that Dr Wyld and his air th, and all the witnesses, should won sing which still remains upon his arm a suppressing you is a his and swear to it on "a stack of Bibles" turn the bones of the hand, I was sat shed that there is no that any "law of nature" - particularly any " well-known possibility of removing the ring. But it is also true that law?-should be violated ragmeers, who have examined the ac-called phenomenon. have succeeded in Sading a perfectly natural explanation accer to me the first moment I examined the ring and the his wife goes with him, but also prefers to be absent hance It is the formation perhaps some medical from the somes so as to remove all question of her superstition, the parents of Mr. Hunk had the ring made interference. You may make up your own party, sit and put on his arm when he was a lattle boy of eight or " wa must you disherve enrefully what may come, in the one years, and that he has worn it over since understands "the wed-known laws of nature agrees that a plant or manual, but the wisest philosopher cannot tell through he only are no exposition. Against two has how it is necomplished. Any one who will take a little only the word of Mr Husk, an interested party, and that trouble one be satisfied of the existence and power of of Dr. Wyld, who cays he had the ring made a few weeks "pirits." ago, that he covered it with his private pas ks, and that while he held both hands of the means a Huse, a was a to me, probably because my somes have usually been held some way placed upon his (Husk's) arm.

astounding of miracles, which Mr Matthew Arnold declares believe accordion, held by the believe and in a "do not happen." So I resolved to make some expert, wire engo, so that no "mortal" flagors could touch ments, and see if there were any more number where that the keys. There are many records of spirits playing on on cause from. Having invited some scoptical friends to locked pinnos. My piano was not socked, but we beard to assut me, we had a seriou. I held one of Mr. Hask's opened as a a tung The a waveven user to make taps." hands, and a hely I can trust-not a Spiritualist-held the, art answer destroys. At one time two spirits were playing holding each other, there came to un other tangible persons, quasions twanged upon 1. It am they about were the who talked with an made a racket, opened and that the call g, plo y a nonce seemed to seave the room pennoforte, mag and played their own accompanionate, and he che cour can, sorted and then return to it, but

Two rings out from a shoet of pasteboard-paper matche prepared by one of our nospice, lay upon the favisors true. With many or very runners but Spir, control of the table, and while the lady and I held the amount in the second control of the table, and our other hands were held by those the next us on oither side, one of the papers maché rings was the next us on oither side, one of the papers maché rings was the next us on cause of many of was de appears. They was the next to men have one asked to exput a feet next us on cause of many of was de appeare. placed on my wrist, and the other upon the wrist of the have makers unferred trigs on discoursing while one mark, as lady. A light was struck, and the fact was evident to all if to those who have aroundy conce up their minds. We will not -provided that both of us had not conspired with Mr. ap, you like hand stretched out to diem for four of being Husk to deceive the others.

Of source . If this is quite familiar to every experienced Speritualist. I have had a chair threaded upon my arm while holding the hand of M. Eglinton. I have had knots tend upon an endless cord. I have has writings and drawings made between two slates while I hold them together in my hand, but it was only at this senies of the rings, placed in the same moment upon the arms of two persons, that I heard a insternalised spirit ring a song and pluy has own accompany, next on the pranoforte

As to the test of the fron ring, the explanation of the engineers utterly destroys it-provided that you set ando the testimony of Dr. Wyki, and his marks and photographs, of the smith who made the rang of Mrs. Husk, who may THE "PASSAGE OF MATTER THROUGH to presumed to know whether her hashand had a ring on has a a whot he married her, and of all who have known bun from his childhood.

The obvious answer of Meson. Huxley and Tyndau. I avaited the off of mee un. Mr. Hosk, to my house the Ray Lankester and Bradaugh, in that it is more probable

Let makey, without disparagement of any other, that I have found Mr. Huck, within his range, a very good med.um It is so simple, so obvious, that I wonder it did not for investigation. Being too blind to get about by himself, state with a which you while ofserve a y fact in Every engineer, every person of common sense who elementry or physiology. Any four can watch the growth of Playing on a pinnoforto by a spirit was a new experience a as I wome of provides with such as use more. Mr. Of two things-one is cortain. Either Dr. Wyld by mone was an acceptal performer, Mr. Home's speaks falsely, or this ring is proof of one of the most spirits, when most carefully tested, played as a common a stact at least there were four hands paying. Tunes. So, holding Mr Husk, and all sitting around a table were also played on the "fairy bells," and answers to Family did something bearing on this question of the iron to he may not seen at disson or a need visks fur, lay ug, to he maying itself was certainly not done by any " mortal."

caught -- REV H R. HAWES

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY *

> By J C. KERLEMANS. (Continued from page 220.)

Plate III - A MINISTURE HAND.

one of those unique specimens of spirit manifestation where much put our antagonists, the quasi-scientific nutherities, altogether out of court. There is here to power ty of trickery, no reason to suppose confederation on the part of the medium, and vary little chance to arrive at an explanation by the supposition of delusion on the part of the observer. This spiritualistic morvel is immitable, and no means can be devised to account for a mader phenomenon but that of superhuman agency. I do not venture to formulate any speculations at to "how" it has been produced, but will simply state under what circumstances this ittee hand was exhibited, and contine my remarks to a mere quotation from my records of the seances at which it was abnorved.

On Sunday, September 9th, 1883, 1 attended a séance with Mr. Husk. There were fourteen persons present, all Spiritualists. Amongst the more usual manifestations that occurred during the evening, was the exhibition of a hand, differing from that of the medium by its sonner dimenzior s, and by its being partly covered by "drapery." The "form" (a heat) of "Irresistible" had been previously noticed over the table, but we did not then observe to whom, i.e., to what " spirit," the hand belonged, on account of the latter being placed on a small luminous siste, the light of which was not sufficient to show the surroundings.

However, "Irresistible" informed us that the hand which formed the subject of discussion was actually his, but that, accidentally, it had "turned out" a little smaller than on other occasions. This remark caused counderable surprise amongst the circle, because the prevailing idea

* A few sels of these throme sheerings still remain, and may be obtained of the Manager of the Psychological Proce, a Are Maria-lass, E.C. price in 61. the set, parted on roller for supplyingstimion by parcet peek. dan Antr.

entertained by all present was, that every materialised "spirit" form raust, in order to establish an individuality, always represent its particular type, and be invariably similar to an antecedent appearance. But our currouty was still further aroused by "Bresistible's " promue that he would show us his powers of modifying the shape and dimensions of his material hands, by making one the size of a mt's paw. After a few moments' delay, we noticed a streak of light, bright enough to distinguish the surrounding There is always some difficulty in proving the reality of quantity of "drapery," slowly moving over the table. a uniterialisation. With the exception of the few remark. This was the larger laminous shite (two or more able cases in which the process of " form-building " has been were kept) which passed, light downwards, over the watched throughout, we have, as yet, little direct evidence polished wood, the reflection of which produced the that the forms appearing are individually distinct and exist streak of light above-mentioned. All heads-fourteen in ing apart from the medium, I donot mean that, to Spiritual number were now turned towards the faintly illuminated mits who have witnessed the various kinds of physical apot still visible in the centre of the table, when suddenly phenomena, including the different phases of form-many the slate was turned over, light upwards, showing a festations, the reality of a naterial savier a shill are minute object moving near the upper edge. At host unsettled question. On the contrary, every investigator | and t coked he a mg dy or a thick-legged spider but my convince himself of the undoubted fact that some on closer examination proved to be a human hand with the forms are distinct entities. But the question us, is the more fingers moving. It was a perfectly animal edition, presentation of a "form" sufficient to convince the and not a more mass of art much constructed human flesh ignorant, the inquirer, or the sceptic ! No human being is or other su estants resembling a hand. Upon request, the porn a Spiritualist, All lave to be convinced, not by theories singles were spread, closed, and the hand turned over, and quartions, but by plant, demonstrable facts, and there lies showing also the moule of it. I must here observe that the chief difficulty. The universal notion of "spiris" as too the table around which fourteen persons were assembled different from what we witness in the sennon-room the was a round one, measuring four and a half feet in diameter, majority of examples of form-manifestations are too human and that the little human hand with the remaining arm and earthly to convey the idea that we are beholding a and bust were moving over the centre of it, in front of the denison from the other world, who has only temporarily medium, also that the hands of the sitters were linked. Conre-assumed the physical condition of existence. Besides, sequently the phenomena was witnessed under test conditions, the facts with which the careful investigator has made and ander the very eyes of every person present. Besides, the he saelf familier, and the theories by which these facts are luminous slate, with the microcolous object on it, was placed explained, are to the quinitiated, if not perfect absurdition, by turns in front of all the sitters—so close, indeed, that at least flat contradictions, or violations of every known the "drapery" covering the fore-arm rected upon our have of nature. However, my object is not to allude to, hands. The same phenomenon was exhibited on four subsewillow the in the way of converting the inquirer, but to quent occasions, each time the size of the hand differing invite inquiry by pointing out facts. This accomplished, from a rat's pow to that as represented in Plate III. My converting of their reality rests with the observer object in selecting for illustration the larger example was to houself. The little hand, represented in Plate III . facilitate the execution of the drawing, and especially the printing, which would probably have failed to give a true representation if a smaller figure had been chosen.

On another occasion, a somewhat similar phenomenon was observed, viz. a hand of about twice the size of the figure in Plate III., but still smaller than a new-horn child a hand, with several fingers in addition to the normal sumber-mifact, there was, to nee " Irresuttbie's " own words, " a bunch of them." Unfortunately, this almorinal many festation collapsed almost unmediately after its introduction, and we had but a short glance at it.

(To be continued.)

Az Alphones Cahaguet's Tomb (April 12th) orations were delivered. One speaker knew him, a chair-turner, thirty-eight years agu, as a close student of animal magnetism. He was endowed with a great gift of developing locality in his nonnambulic subjects, and in mone, very constitue, the emistic The earliest fruit of his studies and experiments was the Arennes de la Vie Fu ure the accepted decication of which to the renomina Raron Du Potet bears the date of 1847. In this his first work he records conveniently praye ally through the medium of his clairroyant and clairs udient somnambules—with spirits of the departed of various conditions These recent are accompanied by incontestable proofs. Another rotume followed in 1851. After these he pu suspen at intervasiod a few years, the "Abrégé dus Merreilles du Ciel et de l'Enfer," the Sanctuaire du Sparitualisme," the "Lamière des Morts," Some of his works Boyels come a latter I make and of err Some of his works have been translated, the English circulated in America before the advent of Modern Spiritualism. In the meantime he con-ducted a periodical, Le Magachiana Spiritualists, from 1847 to 1851, when he converted it into the Encyclopate Mag-netique Spiritualists, and continued it till 1862. He always spoke of himself to the has as a student, and claims to be still a student in the invitation to his funeral, very poetically written before his departure by himself. - La Lumière PHENOMENA IN PARIS.

May 16, 1885.]

(FROM A LATTER IN Le Memoger.)

I have attended some seances here (Paris) at the introdection of my relative, Madame Coincalt.

After the preliminary examination of the room and medium, we formed a chain and extinguished the light. Presently I felt something laid upon my knee, then my forcers were opened and made to close upon what felt like a stem of, judging by the partume, a rose, and so it was, then my head was taken between two hands, and pressed against what felt like the bast of a woman. Madame C. mt next to me, and also said she had the same experience, and thought it was her nister-in-law, Madame Galvaine, and that she had asked mentally that if it were so she would press the medalism at her neck, and that she had done so.

Then little lights moved about in all directions, two remained stationary in front of me, right and left, then two hands took my chin, reased my face, and kusted me. I told cartens, Madame C., and said that I should like to see who it was Scarcely had I uttered the words, than two hands turned my head towards the light to my right, and from this, other little lights detached themselves, behind which I por crived a form; the head was industract, but, the light increasing, the features became recognisable, I exclaimed "It is tay Uncle Luniet !" Madame C. recognized him too. There he certainly was, smiling at us, every feature planwith his long white beard, and clad in a white robe. We told him how well we recognised him. He kissed us both and disappeared. I turned to the other light, but that was for a manifestation to my left-hand neighbour. I could see, however, a beautiful female face.

I heard others of the circle express words of recognition Plowers were put into the hands of all , bells were rung in accompaniment to our anging, and a manical-box was fosted, playing, over our boads.

At a subsequent siance with the same medium I was accompanied by one of my nephrun, along with Madama C. During other manifestations, a sprit stood in front of preliminary instructions as to man's spritual nature. on waring his hands from below apwards, seeming thus to gather light at the ends of his fingers, and then worked them about before his face. My nophew and I both called out at the same moment, "It is Uncle Lamet!" The spirit placed one of his illuminating hands upon ours, joined together, and we recognised its peculiar form. Madame C also recognised him, and hoped he would say a word to her The spirit kined me and my nephew, pressed Madame C.'s ignorant of the existence of works by such an author. hand, and disappeared. The spirit of Madazue Galvaing came as before, she drew my head towards that of her tister-in-law, and tenderly embraced us together

A short time afterwards I attended another seance with Madame C. and her mother-in-law. Before the scance, Spec to Norther The Edder of "Limit" ranget save in thinking of my brother, I mid, mentally, that if he could not make himself visible I hoped he would be able to write his bases on my forehead. At the stance the spirit of my brother did make hunself visible, and then, with his finger, 7 wrote his full name on my forehead, then, having knowed me, he shook hands with Madame C. and her mother, who had recommed him. Then the sturit of Madame Galvaing presented herself, kinsed her mother and unter-in-law, shook hands with me, and disappeared. Spirite appeared to others of the circle.

The medium was the same at each sennee, it was Madame Bablin.

Paris, January 27th, 1885 MADOR ESSAULT

the contract will bear with pressure but the health of the parties and the contract will be the sufficient of the particular to combine the resulting from prostration of attempth and spanner. He master the authoring from prostration of attempth and spanner. Dr. Blott, we add have been burnt at a wound. It concludes "Whatever of New York, his been his physician, but the guides of the and have been burnt at a wound. It concludes "Whatever of New York, his been his physician, but the guides of the and have been burnt at a wound. It concludes "Whatever of New York, his been his physician, but the guides of the and have been burnt at a wound. It concludes "Whatever of the payelined that magnifest suggestions in the treatment assections through his lips, sometimes by the alphabet and raps.—Le Messager.

AUTOMATIC WRITING

In response to your invitation for notes of cases which prove that automatic writing is due to inspiration from "spiritual" beings outside the automatic writers, and not proceeding from the cerebration of their own brains, as Mr. Myers' theory of telepathy would imply, I beg to give your readers my experience in this

At the first season witch I attended I was too by the me rum that I possessed certain mediumistic gifts, and was invited to cultivate them.

Being anxious to test the truth of this, I procured a desclicite, and, on the second trial, I was fortunate enough to get readable writing, and intelligent answers to my questions. As, however, the answers thus far were so h as might have proceeded unconsciously from my own train, I requested my invisible friends to give me proofs that would convince me of the real source of the commun.

Being desirous of developing my mediamistic gifts, 1 naked whether I could help in quickning the development, and, if so, what means I ought to adopt

The planchette asswered that I could indeed help by studying and roading books.

On asking what books I ought to read first, I was told hat the works of Merert would be the best to begin with Not knowing this name, and nover having heard any name like it. I concluded that there must be a mistake I saked for a repetation of the name, which was given twice

On inquiry from several friends I found that such works were not generally known, but on looking through the list of books of Mode's library I found to my great delight the very name, " George St. Mivart."

I have read some of these works, "Lessons from Nature," "Nature and Thought," "On the Generia of Species," " Contemporary Evolution," and have found them to be just the books which would give me the necessary

Before concluding. I beg to state, that when writing I was alone in the room, and that when I received this information I had not spoken to snybody about my intention of testing apiritual phenomens, or studying to acquire the necessary understanding, so that it could be perflier the outcome of unconscious permiration of brains at a distance, nor of my own brain, since I was perfectly the post A high on acting his office and now his Wednesday meeting will, as far as page tide, he americal in the color of numbered in the color of numbered in the color of numbered.

I, Albion-villas, Sydonham Park, S.E. P. Panras. March 4th 1880

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

- N is alcustan. Remittance to hand for which accept our best
- II. So gas. Your retter of the 27th ult. was duly received, and is due course would have appeared in 'Livitt' for May Rth.
  but its contents necessitating inquiry, it had to be defermentable the entreat tene. It would have appeared to day had you not by your letter of the 11th inst taken it out of our power to insert it. It is not usual with gentlemen to threaten is conductor of a journal, and until you withdraw your offended letter we absolutely refuse to give you a heating. When you approach us in a proper and courteous manner we sha be ready to give you the same opportunity for stating your stewn as we seeme to all opposes a

CORRESPONDENCE

there and addresses to communications. In any case, however, these must be supplied to the Editor as a guarantee of good freeds

The Psychical Society and Mr Barkan. T. the Editor of " Louis"

See, Mr. Barkas, of Nowcestle-a muse well-known to Specialists-in his recent adaress before the Alamice, as able phononiena mor cancluded as or combine core exclusive services attention of the Psychical Somety 1 to not see at a 3 at 5 they can refuse to investigate this case of a second- and arefully investigated these phonomona for apwards of years," and I he possesses orderary intelligence and here a relumring.

the initial of the lady meaning who had received only a supplied comboducation, if that he not a too favour-colo accomefrom the mind of some invertible person? That the answers came from some mend will, I presume, not be doubten. They hat on range ever a cost variety of subjects, and are in a large proper tion of a positive and scientific elasticitie. They are not of a kind that adm't of changlet-transference at the more sure nor to negoting for them.

I was a harmer at smooth by avertaga errort men in the Mr. Barkan families, man the body measure too, and what here e er it mote. Die nétricen, ob int hidny an possible of thosi, are would only betray a deare to shirk it altogether.

And if the Psychient Society taken it up, I hope it will do as in a thorough-going manner, and dedge its own credit and test conditions, as well as other manifestations. honors for a root, by it what it may We want a cornect after full investigation, and In open court. They have Inthe controlled a security of the state of a set the governmenta have again-official journals and again our writers was can be discovered if convenient, so the Somety go of a quotestablished to one or two persons to investigacase but does not make theil consensable for their proceedings ir even think it necessary to purdule a report of them. Bo it was in the Eghnton case. Two or three parama obtained only nogetive routite, and then the whole cute cuttepeed. This is most municipatory. The "Macter through Matter" case was little butter. Here Mr. Courtey delivered his versict without confiniting the practical assess or easy of a son of them. It againsted to Julia upility auditorious or view one cost on one delings of vitable a query new

Not at the Morell Thomaski case at all more rensearing Hero Mr. Podojore prosented himself at the house "as a monthor of the Psychical Society," as if that was sufficient crodestade, and as if the Boutety could be unde responsible a that more fact for life judgment and discretion " despitabled the whole case in an hour's cornery survey. The writing shelf presented difficulties which he did not answer. Has be tried whether he can write on a ceiling with a pencil stuck on a bromantick? But, belowing all this, there is a moral difficulty in this case which he was bound to face, and in some way account for. If Mr Theolaid is to be believed, there is a were repeated daily for six months or more. What increasible inflastry, what nationaling persoverance in the work of frend, and without any hope or nondbility of roward! This musice loudy industrium and paragreeing make servant laboured in the cause of fends as good man labour for the rewards of victor and for no roturn but the consciousness of her own fraud and basement! Really this case neight to be taken up ancer and thoroughly prosecuted. The verseity of Mr. Theobald and his fam y shelp to me it see or the severest tests. A tottell-andgo treatmen like her Pochnor, a will no

B. a. this are may it over not sleep ight or the Rapkas gage. While a right to serie is the this gase sould be mevestigaton by the Psychien Society, and with its full matherity At present there is a widely spread feeling a well. Its men we that it is printing a policy of avading difficulties, not of overcoming norm and that it hos not the conrage either of its mismon or the protogramous.

G. D. Harrims

I might seve maded above, or region to the Hork Wyld case.

that Mr. Gureev has since partly stoped for his remarkable Marker in the first matance, but only partly, for he has not [It is professible that correspondents should append their numbered Dr. Wyld on any one point, though amisted by the neport evaniveness of Mr. Maskelyne.

(We again give place to correspondence of this malare because it is typical of communications which new countrally reach us, and not because we think the Society by Psychical Research is hobling aloof from the investigation of Spiritualism. One of its main supports in the examination of "spiritual" phenomena, and no annot the officers of the Society will, in due time, allay the appronemions of correspondents like Mr. Haughton by a definite recorded in your journal, some up a long series of remark, announcement of its intentions in this direction. - Etc. or

A Remarkable Private Season.

To the Editor of " Light "

Sin .- I happened to see up a recent atraber of "Lacare" a profit from such manifestations, he is surely entitled to a setter from Dr Wyhl referring to the growing which has created notice interest in psychic circles, in which he counders The question is, whose are the answers obtained from that ring in be one of the very few examples, if not the only one, of a permanent and lasting manufestation

I think that the account of a seance which I shall give may prove interesting to your readers, on account of its materialistic

I will proface my account by assung that the circle wathin our manager of a security service of section and the attenual information sizes of relations and intimate friends, in which we my possible or rational extension of the telepathus theory more never had a professional medium of any description. Our limit someo originated in a whist party, becoming fired of that on to be a pable turning," more for fan and variaon cho, which the urners developed will be a such an extraorphis a name of a highly not in our s. There is to be a graine from the contraction action or produced. On extension, we man compare we went note thoroughly into the subject, and have succeeded in obtaking intelligible writing, drawing, and marks on elater under

> On the particular evening I am going to give an account of, our stated party of five persons (two ladice and three men) most and ant slown in some-darkness. As we were all intimate friends we had no four of trickery. Very mon the table became agitated, trembling in almost a le man manner, and east a shour bother and thether in the ere of a die floor. On inquering our mitant a some, a long Egyptian pause was spelt out and the parit in course of conversation informed as that he was a u ardenir. We then saked for some writing on our slate, which was shood on the table, awared with a thick cloth, autoide of which cloth our hands routed. After waiting for some time, during which the table gyrated about the room, we turned up the light and proceeded to examine the abla-

> No mark, however, was visible apon it, and we were est feeing stange-sated, when I mw a please of paper protruding from the partially removed cloth. I opened it. Its meteria were a large sail imbued in blood, which glood it to the paper which enveloped it, the paper also so the more bring min a booth the same northing after my substance. There was monter a mont in this excepting munifestation ; a long, olky, golden, woman a hair was stock fast with the congulated blood on the neil. On morning we were informed by the Beyption that the nateder took place in Cairo, and that the paid was driven in to the head of the woman, his sweethourt, whose nave we had seen.

I took charge of the paper and its gheatly contents, and have them now in a drawer in, I am corry to say, the very process · with land into alexander different la

To continue, the remainder of the senare was very violent. The ladies left the room, as it was becoming too much for them. I and my two male friends were pulled about from behind, Mr. Bu. eye-glasses were knocked off, all of ne pinched in various parts of the body, a chair rose as the air, and came down on my chamblers at I was undervouring to play the " Chook Melody" on the piano in the dark (which after that intimation I denoted from), a sufa come out from the wall alreast man the centre of the room, and went back again (we being at the table). bad language was afterwards found written on a piece of paper the madatast corner, blue lights hovered about, the table cloth was anatched like lightning from off the table beneath our lands, and then put on again, poor Mr. B's. bull heat was fingered over, and his hands knocked off the table. We began to think that perhaps we had better step the scance, or get another spirit.

We determined on the latter, and I politely requested our visitant to go away and send some one class. He refused. I then said, "You must go away." The refund was still more decided. I then became rather enaperated, and foolishly enclassed,

May 14, 1885.]

The violation of the action seems and a constraint will discharation in a transfer of a state of various violation various and a state of various vari Las in the Allin of

We are see for a use table, and endou the senner-

I so object to an energy that the name night one of our past, set by an an one of an take person, was awakened his hole a death off the wind day in a record of the same the bast of a general dark young man, of Egyptian kept notes of them for the last two years. appearance, with rather a sail expression. This remained visible for a momout, and then disappeared

I was a worse outer tate a correspondence on the subper or new a way tomo, but I shall be lappy to formule the names and address of the other persons present for the rerification of the above account

I enclose my name and address as a generator, but not for publication -I am, sir, yours obediently, 5th May, 1885.

A Warning of Danger

T Etdor of " Lacar"

Sir. Printers of a merdents which have occurred to me as no a beal with Mr. Eglinton may interest your powlets as I have not lately seen exactly similar phonometa described In May, had your, I paid a visit to Mr. Eghaton, to whom I was a total stronger. Waiting for a friend who had promised to , as an accommend into a convention on different insulots, see Mr. Equator sublenly and, OI hear the same is France in a " Is there any other mane ?" " Mary That was the tours of a natur who died at the age of seven, many name is at present remembered by any of her family, with the shook hunds with me told me that she was of New Hever ex man d an enter, so she was called by another. In a one of the Marques group, the called to my much how she as a most wante a see, letter agned in the full mane was we want to me a seas. Several number of long departed es arrows were en a to select when the medium could have the was nothing, but when these appeared Mr. Eglinton told me facts connected with them which he mad came instantly to him also materialised. He said he had induced her to come. He by claimadience

A few days ago I had a third action. Several names of deceased friends, as before, had appeared on the slates, when the Christian name of a dear relative, still in earth ofe, was allowed my to get off a piece of her dress, which was exactly written. On majory into the monning of this, the reply was, "Tell bur to becare of danger." Question "What danger ! Answer "Toll -- " (the fall name) " not to go out driving for the next three weeks." The lady is a stranger, even by transa, for the med um. I had resson to believe that she was not in the labet of driving out at the present tens: therefore the while she held it. It corresponded exactly with the precent rion of any danger had not entered my mind. After a long letter on other subjects, from a guide of the motium, had appeared in the closed states, hold above the table to W Eglinson and repost, in full view of two friends present, the medium took a single state and held it under the flap of the table, where I could see the half of it distinctly. Suddenly, with a loud report, the slate creahed up from the centre and broke, frame and all, into fragments in his hand. He told to aft wards cat he has no received and of the phree-angular, in felt a sharp norrow shock in the steel weath not down town a the slate receiving the whole of the force from may Hu hand fabric, with head and want ernaments. was not insuzed.

N w for warr n. On my return home I wrote to my relate q an accome of it, as I felt the course was best in any case, my apart-sister came, they Perfoney, with her daughter although it might be unnecessary. She replied that also believed she had cause for starm, as her husband had recently bought a new house, which she feared was a very dangerous our. but so this was contrary to his opinion also would have conturn! to drive with him, after this warning she cortainly would docline to do so. I trust this may save both from surere socident, especially as I have since heard that the house exused the death of its late owner. The may show there is some daughter." He stated things which took place with me in little " no in Spiritualine " to those who accept it kindly. The the Pacific Islands, forty-five years ago friendly warning scarcely seems the "work of an oril spirit."-I am, done me, yours truly,

Ma. E. W Wallis will lecture at Cavendial Rooms, on Sunday, May 17th. His subject will be "The Practical and Religious Value of Sparitualism."

SPIRIT IDENTITY

Prom Facts of April, 1885.)

When young, between 1835 and 1839, my avocation took me to the mands of the Pacific Ocean. On board was forced back almost off my chair. This at the came time our skip some natives of these islands served, and from them I learnt a good deal of their language. For forty years Thave been home, and have been a member of a church. I run now sixty-eight years of ago. From a desire to know the truth, I have attended many spiritum admices, and have

> February 23rd, 1883 .- I was at a senues at Mrs. Allen's of Providence, Rhode Island, when a spirit of a Pacific uslander materialised himself, and I recognised aim by his beers a and fall from the rigging, by which he damaged I as a leaving a permanent enlargement of it, at this scence he placed my hand upon this knee, materialised into its old state. He was called on board Billy Mare

April 6th .- On this occasion I brought with ise a piece of cloth made by the natives, from the bark of the topper tree, which I had had forty-five years. He held it in his hand, and called it by its native name.

September let .-- I, with my wife, was called up to the cannot, and while in front of it, a spot of white appeared on the floor, gradually devoloped into a materialised form, and was recom sed by me as my mater, who blow knows to rse. Then the form of my first wife came. After this the certains parted, and there stood a woman in a Pacific salander's dress of forty-live years ago, as remembered by int. She talked with me in her native tongue

September 18th.-This woman materialised again; sho was startled by the firing of the ship's gun when she came on board with her mother, the Queen of the island.

September 29th.—She came again. This time Bully Marr. ca led her Yeney-

October 17th .- At Mrs. Aden a source the Queen came, gave her name as Perfoncy. Ble walked around with inc. like a more of the native cloth I brought home forty-five November 5th .- At the same medium's, Perforer allowed mu to cut four proces from her dress, as specimens. out at Mrs. Allerca. She then reminded ine of the native food-"powey," mi down on the floor, and went through the action of taking "powey" from a dish with her

March 7th, 1881 -At a senned at Mrs. Allon's, I met Judge Cross, who was interested in these foreign spirits, and examined their clothing

April 27th, 1884.-My appret-wife came and appeared Perfency, who must appeared, dressed in a white silk

May 9th. She came dressed as before, and denced.

June 22nd. At Dewitt Hough's senuer, Onsett Bay, she greeted me in her metive toughe. I led our forward to the circle, she dematerialised while I hold her hand. At this source, the editor of Ficts was present.

In December, 1884, at Blackstone Hall, Providence, Mr. Edgar Emerson, text medium, whom I never saw before, said " I see two foreign spirits, mother and

I close by expressing a hope that what I have related may induce others to investigate. Our spirit friends do all they can to help our livest gar or s

JAMES N. SHLIMAN, Rumford, Blond Island.

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT." 4, AVE MARIA LANE, LONDON, E.C.

SUBSCRIPT ON RATES.

The Annual Subscription for "Linter," just free to any address within the United Kingdom, or to places comprised within the Postal Union archaing all parts of Europe, the United States, and British North America, in 10a, 10d, per annual, forwarded to our office in admired.

ADVERTISEMENT CHARGES.

APPENTISHMENT CITATIONS.

Fire fines and under, 5a. One mich, 6a. E. Cohmin, 42 Sa. Page §4.

A reductive numb for a series of insertions.

Orders for Papers and Advertusments may be addressed to the Educar of "Lieute,", e. M. on any to cheques and Post Office Orders may be made payable to Huxay Parsons, at the Chief Office, London. Halfpenny Pastage Stamps received for amounts under 10c.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Tight:

SATURDAY, MAY 10rd, 1885.

THE NEW HOME OF THE LONDON SPIRITUALIST ALLIANCE

In the Edstor of " Linite "

Six.-Will you permit me to inform these of your renders who are also members of the Loudon Spiritualist Alannes, and those also who will, I hope, join as, that the Council lass taken chambers at 16, Craven-street, Strand, which will be made at once available as a reading-room and library ! There Spiritualists will find the large collection of books on occult subjects, once the property of the late Central Association of Spiritualists, available for their use. It is proposed to give ful for it ex for access to the Library so that members may make a practical use of it, there also Spiritualists can see the various magazines and journals devoted to Spiritualism, the foreign papers, and whatever of interest from the to time may come into the possession of the Council. There, Smally, friends from sorond will be welcome, and be anabled to make the time. And my presumption has been completely confirmed. accumutance of our numbers

It has been a not a frequent inquire amongst our home and throw it open for the use of Spiritualitie ! The answer is supply. We are resolute to adhere to the piedge given at our formation, vis., to live within our means. We have done this scrupulously, and it is only now that the Council has felt justified in expending the modest situnecessary for opening these chambers. The second meetings, so highly appreciated by our members and their friends, we felt hound to contange, and the funds entrusted to us adapticed of lattle else in the way of expensioner

Even now we are not rich enough to afford a secretary Yet, without concone who can be regularly present in the rooms, we cannot open them for more than a portion of the day. Members of Council will endeavour to make arrangements for personal attendance during some evening hours, but the full value of the reading-room and library cannot be had until our fouds permit of the ungagement of a suitable secretary to answer inquiries, give out books, and keep open the room for the convenience of members at all hours. I hope that the time is not far distant when we shall find ourselves with funds that will couble us to take this very necessary step. A handred new members would set us free to do this, two hundred would enable us to do other dearable work, and to make the Loudon Spiritualist Alliance a centre of much-needed activity. Till that good time comes we must be content to do what our funds perinit .- I am, sir, yours forthfully,

THE PRESIDENT OF THE L. S. A.

HERR SAMUEL BELLACHINI

We learn from Sparitualistische Blätter of the 16th April, that the celebrated congarer, Samuel Bellachus, has deceased in his lifty-month year. His solemn declaration before a notary at Berlin, on December 6th, 1877, that " the phenomenal occurrences with Mr. Slade have been theroughly examined by no with the minutest observation and investigation of the surroundings, including the table, in a series of sittings by full daylight, as well as in the evening, and I have not in the qualters degree found anything to be produced by means of prestidigitative manifestations or by mechanical apparatus, and may explanation of the experiments which took place under the eircumstances and conditions then obtaining by any "Lioux" may also be obtained from E. W. Att.Ex, 6. Ave Mara-line, reference to prestring taxton, is absolutely impossible," will London, and all Boulardiers. be in the recollection of our renders.

Speritualistische Bkitter teeres to be under a misappre itension when it adds, in its obstuary notice, "He (Bellachim) will now regret the cowardice (Frigheil) which coused him later to my that he had only given his evidence for Sinds out of professional sympathy !" This improbable report was set about in the lifetime of the late Professor Zallner, who impaired into it, and refers to it at p. 199 of his "Transcendentale Physik," as follows, after setting forth Bedachmes notarial avidence :-

"I may here mention a report which has been spread about in Leipzig and other places in reference to the trustworthness of the above testimony. Herr Bedachini, it is said, being last year in a Nort- Ge man watering place, sponds league continua ted his testimony. He is said to have declared that he gave it only from sympathy with Sinds as a fellow professional, and out of complainance to nome persons in high position, in order to protect Shale from further molestations by the police and by the Berlin literary exhible (1964). On this ruinour reaching me, I disbelieved it, as well occause I took Herr Bellachina, who has access to the Imperial Court, for an honest man, as also because I could not suppose a conjuster to be so stupul as to expose lumself by such a contradiction of his notaried testimony, to the risk of a public proscoution for a knowingly false declara-Hearing that my colleague, Professor Stobbe, rector magnificus of Leipzig University, and mot Belinching members, Why does the Alliance not secure for itself a at the watering place referred to, I questioned him personally as to the supposed contradiction. He at once declared to use most positively that there had been nothing of the sort, whatevever (down row crasm solches, Waderruf ger keine Rede gegesen sei), but that Bellachini, with whom he had himself repeatedly conversed, had only and that under certain conditions of his own choosing -not under those with Slade-be could mainte the occurrences taking place in Slade's presence. He added that he should nottern from such im tations till after Slade had left Europe, lest they should be mustaken by the public for Exposures.

> THE Hartford Times (Hartford, Conn.) of March 16th, copies the record in full of the materialisation esance of February 28th, Mr. Eglinton the medium, reported in "Liour"

WALWORDS ANSOCRATION OF SPIRITUALDOS, 43, MANORreace, Watworze,-Good, stable progress is being raide by those who meet at this place. Sunday after Sunday spiritual instruction is received. A number of strangers who had known nothing of Spiritualism previously, were present on Sunday ground last, and listened with delight to the trance discourses delivered through Miss Keeves by her spiritual teachers. The subject was "Impactality," and they showed that the conception of it which Spiritualism gave to the world was far lugher and nobler than any which the world had previously received. On Sunday next Mr. Walker, of Educaton, will be the speaker, and we hope South London friends will be present in large numbers to welcome him.

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK XXYII

May 15, 1865.]

[We shall esterm it a favour on the part of our readers if they will forward us, for use in this column any allusions to Spiritualism and Psychical Reserved, they may come acrees in the course of their principle. The clergy, as a rule, have less fear of Agnosticans, reading. We see a great many of these ourselves, but it is obvious; Materialism. Atheirs, than of phenomenal Spiritualism that there pand he many references to the subject which do not most our eyes.-En. or " LEGHT."]

Enrupe, America, all over the civilised world, we have evidence of the increasing interest in Spiritualism. The one human saterest that is above all others is the life to come,—the proofs, now so widely given, of a continued existence. This has, indeed, been atways taught a ways bettered by great numbers, but in this age of estratific constituen we need proofs of spirit hife and the facts of Sparitualism, though individual priests may declare power, and what we need we have.

It does not so much matter whether the articles in reviews, magazines, and naumpapers are favourable to or against Spiritsalam, or serious or re-guilous. The important thing is that they anaken interest set men to thinking induce them to aspure, and then to investigate. No hore is needle. The exchings of a were to be convinced. It is not a question of listening to a from denouncing it. The present Cardina, Manning is not to presaler who persuades, but of examining facts that prove. It charitable. The Church of course, has made no decision. How can be safely declared that no man of acience, and no person of can at? Each individual case must be examined by itself, and common orano, has ever made a thorough examination of the decided, if any action is needed, upon the own moritaphenomena of Spiritualism without being convinced of their Rome does not go out of her way to find difficulties, whatever PRABLEY

This is one tenson why Spiritualists are so quest, so little anxions, so far from engaging in an active propagateds of their not Spir online. But Materializat, Blie is wise enough to see faith. Were the reality of a continued existence only a theor, . that whereas Materialism denies her claim to miracles, past or or only a matter of faith, we might be assisted to permande most present. Specitualism confirms the possibility of both. Roses of its truth. Being a matter of observation, and sure to bo known to everybody sooner or later, we do not take any special trouble about it.

Only, of course, any truth which brings us consolation we are naturally giad to bring to others. We desire that all should know the truth, became every troth is quoful. It is enfor and better to know what is, and, as far as our be known, what will be. Why shut our eyes to what is before us? An honest soul is prepared for everything that can come to it. An houset coult has nothing to four and everything to hope

What a Spiritualist may contourably do is this, so, at least, it seems to me. He may take some trouble to lot others know

As a rule the most satelligent men are the most philanthropic. A philanthropist makes merificus for others. He does not mind ridicule or manapprehension. He does not keep may truth to himself which may be a benefit to others. Once convinced, ho does not join the Micodeanse Club and keep his knowledge and comfort to himself. The program of humanity, and all referentions which our increase the sum of himses happiness, rost upon this patern? kindness of the human heart—this desire to oursnumeric whatever can give happiness to those around us.

What other moure could have induced the ementific invotes gators of Spiritualism to publish the results of their long and careful examinations? I hold the textmonter of such men as other night, on the Approach of the Millennum, heralled Crooken, Zöllner, Wallson, the two Barls of Dunraven, Varlay, by epiratialistic phenomena, which is the revival of necromancy Robert Chambers, and all the men of science in Europe and America, who have given their testimony to the facts of Spiritualism, simply heroic, and, in the best sense of the word. doubt that "communication with departed friends was an philanthropus.

Wall, it may seem a little odd to gave men so much credit for to knowledge, who, rather than face a little radicula, or even The best thing for any sensible man, who wants to know the numan experience.

And there are not the worst,-we mean, the most obstructive to the progress of knowledge. Nine-tenths of the professed teachers of Sparitualism in the crowle of Christendom ignore or oppose the phenomena which demonstrate its fundamental

Let us take an Anglican or Roman Catholic. Here we luve mure clastic croeds. What with the High, Low, and Brow From the cheapest newspapers to the half-crown reviews in Church, by hw established, and the expansive catholicity of Romo, there is plenty of tolerance for very wide divergencies Rome has always been phenomenal. Rome chains an unbroken series of miracles and spiritual manifestations. There is scarcely may phenomenon in modern Spiritualism that does not find a close resummance in the aven of he contain. It and obesing leny them to be diabolical-agreeing, for once ma way, with our most nitra Protestanta.

> But individual prests, bishops, sardinals even, may not aposk with the voice of the Church. As amounter of fact they may widely differ on all matters not "of (asth." The late Cardinal Wiseman know a good deal about Spiritualism, and was far some of her priests and prelates may do.

> And Rome is wise enough to see that her greatest langer is is, therefore, essentially and necessarily spiritualistic.

> Protestantions is not loss essentially spiritualistic on far as site is orthogon. There was a logical necessity for a large that mirecion seased with the Apostles, because Rome claims the Apostoric succession in that as in other matters while Protestants were bound to dony, and so got into the way of dearing, everything hold to be appearatural. The outcome of Protestantian in Germany has been Materialism. The one vital opponent of Materialism overywhere to medern phonomenal Spor dalace. This is a fact that all religionists may as well

The Western Genetic has an account of mysterious implines, what is such comfort and hope to himself. He has indubitable and a best jumping about, and persons seized with violent evidence that there he has known and loved on earth still live, got orthogo, Savaton Army efficient sent for, who wrestled for and loveline, and tenderly watch over him. He knows this as in hours a carmest prayer and the police called in to keep the a demonstratore fact, avident to his senses. Common benevolence cover and if possible, the furniture in order. "The neste must induce him to make such a fact as wedely known as from the box," we read, "continued through the night, and the chairs and tables seemed possessed of the evil spirit." Here is a case for the "Somety for Payelnest Research"-an outbreak closely recembling that in the Fox family in America.

> The same Western Gazette gives an account of " Faith Healings," at a Bothshan presided over by a Mrs. Alexander where more than sixty persons have been entered, resulting ht many miraculous curos. The lame walk, the bland receive their sight, and a formerly orippled old lady is and to "akep about like a child " And why should not the 6.P R. examine and report upon the Bethslan miracles as well as other psychical Administrate view.

> The Vices of Youvil presided at a lecture at Malvern, the Mr Wale, the lecturer, admitted that he had never attended a appritualistic source, but he had read about them, and had no established fact."

Thus we have one class of the opponents of Spiritualism taking a little trouble to know what is true, and then having the mainting upon the genumeness of its phonomous as proof of courage to tell what they know. But consider the cast number ats disbousm, and snother class equally menting that they are of men who condems without a hearing, who prefer agnorance more fraudulent tricks, too silly to deceive any sensible person. passive unbelief. keep to themselves the most important facts of truth, to do, is to find some genuine medium and make his own observations. If a man cannot credit such investigators as Crooken Wattace, and Zöllner, three first-class scientists, nor benove his own senses, be may as well give it up as a had job. What such a man behaves or dishetaves is a matter of no consequence whatever.

When amon has " enals up his mind " to believe, or not to ! eaplys his ignorance, why could be a e a knowledge. P. sada, the Egypthans were who in kneping what they there is: best worth Korwing as sacred mysteries. If in but nor time or fashion. We hold that nothing useful to me should a kept. secret. We want the real facts of life, an we want a numafostations. A few Purtuans, Eug., given any account of a cartorraining senses, at which he saw, hearth, and contracted its three successive wives, all impgy to see him, and not in the least Justician of analysther an incident which may, porhaps, throw some light upon demostra relations in the world of spirits.

4 4 4

Mrs. Flotcher also gives a very interesting account of a senies with Man Florence Cook in London, just after she was [ somed by the two materious Oxford students. Marie, a control of Mass Cook, gave what account to those present a remonable explanation, which was that also, a sparit, was magnetically controlled by one of the exposers. However this may be, we know very well sint a strong will may often may or provent manifostations. The two flators exposers once me for nearly an hour wit. Mr. Eglint in without oven a mp or movement They have no account left the house than jubilizet more were heard nd wor the table

The outlook in again self-carers shy she are the an important paper, autorateg the phanement of Speritudian, by ar distinguished naturalist, Mr. Afred B. Walkey, has lately been published to the New York Tribune and other leading American y months

The Popular Science Versa Bossini, U.S.A. Junya of specifical investigations, "In our view, a view derived from loss; and saraful study, the observed phonomena present the during of the or tedge which will prove of the highest introduce to north ad . 181 course, the knowledge of the trath in regard to most present our rid future, must be good for us. No who man was a firevelous force sagadar. Tanta know an face to reach the be seen in the most flow as followings. The rule of the special see the mynticism sittended in their being an I because the see not a series see harm what is. Learn the facts of life - 1 "The Cartle of the Soul " We quote the next verse that present on f are Pare to to stand a to a few it. It is not at the known the known the worse, as known Southern

When though got to their worst they begin to stood, and when we came to a real knowledge of what in word in ourselver and our surrenmentage, we begin to moud them. In this was the mefulness of " Onteast London" and the daily reporte of pastercourts in the newspapers. The zeal charm of the terrible is in the hope of terms good that may come of such rerelations ten optimista to one posimiste. Langfellow struck the tene writer gliord in his Excubsion,"

Ivaty in Florence, miritantist circles are increasing in number, in the steep are manifestations by threet writing and by materbanations. Several university notabilities are cavertigaving the phonoment. - Le Speitone.

La Memojer quotes from the Spanish journal Un Percelies Mas - Pio None ordered a column to be arrested opposite St. Pater s, on M arte samenh , to perputuate his produtention of the dogme of infallibility, but the events of 1870 prevented. After his death his auccessor proposed to erect it on the part of the the lin can't overmine a selection a conteguous spot on which the raise the nonement weered by the attor in horone of the aight of unfranchmed Indians."

REVIEWS.

THE TRICKER OF LANE. Mystical Ports. By Rita Dietz. E. W. Allen, London, 1885, Pp. 345

Him Dietz has now presented the public with three vidences of "negatical" poetry, the first entitled "The Trough of Low" addahed eight years up the second benero, and shade anterest, at que at care, in account of the control of the Triumph of Time," brought out but year, and refuses to examine anything, why disturb has accounty? If he can be noticed to the control of t rest by noticed is these columns, and the volume now before The Tree or h of lafe."

at work of a urse is hard to deny the privatege of a pathongrat was at , but on the other hand as great was a ad charm it lost when it other accords no high as to be intirely int a proper to the real of vision ries on a approximate to if so the terral control of the control of the significant of the second The Bonner of Light of May 2nd, is very rich in records of spirit ration, and in which ordinary analogies and notapinous are repeated over and over again with endless alight variations.

The present rolance account to us to partake so largely of the fatter character that the genus of real poetry are few and far between. Hardly in a single page does the writer's muse appear to rise to the local which the negatical randor has a right

I study of the contents, and of the titles of the successive goet at a affore say and cline to the mean idea, the writer wishes to E note on The left of nelf-demail, the way of "The Cross," comes first. That is closed by a dreson

" Did I dream-that long ago Thou and I were one "

My chain Ley r west To see these displaced wider

4 I am not campushed quite By mortal pain, Lefent on a tack of a Charles I be a action

" Captivity long borne, The resurregues more visions and the state of the language and break, The enphron shall go feee, In righteons liberty, When God the beavers and curth dual shake.

Then follows "The Resurrection," then "The Castle of the ol. an finally " The New Earth, to or The Tremph of Time," the writer second to us to merced heat when least mystical. For matance, there was given som in some stances entitled " Karly Love, though we as the h from I would be to new distance atome. but has any this story thank Tuesda and angle and some days were done I he only close a section To plack bright flowers where sucks the honey bee, To laugh again when waters laughed, for give , Oh 5 shall we ever that sweet Eden see 5 Lamoder whether-

Other passages of this kind neight be selected, but we feel Some to the and that the frequent introduction of sacred sames There may be moments of despoir, but the true matinetic of any mages association were larger express of secure make the world better. The tenescopy to good in far more officeron, believes a major recongruity out of harmony with peworful and unduring than any proposity to evil. There are the re-group mysticism which evidently unless the mind of the

> If a reloction could be made of the best passages from the three poems, a volume might be compiled which would often be turned to with delight by these who can appreciate both the alone and the language of the writer

Sexus of the Hamses and Deeps. By the Hon. Rollin Noci. Price, 7a. 5d. (London, Elliot Stock.) May also be obtained of The Psychological Press, 16, Craren-street, Portey is the first expression of man a awakening source and interpretation of natural objects and forces. In the childhood Monte belonging to the Spanish toverment. In the meantane of the world and of race, all nature, inorganic no less than organic as usually emergence to be coming and the expression of a h area or than one be percurved by the outward senses. An Garibaldi. The Pups, not being able to endure the thought of a ratural forces and phenomens, weither apparently beneficent such contiguity, has, in contequence, had the infallibility or adverse, are recognised as under the central of invisible column arected in a part of the Vationa gardens secladed from powers who may be made weathful or propition through the mortest it service if their worsh opers. Hence the fear or revenues of nature as divine is the beginning or wisdom. All men are born poets, for although only the few in any age lave both "the vision and the faculty divise," all have, in greater or less degree, the vision, or perception of the inner life and glocy underlying all appearances, when their prophets give expression to the inborn thoughts of the seem.

May 16, 1995.]

Poetry is the appropriate language of religion, whother regarded as spiritual or natural, for when the one Divine life is its higher aspects is recognized in all diversity of manifestation, hills are said to rejeace, trees clap their hands, stars star; thunders utler their roles, and winds and waves hear and obey the roice of superior will. So poetry, as it is the first and redimentary expression of religious feeling, is also the last and highest. For humanity, in its journey from the East b natural childhood, returns thether with all the inherited woulth of experience and of wisdom as a child of the Kingdom of are mountain, lake, and see, in two of these posses," Timbets anchantment from enation's face, puts on another and thicker subject that, in the words of a contemporary pool, his verse covering over the reality. There is no "Poetry of Science" as here yes, for acience is merely the imperiod interpretation and practical application of natural phenomena, " Whether there be show edge it shall ranish away, for we see in part and we know in part," but faith, hope, and love are eternal and anchange able, and are the subjects of all true postry

Of such are those "Songs of the Heights and Deeps," Their author has already won well-morited recognition as a true past by the ablest critics and the best known of contemporary pools and if he is not an yet so fully appreciated by the general public, he may well afford to wait as others have waited a new sames are now household words. The heights and deeps as 1, 1 on volume are both mond and physical. The " Lay of Circlination. with which the book opens, is a "bitter cry" in prophet tomas can of the depths for morey and pity on the oppressed and belyless, not alone to God, as God is usually understood, but put ad an man; to what is holicut and must omsposionate in the despet and highest nature of manhood-yet a cry of hope and meatrence that the dours will obtute fulfilment · Through mystic change, or swift or slow, Witten the general lances, seel to ours, Faith's leasticulate reason may graw rious. Pair utterable viscon the wild dance, The strange phantoomagory of ill dream, Named sig and sorrow, tony appear birth-patter Of file constitution else impress de Therefore, done birds, in leafy woods ye warble, And you my clubbeen, by the availed Play, laughing merrily, because the world In second at heart, howe'er it seems to all. Lol-fronted, dragon-trained, 'tia last a marrol Inango in settle, who travail yet ungrown, Who, raffiel, slowly waver into red.

The more thought of the unborn, underlying rost such blossedness of eternal life to be revealed to thus more fully expressed in the poon " Susperia":-

" Is the world a welter of dream, with sever an end, nor an issue. Or doth Use weave Durk Night with Morning's golden strand. To a harmony with sace hand?

Ab! for a whole of Goll for a mighty grasp of the real,

Foot firm based on granito in place of crambling sand O to be face to face, and heart to boart with our dearest, Lost in mortal mists of the narevening land Oh I were we disembralled from casual month of the outward, Staves to the smile or frown of tyrant, mutable Time Might we alide unmoved in central deeps of the spirit, Where the mystic jewel Calm glown eversore sublines The dizzying shows of the world, that full and tumble to chare, Dwell graduate there is everlasting prime. The tunermost spirit of man is one with the Universal.

O'er the actaking latent, drawning old, and the mindless Their individual Sparit glows cuthround in Heaven, Albeit at dawn, or even, or from confusion of cloudland, Earth of their full radiance may remain percayen Yea, under God's grand eves all soals lie pure and shriven.

Discover but thy task, ombrace it firm with a purpose, Find, and hold by Lore, for Love in Eternity.

That here-worship, even when the horost are soythead witnomes to the innate, abiding love of courage and goodness in the human heart, is thus fittingly expressed in "Tintage!

"I deem that in those clouds of the diss past Tall, godlike forms loom verily , with us

Dwell souls who are not less imagnatimous They jum, yet only to be self-fulficted ; They pass, yet only as the A.I hath wi led, To en or on they followarded beritage, Were righteened and money cans ware to wage . And it those become were out. hen the mind That holds high visions of a estimate kindis any more bure maghe overmos and waves, And toyeller tunn emetals floors of cuves Nature Hemeil in he high attenues Of hely goth; we, half-awake in trance, Hea it confused through some half-upon door We bear an awful muraur, and su jours , We are under some enchantment, lift the spel . What mortal then the worst rous take may tel-

The heights and deeps of mature of which the post mags Heaven. Science, so far from withdrawing the veil of and "Susperie," the rhythm is so well fitted to the nature of the

> A great commanding motion, Heaving and swelling with a metody Learnt of the sky the over and the seean, And a che pure, augustic things through

Melelic, the longest poem, is pregnant with suggestive bough roong is a more work of vinces, which, like the ages so full of standows early og of real-ties which only beome clear, see we en Christ orrore. Bucis, a the perfection of man a true boing. In a note the author says that "though it as to be read primarily as a facey tale, it is intended to convey a further morning. Only that is not to be sought in every dutall, because I think that is all works of art, the story, form, or concharge goes ment of whatever kind, ought to be paramount, and the minor agnificance only haplieft, or auggested. The was or or apoctator, moreover, has cause for complete if the and abound, by pror-maintained on this latter element, forceline the right of all to find disir own lesson or algorificance in a work of art. Harely didnetic art there cannot be, But there should be more in a pount of that kind than the maker ever put there. . . Time and place are not respected in the world of enclosement, which is also that of Thought, who no all Creation Miss. Bicitatuse Mess Rections we deliver as first account of this year's notion on Summy next, 17th May, at-Konstanton Town Hall (High-street, at 7 , at The discourses will be emission on the follow. Southeys. As Mrs. Richneto. has not yet arrived we cannot autounce the subject of the fine discourse. The titles of the discourses for the following Sundays will be duly announced.

Spengry ros Paventeat Reseauca, .- A general mooting of this Society will be hold on Fralay, May the 29th, at the Rooms of the Society of British Artists, Suffolk-street, Pall Man Landon, S.W. The chair will be taken at 8.30 p.in. The meeting, which will be partly of a converentional character, is meaning, whose will be party of a convenitional character, it open to members and associates, who are at liberty to first friends. Papers to be road 1, Edmund Gurney, Esq., and Frederic W H. Byora, Esq., "Some Higher Aspects of Momentum "2. R. Hodgeon, Esq., "Final Report of Alleged Theorophics." Phenomena. "Members and associates who so in too on writing their names at the dears. Persons a or no not belong to the Society will be admitted on the prometron of an invitation eard, duly filled in with one or more mines, and signed by a member or associate.—Enward T BENNEY, Scoretary, 14, Desc's-yard, Westminster, S.W.

A CLERGYMAN ON MACKETIAN. - Physicians tell us that the bring human body is the receptacle of a certain modification or electricity, which, in action with the nervous system, is called no and magnetism that has in passing from one to another unguet cally conveys conperatore, tooling, oron thought. This is felt by exopte when they are in very namest converse. It is y dain magne and that the enter actor act a management hold their nudicines spell sound. People are harmotoses or repelled in properties to their capits y for me stally received and importing this imagnetic temperature. injuring this inguetism. Whist the magnetic temperation is latest the it souly lighty reveloped in some in these anter no eyes three and could do. The enginetic constitution acter to eyo a trace and reace that I in anguest constitution a favourable import all perce that in this who has it the wall as carrier, an from the immeen works in its development and matching is favoured by meditation and prayer. The forces of this spir had world more such once and prayer. The forces of the approximation of there, so can't drey can impart magnetically the gate to do which they have received for men. The thoughts, feed go looks, words actions of such will be powerf over their follows by virture of their special magnetic constitution and their cultivation of t. Rev. H. R. Rawkes.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHS.

By " Late "

I have had many, through Mr. Hadson, that, to myself. are absolute tests, but one is so remarkable that I will relate my experience.

During my séances for spirit photograph with Hadson, I often longed and prayed mentally that a gross might come upon the plate with myself, but though many took came when I set, the cross did not, and as Hudson was going to more much further away, I tenred all chance was over of my getting the longed for cross, when my hat nitting with han (as I than thought) passed over without it.

A day or two afterwards, an extraord-nary longing serzed me to go once more to Hudson's, though I knew he was to move that very day , but so powerful was the feeling that I went. I found han, but overything was ready packed for removal the following morning

I told him I had come for a utting. This he declared to be impossible, everything being packed up , but, as I would not be demed, so superched his apparatus, and I mat for my photograph, having previously watched the hosty preparations made for it and the sussequent development of the plate, when lo! just over my head was a beautifully clear, large white erom

I will not trouble you with my feelings on seeing my silent prayer at lest answered. But, when the levely cross appeared, I thou, for the first time, tok! Mr. Hudson of it, and the poor or many sweight was unbounded.

SPIRIT INTERVENTION

(Extraorsh Prox the Spiritual Offerner.)

Thirteen yours ago Mr. Samuel South, of Rockford. l'linous, a medium, was staying with us, accordance occaand as dy younger and Larry endered the room, and while posstang at a under a races to " Post coy will be none dying in a few days, not by sickness; but he worther. At that time I did not much heed such predictions. A week sater the water of the house had, we thought, an ill taste, so we fixed a day for the water to be purposed out and the well to be cleaned. On that day I was earlier apone or make a pure ex no the work had to whell and washes ross don dor uncertaints to belgar my culey so more forms. I charged toom to let down a sighted entally to the of theorem the well was respirthe sefere either of men got it it. This is a chain was unheeded, the water was pumped out, the pump removed and Harry was let down with the bucket for the cleansing. down, and seeing him holding his bands above his bead, spirit friends to come into close contact with hom and bring their psychical force into action in and a out him to the effect thus described, for which we fest inexpressible thank

ADVICE TO INQUIRERS

The Conduct of Circles.-By M.A. (Ozon.)

If you wish to me whether Spiritualism is runlly only jugglery and impositive, try it by personal experiment.

If you can get an introducion to some experienced Spiritualist, on whose good faith you can rely, ask him for advice , and, if he is holding private circles, seek permission to attend one to see how to conduct someon, and what to expect.

There is, however, difficulty in obtaining access to private circles, and, in any case, you want rely chiefly so experiences in your own family circle, or amongst your own friends, all strangers being excluded. The bulk of Spiritualists have guined conviction thus.

Form a circle of from four to night persons, half, or at least two of negative, passive temperament, and preferably of the female sor, the rest of a more positive type.

Sit, padtire and negative alternately, secure against disturb ance, in subused light, and in constortable and unconstrained positions, round an uncovered table of convenient size. Place the palms of the hands that upon its upper surface. The hands of each sitter need not touch those of his neighbour, though the practice is frequently admited.

the not cleave rate attention too fixedly on the expected manfemalisms buggles in cheerfu but not to mous conversation. Avoid dispute or argument. Bespticium des no deterrent effect but a litter spirit of opposition in a person of determined will may maily step or decidedly impede manifestations. If conversation dage, music is a great help, if it be agreeable to all, and not of a kind to irritate the sensitive our. Patience is essential; and it may be necessary to meet tax or twelve those, at short intervals, before anything occurs. If after such trial you still fall, form a (reserved to domest the reason of your fallow, eliminate the take accounts elements are attendate others. An hour should be the may of an unsuccessful sounce.

The host processions of success usually are a cold breeze pro-ing the lie while, with mentioner weight, of the hands all attime distinge of non-street, and a sensation of throthing, in the table. These repeators, in firs a plat as to cause doubt as to their read a wife usually develop with more or loss rapidly.

It is to so not us, let our present a be at greate on the surface that an are sure you are not are my standards. After some time in a probably high that the paperages will continue if your ustilly are mad use but not in commet with it. The not however es discound the movement is assured and be in no harry to get

When you think that the time has come, but more one take compand if the coloured act as spinestern Farman to the unwent intelli ware that an agree code of agrees a des able and ask ast a tomay was en as the ambases is along a repeated at the several letters which form the word that the Intelligence wishes to specify to one or count to use a conjectify the No, three for the,

When a sansfar ory communication has been established, ask I you are rightly placed and if not what order ros should ake After this not who the face opened purposes to be when of the company is the medical and once televant message. If con a common rection ascent a to the office y that exists a street of the movements at his, with exact time. Patience will remove this, if But he quickly called out, "I am sick." Edgar looked the case a cards continuous of the ta-gence is speak - th vist. If you once extends amounted at first that it is promothe to areak well an intil gence se wrate from that of any person pre-down, and seeing him holding his hands above his head, guided the cope into them, he grasped it, and Edgar quickly had him up. When clear from the well, Harry fell to the ground anconscious. But he gradually came round. On my return next morning all this was reported to ms, but Harry was quite hunself again. We tried the air in the well. I lowered into it a lighted torch, Edgar a lively chicken, he drew the chicken up dead, my torch went out when three or four yards down. So we let well-cleaning and one of the day.

The same evening, Harry's hand, for he is a medium, was controlled to write, "Judge, I told you thus bey would come near dying. Well, I holped to save him. We entranced him, and kept him above in the well; we made him hold the rope law, and helped him up. Legar here save, life feltinght in disconnect to pop up."

In this incident toy view is, tout the boy wing a medium of the head, in or alougt him, a clement which made the head, in or alougt him, a clement which made the head, in or alougt him, a clement which made the head, in or alougt him, a clement which we had a south to the spirit friences to come atto close contact with him and tory their psychical force—to nection head a south to the other psychical force—to nection head a south to the other of the desired force in the nection head a south to the other of the desired force in the nection head a south to the other psychical force—to nection head a south to the other of the desired force in the nection head and a south to the other psychical force—to nectoon he and a south to the other psychical force—to nectoon he and a south to the other psychical force—to nectoon he and a south to the other psychical force—to nectoon he and a south to the other psychical force—to nectoon he and a south to the other psychical force—to nectoon he and a south to the other psychical force—to nectoon he and a south to the discontinuous account and the south has the research and the psychological force—to nectoon he and a south to the control of the psychiate fr of one cd you you rively. In thate a reverent sente for what is pure good, but true You will be repeat if you gut only a well grounded conviction that there is a the after death, for which a pure and good life before death is the best and whose preparation.

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

May 16, 1883.1

investigation, have satisfied themselves of the reality of some of the phenomena generally known as Psychlest or Spiritualistic.

belief for knowledge.

President R.A.S.; W Crackes, Pollow and Gold Medaillat of the Boyal Society; C. Varley, F.R.S., C.E.; A. E. Wallace, the eminent Naturalist , W F Harrett, P.R.S.E., Professor of Physics in me ly a timege of Science Dublin of Jacklins Robertson The J. E. hotson P. a. S. sometime President of the Royal Misest and Chirargical Society of London " by dessor the Morgan manetime President of the Mathematical Society of London , "Dr. Was telegory I I S I nometime Professor of Chemistry in the I process to of Equatorists "De. Ashburner, "Mr Butter, "De. Herber Mara & has as de *Professor F Zor ser of Jenjung author of Transcendental Physics " &c Professors ( T Feetiner, Scheibner, and J. H. I her of Legacy Professor B & Web oil Corangen l alcour Hafman of Wa charg Protessor Pett a berne Profession Wagner and Bustered of Petratuary a tolerance are and Males of a S.A. In Hollert Pinne of Arcelou, Mon-Camille Lummarion Advancages &c. &c.

LITERATURE. The East of Deprayon; T. A. Trollope. S. C. Hall : Gerald Massey | Captain E. Burton Professor Cased, Li.D.; "Look Brougham; "Lord Lytton; "Lord Lynd Arribachap Whate's 'Dr. E. Chambers, FICKE; "W M Thursday "Various Sensor "George Thompson 'W Haw II "Serpount Law "Mrs. Brawning; Rot. Roden Kool, Bishop Clarks, Blade Island, U.S.A.; Darius Lyman. U.S.A. | Professor W Denton | Professor Alex Wilder | Profamor Hiram Carson; Professor George Basic; and twenty-four Judges and ex-Judges of the U.S. Courts; Victor Huge; Berna and Raminess von Vay "W. Lloyd Garrison, U.S.A. 1 "Hon. R. Dale t wen U.S.A. "Hon. J. W. En south, U.S.A. Epes Line Sargent "Baron du Potet "Count A de Gasquein "Burus L. de trablenat true &c. &c.

SOCIAL PORTION.-H. I. H. Nicholas, Duke of Lauchtenberg; H. S. H. the Prince of Solms; H. S. H. Prince Albrecht of Solms; *II. S. H. Prince Emile of Sayn Wittgemetata : Hon. Alexander Akaskof, Imperial Conneillor of Russia; the Countries of Cuithness and Dockerse de Parant; the Hon, J. L. O'Sulb an someoner Mishter of U.S.A. at the Court of Lishon , M. Favre-Clavelton, late Council-General of France at Trieste; the late Enquerors of "Rumin and "Prance; Providents 'Thiers and 'Lincoln, &c., &c.

WHAT IS SAID OF PSYCHICAL PRENOXENA

J. H. FIGHTS, THE GENERAL PRISONDENTS AND AUTHOR. by the charactering may age all and any excited out from the courter of a day and my out to out traditionally? The great fact of Spiritualists is not should be added.

faculties to show the au his addresses himsel - guit or man be most

TESTIMONY TO PSYCHICAL PHENOMENA.

The following is a first of eminent persons who, after personal rending states in these the author of the rending of some of a modern Spectagolant 2 are by and Security 1 are in Najare 1 are in the personal personally known as Psychical or Spiritualistic.

N.B.—An autorisk is profixed to those who have exchanged elief for knowledge.

Science.—The Earl of Crawlord and Balcarres, F.R.S., reident R.A.S.; W. Crooker, Pollow and Gold Medalilist of the Boyst Society; C. Varley, F.R.S., C.E.; A. R. Wallace, the mineral Naturalist, W. F. Herrott, P.R.S. R. Professor of Physics and and not no distinguish with only persons. That he may be a first and and for the solution of the same and and not no distinguish with only persons. That he same allows a present, and, by many of a supple code of signing and the last a target of Science Publish. The Jackhart Rubertyan.

Another the and the last do not eliminate lique.

In a case, is there if 1 is 4. Another do price in the dimensional property of the second case does not any low and making of the second case of the seco default the unit to after the conyear Architecture Franciscous and Superson to the arthur they are not to the matter of the authors has any accent to accept to the architecture of a contract and the property of the authors has any accent to accept the accept to the acceptance of the acceptance inspired by the control of the contr

replaced which is the last from to decay them it decays:

A SHE of Switch War is 1 IS Silvery content. Therefore he shall be discontinuous and began distinction in the center of the new former and in the center of the center o

Let design a larger of the second sec

Programs Charles, the Late Pri may as Programs to the work is the Distriction Society's Report on Surfitness, page and the series of the programs of the series of the ser

PHENOMENA

Medianis, who are the macro mais of an external agency. have, more than once, bein confronted with conjurers who decrees by sleight of hand, and in the same manner

I no e in of science who has thoroughly and fairly investigated the phenomena has failed to become conmeet of their real ty, so no conjurer who has been confronted with the same facts has been able to explain their occurrence by prestudigatation. Houdin, Jacobs, Bellackup, Herman, Keliar, and others have already confessed tirde powerisomers to produce under the same conditions

Testimony of Robert Roudin.

The Margole Endes de Mirville pu d'abed during the t for me of Honem two letters from the latter, in his 6 Memory andresse a MM as an abi bill have a Seconds Morales et Portiques, sur un gent mand phononieurs morvilleux pat a no go amout la Rengion. In Science, et les housies du Monde," in which the conjurer confesses his male ty to explain the phenomena he wit- of ignorant conjurers, I feel it my duty to show up the had nessed in the presence of Alexas, the clurrosa. A second sounting account is given of M. do Mirvillo's voit to Hond a absolutely introducerthy. If we would rightly judge of a long for the purpose of rugag g ham in this investigation, of the we get understand it, and norther the portion styles the cost latter's configence in his own andity to detect the rick, and of what took plate at the senses, the conditions of which were entirely under Hand as control. This account extends a sincere Spiritualist, I offer that the medical said to the tends over twelve pages, and its assures is confirmed by Hand a in the first of the documents now translated -

Atthough very far from near a consider which M. - Is good an eigh to heatest upon in, and especially indist and I am not place committed to ope as a cither or favour to the find a control of an experience of the referent from the state of a court to the state of the sta the summer in the Halle, the need in pe the home to make the of property of * ROBERT INCHAS

P-Rh May, 1817

A fortught later, M. do M rvi to received another letter. In which the following, referring to another sisting, on a post of a self-sense of that it is affectly composable extent of a post of the a sense of a seaso for a self-sense of the sense of a sense of statute 1 authorized you make not in the work of infrastructions fermine fermine products des an account overstation were in your next intuitive, if agree All teaters and them I is not be a mindle

School Robert Hounty

1 May 16th, 1847

Textimony of Harry Koltar

Harry Kellar, a distinguished professor of legerdemain. I ver ested the sale out it, do not a which wanter to The personer of Mr. P. . on at Ca., In, probability 1885. and on the 25th of that month he are seed a letter to the editor of the Ladian Dady News, in which he said -

In your more of the 13th January Lattice that I should in good of an opening man, of partir are up to a sense, with a view of group is incommend. Interested a smether in my cupie a if a a fermion present at the control of a natural ex dancate or though the episations for api include. I am subdited to the came say of M. E. a torothe appritualistic modume now in Coleman, and of his look, Mr. J. Mengana, for affording me the a serial by Leras st

"It is needless to my I want as a scoptic, but I must own that I have come away atterly unable to explain, by any mature. means, the phenomena that I witnessed on Tuesday aroning. I will give a brief description of what took place.

After describing several successful experiments, Mr. Ketlar proceeds : -

" he respect to the above manifestations, I can only my that I do not expect my account of them to gain go rend cumutaness. I still remain a sceptae as regards Spiritualism, out 1877

WHAT CONJURERS SAY ABOUT PSYCHICAL. I repeat my mability to explain or account for what must have been an intelligent force that produced the writing on the slate, which, if my somes are to be relied on, was in no way the result of trickery or sleight of house

On the 30th of the same month Mr. Kellar eddressed another letter to the Indian Daily News, reporting some experiences of another kind with Mr. Eglinton, and regarding which he saul :--

In conclusion, let me abite that after a most stringent trial and strict screeting of these wonderful experiences I can arrays at no other conclusion than that there was no trace of trickery in any form, nor was there in the room may mechanism of muchinery by which could be produced the phonomena which had what necess without he non intervention in the presence of taken place. The ordinary made by which Markelyne and other very matrite levitation or the floating test could not possibly be a me the role in which we were amounted."

The Testimony of Professor Jacobs.

Professor Jacobs, writing to the editor of Licht, mehr Licht, April or vist reference to shemmen which occupied Pars through the Best ers Day more said -Sen fits toward him may be bone to any of the factly of one party and the circumsty of the other. All that has con said or done adverse to those American mediums in print an age to most once are a town and the science harm a top memorine to spread a vital repute. by the tien bruthers were abulately true, and belonged Very tem on Rec How who extremel agree and a to a made of the electric metal and company is in in facility are delicion to transpare are a fifther mater the projection was a first to the first and of sale personne. gentlemen. If (as I have every reason to keps) the psychical was not which I am applying nivelf at this time, accord, I at a sale outabash clearly, and that by public demonstraper top any more large of doquerestion which reparates mediumintie phanomena from conjuring proper, and then equivocation will be an larger possible, and persons will have to yield to eviterm or many to much predicter tannations to deny . . . . .

From his no scale of the learned chemist and noteral to how ther Mr. W Crouken, of London, I am now in a your They towarder to be been this actuer as automatica to a me plainly, and by purely econtrile methods, the inte to your day do.

Testamony of Samuel Bellachtet.

Samuel 12-1 on Court Con news as Berlin, made the fullow no description in Decreaser, 180,

"I here y dec are it to not a man action to give deciare organot' pure the or ective more performance of the You'd ear income. Mr. Henry Slade, after only one sitting and the lines on the man in . After I had, at the wish of several highly estooned goutlemen of rank and position, and also for my was interest, tested the physical mediumship of Mr. Slade, in a series of sittings by full daylight, as well as in the evening in his bedroom, I must, for the onke of teath, hereby costily that the phonometal occurrences with Mr Slade have been theroughly estantiated by me with the minutest observation, and mrestigation of his surroundings, including the table, and that I have not on the mutilest degree found anything to be produced by means of prestingulative manifestations, or by mechanical apparatus, and that any explanation of the experiments which look place under the circumstances and conditions then obtaining by any reference to prestrdigitation as absolutely impossible. It must rest with such men of science as Grookes and Wallace, in London , Porty, in Berns ; Butlerof, in St. Petersburg, to sourch for the explanation of this phenomenal power, and to prove its reality. I declare, moreover, the published opinsons of laymen as to the ' How ' of this subject to be premature, and, according to my view and experience, false and one miled. Taih, gradence. If any eight house before I should not have sensed my declaration, is signed and executed before a notary and with anyone who described such manifestatesse under marker cir- neares. - (Signed) SAMUEL BELLACHES, Berlin, December 6th.

Light:

A Journal of Psychical, Occult, and Mystical Research.

" Ligary Mone Lione" - Cortic.

" WILLTEVER MOTE MAKE WASHEST IS MURT PANE

No. 229 .- You Y

SATURDAY, MAY 23, 1895.

PRICE TWOPENCE

CONTENTS De Robinser om Antimal Magnetium 212 Passo, a id Statter Historich Mad. er. 24.

3a be band Pallister 2-ber ber 2.

3a be band Pallister 2-ber ber 3.

4a be band Pallister 2-ber ber 3.

4b construction by Chirologo Likeop (2.2)

4c band and an include term 2.

4c band an include term 2.

4c band and an include term 2 gra, hij I frie his merketern 24h Lie bain gran Pay thing Rescarch as M. Letterhou 247 understood that Ly cam accept no responsibility as to the itself there is but a step, if we can cause symptoms to disopenions expressed by Contrabutors and Correspondents, appear rapidly, why should we not cause the natural disease Free and courteens discussion as invited, but soritors are itself to discippear by employing the mine means with dione responsible for the articles to search their names are porsistency! Here is the secret of curnitive magnetism, in attached 1

OR REIGNIER ON ANIMAL MAGNETISM.

The following is a summary of two lectures delivered before the Union Magnetique, Paris, reported in the Roune First, what explanation can be given of the fact of a subject Species of May :--

The bixtory of what we new recognise as anumal inegretum gues far back into the past. It was the basis one us, and their condition, of a patient, in such a manuar of the knowledge of the matented in the temples of asscirat-Egypt, and the source of the power of magi, sylph, explanation can be , ven of the fact of a soudd by mig pythoneurs, oracles, and prophets phenomena known up to his day, and upon them con peractly and minutely describing them? arrected a dectrine. He taught that many of the phenomena presenting themselves in so-called magical cures, were existenced and that it can for a time leave the body to enalogous to those mused by the leadstone (mayner) and he which it is united, travel, and perceive according to the substituted the term lummin magnetical for magical. He magnetizer's will 1 To me it seems that semie of those fants physician of Holland, performed so many cures by anunal laborated. These psychical facts indicate that the soul can magnetism that people cailed him a magician. Releasing seguine independently of the leasin-ter earthly median or and other physicians followed him with success.

but in his practice he made use of adventitions processes and their causes the human souls that amounts out y him. After him, as at present, the practice was followed Cause of all causes-God! without any adventitions, process.

Paris, acknowledged, in the "Dictronuate des Sciences morning, parl that she had been drowning that her eleter, or Medicales," the facts of the subject, but disputed Mesmer's the contract was been a hour face tory red. By post the doctrine of the transmission of a fleeds, or force. The same ever or were a suic that suit is was taken ill equally communit Dr Bertram followed him in agreement as a dream of hearing stops of a n on the starr, any than on to the facin, but contended that a finide did post from prince, the door, she saw a coffin being care or own and on operator to patient.

oxide of iron possessing the property of attracting iron, and years of era or a that this characteristic property can be communicated from it to bars or needles of iron and steel, which, if then surinto sheets with fine steel wire, and it is a successful treatlie would be well been must be with acquired fracture wo total non that the would be well been must day at a certain bour. He set his the would be well been must day at a certain bour. He set his the would be well been must day at a certain bour. He set his the would be well been must day at a certain bour. He set his the played it.

The phenomena of amount magnetism are of two kinds -physical and psychocal, in the former we have induced in catalepsy, trance, &c., presenting symptoms of natural maladies, and which induced states the operator can cause , to disappear rapidly without leaving the least trace. Such cases should form an important chapter in physiology [The Editor of "Latur" desires it to be distinctly \ w, from induced symptoms of a disease to the disease the changing-by passes or lapportion of hands with firm will—the character of the innervation of organi in an almorand state, and aiding the vir medicatrix nature—the natural healing power—to restore it to the normal.

With respect to the psychianl phenomena, lot me ask, of poor intelligence and no education going-after a few ragactle passes-into a state in which he describes the of page but an automat over follows. Secondly, what netised subject menta ly visiting remote parts of which he

In Europe, at the commencement of the fifteenth nover our have had any knowledged or the persons and century, Paracolaus, of Switzerland, collected the occult contents of houses, moree visited by him in the body, and

In such facts who does not see proofs of the soul's show that the soul had a previous existence, and had At the case of the same century Van He mont, a thon acquired knowledge which it exhibits when thus as security at

Towards the close of the eighteenth century Menner The psychical facts of annual magnetism arms it into appeared. His propositions embraced all that was then the domain of psychology, the selence which has reference known of the subject. He treated discuss sugnetically, to the intellectual faculties, their various manifestations, tanged with charlatury, this deterred many from following us which elevates us and enables us to conceive of a First

In 1825, Roston, professor at the Faculté de Médecine, Danson, -"J P W" writes that his wife, on wak ug one with searlet fover. Her mothe, once to over they she has had to the the set her wit have and "Aged 48. She was It is well-known that the leadstone (begins) is a native then in ordinary health and her age forty-six. She died two TRANCE .- A daughter of J Bonner, of Mariou, Penn., was mixed with spanns and apparently dood. At the expiration of pended at their axis, point north and south, indicating what two days feeble respiration was observed , she continued to is called the magnetic meridian. The loadstone was used in breathe, but without consciousness, for twenty-six days, no the past on a medicine in nervous desorders; even down to water. From that the sea gradually returned to her usual the present century it had advocates among physicians of Jet and has gained strength to get about -- Bonj Ranck. European note. In the modern system of Metaliotherapia a famour of Fayette. II., fell into a teamed while it, and is included the application of magnetised needles worked remained in a for several hours. On recovering, he see that they of 1866]

MR. THOMAS PALLISTER BARKAS, F.G.S.

less recently appeared in the Yenenstle Economer.-En. or mequally well known, through his lectures and writings, to a sea of and women supernaturally mappined, modern Psychology is on the increase. has its numerous disciples, many of whom are man of For more than forty years Mr. Barkas has been a culture and position, and an abounding literature, and in frequent and popular lectures on scientific and literary the North of England Mr. Barkan is its recognized head subjects in Newcastle and claswhere, and within his this sketch solely as illustrating the coress of Mr. Barkas, always clear and precise, we have an some are dualing , and we may take consider to my that, apart from was greatly drawn to see to and frary stance, and the headed and self-relant North countryman.

dwelling-house over the Coach and Houses, now being re new discoveries and speculations. Indeed, he seizes these be it my Mesers. Enintridge and Co. as as admitted to their with all the actour and enthusiasse of youth, and frequently extensive premises. Bic father, William Barkas, was a in his real stands up for a movel theory long after it Las partner in the firm of Pullister and Barkas, budders, been generally disconlited and and even departed from by Marshall's-court, Newspite-street, and interty in High its original parent. The litestrates the singular youthfulness Frarestreet, and his mother was a daughter of Mr Thomas of his much, if I may be allowed the phrase, and the courage Padiator. His first tracker was Mr. Joseph Cowell, who with which he holds to his openious in spite of the ridicale ultimately became a town musicaary. He afterwards at , and hamorous laderage of his friends and critics. This tended the classes of Mr. Ambreco in Produce-street, and has been singularly manifested in the quest, yet successfully Means. Richardson, Ronton and Wilson, in Laboratroot, steadfastness which has characterized bus in his relations Contemporary reports speak of him as having considerable to modern Spiritualism. Severe criticism, ridicule, and aptitude for learning, although factined to be indefent. In even charges of quackery have been few over at him for a 1835 he was apprenticed to Ralph Potts, foreman to Mesers | period of nearly thirty years, without has an the angle of Pullister and Barkes; and his father (who for some that had been the acting partner in the firm) dying a few months. after, he suddenly found himself at the head of the establighmont, as Mr. Padieter took Attle interest in it then H. carried on the business for tan years, and maintaines on brother and two sisters. In his leisure time he devoted him self to literary and actoutable studies, and is 1843 be on tered on a leaturing tour throughout the country. In 1846 he purchased the bookselling business of Mr. Robert Flotoher, and energed it on successfully until 1870, when he farther hardwarding room there cannot, I think, be the slightest disposed of it, and joined Mr. Twoody in the lease of the question. This being so, his calm and collected bearing Central Exchange Art Callery,

As uight have been expected, the entrance of Mr. Barkas and his partner on a lowe of the Central Exchain a suggestive of his placed temper that he has nover extered or marked at ern in the instery of Gra _ n n n interior. It was originally designed as a habitation for against the most sarcastic or severe among his numerous the corn luminoss of the North of England, but the erection to a talk and a man on a set was to the atarty of the Town Hall, and the provision made there for the and explanation of Spiritualism will show how cornect and convenience of the corn merclants, prevented it over being an intermittent his devotion to it has been. ut and for such a purpose. Previous to its rental by His first letter on Spiritualism appeared in the Newcassle Messrs. Barkas and Tweedy, a news-room, with a subscrip- Chromete in January, 1854, and was speedily followed by a in Newcastle and the North of England, the extent and on the subject in local newspapers, and in The Medium, value of which cannot be estimated. A permanent unhits tion of modern pictures and articles of serie is a feature of [The following a storesting sketch of Mr. T. P. Harlow the place, and special collections and pictures by the most connect artists, nieve and dead, are from time to time rabmitted to public view by the lesses, or by the best known In Newcoute, and a well district of country round art dealers in the kingdom. Mr. Tweedy retired from the about it, there is perhaps on man better known than the partnership in January, 1884, when Mr Charles E. Barkas gentlemms whose name is at the head of this sketch, and he was admitted a partner, and has since then taken the to management of the place. At the students of spiritual phenomena all the world over. Laugh present time Mesers Backes and Son have a subscription as we may at moneou, materialized spirit-forms, and met list of over 2,000 members, and the popularity of the place

We are not concerned here with the truth or falsehood of knowledge, it would be difficult to find a more capable or modern SpiritnaBam. It is our business to deal with it in attractive lecturer. His manner is good, and his matter is and so for as it throws light on the man with whom we are considerable. As a to the control of t his holists and labours in this special field of inquiry, he is opportunities afforded him as a booksaller were so theroughly in other ways an admirable specimen of your genuine hard ut used that it is semetimes said of him-with considerable a test who we have not present most start and Mr. Barkan is a genume Novocoutrian, having beet here have at a fe new a the kear energy of the past apression on his convictions and his modes of making them k now and about they may interest or concern. Speaking min a se of new changes we in her Barkan, mail from a of the said and was the track and and with so-called modern Spiritualism, I nuplicity believe in his housety and truthfulness. His sanguing temperament, singular in one of his years, leads a a to attach a lugher importance to manifestations than would be accorded y a more coldly critical mind, but of his throughout years of ridicule and trenchant criticum is to me a most remarkable characteristic of the man. It is equally as then an unknowly word, or shown the alightest irritation

tion list of a few handreds, represented nearly the total of series in the North of England Advertiser, to which there its usefu ness. By a more liberal provision of newspapers, were many answers by letter. These were followed by a magazines, and other publications which go to make up a series of twenty letters in the same paper, in reply to which first-class news-room for the accommodation of business men were many editorial articles and letters from leading correand men of leaver, and the matitution of interesting and spondents. In 1802 he published an octave volume, entitled matructive exhibitions—confracing social, educational, and "Outlines of Inquiries into the Alleged Phenomena of scientific subjects—the membership repully increased, and Modern Spiritualism," which was favourably received. the public were provided with a place of entertainment of a Botween that time and 1870 only occasional letters were class never before attempted in the town. First class rucal written on the subject. At the latter date, Mr. Barkes and instrumental concerts were also introduced, and with entered upon the investigation of the phenomena of the aid of Mr. John H. Amers as director and bundmaster, unterialisation of human forms, and devoted five years to an impetus has been given to the taste for high-class music their elucidation, during which period he wrote many papers

Spiritualist, Human Hatura, Banner of Light, and other percericals. In 1875 he entered on the investigation of ILLUSTRATED BY CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHY. psychological phenomena, through the mediumship of a nonprofessiona lady, and not with her for upwards of forty sounces of three hours each. The whole of the time was given up to questions and answers—the questions being asked for the most part by Mr. Burker, and the answers being written by the hand of the medium. The whole of the manuscript books in which the questions and answers were written are in his possession, and from it he has published elaborate papers in the Psychological Revers Human Hature, The Spiritualist, and elsowhere, as a last, of the well-known "John King," the and he is at present engaged in publishing full reports of leader of that "band" of "spirits" regularly these marvellons aconom in a London weekly paper entitled manifesting at economs held with the collaborated physicas "Licent." Three of those papers have now been issued and predium, Mr. Husk. As far as the circumstances the remusader will continue to be published at short under which the illustration is produced would allow, the intervals. The questions and answers have reference representation given in Pl IV is a portrait of the familiar to optice, accountion, music, the science of music, musical "spirit"—that is to say it resembles his usual features as state, &c. All the snawers were written by an im- medium is invariably to some extent preserved, "John King," well under similar conditions. modern Apocalypes.

free eght upon t. H. most as has a a form a to be is not a party man, otherwise is a sign with the My Barkas is a member of the I daman bony

Mixib Reaction: A young man of Lourain, M. Maintee, country, has achieved the same degree of parfection, other in sever cets years of age can been a man on, with marked accross the facility of finding board. It is breets at board of the hand of the board. He has how may be weare the board of the hand of the board. He has how may be a considered in the Psychological From 4, Are Mark-line, E.C. price to od demonstrations at the Large Skating Rank. For the allowed on roller for only cases in the particular of particular new particular and may be obtained of the second of t

PHENOMENA CALLED "SPIRITUAL" XL.

> By J. O. KEDLEMANS. (Continued from page 232.)

PLACE IV .- BOST OF JOHN KING.

I have here attempted to represent the apparition, configurate, execute to magnetism pay hology | by his seem when materialized through this medium. I must relogy, anatomy, pneamatics, beat, light, the fature mark that although in apparitions the type of the perfectly estacated woman, and Mr. Barkas is of opinion nevertheless, possesses characteristic features of his own, to the time and then or woman could answer the questions to which I will refer later on. I, some years ago, saw this identical "spirit" materialised through another It is not my province here to enter into any prouse in medium, and noticed a remarkable difference from the new as to the verity or falsehood of spirit manifestations, but I more usual exhibition through Mr. Hust. But may be allowed to express my regret that they have with before engaging myself in the contribution of a short drawn Mr. Harkae's attention to a large extent from the biography of this well-known "spirit," I must make the study of natural history, goology, and astronomy. Loctures observation that there are several semes-room "spirits" of and contys on these by him are familiar to me, which were the same name and table, appearing at almost every searceadmirable examples of what elementary teaching of such room, both in this country and in America, and who are, subjects abould be, in order to attract and retain the attent as far as I have been able to ascertain, all different tion of the young. He frequently lectures on these topics individualities, assuming or having been endowed with the still, but the engrossing attractions of Spirituation have same pseudonym. The confusion and misapprehension to greatly circumscribed his labours in that direction. True, which a similar abuse of nicknawing "spirits" has fed, must he still eweeps the sky with his telescope, and favours us, have often been full by many investigators. It impedes new and again, with any new or singular appearance he research, further encumbers the still perplexing difficulty of the pays the control of the start spaces, are another way to has contablishing the identity of adapted room "spirits," and, what one to a according a some cry of accomment is even more regrettable, the majority of those enigmatical Atmospheric phenomena command a consider a street beings actually prefer being addressed under some fletitious of his attention, and he rarely misses being "in at the name and title, rather than give a entisfactory account of their south," personally or by deputy, when shooting stars, past doings and the real mains they been in carth-life. Hence, motors, or a more than ordinarily brilliant Aurora Borsalis at a almost Impossible to obtain may satisfactory informs winate the midnight sky. But Spiritudism is his house | tion as to the antecedents of any sennes room "spirit" with and a friend of mine in speaking of his papers now appears. whom we may from time to time become acquainted. In in "Liouv" humorously dubs him the St. Thomas of a the case of the "John Kings" all protend to be "the baccancer who hved on earth during the reign of Queen As a man and a citizen, Mr. Barkag's record is beyond Lazabeth, whose name was Henry do Morgan, afterwards reproach We have now him, when mother and father Governor of Jamason, and who first manifested through the were caller awas man want, su could a stant, or has Davenport Brothers." As far as my own experience goes, Man, or appropriate description is they pass our of his the various "John Kings" munifesting or materializing helping hen " even after they were grown up 10 overs' through other mediums are, one and all, inferior or less m his favourite studies, in his younger days he rerely mixed developed beings to Mr. Husk's familiar guids. Judging bismed up with public concerns, but his fellow citizens had from the general truthfulness and the high significance of nucle a note of his especify to serve them, and about twenty his various communications, I am melined to accept his years ago he was elected a member of the Corporation, and own history of both earth and spirit-life, as being true as represented St. Andrew's Ward, until he was clevated to regards the more important facts. After the Davenports, the abtermente beach a couple of years ago. He is a rigid "John" bockme, so he says, "attracted" to mother medium. attender to the duties of his office as a representative of and the numerous spiritualistic marvels wrought by John the people in the Council Chamber and in commuttee, and, during these several years of this semitive's mediumsh p. although not so frequent a speaker as many of his confrères, have caused, perhaps, more interest and sensation he never cases to discuss a local or without there a would than any other spiritualistic phenomena proviously witnessed In this country. Certain it is that "John" can be traced from his earlier manifestations up to the present regular materienamed have compet a much make a open at pear of the word have every so media a public serva t as no a notice to proximate only person through whose mediumship the identical "John" reappears upon this earthly plane. It is besides an equally undoubted fact that no seance-room "spirit," as yet seen in this quality of materia stations or in power of direct voice; for although many other "form" manifestations may be equal a ng feat of speaking with such perfect intenation, whilst [ath ] appearing in the materialised condition

My presence at a series of scances, now numbering over 200, at which " John " made it's appearance, have enabled me to give a description of the divers wonders produced by (

cases where the mes are is seated round the table with the towards the centre of the table to justify the supposition. ... ... ... The probability of its being the recommendate and han breaths or your, whilst "Johns" oust moved at three conversation. In all probability this kind of form manifestar and appropriate and the service tion belongs to the same close or the most of an analysis for a heads which have frequently be a disc a a phase someon. Although the sight to be a sign for the perand more of a sea today a without a such a new terms reply to the not importance objection I would simply as some a rand of he are some, that the terms overes upon, natural laws, i.e., as laws known to the quasiunmiscient authorities.

An equality autopading foat often performed by "John partial diantegration of this "spirit's" temporary body, percapant intelligence. viz., that of his right look, which, upon request, was made slowly to diminish in size and sharpness of outline until it became totally invisible. On another occasion, after his hand had been removed from a landroug slate, I could notice its slow disintegration, not by decrease of quantity, but lost its distinct outline and gradually became more and perioned or facts? If this be so, the expression "A pro-disa custant wall, but being white instead of dark,

(To be continued.)

CORRESPONDENCE.

[It is preferable that correspondents about append their expression and countenance, none accompish the extoundthese must be supplied to the Elicor at a guarantee of good

A Flex for Unbellevers. To the Editor of " Lacur."

firs,-I have to thank those gentlemen who have so kindly this columnate, " sent all of which will, I hope, add some and courteously replied to my article which appeared in "Leour" f relies event the study of these automating phenones of April 18th, and if I have been assessment tardy in tendering "John" appears in the form of a limit in all such my thanks, my delay must be excused on the ground of absence

The only one of those repute that appears to see to call for circle. Sometimes the full form may be seen standing any remark is that by the well-known and able translator of behing the medium thus, however, at or exception, and only Zather, "G.C.M." Of course, I could not for a moment suppose occurs following an apparation of a best. My opinion is, that either he, or any other theroog! A work work that the best is only material so far as it can be noticed , concar with me in all I said in that article but lance name ready that shore is no "for form one forward, standing surprised to find that they are, one and all, with me in what I between the medium and the table. In many cases menut to be the chief object in writing it; I mean with respect to there would have been no room for a full form whom the composition comes from such a pen as that of to nature that position besides, the bust moves too for "C.C.M.," it leaves, I am sorry to think, but little hope of my

With regard to the process nature of faith, and the month! unide to stand up and lean forward, cannot be accepted as an processes involved in belief. It is but natural that there explanation, because the medium's hands are always held, should be some and even considerable difference of opinion. which preciation would not only preclude his movern, as feet. Psychology is, at the best, but a science of hypotheses, there ward direction undetected, but it would also grower the in hist even a general consensus of opinion is to the very meanitrangement of the despays round the head and shoulders an "", of the terms employed; and the operations of that milities after unposeds ity. I have on many occasions held the of physical science, and still more unlike the processes of mathecar of the folial of matter, which we call mind, malike those medium swent and passed my hand on he formatio, and beard matter proofs, are so recondite and complicated, that it is and from breaths or mone, whelst "John's" but moved at there a correspond to the queen business the feet distance in front of its. Once I heard media a and bust it can be found to a state of the mone to the mane con-

Y a nort from the remarks for CM " that the not a good a thirty or a way to be deeper age a weelf her infut a payful man bales a of other a west

defact to the, or stence, when the state of the area or and def not be overlooked (for with our builted know ere of a set took of what is possible or probable, so other words, I regard laws it is unexplanable), it need not stand in the spective, he as subjective. Possibly he may be right, the way of administration of a fact, because the resulty of that for mental includity is. I regret to may, only too common a fact our be witnessed by overy investigator, at phenomenon ; but in this case, and I do not think I am in al next every sensed held wit I task I have floorened by smore proper, I task "C.C.M." is wrong, and with often been rate adod by students a same that these all deference an great annotherity, I think I can prove a may ortan main rounded by statement of the process of t creature through so-called unitinary have is from a certain coption, projudice, probable, forms which are sufficiently point of new no nated at moto me a in a made . , accurate in their general meaning for ordinary collected tange, got a violation, but a deviation from if not an improvement when "C.C.M." speaks of processestions of the probable and the possible, at moons simply that there already exist in my much cortain beliefs and unbehels upon cortain subjects y w may odd those precescoptions if you will, but they are as much King" is the demoterialization enther of his full form or forms of behefus any other kind of faith, and are caused prehis bust. In ouch case the dropery varieties like smoke closely in the manner I have pointed out, vin., by the entited reand novor accumulates in pleats. I have also noticed a action of objective facts, or phenomena, upon a control and

The very terms, projudice and probable, when viewed in the light of their connotation, their only true meaning, point out this fact. A preparation is comething that has been padged before, and judgment always connotes the result of evidence much a discorpance mind.

See to a the way a probable and univolable. An improbable na in the provious case, but by a different process for which, thin, means that y and the loss and been proceed or as yet, we have no name. The hand grew in dinsension, tested, and how can saything be proved or tried if not by extuore cloudy, until it attained an enormous size, then lost Postton to ruject or believe "expresses as mapossible condition form and disappeared like mist before the wind. During of the mind. We can have no previous conviction, or preits latter stages it had the appearance of a shadow cast on disposition, either one way or the other, spon a subject of which of are there y ignorant, and he moment information sets in we begin to accumulate evidence, and the reaction of that oridence results in a heisel or disbolief of some sect, more or for the last and not for its accuracy. I only maintain that it is March, Mr Pease was not present the logitimate product of the two factors-mind and ordence.

May 22, 1682.]

Take, for example, a person whose mathematical knowledge is limited to the ordinary rules of arithmetic; ask him if he believes in the binomial theorem. He can give you no answer, results were not of such a nature as to carry conviction to the be has neither precenception nor prejudice, for he knows abso- minds of those who, however unbiassed they might be, were not lutely nothing about it. Then tell him that it is something in yet acquainted with the great facts of Spiritualism, .- Faithfully mathematics, by means of which you can raise the sum of two you quantities to any given power, my  $(a + x) \approx (24 + 25)$  to the girth power, without going through the ordinary long process of pultiplication. What then imposes ! He already has some beliefs proconceptions about the possibilities of muldplies. tion, and the new belief which he is called upon to accept clashes. with this existing behel which he has gained by experience, so that it is not unlikely be will disbelieve the other; at least, I explicable phenomenon which I should like briefly to record. The have found such cases. Of course, I am not justifying his throwning of a closer round the arm while the hands are justed densel may more than I do my own refusal to believe Spirit- of I frequent occurrence, and generally takes place in the dark, salism , I merely quote it as so illustration of my sesertion that, but it control once in my house in the light. Mr Herna was belief and unbelief are entirely outside our own relition, and the medium, and his hund was held at the time by one of our are both the product and the measure of the force of the leading business men, who called attention to the fact, and evidence brought to hear men would probably challenge on by giving me two numbers to leater wheat mark out, watching me while I did it, and then tenting the same by his own simpler process, the coincidence of the two results must, I think, result in convincing him that the theorem is true. The application of this example to the case of Spiritualism in mention is, I think, clearly obvious.

If I did lot Puncy encape from the bag I cortainly had no entention or desire of keeping her in ; but whother it be no untailoremel defect, or whother it he the legitimate process of logical renauting, I feel care that no evidence short of personal observation, which I suppose is the annual in question, and that, furtheuning, I must, and I griove to my it, carry my grey hairs with corrow to the grave, and wait patiently for the delerroscoment till I pass to the other side.

"O.C.M." observes that in nature "nothing is probable or Improbable." Here he uses the words in their accurate ment me and he is perfectly correct, since we cannot try or test phenomena before they have eccurred. At the same time if he uses the words as he employs them elsewhere he is not correct, for there are many though which are libely to kappen—the ordinary mage of probable-whilst there are others which is the same sense are upr rates. For example, it is not impossed the but it in highly a residual hat a many andy will ben an in the sir manuported. Why I Because I have a west juduoed by a vest experience, that it does not, and expert and, until I have other experiences as undentable and errofragable as the former, I must disholiore any statements, however numerous, that such phonomena do occur.

Lastly, "C.C.M." comes down on me with, what I emprose is arount to be, a mighty argumentum of hominem. When handle we what fraction of the cer populi I require, I simply roply by quoting an historic fact, so often used in these pages, for a very different purpose. A single, solitary must once americal, against the face of the whole world, centre meen populs token, that the world moved, and not the ears. Experience proved that the unit more was correct and the papel's wrong, though both populas and astronomer derived their faith from phenomenal experience; in the one case the phenomena were illusive, in the other conclusive

Zi, Benrestreet, Let. Kent.

S. W. WADSON.

The Seticity for Psychical Research and Mr. Egilatep. To the Editor of " Laury."

Sus,-My attention has been called to a letter from Mr. Posse, published in "Laune" of March Idda, wherein it is stated that "practically no phenomena of any acet" were obtained at eary of a series of senteen, with Mr Eglinton as A full account of the case alluded to by Dr. Wyld, of a ring medium, held about a year ago by himself and other members ; being placed round a medium's neck, was published in the of the Society for Psychical Research.

This statement is currect as regards five of the seances, but the remaining one was attended by good manifestations, raps being heard in various parts of the room. Further, one of the nations was touched on the shoulder so by a child's hand, and objects were moved about the rount.

less correct, or incorrect, as the case may be, for I am contending referred in the lotter which appeared in your laste of the 21st

Minor phonomena were obtained at those later seances, as Mr Eglinton has already stated.

Mr. Eglinton will, however, I think, agree with me that the

FRANKT ROSSES. 11, Staple Inn. May 12th, 1885

Passage of Matter through Matter

To the Editor of " Light

Six,-I have had some experiences in this wonderful and in americal must positively that there ontild be no doubt about it. In the case I have sited-a very simple one, I admit—the , He had more seen anything of the kind before, and was greatly

I have had iron rings placed round my arm. The not striking instance was at the Eddy's, in America, in whose house I spent a fortnight, witnessing phonomena every day, I as we full account of my experiences at the dine in the Resign-Philosophical Journal, also in the Mollow. William Eddy, the older brother, sits for materialisation only, and Horatle has a dark sounce, followed by a light one. The light scenes to possincted as follows. At one oud of the sentee room is a rooms formed by the projection of the chimney stock. A string is tend across, about five feet above the floor, upon which a too, of the most rigid and exacting nature, will ever convince shawt is lurny. The medium site with his back against the too, and me "C.C.M." tells me that this is not likely to be blawl, and one of the audience sits beside him, holding his hands, and the phenomens take place behind the shawl Musical instruments are played upon, and hands and arms appear, and on any one holding a cord and pendl, supported on a book, near the shawl, the spirit hand will take up the ponel and write, and threw the oard written upon towards the person is is intended for ; afterwards writing on other cards in the same way. I have cards written by this method that were mm we seek suches of my face in the full light of a a after our partners occasion while I sat boside the medium, a cauge and canathally white area was extended ever our shoulders and pointed to a ring that was lying on a table, and as its being brought forward, the spirit book it behind the alawl, and the next minute I felt a sert of galvanie shock and found the ring round my arm, although my hand was in alose contact with Hornto Eddy. The ring was made of I from and as it was lying about at all times there was simple opportunity of proving that it was not a trick ring but a genuine one. The important fentures in this case were that the manifestation book place in the light and that the agency star s more and pulpable. I had also, whilst in America, some remark sle experience with a box, illustrating the phonomera in mention a notailed account of which I gave in " Linux," No. 46, November 19th, 1881.

In the pressure of several persons, who all certified to the fact, a variety of beautiful flowers, two newspapers, and a photograph went into a box that was looked and scaled and the ad and sales united with guramed paper. It was proposed to by the experiment with a glass globe with no opening, but I could not procure much a thing, and before I could get one made I left Boston. The medium, Mrs. Theyer, seemed pretty portain it could be done.

The passage of matter through matter was of almost daily occurrence with the Davenpart Drothers, and as I was intimately associated with them during several mouths, I lead frequent opportunities of witnessing the phonomenon through their modiumship.

Being placed round a monthly neek, was promined at the Banner of Light about across or night years ago. I wish friend Colby would republish it. It would be of interest at the present time.—I remain, yours faithfully,

Eastbourne,

May 18th, 1885.

octs were moved about the room.

At the and the subsequent series to which Mr. Eglinton has

LIGHT

All Communications to be addressed to THE EDITOR OF "LIGHT." 18. CRAVEN STREET, CHARING TROSS, L.W.

S. ISCROTTON BATES.

The Arrenal Subscriptors for Lieuts, say free to any address unpoint the intest K ngalon, or a places concurse within the correlations, the most States and British North America, as 10s, 10d, per annulus, forwarded to our office in ADVERTISEMENT CHARGES received for assistant later D-

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC. "Igairz" may also be obtained from F. W. Altast, 4. Ave Macha-lane, London, and all Booksellers.

Diglet :

SATURDAY, MAY 23ub, 1885.

INQUIRERS AND INQUIRIES. By "M A (Oxon.)"

No I

There has been much our recently about the use of Spritagling, and of the difficulties of inquirers. Some nemerocrath use, and that inquirus find unreasonable difficulty in naturfying themselves on to the reality of its phenomena. And, no doubt, to some made Spiritualism is they want to know something which can be turned at money to wance of the Derby, a me to an ideal a great difficulty in satisfying their own much in the recomway (and they can entally them is no other way) of the reality of the or jects order onems of Spirituations. It is by no mesons true or e on fair to say, as so many frequently neen when each is dogmatically laid down as law. kay, that any one who will take the pains can easily satisfy houself. It a not given to overy jody to get to Corinth. I the most cornect desire, the most painstaking care, do not always intromit the observer within the charmed circle of phononeus, which are familiar to the Spiritualist. I do not know wily, perhaps the "Intel gent Operator at the other end of too hee" knows more. Dut so it is, and we must make the best of it.

I me ready, therefore, to acknowledge that Spiritualism has no uses for some markle, and that it is maccessable as a personal experience to others. "What is the use of a wi Spirituanum. If I were asked to cross a knife-edge networm two mountains, with a precipice on either side, I same shere menon with slates of my own providing." should say, "No, my head will not stand it," or, if I were offered some answer to a question, which answer postulater a knowledge, say, of the H girer Mathematics. I put it, "no nucleo in his mond into which such thongs will ki Mil. Bounten in Noubau Burg-gates 11, 2 Stock, Visuon.

fit." He has, perhaps, been bothered by injudicious friends, and so has set houself to "look unto" these matters when he had no better thing to do, on a spare evening , but he does not really want the thing called Spiritualism with its information, its himrer phenomens, and its inevitable upustting of previous ideas. He regards it coriously, impatiently, perhaps remainly, but he would never voluntarily have medicied with that all It is injusticious prose ytime, the is directed enthusiasm of some mind, that is so foll of its Five fines and under, St. One inch. at Column, $2 in. Page 24.

A reduction made for a series of insertions.

A reduction made for a series of insertions, the series of insertions may be addressed to the column race, prepared or unprepared, that has Enter a late or Ave Mariachine, K.C. at the column race, prepared or unprepared, that has choose an P of Other the column race of the state of the column race, prepared or unprepared, that has choose an P of Other the column race of the state of the column race of the column race of the state of the column race o vitality. The mental soil must have been previously prepared by a long course of tillage before the seeds can germinate, and even then the analogy respecting the few

> It is for these and kindred reasons that not all questions airily propounded about Spiritualium can find convincing answers. We do not know, we connot convey the desired information, or we are at a less cornelves by reason of contradictory information that we have received.

that come to fruitage holds good

But why should information or contradictory? Why should it not? The world of spirit would were to be peopled by bourge of infinitely varying grades of intelligence. We supply them, or some of them, correlves from this world of ours, and we know that it is so. We receive their answers, and we are confirmed in our opinion. Some know have been disposed to think that Spiritualizat is without little, and pretend, like any histrians, and amongst us, to page as countretent. Some have their definite week on the physical plane-materialization, for instance-and can no more answer abstract philosophical questions than the quite useress, as much so as spectrum analysis would be ( or meacont newly-entranchised farm-inhouser can expound the mysteries of proportional representation. But none the loss the questions are put, and the replice are contradictory, defined meaner or what ant-and this useful knowles at supernounce or ementially. Well, I could easily proposed a denied them. No doubt, too, some inquirers do find a a question we would control for that our transfery replies from, my, the Archiebop of Conterlucy, Herbert Spencer, Frederick Harrison, Tyndall, and Ingersoll. There is nothing atrange in variety or irreconcilability of opinion,

It is not quite reasonable that we should be asked to give an all-round reply to every question, or to reply cannot tell why, but this I know, that the best intentions, categorically to what may be said as to the understant of much that is heard and rend of in connection with Spiritualism. And there are further reasons, which will necessitate a further treatment.

> Az I rowmen in Blackburn desires to join some good sircle in that town, and also to correspond with any Sparitualist of experience who can give him matructivit.

Dinner Warriso,-M. Lyle, of St. Louis, Missouri, writes :-- " We have second un a medium, G. Y. Cordingly at new sum oney !" and france a to a sum he greated. It where states a been present. In full light, on slates held wil, grow and develop rate a been ar a pest to society, by him on the shealder of a atter, long messages have been according to the conditions of growth accorded to it. So written relating to things anknown to all present. I have had has to session at my own house, and have witnessed there the Hyry sents. Investmentons. -We have received a lithographes action from Herr Gustav Cousnann, of Vienna, in which he excuss to have use werey an improved hypnomospe. It will be we take knowledge of our readers that Dr. J. Otherowicz should say, "This is useless to me"; or, "This is not within | described in La Lumsire Electropus a little invention by which my comprehension . I have not the outcodent knowledge he claimed to be able to discover whether any given person as to understand and assimilate at." So it is with regard to hypothesis sensitive. By experiment, on persons of all condithe many problems that in selow the surface of what is to as taken at ransons, he found that the number of hypnotagenerically names Spiritualism. It is very easy to propound, note subjects was 37 per cent. Herr Gesauson, by an ingenious questions to which entire no answer is possible in our arrangement of four magnets, says that he aliminates several present state of existence, or which we have not adequate objections, and finds a larger percentage, vis., 35 out of knowledge to rouly to encountries or the absence of the objections and finds a larger percentage, vis., 35 out of knowledge to rouly to encountries or the absence of the objections. knowledge to reply to comprehensively or the answer to is no doubt a great improvement on hat of Dr Ochorovez which for querist houself has not the antecree t knowledge. The author will be pleased to send a ropy of his paper to those to understand. He may have, as Dr. W. B. Carpenter once who apply for it. His address in Herr Gustav Gesmann,

CLAIRVOYANT EXPERIENCE.

May 22, 1855.]

(FROM Le Memoger, May ler.)

Our esteemed friend, Dr. Waku, vouches for the trathful character of M. P., a dutinguabed retist, who communicated to him the following experience of his wife's that there must be many references to the subject which do not clairvoyance. She was a lady of great refinement and meet our opes. - Ec. or "Lacur"] munitiveness. Soon after their marriage he discovered that she was easily magnetized by him, and that in the magnetic sleep she was nightly laced. She went into the samp with Lacon of the day. The constraint was a she on page of the such facility that passes were not required be had only to exercise his will her eyes, if he so which remained open, so she might be in a state of somman values and no one but

He used to magnetists her for her kealth , and then by her month prescriptions and hygicale directions were given; the knowing nothing of medicine.

She would sak him to magnetise her and put questions. He once asked how it was that walls did not obstruct her vision ; she said, " I do not set. I forom."

When in the sleep she sometimes spoke of herself as if she were another person; for instance, she would my, " She must not do so and m; it will not be good for her." Between themselves they got to speak of this other person, although they know nothing of Spiritism, as the spirit.

Madame P. having more than ence, in the waking state, expressed unexciness lest this unseen individual might be tatorposing between her and her husband, he took an opportamty, when she was in the sleep, of explaining the situation to "the spirit," and through Madeine P a mouth it was said, "I am a sperit-friend, your wife must not be penions, I love both, and don're your mutual happiness." She was tranquil about this afterwards.

Once in a froliescens mood she semblied nonsenment words and unmeaning marks on a short of paper, and laughingly said, "I wonder if the spirit sould copy that I" He folded the paper, and put it in a drawer , then he put her into the sleep, handed her post and paper, and she quickly covered the paper with marks and scribble. On waking, they compared the two, and found them to be exactly slike.

Being pregnant, she told her husband several tlases, in the tragneter sleep, that he was to have a daughter. On one of these occasions he asked how she knew, and it was enid through her mouth "Sho sees the child." When the time came, at her own request, he put her into the sleep, and kept her in t until all was over. The andwife in attendance had to notion of her being in any but the ordinary state. When it had felt no pain-

It is some years since M. P. andered the grief of losing his wife through an accidental fall.

Dr. Wahu says, "I would remark that true magnetium is an action upon an incurnated spirit by another incarnated spirit, and is near, in religious degree, to Spiriture, in which there is the netion upon an incurrated spirit by a definearnated spect. In the case here stated, there was a cour dist tion of spiritual with magnetical effects

THE next Conversations of the London Speritualist Albanes will be held in the Banquering Hall, St. James Hall, on Thursday, June 25th at 8 p.n. (Regent-street Engance), when Mr. T. Shorter was de ver ab audress on "Mestern Spiritualism, the Progressive Development of its Phenomens MAGNETISM. History of crits as that the religious in different ages and countries observed various in sites of preparing the magnetic condition requisite for receiving spiritual influence fasting, sacrifice, innaic, riceruse, gazing it. gots and at mystals -the Urim and Theorem in of the Hebrews for instance. By some of, and as were experienced by the Hebrow prophets. The modes of important spirits of the hards gate, recalling contact of garments &c. The Hebrow prophets had schools for developing spiritual gifts. The Hebrow prophets had schools for developing spiritual gifts to enter the fact of garments &c. The Hebrow prophets had schools for developing spiritual gifts.

THE SPIRITUAL OUTLOOK. Talyzzz

[We shall esteem it a favour on the part of our readers if they will forward by for use in this column, any allusions to Spiritualism and Psychoal Research they may come across in the course of their reading. We see a great many of these ourselves, but it is abvious

The Ravised Old Testament, presented to Her Majesty and now distributed to the English reading world, has been a sen auplement English word Holl, and the substitution of the Hobrow Sheet. The other changes are not of much significance. The poetry of the Pasime, Job, Issaeh, &c., is printed in separate lines like other metry. The muncles and epintual manifestations remain intest. The world was made in six days, and the sup stood sam for Joshus to finish his fight , also smuol appears to Saul in presence of that angent medium, the Witch of

If the new happily revised ancrea volumes, oil and new can be aepended upon for accuracy of account, the startfall пальтемы на бран Сецеви С Воссилова метеди и ин изибо of cases, very sumfar to tunto we have at the present day. The Acts of the Apostles contain a series of microces which need just the confirmation that our present marrels give them. To a large extent, therefore, modern Spiritudian contradicts the cooption of materialistic scientists. Since mitacies de lappen now, they may have happened at any and all times. The writeing on a state with Mr. Eglinton is an atapendous a miracle as the writing on the palace wall at Ninevah. If our pressives had just a 1 to more a readerge th y would see here too present may confirm the past, and the past the present.

Lot me make one little remark as to the character of some manifestations In thirty old years of carolid investigation I have encountered one case of fraud, two or three lying spirits, and in two or three cases, rade, unmannetly, and violent mannfestations. I have had my chair suddonly snatched from under nue-which is not pleasant or polite. I have seen two mediums idently thrown upon the floor, apparently very narrowly company serious injuries. Considering the sufficies of rud. 14 orderly, dishonest, and inqueral people constantly passing ato the spirit world, I think it is wonderful that we have so few disorderly and disagreeable manifestations. H we kee hell out of our revised Bilde, we must be glad of Sheet and Gabrane As Christ preached to the spirits to prison it seems promise that Mr Spurgoun, Norman Hall, Henry Word Boother, and all the popular proschers may have a similar mission.

Dr. George Macdenald strongly recommended some "Letters from Hell," translated from the Garman. Many roaders have reducing been disconsented for the hell patronison by the Spot into meacher more use, and poet is a cole forgy wheoling was over, the child was found to be a girl, and the mother portage place, somewhat ke a High and given a a water Scottish mist, where people atoms for old escapades by getting into now ones. Dante has a tracen hall; but the hot, so phurous ones are most popular.

The "Latters from Hell" have seen reprinted in New York, and the Banner of Light notes that Dr. Maccound's entered object in pronoting its circulation is 'co tenso righteents age of the element of horrer But most severn includ have done three to warm, persecutions, and capital jumns. ment. The lappy thing is that, with very rare exceptions, ac one thinks of any horrible place as the probable residence of ble own friends and relations. Does any one, Papiet or Protestant, believe that his parents or children are really tenants of the orthodox hell! Is it not always other people's parents and

The leases of Spiritudism as to these matters seems o me entirely rescreable. The incident of death, the dropping of the diseased, wern out, uncluse body, brings no audden change to men s thoughts, feelings, or characters. The man who dies to-day will be the mane must be morrow that he was yesterday, with an added experience. He will not, by the fact of getting one fluids the place or state which naturally belongs to him.

LIGHT.

ancecessor is findified, where the sourcest in her public addresses described as " ntame." Considering that she is a simple carte remarkante. Of her care to exemple arrows cated the opportunity of testing them." in Lancock is Mr. J. Drisk will cont. On Sci., in the rest. Mes Common goales took for their subject "Gur Spoot II may attractive manner, the audience being kept completely spellbound. I am happy to my that her concreyant descriptions seven descriptions, which parfectly captivated the authorize.

And we have two of the most widely known speaking mediums, arriving almost at the same time. Mrs. Richmond has present the Atlantic to continuoher Sunday decoursement the Town and some divide larger show and Many shall man to use from the pursh, and knowledge shall be increased." It entired by compinsted of now that women have not a large share in all no a course accements. They take degrees in our Universitiesthoy are photographed in collegiate robes and caps for the illustrated journals. They are closted to Sensed Boards they Police na novorolgon of compares on well as hearts.

The Pall Mall Guallehouse virility that boxes a very toresting. We know so t we saw hirs points a will say on most subjects , but the Poll Mell to give analysis a apoprises. Por example, it mays . C. Proc. co. a. School. N. we man maintains in the new apartier of the Bushafed Science Monthly that Mass Later Claret, the famouse "magnetic girl, whose marvellege tours de fager have creater such a sensation in America, is or by a resumit who possesses great mine that somer. So far from the 'rong country girl' maring heavy objects by morely teach the those with our tinger tips, he doubres that, though she because to touch the object on which she performed with her flag a my, she said the strong twent of her bonds to bring about the desired result. Of comme, if this is true, the insernets would be person, but the imperior worder which is accellulated and a set who can with one hand, lift a class or affection a source of with four others hold it is will, may well links full houses, if may proceed as you of the strongth that is noncolonerposterned by the wanker sex "

A Dr. Gock, of Chelcoulum, and read a paper to the Natural Respice Son yor Approves Are they filmous I subjective authors the after paright, had budy oferna as, we and grassed from within, and " ligarest are per , et a into space by the brain at on the screen by the magic lanters. The of course, he quotes the dagger score from Madbath Specimalists," says Dr. Cook, "attribute certain ill-to derives. magnetic dienomena to the influence of spirits, which like vayon Clerch wor. In y profess to be able to call from the rusty duep, and who a man one of about on a par with that afforded with mysterious we miss on an anameter of I show you in Ann figure and I also specificantly delitations in plinta of a aving person with the fame or three of most for figure a sort of a miroduction, the reader will understand the table of contents ghost have one were troo see y ax coming the ghost for a quite differently very short period to the sensitive plate, leaving a funt image, non over this an ordinary photo is taken."

Diplomas do not confer, and aften to not even register in collegance, and ductors task their full scare of nonzense, but now a doctor in a paper runs before a control secrety could be quite so ignorant, is one of the mysterice. Still, after the preunble, he related some excellent ghost stories, which he could " It was supposable for them at this one to greate the wire man of sircumstantial evidence that had been accumulated after (some persons do possess a supersonaucum manner of action, as every being may be surposed to correspond to his nature, most exceful nevestigation, under strict test conditions, as to character on ten iculais. Thus is, so far as I know, the uniform the recurrence of most surprising phenomena. This evidence lest monty of our aport friends. The heavens and hells of Macon and been such as to satisfy men of such secentific emmence as and the poets are alike toknown in the world of spirits. Every Crokes, a Fellow of the Roya Society, and one of its Medalloss. Variet a dist purshed controlling and Wallace, the in her a nathritist. These were all used of works wase fame, 1 Jacobs that Mrs. Groom, so well known in Birmingham hard many others teight be mentioned. He has not witnesses and the Microsoft, as coming to London Site has been very any of these phenomena humself, but he was acquainted with a good deal of the literature of the subject, now grown very mul observoyant discrepances of persons in the spirit world a reducingous, and there was certainly such a weight of authority as to the genumeness of many of the alleged phenomens, that anothersted woman, the matter and a fact of har discourses are | he was not prepared to copy them until he had had binself the Hero is another "Daniel come to judgment." Somebody · 10 · com. The New Jornandem. It is quite necessari or writen " In Speritualism, of there be any facts demonstrated, say has both of these subjects were dealt with in an they are these—that according to the purity or impurity of the medium's moral character so is the purity or imparity of the influences which surround him, and also that physical phonomenaword a great success, for she give at the two meetings thirty- preducing 'meetings' specimen' are invariably seems or later men of very questionable character. The sensor for these facts is clear The 'mediums' have had supped out, by what are known as 'apooks, their magnetic think ng omenes—in other world, their ethicumaterial sublimations." Gun anyone inform nee what the riter means ? What are "athree-material aublimations" ! and who, or what are "apoular" (

